e Not only the reprobate, but also the people of God oftentimes fall back, seeing the prosperous estate of the wicked, and are overwhelmed with sorrows, thinking that God considereth not aright the state of the godly. † Thus the flesh moveth even the godly to dispute with God, touching their poor estate, and the prosperity of the wicked. † Heb. my chastisement was.

28 But it is good for me to draw near [q] to God: I have put my trust in the Lord GOD, that I may declare all thy works.

XV Day. Evening prayer.

1 An exhortation both to learn and to preach the Law of God. 9 The story of God's wrath against the incredulous and disobedient. 67 The Israelites being rejected, God chose Judah, Zion, and David.

¶ ‡ [a] Maschil of Asaph.

GIve ear, O [b] my people to my law: incline your ears to the words of my mouth.

2 * I will open my mouth in a parable: I will utter dark sayings of old:

3 Which we have heard and known, and our [c] fathers have told us.

4 We will not hide them from their children, shewing to the generation to come, the praises of the LORD; and his strength and his wonderful works that he hath done.

5 For he established a [d] testimony in Jacob, and appointed a Law in Israel, which he commanded our fathers * that they should make them know to their children.

6 That the [e] generation to come might know them, even the children which should be born: who should arise and declare them to their children:

7 That they might [f] set their hope in God, and not forget the works of God, but keep his commandments:

8 And might not be as [g] their fathers, a stubborn and rebellious generation; a generation † that set not their heart aright, and whose spirit was not stedfast with God.

9 The children of [h] Ephraim being armed and † carrying bows, turned back in the day of battel.

10 They kept not the covenant of God, and refused to walk in his Law:

11 And forgat his works, and his wonders that he had shewed them.

12 Marvellous things did he in the sight of their [i] fathers, in the land of Egypt, in the field of Zoan.

13 * He divided the sea, and caused them to pass through, and he made the waters to stand as an heap.

14 * In the day-time also he led them with a cloud, and all the night with a light of fire.

15 * He clave the rocks in the wilderness, and gave them drink as out of the great depths.

16 He brought streams also out of the rock, and caused waters to run down like rivers.

17 And they sinned [k] yet more against him, by provoking the most High in the wilderness.

18 And they tempted God in their heart, by asking meat for their [l] lust.

19 * Yea, they spake against God: they said, [m] Can God † furnish a table in the wilderness?

20 * Behold, he smote the rock, that the waters gushed out, and the streams overflowed; can he give bread also? can he provide flesh for his people?

21 Therefore the LORD heard this, and was wroth, so a fire was kindled against Jacob, and anger also came up against Israel;

22 Because they believed not in God, and [n] trusted not in his salvation:

23 Though he had commanded the [o] clouds from above, and opened the doors of heaven, 24 * And had rained down manna upon them to eat, and had given them of the corn of heaven.

25 ‡ Man did eat Angels food: he sent them meat to the full.

26 He caused an [p] east-wind † to blow in the heaven: and by his power he brought in the south-wind.

27 He rained flesh also upon them as dust, and † feathered fowls like as the sand of the sea.

28 And he let it fall in the midst of their camp, round about their habitations.

29 So they did eat, and were well filled: for he gave them their own desire;

30 They were not estranged from their [q] lust: but * while their meat was yet in their mouths, 31 The wrath of God came upon them, and slew the [r] fattest of them, and † smote down the ‡ chosen men of Israel.

32 For all this they [s] sinned still, and believed not for his wondrous works.

h By Ephraim, he meaneth also the rest of the tribes, because they were most in number: whose punishment declareth, that they were unfaithful to God, and by their multitude & authority had corrupted all others.
† Heb. throwing forth.
i He proveth that not only the posterity, but also their forefathers were wicked and rebellious to God.
* Exod. 14. 21.

* Exod. 13. 21. & 14. 24.

* Exod. 17. 6. Num. 20. 11. Psal. 105. 41. 1 Cor. 10. 4.

k Their wicked malice could be overcome by no benefits, which were great and many.

l Then to require more then is necessary, and to separate Gods power from his will is to tempt God.
* Num. 11. 4.
m Thus when we give place to sin, we are moved to doubt of God's power except he will always be ready to serve our lust.
† Heb. order.
* Exod. 17. 6. Num. 20. 11.

n That is, In his fatherly providence, whereby he careth for his, and provideth sufficiently.
o So that they had that which was necessary and sufficient: but their lust made them to covet that which they knew God had denied them.
* Exod. 16. 14. John 6. 31.
‡ Or, Every one did eat the bread of the mighty.
p God used the means of the wind to teach them that all elements were at his commandment, and that no distance of place could let his working.

q Such is the nature of concupiscence, that the more it hath the more it lusteth.
* Num. 11. 33.
r That is, The chief and strongest, as Judg. 3. 29. for though other were not spared, yet chiefly they suffered, which trusted in their strength against God. † Heb. made to bowe. ‡ Or, young men.

33 There-

f He shewed wherein the use of this doctrine standeth: in faith, in the meditation of God's benefits, and in obedience g Though these fathers were the seed of Abraham, and the chosen people, yet he sheweth by their rebellion, provocation, falsehood, and hypocrisy, that the children ought not to follow their examples.

33 Therefore their days did he consume in vanity, and their years in trouble.

34 When he [t] slew them, then they sought him: and they returned and enquired early after God.

35 And they remembred that God was their rock, and the high God their redeemer.

36 Nevertheless, they did flatter him with their mouth, and they lied unto him with their tongues.

37 For their [u] heart was not right with him, neither were they stedfast in his covenant.

38 But he being full of compassion,[x] forgave their iniquity, and destroyed them not; yea, many a time turned he his anger away, and did not stir up all his wrath.

39 For he remembred that they were but flesh; a wind that passeth away and cometh not again.

40 How oft did they ‡ provoke him in the wilderness, and grieve him in the desert?

41 Yea, they [y] turned back and tempted God, and [z] limited the holy One of Israel.

42 [a] They remembred not his hand, nor the day when he delivered them ‡ from the enemy.

43 How he had † wrought his signs in Egypt, and his wonders in the field of Zoan:

44 * And had turned their rivers into bloud; and their flouds, that they could not drink.

45 * He sent divers [b] sorts of flies among them, which devoured them; & * frogs, which destroyed them.

46 * He [c] gave also their increase unto the caterpiller, and their labour unto the locust.

47 * He † destroyed their vines with hail, and their sycomore-trees with ‡ frost.

48 † He gave up their cattel also to the hail, and their flocks to ‡ hot thunderbolts.

49 He cast upon them the fierceness of his anger, wrath and indignation and trouble, by sending [d] evil angels among them.

50 † He made a way to his anger, he spared not their soul from death: but gave ‡ their life over to the pestilence.

51 * And smote all the first-born in Egypt: the [e] chief of their strength in the tabernacles of [f] Ham:

52 But made his own people to go forth like sheep, and guided them in the wilderness like a flock.

53 And he led them on safely, so that they [g] feared not: but the sea * † overwhelmed their enemies.

54 And he brought them to the border of his [h] sanctuary, even to this mountain, which his right hand had purchased.

55 He cast out the heathen also before them, and * divided them an inheritance by line, and made the tribes of Israel to dwell in their tents.

56 Yet they tempted and provoked the most high God, and kept not his testimonies:

57 But turned back and dealt unfaithfully [i] like their fathers: they were turned aside like a deceitfull bow.

58 * For they [k] provoked him to anger with their high places, and moved him to jealousy with their graven images;

59 When God heard this, he was wroth, and greatly abhorred Israel:

60 * So that he [l] forsook the tabernacle of Shiloh, the tent which he placed among men:

61 And delivered his [m] strength into captivity, and his glory into the enemies hand.

62 He gave his people over also unto the sword: and was wroth with his inheritance.

63 The fire [n] consumed their young men: and their maidens were not † [o] given to marriage.

64 Their Priests fell by the sword: and their [p] widows made no lamentation.

65 Then the Lord awaked as one out of sleep, and like a mighty man that shouteth [q] by reason of wine.

66 And he smote his enemies in the hinder-parts: he put them to a perpetual reproach.

67 Moreover, he refused the tabernacle of [r] Joseph: and chose not the tribe of Ephraim.

68 But chose the tribe of Judah, the mount Zion which he loved.

69 And he [s] built his sanctuary like high palaces, like the earth which he hath † established for ever.

70 * He chose David also his servant, and took him from the sheep-folds:

71 † From following the ews great with young, he brought him * to feed Jacob his people, and Israel his inheritance.

72 So [t] he fed them according to the integrity of his heart: and guided them by the skilfulness of his hands.

t Such was their hypocrisy, that they sought unto God for fear of punishment, though in their heart they loved him not.

u Whatsoever cometh not from the pure fountain of the heart, is hypocrisy.

x Because he would ever have some remnant of a church to praise his name in earth, he suffered not their sins to overcome his mercy.

PSAL. LXXIX.

1 The Psalmist complaineth of the desolation of Jerusalem. 8 He prayeth for deliverance, 13 and promiseth thankfulness.

¶ A Psalm ‡ of Asaph.

‡ Or, for Asaph.

O God, the [a] heathen are come into thine inheritance, thy holy Temple have they defiled: they have laid Jerusalem on heaps.

2 The [b] dead bodies of thy servants have they given to be meat unto the fowls of the heaven, the flesh of thy saints unto the beasts of the earth.

3 Their bloud have they shed like water round about Jerusalem. and there was none to [c] bury them.

4 * We are become a reproach to our [d] neighbours: a scorn and derision to them that are round about us.

5 * How long, LORD? wilt thou be angry for ever? shall thy jealousie [e] burn like fire?

6 * Pour out thy wrath upon the heathen that have not known thee, and upon the kingdoms that have not called upon thy name.

7 For they have devoured Jacob, and laid waste his dwelling-place.

8 * O remember not against us ‡ [f] former iniquities: let thy tender mercies speedily prevent us: for we are brought very low.

for our sins, before thou takest us to mercy. * Jer. 10. 25. * Isa. 64. 9. ‡ Or, the iniquities of them that were before us. f Which we and our fathers have committed.

a The people cry unto God against the barbarous tyranny of the Babylonians: who spoiled God's inheritance, polluted his Temple, destroyed his Religion, and murdered his people b The Prophet sheweth to what extremities God suffereth sometime his church to fall, to exercise their faith, before he set to his hand to deliver them.

c Their friends and kinsfolk durst not bury them for fear of the enemies

* Psal. 44. 14.

d Whereof some came of Abraham, but were degenerate: and others were open enemies to thy Religion, but they both laughed at our miseries.

* Psal. 89. 46.

e Wilt thou utterly consume us

iniquities: let thy tender mercies [g] speedily prevent us: for we are brought very low.

9 Help us, O God of our [h] salvation, for the glory of thy name: and deliver us, and purge away our sins for thy name's sake.

10 Wherefore should the heathen say, Where is their God? let him be known among the heathen in our sight by the † revenging of the bloud of thy servants which is shed.

11 Let the [i] sighing of the prisoner come before thee, according to the greatness of † thy power: † preserve thou those that are [k] appointed to die.

12 And render unto our neighbours sevenfold into their bosom, the reproach wherewith they have reproached thee, O Lord.

13 So we thy people and sheep of thy pasture, will give thee thanks for ever: [l] we will shew forth thy praise † to all generations.

g And stay not till we have recompensed for our sins.
h Seeing we have none other saviour, neither can we help our selves, and also by our salvation thy name shall be praised: therefore O Lord, help us.
i Who though in respect of God they were justly punished for their sins, yet in consideration of their cause, were unjustly murdered.
† Heb. thine arm.
k Which were captives among their enemies, and could look for nothing but death.
l We ought to desire no benefits of God, but on this condition, to praise his name, Isa. 43. 21. † Heb. to generation and generation.

PSAL. LXXX.

1 The Psalmist in his prayer complaineth of the miseries of the church. 8 God's former favours are turned into judgments. 14 He prayeth for deliverance.

¶ To the chief musician upon Shoshannim Eduth, A Psalm ‡ of Asaph.

‡ Or, for Asaph.

GIve ear, [a] O Shepherd of Israel, thou that leadest Joseph like a flock, thou that dwellest between the [b] cherubims, shine forth.

2 Before Ephraim, and Benjamin, and Manasseh, stir up thy strength, and † come and save us.

3 [c] Turn us again, O God: and cause thy face to shine, and we shall be saved.

4 O Lord God of hosts, how long † wilt thou be [d] angry against the prayer of thy people?

5 Thou feedest them with the bread of tears: and givest them tears to drink in great measure.

6 Thou makest us a [e] strife unto our neighbours: and our enemies laugh among themselves.

7 [f] Turn us again, O God of hosts, and cause thy face to shine, and we shall be saved.

8 [g] Thou hast brought a vine out of Egypt: thou hast cast out the heathen, and planted it.

9 Thou preparedst room before it, and didst cause it to take deep root, and it filled the land.

10 The hills were covered with the shadow of it, and the boughs thereof were like † the goodly cedars.

11 She sent out her boughs unto the Sea, and her branches unto the [h] river.

12 Why hast thou then broken down her hedges, so that all they which pass by the way, do pluck her?

13 The [i] boar out of the wood doth waste it, and the wild beast of the field doth devour it.

14 Return, we beseech thee, O God of hosts: look down [k] from heaven, and behold and visit this vine;

15 And the vineyard which thy right hand hath planted, and the branch that thou madest [l] strong for thy self.

a This Psalm was made as a prayer for to desire God to be merciful to the ten tribes.
b Move their hearts, that they may return to worship God aright: that is, In the place where thou hast appointed.
† Heb. come for salvation to us.
c Joyn thy whole people and all thy tribes together again.
† Heb. wilt thou smoke.
d The faithful fear God's anger, when they perceive that their prayers are not forthwith heard.
e Our neighbours have continual strife and war against us.
f Because that repentance only cometh of God, they most instantly and oft times call to God for it, as a mean, whereby they shall be saved.
g Seeing that of thy mercy thou hast made us a most dear possession to thee, and we through our sins are made open for wild beasts to devour us, declare again thy love, and finish the work that thou hast begun.
† Heb. the cedars of God.
h To wit, Euphrates.
i That is, As well they that hate our Religion, as they that hate our persons.
k They gave not place to temptation, knowing that albeit there were no help in earth, yet God was able to succour them from heaven.
l So that no power can prevail against it, and which as a young bud thou raisest up again as out of the burnt ashes.

16 It is burnt with fire, it is cut down: they perish at the [m] rebuke of thy countenance.

17 Let thy hand be upon the [n] man of thy right hand, upon the son of man whom thou madest strong for thy self.

18 So will not we go back from thee: [o] quicken us, and we will call upon thy name.

19 Turn us again, O Lord God of hosts, cause thy face to shine, and we shall be saved.

m Onely when thou art angry, and not with the sword of the enemy.
n That is, Upon this vine, or people whom thou hast planted with thy right hand, that they should be as one man, or one body.
o For none can call upon God, but such as are raised up, as it were from death to life, and regenerate by the holy Spirit.

PSAL. LXXXI.

1 An exhortation to a solem praising of God. 4 God challengeth that duty by reason of his benefits. 8 God exhorting to obedience, complaineth of their disobedience, which proveth their own hurt.

¶ To the chief musician upon [a] Gittith, A Psalm ‡ of Asaph.

a An instrument of musick, brought from Gath.
‡ Or, for Asaph.

SIng [b] aloud unto God our strength: make a joyful noise unto the God of Jacob.

b It seemeth that this Psalm was appointed for solemn feasts and assemblies of the people, to whom for a time these ceremonies were ordained, but now under the gospel are abolished.

2 Take a Psalm, and bring hither the timbrel, the pleasant harp with the Psaltery.

3 Blow up the trumpet in the [c] new-Moon, in the time appointed, on our solemn feast-day.

4 For this was a statute for Israel, and a law of the God of Jacob.

c Under this feast he comprehendeth all other solemn days.

5 This he ordained in [d] Joseph for a testimony, when he went out ‡ through the land of Egypt: where I heard a language that [e] I understood not.

d That is, In Israel: for Joseph's family was counted the chief, before that Judah was preferred.
‡ Or, against.
e God speaketh in the person of the people, because he was their leader.

6 I removed his shoulder from the burden: his hands † were delivered from the [f] pots.

f If they were never able to give sufficient thanks to God for this deliverance from corporal bondage, how much more are we indebted to him for our spiritual deliverance from the tyranny of Satan and sin?

7 Thou calledst in trouble, and I delivered thee; I [g] answered thee in the secret place of thunder: I * proved thee at the waters of ‡ Meribah. Selah.

g By a strange and wonderful fashion.
* Exod. 17. 6.
‡ Or, strife.

8 [h] Hear, O my people, and I will testify unto thee: O Israel, if thou wilt hearken unto me;

h He condemneth all assemblies, where the people are not attentive to hear God's voice, and to give obedience to the same.

9 There shall no strange God be in thee: neither shalt thou worship any strange God.

10 I am the Lord thy God which brought thee out of the land of Egypt: [i] open thy mouth wide, and I will fill it.

i God accuseth their incredulity, because they opened not their mouths to receive God's benefits in such abundance as he poureth them out.

11 But my people would not hearken to my voice: and Israel would none of me.

12 *So I gave them up ‡ unto their own hearts lust: and they walked in their own counsels.

* Act. 14. 16.
‡ Or, to the hardness of their hearts, or, imagination.

13 [k] O that my people had hearkned unto me, and Israel had walked in my ways!

k God by his word called all, but his secret election appointeth who shall hear.

14 I should soon have subdued their enemies, and turned my [l] hand against their adversaries.

l If their sins had not letted.

15 The haters of the Lord should have ‡ † submitted themselves unto him: [m] but their time should have endured for ever.

‡ Or, yeilded feigned obedience. † Heb. lied. m If the Israelites had not broken covenant with God, he would have given them victory against their enemies.

16 He should have fed them also † with the [n] finest of the wheat: and with hony out of the rock should I have satisfied thee.

† Heb. with the fat of wheat. n That is, The principal flowr or corn, so Deut. 32. 14.

PSAL. LXXXII.

XVI Day. Evening prayer.

1 The Psalmist having exhorted the Judges, 5 and reproved their negligence, 8 prayeth God to judge.

¶ A Psalm ‡ of Asaph.

‡ Or, for Asaph.

GOd standeth in the congregation of the mighty; he [a] judgeth among the Gods.

a The Prophet sheweth, That if Princes and Judges do not their duty, God whose authority is above them, will take vengeance on them.

2 How long will ye judge unjustly, and * accept the persons of the [b] wicked? Selah.

3 † Defend the poor and fatherless: do justice to the afflicted and needy.

4 * Deliver the poor and [c] needy: rid them out of the hand of the wicked.

5 They know not, either will they understand; they walk on in darkness: all the [d] foundations of the earth are † out of course.

6 * I have said, Ye are Gods: and all of you are children of the most High.

7 [e] But ye shall die like men, and fall like one of the Princes.

8 Arise, O God, judge the earth: for thou shalt inherit [f] all nations.

* Deut. 1. 17.
b For thieves and murderers find favour in judgment, when the cause of the godly cannot be heard.
† Heb judge.
* Prov. 24. 11.
c Not only when they cry for help, but when their cause requireth aid and support.
d That is, All things are out of order, either by their tyranny, or careless negligence.
e Joh. 10. 34. No title of honour shall excuse you, but you shall be subject to God's judgment, and render account as well as other men.
f Therefore no tyrant shall pluck thy right and authority from thee.

PSAL. LXXXIII.

1 A complaint to God of the enemies conspiracies. 9 A prayer against them that oppress the church.

¶ A Song or Psalm ‡ of Asaph.

‡ Or, for Asaph.

KEep [a] not thou silence, O God: hold not thy peace, and be not still, O God.

2 For lo, thine [b] enemies make a tumult: and they that hate thee, have lift up the head.

3 They have taken crafty counsel against thy people, and consulted against thy [c] hidden ones.

4 They have said, Come, and let us [d] cut them off from being a nation: that the name of Israel may be no more in remembrance.

5 For they have consulted [e] together with one † consent: they are confederate [f] against thee.

6 The tabernacles of Edom, and the Ishmaelites: of Moab, and the Hagarens.

7 Gebal, and Ammon, and Amalek, the Philistines with the inhabitants of Tyre.

8 Assur also is joyned with them: † they have holpen the children of [g] Lot. Selah.

9 Do unto them as unto the * [h] Midianites: as to * Sisera, as to Jabin, at the brook of Kison:

10 Which perished at En-dor: they became as [i] dung for the earth.

11 Make their nobles like * Oreb, and like Zeeb: yea, all their Princes as * Zebah, and as Zalmunna:

12 Who said, Let us take to our selves the [k] houses of God in possession.

13 O my God, make them like a [l] wheel: as the stubble before the wind.

14 As the fire burneth the wood, and as the flame setteth the mountains on fire;

15 So persecute them with thy tempest, and make them afraid with thy storm.

16 Fill their faces with shame: that they may [m] seek thy name, O LORD.

17 Let them be confounded and troubled for ever: yea, let them be put to shame, and perish:

18 That men may [n] know, that thou whose name alone is JEHOVAH, art the most high over all the earth.

a This Psalm seemeth to have been composed as a form of prayer against the danger that the church was in, in the days of Jehoshaphat.
b He calleth them God's enemies, which are enemies to his church.
c The elect of God are his secret ones: for he hideth them in the secret of his tabernacle, and preserveth them from all dangers.
d They were not content to take the church as prisoner, but sought utterly to destroy it.
e By all secret means.
† Heb. heart.
f They thought to have subverted thy counsel, wherein the perpetuity of the church was established.
† Heb. they have been an arm to the children of Lot.
g The wickedness of the Ammonites and Moabites is described in that they provoked these other nations to fight against the Israelites their brethren.
* Judg. 7. 22.
h By these examples, they were confirmed that God would not suffer his people to be utterly destroyed.
* Judg. 7. 21. & 4. 15, 24.
i Troden under feet as mire.
* Judg. 7. 25.
* Judg. 8. 21.
k That is, Judea: for where his church is, there dwelleth he among them.
l Because the reprobate could by no means be amended, he prayeth that they may be utterly destroyed, be unstable, and led with all winds.
m That is, Be compelled by thy plagues to confess thy power.
n Though they believe not yet they may prove by experience, that it is in vain to resist against thy counsel in establishing thy church.

PSAL. LXXXIV. 465

1 The Prophet longing for the communion of the sanctuary, 4 sheweth how blessed they are that dwell therein. 8 He prayeth to be restored unto it.

¶ To the chief musician upon Gittith, A Psalm ‡ for the sons of Korah.

‡ Or, of.

HOw amiable are thy tabernacles, O LORD of hosts!

2 My soul [a] longeth, yea, even fainteth for [b] the courts of the LORD: my heart and my flesh crieth out for the living God.

3 Yea, the sparrow hath found an house, and the swallow a nest for her self, where she may lay her young, even thine [c] altars, O LORD of hosts, my King, and my God.

4 Blessed are they that dwell in thy house: they will be still praising thee. Selah.

5 Blessed is the man whose [d] strength is in thee: in whose heart are the ways of them.

6 Who passing through the valley ‡ of [e] Baca, make it a well: the rain also † filleth the pools.

7 They go ‡ from [f] strength to strength, every one of them in Zion appeareth before God.

8 O LORD God of hosts, hear my prayer: give ear, O God of Jacob. Selah.

9 Behold, O God our shield, and look upon the face of thine [g] anointed.

10 [h] For a day in thy courts is better then a thousand: † I had rather be a door-keeper in the house of my God, then to dwell in the tents of wickedness.

11 For the LORD God is a Sun and Shield; the LORD will give grace and glory: * no [i] good thing will he withhold from them that walk uprightly.

12 O LORD of hosts, * blessed is the man that trusteth in thee.

a David complaineth that he cannot have access to the church of God to make profession of his faith, and to profit in Religion.
b For none but the Priests could enter into the sanctuary, and the rest of the people into the courts.
c So that the poor birds have more liberty then I.
d Who trusteth nothing in himself, but in thee onely, and learneth of thee to rule his life.
‡ Or, of mulberry-trees make him a well, &c. e That is, of mulberry-trees, which was a barren place: so that they which passed through, must dig pits for water: Signifying, That no lets can hinder them that are fully bent to come to Christ's church, neither yet that God will ever fail them.
‡ Or, from company to company.
f They are never weary, but increase in strength and courage, till they come to God's house.
g That is, For Christs sake, whose figure I represent.
h He would wish to live but one day rather in God's church, then a thousand among the worldlings.
† Heb. I would chose rather to sit at the threshold. * Psal. 34. 9, 10.
i But will from time to time increase his blessings towards his more and more. * Psal. 2. 12.

PSAL. LXXXV.

1 The Psalmist out of the experience of former mercies, prayeth for the continuance thereof. 8 He promiseth to wait thereon, out of confidence of God's goodness..

¶ To the chief musician, A Psalm ‡ for the sons of Korah.

‡ Or, of.

LORD, thou hast been ‡ [a] favourable unto thy land: thou hast brought back the captivity of Jacob.

2 * Thou hast forgiven the iniquity of thy people, thou hast [b] covered all their sin. Selah.

3 Thou hast taken away all thy wrath: ‡ thou hast turned thy self from the [c] fierceness of thine anger.

4 Turn us, O God of our salvation, and cause thine anger towards us to cease.

5 Wilt thou be angry with us [d] for ever? wilt thou draw out thine anger to all generations?

6 Wilt thou not revive us again: that thy people may rejoyce in thee?

7 Shew us thy mercy, O LORD, and grant us thy [e] salvation.

8 I will hear what God the LORD will speak: for he will speak [f] peace unto his people, and to his saints; but let them not turn again to folly.

9 Surely his salvation is nigh them that fear him; that glory may dwell in our land.

a They confess that God's free mercy was the cause of their deliverance, because he loved the land which he had chosen.
* Psal. 32. 1.
b Thou hast buried them, that they shall not come into judgment.
‡ Or, thou hast turned thine anger from waxing hot.
c Not onely in withdrawing thy rod, but in forgiving our sins, and in touching our hearts to confess them.
d As in times past they had felt God's mercies: so now being oppressed by the long continuance of evils, they pray unto God that according to his nature he would be merciful unto them. e He confesseth that our salvation cometh onely of God's mercy.
f He will send all prosperity to his church, when he hath sufficiently corrected them: also the faithfull shall learn to beware that they return not to like offences.

10 Mercy

10 Mercy and truth are met together: righteousness and peace have kissed each other.

11 [g] Truth shall spring out of the earth: and righteousness shall look down from heaven.

12 Yea, the LORD shall give that which is good: and our land shall yield her increase.

13 [h] Righteousness shall go before him: and shall set us in the way of his steps.

g Though for a time God thus exerciseth them with his rods, yet under the Kingdom of Christ they should have peace and joy h Justice shall then flourish, and have free course and passage in every place.

PSAL. LXXXVI.

1 David strengthneth his prayer by the conscience of his religion, 5 by the goodness and power of God. 11 He desireth the continuance of former grace. 14 Complaining of the proud, he craveth some token of God's goodness.

¶ ‡ A prayer of David.

XVII. Day. Morning prayer.

BOwe [a] down thine ear, O LORD, hear me: for I am poor and needy.

2 Preserve my soul, for I am ‡ [b] holy: O thou my God, save thy servant that trusteth in thee.

3 Be merciful unto me, O Lord: for I [c] cry unto thee ‡ daily.

4 Rejoyce the soul of thy servant: for unto thee, O Lord, do I lift up my soul.

5 * For thou, Lord, art [d] good, and ready to forgive: and plenteous in mercy unto all them that call upon thee.

6 Give ear, O LORD, unto my prayer: and [e] attend to the voice of my supplications.

7 In the day of my trouble I will call upon thee: for thou wilt answer me.

8 Among the Gods there is none like unto thee, O Lord, *[f] neither are there any works like unto thy works.

9 All nations whom thou hast made shall come and [g] worship before thee, O Lord: and shall glorify thy name.

10 For thou art great and dost wondrous things: *thou art God alone.

11 [h] *Teach me thy way, O LORD, I will walk in thy truth: unite my heart to fear thy name.

12 I will praise thee, O Lord my God, with all my heart: and I will glorify thy name for evermore.

13 For great is thy mercy toward me: and thou hast delivered my soul from the [i] lowest ‡ hell.

14 O God, the proud are risen against me, and the assemblies of † violent men have [k] sought after my soul: and have not set thee before them.

15 * But thou, O Lord, art a God full of compassion, and gracious: long-suffering, and plenteous in mercy and truth.

16 O turn unto me, and have mercy upon me, give thy strength unto thy servant, and save the [l] son of thine hand-maid.

17 Shew me a token for good, that they which hate me may see it, and be ashamed: because thou, LORD, hast helpen me, and comforted me.

‡ Or, a prayer. being a Psalm of David.
a David persecuted of Saul, thus prayed, leaving the same to the church as a monument, how to seek redress against their miseries.
‡ Or, one whom thou favourest.
b The word properly is, merciful; I am not enemy to them, but pity them, though they be cruel toward me.
c Which was a sure token that he believed that God would deliver him.

* Joel 2. 13.
d He doth confess that God is good to all, but only merciful to poor sinners.
e By crying and calling continually, he sheweth how we may not be weary, though God grant not forthwith our request, but that we must earnestly and often call upon him
* Deut. 3. 24.

1 The nature and glory of the Church. 4 The increase, honour, and comfort of the members thereof.

¶ A Psalm or Song ‡ for the sons of Korah.

HIs [a] foundation is in the holy mountains.

2 The LORD loveth the gates of Zion, more then all the dwellings of Jacob.

3 [b] Glorious things are spoken of thee, O city of God. Selah.

4 I will make mention of [c] Rahab, and Babylon, to them that know me; behold Philistia, and Tyre, with Ethiopia: [d] this man was born there.

5 And of Zion it shall be said; [e] This and that man was born in her: and the Highest himself shall establish her.

6 The LORD shall count when he [f] writeth up the people, that this man was born there. Selah.

7 As well the singers as the players on instruments shall be there: [g] all my springs are in thee.

PSAL. LXXXVIII.

A prayer containing a grievous complaint.

¶ A Song or Psalm ‡ for the sons of Korah, to the chief musician upon Mahalath [a] Leannoth, ‡ Maschil of Heman the Ezrahite.

OLORD God of my salvation, I have cried day and night [b] before thee.

2 Let my prayer come before thee: incline thine ear unto my cry.

3 For my soul is full of troubles: and my life draweth nigh unto the grave.

4 I am counted with them that go down into the pit: I am as a man that hath no strength.

5 [c] Free among the dead like the slain that lie in the grave, whom thou remembrest no more: and they are cut off ‡ from thy [d] hand.

6 Thou hast laid me in the lowest pit, in darkness, in the deeps.

7 Thy wrath lieth hard upon me, and thou hast afflicted me with all thy [e] waves. Selah.

8 Thou hast put away mine [f] acquaintance far from me: thou hast made me an abomination uuto them: I am [g] shut up, and I cannot come forth.

9 [h] Mine eye mourneth by reason of affliction: LORD, I have called daily upon thee, I have stretched out my hands unto thee.

10 Wilt thou shew [i] wonders to the dead? shall the dead arise and praise thee? Selah.

11 Shall thy loving kindness be declared in the grave? or thy faithfulness in destruction?

12 Shall thy wonders be known in the dark? and thy righteousness in the land of [k] forgetfulness?

13 But unto thee have I cried, O LORD, and in the morning shall my prayer prevent thee.

14 LORD, why castest thou off my soul? why hidest thou thy face from me?

15 I am afflicted and ready to die, [l] from my youth up: while I suffer thy terrours, I am distracted.

16 Thy fierce wrath goeth over me, thy terrours have cut me off.

17 They

a That is, To humble. It was the beginning of a Song, by the tune whereof this Psalm was sung.
b Though many cry in their sorrows, yet they cry not earnestly to God for remedy as he did: whom he confessed to be the author of his salvation.
c For he that is dead is free from all cares and business of this life, and thus he saith, because he was unprofitable for all matters concerning man's life, and as it were cut off from this world.
‡ Or, by thy hand.
d That is, From thy providence and care, which is meant according to the judgment of the flesh.
e The storms of thy wrath have overwhelmed me.
f He attributeth the loss and displeasure of his friends to God's providence, whereby he partly punisheth, and partly trieth his.
g I see none end of my sorrows.
h Mine eyes and face declare my sorrows.
i He sheweth that the time is more convenient for God to help, when men call unto him in their dangers, then to tarry till they be dead, and then raise them up again.
k That is, In the grave, where only the body lieth without all sense and remembrance.
l I am ever in great dangers and sorrows, as though my life should utterly be cut off every moment.

‡ Or, all the day.

17 They came round about me ‡ daily like water, they compassed me about together.

18 Lover and friend hast thou put far from me, and mine acquaintance into darkness.

CHAP. LXXXIX.

1 The Psalmist praiseth God for his covenant, 5 for his wonderful power, 15 for the care of his church, 19 for his favour to the Kingdom of David. 38 Then complaining of contrary events, 46 he expostulateth, prayeth, and blesseth God.

¶ ‡ Maschil of Ethan the Ezrahite.

I Will [a] sing of the mercies of the LORD for ever: with my mouth will I make known thy faithfulness † to all generations.

2 For [b] I have said, Mercy shall be built up for ever: thy faithfulness shalt thou [c] establish in the very heavens.

3 [d] I have made a covenant with my chosen, I have * sworn unto David my servant.

4 Thy seed will I establish for ever, and build up thy throne † to all generations. Selah.

5 And the [e] heavens shall praise thy wonders, O LORD: thy faithfulness also in the [f] congregation of the saints.

6 For who in the heaven can be compared unto the LORD? who among [g] the sons of the mighty can be likened unto the LORD?

7 God is greatly to be feared in the [h] assembly of the saints: and to be had in reverence of all them that are about him.

8 O LORD God of hosts, who is a strong LORD like unto thee? or to thy faithfulness round about thee?

9 [i] Thou rulest the raging of the sea: when the waves thereof arise, thou stillest them.

10 Thou hast broken ‡ Rahab in pieces, as one that is slain; thou hast scattered thine enemies † with thy strong arm.

11 * The heavens are thine, the earth also is thine: as for the world, and the fulness thereof, thou hast founded them.

12 The north and the south thou hast created them: [k] Tabor and Hermon shall rejoyce in thy name.

13 Thou hast † a mighty arm: strong is thy hand, and high is thy right hand.

14 [l] Justice and judgment are the ‡ habitation of thy throne: mercy and truth shall go before thy face.

15 Blessed is the people that [m] know the * joyful sound: they shall walk, O LORD, in the [n] light of thy countenance.

16 In thy name shall they rejoyce all the day: and in thy righteousness shall they be exalted.

17 For thou art the [o] glory of their strength: and in thy favour our horn shall be exalted.

18 For ‡ the LORD is our [p] defence: and the holy one of Israel is our King.

19 Then thou spakest in vision to the [q] holy one, and saidst, I have laid help upon one that is [r] mighty: I have exalted one chosen out of the people.

20 * I have found David my servant: with my holy oyl have I anointed him. 467

21 With whom my hand shall be established: mine arm also shall strengthen him.

22 The enemy shall not exact upon him: nor the son of wickedness afflict him.

23 And I will [s] beat down his foes before his face, and plague them that hate him.

24 But my faithfulness and my [t] mercy shall be with him: and in my name shall his [u] horn be exalted.

25 I will set his hand also in the sea, and his right hand in the [x] rivers.

26 He shall cry unto me, Thou art my [y] father, my God, and the rock of my salvation.

27 Also I will make him my first-born, higher then the Kings of the earth.

28 My mercy will I keep for him for evermore, and my covenant shall stand fast with him.

29 His seed also will I make to endure [z] for ever, and his throne as the days of heaven.

30 If his children forsake my law, and walk not in my judgments;

31 If they † break my statutes, and keep not my commandments:

32 Then will I visit their transgression with the rod, and their iniquity with stripes.

33 [a] Nevertheless, my loving kindness † will I not utterly take from him, not suffer my faithfulness † to fail.

34 My covenant will I not break, [b] nor alter the thing that is gone out of my lips.

35 Once have I sworn by my holiness, † that I will not lie unto David.

36 * His seed shall endure for ever, and his throne as the Sun before me.

37 It shall be established for ever as the Moon, and as a [c] faithful witness in heaven. Selah.

38 But thou hast cast off and abhorred, thou hast been wroth with thine anointed.

39 Thou hast [d] made void the covenant of thy servant: thou hast profaned his [e] crown, by casting it to the ground.

40 Thou hast broken down all his hedges, thou hast brought his strong holds to ruine.

41 All that pass by the way spoil him: he is a reproach to his neighbours.

42 Thou hast set up the right hand of his adversaries: thou hast made all his enemies to rejoyce.

43 Thou hast also turned the edge of his sword, and hast not made him to stand in the battel.

44 Thou hast made his † glory to cease, and cast his throne down to the ground.

45 The days of his [f] youth hast thou shortened: thou hast covered him with shame. Selah.

46 [g] How long, LORD, wilt thou hide thy self for ever? shall thy wrath burn like fire?

47 Remember [h] how short my time is: wherefore hast thou made all men in vain?

XVII Day. Evening prayer.

‡ Or, A Psalm for Ethan the Ezrahite, to give instruction.

a Though the horrible confusion of things might cause them to despair of God's favour, yet the manifold examples of his mercies, cause them to trust in God, though to man's judgment they saw none occasion.

b As he that surely believeth in heart.

c As thine invisible heaven is not subject to any alteration and change: so shall the truth of thy promise be unchangeable.

d The Prophet sheweth what was the promise of God, whereon he grounded his faith.

e 2 Sam. 7. 11, &c.

† Heb. to generation and generation.

e The Angels shall praise thy power and faithfulness in delivering thy church.

f That is, In the heavens.

g Meaning, The Angels, or it may be understood of the Princes of the world, Psal. 82. 6.

h If the Angels tremble before God's Majesty and infinite justice, what earthly creature by oppressing the church, dare set himself against God?

i For as he delivered the church by the Red sea, and by destroying Rahab, That is, the Egyptians; so will he ere long deliver it when the dangers be great.

‡ Or, Egypt.

† Heb. with the arm of thy strength.

* Gen. 1. 1. Psal. 24. 1. Psal. 50. 12.

k Tabor is a mountain westward from Jerusalem, and Hermon east-ward: so the Prophet signifieth, That all parts and places of the world shall obey God's power for the deliverance of his church.

l For hereby he judgeth the world, and sheweth himself a merciful father, and faithful protector unto his.

m Feeling in their conscience that God is their Father.

* Num. 10. 6.

n They shall be preserved by thy fatherly providence. o In that they are preserved and continue, they ought to give the praise and glory only to thee. ‡ Or, our shield is of the LORD, and our King is of the holy one of Israel. p In that, that our King hath power to defend us, it is the gift of God. q To Samuel and to others, to assure that David was thy chosen one. r Whom I have both chosen and given him strength to execute his office, as verse 21.

* 1 Sam. 16. 12.

s Though there shall be evermore enemies against God's Kingdom, yet he promiseth to overcome them.

t I will mercifully perform my promises to him, notwithstanding his infirmities and offences.

u His power, glory and estate.

x He shall enjoy the land round about.

y His excellent dignity shall appear herein, that he shall be named the Son of God, and the first-born, wherein he is a figure of Christ.

z Though for the sins of the people, the state of this Kingdom decayed, yet God reserved still a root, till he had accomplished his promise in Christ.

a Though the faithful answer not in all points to their profession, yet God will not break his covenant with them.

† Heb. I will not make void from him.

b For God in promising, hath respect to his mercy, and not to man's power in performing.

† Heb. If I lie.

* 2 Sam. 7. 16. Luk. 1. 33. John 12. 34.

c As long as the Sun and Moon endure, they shall be witnesses to me of this promise.

d Because of the horrible confusion of things, the Prophet complaineth to God, as though he saw not the performance of his promise, and his discharging his cares on God, he resisteth doubt and impatiency.

e By this he meaneth, the horrible dissipation & renting of the Kingdom, which was under Jeroboam: or els by the Spirit of prophecy Ethan speaketh of those great miseries which came soon afterward to pass at the captivity of Babylon.

f He sheweth that the Kingdom fell before it came to perfection, or was ripe.

g The Prophet in joyning prayer with his complaint sheweth that his faith never failed.

h Seeing man's life is short, and thou hast created man to bestow thy benefits upon him, except thou haste to help, death will prevent thee.

48 What man is he that liveth, and shall not see death? shall he deliver his soul from the hand of the grave? Selah.

49 Lord, where are thy former loving kindnesses, which thou * swarest unto David in thy truth?

50 Remember, Lord, the reproach of thy servants; how I do bear in my [i] bosom the reproach of all the mighty people;

51 Wherewith [k] thine enemies have reproached, O LORD; wherewith they have reproached the [l] footsteps of thine anointed.

52 Blessed be the LORD for evermore. Amen, and amen.

* 2 Sam. 7. 15.

i He meaneth, That God's enemies did not onely slander him behind his back: but also mocked him to his face, and as it were, cast their injuries in his bosom.

k So he calleth them that persecute the church.

l They laugh at us, which patiently wait for the coming of thy Christ.

XVIII Day. Morning prayer.

PSAL. XC.

1 Moses setting forth God's providence, 3 complaineth of humane fragility, 7 divine chastisement, 10 and brevity of life. 12 He prayeth for the knowledge and sensible experience of God's good providence.

¶ ‡ A prayer of Moses the [a] man of God.

LORD, thou hast been our [b] dwelling-place †in all generations.

2 Before the [c] mountains were brought forth, or ever thou hadst formed the earth and the world: even from everlasting to everlasting, thou art God.

3 Thou [d] turnest man to destruction: and sayest, Return ye children of men.

4 * [e] For a thousand years in thy sight are but as yesterday ‡when it is past, and as a watch in the night.

5 Thou [f] carriest them away as with a flood, they are as a sleep: in the morning they are like grass which ‡groweth up.

6 In the morning it flourisheth, and groweth up; in the evening it is cut down, and withereth.

7 For we are [g] consumed by thine anger, and by thy wrath are we troubled.

8 Thou hast set our iniquities before thee, our secret sins in the light of thy countenance.

9 For all our days are †passed away in thy [h] wrath: we spend our years ‡as a tale that is told.

10 †The days of our years are threescore years and ten; and if by reason of strength they be [i] fourescore years, yet is their strength labour and sorrow: for it is soon cut off, and we fly away.

11 [k] Who knoweth the power of thine anger? even according to thy fear, so is thy wrath.

12 So teach us to number our days, that we may †apply our hearts unto [l] wisdom.

13 Return, O LORD, [m] how long? and let it repent thee concerning thy servants.

14 O satisfy us early with thy mercy; that we may rejoyce, and be glad all our days.

15 Make us glad according to the days wherein thou hast afflicted us, and the years wherein we have seen evil.

16 [n] Let thy work appear unto thy servants, and thy glory unto their [o] children.

17 And let the [p] beauty of the LORD our God be upon us: and [q] establish thou the work of our hands upon us, yea, the work of our hands establish thou it.

* 2 Pet. 3. 8.

e Though man think his life long, which is indeed most short, yea, though it were a thousand years: yet in God's sight it is as nothing, and as the watch that lasteth but three hours.

‡ Or, when he hath passed them.

f Thou takest them away suddenly as with a flood.

g Thou callest us by thy rods to consider the shortness of our life, and for our sins thou abridgest our days.

h Our days are not onely short, but miserable, forasmuch as our sins daily provoke thy wrath.

‡ Or, as a meditation.

† Heb. as for the days of our years in them are seventy years.

i Meaning, according to the common state of life.

k If man's life for the brevity be miserable, much more if thy wrath lie upon it, as they which fear thee onely know.

l Which is, by considering the shortness of our life, and by meditating the heavenly joyes.

m Meaning, wilt thou be angry.

n Even thy mercy, which is thy chiefest work.

o As God's promise appertained as well to their posterity as to them, so Moses prayeth for the posterity.

p Meaning, That it was obscured, when he ceased to do good to his church.

PSAL. XCI.

1 The state of the Godly. 3 Their safety. 9 Their habitation. 11 Their keepers. 14 Their friends with the effects, of them all.

HE that dwelleth in the [a] secret place of the most High, shall †abide under the shadow of the Almighty.

2 [b] I will say of the LORD, He is my refuge, and my fortress: my God, in him will I trust.

3 Surely he shall deliver thee from the [c] snare of the fowler: and from the noisom pestilence.

4 He shall cover thee with his feathers, and under his wings shalt thou trust: his [d] truth shall be thy shield and buckler,

5 [e] Thou shalt not be afraid for the terrour by night: nor for the arrow that flieth by day:

6 Nor for the pestilence that walketh in darkness: nor for the destruction that wasteth at noon-day.

7 A thousand shall fall at thy side, and ten thousand at thy right hand: but it shall not come nigh thee.

8 Onely with thine [f] eyes shalt thou behold, and see the reward of the wicked.

9 Because thou hast made the LORD which is my refuge, even the most High, thy habitation:

10 There shall no evil befall thee, neither shall any plague come nigh thy dwelling.

11 * [g] For he shall give His Angels charge over thee, to keep thee in all thy ways.

12 They shall bear thee up in their hands, lest thou dash thy foot against a stone.

13 Thou shall tread upon the lion, and ‡adder: the [h] young lion and the dragon shalt thou trample under feet.

14 [i] Because he hath set his love upon me, therefore will I deliver him: I will set him on high, because he hath known my name.

15 He shall call upon me, and I will answer him: I will be with him in trouble, I will deliver him, and honour him.

16 With †[k] long life will I satisfy him, and shew him my salvation.

a He that maketh God his defence and trust, shall perceive his protection to be a most true safeguard.

b Being assured of his protection, he prayeth unto the Lord.

c That is, God's help is most ready for us, whether Satan assail us secretly, which he calleth a snare: or openly, which is here meant by the pestilence.

d That is, His faithful keeping of promise to help thee in thy necessity.

e The care that God hath over his, is most sufficient to defend them from all dangers.

f The godly shall have some experience of God's judgments against the wicked, even in this life, but fully they shall see it at that day, when all things shall be revealed.

* Mat. 4. 6. Luk. 4. 10.

g God hath not appointed every man one Angel, but many to be ministers of his providence to keep his, and defend them in their vocation, which is the way to walk in without tempting God.

h Thou shalt not onely be preserved from all evil, but overcome it, whether it be secret or open.

i To assure the faithful of God's protection, he bringeth in God to confirm the same.

k For he is contented with that life, that God giveth, for by death the shortness of this life is recompensed with immortality.

PSAL. XCII.

1 The Prophet exhorteth to praise God, 4 for his great works, 6 for his judgments on the wicked, 10 and for his goodness to the godly.

¶ A Psalm or Song for the [a] Sabbath-day.

IT is a good thing to give thanks unto the LORD, and to sing praises unto thy name, O most High:

2 To shew forth thy loving kindness in the [b] morning, and thy faithfulness †every night;

3 Upon an [c] instrument of ten strings, and upon the Psaltery; ‡upon the harp with †a solemn sound.

4 For thou, LORD, hast made me glad through thy [d] work: I will triumph in the works of the hands.

5 O LORD, how great are thy works! and thy thoughts are very deep.

a Which teacheth that the use of the Sabbath standeth in praising God, and not only in ceasing from works.

b For God's mercy and fidelity in his promises toward his, bindeth them to praise him continually both day and night.

c These instruments were then permitted, but at Christ's coming abolished.

‡ Or, upon the solemn sound with the harp.

d He sheweth what is the use of the Sabbath-day: To wit, To meditate on God's work.

6 * A brutiſh man knoweth not: neither doth a fool underſtand this.

7 When the wicked ſpring as the graſs, and when all the workers of iniquity do flouriſh: it is that they ſhall be deſtroyed for ever.

8 But thou, LORD, art moſt [f] high for evermore.

9 For lo, thine enemies, O LORD, for lo, thine enemies ſhall periſh: all the workers of iniquity ſhall be ſcattered.

10 [g] But my horn ſhalt thou exalt like the horn of an unicorn: I ſhall be anointed with freſh oyl.

11 Mine eye alſo ſhall ſee my deſire on mine enemies: and mine ears ſhall hear my deſire of the wicked that riſe up againſt me.

12 * The righteous ſhall [h] flouriſh like the palm-tree: he ſhall grow like a cedar in Lebanon.

13 Thoſe that be planted in the houſe of the LORD, ſhall flouriſh in the courts of our God.

14 They ſhall ſtill bring forth fruit in [i] old age: they ſhall be fat, and † flouriſhing:

15 To ſhew that the LORD is upright: he is my rock, and there is no unrighteouſneſs in him.

PSAL. XCIII.

The majeſty, power, and holineſs of Chriſt's kingdom.

THE LORD [a] reigneth, he is clothed with majeſty, the LORD is clothed with ſtrength, wherewith he hath girded himſelf: the world alſo is eſtabliſhed, that it cannot be moved.

2 Thy [b] throne is eſtabliſhed † of old: thou art from everlaſting.

3 The [e] flouds have lifted up, O LORD, the flouds have lifted up their voice: the flouds lift up their waves.

4 The LORD on high is mightier then the noiſe of many waters, yea, then the mighty waves of the ſea.

5 [d] Thy teſtimonies are very ſure: holineſs becometh thine houſe, O LORD, † for ever.

8 Underſtand, ye brutiſh among the people: and ye fools, when will ye be wiſe?

9 * He that [f] planted the ear, ſhall he not hear? he that formed the eye, ſhall he not ſee?

10 He that [g] chaſtiſeth the heathen, ſhall not he correct? he that teacheth man knowledge, ſhall not he know?

11 * The LORD knoweth the thoughts of man, that they are vanity.

12 Bleſſed is the man whom thou [h] chaſtneſt, O LORD, and teacheſt him out of thy Law:

13 That thou mayeſt give him reſt from the days of adverſity, until the pit be digged for the wicked.

14 For the LORD will not caſt off his people, neither will he forſake his inheritance.

15 But [i] judgment ſhall return unto righteouſneſs: and all the upright in heart † ſhall follow it.

16 Who will ariſe up for me againſt the evil doers? or who will ſtand up for me againſt the workers of iniquity?

17 Unleſs the LORD had been [k] my help, my ſoul had ‡ almoſt dwelt in ſilence.

18 When I ſaid, [l] My foot ſlippeth: thy mercy, O LORD, held me up.

19 In the multitude of my [m] thoughts within me, thy comforts delight my ſoul.

20 Shall the throne of iniquity have [n] fellowſhip with thee, which frameth miſchief by a Law?

21 They gather themſelves together againſt the ſoul of the righteous, and condemn the innocent bloud.

22 But the LORD is my defence: and my God is the rock of my refuge.

23 And he ſhall bring upon them their own iniquity, and ſhall [o] cut them off in their own wickedneſs; yea, the LORD our God ſhall cut them off.

PSAL. XCV.

1 An exhortation to praiſe God, 3 for his greatneſs, 6 and for his goodneſs; 8 and not to tempt him.

O COME, let us ſing unto the LORD: let us make a [a] joyful noiſe to the rock of our ſalvation.

2 Let us † come before his preſence with thankſgiving, and make a joyful noiſe unto him with Pſalms.

3 For the LORD is a great God, and a great King above all [b] Gods.

4 † In his hand are the deep places of the earth: ‡ the ſtrength of the [c] hills is his alſo.

5 † The ſea is his, and he made it: and his hands formed the dry land.

6 O come, let us [d] worſhip and bowe down: let us kneel before the LORD our maker.

7 For he is our God, and we are the people of his paſture, and the ſheep of his [e] hand: * to day if ye will hear his voice,

8 [f] Harden not your heart, * as in the † provocation, and as in the day of temptation in the wilderneſs:

g Thou wilt ſtrengthen them with all power, and bleſs them with all felicity.

* Hoſ. 14. 5.
h Though the faithful ſeem to wither and be cut down by the wicked: yet they ſhall grow again and flouriſh in the church of God, as the cedars do in mount Lebanon.
i The children of God ſhall have a power above nature, and their old age ſhall bring forth moſt freſh fruits.

m In my trouble and diſtreſs I ever found thy preſent help.
n Though the wicked judges pretend juſtice in oppreſſing the church, yet they have not that authority of God.
o It is a great token of God's judgment, when the purpoſe of the wicked is broken, but moſt when they are deſtroyed in their own malice.

PSAL. XCVI.

1 An exhortation to praise God, 4 for his greatness, 8 for his kingdom, 11 for his general judgment.

O [*] [a] Sing unto the LORD a new song: sing unto the LORD all the earth.

2 Sing unto the LORD, bless his name: shew forth his salvation from day to day.

3 Declare his glory among the heathen, his wonders among all people.

4 For the LORD is [b] great, and greatly to be praised: he is to be feared above all Gods.

5 For all the Gods of the nations are idols: but the LORD [c] made the heavens.

6 [d] Honour and majesty are before him: strength and beauty are in his sanctuary.

7 Give unto the LORD, O ye kindreds of the people, give unto the LORD glory and [e] strength.

8 Give unto the LORD the glory † due unto his name: bring an [f] offering and come into his courts.

9 O worship the LORD ‡ in the beauty of holiness: fear before him all the earth.

10 Say among the [g] heathen, that * the LORD reigneth: the world also shall be established that it shall not be moved; he shall judge the people [h] righteously.

11 Let the heavens rejoyce, and let the earth be glad: let the sea roar, and the fulness thereof.

12 Let the field be joyful, and all that is therein: then shall all the [i] trees of the wood rejoyce.

13 Before the LORD; for he cometh, for he cometh to judge the earth: he shall judge the world with righteousness, and the people with his truth.

[*] 1 Chron. 16. 23.
[a] The Prophet sheweth, That the time shall come that all nations shall have occasion to praise the Lord for the revealing of his Gospel.
[b] Seeing he will reveal himself to all nations contrary to their expectation, they ought all to worship him contrary to their own imaginations, and only as he hath appointed.
[c] Then the idols, or whatsoever made not the heavens, are not God.
[d] God cannot be known, but by his strength and beauty: the signs whereof appear in his sanctuary.
[e] As by experience ye see that it is only due unto him.
† Heb. of his name.
‡ By offering up your selves wholly unto God, declare that you worship him only.

XX Day. Morning prayer.

¶ A prayer ‡ of the [a] afflicted, when he is overwhelmed, and poureth out his complaint before the LORD.

HEar my prayer, O LORD, and let my [b] cry come unto thee.

2 Hide not thy face from me in the day when I am in trouble, encline thine ear unto me: in the day when I call, answer me speedily.

3 For my days are [c] consumed ‡ like smoke: and my bones are burnt as an hearth.

4 My heart is smitten, and withered like grass: so that I forget to [d] eat my bread.

5 By reason of the voice of my groaning, my bones cleave to my ‡ skin.

6 I am like a [e] pelican of the wilderness: I am like an owl of the desert.

7 I watch, and am as a sparrow alone upon the house-top.

8 Mine enemies reproach me all the day: and they that are mad against me, [f] are sworn against me.

9 For I have [g] eaten ashes like bread, and mingled my drink with weeping:

10 Because of thine [h] indignation and thy wrath: for thou hast lifted me up, and cast me down.

11 * My days are like a shadow that declineth: and I am withered like grass.

12 But thou, O LORD, [i] shalt indure for ever, and thy remembrance unto all generations.

13 Thou shalt arise, and have mercy upon Zion: for the time to favour her, yea the [k] set time is come.

14 For thy servants take pleasure in her [l] stones, and favour the dust thereof.

15 So the heathen shall fear the name of the LORD: and all the Kings of the earth thy glory.

16 When the LORD shall build up Zion, he shall appear [m] in his glory.

17 He will regard the prayer of the destitute, and not despise their prayer.

18 This shall be written for the generation to come: and the people which shall be [n] created, shall praise the LORD.

19 For he hath looked down from the height of his sanctuary: from heaven did the LORD behold the earth:

20 To hear the groaning of the prisoner, to loose † those that are [o] appointed to death;

1 An exhortation to bless God for his mercy, 15 and for the constancy thereof.

¶ A Psalm of David.

a He awaketh his dulness to praise God, shewing, That both understanding and affections, mind and heart, are too little to set forth his praise.

BLess the LORD, [a] O my soul: and all that is within me, bless his holy name.

2 Bless the LORD, O my soul, and forget not all his benefits.

b This is the beginning & chiefest of all benefits, remission of sin.

3 Who [b] forgiveth all thine iniquities: who healeth all thy diseases.

c Death and the grave: for before that we have remission of our sins, we are as dead men in the grave.

4 Who redeemeth thy life from [c] destruction: who crowneth thee with loving kindness and tender mercies.

d As the eagle, when her beak overgroweth, sucketh bloud, and so is renewed in strength, even so God miraculously giveth strength to his Church above all man's expectation.

5 Who satisfieth thy mouth with good things: so that thy [d] youth is renewed like the eagles.

6 The LORD executeth righteousness and judgment for all that are oppressed.

† Heb. great of mercy.

9 He will not always [f] chide: neither will he keep his anger for ever.

f He sheweth, First his severe judgment, but so soon as the sinner is humbled, he receiveth him to mercy.

10 He hath not [g] dealt with us after our sins: nor rewarded us according to our iniquities.

g We have proved by continual experience, that his mercy hath ever prevailed against our offences.

11 For † as the heaven is high above the earth: so great is his mercy toward them that fear him.

† Heb. according to the height of the heaven.

12 As [h] far as the east is from the west: so far hath he removed our transgressions from us.

h As great as the world is, so full is it of signs of God's mercies toward his faithful, when he hath removed their sins.

13 Like as a father pitieth his children: so the LORD pitieth them that fear him.

14 For he knoweth our frame: he remembreth that we are dust.

i He declareth, That man hath nothing in himself to move God to mercy, but onely the confession of his infirmity and misery.

15 As for man, [i] his days are as grass: as a flower of the field, so he flourisheth.

16 For the wind passeth over it, and † it is gone; and the place thereof shall know it no more.

† Heb. it is not.

17 But the mercy of the LORD is from everlasting to everlasting upon them that fear him: and his [k] righteousness unto childrens children:

19 The LORD hath prepared his throne in the heavens: and his kingdom ruleth over all.

20 Bless the LORD, ye his [m] angels, † that excel in strength, that do his commandment, hearkning unto the voice of his word.

XX Day. Evening prayer.

BLess the LORD, O my soul: O LORD my God, thou art very great, thou art [a] clothed with honour and majesty.

a The Prophet sheweth, That we need not to enter into the heavens to seek God, forasmuch as all the order of nature, with the propriety and placing of the elements are most lively mirrours to see his majesty in.

2 Who coverest thy self with light, as with a garment: who stretchest out the heavens like a curtain.

3 Who layeth the beams of his chambers in the waters, who maketh the clouds his chariot, who walketh upon the wings of the wind.

b As the Prophet here sheweth, That all visible powers are ready to serve God, so the Apostle to the Hebrews 1. 7. beholdeth in this glass, how the very Angels also are obedient to his commandment.

4 [b] Who maketh his angels spirits: his ministers a flaming fire.

† Heb. He hath founded the earth upon her bases.

14 He causeth the grass to grow for the cattel, and herb for the service of [h] man: that he may bring forth food out of the earth:

g From the clouds.

h He describeth God's provident care over man, who doth not onely provide necessary things for him, as herbs and other meat: but also things to rejoyce and comfort him, as wine and oyl or ointments.

15 And * wine that maketh glad the heart of man, and † oyl to make his face to shine, and bread which strengthneth man's heart.

16 The trees of the LORD are full of sap: the cedars of Lebanon which he hath planted.

17 Where the birds make their nests: as for the stork, the fir-trees are her house.

18 The high hills are a refuge for the wild goats, and the rocks for the conies.

i As to separate the night from the day, and to note days, months, and years.

19 He appointeth the [i] Moon for seasons; the [k] Sun knoweth his going down.

k That is, By his course, either far or near, it noteth summer, winter, and other seasons.

20 Thou makest darkness, and it is night: wherein † all the beasts of the forest do creep forth.

21 The young lions roar after their prey, and seek their meat [l] from God.

l That is, They onely find meat according to God's providence, who careth even for the brute beasts.

22 The Sun ariseth, they gather themselves together, and lay them down in their dens.

23 [m] Man

23 [m] Man goeth forth to his work, and to his labour until the evening.

24 O LORD, [n] how manifold are thy works! in wisdom hast thou made them all: the earth is full of thy riches.

25 So is this great and wide sea, wherein are things creeping innumerable, both small and great beasts.

26 There go the ships; there is that Leviathan, whom thou hast † made to play therein.

27 * [o] These wait all upon thee: that thou mayest give them their meat in due season.

28 That thou givest them, they gather: thou openest thine hand, they are filled with good.

29 [p] Thou hidest thy face, they are troubled; thou takest away their breath, they die, and return to their dust.

30 [q] Thou sendest forth thy spirit, they are created: and thou renewest the face of the earth.

31 The glory of the LORD † shall endure for ever: the LORD shall rejoyce in his works.

32 He looketh on the earth, and it trembleth; he toucheth the hills, [r] and they smoke.

33 I will sing unto the LORD as long as I live: I will sing praise unto my God, while I have my being.

1 The Psalmist exhorteth to praise God. 4 He prayeth for pardon of sin, as God did with the fathers. 7 The story of the people's rebellion, and God's mercy. 47 He concludeth with prayer and praise.

XXI Day. Evening prayer.

† PRaise [a] ye the LORD, O * give thanks unto the LORD, for he is good, for his mercy endureth for ever.

2 Who can utter the mighty acts of the LORD? who can shew forth all his praise?

3 Blessed are they that [b] keep judgment: and he that doth righteousness at all times.

4 Remember me, O LORD, with the [c] favour that thou beares unto thy people: O visit me with thy salvation:

5 That I may see the good of thy chosen, that I may rejoyce in the gladness of thy nation: that I may glory with thine inheritance.

6 We have [d] sinned with our fathers: we have committed iniquity, we have done wickedly.

7 Our fathers understood not thy wonders in Egypt, they remembred not the multitude of thy mercies, * but provoked him at the sea, even at the Red sea.

8 Nevertheless, he [e] saved them for his name's sake: that he might make his mighty power to be known.

9 He rebuked the Red sea also, and it was dried up: so he led them through the depths as through the wilderness.

10 And he saved them from the hand of him that hated them: and redeemed them from the hand of the enemy.

11 * And the waters covered their enemies: there was not one of them left.

12 * Then [f] believed they his words, they sang his praise.

13 * † They soon forgat his works, they waited not for his [g] counsel:

14 * But † lusted exceedingly in the wilderness, and tempted God in the desert.

15 * And he gave them their request, but sent [h] leanness into their soul.

16 * They envied Moses also in the camp, and Aaron the saint of the LORD.

17 * The earth opened and [i] swallowed up Dathan, and covered the company of Abiram.

18 * And a fire was kindled in their company; the flame burnt up the wicked.

19 * They made a calf in Horeb, and worshipped the molten image.

20 Thus they changed their [k] glory into the similitude of an ox that eateth grass.

21 They forgat God their saviour, which had done great things in Egypt:

22 Wondrous works in the land of Ham, and terrible things by the Red sea.

23 * Therefore he said that he would destroy them, had not [l] Moses his chosen stood before him in the breach: to turn away his wrath, lest he should destroy them.

24 Yea, They despised † the [m] pleasant land: they believed not his word:

25 * But murmured in their tents, and hearkned not unto the voice of the LORD.

26 Therefore he [n] lifted up his hand against them, to overthrow them in the wilderness:

27 † To overthrow their seed also among the nations, and to scatter them in the lands.

28 * They joyned themselves also unto [o] Baal-peor, and ate the sacrifices of the [p] dead.

29 Thus they [q] provoked him to anger with their inventions: and the plague brake in upon them.

30 * [r] Then stood up Phinehas, and executed judgment: and so the plague was stayed.

31 And that was [s] counted unto him for righteousness, unto all generations for evermore.

32 * They angred him also at the waters of strife, so that it went ill with [t] Moses for their sakes:

33 Because they provoked his spirit, so that he spake unadvisedly with his lips.

34 They did not destroy the nations, * concerning whom the LORD commanded them:

35 * But were mingled among the heathen, and learned their works.

36 And they served their idols: which were a snare unto them.

37 Yea, they sacrificed their [u] sons and their daughters unto devils, 38 And shed innocent bloud, even the bloud of their sons and of their daughters, whom they sacrificed unto the idols of Canaan: and the land was polluted with bloud.

39 Thus were they defiled with their own works, and went a [x] whoring with their own inventions.

40 Therefore was the wrath of the LORD kindled against his people, insomuch that he abhorred his own inheritance.

41 And he gave them into the hand of the heathen; and they that hated them, ruled over them.

42 Their enemies also oppressed them, and they were brought into subjection under their hand.

43 * [y] Many times did he deliver them, but they provoked him with their counsel, and were ‡ brought low for their iniquity.

44 Nevertheless, he regarded their affliction when he heard their cry.

45 * And he remembred for them his covenant,

1 The Psalmist exhorteth the redeemed in praising God, to observe his manifold providence, 4 over travellers, 10 over captives, 17 over sick men, 23 over Sea-men, 33 and in divers varieties of life.

O * [a] Give thanks unto the LORD, for he is good: for his mercy endureth for ever.

2 Let the [b] redeemed of the LORD say so, whom he hath redeemed from the hand of the enemy:

3 And gathered them out of the lands, from the east and from the west, from the north and † from the south.

4 They wandred in the wilderness in a solitary way, they found no city to dwell in.

5 [c] Hungry and thirsty, their soul fainted in them.

6 Then they cried unto the LORD in their trouble, and he delivered them out of their distresses.

7 And he led them forth by the right way, that they might go to a city of habitation.

8 O that men would praise the LORD for his goodness, and for his wonderful works to the children of men:

9 For he satisfieth the longing soul, and filleth the hungry soul with goodness.

10 Such as sit in darkness and in the shadow of death, being bound in affliction and iron:

11 Because they [d] rebelled against the words of God, and contemned the counsel of the most High:

12 Therefore he brought down their heart with labour, they fell down and there was none to help.

13 Then they [e] cried unto the LORD in their trouble, and he saved them out of their distresses.

14 He brought them out of darkness, and the shadow of death, and brake their bands in sunder.

15 O that men would praise the LORD for his goodness, and for his wonderful works to the children of men:

16 For he hath broken the [f] gates of brass, and cut the bars of iron in sunder.

17 [g] Fools because of their transgression, and because of their iniquities, are afflicted.

18 * Their soul abhorreth all manner of meat, and they draw near unto the gates of death.

19 Then they cry unto the LORD in their trouble, he saveth them out of their distresses.

20 [h] He sent his word, and healed them, and delivered them from their [i] destructions.

21 O that men would praise the LORD for his goodness, and for his wonderful works to the children of men.

22 And let them sacrifice the sacrifices of [k] thanksgiving, and declare his works with † rejoycing.

23 They that go down to the [l] Sea in ships, that do business in great waters:

24 These see the works of the LORD, and his wonders in the deep.

25 For he commandeth, and † raiseth the stormy wind, which lifteth up the waves thereof.

26 They mount up to the heaven, they go down again to the depths, their soul is [m] melted because of trouble.

27 They reel to and fro, and stagger like a drunken man, and † [n] are at their wits end.

28 Then they cry unto the LORD in their trouble, and he bringeth them out of their distresses.

29 He maketh the storm a calm, so that the waves thereof are still.

30 Then are they glad because they be [o] quiet; so he bringeth them unto their desired haven.

31 O that men would praise the LORD for his goodness, and for his wonderful works to the children of men.

32 Let them exalt him also in the [p] congregation of the people, and praise him in the assembly of the elders.

33 He turneth rivers into a wilderness, and the water-springs into dry ground:

34 A fruitful land into † barrenness, for the wickedness of them that dwell therein.

35 * He [q] turneth the wilderness into a standing water, and dry ground into water-springs.

36 And there he maketh the hungry to dwell, that they may prepare a city for habitation;

37 And sow the fields, and plant vineyards, which may yeild fruits of [r] increase.

38 He blesseth them also, so that they are multiplied greatly, and suffereth not their cattel to decrease.

39 [s] Again they are minished and brought low through oppression, affliction and sorrow.

40 * He poureth [t] contempt upon Princes, and causeth them to wander in the ‡ wilderness, where there is no way.

41 * Yet setteth he the poor on high ‡ from affliction, and maketh him families like a flock.

42 * [u] The righteous shall see it, and rejoyce; and all * iniquity shall stop her mouth.

43 Whoso is wise, and will observe those things, even they shall understand the loving kindness of the LORD.

d Then the true way to obey God, is to follow his express commandment: also hereby all are exhorted to descend into themselves, for as much as none are punished, but for their sins.

e He sheweth, That the cause why God doth punish us extreamly, is, because we can be brought unto him by no other means.

HOld not thy peace, O God of my [a] praise.

2 For the mouth of the wicked, and the † mouth of the deceitful † are opened against me: they have spoken against me with a lying tongue.

3 They compassed me about also with words of hatred, and fought against me without a cause.

4 For my love, they are my adversaries: [b] but I give my self unto prayer.

5 And they have rewarded me evil for good, and hatred for my love.

6 [c] Set thou a wicked man over him: and let ‡ Satan stand at his right hand.

7 When he shall be judged, let him † be condemned, [d] and let his prayer become sin.

8 Let his days be few, and * let another take his ‡ [e] office.

9 Let his children be fatherless, and his wife a widow.

10 Let his children be continually vagabonds, and beg: let them seek their bread also out of their desolate places.

a Though all the world condemn me, yet thou wilt approve mine innocency, and that is a sufficient praise to me.

e This was chiefly accomplished in Judas.

11 Let the [f] extortioner catch all that he hath. and let the stranger spoil his labour.

12 Let there be none to extend mercy unto him: neither let there be any to favour his fatherless children.

13 Let his posterity be cut off, and in the generation following let their name be blotted out.

14 [g] Let the iniquity of his fathers be remembred with the LORD: and let not the sin of his mother be blotted out.

15 Let them be before the LORD continually, that he may cut off the memory of them from the earth.

16 Because that [h] he remembred not to shew mercy, but persecuted the poor and needy man, that he might even slay the broken in heart.

18 As he clothed himself with cursing like as with his garment: so let it come † into his bowels like water, and like oyl into his bones.

19 Let it be unto him as the garment which covereth him, and for a girdle wherewith he is girded continually.

20 Let this be the reward of mine adversaries [k] from the LORD, and of them that speake evil against my soul.

21 But do thou for me, O GOD the Lord, for thy [l] name's sake: because thy mercy is good, deliver thou me.

22 For I am poor and needy, and my heart is wounded within me.

23 I am gone like the shadow, when it declineth: I am tossed up and down as the [m] locust.

24 My knees are weak through fasting: and my flesh faileth of [n] fatness.

25 I became also a reproach unto them: when they looked upon me, they shaked their heads.

26 Help me, O LORD my God: O° save me according to thy mercy:

27 That they may know, that this is thy hand: that thou LORD hast done it.

28 [p] Let them curse, but bless thou: when they arise, let them be ashamed: but let thy servant rejoyce.

29 Let mine adversaries be clothed with shame: and let them cover themselves with their own confusion, as with a mantle.

30 I will greatly praise the LORD with my [q] mouth: yea, I will praise him among the multitude.

31 For he shall stand at the right hand of the poor, to save him † from those that [r] condemn his soul.

f He declareth that the curse of God lieth upon the extortioners, who thinking to enrich their children by their unlawful gotten goods, are by God's just judgment deprived of all.

1 The Psalmist by his example inciteth others to praise God, for his glorious, 5 and gracious works. 10 The fear of God breedeth true wisdom.

†PRaise ye the LORD, I [a] will praise the LORD with my whole heart, in the assembly of the upright, and in the congregation.

2 The works of the LORD are [b] great, sought out of all them that have pleasure therein.

3 His work is honourable and glorious: and his righteousness endureth for ever.

4 He hath made his wonderful works to be remembred: the LORD is gracious and full of compassion.

5 He hath given † [c] meat unto them that fear him: he will ever be mindful of his covenant.

6 He hath shewed his people the power of his works, that he may give them the heritage of the heathen.

7 The [d] works of his hands are verity and judgment; all his commandments are sure.

8 They † stand fast for ever and ever, and are done in truth and uprightness.

9 He sent redemption unto his people, he hath commanded his covenant for ever: holy and reverend is his name.

10 * [e] The fear of the LORD is the beginning of wisdom: ‡ a good understanding have all they † that do his commandments: his praise endureth for ever.

1 Becauſe God is truly glorious, 4 and idols are vanity, 9 he exhorteth to confidence in God. 12 God is to be bleſſed for his bleſſings.

NOt [a] unto us, O LORD, not unto us, but unto thy name give glory, for thy mercy, and for thy truth's ſake.

2 Wherefore ſhould the heathen ſay, * [b] where is now their God?

3 * But our God is in the heavens, he hath done whatſoever he [c] pleaſed.

16 O LORD, truly I am thy ſervant, I am thy ſervant, and the ſon of thy handmaid: thou haſt looſed my bonds.

17 I will offer to thee the ſacrifice of thankſgiving, and will call upon the name of the LORD.

18 I will pay my [k] vows unto the LORD, now in the preſence of all his people:

PSAL. CXIX.

This Psalm containeth sundry prayers, praises, and professions of obedience.

XXIV. Evening prayer.

ALEPH.

‡ Or, perfect, or, sincere.

BLessed are the ‡ [a] undefiled in the way, who walk in the Law of the LORD.

a Hereby they are not called blessed, which think themselves wise in their own judgment, nor which imagine to themselves a certain holiness, but they whose conversation is without hypocrisy.

2 Blessed are they that keep his testimonies, and that seek him with the whole heart.

3 They also do [b] no iniquity: they walk in his ways.

b For they are ruled by God's Spirit, and embrace no doctrine but his.

4 Thou hast commanded us to keep thy precepts diligently.

5 [e] O that my ways were directed to keep thy statutes!

e David acknowledgeth his imperfection, desiring God to reform it, that his life may be conformable to God's word.

6 Then shall I not be ashamed, when I have respect unto all thy commandments.

7 I will praise thee with [d] uprightness of heart, when I shall have learned † [e] thy righteous judgments.

d For true religion standeth, in serving God without hypocrisy.
† Heb. judgments, of thy righteousness.

8 I will keep thy statutes: O forsake me not [f] utterly.

e That is, Thy precepts, which contain perfect righteousness. f He refuseth not to be tried by temptations, but he feareth to faint, if God succour not his infirmity in time.

BETH.

9 Wherewith shall [a] a young man cleanse his way? by taking heed thereto according to thy word.

a Because youth is most given to licentiousness, he chiefly warneth them to frame their lives betime to God's word.

10 With my whole heart have I sought thee: O let me not wander from thy commandments.

11 Thy word have I [b] hid in mine heart, that I might not sin against thee.

b If God's word be graven in our hearts, we shall be more able to resist the assaults of Satan: and therefore the Prophet desireth God to instruct him daily more and more therein.

12 Blessed art thou, O LORD: teach me thy statutes.

13 With my lips have I declared all the judgments of thy mouth.

14 I have [c] rejoyced in the way of thy testimonies; as much as in all riches.

c The Prophet doth not boast of his virtues, but setteth forth an example for others to follow God's word, and leave worldly vanities.

15 I will meditate in thy precepts, and have respect unto thy ways.

16 I will delight my self in thy statutes: I will not forget thy word.

GIMEL.

17 Deal bountifully with thy servant, that I may [a] live, and keep thy word.

a He sheweth, That we ought not to desire to live, but to serve God, and that we cannot serve him aright, except he open our eyes and minds.

18 † Open thou mine eyes, that I may behold wondrous things out of thy Law.

* Gen. 47. 9. 1 Chron. 29. 15. Psal. 39. 12. Heb. 11. 13.
b Seeing man's life in this world is but a passage, what should become of him, if thy word were not his guide!

20 My soul breaketh for the longing that it hath unto thy judgments at all times.

21 Thou hast [c] rebuked the proud that are cursed, which do err from thy commandments.

c In all ages thou hast plagued all such, which maliciously and contemptuously depart from thy truth.

22 Remove from me reproach and contempt, for I have kept thy testimonies.

23 [d] Princes also did sit and speak against me: but thy servant did meditate in thy statutes.

d When the powers of the world gave false sentence against me, thy word was a guide and counseller to teach me what to do, and comfort me.

24 Thy testimonies also are my delight, and † my counsellers.

† Heb. men of my counsel.

DALETH.

25 My soul [a] cleaveth unto the dust: quicken thou me according to thy word.

a That is, It is almost brought to the grave, and without thy word I cannot live.

26 I have [b] declared my ways, and thou heardest me: * teach me thy statutes.

b I have confessed mine offences, and now depend wholly on thee.
* Psal. 25. 4. & 27. 11. & 86. 11.

27 Make me to understand the way of thy precepts: so shall I talk of thy wondrous works.

28 My soul † melteth for heaviness: strengthen thou me according unto thy [c] word.

c If God did not maintain us by his word, our life would drop away like water.

29 Remove from me the [d] way of lying: and grant me thy Law graciously.

d Instruct me in thy word, whereby my mind may be purged from vanity, and taught to obey thy will.

30 I have chosen the way of truth: thy judgments have I laid before me.

31 I have stuck unto thy testimonies: O LORD, put me not to shame.

32 I will run the way of thy commandments, when thou shalt [e] inlarge my heart.

e By this he sheweth, That we can neither chuse good, cleave to God's word, nor run forward in his way, except he make our hearts large to receive his grace, and willing to obey.

XXV. Day. Morning prayer.

H E.

33 Teach [a] me, O LORD, the way of thy ſtatutes, and I ſhall keep it unto the end.

34 Give me underſtanding, and I ſhall keep thy Law, yea, I ſhall obſerve it with my [b] whole heart.

35 Make me to go in the path of thy commandments, for therein do I delight.

36 Incline my heart unto thy teſtimonies, and not to [c] covetouſneſs.

37 † Turn away mine [d] eyes from beholding vanity: and quicken thou me in thy way.

38 Eſtabliſh thy word unto thy ſervant, who is devoted to thy fear.

39 Turn away my [e] reproach which I fear: for thy judgments are good.

40 Behold, I have longed after thy precepts: [f] quicken me in thy righteouſneſs.

41 Let thy [a] mercies come alſo unto me, O LORD; even thy ſalvation according to thy word.

42 ‡ So ſhall I have [b] wherewith to anſwer him that reproacheth me: for I truſt in thy word.

43 And take not the word of truth utterly out of my mouth; for I have hoped in thy judgments.

44 So ſhall I keep thy Law continually, for ever and ever.

45 And I will walk † [c] at liberty: for I ſeek thy precepts.

46 I will ſpeak of thy teſtimonies alſo before [d] Kings, and will not be aſhamed.

47 And I will delight my ſelf in thy commandments which I have loved.

48 My hands alſo will I lift up unto thy commandments which I have loved: and I will meditate in thy ſtatutes.

Z A I N.

49 Remember the [a] word unto thy ſervant, upon which thou haſt cauſed me to hope.

50 This is my comfort in my affliction: for thy word hath quickned me.

51 [b] The proud have had me greatly in deriſion: yet have I not declined from thy Law.

52 I remembred [c] thy judgments of old, O LORD; and have comforted my ſelf.

53 [d] Horrour hath taken hold upon me, becauſe of the wicked that forſake thy Law.

54 Thy ſtatutes have been my Songs in the houſe of my [e] pilgrimage.

55 I have remembred thy name, O LORD, in the [f] night, and have kept thy Law.

56 [g] This I had: becauſe I kept thy precepts.

C H E T H.

57 Thou art my [a] portion, O LORD, I have ſaid, that I would keep thy words.

58 I intreated thy † favour with my whole heart: be merciful unto me according to thy word.

59 I thought on my [b] ways, and turned my feet unto thy teſtimonies.

60 I made haſt, and delayed not to keep thy commandments.

61 The ‡ bands of the wicked have [c] robbed me: but I have not forgotten thy Law.

62 At midnight I will riſe to give thanks unto thee: becauſe of thy righteous judgments.

63 I am a [d] companion of all them that fear thee, and of them that keep thy precepts.

64 The earth, O LORD, is full of thy mercy: [e] teach me thy ſtatutes.

¶ A Song of degrees ‡ for Solomon.

‡ Or, of Solomon.

EXcept the LORD [a] build the house, they labour in vain † that build it: except the LORD keep the [b] city, the watchman waketh but in vain.

2 It is vain for [c] you to rise up early, to sit up late, to eat the bread of [d] sorrows: for so he giveth his beloved * sleep.

3 Lo, children are an heritage of the LORD: and the fruit of the womb is his reward.

4 As arrows are in the hand of a mighty man: so are [f] children of the youth.

5 Happy is the man that † hath his quiver full of them: they [g] shall not be ashamed, but they ‡ shall speak with the enemies in the gate.

Psal. CXXVIII.

The sundry blessings which follow them that fear God.

¶ A Song of degrees.

BLesſed is every one that feareth the LORD: that walketh in his [a] ways.

a God approveth not our life, except it be formed according to his word.

2 For thou ſhalt eat the labour of thine [b] hands: happy ſhalt thou be, and it ſhall be well with thee.

b The world eſteemeth them happy which live in wealth and idleneſs, but the holy Ghoſt approveth them beſt, that live of the mean profit of their labours.

3 Thy wife ſhall be as a fruitful vine by the ſides of thine houſe: thy [c] children like olive-plants, round about thy table.

c Becauſe God's favour appeareth in none outward thing more then in increaſe of children, he promiſeth to enrich the faithful with this gift.

4 Behold, that thus ſhall the man be bleſſed, that feareth the LORD.

5 The LORD ſhall [d] bleſs thee out of Zion: and thou ſhalt ſee the good of [e] Jeruſalem, all the days of thy life.

6 Yea, thou ſhalt ſee thy childrens children, and peace upon Iſrael.

1 David praiseth God for his all-seeing providence, 17 and for his infinite mercys. 19 He defieth the wicked. 23 He prayeth for sincerity.

¶ To the chief musician, A Psalm of David.

O LORD, thou hast searched me, and known me.

2 Thou knowest my [a] down-sitting, & mine up-rising, thou understandest my thought afar off.

3 Thou ‡ [b] compassest my path, and my lying down, and art acquainted with all my ways.

4 For there is not [c] a word in my tongue, but lo, O LORD, thou knowest it altogether.

5 Thou hast beset me behind and before, and [d] laid thine hand upon me.

6 Such knowledge is too wonderful for me; it is high, I cannot attain unto it.

7 Whither shall I go from thy [e] spirit? or whither shall I flee from thy presence?

8 * If I ascend up into heaven, thou art there: if I make my bed in hell, behold, thou art there.

9 If I take the wings of the morning, and dwell in the uttermost parts of the sea:

19 Surely thou wilt slay the wicked, O God: depart from me therefore, ye bloudy men.

20 For they speak against thee wickedly, and thine enemies take thy name in vain.

21 Do not I [o] hate them, O LORD, that hate thee? and am not I grieved with those that rise up against thee?

24 And see if there be any † [p] wicked way in me, and lead me in the [q] way everlasting.

† Heb. way of pain, or, grief.
p Or, any heinous way, or rebellious, meaning, That though he were subject to sin, yet was he not given to wickedness, and to provoke God by rebellion. q That is, Continue thy favour towards me to the end.

PSAL. CXL.

1 David prayeth to be delivered from Saul and Doeg. 8 He prayeth against them. 12 He comforteth himself by confidence in God.

¶ To the chief musician, A Psalm of David.

DEliver me, O LORD, from the evil man: preserve me from the † [a] violent man.

a Which persecuteth me of malice and without cause.

2 Which imagine mischiefs in their [b] heart; continually are they gathered together for war.

b That is, By their false cavillations the hatred of the wicked against me.

3 They have sharpned their tongues like a Serpent; * [c] adder's poyson is under their lips. Selah.

* Psal. 58. 4. Rom. 3. 13.
c He sheweth, what weapons the wicked use, when power and force fail them.

4 Keep [d] me, O LORD, from the hands of the wicked, preserve me from the violent man, who have purposed to overthrow my goings.

d He declareth, what is the remedy of the godly, when they are oppressed by the worldlings.

5 The proud have hid a snare for me, and cords, they have spread a net by the way-side: they have set grins for me. Selah.

6 I said unto the LORD, Thou art my God: hear the voice of my supplications, O LORD.

7 O GOD the Lord, the strength of my salvation; thou hast [e] covered my head in the day of battel.

e He calleth to God with lively faith, being assured of his mercies, because he had before time proved, that God helped him ever in his dangers.

8 Grant not, O LORD, the desires of the wicked, [f] further not his wicked device, ‡ lest they exalt themselves. Selah.

f Or, bring not to pass: for it is in God's hand to overthrow the counsels and enterprises of the wicked.

9 As for the [g] head of those that compass me about, let the mischief of their own lips cover them.

‡ Or, let them not be exalted.
g It seemeth that he alludeth to Saul, but the Chaldee nameth it Achitophel.

10 Let burning coals fall upon them, let them [h] be cast into the fire; into deep pits, that they rise not up again.

h To mit, By God: for David saw that they were reprobate, and that there was no hope of repentance in them.

11 Let not † ‡ an evil speaker be established in the earth: evil shall [i] hunt the violent man to overthrow him.

† Heb. a man of tongue.
‡ Or, an evil speaker, a wicked man of violence be established in the earth: let him be hunted to his overthrow.
i God's plagues shall light upon him in such sort, that he shall not escape.

12 I know that the LORD will maintain the cause of the afflicted, and the right of the poor.

13 Surely the righteous shall give thanks unto thy name, the upright shall [k] dwell in thy presence.

k That is, shall be defended and preserved by thy fatherly providence and care.

PSAL. CXLI.

1 David prayeth that his suit may be acceptable, 3 his conscience sincere, 7 and his life safe from snares.

¶ A Psalm of David.

LORD, I [a] cry unto thee, make haste unto me; give ear unto my voice, when I cry unto thee.

a He sheweth: That there is none other refuge in our necessities, but only to flee unto God for comfort of our soul.

2 Let my prayer be † set forth before thee as incense; and the [b] lifting up of my hands, as the evening sacrifice.

b He meaneth, His earnest zeal and gesture, which he used in prayer: alluding to the sacrifices which were by God's commandment offered in the old Law.

3 Set a watch, O LORD, before my mouth, keep the [c] door of my lips.

c He desireth God to keep his thoughts and ways either from thinking, or executing vengeance.

4 Incline not my heart to any evil thing, to practise wicked works with men that work iniquity: and let me not eat of their [d] dainties.

d Let not their prosperity allure me to be wicked as they are.

5 ‡ Let the righteous smite me, it shall be a kindness; and let [e] him reprove me, it shall be an excellent oyl, which shall not break my head: for yet my [f] prayer also shall be in their calamities.

‡ Or, let the righteous smite me kindly, and reprove me; let not their precious oyl break my head, &c. e He could abide all corrections that came of a loving heart.
f By patience I shall see the wicked so sharply handled, that I shall for pity pray for them.

6 When their judges are overthrown in stony places, they shall [g] hear my words, for they are sweet.

g The people wich followed their wicked rulers in persecuting the Prophet, shall repent and turn to God, when they see their wicked rulers punished.

7 Our bones are scattered at the [h] graves mouth, as when one cutteth and cleaveth wood upon the earth.

h Here appeareth, That David was miraculously delivered out of many deaths, as 2 Cor. 1. 9, 10.

8 But mine eyes are unto thee, O GOD the Lord: in thee is my trust, † leave not my soul destitute.

† Heb. make not my soul bare.

9 Keep me from the snare which they have laid for me, and the grins of the workers of iniquity.

10 Let the wicked fall [i] into their own [k] nets, whilst that I withall † escape.

i Into God's nets, whereby he catcheth the wicked in their own malice.
k The Heb. is, together, meaning, himself, and such as were with him.

PSAL. CXLII.

David sheweth that in his trouble, all his comfort was in prayer unto God.

¶ ‡ Maschil of David; a prayer when he was in the cave.

XXIX Day. Evening prayer.

‡ Or, A Psalm of David giving instruction.

I Cried unto the LORD with my voice: with my voice unto the LORD did I make [a] my supplication.

a David's patience and instant prayer to God, contemneth their wicked rage, which in their troubles either despair and murmur against God, or else to seek to others then to God, to have redress in their miseries.

2 I poured out my complaint before him; I shewed before him my trouble.

3 When my spirit was † overwhelmed within me, then thou knewest my path: in the way wherein I walked, have they privily laid a snare for me.

† Heb. was folden or wrapped in me: meaning, As a thing that could have no issue.

4 ‡ I looked on my right hand, and beheld, but there was no man that would know me; refuge † failed me; † no man cared for my soul.

‡ Or, look on the right hand, and see.
† Heb. no man sought after my soul.

5 I cried unto thee, O Lord, I said, Thou art my [b] refuge, and my portion in the land of the living.

b Though all means failed him, yet he knew that God would never forsake him.

6 Attend unto my cry, for I am brought very low: deliver me from my persecutours, for they are stronger then I.

c For he was on all sides beset with his enemies, as though he had been in a most straight prison.

7 Bring my soul out of [c] prison, that I may praise thy name: the righteous shall [d] compass me about; for thou shalt deal bountifully with me.

d Either to rejoyce at my wonderful deliverance, or to set a crown upon mine head.

PSAL. CXLIII.

1 David prayeth for favour in judgment. 3 He complaineth of his griefs. 5 He strengtheneth his faith by meditation and prayer. 7 He prayeth for grace, 9 for deliverance, 10 for sanctification, 12 for destruction of his enemies.

¶ A Psalm of David.

HEar my prayer, O LORD, give ear to my supplications: in thy [a] faithfulness answer me, and in thy [b] righteousness.

a That is, Thou hast promised to be faithful in thy promise to all that trust in thee.
b That is, According to thy free goodness whereby thou defendest thine.

2 And enter not into judgment with thy servant: for * in thy [c] sight shall no man living be justified.

* Exod. 34. 7. Rom. 3. 20. Gal 2. 16.
c He knew that his afflictions were God's messengers to call him to repentance for his sins, though toward his enemies he was innocent, and that in God's sight all men are sinners.

3 For the enemy hath persecuted my soul, he hath smitten my life down to the ground: he hath made me to dwell in darkness, as those that have been [d] long dead.

d He acknowledgeth that God is the only and true Physician to heal him: and that he is able to raise him to life, though he were dead long ago, and turned to ashes.

4 Therefore is my spirit overwhelmed within me, my [c] heart within me is desolate.

5 I remember the days of [f] old, I meditate on all thy works: I muse on the work of thy hands.

6 I stretch forth my hands unto thee: my soul thirsteth after thee, as a thirsty land. Selah.

7 Hear me speedily, O LORD, my spirit faileth: hide not thy face from me, ‡ lest I be like unto them that go down into the pit.

8 Cause me to hear thy loving kindness in the [g] morning, for in thee do I trust: cause me to [h] know the way wherein I should walk, for I lift up my soul unto thee.

9 Deliver me, O LORD, from mine enemies: I † flee unto thee to [i] hide me.

10 [k] Teach me to [l] do thy will, for thou art my God: thy spirit is good, lead me into the land of uprightness.

11 Quicken me, O LORD, for thy name's sake: for thy righteousness sake bring my soul out of trouble.

12 And of thy mercy [m] cut off mine enemies, and destroy all them that afflict my soul: for I am [n] thy servant.

c So that onely by faith, and by the grace of God's Spirit he was upholden.
f To wit, Thy great benefits of old, and the manifold examples of thy favour toward thine.
‡ Or, for I am become like, &c.
g That is, Speedily, and in due season.
h Let thine holy Spirit counsel me how to come forth of these great cares and troubles.
† Heb. bid me with thee.
i I hid my self under the shadow of thy wings, that I might be defended by thy power.
k He confesseth that both the knowledge and obedience of God's will cometh by the spirit of God, who teacheth us by his word, giveth understanding by his spirit, and frameth our hearts by his grace to obey him.
l That is, Justly, and aright: for so soon as we decline from God's will, we fall into errour.
m Which shall be a sign of thy fatherly kindness toward me. n Resigning my self wholly unto thee, and trusting in thy protection.

XXX Day. Morning prayer.

PSAL. CXLIV.

1 David blesseth God for his mercy both to him and to man. 5 He prayeth that God would powerfully deliver him from his enemies. 9 He promiseth to praise God. 11 He prayeth for the happy estate of the Kingdom.

¶ A Psalm of David.

BLessed be the LORD † my strength, * which [a] teacheth my hands † to war, and my fingers to fight.

2 * ‡ My goodness and my fortress, my high tower and my † deliverer, my shield, and he in whom I trust: who [b] subdueth my people under me.

3 * LORD, what is man, that thou [c] takest knowledge of him? or the son of man, that thou makest account of him?

4 * Man is like to vanity: his days are as a shadow that passeth away.

5 Bowe thy heavens, O LORD, and [d] come down: touch the mountains, and they shall smoke.

6 * [e] Cast forth lightning, and scatter them: shoot out thine arrows, and destroy them.

7 Send thine † hand from above, rid me, and deliver me out of great [f] waters; from the hand of strange children:

8 Whose mouth speaketh vanity, and their right hand is a right hand of [g] falshood.

9 I will sing a new [h] song unto thee, O God: upon a Psaltery, and an instrument of ten strings will I sing praises unto thee.

10 It is he that giveth ‡ salvation unto Kings: who delivereth David his [i] servant from the hurtful sword.

11 Rid me, and deliver me from the hand of strange children; whose mouth speaketh vanity, and their right hand is a right hand of falshood.

12 That our [k] sons may be as plants grown up in their youth; that our daughters may be as corner-stones, † polished after the similitude of a palace:

13 That our [l] garners may be full, affording † all manner of store; that our sheep may bring forth thousands, and ten thousands in our streets:

14 That our [m] oxen may be † strong to labour; that there be no breaking in, nor going out; that there be no complaining in our streets.

15 * Happy is that people that is in such a case: yea, [n] happy is that people, whose God is the LORD.

a He sheweth, what sacrifices are pleasant and acceptable unto God: even praise and thanksgiving, and seeing that God still continueth his benefits towards us, we ought never to be weary in praising him for the same.
b Hereby he declareth, That all power is subject unto God, and that no worldly promotion ought to obscure God's glory.
‡ Heb. and of his greatness there is no search.
c Forasmuch as the end of man's creation, and of his preservation in this life is to praise God, therefore he requireth that not onely we our selves do this, but cause all other to do the same.

d Of thy terrible judgments against the wicked.
* Exod. 34. 6, 7. Num. 14. 18. Psal. 86. 5, 15. & 103. 8.
e He describeth after what sort God sheweth himself to all his creatures, though our sins have provoked his vengeance against all: to wit, Merciful, not onely in pardoning the sins of his elect, but in doing good even to the reprobate, albeit they cannot feel the sweet comfort of the same.
† Heb. great in mercy.
f The praise of glory appeareth in all thy creatures: and though the wicked would obscure the same by their silence, yet the faithful are ever mindful of the same.
g He sheweth, That all things are out of order, but onely where God reigneth.
† Heb. a Kingdom of all ages.
h Who being in misery and affliction would faint and fall away, if God did not uphold them, and therefore they ought to reverence him, that reigneth in heaven, and suffer themselves to be governed by him.
‡ Or, look unto thee.
i To wit, As well of men, as of beasts.
k He prayeth God, not onely for that he is beneficial to all his creatures, but also in that he justly punisheth the wicked, and mercifully examineth his by the cross, giving them strength, and delivering them.
‡ Or, merciful, or, bountiful.

k He desireth God to continue his benefits toward his people, counting the procreation of children, and their good education, among the chiefest of God's benefits.
† Heb. cut.
l That the very corners of our houses may be full of store for the great abundance of thy blessings.
† Heb. from kind to kind.
m He attributeth not onely the great commodities, but even the least also to God's favour.
n And if God give not to all his children all these blessings, yet he recompenseth them with better things.

† Heb. able to bear burdens, or, loaden with flesh. * Psal. 33. 12. & 65. 4.

PSAL. CXLV.

1 David praiseth God for his fame, 8 for his goodness. 11 for his Kingdom, 14 for his providence, 17 for his saving mercy.

¶ David's Psalm of praise.

I Will extol thee, my God, O King, and [a] I will bless thy name for ever and ever.

2 Every day will I bless thee, and I will praise thy name for ever and ever.

3 [b] Great is the LORD, and greatly to be praised; ‡ and his greatness is unsearchable.

4 One generation shall praise thy works to [c] another, and shall declare thy mighty acts.

5 I will speak of the glorious honour of thy Majesty, and of thy wondrous † works.

6 And men shall speak of the might [d] of thy terrible acts: and I will † declare thy greatness.

7 They shall abundantly utter the memory of thy great goodness, and shall sing of thy righteousness.

8 * The LORD is gracious, [e] and full of compassion; slow to anger, and † of great mercy.

9 The LORD is good to all: and his tender mercies are over all his works.

10 All thy works shall praise thee, O LORD, and thy saints shall bless thee.

11 [f] They shall speak of the glory of thy Kingdom, and talk of thy power.

12 To make known to the sons of men, his [g] mighty acts, and the glorious majesty of his Kingdom.

13 Thy Kingdom is † an everlasting Kingdom, and thy dominion endureth throughout all generations.

14 The LORD upholdeth all [h] that fall, and raiseth up all those that be bowed down.

15 The eyes of all ‡ [i] wait upon thee, and thou givest them their meat in due season.

16 Thou openest thine hand, and satisfiest the desire of every living thing.

17 The LORD is [k] righteous in all his ways, and ‡ holy in all his works.

18 The LORD is nigh unto all them that call upon him, to all that call upon him in [l] truth.

19 He will fulfil the [m] desire of them that fear him: he also will hear their cry, and will save them.

20 The LORD preserveth all them that love him: but all the wicked will he destroy.

21 My mouth shall speak the praise of the LORD: and let all [n] flesh bless his holy name for ever and ever.

l Which onely appertaineth to the faithful: and this virtue is contrary to infidelity, doubting, impatience, and murmuring.
m For they will ask or wish for nothing, but according to his will, 1 John. 5. 14.
n That is, All men shall be bound to praise him.

PSAL. CXLVI.

1 The Psalmist voweth perpetual praises to God. 3 He exhorteth, not to trust in man. 5 God for his power, justice, mercy, and Kingdom, is onely worthy to be trusted.

†PRaise ye the LORD. Praise the LORD, O my [a] soul.

2 While I live, will I praise the LORD: I will sing praises unto my God, while I have any being.

3 * Put not your trust in [b] Princes, nor in the son of man, in whom there is no ‡ help.

4 His breath goeth forth, he returneth to his earth: in that very day his [c] thoughts perish.

5 Happy is he that hath the God of Jacob for his help, whose hope is in the LORD his God:

6 Which made [d] heaven and earth, the Sea, and all that therein is: which keepeth truth for ever:

7 Which executeth judgment for the [e] oppressed, which giveth food to the hungry: the LORD looseth the prisoners.

8 The LORD openeth the eyes of the blind: the LORD raiseth them that are bowed down: the LORD [f] loveth the righteous.

9 The LORD preserveth the [g] strangers; he relieveth the fatherless and widow: but the way of the wicked he turneth upside down.

10 * The LORD shall [h] reign for ever, even thy God, O Zion, unto all generations. Praise ye the LORD.

a He stirreth up himself and all his affections to praise God.
* Psal. 118. 8, 9.
b That God may have the whole praise, wherein he forbiddeth all vain confidence, shewing, That of nature we are more inclined to put our trust in creatures, then in God the creatour.
‡ Or, salvation.
c As their vain opinions, whereby they flattered themselves, and so imagined wicked enterprises.
d He encourageth the godly to trust only in the Lord, both for that his power is able to deliver them from all dangers, and for his promise sake his will is most ready to do it.
e Whose faith and patience for a while he trieth, but at length he punisheth the adversaries, that he may be known to be judge of the world.
f Though he visit them by affliction, hunger, imprisonment, and such like, yet his fatherly love and pity never faileth them; yea rather to his, these are signs of his love.
g Meaning All them that are destitute of worldly means and succour.
* Exod. 15. 18.
h He assureth the Church that God reigneth for ever, for the preservation of the same.

PSAL. CXLVII.

XXX Day. Evening prayer.

1 The Prophet exhorteth to praise God, for his care of the Church, 4 his power, 6 and his mercy, 7 to praise him for his providence, 12 to praise him for his blessings upon the Kingdom, 15 for his power over the meteors, 19 and for his ordinance in the Church.

PRaise ye the LORD: for it is good to sing praise unto our God; for it is [a] pleasant, and praise is comely.

2 The LORD doth build up [b] Jerusalem: he gathered together the outcasts of Israel.

3 He healeth the [c] broken in heart, and bindeth up their † wounds.

4 He [d] telleth the number of the stars: he calleth them all by their names.

5 Great is our Lord, and of great power: † his understanding is infinite.

6 The LORD lifteth up the meek: he casteth the wicked down to the [e] ground.

7 Sing unto the LORD with thanksgiving: sing praise upon the harp unto our God:

a He sheweth, wherein we ought to exercise our selves continually, and to take our pastime, to wit, in praising God.
b Because the Lord is the founder of the Church, it cannot be destroyed, though the members thereof be dispersed, and seem, as it were for a time, to be cut off.
c With affliction or sorrow for sin.
d Though it seem to man incredible, that God should assemble his Church, being so dispersed: yet nothing can be too hard to him that can number and name the stars: See Gen. 15. 5. Jer. 33. 22. Isa. 40. 26.
† Heb. of his understanding there is no number.
e For the more hight that the wicked climb, the greater is their fall in the end.

8 Who [f] covereth the heaven with clouds, who prepareth rain for the earth, who maketh grass to grow upon the mountains.

9 * He giveth to the beast his food, and to the young ravens which [g] cry.

10 He delighteth not in the [h] strength of the horse: he taketh not pleasure in the legs of a man.

11 The LORD taketh pleasure in them that fear him, in those that hope in his mercy.

12 Praise the LORD, O Jerusalem: praise thy God, O Zion.

13 For he hath [i] strengthned the bars of thy gates: he hath blessed thy children within thee.

14 † He maketh peace in thy borders, and filleth thee with the † finest of the wheat.

15 He sendeth forth his [k] commandment upon earth: his word runneth very [l] swiftly.

16 He giveth snow like wool: he scattereth the hoar-frost like ashes.

17 He casteth forth his ice like morsels: who can stand before his cold?

18 He sendeth out his word, and melteth them: he causeth his wind to blow, and the waters flow.

19 He sheweth † his [m] word unto Jacob, his statutes and his judgments unto Israel.

20 He hath not dealt so with any nation: and as for his judgments, they have not [n] known them. Praise ye the LORD.

f He sheweth The examples of God's mighty power, goodness, and wisdom, that we can never want most juste occasion to praise God.
* Job 38. 41. Psal. 104. 27, 28.
g For their crying is as it were a confession of their need, which cannot be relieved, but by God only then if God shew himself mindful of the most contemptible fowls, can he suffer them to die with famine, whom he hath assured of life everlasting?
h Though to use lawful means is both profitable and pleaseth God, yet to put our trust in them, is to defraud God of his honour.
i He doth not onely furnish his Church with all things necessary, but preserveth also the same, and maketh it strong against all outward force.
† Heb. who maketh thy border peace.
† Heb. fat of wheat.
k His secret working in all creatures, is as a commandment to keep them in order, and to give them moving and force.
l For immediately and without resisting all things obey him.
† Heb. his words.
m As before he called God's secret working in all his creatures, his word, so he meaneth here by his word, the doctrine of life everlasting, which he hath left to his Church, as a most precious treasure.
n The cause of this difference is God's free mercy, which hath elected his in his Son Christ Jesus to salvation: and his just judgment, whereby he hath appointed the reprobate to eternal damnation.

PSAL. CXLVIII.

5 Let them praise the name of the LORD: for he commanded, and they were created.

6 He hath also established them for ever and ever: he hath made a decree which shall not pass.

7 Praise the LORD from the earth, ye [e] dragons and all deeps.

8 [f] Fire and hail, snow and vapour, stormy wind fulfilling his word.

9 Mountains and all hills, fruitful trees and all cedars.

10 Beasts and all cattel, creepings things, and † flying fowl.

11 [g] Kings of the earth, and all people; Princes, and all Judges of the earth.

a Because they are members of the same body, he setteth them before our eyes, which are most willing hereunto, and by their prompt obedience teach us to do our duty.
b In that God's glory shineth in these insensible creatures, their beauty is as a continual praising of God.
c Not that there are divers heavens, but because of the spheares and of the situation of the fixed stars and planets, he comprehendeth by this word the whole heaven.

1 An exhortation to praiſe God, 3 with all kind of inſtruments.

† Heb. Hallelujah.

†PRaiſe ye the LORD. Praiſe God in his [a] ſanctuary: praiſe him in the [b] firmament of his power.

a That is, In the heaven.
b For his wonderful power appeareth in the firmament, which in Hebrew is called a ſtretching out, or ſpreading abroad, wherein the mighty work of God ſhineth.

2 Praiſe him for his mighty acts: praiſe him according to his excellent greatneſs.

3 Praiſe him with the ſound of the ‡ [c] trumpet: praiſe him with the pſaltery and harp.

‡ Or, cornet.

4 Praiſe him with the timbrel and ‡ dance: praiſe him with ſtringed inſtruments, and organs.

c Exhorting the people onely to rejoyce in praiſing God, he maketh mention of thoſe inſtruments which, by God's commandment, were appointed in the old Law, but under Chriſt the uſe thereof is abolished in the Church.

5 Praiſe him upon the loud cymbals: praiſe him upon the high-ſounding cymbals.

6 Let every thing that hath [d] breath, praiſe the LORD. Praiſe ye the LORD.

‡ Or, pipe. d He ſheweth, That all the order of nature is bound to this duty, and much more God's children, who ought never to ceaſe to him, till they be gathered into that Kingdom, which he hath prepared for his, where they ſhall ſing everlaſting praiſe.

THE PROVERBS.

* This word Proverb, or, Parable, ſignifieth, A grave and notable ſentence, worthy to be kept in memory: and is ſometime taken in the evil part, for a mock, or ſcoff.

THE ARGUMENT.

THe wonderful love of God toward his Church, is declared in this Book: foraſmuch as the ſum and effect of the whole Scripture is here ſet forth in theſe brief Sentences, which partly contain doctrine, and partly manners, and alſo exhortations to both: whereof the nine firſt Chapters are as a Preface full of grave ſentences and deep myſteries, to allure the hearts of men to the diligent reading of the parables that follow; which are left as a moſt precious jewel to the Church, of thoſe three thouſand parables mentioned, 1 King. iv. 32. and were gathered and committed to writing by Solomon's ſervants, and indited by him.

CHAP. I.

1 The uſe of the Proverbs. 7 An exhortation to fear God, and believe his word. 10 To avoid the enticings of ſinners. 20 Wiſdom complaineth of her contempt. 24 She threatneth her contemners.

THe Proverbs of Solomon the ſon of David, King of Iſrael;

2 To know wiſdom and [a] inſtruction, to perceive the [b] words of underſtanding;

a That is, what we ought to know and follow, and what we ought to refuſe.
b Meaning, The word of God, wherein is the onely true knowledge,

3 To receive the [c] inſtruction of wiſdom, [d] juſtice, and judgment, and † equity;

c To learn to ſubmit our ſelves to the correction of thoſe that are wiſe.
d By living juſtly and rendring to every man that which appertaineth unto him.

† Heb. equities.

4 To give ſubtilty to the [e] ſimple, to the young man knowledge and ‡ diſcretion.

5 A wiſe man will hear, and will increaſe learning: and a man of [f] underſtanding ſhall attain unto wiſe counſels:

e To ſuch as have no diſcretion to rule themſelves. ‡ Or, adviſement. f As he ſheweth that theſe parables containing the effect of Religion, as touching manners and doctrine, do appertain to the ſimple people: ſo doth he declare that the ſame is alſo neceſſary for them that are wiſe and learned.

6 To underſtand a Proverb, and ‡ the interpretation; the words of the wiſe, and their dark ſayings.

‡ Or, an eloquent ſpeech.

7 ¶ * The fear of the LORD is ‡ the beginning of knowledge: but fools deſpiſe wiſdom and inſtruction.

* Job 28. 28. Pſal. 111. 10. Chap. 9. 10.
‡ Or, the principal part.

8 My ſon, hear the inſtruction of thy [g] father, and forſake not the Law of thy [h] mother:

g He ſpeaketh this in the name of God, which is the univerſal father of all creatures, or in the name of the paſtour of the Church, who is as a father.
h That is, Of the Church, wherein the faithful are begotten by the incorruptible ſeed of God's word.

9 For they ſhall be † an ornament of grace unto thy head, and chains about thy neck.

† Heb. an adding.

10 ¶ My ſon, if [i] ſinners entice thee, conſent thou not.

i To wit, The wicked which have not the fear of God.

11 If they ſay, Come with us, let us lay wait for [k] bloud, let us lurk privily for the innocent without cauſe:

k He ſpeaketh not only of the ſhedding of bloud with hand, but of all crafty practiſes which tend to the detriment of our neighbour.

12 Let us ſwallow them up alive as the [l] grave, and whole, as thoſe that go down into the pit:

13 We ſhall find all precious ſubſtance, we ſhall fill our houſes with ſpoil:

l As the grave is never ſatiate, ſo the avarice of the wicked and their cruelty hath none end.

14 Caſt

14 Cast in thy lot among us, let us all have one [m] purse:

15 My son, walk not thou in the way with them; refrain thy foot from their [n] path.

16 *For their feet run to evil, and make haste to shed bloud.

17 Surely in vain the net is spread † in the sight of any bird.

18 And they lay wait for their own bloud, they lurk privily for their own [o] lives.

19 So are the ways of every one that is greedy of gain: which taketh away the [p] life of the owners thereof.

20 ¶ †*[q] Wisdom crieth without, she uttereth her voice in the [r] streets:

21 She crieth in the chief place of concourse, in the openings of the gates: in the city she uttereth her words, saying,

22 How long, ye [s] simple ones, will ye love simplicity? and the scorners delight in their scorning, and fools hate knowledge?

23 Turn you at my reproof: behold, I will pour out my spirit unto you, I will make known my words unto you.

24 ¶ *Because I have called, and ye refused, I have stretched out my hand, and no man regarded;

25 But ye have set at nought all my counsel, and would none of my reproof:

26 I also will [t] laugh at your calamity, I will mock when your fear cometh;

27 When your [u] fear cometh as desolation, and your destruction cometh as a whirlwind; when distress and anguish cometh upon you.

28 *Then shall they call upon me, but I will not answer; they shall seek me early, but they shall [x] not find me:

29 For that they hated knowledge, and did not choose the fear of the LORD.

30 They would none of my counsel: they [y] despised all my reproof.

31 Therefore shall they eat of the [z] fruit of their own way, and be filled with their own devices.

32 For the ‡ turning away of the simple shall slay them, and the [a] prosperity of fools shall destroy them.

33 But whoso hearkneth unto me, shall dwell safely, and shall be quiet from fear of evil.

m He sheweth, whereby the wicked are allured to join together, because they have every one part of the spoil of the innocent.
n That is, Have nothing at all to do with them.
o Isa. 59. 7. Rom. 3. 15.
† Heb. in the eyes of every thing that hath a wing.
p He sheweth, That there is no cause to move these wicked to spoil the innocent, but their avarice & cruelty.
q Whereby he concludeth that the covetous man is a murderer.
† Heb. wisdoms, that is, excellent wisdom.
* Chap. 8. 1.
r This wisdom is the eternal word of God.
s So that none can pretend ignorance.
t Wisdom reproveth three kinds of men, The foolish or simple, which err of ignorance; And the mockers, that cannot suffer to be taught; And the fools, which are drowned in worldly lusts, and hate the knowledge of godliness.
* Isa. 65. 12. & 66. 4. Jer. 7. 13. Zech. 7. 12.
u This is spoken according to our capacity, signifying, That the wicked which mock and jest at God's word, shall have the just reward of their mocking.
x That is, Your destruction, which thing you feared.
* Job 27. 9. Isa. 1. 15. Jer. 11. 11. & 14. 12. Mic. 3. 4.
y Because they sought not with an affection to God, but for ease of their own grief.
z Shewing, That without faith and obedience we cannot call upon God aright.
a They shall feel what commodity their wicked life shall give them.
‡ Or, ease of the simple.

CHAP. II.

1 Wisdom promiseth godliness to her children, 10 and safety from evil company, 20 and direction in good ways.

MY son, if thou wilt receive my words, and [a] hide my commandments with thee;

2 So that thou incline thine ear unto wisdom, and apply thine [b] heart to understanding:

3 Yea, if thou criest after knowledge, and †[c] liftest up thy voice for understanding:

a That is, Keep them as a treasure in thine heart.
b If thou give thy self to the true knowledge of God without hypocrisy.
c Meaning, That we must seek the knowledge of God with care and diligence.

4 *If thou seekest her as silver, and [d] searchest for her, as for hid treasures:

5 Then shalt thou understand the fear of the LORD, and find the [e] knowledge of God.

6 *For the LORD giveth wisdom: out of his mouth cometh knowledge and understanding.

7 He layeth up sound wisdom for the righteous: he is a buckler to them that walk uprightly.

8 He keepeth the paths of judgment, and preserveth the way of his saints.

9 Then shalt thou understand righteousness, and judgment, and equity; yea, every good path.

10 ¶ When wisdom entreth into thine heart, and knowledge is pleasant unto thy soul;

11 [f] Discretion shall preserve thee, understanding shall keep thee:

12 To deliver thee from the way of the evil man, from the man that speaketh froward things.

13 Who leave the [g] paths of uprightness, to walk in the ways of darkness:

14 Who rejoyce to do evil, and delight in the [h] frowardness of the wicked.

15 Whose ways are crooked, and they froward in their paths.

16 To deliver thee from the [i] strange woman, even from the stranger which flattereth with her words:

17 Which forsaketh the [k] guide of her youth, and forgetteth the [l] covenant of her God.

18 For her [m] house inclineth unto death, and her paths unto the [n] dead.

19 None that go unto her, return again, neither take they hold of the paths of life.

20 That thou mayest walk in the way of good men, and keep the paths of the righteous.

21 *For the upright shall dwell in the [o] land, and the perfect shall remain in it.

22 *But the wicked shall be cut off from the earth, and the transgressours shall be ‡ rooted out of it.

d A Metaphor from miners, who with great diligence bring treasures out of the earth.
e This, saith he, is the true wisdom to know and fear God.
* 1 King. 3. 9. Jam. 1. 5.
f The word of God shall teach thee and counsel thee how to govern thy self.
g That is, The word of God, which is the only light, to follow their own fantasies, which are darkness h When they see any given to evil as they are.
i Meaning, That wisdom which is the word of God, shall preserve us from all vices: naming this vice of whordom, whereunto man is most prone.
* Chap. 5. 3. & 7. 5.
k That is, Her husband, which is her head & guide to govern her, from whom she ought not to depart, but remain in his subjection.

o They shall enjoy the temporal and spiritual promises of God, as the wicked shall be void of them. * Job. 18. 17. Psal. 104. 35. ‡ Or, plucke up.

CHAP. III.

1 An exhortation to obedience, 5 to faith, 7 to mortification, 9 to devotion, 11 to patience. 13 The happy gain of wisdom, 19 The power, 22 and the benefits of wisdom. 27 An exhortation to charitableness, 39 peaceableness, 31 and contentedness. 33 The cursed state of the wicked.

MY son, forget not my Law; * but let thine heart keep my commandments:

2 For [a] length of days, and † long life, and peace shall they add to thee.

3 Let not [b] mercy and truth forsake thee: * bind them about thy [c] neck, write them upon the table of thine [d] heart.

4 *So shalt thou find favour, and ‡ good understanding in the sight of God and man.

5 ¶ Trust in the LORD with all thine heart, and lean not unto thine own understanding.

6 *In all thy ways acknowledge him, and he shall direct thy paths.

* Deut. 8. 1. & 30. 16.
a Long life is the blessing of God, which he giveth to his, so far forth as it is expedient for them.
† Heb. years of life.
b By mercy and truth he meaneth, the commandments of the first and second table: or else, the mercy and faithfulness that we ought to use toward our neighbours.
* Exod. 13. 9. Deut. 6. 8.
c Keep them as a most precious jewel.
d Have them ever in remembrance. * Psal. 111. 10. ‡ Or, good success. * 1 Chron. 28. 9.

7 ¶ * Be not wise in thine own eyes: fear the LORD, and depart from evil.

8 It shall be † health to thy [e] navel, and † marrow to thy bones.

9 *[f] Honour the LORD with thy substance, and with the first-fruits of all thine increase.

10 *So shall thy barns be filled with plenty, and thy presses shall [g] burst out with new wine.

11 ¶ * My son, despise not the chastning of the LORD: neither be weary of his correction.

12 For whom the LORD loveth, he correcteth, even as a father the son, in whom he delighteth.

13 ¶ Happy is the man that findeth wisdom, and † the man that getteth understanding.

14 * For the merchandise of it is better then the merchandise of silver, and the gain thereof then fine gold.

15 She is more precious then rubies: and all the things thou canst desire, are not to be compared unto her.

16 Length of days is in her right hand: and in her [h] left hand riches and honour.

17 Her ways are ways of pleasantness, and all her paths are peace.

18 She is a tree of [i] life to them that lay hold upon her; and happy is every one that retaineth her.

19 The LORD by wisdom hath [k] founded the earth; by understanding hath he ‡ established the heavens.

20 By his knowledge the depths are broken up, and the clouds drop down the dew.

21 ¶ My son, let not them depart from thine eyes: keep sound wisdom and discretion.

22 So shall they be life unto thy soul, and grace to thy neck.

23 *Then shalt thou walk in thy way safely, and thy foot shall not stumble.

24 When thou liest down, thou shalt not be afraid: yea, thou shalt lie down, and thy sleep shall be sweet.

25 Be not afraid of sudden fear, neither of the [l] desolation of the wicked, when it cometh.

26 For the LORD shall be thy confidence, and shall keep thy foot from being taken.

27 ¶ Withhold not good from † them to whom it is [m] due, when it is in the power of thine hand to do it.

28 Say not unto thy neighbour, GO, and come again, and to morrow I will give; when thou hast it by thee.

29 ‡ Devise not evil against thy neighbour, seeing he [n] dwelleth securely by thee.

30 ¶ Strive not with a man without cause, if he have done thee no harm.

31 ¶ [o] Envy thou not † the oppressour, and choose none of his ways.

32 For the froward is abomination to the LORD: *but his [p] secret is with the righteous.

33 ¶ * The curse of the LORD is in the house of the wicked: but he blesseth the habitation of the just.

34 ¶ *Surely he scorneth the [q] scorners: but he giveth grace unto the lowly.

35 The wise shall inherit glory, but shame † shall be the promotion of fools.

CHAP. IV.

1 Solomon, to persuade obedience, 3 sheweth what instruction he had of his parents. 5 To study wisdom, 14 and to shun the path of the wicked. 20 He exhorteth to faith, 23 and sanctification.

HEar, ye children, the instruction of a [a] father, and attend to know understanding.

2 For I give you good doctrine, forsake you not my Law.

3 For I was my father's son, * tender and [b] onely beloved in the sight of my mother.

4 *[c] He taught me also, and said unto me, Let thine heart retain my words: keep my commandments and live.

5 Get wisdom, get understanding: forget it not, neither decline from the words of my mouth.

6 Forsake her not, and she shall preserve thee: love her, and she shall keep thee.

7 [d] Wisdom is the principal thing, therefore get wisdom: and with all thy getting get understanding.

8 Exalt her, and she shall promote thee: she shall bring thee to honour, when thou dost embrace her.

9 She shall give to thine head * an ornament of grace: ‡ a crown of glory shall she deliver to thee.

10 Hear, O my son, and receive my sayings: and the years of thy life shall be many.

11 I have * taught thee in the way of wisdom: I have led thee in right paths.

12 When thou goest, thy steps shall not be [f] straitned, * and when thou runnest, thou shalt not stumble.

13 Take fast hold of instruction, let her not go; keep her, for she is thy life.

14 ¶ *Enter not into the path of the wicked, and go not in the way of evil men.

15 Avoid it, pass not by it, turn from it, and pass away.

16 For they [g] sleep not except they have done mischief: and their sleep is taken away unless they cause some to fall.

17 For they eat the [h] bread of wickedness, and drink the wine of violence.

18 But the path of the just is as the [i] shinnig light, that shineth more and more unto the perfect day.

19 The way of the wicked is as darkness: they know not at what they stumble.

20 ¶ My son, attend to my words, incline thine ear unto my sayings.

21 Let them not depart from thine eyes: keep them in the midst of thine heart.

22 For they are life unto those that find them, and † health to all their [k] flesh.

23 ¶ Keep thy heart † with all diligence: for out of it are the issues of [l] life.

9 * How long wilt thou ſleep, O ſluggard? when wilt thou ariſe out of thy ſleep?

* Chap. 24. 33.

10 Yet a little ſleep, a little ſlumber, [c] a little folding of the hands to ſleep.

c He expreſſeth lively the nature of the ſluggards, which though they ſleep never ſo long, yet have never enough, but ever ſeek occaſions thereunto.

11 * So ſhall thy poverty come as one that [d] travelleth, and thy want as an [e] armed man.

* Chap. 13. 4. & 20. 4. d That is, Suddenly, and when thou lookeſt not for it.
e It ſhall come in ſuch ſort as thou art not able to reſiſt it.

12 ¶ A naughty perſon, [f] a wicked man walketh with a froward mouth.

f He ſheweth to what incohvenience the idle perſons and ſluggards come, by calling them wicked, or the men of Belial; and ſlanderous.

13 He winketh with his eyes, he ſpeaketh with his feet, he teacheth with his [g] fingers.

g Thus all his geſture tendeth to wickedneſs.

14 Frowardneſs is in his heart, he deviſeth miſchief continually, he † ſoweth diſcord.

15 Therefore ſhall his calamity come ſuddenly; ſuddenly ſhall he be broken without remedy.

16 ¶ Theſe ſix things doth the LORD hate; yea, ſeven are an abomination † unto him:

† Heb. haughty eyes.

17 † A proud look, a lying tongue, and hands that ſhed innocent bloud,

* Rom. 3. 15.

18 An heart that deviſeth wicked imaginations, * [h] feet that be ſwift in running to miſchief, h Meaning, the raging affections; which carry a man away in ſuch ſort, that he cannot tell what he doth.

19 A falſe witneſs that ſpeaketh lies, and him that ſoweth diſcord among brethren.

20 ¶ * My ſon, keep thy father's commandment, and forſake not the law of thy mother.

* Chap. 1. 8.

21 Bind them continually upon thine [i] heart, and ty them about thy neck, i Chap. 3. 3.

22 When thou goeſt, it ſhall lead thee; when thou ſleepeſt, it ſhall keep thee; and when thou awakeſt, it ſhall talk with thee.

* Pſal. 19. 8. & 119. 105.

23 * For the [k] commandment is a ‡ lamp; and the Law is light; and [l] reproofs of inſtruction are the way of life:

k By the commandment, he meaneth the word of God, and by the inſtruction, the preaching and declaration of the ſame, which is committed to the Church. ‡ Or, candle. l And reprehenſions, when the word is preached, bring us to life.

24 *To keep thee from the evil woman, from the flattery ‡ of the tongue of a strange woman.

25 * Lust not after her beauty in thine heart; neither let her take thee with her [m] eye-lids.

26 For by means of a whorish woman a man is brought to a piece of bread: and † the adulteress will hunt for the precious life.

27 [n] Can a man take fire in his bosom, and his clothes not be burnt?

28 Can one go upon hot coals, and his feet not be burnt?

29 So he that goeth in to his neighbour's wife: whosoever toucheth her, shall not be innocent.

30 Men do not [o] despise a thief, if he steal to [p] satisfy his soul when he is hungry:

31 But if he be found, he shall restore seven-fold, he shall give all the substance of his house.

32 But whoso committeth adultery with a woman, lacketh † understanding: he that doth it, destroyeth his own soul.

33 A [q] wound and dishonour shall he get, and his reproach shall not be wiped away.

34 For jealousy is the rage of a man: therefore he will [r] not spare in the day of vengeance.

35 † He will not regard any ransom; neither will he rest content, though thou givest many gifts.

o He approveth not theft, but sheweth that it is not so abominable as whoredom; forasmuch as theft might be redeemed: but adultery was a perpetual infamy, and death by the Law of God.
p Meaning, For very necessity.
† Heb. heart.
q That is, Death appointed by the Law.
r He sheweth, that man by nature seeketh his death, that hath abused his wife, and so concludeth, that neither Gods Law, nor the Law of nature admitteth any ransom for the adultery. † Heb. he will not accept the face of any ransom.

Chap. VII.

1 Solomon perswadeth to a sincere and kind familiarity with wisdom. 6 In an example of his own experience, he sheweth 10 the cunning of an whore, 22 and the desperate simplicity of a young wanton. 24 He dehorteth from such wickedness.

MY son, keep my words, and lay up my commandments with thee.

2 Keep my commandments, and live: and my Law as the [a] apple of thine eye.

3 * Bind them upon thy fingers, write them upon the table of thine heart.

4 Say unto wisdom, Thou art my sister; and call understanding thy kinswoman:

5 * That they may keep thee from the strange woman, from the stranger which flattereth with her words.

6 ¶ For at the [b] window of my house I looked through my casement,

7 And beheld among the simple ones, I discerned among the † youths, a young man void of understanding,

8 Passing through the street near her corner, and he went the way to her house,

9 In the twilight † in the evening, in the [c] black and dark night:

10 And behold, there met him a woman with the attire of an harlot, and subtil of heart.

11 (* She is [d] loud and stubborn, her feet abide not in her house.

12 Now is she without, now in the streets, and lieth in wait at every corner)

a By this diversity of words, he meaneth, That nothing ought to be so dear unto us, as the word of God, nor that we look on any thing more, nor mind any thing so much.
* Deut. 6. 8. & 11. 18. Chap. 3. 3.
* Chap. 5. 3.
b Solomon useth this parable, to declare their folly, that suffer themselves to be abused by harlots.
† Heb. the sons.
† Heb. in the evening of the day.
c He sheweth, that there was almost none so impudent, but they were afraid to be seen, and also their own consciences did accuse them, which caused them to seek the night to cover their filthiness.
* Chap. 9. 13.
d He describeth certain conditions which are peculiar to harlots.

13 So she caught him and kissed him, and † with an impudent face said unto him

14 † I have [e] peace-offerings with me; [f] this day have I payed my vows.

15 Therefore came I forth to meet thee, diligently to seek thy face, and I have found thee.

16 I have deckt my bed with coverings of tapestry, with carved works, with fine linen of Egypt.

17 I have perfumed my bed with myrrh, aloes, and cinnamon.

18 Come, let us take our fill of love until the morning, let us solace our selves with loves.

19 For the good-man is not at home, he is gone a long journy;

20 He hath taken a bag of mony † with him, and will come home at ‡ the day appointed.

21 With her much fair speech she caused him to yeild, with the flattering of her lips she forced him.

22 He goeth after her † straightway, as an [g] ox goeth to the slaughter, or as a [h] fool to the correction of the stocks:

23 Till a dart strike through his liver, as a bird hasteth to the snare, and knoweth not that it is for his life.

24 ¶ Hearken unto me now therefore, O ye children, and attend to the words of my mouth.

25 Let not thine heart decline to her ways, go not astray in her paths.

26 For she hath cast down many wounded: yea, many [i] strong men have been slain by her.

27 * Her house is the way to hell, going down to the chambers of death.

† Heb. She strengthened her face, and said.
† Heb. peace-offerings are upon me.
e Because that in peace-offerings, a portion returned to them that offered, she sheweth him that she hath meat at home to make good cheer with: or else some cloke of holiness, till she had gotten him in her snares.
f Which declareth, that harlots outwardly will seem holy and religious: both because they may the better deceive others, and also thinking by observing of ceremonies and offerings, to make satisfaction for their sins.
‡ Or, the new Moon.
† Heb. suddenly.
g Which thinking he goeth to the pasture, goeth willingly to his own destruction.
h Which goeth cheerfully, not knowing that he shall be chastised.
i Neither wit nor strength can deliver them that fall into the hands of the harlot.

1 The fame, 6 and evidence of wisdom. 10 The excellency, 12 the nature, 15 the power, 18 the riches, 22 and the eternity of wisdom. 32 Wisdom is to be desired for the blessedness it bringeth.

DOth not * [a] wisdom cry? and understanding put forth her voice?

2 She standeth in the top of high places, by the way in the places of the paths.

3 She crieth at the [b] gates, at the entry of the city, at the coming in at the doors.

4 Unto you, O men, I call, and my voice is to the sons of man.

5 O ye simple, understand wisdom; and ye fools, be ye of an understanding heart.

6 Hear, for I will speak of excellent things; and the opening of my lips shall be right things.

7 For my mouth shall speak truth, and wickedness is † an abomination to my lips.

8 All the words of my mouth are in righteousness, there is nothing † froward or perverse in them.

9 They are all [c] plain to him that understandeth, and right to them that find knowledge.

10 Receive my instruction, and not silver; and knowledge rather then choice gold.

11 * For wisdom is better then rubies; and all all the things that may be desired, are not to be compared to it.

12 I wisdom dwell with ‡ [d] prudence, and find out knowledge of witty inventions.

13 The fear of the LORD is to hate [e] evil; pride and arrogancy, and the evil way, and the froward mouth do I hate.

14 Counsel is mine, and sound wisdom: I am understanding, I have strength.

15 By me Kings reign, and Princes decree justice.

16 By [f] me Princes rule, and Nobles, even all the Judges of the earth.

17 I love them that love me, and those that seek me [g] early shall find me.

18 *Riches and honour are with me; yea [h] durable riches and righteousness.

19 *My fruit is better then gold, yea, then fine gold; and my revenue then choice silver.

20 I ‡ lead in the way of righteousness, in the midst of the paths of [i] judgment:

21 That I may cause those that love me, to inherit substance; and I will fill their treasures.

22 The LORD possessed me in the beginning of his way, [k] before his works of old.

23 I was set up from everlasting, from the beginning, or ever the earth was.

24 When there were no depths, I was brought forth: when there were no fountains abounding with water.

25 Before the mountains were settled, before the hills was I brought forth:

26 While as yet he had not made the earth, nor the ‡ fields, nor ‡ the highest part of the dust of the world.

27 When he prepared the heavens, I was [l] there: when he set ‡ a compass upon the face of the depth:

28 When he established the clouds above: when he strengthned the fountains of the deep:

29 *When he gave to the sea his decree, that the waters should not pass his commandment: when he appointed the foundations of the earth:

30 Then I was by him, as one [m] brought up with him: and I was daily his delight, rejoycing always before him:

31 [n] Rejoycing in the habitable part of his [o] earth, and my delights were with the sons of men.

32 Now therefore hearken unto me, O ye children: for *blessed are they that keep my ways.

33 Hear instruction, and be wise, and refuse it not.

34 Blessed is the man that heareth me, watching daily at my gates, waiting at the posts of my doors.

35 For whoso findeth me, findeth life, and shall † obtain favour of the LORD.

36 But he that sinneth against me, wrongeth his own soul; all they that hate me, love death.

d That is, Except a man have wisdom, which is the true knowledge of God, he can neither be prudent, nor a good counseller.
e So that he that doth not hate evil, feareth not God.

o By earth, he meaneth, Man which is the work of God, in whom wisdom took pleasure: in so much, as for man's sake, the divine wisdom took man's nature, and dwelt among us, and filled us with unspeakable treasures, and this is that solace and pastime whereof is here spoken.

1 The discipline, 4 and doctrine of wisdom. 13 The customs, 16 and errour of folly.

WIsdom hath builded her [a] house, she hath hewen out her [b] seven pillars.

2 She hath killed † her beasts, she hath mingled her wine; she hath also [c] furnished her table.

3 She hath sent forth her [d] maidens, [e] she crieth upon the highest places of the city.

5 Come, eat of my [f] bread, and drink of the wine which I have mingled.

6 Forsake the foolish, and live; and go in the way of understanding.

7 He that reproveth a scorner, getteth to himself shame: and he that rebuketh a wicked man, getteth himself [g] a blot.

8 *Reprove not a [h] scorner, lest he hate thee: rebuke a wise man, and he will love thee.

9 Give instruction to a wise man, and he will be yet wiser: teach a just man, and he will increase in learning.

10 *The fear of the LORD is the beginning of wisdom: and the knowledge of the holy is [i] understanding.

14 Wiſe men lay up knowledge: but the mouth of the fooliſh is near deſtruction.

15 * The rich man's wealth is his [h] ſtrong city: the deſtruction of the poor is their poverty.

16 The labour of the righteous tendeth to life; the fruit of the wicked to ſin.

17 He is in the way of life that keepeth inſtruction: but he that refuſeth reproof, ‡ erreth.

18 He that hideth hatred with lying lips and he that uttereth a ſlander, is a fool.

19 In the multitude of words there wanteth not ſin: but he that refraineth his lips, is wiſe.

20 The tongue of the juſt is as choice ſilver: the heart of the wicked is little worth.

21 The lips of the righteous [i] feed many: but fools die for want † of wiſdom.

22 The bleſſing of the LORD, it maketh rich, and he addeth no [k] ſorrow with it.

23 * It is a ſport to a fool to do miſchief: but a man of underſtanding hath wiſdom.

24 The fear of the wicked, it ſhall come upon him: but the deſire of the righteous ſhall be granted.

8 * The righteous is delivered out of trouble, and the wicked cometh in his [c] ſtead.

9 An * [d] hypocrite with his mouth deſtroyeth his neighbour: but through knowledge ſhall the juſt be delivered.

10 When it goeth well with the righteous, the city [e] rejoyceth: and when the wicked periſh, there is ſhouting.

11 By the bleſſing of the upright the city is exalted: but it is overthrown by the mouth of the wicked.

12 He that is † void of wiſdom, deſpiſeth his neighbour: but a man of underſtanding [f] holdeth his peace.

25 *† The liberal soul shall be made fat: & he that watereth, shall be watered also himself.

26 He that withholdeth corn, the people shall curse him: but blessing shall be upon the head of him that [p] selleth it.

27 He that diligently seeketh good, procureth favour: * but he that seeketh mischief, it shall come unto him.

28 He that trusteth in his riches, shall fall: but * the righteous shall flourish as a branch.

29 He that troubleth his own [q] house, shall inherit the wind: and the fool shall be [r] servant to the wise of heart.

30 The fruit of the righteous is a tree of life; and he that †[s] winneth souls, is wise.

31 Behold, the righteous shall be [t] recompensed in the earth: much more the wicked and the sinner.

CHAP. XII.

WHoso loveth instruction, loveth knowledge: but he that hateth reproof, is brutish.

2 A good man obtaineth favour of the LORD: but a man of wicked devices will he condemn.

3 A man shall not be established by wickedness: but the *[a] root of the righteous shall not be moved.

4 *A virtuous woman is a crown to her husband: but she that maketh ashamed, is as rottenness in his bones.

5 The thoughts of the righteous are right: but the counsels of the wicked are deceit.

6 *The words of the wicked are to lie in wait for bloud: but the mouth of the upright shall [b] deliver them.

7 *The wicked are overthrown, and are not: but the house of the righteous shall stand.

8 A man shall be commended according to his wisdom: but he that is † of a perverse heart shall be despised.

9 He that is [c] despised and hath a servant, is better then he that honoureth himself, and lacketh bread.

10 A righteous man [d] regardeth the life of his beast: but the ‡ tender mercies of the wicked are cruel.

11 *He that tilleth his land, shall be satisfied with bread: but he that followeth vain persons, is void of understanding.

12 The wicked desireth ‡ the [e] net of evil men: but the [f] root of the righteous yeildeth fruit.

13 †*The wicked is snared by the transgression of his lips: but the just shall come out of trouble.

14 *A man shall be satisfied with good by the fruit of his mouth, and the recompense of a man's hands shall be rendred unto him.

15 * The way of a fool is [g] right in his own eyes: but he that hearkneth unto counsel is wise.

16 A fool's wrath is † presently known: but a prudent man [h] covereth shame.

17 * He that speaketh truth, sheweth forth righteousness; but a false witness, deceit.

18 *There is that speaketh like the piercings of a [i] sword: but the tongue of the wise is health.

19 The lip of truth shall be established for ever: but a lying tongue is but for a moment.

20 Deceit is in the heart of them that imagine evil: but to the counsellers of peace, is joy.

21 There shall no evill happen to the just: but the wicked shall be filled with mischief.

22 Lying lips are abomination to the LORD: but they that deal truly are his delight.

23 *A prudent man concealeth knowledge: but the heart of fools proclaimeth foolishness.

24 *The hand of the diligent shall bear rule: but the ‡ slothful shall be under tribute.

25 *Heaviness in the heart of man maketh it stoop: but [k] a good word maketh it glad.

26 The righteous is more ‡ [l] excellent then his neighbour: but the way of the wicked seduceth them.

27 The slothful man rosteth not that which he [m] took in hunting: but the substance of a diligent man is precious.

28 In the way of righteousness is life, and in the path-way thereof there is no death.

CHAP. XIII.

A Wise son heareth his father's instruction: but a scorner heareth not rebuke.

2 *A man shall eat good by the [a] fruit of his mouth: but the soul of the transgressours shall eat violence.

3 He that keepeth his mouth, keepeth his life: but he that openeth wide his lips, shall have destruction.

4 The soul of the sluggard [b] desireth, and hath nothing: but the soul of the diligent shall be made fat.

5 A righteous man hateth lying: but a wicked man is lothsom, and cometh to shame.

6 * Righteousness keepeth him that is upright in the way: but wickedness overthroweth † the sinner.

7 There is that maketh himself rich, yet hath nothing: there is that maketh himself poor, yet hath great riches.

8 The ransom of a man's life are his riches: but the poor heareth not [c] rebuke.

9 The light of the righteous rejoyceth: * but the ‡ lamp of the wicked shall be put out.

10 Onely by [d] pride cometh contention: but with the well-advised is wisdom.

11 *Wealth gotten by [e] vanity, shall be diminished: but he that gathereth † [f] by labour, shall increase.

12 Hope deferred maketh the heart sick: but when the desire cometh, it is a tree of life.

14 * The Law of the wiſe is a fountain of life, to depart from the ſnares of death.

15 Good underſtanding giveth favour: but the way of trangreſſours is hard.

16 * Every prudent man dealeth with knowledge: but a fool † layeth open his folly.

17 A wicked meſſenger [h] falleth into miſchief: but a faithful ambaſſadour is health.

18 Poverty and ſhame ſhall be to him that refuſeth inſtruction: but he that regardeth reproof, ſhall be honoured.

19 The deſire accompliſhed is ſweet to the ſoul: but it is abomination to fools to depart from evil.

20 He that walketh with wiſe men, ſhall be wiſe: but a companion of fools † ſhall be [i] deſtroyed.

21 Evil purſueth ſinners: but to the righteous, good ſhall be repayed.

22 A good man leaveth an inheritance to his childrens children: and the * wealth of the [k] ſinner is laid up for the juſt.

23 * Much food is in the tillage of the [l] poor: but there is that is deſtroyed for want of judgment.

24 * He that ſpareth his rod, hateth his ſon: but he that loveth him chaſteneth him betimes.

25 * The righteous eateth to the ſatisfying of his ſoul: but the belly of the wicked ſhall want.

CHAP. XIV.

EVery wiſe woman [a] buildeth her houſe: but the fooliſh plucketh it down with her hands.

2 He that walketh in his [b] uprightneſs, feareth the LORD: * but he that is perverſe in his ways, deſpiſeth him.

3 In the mouth of the fooliſh is a [c] rod of pride: but the lips of the wiſe ſhall preſerve them.

4 Where no [d] oxen are, the crib is clean: but much increaſe is by the ſtrength of the ox.

5 * A faithful witneſs will not lie: but a falſe witneſs will utter lies.

6 A ſcorner [e] ſeeketh wiſdom, and findeth it not: but * knowledge is eaſy unto him that underſtandeth.

7 Go from the preſence of a fooliſh man, when thou perceiveſt not in him the lips of knowledge.

8 The wiſdom of the prudent is to underſtand his way: but the folly of fools is deceit.

9 * Fools make a [f] mock at ſin: but among the righteous there is favour.

10 The heart knoweth † his own [g] bitterneſs, and a ſtranger doth not intermedle with his joy.

11 The houſe of the wicked ſhall be overthrown: but the tabernacle of the upright ſhall flouriſh.

12 * There is a way which ſeemeth right unto a man; but the end thereof are the ways of death.

13 Even in laughter the heart is ſorrowful: and the [h] end of that mirth is heavineſs.

14 The [i] backſlider in heart ſhall be * filled with his own ways: and a good man ſhall be ſatisfied from himſelf.

15 The ſimple believeth every word: but the prudent man looketh well to his going.

16 A wiſe man feareth, and departeth from evil: but the fool rageth and is confident.

17 He that is ſoon angry dealeth fooliſhly: and a man of wicked devices is hated.

18 The ſimple inherit folly: but the prudent are crowned with knowledge.

19 The evil bowe before the good: and the wicked at the [k] gates of the righteous.

20 * The poor is hated even of his own neighbour: but † the rich hath many friends.

21 He that deſpiſeth his neighbour, ſinneth: * but he that hath mercy on the poor, happy is he.

22 Do they not err that deviſe evil? but mercy and truth ſhall be to them that deviſe good.

23 In all labour there is profit: but the talk of the lips tendeth onely to penury.

24 The crown of the wiſe is their riches: but the fooliſhneſs of fools is folly.

25 * A true witneſs delivereth ſouls, but a deceitful witneſs ſpeaketh lies.

26 In the fear of the LORD is ſtrong confidence: and his children ſhall have a place of refuge.

27 * The fear of the LORD is a fountain of life, to depart from the ſnares of death.

28 In the multitude of [l] people is the King's honour: but in the want of people is the deſtruction of the Prince.

29 He that is ſlow to wrath is of great underſtanding: but he that is † haſty of ſpirit exalteth folly.

30 A ſound heart is the life of the fleſh: but envy the rottenneſs of the bones.

31 * He that oppreſſeth the poor, reproacheth his maker: but he that honoureth him, hath mercy on the poor.

32 The wicked is driven away in his wickedneſs: but the righteous hath hope in his death.

33 Wiſdom reſteth in the heart of him that hath underſtanding: but that which is in the [m] midſt of fools is made known.

34 Righteouſneſs exalteth a nation: but ſin is a reproach † to any people.

25 * There is a way that seemeth right unto a man: but the end thereof are the ways of death.

26 † He that laboureth, laboureth for himself; for his mouth † craveth it of him.

27 † An ungodly man diggeth up evil: and in his lips there is as [m] a burning fire.

28 * A froward man † soweth strife, and a whisperer separateth chief friends.

29 A violent man enticeth his neighbour, and leadeth him into the way that is not good.

30 [n] He shutteth his eyes to devise froward things: moving his lips he bringeth evil to pass.

31 The hoary head is a crown of glory, if it be found in the way of [o] righteousness.

32 He that is slow to anger, is better then the mighty: and he that ruleth his spirit, then he that taketh a city.

33 The lot is cast into the lap: but the whole disposing thereof is [p] of the LORD.

CHAP. XVII.

BEtter is * a dry morsel, and quietness therewith, then a house full of ‡ [a] sacrifices with strife.

2 A wise servant shall have rule over a son that causeth shame: and shall have part of the [b] inheritance among the brethren.

3 * The fining-pot is for silver, & the fornace for gold: but the LORD trieth the hearts.

4 A wicked doer giveth heed to false lips: and a liar giveth ear to a naughty tongue.

5 * Whoso mocketh the poor, reproacheth his maker: and he that is glad at calamities, shall not be † unpunished.

6 * Childrens children are the crown of old men; and the glory of children are their fathers.

7 † Excellent speech becometh not a fool: much less do † lying lips a Prince.

8 * A gift is as † a precious stone in the eyes of him that hath it: [c] whithersoever it turneth, it prospereth.

9 * He that covereth a transgression, ‡ seeketh love; but he that repeateth a matter, separateth very [d] friends.

10 ‡ A reproof entreth more into a wise man, then an hundred stripes into a fool.

11 An evil man seeketh onely rebellion: therefore a [e] cruel messenger shall be sent against him.

12 Let a bear robbed of her whelps meet a man, rather then [f] a fool in his folly.

13 Whoso * rewardeth evil for good, evil shall not depart from his house.

14 The beginning of strife is as when one letteth out water: therefore leave off contention, before it be medled with.

15 * He that justifieth the wicked, and he that condemneth the just, even they both are abomination to the LORD.

16 Wherefore is there a [g] price in the hand of a fool to get wisdom, seeing he hath no heart to it?

17 * A friend loveth at all times, and [h] a brother is born for adversity.

18 A man void of † understanding [i] striketh hands, and becometh surety in the presence of his friend.

19 He loveth transgression, that loveth strife: and he that [k] exalteth his gate, seeketh destruction.

20 † He that hath a froward heart, findeth no good: and he that hath a perverse tongue, falleth into mischief.

21 * He that begetteth a fool, doth it to his sorrow: and the father of a fool hath no joy.

22 * A merry heart doth good ‡ like a medicine: but a broken spirit drieth the bones.

23 A wicked man taketh a gift out of the [l] bosom to pervert the ways of judgment.

24 * Wisdom is before him that hath understanding; but the eyes of a fool are in the [m] ends of the earth.

25 * A foolish son is a grief to his father, and bitterness to her that bare him.

26 Also to punish the just is not good, nor to strike Princes [n] for equity.

27 * He that hath knowledge spareth his words: and a man of understanding is of ‡ an excellent spirit.

28 * Even a fool, when he holdeth his peace, is counted wise: and he that shutteth his lips, is esteemed a man of understanding.

CHAP. XVIII.

‡ THrough desire a man having [a] separated himself, seeketh and intermedleth with all wisdom.

2 A fool hath no delight in understanding, but that his heart may [b] discover it self.

3 When the wicked cometh, then cometh also [c] contempt, and with ignominy reproach.

4 * The words of a mans mouth are as deep [d] waters, and the well-spring of wisdom as a flowing brook.

5 * It is not good to [e] accept the person of the wicked, to overthrow the righteous in judgment.

6 A fool's lips enter into contention, and his mouth calleth for strokes.

7 * A fool's mouth is his destruction, and his lips are the snare of his soul.

8 * The words of a ‡ tale bearer are ‡ as wounds, and they go down into the † [f] innermost parts of the belly.

27 * The ſacrifice of the wicked is abomination: how much more, when he bringeth it † with a wicked mind?

28 *† A falſe witneſs ſhall periſh: but the man that heareth, [m] ſpeaketh conſtantly.

29 A wicked man hardneth his face: but as for the upright, he ‡ directeth his way.

30 * There is no wiſdom nor underſtanding, nor counſel againſt the LORD.

31 * The horſe is prepared againſt the day of battel: but * ‡ ſafety is of the LORD.

CHAP. XXII.

A * Good name is rather to be choſen then great riches, and ‡ [a] loving favour rather then ſilver and gold.

2 * The rich and poor [b] meet together: the LORD is the maker of them all.

3 * A prudent man fore-ſeeth the [c] evil, and hideth himſelf: but the ſimple paſs on and are puniſhed.

4 * ‡ By humility and the fear of the LORD, are riches, and honour, and life.

5 Thorns and ſnares are in the way of the froward: he that doth keep his ſoul ſhall be far from them.

6 ‡ [d] Train up a child † in the way he ſhould go: and when he is old, he will not depart from it.

7 The rich ruleth over the poor, and the borrower is ſervant † to the lender.

8 * He that ſoweth iniquity, ſhall reap vanity: ‡ and the [e] rod of his anger ſhall fail.

9 * † He that hath [f] a bountiful eye ſhall be bleſſed: for he giveth of his bread to the poor.

10 * Caſt out the ſcorner, and contention ſhall go out; yea, ſtrife and reproach ſhall ceaſe.

11 He that loveth pureneſs of heart, ‡ for the grace of his lips, the [g] King ſhall be his friend.

12 The eyes of the LORD [h] preſerve knowledge, and he overthroweth ‡ the words of the tranſgreſſour.

13 * The ſlothful man ſaith, There is [i] a lion without, I ſhall be ſlain in the ſtreets.

14 * The mouth of ſtrange women is a deep pit: he that is abhorred of the LORD, [k] ſhall fall therein.

15 Fooliſhneſs is bound in the [l] heart of a child, but * the rod of correction ſhall drive it far from him.

16 He that oppreſſeth the poor to increaſe his riches, and he that giveth to the rich ſhall ſurely come to want.

17 Bowe down thine ear, and hear the words of the wiſe, and apply thine heart unto my knowledge.

18 For it is a pleaſant thing if thou keep them † within thee; they ſhall withal be fitted in thy lips.

19 That thy truſt may be in the [m] LORD, I have made known to thee this day, ‡ even to thee.

20 Have not I written to thee excellent things in counſels and knowledge?

21 That I might make thee know the certainty of the words of truth; that thou might-eſt [n] anſwer the words of truth ‡ to them that ſend unto thee?

22 Rob not the poor, becauſe he is poor: * neither oppreſs the afflicted in the gate.

23 * For the LORD will plead their cauſe, and ſpoil the ſoul of thoſe that ſpoiled them.

24 [o] Make no friendſhip with an angry man: and with a furious man thou ſhalt not go:

25 Leſt thou learn his ways, and get a ſnare to thy ſoul.

26 * Be not thou one of them that [p] ſtrike hands, or of them that are ſureties for debts.

27 If thou haſt nothing to pay, why ſhould he take away thy bed from under thee?

28 * Remove not the ancient ‡ land-mark, which thy fathers have ſet.

29 Seeſt thou a man diligent in his buſineſs? he ſhall ſtand before Kings, he ſhall not ſtand before † mean men.

CHAP. XXIII.

WHen thou ſitteſt to eat with a ruler, [a] conſider diligently what is before thee.

2 And put [b] a knife to thy throat, if thou be a man given to appetite.

3 Be not deſirous of his [c] dainties: for they are deceitful meat.

4 * Labour not to be rich: ceaſe from thine own [d] wiſdom.

5 † Wilt thou ſet thine eyes upon that which is not? for riches certainly make themſelves wings, they fly away as an eagle towards heaven.

6 Eat thou not the bread of him that hath an * evil eye, neither deſire thou his dainty meats.

7 For as he thinketh in his heart, ſo is he: Eat and drink, ſaith he to thee, but his heart is not with thee.

8 The morſel which thou haſt eaten, [f] ſhalt thou vomit up, and loſe thy ſweet words.

9 Speak not in the ears of a fool; for he will deſpiſe the wiſdom of thy words.

10 * Remove not the old ‡ land-mark; and enter not into the fields of the fatherleſs.

11 * For their redeemer is mighty; he ſhall plead their cauſe with thee.

12 Apply thine heart unto inſtruction, and thine ears to the words of knowledge.

13 * Withhold not correction from the child: for if thou beateſt him with the rod, he ſhall not die.

17 The eye that mocketh at his father, and despiseth to obey his mother, the ravens of ‡ the [i] valley shall pick it out, and the young eagles shall eat it.

18 There be three things which are too wonderful for me, yea, four which I know not:

19 The way of an eagle in the air, the way of a serpent upon a rock, the way of a ship in the † midst of the sea, and the way of a man with a maid.

20 Such is the way of an adulterous woman; she eateth, and [k] wipeth her mouth, and saith, I have done no wickedness.

21 For three things the earth is disquieted, and for four which it cannot bear:

22 * For [l] a servant when he reigneth, and a fool when he is filled with meat, 23 For an odious woman when she is married, and an hand-maid that is [m] heir to her mistress.

24 There be four things which are little upon the earth, but they are † [n] exceeding wise:

25 * The ants are a people not strong, yet they prepare their meat in the summer;

26 The conies are but a feeble folk, yet make they their houses in the rocks;

27 The locusts have no King, yet go they forth all of them † by bands;

28 The spider taketh hold with her ° hands, and is in Kings palaces.

29 There be three things which go well, yea, four are comely in going:

30 A lion which is strongest among beasts, and turneth not away for any,

31 A ‡ † grey-hound, an he goat also, and a King, against whom there is no rising up.

32 If thou hast done foolishly in lifting up thy self, or if thou hast thought evil, * [p] lay thine hand upon thy mouth.

¶ ECCLESIASTES, OR THE PREACHER.

THE ARGUMENT.

Solomon, as a Preacher, and one that deſired to inſtruct all in the way of ſalvation, deſcribeth the deceivable vanities of this world; that man ſhould not be addicted to any thing under the Sun, but rather inflamed with the deſire of the heavenly life: therefore he confuteth their opinions, which ſet their felicity either in knowledge, or in pleaſures, or in dignity and riches; ſhewing that man's true felicity conſiſteth in that, that he is united with God, and ſhall enjoy his preſence: ſo that all other things muſt be rejected, ſaving as much as they further us to attain to this heavenly treaſure, which is ſure and permanent, and cannot be found in any other, ſave in God alone.

CHAP. I.

1 The Preacher ſheweth that all humane courſes are vain; 4 becauſe the creatures are reſtleſs in their courſes; 9 they bring forth nothing new, and all old things are forgotten: 12 and becauſe he hath found it ſo in the ſtudies of wiſdom.

THE words of the [a] Preacher, the ſon of David, King of Jeruſalem.

a Solomon is here called a Preacher, or one that aſſembleth the people, becauſe he teacheth the true knowledge of God, and how men ought to paſs their life in this tranſitory world.

2 * [b] Vanity of vanities, ſaith the Preacher, vanity of vanities, all is vanity.

* Pſal. 39. 5, 6. & 62. 9. & 144. 4. Chap. 12. 8.

b He condemneth the opinions of all men that ſet felicity in any thing but in God alone, ſeeing that in this world all things are as vanity and nothing.

3 * What profit hath a man of all his [c] labour which he taketh under the Sun?

* Chap. 2. 22. & 3. 9.

c Solomon doth not condemn man's labour or diligence, but ſheweth that there is no full contentation in any thing under the heaven, nor in any creature, foraſmuch as all things are tranſitory.

4 One generation paſſeth away, and another generation cometh: * but the earth abideth [d] for ever.

* Pſal. 104. 5. & 119. 90.

d One man dieth after another, and the earth remaineth the laſt day, which yet is ſubject to corruption.

5 The Sun alſo ariſeth, and the Sun goeth down, and † haſteth to his place where he aroſe.

6 The [e] wind goeth toward the ſouth, and turneth about unto the north; it whirleth about continually, and the wind returneth again according to his circuits.

e By the Sun, wind and rivers, he ſheweth, that the greateſt labour and longeſt hath an end, and therefore there can be no felicity in this world.

7 * All the rivers run into the ſea, yet the ſea is not full: unto the place from whence the rivers come, [f] thither they † return again.

* Job 38. 10. Pſal. 104. 8, 9.

f The ſea which compaſſeth all the earth, filleth the veins thereof, the which pour out ſprings and rivers into the ſea again.

8 All things are full of labour, man cannot utter it: the eye is not ſatisfied with ſeeing, nor the ear filled with hearing.

9 * [g] The thing that hath been, it is that which ſhall be; and that which is done, is that which ſhall be done: and there is no new thing under the Sun.

* Chap. 3. 15.

g He ſpeaketh of times and ſeaſons and things done in them, which as they have been in times paſt, ſo come they to paſs again.

10 Is there any thing whereof it may be ſaid, said, See, this is new? it hath been already of old time, which was before us.

11 There is no remembrance of former things; neither shall there be any remembrance of things that are to come, with those that shall come after.

h He proveth that if any could have attained to felicity in this world by labour and study, he chiefly should have obtained it, because he had gifts and aids of God thereunto above all other.

12 ¶ [h] I the Preacher was King over Israel in Jerusalem.

‡ Or, to afflict them.

13 And I gave my heart to seek and search out by wisdom, concerning all things that are done under heaven: this sore travel hath God given to the sons of man, ‡ to be [i] exercised therewith.

i Man of nature hath a desire to know, and yet is not able to come to the perfection of knowledge, which is the punishment of sin, to humble man, and to teach him to depend onely upon God.

14 I have seen all the works that are done under the Sun, and behold, all is vanity and vexation of spirit.

* Chap. 7. 13.

15 * That which is [k] crooked cannot be made straight: and † that which is wanting, cannot be numbred.

k Man is not able by all his diligence to cause things to go otherwise then they do: neither can he number the faults that are committed, much less remedy them.

16 I communed with mine own heart, saying, Lo, I am come to great estate, and have gotten * more wisdom then all they that have been before me in Jerusalem: yea, my heart † had great experience of wisdom and knowledge.

* 1 King. 4. 10. & 10. 7, 23.

† Heb. had seen much.

17 * And I gave my heart to know wisdom, and to know [l] madness and folly: I perceived that this also is vexation of spirit.

* Chap. 2. 12. & 7. 25.

l That is, vain things which served unto pleasure wherein was no commodity, but grief and trouble of conscience.

18 For in much wisdom is much [m] grief: and he that increaseth knowledge, increaseth sorrow.

m Wisdom and knowledge cannot be come by without great pain of body and mind: For when a man hath attained to the highest, yet is his mind never fully content: therefore in this world is no true felicity.

CHAP. II.

1 The vanity of humane courses in the works of pleasure 12 Though the wise be better then the fool, yet both have one event. 18 The vanity of humane labour in leaving it they know not to whom. 24 Nothing better then joy in our labour; but that is God's gift.

I Said in mine heart, Go to now, I will prove [a] thee with mirth, therefore enjoy pleasure: and behold, this also is vanity.

a Solomon maketh the discourse with himself, as though we would try, whether there were contentation in ease and pleasures.

2 I said of laughter, It is mad: and of mirth, What doth it?

* Chap. 1. 17.

3 * I sought in mine heart † to give my self unto wine (yet acquainting mine heart with [b] wisdom) and to lay hold on folly, till I might see what was that good for the sons of men, which they should do under the heaven, † all the days of their life.

† Heb. to draw my flesh with wine.

b Albeit I gave my self to pleasures, yet I thought to keep wisdom, and the fear of God in mine heart, and govern mine affairs by the same.

† Heb. the number of the days of their life.

4 I made me great works, I builded me houses, I planted me vineyards.

5 I made me gardens and orchards, and I planted trees in them of all kind of fruits.

6 I made me pools of water, to water therewith the wood that bringeth forth trees.

† Heb. sons of my house.

7 I got me servants and maidens, and had † servants born in my [c] house; also I had great possessions of great and small cattel, above all that were in Jerusalem before me.

c Meaning, Of the servants or slaves, which he had bought: for the children born in their servitude were the master's.

8 * I gathered me also silver and gold, and the peculiar treasure of kings and of the provinces: I gat me men-singers and women-singers, and the [d] delight of the sons of men, as † musical instruments, and that of [e] all sorts.

* 1 King. 9. 28. & 10. 10, 14, 27. &c.

d That is, whatsoever men take pleasure in.

e To the end that he might the better know, what contentment there is to be found in such things, which were the most beautiful of them that were taken in war, as Judg. 5. 30. Some understand by these words not women, but instruments of musick.

9 So I was great, and increased more then all that where before me in Jerusalem; also my wisdom [f] remained with me.

f For all this, God did not take his gift of wisdom from me.

10 And whatsoever mine eyes desired, I kept not from them, I withheld not my heart from any joy: for my heart rejoyced in all my labour, and this was my [g] portion of all my labour.

g This was the fruit of all my labour, a certain pleasure mixt with care, which he calleth vanity in the next verse.

11 Then I looked on all the works that my hands had wrought, and on the labour that I had laboured to do: and behold, all was * vanity and vexation of spirit, and there was no profit under the Sun.

* Chap. 1. 3.

12 And I turned my self to behold [h] wisdom, * and madness and folly: for what can the man do, that cometh after the King? ‡ even that which hath been already done.

h I bethought with my self, whether it were better to follow wisdom, or mine own affection and pleasures, which he calleth madness.

* Chap. 1. 17. & 7. 25.

‡ Or, in those things which have been already done.

13 Then I saw † that wisdom excelleth folly, as far as light excelleth darkness.

† Heb. that there is an excellency in wisdom more then in folly, &c.

14 * The wise man's [i] eyes are in his head, but the fool walketh in darkness: and I my self perceived also, that [k] one event hapneth to them all.

* Prov. 17. 24. Chap. 8. 1.

i He foreseeth things, which the fool cannot for lack of wisdom.

k For both die and are forgotten, as vers. 16, or they both alike have prosperity or adversity.

15 Then said I in my heart, As it hapneth to the fool, so it † hapneth even to me; and why was I then more wise? Then I said in my heart, that this also is vanity.

† Heb. hapneth to me, even to me.

16 For there is no remembrance of the wise more then of the fool [l] for ever; seeing that which now is, in the days to come shall all be forgotten: and [m] how dieth the wise man? as the fool.

l Meaning, In this world.

m He wondreth that men forget a wise man being dead, alsoon as they do a fool.

17 Therefore I hated life, because the work that is wrought under the Sun, is grievous unto me: for all is vanity and vexation of spirit.

18 ¶ Yea, I hated all my labour which I had † taken under the Sun: because * I should leave it unto the man that shall be after me.

* Psal. 49. 10.

19 And who knoweth whether he shall be a wise man or a fool? yet shall he have rule over all my labour wherein I have laboured, and wherein I have shewed my self wise under the Sun. This is also vanity.

20 Therefore I went about to cause my heart to [n] despair of all the labour which I took under the Sun.

n That I might seek the true felicity which is in God.

21 For there is a man whose labour is in wisdom, and in knowledge, and in equity: yet to a man that hath not laboured therein, shall he † leave it for [o] his portion. This also is vanity, and a great evil.

o Among other griefs, this was not the least, to leave that which he had gotten by great travel, to one that had taken no pain therefore, and whom he knew not whether he were a wise man or a fool.

22 * For what hath man of all his labour, and of the vexation of his heart wherein he hath laboured under the Sun?

* Chap. 1. 3. & 3. 9.

23 For all his days are * sorrows, and his travel grief; yea, his heart taketh not rest in the night. This is also vanity.

* Job 14. 1. * Chap. 3. 22, 13, 22. & 5. 18. & 8. 15.

24 ¶ * There is nothing better for a man, then that he should eat and drink, and that he ‡ should make his soul [p] enjoy good in his labour. This also I saw, that it was from the hand of God.

p When man hath all laboured, he can get no more then food and refreshing, yet he confesseth also that this cometh of God's blessing.

25 For who can eat? or who else can [q] hasten hereunto more then I?

* Chap. 3. 13.

q Meaning, To pleasures.

26 For God giveth to a man that is good † in

† in his ſight, wiſdom and knowledge, and joy: but to the ſinner he giveth travel, to gather and to heap up, that * he may give to him that is good before God. This alſo is vanity and vexation of ſpirit.

† Heb. before him.

* Job 27. 17.

Chap. III.

1 By the neceſſary change of times, vanity is added to humane travel. 11 There is an excellency in God's works: 16 But as for man, God ſhall judge his works there, and here he ſhall be like a beaſt.

TO every thing there is [a] a ſeaſon, and a time to every purpoſe under the heaven:

2 A time † to be born, and a time to die: a time to plant, and a time to pluck up that which is planted:

3 A time to kill, and a time to heal: a time to break down, and a time to build up:

4 A time to weep, and a time to laugh: a time to mourn, and a time to dance:

5 A time to caſt away ſtones, and a time to gather ſtones together: a time to embrace, and a time † to refrain from embracing:

6 A time to ‡ get, and a time to loſe: a time to keep, and a time to caſt away:

7 A time to rent, and a time to ſew: a time to keep ſilence, and a time to ſpeak:

8 A time to love, and a time to hate: a time of war, and a time of peace.

9 * What profit hath he that worketh, in that wherein he laboureth?

10 I have ſeen the travel which God hath given to the ſons of men, to be [b] exerciſed in it.

11 He hath made every thing beautiful in his time: alſo he hath ſet the world in [c] their heart, ſo that no man can find out the work that God maketh from the beginning to the end.

12 I know that there is no good in them, but for a man to rejoyce, and to do good in his life.

13 And alſo that every man ſhould eat and drink, and enjoy the good of all his labour, it is the [d] gift of God.

14 I know that whatſoever God doth, it ſhall be [e] for ever: nothing can be put to it, nor any thing taken from it: and God doth it, that men ſhould fear before him.

15 * That which hath been, is now; and that which is to be, hath already been, and God [f] requireth † that which is paſt.

16 ¶ And moreover, I ſaw under the Sun the place of judgment, that wickedneſs was there; and the place of righteouſneſs, that iniquity was there.

17 I ſaid in mine heart, God ſhall judge the righteous and the wicked: for there is *[g] a time there, for every purpoſe, and for every work.

18 I ſaid in my heart concerning the eſtate of the ſons of men, ‡ that God might manifeſt them, and that they might ſee that they themſelves are [h] beaſts.

19 * For that which befalleth the ſons of men, befalleth beaſts, even one thing befalleth them: as the one dieth, ſo dieth the other, yea, they have all [i] one breath, ſo that a man hath no preeminence above a beaſt: for all is vanity.

20 All go unto one place, all are of the duſt, and all turn to duſt again.

21 Who [k] knoweth the ſpirit † of man that † goeth upward, and the ſpirit of the beaſt that goeth downward to the earth?

22 * Wherefore I perceive that there is nothing better, then that a man ſhould [l] rejoyce in his own works; for that is his portion: for who ſhall bring him to ſee what ſhall be after him?

a He ſpeaketh of this diverſity of time for two cauſes, Firſt, To declare that there is nothing in this world perpetual. next, To teach us not to be grieved if we have not all things at once, according to our deſires, neither enjoy them ſo long as we would wiſh.

‡ Or, ſeek.

* Chap. 1. 3.

b Chap. 1. 3.

c God hath given man a deſire and affection to ſeek out the things of this world, and to labour therein.

d Ch. 2. 24. & theſe places declare, that we ſhould do all things with ſobriety, and in the fear of God, foraſmuch as he giveth not his gifts to the intent that they ſhould be abuſed.

e That is, Man ſhall never be able to let God's work, but as he hath determined, ſo it ſhall come to paſs.

* Chap. 1. 9.

f God onely cauſeth that which is paſt to return.

† Heb. that which is driven away.

* Vers. 1.

g Meaning with God, howſoever man neglect his duty.

‡ Or, that they might clear God, and ſee, &c.

h Shewing in their lives the properties and practices of beaſts.

* Pſal. 49. 20. Chap. 2. 16.

i Man is not able by his reaſon and judgment to put difference between man and beaſt, as touching thoſe things whereunto both are ſubject, for the eye cannot judge any otherwiſe of a man being dead, then of a beaſt which is dead: yet by the word of God and faith, we eaſily know the diverſity, as verſ. 21.

k Meaning, That reaſon cannot comprehend that which faith believeth therein.

† Heb of the ſons of man.

* Chap. 2. 24. & 5. 18.

l By the often repetition of this ſentence, as Chap. 2. 24. & Chap. 3. 12, 22. Chap. 5. 27. & Chap. 8. 15. he declareth, that man by reaſon can comprehend nothing better in this life, then to uſe the gifts of God ſoberly, and comfortably; for to know farther is a ſpecial gift of God revealed by his Spirit.

Chap. IV.

1 Vanity is increaſed unto men by oppreſſion, 4 by envy 5 by idleneſs, 7 by covetouſneſs, 9 by ſolitarineſs, 13 by wilfulneſs.

SO [a] I returned, and conſidered all the *oppreſſions that are done under the Sun: and behold, the tears of ſuch as were oppreſſed, and they had no comforter; and on the † ſide of their oppreſſours there was power, but they had no comforter.

2 * Wherefore I praiſed the [b] dead which are already dead, more then the living which are yet alive.

3 * Yea, [c] better is he then both they, which hath not yet been, who hath not ſeen the evil work that is done under the Sun.

4 ¶ Again I conſidered all travel, and † every [d] right work, that † for this a man is envied of his neighbour. This is alſo vanity, and vexation of ſpirit.

5 * The fool foldeth his hands together, and [e] eateth his own fleſh.

6 * Better is an handful with quietneſs, then both the hands full, with travel and vexation of ſpirit.

7 ¶ Then I returned, and I ſaw vanity under the Sun.

8 There is one alone, and there is not a ſecond; yea, he hath neither child nor brother: yet is there no end of all his labour, neither is his eye ſatisfied with riches, neither ſaith he, For whom do I labour, and bereave my ſoul of good? This is alſo vanity, yea, it is a ſore travel.

9 ¶ [f] Two are better then one; becauſe they have a good reward for their labour.

10 For if they fall, the one will lift up his fellow: but wo to him that is alone when he falleth; for he hath not another to help him up.

11 Again, if two lie together, then they have heat: but how can one be warm alone?

12 And if one prevail againſt him, two ſhall withſtand him; and a [g] threefold cord is not quickly broken.

13 ¶ Better is a poor and a wiſe child, then an old and fooliſh King, † who will no more be admoniſhed.

14 For out of [h] priſon he cometh to reign, whereas alſo he that is [i] born in his kingdom becometh poor.

15 I conſidered all the living which walk under the Sun, with the [k] ſecond child that ſhall ſtand up in his ſtead.

a He maketh here another diſcourſe with himſelf, concerning the tyranny of them that oppreſſed the poor.

* Chap. 5. 8, &c.

* Job 3. 17, &c.

b Becauſe they are no more ſubject to their oppreſſours.

* Job 3. 11, 16, 21.

c He ſpeaketh according to the judgment of the fleſh, which cannot abide to feel, or ſee troubles.

† Heb. all the rightneſs of work.

d The more perfect that the work is, the more is it envied of the wicked.

† Heb. this is the envy of a man from his neighbour.

* Prov. 6. 10. & 24. 33.

e For idleneſs he is compelled to deſtroy himſelf.

* Prov. 15. 16, 17. & 16. 8.

f Foraſmuch as when man is alone, he can neither help himſelf nor others, he ſheweth, that all men ought to live in mutual ſociety, to the intent they may be profitable one to another, and that their things may increaſe.

g By this Proverb he declareth how neceſſary it is, that men ſhould live in ſociety.

† Heb. who knoweth not to be admoniſhed.

h That is, From a poor and baſe eſtate or out of trouble and priſon, as Joſephdid, Gen. 41. 14.

i Meaning, That is born a King.

k Which follow and flatter the King's ſon, or him that ſhall ſucceed, to enter into credit with them in hope of gain.

16 There is no [1] end of all the people, even of all that have been before them: they alſo that come after, ſhall not rejoyce in him. Surely, this alſo is vanity, and vexation of ſpirit.

1 They never ceaſe by all means to creep into favour: but when they obtain not their greedy deſires, they think themſelves abuſed, as others have been in time paſt, and ſo care no more for him.

CHAP. V.

1 Vanities in divine ſervice, 8 in murmuring againſt oppreſſion, 9 and in riches. 18 Joy in riches is the gift of God.

KEep thy [a] foot when thou goeſt to the houſe of God, and be more ready to hear, * then to give the ſacrifice of [b] fools: for they conſider not that they do evil.

2 Be not [c] raſh with thy mouth, and let not thine heart be haſty to utter any ‡ thing before God: for God is in heaven, and thou upon earth: therefore let thy words * be [d] few.

3 For a dream cometh through the multitude of buſineſs, and a fool's voice is known by multitude of words.

4 * When thou voweſt a vow unto God, defer not to pay it: for he hath no pleaſure in fools; pay that which thou haſt [e] vowed.

5 Better is it that thou ſhouldeſt not vow, then that thou ſhouldeſt vow and not pay.

6 Suffer not thy mouth to cauſe thy [f] fleſh to ſin, neither ſay thou before the [g] Angel, that is was an errour: wherefore ſhould God be angry at thy voice, and deſtroy the work of thine hands?

7 For in the multitude of dreams and many words, there are alſo divers vanities: but fear thou God.

8 ¶ If thou ſeeſt the oppreſſion of the poor, and violent perverting of judgment and juſtice in a province, marvel not † at the matter: for he that is [h] higher then the higheſt, regardeth, and there be higher then they.

9 ¶ Moreover, the [i] profit of the earth is for all: the King himſelf is ſerved by the [k] field.

10 He that loveth ſilver, ſhall not be ſatisfied with ſilver; nor he that loveth abundance, with increaſe: this is alſo vanity.

11 When goods increaſe, they are increaſed that eat them: and what good is there to the owners thereof, ſaving the beholding of them with their eyes?

12 The ſleep of a labouring man is ſweet, whether he eat little or much: but the [l] abundance of the rich will not ſuffer him to ſleep.

13 There is a ſore evil which I have ſeen under the Sun, namely, riches [m] kept for the owners thereof to their hurt.

14 But thoſe riches periſh by evil travel: and he begetteth a ſon, and there is [n] nothing in his hand.

15 * As he came forth of his mother's womb, naked ſhall he return to go as he came, and ſhall take nothing of his labour, which he may carry away in his hand.

16 And this alſo is a ſore evil, that in all points as he came, ſo ſhall he go: and * what profit hath he that hath laboured for the [o] wind?

17 All his days alſo he eateth in [p] darkneſs, and he hath much ſorrow, and wrath with his ſickneſs.

18 ¶ Behold that which I have ſeen: *† it is good and comely for one to [q] eat and to drink, and to enjoy the good of all his labour that he taketh under the Sun, † all the days of his life, which God giveth him: for it is his portion.

19 Every man alſo to whom God hath given riches and wealth, and hath given him power to eat thereof, and to take his portion, and to rejoyce in his labour; this is the gift of God.

20 ‡ [r] For he ſhall not much remember the days of his life: becauſe God anſwereth him in the joy of his heart.

CHAP. VI.

1 The vanity of riches without uſe, 3 of children, 6 and old age without riches. 9 The vanity of ſight and wandring deſires. 11 The concluſion of vanities.

THere is an evil which I have ſeen under the Sun, and it is common among men:

2 A man to whom God hath given riches, wealth, and honour, ſo that he wanteth nothing for his ſoul of all that he deſireth, yet God giveth him [a] not power to eat thereof, but a ſtranger eateth it: this is vanity, and it is an evil diſeaſe.

3 ¶ If a man beget an hundred children, and live many years, ſo that the days of his years be many, and his ſoul be not [b] filled with good, and alſo that he have no [c] burial, I ſay, that an untimely birth is better then he.

4 For he [d] cometh in with vanity, and departeth in darkneſs, and his name ſhall be covered with darkneſs.

5 Moreover, he hath not ſeen the Sun, nor known any thing: this hath more reſt then the other.

6 ¶ Yea, though he live a thouſand years twice told, yet hath he ſeen no good: do not all go to one place?

7 All the labour of man is for his mouth, and yet the † [e] appetite is not filled.

8 For what hath the wiſe more then the fool? what hath the poor, that [f] knoweth to walk before the living?

9 ¶ Better is the [g] ſight of the eyes, † then the wandring of the deſire: this is alſo vanity and vexation of ſpirit.

10 That which hath been, is named already, and it is known that it is man: neither may he contend with him that is [h] mightier then he.

11 ¶ Seeing there be many things that increaſe vanity, what is man the better?

12 For [i] who knoweth what is good for man in this life, † all the days of his vain life which he ſpendeth as * a ſhadow? for who can tell a man what ſhall be after him under the Sun?

CHAP. VII.

1 Remedies againſt vanity, are a good name, 2 mortification, 7 patience, 11 wiſdom. 23 The difficulty of wiſdom.

A * Good name is better then precious ointment; and the day of death, [a] then the day of one's birth.

2 ¶ It is better to go to the houſe of mourning, then to go to the houſe of feaſting: for that

* Prov. 15. 30. & 22. 1.
a He ſpeaketh thus after the judgment of the fleſh, which thinketh death to be the end of all evils: or elſe, becauſe that this corporal death is the entring into life everlaſting.

that is the [b] end of all men, and the living will lay it to his heart.

3 ‡ Sorrow is better then laughter: for by the ſadneſs of the countenance the heart is made better.

4 The heart of the wiſe is in the houſe of mourning; but the heart of fools is in the houſe of mirth.

5 * It is better to hear the rebuke of the wiſe, then for a man to hear the ſong of fools.

6 For as the †crackling of [c] thorns under a pot, ſo is the laughter of the fool: this alſo is vanity.

7 ¶ Surely oppreſſion maketh a wiſe man [d] mad, * and a gift deſtroyeth the heart.

8 Better is the [e] end of a thing, then the beginning thereof: and the patient in ſpirit is better then the proud in ſpirit.

9 * Be not haſty in thy ſpirit to be angry: for anger reſteth in the boſom of fools.

10 Say not thou, What is the cauſe that the former days were better then theſe? for thou doſt not enquire †[f] wiſely concerning this.

11 ¶ Wiſdom ‡is good with an [g] inheritance: and by it there is profit to them that ſee the Sun.

12 For wiſdom is a † defence, and mony is a defence: but the excellency of knowledge is, that wiſdom giveth life to them that have it.

13 Conſider the work of God: for * who can make that ſtraight which he hath made crooked?

14 In the day of proſperity be joyful, but in the day of adverſity [h] conſider: God alſo hath † ſet the one over againſt the other, to the end that man ſhould find [i] nothing after him.

15 All things have I ſeen in the days of my vanity: there is a juſt man that periſheth in his [k] righteouſneſs, and there is a wicked man that prolongeth his life in his wickedneſs.

16 Be not righteous [l] overmuch, neither make thy ſelf over-wiſe: why ſhouldeſt thou † deſtroy thy ſelf?

17 Be not [m] overmuch wicked, neither be thou fooliſh: why ſhouldeſt thou die † before thy time?

18 It is good that thou ſhouldeſt take hold of this, yea alſo from [o] this withdraw not thine hand: for he that feareth God, ſhall come forth of them all.

19 * Wiſdom ſtrengthneth the wiſe, more then ten mighty men which are in the city.

20 * For there is not a juſt man upon earth that doth good, and ſinneth not.

21 Alſo †[p] take no heed unto all words that are ſpoken; leſt thou hear thy ſervant curſe thee.

22 For oftentimes alſo thine own heart knoweth, that thou thy ſelf likewiſe haſt curſed others.

23 ¶ All this have I proved by wiſdom: I ſaid, I will be wiſe, but it was far from me.

24 That which is far off and exceeding deep, who can find [q] it out?

25 †I applied mine heart to know, and to ſearch, and to ſeek out wiſdom, and the reaſon of things, and to know the wickedneſs of folly, even of fooliſhneſs and madneſs:

26 * And I find more bitter then death, the woman whoſe heart is ſnares and nets, and her hands as bands: † whoſo pleaſeth God ſhall eſcape from her, but the ſinner ſhall be taken by her.

27 Behold, this have I found (ſaith the preacher) ‡counting one by one, to find out the [r] account:

28 Which yet my ſoul ſeeketh, but I find not: one man among a thouſand have I found, but a woman among all thoſe have I not found.

29 Lo, this onely have I found, * that God hath made man upright; but they have ſought out many [s] inventions.

Chap. VIII.

1 Kings are greatly to be reſpected. 6 The divine providence is to be obſerved, 12 It is better with the godly in adverſity then with the wicked in proſperity. 16 The work of God is unſearchable.

WHo is as the wiſe man? and who knoweth the interpretation of a thing? *a man's wiſdom maketh his face to [a] ſhine, and † the boldneſs of his face ſhall be [b] changed.

2 I counſel thee to keep the [c] King's commandment, and that in regard of the oath of God.

3 [d] Be not haſty to go out of his ſight: ſtand not in an evil thing, for he doth whatſoever pleaſeth him.

4 Where the word of a King is, there is power: and who may ſay unto him, What doeſt thou?

5 Whoſo keepeth the commandment † ſhall feel no evil thing: and a wiſe man's heart diſcerneth [e] both time and judgment.

6 ¶ Becauſe to every purpoſe there is time, and judgment, therefore the [f] miſery of man is great upon him.

7 For he knoweth not that which ſhall be: for who can tell him ‡ when it ſhall be?

8 There is no man that hath [g] power * over the ſpirit to retain the ſpirit; neither hath he power in the day of death: and there is no ‡ diſcharge in that war, neither ſhall wickedneſs deliver thoſe that are given to it.

9 All this have I ſeen, and applied my heart unto every work that is done under the Sun: there is a time wherein one man ruleth over another to his own [h] hurt.

10 And ſo I ſaw the wicked buried, who had [i] come and gone from the place of the [k] holy, and they were forgotten in the city where they had ſo done: this is alſo vanity.

11 Becauſe ſentence againſt an evil work is not [l] executed ſpeedily; therefore the heart of the ſons of men is fully ſet in them to do evil.

12 ¶ Though a ſinner do evil an hundred times, and his days be prolonged, yet ſurely I know that * it ſhall be well with them that fear God, which fear before him:

13 But it ſhall not be well with the wicked, neither ſhall he prolong his days which are as a ſhadow; becauſe he feareth not before God.

14 There is a vanity which is done upon the earth, that there be juſt men unto whom it * hapneth according to [m] the work of the wicked:

15 * Then I commended mirth, because a man hath no better thing under the Sun, then to [n] eat, and to drink, and to be merry: for that shall abide with him of his labour, the days of his life, which God giveth him under the Sun.

16 ¶ When I applied mine heart to know wisdom, and to see the business that is done upon the earth: (for also there is that neither day nor night seeth sleep with his eyes)

17 Then I beheld all the work of God, that a man cannot find out the work that is done under the Sun: because though a man labour to seek it out, yet he shall not find it; yea further, though a wise man think to know it, yet shall he not be able to find it.

CHAP. IX.

1 Like things happen to good and bad. 4 There is a necessity of death unto men. 7 Comfort is all their portion in this life. 11 God's providence ruleth over all. 13 Wisdom is better then strength.

† Heb. I gave, or, set to my heart.

FOr all this † I considred in my heart even to declare all this, that the righteous, and the wise, and their works are in the hand of God: no man knoweth either love, or [a] hatred, by all that is before them.

a Meaning, what things he ought to chuse or refuse: or man knoweth not by these outward things, that is, by prosperity or adversity, whom God doth favour or hate: for he sendeth them as well to the wicked as to the godly.

2 * All things come alike to all, there is one event to the righteous and to the wicked; to the good and to the clean, and to the unclean; to him that sacrificeth, and to him that sacrificeth not: as is the good, so is the sinner; and he that sweareth, as he that feareth an oath.

* Psal. 73. 3, 12, 13. Mal. 3. 15.

3 This is an evil among all things that are done under the Sun, that there is [b] one event unto all: yea, also the heart of the sons of men is full of evil, and madness is in their heart while they live, and after that they go to the dead.

b In outward things, as riches and poverty, sickness and health, there is no difference between the godly and the wicked: but the difference is, that the godly are assured by faith, of God's favour and assistance.

4 ¶ For to him that is joyned to all the living, there is hope: for [c] a living dog is better then a dead lion.

c He noteth the Epicures and carnal men, which made their belly their God, and had no pleasure but in this life, wishing rather to be an abject and vile person in this life, then a man of authority, and so to die, which is meant by the dog and lion.

5 For the living know that they shall die: but the dead know not any thing, neither have they any more a reward; for the memory of them is forgotten.

6 Also their love, and their hatred, and their envy is now perished: neither have they any more a portion for ever in any thing that is done under the Sun.

7 ¶ Go thy way, eat thy bread with joy, and drink thy wine with a merry heart; for God now [d] accepteth thy works.

d They flatter themselves to be in God's favour, because they have all things in abundance.

8 Let thy garments be alwayes [e] white; and let thy head lack no ointment.

e Rejoyce, be merry, and spare for no cost, thus speak the wicked belly-Gods.

9 † Live joyfully with the wife whom thou lovest, all the days of the life of thy vanity, which he hath given thee under the Sun, all the days of thy vanity: * for that is thy portion in this life, and in thy labour which thou takest under the Sun.

† Heb. See, or, enjoy life.

* Chap. 2. 24. & 3. 13. & 5. 18.

10 Whatsoever thy hand findeth to do, do it with thy might; for there is no work, nor device, nor knowledge, nor wisdom in the grave whither thou goest.

11 ¶ I returned, and saw under the Sun that the race is not to the swift, nor the battel to the strong, neither yet bread to the wise, nor yet riches to men of understanding, nor yet favour to men of skill, but time and [f] chance hapneth to them all.

f Thus the worldlings say, to prove that all things are lawful for them, and attribute that to chance and fortune, which is done by the providence of God.

12 For man also knoweth not [g] his time, as the fishes that are taken in an evil net, and as the birds that are caught in the snare: so are the sons of men * snared in an evil time, when it falleth suddenly upon them.

g That is, He doth not fore-see what shall come.

* Prov. 29. 6.

13 ¶ This wisdom have I seen also under the Sun, and it seemed great unto me:

14 There was a little city, and few men within it; and there came a great King against it, and besieged it, and built great bulwarks against it:

15 Now there was found in it a poor wise man, and he by his wisdom delivered the city, yet no man remembred that same poor man.

16 * Then said I, Wisdom is better then strength: nevertheless, the poor man's wisdom is despised, and his words are not heard.

* Prov. 21. 22. Chap. 7. 19.

17 The words of wise men are heard in quiet, more then the cry of him that ruleth among fools.

18 Wisdom is better then weapons of war: but one sinner destroyeth much good.

a So that he doth all things well and justly, whereas the fool doth the contrary.

† Heb. A song of songs: so called, because it is the chiefest of those 1005. which Solomon made, as is mentioned, 1 King. 4. 32.

¶ † THE SONG OF SOLOMON.

THE ARGUMENT.

IN this Song Solomon by most sweet and comfortable allegories and parables describeth the perfect love of Jesus Christ, the true Solomon and King of peace; and the faithful soul, or his Church, which he hath sanctified and appointed to be his spouse, holy, chaste, and without reprehension. So that here is declared the singular love of the Bridegroom toward the bride, and his great and excellent benefits, wherewith he doth enrich her of his pure bounty and grace without any of her deservings. Also the earnest affection of the Church, which is inflamed with the love of Christ, desiring to be more and more joyned to him in love, and not to be forsaken for any spot or blemish that is in her.

CHAP. I.

1 The Churche's love unto Christ. 5 She confesseth her deformity, 7 and prayeth to be directed to his flock. 8 Christ directeth her to the shepherd's tents: 9 and shewing his love to her, 11 giveth her gracious promises. 12 The Church and Christ congratulate one another.

THE Song of Songs which is Solomon's.

2 Let him [a] kiss me with the kisses of his mouth: * for † thy love is better then wine.

3 Because of the [b] savour of thy good ointments, thy name is as ointment poured forth, therefore do the [c] virgins love thee.

4 * [d] Draw me, we will run after thee: the King hath brought me into his [e] chambers: we will be glad and rejoyce in thee, we will remember thy love more then wine: ‡ the upright love thee.

5 ¶ I am [f] black, but comely, O ye daughters of Jerusalem, as the tents of [g] Kedar, as the [h] curtains of Solomon.

6 Look not upon me, because I am [i] black, because the [k] Sun hath looked upon me: my mother's [l] children were angry with me, they made me the keeper of the vineyards, but mine own vineyard have I [m] not kept.

7 ¶ [n] Tell me, O thou whom my soul loveth, where thou feedest, where thou makest thy flock to rest at noon: for why should I be ‡ as one that turneth aside by the flocks of thy [o] companions?

8 ¶ [p] If thou know not, O thou fairest among women, go thy way forth by the footsteps of the flock, and feed thy kids beside the shepherds tents.

9 ¶ I have compared thee, O my love, to a company of horses in Pharaoh's [q] chariots.

10 Thy cheeks are comely with rows of jewels, thy neck with chains of gold.

11 ¶ We will make thee borders of gold with studs of silver.

12 ¶ [r] While the King sitteth at his table, my spikenard sendeth forth the smell thereof.

13 A bundle of myrrh is my welbeloved unto me; he shall lie all night betwixt my [s] breasts.

14 My beloved is unto me, as a cluster of ‡ camphire in the vineyards of En-gedi.

15 * Behold, thou art [t] fair, ‡ my love; behold, thou art fair, thou hast doves eyes.

16 Behold, thou art fair, my beloved, yea pleasant: also our [u] bed is green.

17 The beams of our house are cedar, and our ‡ rafters of fir.

CHAP. II.

1 The mutual love of Christ and his Church. 8 the hope, 10 and calling of the Church, 14 Christ's care of the Church. 16 The profession of the Church, her faith and hope.

I Am the rose of Sharon, and the lily of the valleys.

2 As the lily among thorns, so is my [a] love among the daughters.

3 As the [b] apple-tree among the trees of the wood, so is my beloved among the sons. † I sat down under his shadow with great delight, and his fruit was sweet to my † taste.

4 He brought me to the † banqueting-house, and his banner over me was love.

5 Stay me with flagons, † comfort me with apples; for I am sick of love.

6 * His left hand is under my head, and his right hand doth embrace me.

7 † * [c] I charge you, O ye daughters of Jerusalem, by the roes, and by the hindes of the field, that ye stir not up, nor awake my love, till he please.

8 ¶ [d] The voice of my beloved! behold, he cometh leaping upon the mountains, skipping upon the hills.

9 * My beloved is like a roe, or a young hart: behold, he * standeth behind our wall, he looketh forth at the windows, † shewing himself through the [f] latteſs.

10 ¶ My beloved spake, and said unto me, Rise up my love, my fair one, and come away.

11 For lo, the [g] winter is past, the rain is over, and gone.

THE BOOK OF THE PROPHET ISAIAH.

THE ARGUMENT.

GOD according to his promiſe, Deut. 18. 15. that he would never leave his Church deſtitute of a Prophet, hath from time to time accompliſhed the ſame: whoſe office was not onely to declare to the people the things to come, whereof they had ſpecial revelation; but alſo to interpret & declare the Law, & to apply particularly the doctrine contained briefly therein, to the utility and profit of thoſe to whom they thought it chiefly to appertain, and as the time and ſtate of things required. And principally in the declaration of the Law, they had reſpect to three things, which were the ground of their doctrine: Firſt, to the doctrine contained briefly in the two tables: Secondly, to the promiſes and threatnings of the Law: and Thirdly, to the covenant of grace and reconciliation, grounded upon our Saviour Jeſus Chriſt, who is the end of the Law: Whereunto they neither added nor diminiſhed, but faithfully expounded the ſenſe and meaning thereof; and according as God gave them underſtanding of things, they applied the promiſes particularly for the comfort of the Church and the members thereof; and alſo denounced the menaces againſt the enemies of the ſame: not for any care of, or regard to the enemies; but aſſure the Church of their ſafeguard by the deſtruction of their enemies. And as touching the doctrine of reconciliation, they have more clearely treated of it then Moſes, and ſet forth more lively Jeſus Chriſt, in whom the covenant of reconciliation was made: In all theſe things, Iſaiah did excell all the Prophets, and was moſt diligent to ſet out the ſame, with moſt vehement admonitions, reprehenſions, and conſolations: ever applying the doctrine, as he ſaw that the diſeaſe of the people required. He declareth alſo many notable prophecies which he had received of God, as touching the promiſe of the Meſſiah, his office, and his kingdom. Alſo of the favour of God toward his Church, the vocation of the Gentiles, and their union with the Jews, which are as moſt principal points contained in this Book, and a gathering of his ſermons that he preached: Which after certain days that they had ſtood upon the Temple door (for the 520 manner of the Prophets was to set up the sum of their doctrine for certain days, that the people might the better mark it, (as Isa. 8. 1, and Hab. 2. 2) the Priests took it down, and reserved it among their registers: and so by God's providence these Books were preserved as a monument to the Church for ever. As touching his person & time, he was of the Kings stock (for Amoz his father was brother to Azariah King of Judah, as the best Writers agree) and prophesied more then 64 years, from the time of Uzziah into the reign of Manasseh, whose father in Law he was (as the Hebrews write) and of whom he was put to death. And in reading of the Prophets, this one thing among others is to be observed, that they speak of things to come, as though they were now past, because of the certainty thereof, and that they could not but come to pass, because God had ordained them in his secret counsel, and so revealed them to his Prophets.

CHAP. I.

2 Isaiah complaineth of Judah for her rebellion. 5 He lamenteth her judgments. 10 He upbraideth their whole service. 16 He exhorteth to repentance, with promises & threatnings. 21 Bewailing their wickedness, he denounceth God's judgment. 25 He promiseth grace. 28 and threatneth destruction to the wicked.

THE vision of [a] Isaiah the son of Amoz, which he saw [b] concerning Judah and Jerusalem, in the days of [c] Uzziah, Jotham, Ahaz, and Hezekiah, Kings of Judah.

2 ¶ *Hear, O [d] heavens, and give ear, O earth: for the LORD hath spoken, I have nourished and brought up [e] children, and they have rebelled against me.

3 *The [f] ox knoweth his owner, and the ass his master's crib: but Israel doth not know, my people doth not consider.

4 Ah sinful nation, a people † laden with iniquity, [g] a seed of evil doers, children that are corrupters, they have forsaken the LORD, they have provoked the [h] holy One of Israel unto anger, they are † gone away backward.

5 ¶ Why should ye be [i] stricken any more? ye will † revolt more and more: the whole [k] head is sick, and the whole heart faint.

6 From the [l] sole of the foot even unto the head, there is no soundness in it; but wounds, and bruises, and putrifying sores: they have not been closed, neither [m] bound up, neither mollified with ‡ ointment.

7 *Your country is desolate, your cities are burnt with fire: your land, strangers devour it in your presence, and it is desolate † as overthrown by [n] strangers.

8 And the daughter of [o] Zion is left as a cottage in a vineyard, as a lodge in a garden of cucumbers, as a besieged city.

9 *Except the LORD of hosts [p] had left unto us a very small remnant, we should have been as *¶ Sodom, and we should have been like unto Gomorrah.

10 ¶ Hear the word of the LORD, ye [r] rulers of Sodom; give ear unto the Law of our God, ye people of Gomorrah.[s]

11 To what purpose is the multitude of your * sacrifices unto me? saith the LORD: I am full of the burnt-offerings of rams, and the fat of fed beasts, and I [t] delight not in the bloud of bullocks, or of lambs, or of † he-goats.

12 When ye come † to appear before me, who hath required this at your hand to tread my courts?

13 Bring no more [u] vain oblations, incense is an abomination unto me, the new-Moons and sabbaths, the calling of assemblies I cannot away with, it is ‡ iniquity, even the solemn meeting.

14 Your [u] new-Moons, and your appointed feasts my soul hateth: they are a trouble unto me, I am weary to bear them.

15 And * when ye spread forth your hands, I will hide mine eyes from you: yea, when ye † make many prayers, I will not hear: your hands are full of *† [x] bloud.

16 ¶ [y] Wash ye, make you clean, put away the evil of your doings from before mine eyes, *cease to do evil, 17 Learn to do [z] well, seek judgment, ‡ relieve the oppressed, judge the fatherless, plead for the widow.

18 Come now [a] and let us reason together, saith the LORD: though your sins be as scarlet, they shall be as [b] white as snow, though they be red like crimson, they shall be as wooll.

19 If ye be [c] willing and obedient, ye shall eat the good of the land.

20 But if ye refuse and rebel, ye shall be devoured with the sword: for the mouth of the LORD hath spoken it.

21 ¶ How is the [d] faithful city become an harlot? it was full of judgment, righteousness lodged in it; but now [e] murderers.

22 [f] Thy silver is become dross, thy wine mixt with water.

23 Thy Princes are rebellious, and companions of [g] thieves: every one loveth gifts, and followeth after rewards: they *judge not the fatherless, neither doth the cause of the widow come unto them.

24 Therefore saith the Lord, the LORD of hosts, the [h] mighty One of Israel, Ah, I will [i] ease me of mine adversaries, and avenge me of mine enemies.

25 ¶ And I will turn my hand upon thee, and † [h] purely purge away thy dross, and take away all thy tin.

CHAP. II.

1 Isaiah propheseth the coming of Christ's kingdom. 6 Wickedness is the cause of God's forsaking. 10 He exhorteth to fear, because of the powerful effects of God's majesty.

THE word that Isaiah the son of Amoz saw, concerning Judah and Jerusalem.

2 And *[a] it shall come to pass in the last days, that the mountain of the LORD's house shall be ‡ established in the top of the mountains, and shall [b] be exalted above the hills; and all nations shall [c] flow unto it.

3 And many people shall go and say, Come ye, and let us go up to the [d] mountain of the LORD, to the house of the God of Jacob, and he will teach us of his ways, and we will walk in his paths; for out of Zion shall go forth the [e] Law, and the word of the LORD from [f] Jerusalem.

4 And [g] he shall judge among the nations, and shall [h] rebuke many people: and they shall [i] beat their swords into plow-shares, and their spears into ‡ pruning-hooks: nation shall not lift up sword against nation, [k] neither shall they learn war any more.

5 O house of Jacob, come ye, and let us [l] walk in the light of the LORD.

6 ¶ Therefore thou hast [m] forsaken thy people the house of Jacob, because they be [n] replenished ‡ from the east, and are soothsayers like the Philistines, and they ‡° please themselves in the children of strangers.

7 Their land also is full of [p] silver and gold, neither is there any end of their treasures: their land is also full of horses, neither is there any end of their chariots.

8 Their land also is full of idols: they worship the work of their own hands, that which their own fingers have made.

9 And the mean man [q] boweth down, and the great man humbleth himself: therefore [r] forgive them not.

10 ¶ Enter into the rock, and hide thee in the dust, for fear of the LORD, and for the glory of his majesty.

11 The * lofty looks of man shall be humbled, and the haughtiness of men shall be bowed down, and the LORD alone shall be exalted in [s] that day.

CHAP. VI.

1 Isaiah in a vision of the Lord in his glory, 5 being terrified, is confirmed for his message. 9 He sheweth the obstinacy of the people, unto their desolation. 13 A remnant shall be saved.

IN the year that King Uzziah died, I * a saw also the Lord sitting upon a b throne, high and lifted up, and ‡ c his train filled the temple.

* Joh. 12. 41.
a God sheweth not himself to man in his majesty, but according as man's capacity is able to comprehend him: that is, by visible signs, as John Baptist saw the holy Ghost in the form of a dove.
b As a judge ready to give sentence.
‡ Or, the skirts thereof.
c Of his garment, or of his throne.

2 Above it stood the d Seraphims: each one had six wings; with twain he covered his e face, and with twain he covered his f feet, and with twain he did g fly.

d They were Angels, so called, because they were of a fiery colour, to signify that they burnt in the love of God, or were light as fire to execute his will.

3 And † one cried unto another, and said, * h Holy, holy, holy is the LORD of hosts, † the whole i earth is full of his glory.

4 And the posts of the † door k moved at the voice of him that cried, and the house was filled with smoke.

5 ¶ Then said I, l Wo is me, for I am † undone, because I am a man of unclean lips, and I dwel in the midst of a people of unclean lips:

e Signifying, That they were not able to endure the brightness of God's glory. f whereby was declared, that man was not able to see the brightness of God in them. g Which thing declared, the prompt obedience of the Angels to execute God's commandment. † Heb. the one cried to this. * Rev. 4. 8. h This oft repetition signifieth, That the holy Angels cannot satisfy themselves in praising God: to teach us, that in all our lives we should give our selves to the continual praise of God. † Heb. his glory is the fulness of the whole earth. i His glory doth not onely appear in the heavens, but through all the world, and therefore all creatures are bound to praise him. † Heb. thresholds. k Which things were to confirm the Prophet, that it was not the voice of man: and by the smoke was signified the blindness that should come upon the Jews. l He speaketh this for two causes: The one, because he that was a mortal creature, and therefore had more need to glorify God then the Angels, did it not: And the other, because the more near that man approacheth to God, the more doth he know his own sin and corruption. † Heb. cut off.

524 for mine eyes have seen the King, the LORD of hosts.

6 Then flew one of the Seraphims unto me, † having a live coal in his hand, which he had taken with the tongs from off the [m] altar.

† Heb. and in his hand a live coal.
m Of the burnt-offerings, where the fire never went out.

7 And he † laid it upon my mouth, and said, Lo, this hath touched thy lips, and thine iniquity is taken away, and thy [n] sin purged.

n This declareth that man cannot render true obedience to God, till he have purged him

8 Also I heard the voice of the Lord, saying, Whom shall I send, and who will go for * us? Then said I, † Here am I, send me.

* Gen. 1. 26.
† Heb. Behold me.
* Mat. 13. 14. Mark. 4. 12. Luk. 8. 10. Joh. 12. 40. Acts 28. 26. Rom. 11. 8.

9 ¶ And he said, Go and tell this people, *[o] Hear ye ‡† indeed, but understand not; and see ye indeed, but perceive not.

o Whereby is declared, that for the malice of man, God will not immediately take away his word, but he will cause it to be preached to their condemnation, when as they will not learn thereby to obey his will, and be saved: hereby he exhorteth the ministers to do their duty, and answereth to the wicked murmurers, that through their own malice their heart is hardened.
‡ Or, without ceasing, &c.
† Heb. hear ye in hearing, &c.

10 Make the heart of this people fat, and make their ears heavy, and shut their eyes: lest they see with their eyes, and hear with their ears, and understand with their heart, and convert and be healed.

11 Then said I, Lord, [p] how long? And he answered, Until the cities be wasted without inhabitant, and the houses without man, and the land be † utterly desolate.

12 And the LORD have removed men far away, and there be a great forsaking in the midst of the land.

13 ¶ But yet in it shall be [q] a tenth, ‡ and it shall return, and shall be eaten: as a teil-tree, and as an [r] oak whose ‡ substance is in them, when they cast their leavens: so the holy seed shall be the substance thereof.

p As he was moved with the zeal of God's glory, so was he touched with a charitable affection toward the people. † Heb. desolate with desolation. q Meaning, The tenth part, or as some write, it was revealed to Isaiah for the confirmation of his prophecy, That ten Kings should come before their captivity, as were from Uzziah to Zedekiah. ‡ Or, when it is returned and hath been bruised. r For the fewness they shall seem to be eaten up: yet they shall after flourish as a tree, which in winter loseth his leaves, and seemeth to be dead, yet in summer is fresh and green. ‡ Or, stock or stem.

CHAP. VII.

1 Ahaz being troubled with fear of Rezin and Pekah, is comforted by Isaiah. 10 Ahaz, having liberty to choose a sign, and refusing it, hath for a sign, Christ promised. 17 His judgment is prophesied to come by Assyria.

* 2 King. 16. 5.

AND it came to pass in the days of * Ahaz the son of Jotham, the son of Uzziah King of Judah, that Rezin the King of Syria, and Pekah the son of Remaliah, King of Israel, [a] went up towards Jerusalem to war against it, but could not prevail against it.

a To wit, The second time: for in the first battel Ahaz was overcome.

2 And it was told the house of [b] David, saying, Syria † is confederate with [c] Ephraim: And his heart was [d] moved, and the heart of his people, as the trees of the wood are moved with the wind.

b Meaning, The King's house.
† Heb. resteth on Ephraim.
c That is, Israel, because that tribe was the greatest, Gen. 48. 19.
d For fear.

3 Then said the LORD unto Isaiah, Go forth now to meet Ahaz, thou, and [e] Shear-jashub thy son, at the end of the * conduit of the upper pool in the ‡ high-way of the fullers field:

e That is, The remnant shall return: which name Isaiah gave his son, To signify, That the rest of the people should return out of their captivity.
* 2 King. 18. 17.
‡ Or, causey-way.
† Heb. let not thy heart be tender.
f Which have but a little smoke and shall quickly be quenched.

4 And say unto him, Take heed, and be quiet; fear not, † neither be faint-hearted for the two tails of these smoking [f] fire-brands, for the fierce anger of Rezin with Syria, and of the son of Remaliah:

5 Because Syria, Ephraim, and the son of Remaliah have taken evil counsel against thee, saying,

6 Let us go up against Judah, and ‡ vex it, and let us make a breach therein for us, and set a king in the midst of it, even the son of [g] Tabeal.

‡ Or, witken.
g Which was an Israelite, and as seemeth enemy to the house of David 7 Thus saith the Lord GOD, It shall not stand, neither shall it come to pass.

8 For the head of Syria is Damascus, and the head of Damascus is Rezin; and within [h] threescore and five years shall Ephraim be broken, † that it be not a people.

h Counting from the five and twentieth year of the reign of Uzziah, at what time Amos prophesied this thing, and now Isaiah confirmeth, that the Israelites should be led into perpetual captivity, which thing came to pass within 20 years after that Isaiah did this message.
† Heb. from a people.

9 And the head of Ephraim is Samaria and the head of Samaria is Remaliahs son: ‡ If ye will not believe, surely ye shall not be established.

‡ Or, do ye not believe? it is because ye are not stable.

10 ¶ † Moreover, the LORD spake again unto Ahaz, saying, † Heb. And the LORD added to speak.

11 Ask thee [i] a sign of the LORD thy God, ‡ ask it either in the depth, or in the height above.

i For the confirmation of this thing, that thine enemies shall be destroyed and thou preserved.
‡ Or, make thy petition deep.

12 But Ahaz said, I will not ask, neither will I [k] tempt the LORD.

k Not to believe God's word without a sign, is to tempt God, but to refuse a sign when God offereth it for the aid and help of our infirmity, is to rebel against him.

13 And he said, Hear ye now, O house of David, Is it a small thing for you to weary [l] men, but will ye weary my God also?

l You think you have to do with men when ye contemn God's messengers, but it is God against whom you bend your selves.

14 Therefore the Lord [m] himself shall give you a sign, *Behold, a virgin shall conceive, and bear a son, and ‡ shall call his name Immanuel.

m Forasmuch as thou art unworthy, the Lord for his own promise sake will give a sign, which shall be, That Christ the Saviour of his Church, and the effect of all signs and miracles shall be revealed.
* Mat. 1. 23. Luk. 1. 31.
‡ Or, thou, Ovitgin, shalt call.

15 [n] Butter and hony shall he eat, that he may know to refuse the evil, and choose the good, n Meaning, That Christ is not only God, but man also, because he shall be nourished as other men, until the age of discretion.

16 For before the ° child shall know to refuse the evil, and choose the good, the land that thou abhorrest shall be forsaken of both her Kings.

o Not meaning Christ, but any child: for before a child can come to the years of discretion, the Kings of Samaria, and Syria shall be destroyed.

17 ¶ The LORD shall bring upon thee and upon thy people, and upon thy fathers house, days that have not come, from the day that [p] Ephraim departed from Judah; even the King of [q] Assyria.

p Since the time that the twelve tribes rebelled under Rehoboam.
q In whom thou hast put thy trust.

18 And it shall come to pass in that day, that the LORD shall hiss for the [r] fly, that is in the uttermost part of the rivers of Egypt, and for the bee that is in the land of Assyria.

r Meaning, The Egyptians: for by reason the country is hot and moist, it is full of flies, as Assyria is full of Bees.

19 And they shall come, and shall rest all of them in the desolate valleys, and in the holes of the rocks, and upon all thorns, and upon all ‡ [s] bushes.

s Signifying, That no place shall be free from them.

20 In the same day shall the Lord shave with a * rasour that is hired, namely by them beyond the river, by the King of Assyria, the head, and the hair of the [t] feet: and it shall also consume the beard.

* 2 King. 19. 35.
t That is, That which is from the belly downward: Meaning, That he would destroy both great & small.

21 And it shall come to pass in that day, that a man shall [u] nourish a young cow, and two sheep.

u He that before had a great number of cattel shall be content with one cow, and two sheep.

22 And it shall come to pass for the [x] abundance of milk that they shall give, he shall eat butter: for butter and hony shall every one eat that is left † in the land.

x The number of men shall be so small, that a few beasts shall be able to nourish all abundantly. † Heb. in the midst of the land.

23 And it shall come to pass in that day, that every place shall be, where there were a thousand vines, at a thousand silverlings, it shall even be for briers and thorns.

23 With arrows and with [y] bows shall men come thither; because all the land shall become briers and thorns.

25 And on all [z] hills shall be digged with the mattock, there shall not come thither the fear of briers and thorns: but it shall be for the sending forth of oxen, and for the treading of lesser cattel.

Chap. VIII.

1 In Maher-shalal-hash-baz, he propheseth that Syria and Israel shall be subdued by Assyria; 5 Judah likewise for their infidelity. 9 God's judgment shall be unresistable. 11 Comfort shall be to them that fear God; 19 Great afflictions to idolaters.

MOreover, the LORD said unto me, Take thee a [a] great roll, and write in it with a [b] mans pen, concerning †Maher-shalal-hash-baz.

2 And I took unto me [c] faithful witnesses to record, Uriah the Priest, and Zechariah the son of Jeberechiah.

3 And I † went unto the [d] Propheteſs, and she conceived and bare a son; then said the LORD to me, Call his name Maher-shalal-hash-baz.

4 For before the [e] child shall have knowledge to cry, My father and my mother, ‡ the riches of Damascus, and the spoil of Samaria [f] shall be taken away before the King of Assyria.

5 ¶ The LORD spake also unto me again, saying,

6 Forsomuch as this people refuseth the waters of [g] Shiloah that go softly, and rejoyce in Rezin, and Remaliah's son:

7 Now therefore, behold, the Lord bringeth up upon them the waters of the [h] river, strong and many, even the King of Assyria, and all his glory: and he shall come up over all his chanels, and go over all his banks.

8 And he shall pass through Judah, he shall overflow & go over, he shall reach even to the [i] neck, and † the stretching out of his wings shall fill the breadth of thy land, O [k] Immanuel.

9 ¶ Associate your selves, O ye [l] people, ‡ and ye shall be broken in pieces; and give ear all ye of far countrys: gird your selves, and ye shall be broken in pieces; gird your selves, and ye shall be broken in pieces.

10 Take counsel together, and it shall come to nought; speak the word, and it shall not stand: for God is with us.

11 ¶ For the LORD spake thus to me † [m] with a strong hand, and instructed me that I should not walk in the way of this people, saying, 12 Say ye not, A [n] confederacy, to all them to whom this people shall say, A confederacy; neither fear ye [o] their fear, nor be afraid.

13 [p] Sanctify the LORD of hosts himself, and let him be your fear, and let him be your dread.

14 And he shall be for a [q] sanctuary; but for *a stone of stumbling, and for a rock of offence to both the houses of Israel, for a gin, and for a snare to the inhabitants of Jerusalem.

15 And many among them shall * stumble, and fall, and be broken, and be snared, and be taken.

16 [r] Bind up the testimony, seal the Law among my disciples.

17 And I will wait upon the LORD that hideth his face from the house of Jacob, and I will look for him.

18 * Behold, I and the [s] children whom the LORD hath given me, are for signs, and for wonders in Israel; [t] from the LORD of hosts, which dwelleth in mount Zion.

19 ¶ And when they shall say unto you, Seek unto them that have familiar spirits, and unto wizards that peep, and that mutter: [u] should not a people seek unto their God? [x] for the living, to the dead?

20 * To the [y] Law and to the testimony: if they speak not according to this word, it is because there is † [z] no light in them.

21 And they shall pass through [a] it, hardly bestead and hungry: and it shall come to pass, that when they shall be hungry, they shall fret themselves, and [b] curse their King, and their God, and look upward.

22 And they shall look unto the earth: and behold, trouble and [c] darkness, dimness of anguish; and they shall be driven to darkness.

Chap. IX.

1 What joy shall be in the midst of afflictions, by the kingdom and birth of Christ. 8 The judgments upon Israel for their pride, 13 for their hypocrisy, 18 and for their impenitency.

NEvertheless, the [a] dimness shall not be such as was in her vexation, when [b] at the first he lightly afflicted the land of Zebulun, and the land of Naphtali, and afterward did more grievously afflict her by the way of the sea, beyond Jordan in Galilee ‡ [c] of the nations.

2 * The people that [d] walked in darkness, have seen a great [e] light: they that dwell in the land of the shadow of death, upon them hath the [f] light shined.

3 Thou hast [g] multiplied the nation, and ‡ not increased the joy: they joy before thee, according to the joy in harvest, and as men rejoyce when they divide the spoil.

4 ‡ For thou hast [h] broken the yoke of his burden, and the staff of his shoulder, the rod of his oppressour, as in the day of * Midian.

5 ‡ For every battel of the warriour is with confused noise, and garments rolled in bloud, ‡ but this shall be with [i] burning and † fewel of fire.

7 Of the increase of his government and peace * there shall be no end, upon the throne of David and upon his kingdom, to order it, and to establish it with judgment and with justice, from henceforth even for ever: the *[l] zeal of the LORD of hosts will perform this.

8 ¶ The Lord sent a word into Jacob, and it hath lighted upon [m] Israel.

9 And all the people shall know, even Ephraim and the inhabitant of Samaria, that say in the pride and stoutness of heart,

10 The [n] bricks are fallen down, but we will build with hewen stones: the sycomores are cut down, but we will change them into cedars.

11 Therefore the LORD shall set up the adversaries of [o] Rezin against him, and † joyn his enemies together.

16 For ‡ the leaders of this people cause them to err, and ‡ they that are led of them, are † destroyed.

18 ¶ For wickedness [p] burneth as the fire: it shall devour the briers and thorns, and shall kindle in the thickets of the forest, and they shall mount up like the lifting up of smoke.

1 The wo of tyrants. 5 Assyria, the rod of hypocrites, for his pride shall be broken. 20 A remnant of Israel shall be saved. 24 Israel is comforted with promise of deliverance from Assyria.

‡ Or, to the writers that write grievousness.

WO unto them that decree unrighteous decrees, and ‡ that [a] write grievousness which they have prescribed:

2 To turn aside the needy from judgment, and to take away the right from the poor of my people, that widows may be their prey, and that they may rob the fatherless.

3 And what will ye do in the day of visitation, and in the desolation which shall come from [b] far? to whom will ye flee for help? and where will ye leave your [c] glory?

4 [d] Without me they shall bowe down under the prisoners, and they shall fall under the slain: * For all this his anger is not turned away, but his hand is stretched out still.

5 ¶ ‡ O † [e] Assyrian, the rod of mine anger, ‡ and the staff in their hand is mine indignation.

6 I Will send [f] him against an hypocritical nation; and against the people of my wrath will I give him a charge to take the spoil, and to take the prey, and † to tread them down like the mire of the streets.

7 Howbeit, he meaneth not so, neither doth his heart think so, but it is in his heart to destroy, and cut off nations not a few.

9 Is not Calno, as [g] Carchemish? is not Hamath, as Arphad? is not Samaria, as Damascus?

10 As my hand hath found the kingdoms of the idols, and whose graven images did excel them of Jerusalem, and of Samaria:

11 Shall I not, as I have done unto Samaria and her idols, so do to Jerusalem and her idols?

12 Wherefore it shall come to pass, that when the Lord hath performed his [h] whole work * upon mount Zion, and on Jerusalem, I will † punish the fruit † of the stout heart of the [i] King of Assyria, and the glory of his high looks.

13 For he saith, By the strength of my hand I have done it, and by my wisdom; for I am prudent: and I have removed the bounds of the people, and have robbed their treasures, and I have put down the inhabitants ‡ like a valiant man.

14 And my hand hath found as a nest the riches of the people: and as one gathereth eggs that are left, have I gathered all the earth, and there was none that moved the wing, or opened the mouth, or peeped.

15 Shall the [k] ax boast it self against him that heweth therewith? or shall the saw magnify it self against him that shaketh it? ‡ as if the rod should shake it self against them that lift it up, or as if the staff should lift up ‡ it self, as if it were no wood.

16 Therefore shall the Lord, the Lord of hosts, send among his fat ones leanness, and under his glory he shall kindle a burning like the burning of a fire.

17 And the light of Israel shall be for a [l] fire, and his holy One for a flame: and it shall burn and devour [m] his thorns and his briers in one day;

18 And shall consume the glory of his forest, and of his fruitful field, † [n] both soul and body:

23 I will also make it a possession for the bittern, and pools of water: and I will sweep it with the besome of destruction, saith the LORD of hosts.

24 ¶ The LORD of hosts hath sworn, saying Surely as I have thought, so shall it come to pass; and as I have purposed, so shall it stand:

25 [o] That I will break the Assyrian in my land, and upon my mountains tread him under foot: then shall his yoke depart from off [p] them, and his burden depart from off their shoulders.

26 This is the purpose that is purposed upon the whole earth: and this is the hand that is stretched out upon all the nations.

27 For the LORD of hosts hath * purposed, and who shall disanul it? and his hand is stretched out, and who shall turn it back?

28 In the year that King Ahaz died, was this [q] burden.

29 ¶ Rejoyce not thou whole [r] Palestina, because the rod of him that smote thee is broken: for out of the serpents root shall come forth a ‡ cockatrice, and his fruit shall be a fiery flying serpent.

30 And the [s] first-born of the poor shall feed, and the needy shall lie down in safety: and I will kill thy root with famine, and [t] he shall slay thy remnant.

31 Howl, O gate; cry, O city, thou whole Palestina art dissolved: for there shall come from the [u] north a smoke, and ‡ none shall be [x] alone in his ‡ appointed times.

32 What shall one then answer the [y] messengers of the nation? That * the LORD hath founded [z] Zion, and the poor of his people shall ‡ trust in it.

The lamentable state of Moab.

THE [a] burden of Moab. Because in the night [b] Ar of Moab is laid waste, and ‡ brought to silence; because in the night Kir of Moab is laid waste, and brought to silence:

2 [c] He is gone up to Bajith, and to Dibon, the high places, to weep: Moab shall howl over [d] Nebo, and over Medeba, * on [e] all their heads shall be baldness, and every beard cut off.

3 In their streets they shall gird themselves with sackcloth: on the tops of their houses, and in their streets every one shall howl, † weeping abundantly.

4 And Heshbon shall cry, and Elealeh: their voice shall be heard even unto Jahaz: therefore the armed souldiers of Moab shall cry out, his life shall be grievous unto him.

5 My [f] heart shall cry out for Moab, ‡ his fugitive shall flee unto Zoar, an * [g] heifer of three years old: for by the mounting up of Luhith with weeping shall they go it up: for in the way of Horonaim, [h] they shall raise up a cry of † destruction.

1 Syria and Iſrael are threatned. 6 A remnant ſhall forſake idolatry. 9 The reſt ſhall be plagued for their impiety. 12 The wo of Iſrael's enemies.

THE [a] burden of [b] Damaſcus. Behold, Damaſcus is taken away from being a city, and it ſhall be a ruinous heap.

2 The cities of [c] Aroer are forſaken; they ſhall be for flocks which ſhall lie down, and none ſhall make them afraid.

3 The fortreſs alſo ſhall ceaſe from [d] Ephraim, and the kingdom from Damaſcus, and the remnant of Syria: they ſhall be as the [e] glory of the children of Iſrael, ſaith the LORD of hoſts.

4 And in that day it ſhall come to paſs, that the glory of [f] Jacob ſhall be made thin, and the fatneſs of his fleſh ſhall wax lean.

5 And it ſhall be as when the harveſt-man gathereth [g] the corn, and reapeth the ears with his arm; and it ſhall be as he that gathereth ears in the valley of [h] Rephaim.

6 (¶ Yet gleaning-grapes [i] ſhall be left in it, as the ſhaking of an olive-tree, two or three berries in the top of the uppermoſt bough, four or five in the outmoſt fruitful branches thereof, ſaith the LORD God of Iſrael.

3 All ye inhabitants of the world, and dwellers on the earth, ſee ye, when [f] he lifteth up an enſign on the mountains; and when he bloweth a trumpet, hear ye.

4 For ſo the LORD ſaid unto me, I will take my [g] reſt, and I will ‡ conſider in my dwelling-place like a [h] clear heat ‡ upon herbs, and like a cloud of dew in the heat of harveſt.

5 For afore the harveſt when the bud is perfect, and the ſowr grape is ripening in the flower; he ſhall both cut off the ſprings with pruning-hooks, and take away and cut down the branches.

6 They ſhall be left together unto the fowls of the mountains, and to the [i] beaſts of the earth: and the fowls ſhall ſummer upon them, and all the beaſts of the earth ſhall winter upon them.

7 ¶ In that time ſhall the [k] preſent be brought unto the LORD of hoſts, of a people ‡ ſcattered and peeled, and from a people terrible from their beginning hitherto; a nation meted out and troden under foot, whoſe land the rivers have ſpoiled, to the place of the name of the LORD of hoſts, the mount Zion.

2 A † grievous viſion is declared unto me, the [c] treacherous dealer dealeth treacherouſly, and the ſpoiler ſpoileth: go up, O [d] Elam: beſiege, O Media: all the ſighing [e] thereof have I made to ceaſe.

3 Therefore are my [f] loyns filled with pain; pangs have taken hold upon me, as the pangs of a woman that travaileth: I was bowed down at the hearing of it, I was diſmayed at the ſeeing of it.

4 ‡ My heart panted, fearfulneſs affrighted me: the night of [g] my pleaſure hath he † turned into fear unto me.

5 Prepare the table, watch in the watch-tower, eat, drink: [h] ariſe ye Princes, and anoint the ſhield.

6 For thus hath the [i] Lord ſaid unto me, Go, ſet a watchman, let him declare what he ſeeth.

7 And he ſaw a chariot with a couple of hors-men, [k] a chariot of aſſes, and a chariot of camels; and he hearkned diligently with much heed.

8 And ‡ he cried, [l] A lion: my Lord, I ſtand continually upon the * watch-tower in the day-time, and I am ſet in my ward ‡ whole nights.

THE burden of the [a] valley of vision. What [b] aileth thee now, that thou art wholly gone up to the house-tops?

2 Thou that art full of [c] stirs, a tumultuous city, a joyous city: thy slain men are not slain with the [d] sword, nor dead in battel.

3 All thy rulers are fled together, they are [e] bound † by the archers: all that are found in thee are bound together, which have fled from [f] far.

4 Therefore said I, * Look away from me, † I will [g] weep bitterly, labour not to comfort me; because of the spoiling of the daughter of my people.

5 For it is a day of trouble, and of treading down, and of perplexity by the Lord GOD of hosts in the valley of vision, breaking down the walls, and of [h] crying to the mountains.

6 And Elam [i] bare the quiver with chariots of men and hors-men, and Kir † uncovered the shield.

7 And it shall come to pass that † thy choicest valleys shall be full of chariots, and the horsmen shall set themselves in aray ‡ at the gate.

8 ¶ And he discovered the [k] covering of Judah, and thou didst look in that day to the armour of the house of the forest.

9 Ye have seen also the [l] breaches of the city of David, that they are many: and ye gathered together the waters of the lower pool.

10 And ye have [m] numbred the houses of Jerusalem, and the houses have ye broken down to fortify the wall.

11 Ye [n] made also a ditch between the two walls, for the water of the old pool: but ye have not looked unto the maker [o] thereof, neither had respect unto him that fashioned it long ago.

12 And in that day did the Lord GOD of hosts call to weeping and to mourning, and to baldness, and to girding with sackcloth:

13 And behold, joy and gladness, slaying oxen, and killing sheep, [p] eating flesh, and drinking wine; let us eat and drink, for to morrow we shall die.

14 And it was revealed in mine ears by the LORD of hosts, Surely this iniquity shall not be purged from you, till ye die, saith the Lord GOD of hosts.

15 ¶ Thus saith the Lord GOD of hosts, Go, get thee unto this [q] treasurer, even unto Shebna, which is over the house, and say, 16 What hast thou here? and whom hast thou [r] here, that thou hast hewed thee out a sepulchre here ‡ as he that heweth him out a sepulchre on high, and that graveth an habitation [f] for himself in a rock?

17 Behold, ‡ the LORD will carry thee away with † a mighty captivity, and will surely cover thee.

19 And I will drive thee from thy station, and from thy state shall he pull thee down.

20 ¶ And it shall come to pass in that day, that I will [u] call my servant Eliakim the son of Hilkiah:

21 And I will clothe him with thy robe, and strengthen him with thy girdle, and I will commit thy governement into his hand, and he shall be a father to the inhabitants of Jerusalem, and to the house of Judah.

22 And the [x] key of the house of David will I lay upon his shoulder: so he shall * open and none shall shut, and he shall shut and none shall open.

23 And I will fasten him as a [y] nail in a sure place; and he shall be for a glorious throne to his father's house.

24 And they shall hang upon him all the glory of his father's house, the off-spring and the issue, all vessels [z] of small quantity: from the vessels of cups, even to all the ‡ vessels of flagons.

25 In that day, saith the LORD of hosts, shall the [a] nail that is fastned in the sure place, be removed, and be cut down and fall; and the burden that was upon it shall be cut off: for the LORD hath spoken it.

a Thus the Prophet giveth thanks to God, because he will bring under subjection these nations by his corrections, & make them of his Church, which before were his enemies.

O LORD, thou [a] art my God, I will exalt thee, I will praise thy name; for thou hast done wonderful things; thy counsels of old are faithfulness and truth.

2 For thou hast made [b] of a city, an heap; of a defended city, a ruine: a palace of [c] strangers, to be no city, it shall never be built.

f God will set the poor afflicted over the power of the wicked.

7 The way of the just is uprightness: thou most upright, dost weigh the path of the just.

8 Yea, in the way of thy [g] judgments, O LORD, have we waited for thee; the desire of our soul is to thy name, and to the remembrance of thee.

g We have constantly abided in the adversities, wherewith thou hast afflicted us.

9 With my soul have I desired thee in the night, yea with my spirit within me will I seek thee early: for when thy judgments are in the earth, the inhabitants of the world will learn [h] righteousness.

h Meaning, That by afflictions men shall learn to fear God.

10 Let [i] favour be shewed to the wicked, yet will he not learn righteousness: in the land of uprightness will he deal unjustly, and will not behold the majesty of the LORD.

i The wicked, though God shew them evident signs of his grace, shall be never the better.

11 LORD, when thy hand is lifted up, they will not see: but they shall see, and be ashamed for their [k] envy ‡ at the people, yea the fire of thine [l] enemies shall devour them.

k Through envy and indignation against thy people.

l The fire and vengeance, wherewith thou dost destroy thine enemies.

12 ¶ LORD, thou wilt ordain peace for us: for thou also hast wrought all our works ‡ in us.

‡ Or, for us.

13 O LORD our God, other [m] Lords besides thee have had dominion over us: but by thee onely will we make mention of thy name.

m The Babylonians, which have not governed according to thy word.

14 They are [n] dead, they shall not live; they are deceased, they shall not rise. therefore hast thou visited and destroyed them, and made all their memory to perish.

n Meaning, That the reprobate even in this life shall have the beginning of everlasting death.

15 Thou hast [o] increased the nation, O LORD, thou hast increased the nation, thou art glorified; thou hadst removed it far unto all the ends of the earth.

o To wit, The company of the faithful, by the calling of the Gentiles.

16 LORD, in trouble have they [p] visited thee, they poured out a † prayer when thy chastning was upon them.

p That is, The faithful by thy rods were moved to pray unto thee for deliverance.

† Heb secret speech.

17 Like as a woman with child that draweth near the time of her delivery, is in pain, and cryeth out in her pangs; so have we been in thy [q] sight, O LORD.

q To wit, In extream sorrows.

18 We have been with child, we have been in pain, we have as it were brought [r] forth wind, we have not wrought any deliverance in the earth, neither have the inhabitants of the world [s] fallen.

r Our sorrows had none end, neither did we enjoy the comfort that we looked for.

s The wicked, and men without Religion, were not destroyed.

19 [t] Thy dead men shall live, together with my dead body shall they arise: awake and sing ye that dwell in dust: for thy [u] dew is as the dew of herbs, and the earth shall cast out the dead.

t He comforteth the faithful in their afflictions, shewing them, that even in death they shall have life; and that they should most certainly rise to glory: the contrat should come to the wicked, as vers. 14.

u As herbs dead in winter, flourish again by the rain in the spring time, so they that lie in the dust, shall rise up to joy when they feel the dew of God's grace in their afflictions, and to wait upon God's work.

21 For behold, the LORD * cometh out of his place to punish the inhabitants of the earth for their iniquity: the earth also shall disclose her † y bloud, and shall no more cover her slain.

* Isai. 1. 3.

CHAP. XXVII.

1 The care of God over his vineyard. 7 His chastisements differ from judgments. 12 The Church of Jews and Gentiles.

IN that [a] day the LORD with his sore and great and strong [b] sword shall punish Leviathan the ‡ piercing serpent, even Leviathan that crooked serpent, and he shall slay the dragon that is in the sea.

2 In that day sing ye unto her, A vineyard of [c] red wine.

3 I the LORD do keep it, I will water it every moment; lest any hurt it, I will keep it night and day.

4 [d] Fury is not in me: who would set the briers and thorns against me in battel? I would ‡go through them, I would burn them together.

5 Or let him [e] take hold of my strength, that he may make peace with me, and he shall make peace with me.

6 [f] He shall cause them that come of Jacob to take root: Israel shall blossom and bud, and fill the face of the world with fruit.

7 ¶ Hath he [g] smitten him, † as he smote those that smote him? or is he slain according to the slaughter of them that are slain by him?

8 In [h] measure † when it shooteth forth, thou wilt debate with it; ‡ he stayeth his rough wind in the day of the east-wind.

9 By this therefore shall the iniquity of Jacob be purged, and this is all the [i] fruit to take away his sin; when he maketh all the stones of the altar as chalk-stones that are beaten in sunder, the groves and ‡ images shall not stand up.

10 Yet the [k] defenced city shall be desolate, and the habitation forsaken; and left like a wilderness: there shall the calf feed, and there shall he lie down, and consume the branches thereof.

11 When the boughs thereof are withered, they shall be broken off: the [l] women come and set them on fire: for it is a people of no understanding: therefore he that made them will not have mercy on them, and he that formed them will shew them no favour.

12 ¶ And it shall come to pass in that day, that the LORD shall beat off from the chanel of the [m] river unto the stream of Egypt, and ye shall be gathered one by one, O ye children of Israel.

13 And it shall come to pass in that day, that the great trumpet shall be [n] blown, & they shall come which were ready to perish in the land of Assyria, and the out-casts in the land of Egypt, and shall worship the LORD in the holy mount at Jerusalem.

a At the time appointed.
b That is, By his mighty power, and by his word. He prophesieth here of the destruction of Satan and his Kingdom, under the name of Leviathan, Ashur, and Egypt.
‡ Or, crossing like a bar.
c Meaning, Of the best wine, which this vineyard, that is, the Church, should bring forth, as most agreeable to the Lord.
d Therefore he will destroy the Kingdom of Satan, because he loveth his Church for his own mercies sake, and cannot be angry with it, but wisheth that he may pour his anger upon the wicked infidels, whom he meaneth by briers and thorns.
‡ Or, march against.
e A promise towards the faithful, taking hold on the Lord by faith: and trusting on his power.
f Though I afflict and diminish my people for a time, yet shall the root spring again and bring forth in great abundance.
g He sheweth that God punisheth his in mercy, and his enemies in justice.
† Heb. according to the stroke of those.

CHAP. XXVIII.

1 The Prophet threatneth Ephraim for their pride and drunkenness. 5 The residue shall be advanced in the Kingdom of Christ. 7 He rebuketh their errour, 9 their untowardness to learn, 14 and their security. 16 Christ the sure foundation is promised. 18 Their security shall be tried. 23 They are incited to the consideration of God's discreet providence.

WO to the [a] crown of pride, to the drunkards of Ephraim; whose glorious beauty is a fading flower, which are on the head of the fat [b] valleys of them that are † overcome with wine.

2 Behold, the Lord hath a mighty and strong one, which as a tempest of hail and a [c] destroying storm, as a flood of mighty waters overflowing, shall cast down to the earth with the hand.

3 The crown of pride, the drunkards of Ephraim shall be troden † under feet.

4 And the glorious beauty which is on the head of the fat valley, shall be a fading flower, and as the [d] hasty fruit before the summer: which when he that looketh upon it, seeth it, while it is yet in his hand he † eateth it up.

5 ¶ In that day shall the LORD of hosts be for a crown of glory, and for a diadem of beauty unto the [e] residue of his people:

6 And for a spirit of judgment to him that sitteth in judgment, and for [f] strength to them that turn the battel to the gate.

7 ¶ But they also have erred through [g] wine, and through strong drink are out of the way: the Priest and the Prophet have erred through strong drink, they are swallowed up of wine, they are out of the way through strong drink, they err in vision, they stumble in judgment.

8 For all tables are full of vomit and filthiness, so that there is no place clean.

9 ¶ [h] Whom shall he teach knowledge? and whom shall he make to understand † doctrine? them that are weaned from the milk, and drawn from the breasts.

10 [i] For precept ‡ must be upon precept, precept upon precept, line upon line, line upon line, here a little and there a little.

12 To whom [l] he said, This is the [m] rest wherewith ye may cause the weary to rest, and this is the [n] refreshing: yet they would not hear.

13 But the word of the [o] LORD was unto them, precept upon precept, precept upon precept, line upon line, line upon line, here a little and there a little; that they might go and fall backward, and be broken, and snared, and taken.

14 ¶ Wherefore hear the word of the LORD, ye scornful men that rule this people which is in Jerusalem.

15 Because ye have said, We have made [p] a covenant with death, and with hell are we at agree-a Meaning, The proud Kingdom of the Israelites; which were drunken with wordly prosperity.

f He will give counsel to the Governour, and strength to the Captain, to drive the enemies in at their own gates.
g Meaning, The hypocrites, which were among them, and were altogether corrupt in life and doctrine, which is here meant by drunkenness and vomiting.

agreement; when the overflowing ſcourge ſhall paſs through, it ſhall not come unto us; for we have made lies our refuge, and under [q] falſhood have we hid our ſelves:

16 ¶ Therefore thus ſaith the Lord GOD, Behold, I lay in Zion for a foundation, * a ſtone, [r] a tried ſtone, a precious corner-ſtone, a ſure foundation: he that believeth, [r] ſhall not make haſte.

17 Judgment alſo will I lay to the line, and [r] righteouſneſs to the plummet, and the [s] hail ſhall ſweep away the refuge of lies, and the waters ſhall overflow the [s] hiding-place.

18 ¶ And your covenant with death ſhall be diſanulled, and your agreement with hell ſhall not ſtand; when the overflowing ſcourge ſhall paſs through, then ye ſhall be † troden down by it.

19 From the time that it goeth forth, it ſhall take you: for morning by morning ſhall it paſs over, by day and by night, and it ſhall be a [y] vexation, onely ‡ to underſtand the report.

20 For the bed is [z] ſhorter, then that a man can ſtretch himſelf on it: and the covering narrower, then that he can wrap himſelf in it.

21 For the LORD ſhall riſe up as in mount *[a] Perazim, he ſhall be wroth as in the valley of *[b] Gibeon, that he may do his work, his ſtrange work; and bring to paſs his act, his ſtrange act.

22 Now therefore be ye not mockers, leſt your bands be made ſtrong: for I have heard from the Lord GOD of hoſts a conſumption, even determined upon the whole earth.

23 ¶ Give ye ear, and hear my voice, hearken and hear my ſpeech.

24 Doth the plowman plow all day to ſow? doth he open & break the clods of his ground?

25 When he hath [c] made plain the face thereof, doth he not caſt abroad the fitches, and ſcatter the cummin, and caſt in ‡ the principal wheat, and the appointed barley, and the ‡ rie in their † place?

26 ‡ For his God doth inſtruct him to diſcretion, and doth teach him.

27 For the fitches are not threſhed with a threshing-inſtrument, neither is a cart-wheel turned about upon the cummin: but the fitches are beaten out with a ſtaff, and the cummin with a rod.

28 Bread-corn is bruiſed; becauſe he will not ever be threſhing it, nor break it with the wheel of his cart, nor bruiſe it with his horſ-men.

29 This alſo cometh forth from the LORD of hoſts, which is wonderful in counſel, and excellent in working.

4 And thou ſhalt be brought down, and ſhalt ſpeak out of the [d] ground, and thy ſpeech ſhall be low out of the duſt, and thy voice ſhall be as of one that hath a familiar ſpirit, out of the ground, and thy ſpeech ſhall † whiſper out of the duſt.

6 Thou ſhalt be viſited of the LORD of hoſts with thunder, and with earthquake, and great noiſe, with ſtorm and tempeſt, and the flame of devouring fire.

7 ¶ And the [f] multitude of all the nations that fight againſt Ariel, even all that fight againſt her and her munition, and that diſtreſs her, ſhall be as a dream of a night-viſion.

8 It ſhall even be as when a hungry man dreameth, and behold he [g] eateth; but he awaketh, and his ſoul is empty: or as when a thirſty man dreameth, and behold he drinketh; but he awaketh, and behold he is faint, and his ſoul hath appetite: ſo ſhall the multitude of all the nations be, that fight againſt mount Zion.

9 ¶ [h] Stay your ſelves and wonder, ‡ cry ye out, and cry: they are drunken, but not with wine; they ſtagger, but not with ſtrong drink.

10 For the LORD hath poured out upon you the ſpirit of deep ſleep, and hath cloſed your eyes: the Prophets and your † rulers, the ſeers hath he covered.

11 And the viſion of all is become unto you as the words of a ‡ book that is ſealed, which men deliver to one that is learned, ſaying, Read this, I pray thee; and he ſaith, [i] I cannot, for it is ſealed:

12 And the book is delivered to him that is not learning, ſaying, Read this, I pray thee; and he ſaith, I am not learned.

13 ¶ Wherefore the Lord ſaid, Foraſmuch as this people [k] draw near me with their mouth, and with their lips do honour me, but have removed their heart far from me, and their [l] fear towards me is taught by the precept of men:

14 Therefore behold, † I will proceed to do a marvellous work amongſt this people, even a marvellous work and a wonder: * for the wiſdom of their wiſe men ſhall [m] periſh, and the underſtanding of their prudent men ſhall be hid.

1 The Prophet threatneth the people for their confidence in Egypt, 8 and contempt of God's word. 18 God's mercies towards his Church. 27 God's wrath, and the people's joy in the destruction of Assyria.

WO to the [a] rebellious children, saith the LORD, that take counsel, but not of me; and that [b] cover with a covering, but not of my spirit, that they may add sin to sin:

2 That walk to go down into Egypt, (and have not asked at my mouth) to strengthen themselves in the strength of Pharaoh, and to trust in the shadow of Egypt.

3 Therefore shall the strength of Pharaoh be your shame, and the trust in the shadow of Egypt your confusion.

4 For his [c] Princes were at Zion, and his Ambassadours came to Hanes.

6 The [d] burden of the beasts of the south: into the land of trouble and anguish, from whence come the young and old lion, the viper and fiery flying serpent, they will carry their riches upon the shoulders of young asses, and their treasures upon the bunches of camels, to a people that shall not profit them.

7 For the Egyptians shall help in vain, and to no purpose: therefore have I cried ‡ concerning [e] this, Their strength is to [f] sit still.

a Who contrary to their promise take not me for their protector, and contrary to my commandment, seek help at strangers.
b They seek shifts to cloke their doings, and not godly means.

11 Get you out of the way, turn aside out of the path, cause the holy One of Israel to cease from before us.

12 Wherefore thus saith the holy One of Israel, Because ye despise this word, and trust in ‡ oppression and perverseness, and [l] stay thereon:

13 Therefore this iniquity shall be to you as a breach ready to fall, swelling out in a high wall, whose breaking cometh suddenly at an instant.

14 And he shall break it as the breaking of † the potters vessel, that is broken in pieces, he shall not spare; so that there shall not be found in the bursting of it, [m] a sherd to take fire from the hearth, or to take water withal out of the pit.

15 For thus saith the [n] Lord GOD, the holy One of Israel, In returning and rest shall ye be saved, in quietness and in confidence shall be your strength; and ye would not.

16 But ye said, No, for we will flee upon [o] horses; therefore shall ye flee: and we will ride upon the swift; therefore shall they that pursue you, be swift.

17 One thousand shall flee at the rebuke of one: at the rebuke of five shall ye flee, till ye be left as ‡ a beacon upon the [p] top of a mountain, and as an ensign on an hill.

18 ¶ And therefore will the LORD wait that he may be gracious unto you, and therefore will he be exalted, that he may have [q] mercy upon you: for the LORD is a God of [r] judgment; * blessed are all they that wait for him.

19 For the people shall dwell in Zion at Jerusalem: thou shalt weep no more: he will be very gracious unto thee, at the voice of thy cry; when he shall hear it, he will answer thee.

20 And though the Lord give you the bread of adversity, and the water of ‡ affliction, yet shall not thy teachers be removed into a corner any more, but thine eyes shall see thy teachers:

21 And thine ears shall hear a word behind thee, saying, This is the way, [s] walk ye in it, when ye turn to the right hand, and when ye turn to the left.

22 Ye shall [t] defile also the covering of † thy graven images of silver, and the ornament of thy molten images of gold: thou shalt † cast them away as a menstruous cloth; thou shalt say unto it, [u] Get thee hence.

that thou shalt sow the ground withal, and bread of the increase of the earth, and it shall be fat and plenteous: in that day shall thy cattel feed in large pastures.

24 The oxen likewise and the young asses that ear the ground, shall eat ‡† clean provender which hath been winnowed with the shovel and with the fan.

25 And there shall be upon every [x] high mountain, and upon every † high hill, rivers and streams of waters, in the day of the great slaughter, when the towers fall.

26 Moreover, the light of the Moon shall be as the light of the [y] Sun, and the light of the Sun shall be seven-fold, as the light of seven days, in the day that the LORD bindeth up the breach of his people, and healeth the stroke of their wound.

27 ¶ Behold, the [z] name of the LORD cometh from far, burning with his anger, ‡and the burden thereof is † heavy: his lips are full of indignation, and his tongue as a devouring fire.

28 And his breath as an overflowing stream, shall reach to the midst of the neck, to sift the nations with the sive of [a] vanity: and there shall be a bridle in the jaws of the people, causing them to err.

29 Ye shall have a song as in the [b] night, when a holy solemnity is kept, and gladness of heart, as when one goeth with a pipe to come into the mountain of the LORD, to the † mighty One of Israel.

30 And the LORD shall cause † his glorious voice to be heard, and shall shew the lighting down of his arm, with the indignation of his anger, and with the flame of a devouring fire, with scattering, and tempest, and hailstones.

31 For through the voice of the LORD shall the Assyrian be beaten down which smote with [c] a rod.

33 For [g] Tophet is ordained † of old: yea, for the [h] King it is prepared, he hath made it [i] deep and large: the pile thereof is fire and much wood, the breath of the LORD, like a stream of brimstone, doth kindle it.

CHAP. XXXI.

1 The Prophet sheweth the cursed folly in trusting to Egypt, and forsaking of God. 6 He exhorteth to conversion. 8 He sheweth the fall of Assyria.

WO to them that go [a] down to Egypt for help, and stay on horses, and trust in chariots, because they are many; and in horse-men, because they are very strong: but they look not unto the holy One of Israel, neither [b] seek the LORD.

a There were two special causes why the Israelites should not joyn amity with the Egyptians: First, because the Lord had commanded them never to return thither, Deut. 17. 16. & 28. 68, lest they should forget the benefit of their redemption: and Secondly, Lest they should be corrupted with the superstition and idolatry of the Egyptians, and so forsake God, Jer. 2. 18.

b Seeking, That they forsake the Lord, that put their trust in worldly things: for they cannot trust in both.

2 Yet he also is [c] wise, and will bring evil, and will not † call back his words: but will arise against the house of the evil doers, and against the help of them that work iniquity.

3 Now the Egyptians are men and not God, and their horses flesh and not spirit; when the LORD shall stretch out his hand, both [d] he that helpeth shall fall, and he that is holpen shall fall down, and they all shall fail together.

4 For thus hath the LORD spoken unto me, Like as the lion and the young lion roaring on his prey, when a multitude of shepherds is called forth against him, he will not be afraid of their voice, nor abase himself for the ‡ noise of them: so shall the LORD of hosts [e] come down to fight for mount Zion, and for the hill thereof.

5 As birds flying, so will the LORD of hosts defend Jerusalem, defending also he will deliver it, and passing over he will preserve it.

6 ¶ Turn ye unto him from whom the children of Israel have [f] deeply revolted.

7 For in that day every man shall *[g] cast away his idols of silver, and † his idols of gold, which your own hands have made unto you for a sin.

8 ¶ [h] Then shall the Assyrian fall with the sword, not of a mighty man: and the sword, not of a mean man shall devour him: but he shall flee ‡ from the sword, and his young men shall be ‡ † discomfited.

9 And † he shall pass over to ‡ his [i] strong hold for fear, and his Princes shall be afraid of the ensign, saith the LORD, whose [k] fire is in Zion, and his furnace in Jerusalem.

c And knoweth their crafty enterprises, and will bring all to naught.

† Heb. remove.

d Meaning, Both the Egyptians and the Israelites.

e He sheweth the Jews, that if they would put their trust in him, he is so able, that none can resist his power: and so careful over them, as a bird over her young, which ever flieth about them for their defence: which similitude the Scripture useth in divers places, as Deut. 32. 11. Mat. 23. 37.

f He toucheth their conscience, that they might earnestly feel their grievous sins, and so truly repent, for as much as now they are almost drowned and past recovery.

* Chap. 2 20.

CHAP. XXXII.

1 The blessings of Christ's Kingdom. 9 Desolation is fore-shown. 15 Restauration is promised to succeed.

BEhold, a [a] King shall reign in righteousness, and Princes shall rule in [b] judgment.

2 And a man shall be as an hiding-place from the wind, and a covert from the tempest: as rivers of water in a dry place, as the shadow of a † great rock in a [c] weary land.

3 And the eyes of them that [d] see, shall not be dim; and the ears of them that hear, shall hearken.

4 The heart also of the † rash shall understand knowledge, and the tongue of the stammerers shall be ready to speak ‡ plainly.

5 * The vile person shall be no more called liberal, nor the churl said to be bountiful.

6 For the vile person will speak villany, and his heart will work iniquity, to practise hypocrisy, and to utter errour against the LORD, to make empty the soul of the hungry, and he will cause the drink of the thirsty to fail.

7 The instruments also of the churl are evil: he deviseth wicked devices to destroy the poor with lying words, even ‡ when the needy speaketh right.

a This Prophecy is of Hezekiah, who was a figure of Christ, and therefore it ought chiefly to be referred to him.

b By judgment and justice, is meant an upright government both in policy and religion.

c Where men are weary with travelling, for lack of water.

d He promiseth to give them true light, which is the pure doctrine of God's word, and understanding and zeal of the same, contrary to the throatnings against the wicked, Chap. 6. 9. & 29. 10.

10 Many † days and [g] years ſhall ye be troubled, ye careleſs women: [h] for the vintage ſhall fail, the gathering ſhall not come.

11 Tremble ye women that are at eaſe: be troubled ye careleſs ones: ſtrip ye and make ye bare, and gird ſackcloth upon your loyns.

12 They ſhall lament for the [i] teats, for † the pleaſant fields, for the fruitful vine.

13 Upon the land of my people ſhall come up thorns and briers, ‡ yea upon all the houſes of joy in the joyous city:

14 Becauſe the palaces ſhall be forſaken, the multitude of the city ſhall be left, the ‡ forts and towers ſhall be for dens for ever, a joy of wild aſſes, a paſture of flocks:

15 ¶ Until the [k] ſpirit be poured upon us from on high, & * the wilderneſs be a fruitful field, and the [l] fruitful field be counted for a foreſt.

16 Then judgment ſhall dwell in the wilderneſs, and righteouſneſs remain in the fruitful field.

17 And the work of righteouſneſs ſhall be peace, and the effect of righteouſneſs, quietneſs and aſſurance for ever.

18 And my people ſhall dwell in a peaceable habitation, and in ſure dwellings, and in quiet reſting-places:

19 When it ſhall hail, coming down on the foreſt; ‡ and the [m] city ſhall be low in a low place.

20 Bleſſed are ye that [n] ſow beſide all waters, that [o] ſend forth thither the feet of the ox and the aſs.

f He propheſieth of ſuch calamity to come, that they will not ſpare the women and children, and therefore willeth them to take heed and provide.

g Meaning, That the affliction ſhould continue long, and when one year was paſt, yet they ſhould look for new plagues.

h God will take from you the means and occaſions, which made you to contemn him: to wit, Abundance of worldly goods.

i By the teats he meaneth, the plentiful fields, whereby men are nouriſhed, as children with the teat: or, the mothers for ſorrow and leanneſs ſhall lack milk.

† Heb. the fields of deſire.

‡ Or, burning upon, &c.

‡ Or, chefts and watch-towers.

k That is, when the Church ſhall be reſtored: thus the Prophets after they have denounced God's judgments againſt the wicked, uſe to comfort the godly, leſt they ſhould faint.

* Chap. 29. 17.

l The field which is now fruitful, ſhall be but as a barren foreſt in compariſon of what it ſhall be then, as Chap. 29. 17. which ſhall be fulfilled in Chriſt's time, for then they that were before, as the barren wilderneſs, being regenerate, ſhall be fruitful, and they that had ſome beginning of godlineſs, ſhall bring forth fruits in ſuch abundance, that their former life ſhall ſeeme but as a wilderneſs, where no fruits are. ‡ Or, and the city ſhall be utterly abaſed. m They ſhall not need to build it in high places for fear of the enemy: for God will defend it, and turn away the ſtorms from hurting of their commodities. n That is, upon fat ground and well watered, which bringeth forth in abundance: or in places which before were covered with waters, and now made dry for your uſes. o The fields ſhall be ſo rank, that they ſhall ſend out their cattel to eat up the firſt crop, which abundance ſhall be ſigns of God's favour and love towards them.

CHAP. XXXVIII.

1 God's judgments againſt the enemies of the Church.
13 priviledges of the godly.

WO to thee that [a] ſpoileſt, and thou, waſt not ſpoiled; and dealeſt threacherouſly, and they dealt not treacherouſly with thee: when thou ſhalt [b] ceaſe to ſpoil, thou ſhalt be ſpoiled; and when thou ſhalt make an end to deal treacherouſly, they ſhall deal [c] treacherouſly with thee.

2 [d] O LORD, be gracious unto us, we have waited for thee: be thou their [e] arm every morning, our ſalvation alſo in the time of trouble.

3 At the noiſe of the tumult the [f] people fled: at the lifting up of [g] thy ſelf the nations were ſcattered.

4 And your ſpoil ſhall be gathered like the gathering of the caterpillar: as the running to and fro of [h] locuſts ſhall [i] he run upon them.

5 The LORD is exalted: for he dwelleth on high, he hath filled Zion with judgment and righteouſneſs.

6 And wiſdom and knowledge ſhall be the ſtability of thy [k] times, and ſtrength of † ſalvation: the fear of the LORD is his treaſure.

7 Behold, [l] their ‡ valiant ones ſhall cry without: the [m] Ambaſſadours of peace ſhall weep bitterly.

8 The [n] high-ways lie waſte, the way-faring man ceaſeth, he hath broken the covenant, he hath deſpiſed the cities, he regardeth no man.

9 The earth mourneth and languiſheth: Lebanon is aſhamed and ‡ hewn down: ° Sharon is like a wilderneſs, and Baſhan and Carmel ſhake off their fruits.

10 Now will I [p] riſe, ſaith the LORD: now will I be exalted, now will I lift up my ſelf.

11 [q] Ye ſhall conceive chaff, ye ſhall bring forth ſtubble: your breath as fire ſhall devour you.

12 And the people ſhall be as the burnings of lime: as thorns cut up ſhall they be burnt in the fire.

13 ¶ Hear ye that are [r] far off, what I have done; and ye that are near, acknowledge my might.

14 [s] The ſinners in Zion are afraid, fearfulneſs hath ſurprized the hypocrites: who among us ſhall dwell with the devouring fire? who amongſt us ſhall dwell with everlaſting burnings?

15 He that * walketh ‡ righteouſly, and ſpeaketh † uprightly, he that deſpiſeth the gain of ‡ oppreſſions, that ſhaketh his hands from holding of bribes, that ſtoppeth his ears from hearing of † bloud, and ſhutteth his eyes from ſeeing evil:

16 He ſhall dwell [t] on † high: his place of defence ſhall be the munitions of rocks, bread ſhall be given him, his waters ſhall be ſure.

17 Thine eyes ſhall [u] ſee the King in his beauty: they ſhall behold † the land that is very [x] far off.

18 Thine heart [y] ſhall meditate terrour: * Where is the ſcribe? where is the † receiver? where is he that counted the towers?

19 Thou ſhalt not ſee a fierce people, a people of a deeper ſpeech then thou canſt perceive; of a ‡ ſtammering tongue, that thou canſt not underſtand.

20 Look upon Zion the city of our ſolemnities: thine eyes ſhall ſee Jeruſalem a quiet habitation, a tabernacle that ſhall not be taken down, not one of the ſtakes thereof ſhall ever be removed, neither ſhall any of the cords thereof be broken.

21 But there the glorious LORD will be unto us a place † of broad [z] rivers and ſtreams;

2 Meaning, The enemies of the Church, as were the Chaldeans, and Aſſyrians: but chiefly of Sennacherib.

b When thine appointed time ſhall come, that God ſhall take away thy power: and that which thou haſt wrongfully gotten, ſhall be given to others, as Amos 5. 11.

c The Chaldeans ſhall do like to the Aſſyrians, as the Aſſyrians did to Iſrael: and the Medes and Perſians ſhall do the ſame to the Chaldeans.

d He declareth hereby what is the chief refuge of the faithful when troubles come, to pray and ſeek help of God. e Which helpedſt our fathers ſo ſoon as they called upon thee. f That is, The Aſſyrians fled before the army of the Chaldeans, or the Chaldeans for fear of the Medes and Perſians. g When thou, O Lord, didſt lift up thine arm to puniſh thine enemies.

h Ye that as locuſts deſtroyed with your number the whole world, ſhall have no ſtrength to reſiſt your enemies the Chaldeans, but ſhall be gathered on an heap and be deſtroyed.

CHAP. XXXVI.

1 Sennacherib invadeth Judah. 4 Rabshakeh sent by Sennacherib, by blasphemous perswasions soliciteth the people to revolt. 22 His words are told to Hezekiah.

NOw [] it came to pass in the [b] fourteenth year of King Hezekiah, that Sennacherib King of Assyria came up against all the defenced cities of Judah, and took them.

2 And the King of Assyria sent Rabshakeh, from Lachish to Jerusalem, unto King Hezekiah, with a great army: and he stood by the conduit of the upper pool in the high-way of the fullers field.

3 Then came forth unto him Eliakim Hilkiah's son, which was [c] over the house, and [d] Shebna the ‡ scribe, and Joah Asaph's son the recorder.

4 ¶ And [e] Rabshakeh said unto them, Say ye now to Hezekiah, Thus saith the great King, the King of Assyria, What confidence is this wherein thou trustest?

5 I say, sayest [f] thou, (but they are but † vain words) ‡ I have counsel and strength for war: now on whom dost thou trust, that thou rebellest against me?

6 Lo, thou trustest in the * staff of this broken reed, on Egypt; whereon if a man lean, it will go into his hand and pierce it: so is [g] Pharaoh King of Egypt to all that trust in him.

7 But if thou say to me, We trust in the LORD our God: is it not he, whose high places, and whose altars Hezekiah hath taken away, and said to Judah and to Jerusalem, Ye shall worship before this altar?

8 Now therefore give ‡ pledges, I pray thee, to my master the King of Assyria, and I will give thee two thousand horses, if thou be able on thy part to set riders upon them.

9 How then wilt thou turn away the face of one captain of the [h] least of my master's servants, and put thy trust on Egypt for chariots and for hors-men?

10 And am I now come up without the LORD against this land to destroy it? the LORD said unto me, [i] Go up against this land, and destroy it.

11 Then said Eliakim and Shebna and Joah unto Rabshakeh, [k] Speak, I pray thee, unto thy servants in the Syrian language, for we understand it: and speak not to us in the Jews language, in the ears of the people that are on the wall.

12 But Rabshakeh said, Hath my master sent me to thy master and to thee, to speak these words? hath he not sent me to the men that sit upon the wall, that they may eat their own dung, and drink their own piss with you?

13 Then Rabshakeh stood, and cried with a loud voice in the Jews language, and said, Hear ye the words of the great King, the King of Assyria.

14 Thus saith the King, let not Hezekiah deceive you, for he shall not be able to deliver you.

15 Neither let Hezekiah make you trust in the LORD, saying, The LORD will surely deliver us, this city shall not be delivered into the hand of the King of Assyria.

16 Hearken not to Hezekiah: for thus saith the King of Assyria, ‡ † [l] Make an agreement with me by a present, and come out to me: and eat ye every one of his vine, and every one of his fig-tree, and drink ye every one the waters of his own cistern:

17 Untill I come and take you away to a land like your own land, a land of corn and wine, a land of bread and vineyards.

18 Beware lest Hezekiah perswade you, saying, The LORD will deliver us. Hath any of the Gods of the nations delivered his land out of the hand of the King of Assyria?

19 Where are the Gods of [m] Hamath and Arphad? where are the Gods of Sepharvaim? and have they delivered Samaria out of my hand?

20 Who are they amongst all the Gods of these lands, that have delivered their land out of my hand, that the LORD should deliver Jerusalem out of my hand?

21 But they [n] held their peace, and answered him not a word: for the King's commandment was, saying, Answer him not.

22 ¶ Then came Eliakim the son of Hilkiah, that was over the houshold, and Shebna the scribe, and Joah the son of Asaph the recorder, to Hezekiah with their clothes rent, and told him the words of Rabshakeh.

CHAP. XXXVII.

1 Hezekiah mourning, sendeth to Isaiah to pray for them. 6 Isaiah comforteth them. 8 Sennacherib going to encounter Tirhakah, sendeth a blasphemous letter to Hezekiah. 14 Hezekiah's prayer. 21 Isaiah his prophecy of the pride and destruction of Sennacherib, and the good of Zion. 36 An Angel slayeth the Assyrians. 37 Sennacherib is slain at Nineveh by his own sons.

AND *it came to pass when king Hezekiah heard it, that he [a] rent his clothes, and covered himself with sackcloth, and went into the house of the LORD.

2 And he sent Eliakim, who was over the houshold, and Shebna the scribe, and the elders of the Priests covered with sackcloth, unto [b] Isaiah the Prophet the son of Amoz.

3 And they said unto him, Thus saith Hezekiah, This day is a day of trouble, and of rebuke, and of ‡ blasphemy: for the children are come to the [c] birth, and there is not strength to bring forth.

4 It may be the LORD thy God will [d] hear the words of Rabshakeh, whom the King of Assyria his master hath sent to reproach the living God, and will reprove the words which the LORD thy God hath heard: wherefore [e] lift up thy prayer for the remnant that is † left.

5 So the servants of King Hezekiah came to Isaiah.

6 ¶ And Isaiah said unto them, Thus shall ye say unto your master, Thus saith the LORD, Be not afraid of the words that thou hast heard, wherewith the servants of the King of Assyria have blasphemed me.

7 Behold,

* 2 King. 18. 13. 2 Chron. 32. 1.

a This history is rehearsed, because it is a seal and confirmation of the doctrine afore, both for the threatnings and promises: to wit, That God would suffer his Church to be afflicted, but at length would send deliverance.

b When he had abolished superstition, and idolatry, and restored religion; yet God would exercise his Church, to try their faith and patience.

c For he was now restored to his office, as Isaiah had prophesied, Chap. 22. &c.

d This declareth that there were few godly to be found in the Kings house, when he was driven to send this wicked man in such a weighty matter.

e Sennacherib's chief captain.

f He speaketh this in the person of Hezekiah, chiefly charging him that he put his trust in wit and eloquence, whereas his onely confidence was in the Lord.

† Heb. a word of lips.

‡ Or, but counsel and strength are for the war.

* Ezek. 29. 6, 7.

g Satan laboured to pull the godly King from one vain confidence to another: to wit, From trust in the Egyptians, whose power was weak and would deceive them, to yeild himself to the Assyrians, and so not to hope for any help of God.

h He reproacheth to Hezekiah his small power, which is not able to resist one of Sennacherib's least captains.

i Thus the wicked to deceive us, will pretend the name of the Lord: but we must try the spirits, whether they be of God or no.

k They were afraid, lest by his words he should have stirred the people against the King, and also pretended to grow to some appointment with him.

l Or, Seek my favour by a present.

l The Hebrew word signifieth, Blessing: whereby this wicked captain would have perswaded the people that their condition should be better under Sennacherib, then under Hezekiah.

m That is, of Antiochia in Syria, of the which these two other cities also were: whereby we see how every town had his peculiar idol, and how the wicked make God an idol, because they do not understand that God maketh them his scourge, and punisheth cities for sin.

n Not that they did not shew by evident signs, that they did detest his blasphemy, for they had now rent their clothes, but they knew it was in vain to use long reasoning with this infidel, whose rage they should have so much more provoked.

* 2 King. 19. 1. &c.

a In sign of grief and repentance.

b To have comfort of him by the word of God, that his faith might be confirmed, and so his prayer be more earnest: teaching hereby that in all dangers these two are the onely remedies, to seek unto God and his ministers.

c We are in as great sorrow as a woman that travaileth of child, and cannot be delivered.

d That is, will declare by effect that he hath heard it: for when God differeth to punish, it seemeth to the flesh, that he knoweth not the sin, or heareth not the cause.

e Declaring, That the ministers office doth not only stand in comforting by the word, but also in praying for the people.

7 Behold, I will ‡ ſend a blaſt upon him, and he ſhall hear [f] a rumour, and return to his own land, and I will cauſe him to fall by the ſword in his own land.

8 ¶ So Rabſhakeh returned, and found the King of Aſſyria warring againſt [g] Libnah: for he had heard that he was departed from Lachiſh.

9 And he heard ſay concerning Tirhakah King of Ethiopia, He is come forth to make war with thee: and when he heard it, he ſent meſſengers to Hezekiah, ſaying, 10 Thus ſhall ye ſpeak to Hezekiah King of Judah, ſaying, Let not thy God, in whom thou truſteſt, [h] deceive thee, ſaying, Jeruſalem ſhall not be given into the hand of the King of Aſſyria.

11 Behold, thou haſt heard what the Kings of Aſſyria have done to all lands by deſtroying them utterly, and ſhalt thou be delivered?

12 Have the Gods of the nations delivered them which my fathers have deſtroyed, as [i] Gozan, and [k] Haran, and Rezeph, and the children of Eden which were in Telaſſar?

13 Where is the King of Hamath, and the King of Arphad, and the King of the city of Sepharvaim, Hena and Ivah?

14 ¶ And Hezekiah received the letter from the hand of the meſſengers, and read it: and Hezekiah went up unto the houſe of the LORD, and ſpread it before the LORD.

15 And Hezekiah prayed unto the LORD, ſaying,

16 O LORD of hoſts, God of Iſrael, that [l] dwelleſt between the cherubims, thou art the God, even thou alone, of all the kingdoms of the earth, thou haſt made heaven and earth.

17 Incline thine ear, O LORD, and hear; open thine eyes, O LORD, and ſee; and hear all the words of Sennacherib, which hath ſent to reproach the living God.

18 Of a truth, LORD, the Kings of Aſſyria have laid waſte all the † nations and [m] their countrys, 19 And have † caſt their Gods into the fire: for they were no Gods, but the work of mens hands, wood and ſtone: therefore they have deſtroyed them.

20 Now therefore, O LORD our God, ſave us from his hand, that all the [n] kingdoms of the earth may know, that thou art the LORD, even thou onely.

21 ¶ Then Iſaiah the ſon of Amoz ſent unto Hezekiah, ſaying, Thus ſaith the LORD God of Iſrael, Whereas thou haſt prayed to me againſt Sennacherib King of Aſſyria:

22 This is the word which the LORD hath ſpoken concerning him, The [o] virgin the daughter of Zion hath deſpiſed thee, and laughed thee to ſcorn, the daughter of Jeruſalem hath ſhaken her head at thee.

23 Whom haſt thou reproached and blaſphemed? and againſt whom haſt thou exalted thy voice, and lifted up thine eyes on high? even againſt the [p] holy One of Iſrael.

24 † By thy ſervants haſt thou reproached the Lord, and haſt ſaid, By the multitude of my chariots am I come up to the height of the mountains to the ſide of Lebanon, and I will cut down † the tall cedars thereof, and the choice fir-trees thereof: and I will enter into the height of his border, and ‡ the foreſt of his Carmel.

25 I have digged [q] and drunk water, and with the ſole of my feet have I dried up all the rivers of the ‡ beſieged places.

26 ‡ Haſt thou not heard long ago, how I have done it, and of ancient times that I have [r] formed it? now have I brought it to paſs, that thou ſhouldeſt be to lay waſte defenced cities into ruinous heaps.

7 Therefore their inhabitants were † of ſmall power, they were diſmayed and confounded: they were as the graſs of the field, and as the green herb, as the graſs of the houſe-tops, and as corn [t] blaſted before it be grown up.

28 But I know thy ‡ abode, and thy going [t] out, and thy coming in, and thy rage againſt me.

29 Becauſe thy rage againſt me, and thy tumult is come up into mine ears: therefore will I put my [u] hook in thy noſe, and my bridle in thy lips, and I will turn thee back by the way by which thou [*] cameſt.

30 And this ſhall be a [y] ſign unto thee, Ye ſhall eat this year ſuch as groweth of it ſelf: and the [z] ſecond year that which ſpringeth of the ſame: and in the third year ſow ye and reap, and plant vineyards, and eat the fruit thereof.

31 And † the [a] remnant that is eſcaped of the houſe of Judah, ſhall again take root downward, and bear fruit upward.

32 For out of Jeruſalem ſhall go forth a remnant, and † they that eſcape out of mount Zion: the [*] zeal of the LORD of hoſts ſhall do this.

33 Therefore thus ſaith the LORD concerning the King of Aſſyria: He ſhall not come into this city, nor ſhoot an arrow there, nor come before it with ſhields, nor caſt a bank againſt it.

34 By the way that he came, by the ſame ſhall he return, and ſhall not come into this city ſaith the LORD.

35 For I will [*] defend this city to ſave it, for mine own ſake, and for my ſervant [b] David's ſake.

36 ¶ Then the [*] Angel of the LORD went forth, and ſmote in the camp of the Aſſyrians a hundred and fourſcore and five thouſand: and when they aroſe early in the morning, behold, they were all dead corpſes.

37 ¶ So Sennacherib King of Aſſyria departed, and went and returned, and dwelt at [c] Nineveh.

38 And it came to paſs as he was worſhip-

1 Hezekiah having received a meſſage of death, by prayer hath his life lengthned. 8 The Sun goeth ten degrees backward for a ſign of that promiſe. 9 His ſong of thankſgiving.

IN * [a] thoſe days was Hezekiah ſick unto death: and Iſaiah the Prophet the ſon of Amoz came unto him, and ſaid unto him, Thus ſaith the LORD, † Set thine houſe in order: for thou ſhalt die, and not live.

* 2 King. 20. 1. 2 Chron. 32. 24.
a Soon after that the Aſſyrians were ſlain: ſo that God will have the exerciſe of his children continual; that they may learn onely to depend upon God, and aſpire to the heavens.
† Heb. Give charge concerning thy houſe.

2 Then Hezekiah [b] turned his face toward the wall, and prayed unto the LORD,

3 And ſaid, Remember now, O LORD, I beſeech thee, how I have walked before thee in truth, and with a perfect heart, and have done that which is good in thy ſight: and Hezekiah wept † ſore.

b For his heart was touched with fear of God's judgment, ſeeing he had appointed him to die, ſo quickly after his deliverance from ſo great calamity, as one unworthy to remain in that eſtate, and alſo foreſeeing the great change, that ſhould come in the Church, foraſmuch as he left no ſon to reign after him: for as yet Manaſſeh was not born: and when he reigned, we ſee what a tyrant he was.
† Heb. with great weeping.

4 ¶ Then came the word of the LORD to Iſaiah, ſaying,

5 Go and ſay to Hezekiah, Thus ſaith the LORD, the God of David thy father, I have heard thy prayer, I have ſeen thy tears: behold, I will adde unto thy days fifteen years.

6 And I will deliver thee, and this city, [e] out of the hand of the King of Aſſyria: and I will defend this city.

e He doth not onely promiſe to prolong his life, but to give him reſt and quietneſs from the Aſſyrians, who might have renewed their army to revenge their former diſcomfiture.

7 And this ſhall be a [d] ſign unto thee from the LORD, that the LORD will do this thing that he hath ſpoken:

d For Hezekiah had asked for the confirmation of his faith, a ſign, as verſ. 22. & 2 King. 20. 8. whereunto he was moved by the ſingular motion of God's ſpirit.

8 ¶ Behold, I will bring again the ſhadow of the degrees which is gone down in the † [e] ſun-dial of Ahaz ten degrees backward. So the Sun returned ten degees, by which degrees it was gone down.

9 ¶ [f] The writing of Hezekiah King of Judah, when he had been ſick, and was recovered of his ſickneſs:

f He left this ſong of his lamentation and thankſgiving to all poſterity, as a monument of his own infirmity and thankful heart for God's benefits, as David did, Pſal. 51.

10 I ſaid in the [g] cutting off of my days, I ſhall go to the gates of the grave: I am deprived of the reſidue of my years.

g At what time it was told me, that I ſhould die.

11 I ſaid, I [h] ſhall not ſee the LORD, even the LORD in the land of the living: I ſhall behold man no more with the inhabitants of the world.

h I ſhall no more praiſe the Lord here in this Temple among the faithful: thus God ſuffereth his deareſt children to want his conſolation for a time that his grace afterward may the more appear when they feel their own weakneſs.

12 Mine age is departed, and is removed from me as a ſhepherd's tent: [i] I have cut off like a weaver my life: he will cut me off ‡ with pining ſickneſs: from day even to [k] night wilt thou make an end of me.

i By my ſin I have provoked God to take my life from me. ‡ Or, from the thrum. k That is, In one day, or ſhortly.

13 I reckoned till [l] morning, that as a lion ſo will he break all my bones: from day even to night wilt thou make an end of me.

l Over night I thought that I ſhould live till morning, but my pangs in the night perſwaded me the contrary: he ſheweth the horrour that the faithful have, when they apprehend God's judgments againſt their ſin.

14 Like a crane or a ſwallow, ſo did I [m] chatter: I did mourn as a dove: mine eyes fail with looking upward: O LORD, I am [n] oppreſſed, ‡ undertake for me.

m I was ſo oppreſt with ſorrow, that I was not able to utter my words, but onely ſo grone and ſigh. n Iſa was, with ſorrow and grief both of body and mind. ‡ Or, eaſe me.

15 What ſhall I ſay? [o] he hath both ſpoken unto me, and himſelf hath done it: I ſhall go [p] ſoftly all my years in the bitterneſs of my ſoul.

o God hath declared by his Prophet that I ſhall die, and therefore I will yeild unto him.
p I ſhall have no releaſe, but continual ſorrows while I live.

16 O Lord, by [q] theſe things men live, and in all theſe things is the life of my ſpirit: ſo wilt thou recover me, and make me to [r] live.

q Which thou promiſeſt and performeſt to thy ſervants.
r I no otherwiſe live then by the word proceeding out of thy mouth, Deut. 8. 3.

17 Behold, ‡ [s] for peace I had great bitterneſs; but † thou haſt in love to my ſoul delivered it from the pit of corruption: for thou haſt caſt all my ſins [t] behind thy back.

‡ Or, on my peace came great bitterneſs.
s Whereas I thought to have lived in reſt and eaſe, being delivered from mine enemy, I had grief upon grief.
† Heb. thou haſt loved my ſoul from the pit.
t He eſteemeth more the remiſſion of his ſins, and God's favour, then a thouſand lives.

18 For the [u] grave cannot praiſe thee, death can*not* celebrate thee: they that go down into the pit cannot hope for thy truth.

u Forſmuch as God hath placed man in this world to glorify him, the godly take it as a ſign of his wrath, when their days were ſhortned, either becauſe that they ſeemed unworthy for their ſins to live longer in his ſervice: or for their zeal to God's glory, ſeeing that there are ſo few in earth that do regard it, Pſal. 6. 5. & 115. 17.

19 The living, the living, he ſhall praiſe thee, as I do this day: the father to the * children ſhall make known thy truth.

x All poſterity ſhall acknowledge, and the fathers according to their duty toward the children ſhall inſtruct them in thy grace and mercies toward me.

20 The LORD was ready to ſave me: therefore we will ſing my ſongs to the ſtringed inſtruments, all the days of our [y] life, in the houſe of the LORD.

y He ſheweth what is the uſe of the congregation and Church, to wit, To give the Lord thanks for his benefits.

4 Then ſaid he, What have [d] they ſeen in thine houſe? And Hezekiah anſwered, All that is in mine houſe have they ſeen: there is nothing among my treaſures that I have not ſhewed them.

d He asked him of the particulars to make him underſtand the craft of the wicked, which he before being overcome with their flattery, and blinded with ambition, could not ſee.

5 Then ſaid Iſaiah to Hezekiah, Hear the word of the LORD of hoſts.

6 Behold, the days come, that all that is in thine houſe, and that which thy fathers have laid up in ſtore until this day, ſhall be [e] carried to Babylon: nothing ſhall be left, ſaith the LORD.

e By the grievouſneſs of the puniſhment is declared how greatly God deteſteth ambition and vain glory.

7 And of thy ſons that ſhall iſſue from thee, which thou ſhalt beget, ſhall they take away; and they ſhall be [f] eunuchs in the palace of the King of Babylon.

7 The graſs withereth, the flower fadeth; becauſe the [l] ſpirit of the LORD bloweth upon it: ſurely the people is graſs.

8 The graſs withereth, the flower fadeth: but the * [m] word of our God ſhall ſtand for ever.

9 ¶ ‡ O Zion, that bringeſt good tidings, get thee up into the high [n] mountain: ‡ O Jeruſalem, that bringeſt good tidings, lift up thy voice with ſtrength: lift it up, be not afraid: ſay unto the cities of Judah, Behold [o] your God.

10 Behold, the Lord GOD will come ‡ with ſtrong hand, and his [p] arm ſhall rule for him: behold, * his reward is with him, and ‡ his work before him.

11 He ſhall * feed his flock like a ſhepherd: he ſhall gather the lambs with his arm, and carry them in his boſome: and ſhall gently lead thoſe ‡ that are with [q] young.

12 ¶ Who hath meaſured the waters in the [r] hollow of his hand? and meted the duſt of the earth in † a meſure, and weighed the mountains in ſcales, and the hills in a balance?

13 * Who hath directed the ſpirit of the LORD, or being † his [ſ] counſeller hath taught him?

14 With whom took he counſel, and who † inſtructed him, and taught him in the path of judgment, and taught him knowledge, and ſhewed to him the way of † underſtanding?

15 Behold, the nations are as a drop of a bucket, and are counted as the ſmall duſt of the balance: behold, he taketh up the iſles as a very little thing.

16 And Lebanon is not ſufficient to burn, nor the beaſts thereof ſufficient for a burnt-offering.

17 All nations before him are * † nothing, and they are counted to him leſs then nothing, and vanity.

18 ¶ To whom then [u] will ye * liken God? or what likeneſs will ye compare unto him?

19 The workman melteth a graven image, and the goldſmith ſpreadeth it over with gold, and caſteth ſilver chains.

20 He that † [x] is ſo impoveriſhed that he hath no oblation, chooſeth a tree that will not rot; he ſeeketh unto him a cunning workman to prepare a graven image that ſhall not be moved.

21 Have ye not known? have ye not [y] heard? hath it not been told you from the beginning? have ye not underſtood from the [z] foundations of the earth?

22 ‡ It is he that ſitteth upon the circle of the earth, and the inhabitants thereof are as graſhoppers; that * ſtretcheth out the heavens as a curtain, and ſpreadeth them out as a tent to dwell in:

23 That bringeth the * Princes to nothing; he maketh the Judges of the earth vanity.

24 Yea they ſhall not be planted, yea they ſhall not be ſown, yea their ſtock ſhall not take root in the earth: and he ſhall alſo * blow upon them, and they ſhall wither, and the whirlwind ſhall take them away as ſtubble.

25 To whom then will ye liken me, or ſhall I be equal? ſaith the holy One.

26 Lift up your eyes on high, and behold who hath created theſe things, that bringeth out [b] their hoſt by number: he calleth them all by names, by the greatneſs of his might, for that he is ſtrong in power, not one faileth.

27 Why ſayeſt thou, O Jacob, and ſpeakeſt, O Iſrael, [c] My way is hid from the LORD, and my judgment is paſſed over from my God?

28 ¶ Haſt thou not known? haſt thou not heard, that the everlaſting God, the LORD, the creatour of the [d] ends of the earth fainteth not, neither is weary? * there is no ſearching of his [e] underſtanding.

29 He giveth power to the faint; and to them that have no might, he increaſeth ſtrength.

30 [f] Even the youths ſhall faint and be weary, and the young men ſhall utterly fall.

31 But they that wait upon the LORD ſhall † renew their ſtrength: they ſhall mount up with wings as eagles, they ſhall run and not be weary, and they ſhall walk and not faint.

Chap. XLI.

1 God expostulateth with his people, about his mercies to the Church, 10 about his promises, 21 and about the vanity of idols.

KEep [a] silence before me, O islands, and let the people [b] renew their strength: let them come near, then let them speak: let us come near together to judgment.

2 Who raised up †the [c] righteous man from the east, called him to his foot, gave the nations before him, and made him rule over Kings? he gave them as the dust to his sword, and as driven stubble to his bow.

3 He pursued them and passed †safely; even by the way that he had not gone with his feet.

4 Who hath wrought and done it, calling the [d] generations from the beginning? I the LORD the * [e] first, and with the last, I am he.

5 The isles saw it, and [f] feared, the ends of the earth were afraid, drew near, and [g] came.

6 They helped every one his neighbour, and every one said to his brother, †[h] Be of good courage.

7 So the carpenter encouraged the ‡goldsmith, and he that smootheth with the hammer, ‡him that smote the anvil, ‡saying, It is ready for the sodering: and he fastned it with nails that it should not be moved.

8 But thou Israel art my [i] servant, Jacob whom I have * chosen, the seed of Abraham my * friend.

9 Thou whom I have taken from the ends of the earth, & called thee from the chief men thereof, and said unto thee, Thou art my servant, I have chosen thee, & not cast thee away.

10 ¶ Fear thou not, for I am with thee: be not dismayed, for I am thy God: I will strengthen thee, yea I will help thee, yea I will uphold thee with the [k] right hand of my righteousness.

11 Behold, all they that were incensed against thee, shall be * ashamed and confounded: they shall be as nothing, and † they that strive with thee, shall perish.

12 Thou shalt seek them, and shalt not find [l] them, even †them that contended with thee: †they that war against thee shall be as nothing, and as a thing of nought.

13 For I the LORD thy God will hold thy right hand, saying unto thee, Fear not, I will help thee.

14 Fear not, thou [m] worm Jacob, and ye ‡men of Israel: I will help thee, saith the LORD, and thy redeemer, the holy One of Israel.

15 Behold, I will make thee a new sharp threshing-instrument having † teeth: thou shalt thresh the [n] mountains, and beat them small, and shalt make the hills as chaff.

16 Thou shalt fan them, and the wind shall carry them away, and the whirlwind shall scatter them: and thou shalt rejoyce in the LORD, and shalt glory in the holy One of Israel.

17 When the [o] poor and needy seek water and there is none, and their tongue faileth for thirst, I the LORD will hear them, I the God of Israel will not forsake them.

18 I will open * rivers in high places, and fountains in the midst of the valleys: I will make the * wilderness a pool of water, and the [p] dry land springs of water.

19 I will plant in the wilderness the cedar, the shittah-tree, and the myrtle, and the oyl-tree: I will set in the desert the fir-tree, and the pine, and the box-tree together:

20 That they may see, and know, and consider, and understand together, that the hand of the LORD hath done this, and the holy One of Israel [q] hath created it.

22 Let them bring them forth, and shew us what shall happen: let them shew the former things what they be, that we may † consider them, and know the latter end of them; or declare us things for to come.

23 [s] Shew the things that are to come hereafter, that we may know that ye are Gods: yea, do good or do evil, that we may be dismayed, and behold it together.

24 Behold, ye are ‡of nothing, and your work ‡of nought; an abomination is he that chooseth you.

25 [t] I have raised up one from the north, and he shall come: from the rising of the Sun shall [u] he call upon my name, and he shall come upon [x] Princes as upon morter, and as the potter treadeth clay.

27 The first shall say to Zion, Behold, behold [z] them, and I will give to Jerusalem [a] one that bringeth good tidings.

6 I the LORD have called thee in [l] righteousness, and will [m] hold thine hand, and will keep thee, and give thee for [n] a covenant of the people, for * a light of the Gentiles:

8 I am the LORD, that is my name, and my *° glory will I not give to another, neither my praise to graven images.

9 Behold, the former things are [p] come to pass, and new things do I declare: before they spring forth I tell you of them.

10 Sing unto the LORD a new song, and his praise from the end of the earth: ye that go down to the Sea, and † all that is therein; the isles and the inhabitants thereof.

11 Let the wilderness, and the cities thereof lift up their voice, the villages that [q] Kedar doth inhabit, let the inhabitants of the rock sing, let them shout from the top of the mountains.

12 Let them give glory unto the LORD, and declare his praise in the islands.

13 The LORD shall go forth as [r] a mighty man, he shall stir up jealousie like a man of war: he shall cry; yea, roar; he shall ‡ prevail against his enemies.

14 I have long time holden my peace, I have been still and refrained my self: now will I cry like [s] a travailing woman, I will destroy and † devour at once.

15 I will make waste mountains and hills, and dry up all their herbs, and I will make the rivers islands, and I will dry up the pools.

16 And I will bring the [t] blind by a way that they knew not, I will lead them in paths that they have not known: I will make darkness light before them, and crooked things † straight. These things will I do unto them, and not forsake them.

17 ¶ They shall be * turned back, they shall be greatly ashamed that trust in graven images, that say to the molten images, Ye are our Gods.

19 Who is blind but [u] my servant? or deaf, as my [x] messenger that I sent? who is blind as he that is [y] perfect, and blind as the LORD's servant?

20 Seeing many things, * but thou observest not: opening the ears, but he heareth not.

21 The LORD is well pleased for his righteousness sake, he will magnify the Law, and make ‡ it honourable.

22 But this is a people [z] robbed and spoiled, ‡ they are all of them snared in holes, and they are hid in prison-houses: they are for a prey, and none delivereth; for † a spoil, and none saith, [a] Restore.

23 Who among you will give ear to this? who will hearken, and hear † for the [b] time to come?

1 God comforteth the Church with his promises. 7 The vanity of idols, 9 and folly of idol-makers. 21 He exhorteth to praise God for his redemption and omnipotency.

YEt now hear, * O Jacob my servant, and Israel whom I have chosen.

2 Thus saith the LORD that made thee, and formed [a] thee from the womb, which will help thee, Fear not, O Jacob, my servant, and thou Jesurun, [b] whom I have chosen.

3 For I will * pour water upon him that is [c] thirsty, and floods upon the dry ground: I will pour my Spirit upon thy seed, and my blessing upon thine offspring:

4 And they [d] shall spring up as among the grass, as willows by the water-courses.

5 One shall say, I am the LORD's: and another [e] shall call himself by the name of Jacob: and another shall subscribe with his hand unto the LORD, and surname himself by the name of Israel.

6 Thus saith the LORD the King of Israel, and his redeemer the LORD of hosts: [f] I am the first, and I am the last, and besides me there is no God.

7 And who, as I, shall call, and shall [g] declare it, and set [h] it in order for me, since I appointed the [i] ancient people? and the things that are coming, and shall come? let [k] them shew unto them.

8 Fear ye not, neither be afraid: have not I told thee from that time, and have declared it? [l] ye are even my witnesses. Is there a God besides me? yea, * there is no † God, I know not any.

9 ¶ They that make a graven image are all of them vanity, and their † [m] delectable things shall not profit, and they are their own witnesses, * they see not, nor know; [n] that they may be ashamed.

10 Who hath formed [o] a God, or molten a graven image that is [p] profitable for nothing?

11 Behold, all his [q] fellows shall be * ashamed: and the workmen, they are of men: let them all be gathered together, let them [r] stand up; yet they shall fear, and they shall be ashamed together.

12 * The smith † with the tongs both worketh in the coals, and fashioneth it with hammers, and worketh it with the strength of his arms: yea, he is [s] hungry, and his strength faileth; he drinketh no water, and is faint.

13 The carpenter stretcheth out his rule: he marketh it out with a line: he fitteth it with planes, and he marketh it out with the compass, and maketh it after the figure of a man,

CHAP. XLV.

1 God calleth Cyrus for his Churches sake. 5 By his ommipotency he challengeth obedience. 20 He convinceth the idols of vanity, by his saving power.

THus saith the LORD to his [a] anointed, to Cyrus, whose [b] right hand I ‡ have holden, to [c] subdue nations before him: and I will loose the loyns of Kings to open before him the two-leaved gates, and the gates shall not be shut.

2 I will go before thee, and [d] make the crooked places straight: I will break in pieces the gates of brass, and cut in sunder the bars of iron.

3 And I will give thee the treasures of darkness, and hidden riches of secret places, that thou [e] mayest know, that I the LORD, which call thee by thy name, am the God of Israel.

4 For Jacob my servant's [f] sake, and Israel mine elect, I have even called thee by thy name: I have surnamed thee, though thou hast not known me.

5 ¶ I * am the LORD, and there is none else, there is no God besides me: I [g] girded thee, though thou hast not known me;

6 That they may know from the rising of the Sun, and from the west, that there is none besides me, I am the LORD, and there is none else.

7 I form the [h] light, and create darkness: I make peace, and create evil: I the LORD do all these things.

8 Drop down, ye heavens, from above, and let the skies pour down [i] righteousness: let the earth open, and let them bring forth salvation: and let righteousness spring up together: I the LORD have [k] created it.

9 [l] Wo unto him that striveth with his maker: let the potsherd strive with the potsherds of the earth: * shall the clay say to him that fashioneth it, What makest thou? or thy work, He hath [m] no hands?

11 Thus saith the LORD, the holy One of Israel, and his maker, Ask me of [n] things to come concerning my sons, and concerning the work of my hands command ye me.

12 I have made the earth, and created man upon it: I, even my hands have stretched out the heavens, and all their [o] host have I commanded.

y The Prophet giveth here an answer to all them that wonder, how it is possible that any should be so blind to commit such abomination, saying, That God hath blinded their eyes, and hardned their heart: or it may be understood of the idol in the heart, which maketh such blindness and madness in them.

16 They shall be ashamed, and also confounded all of them: they shall go to confusion together that are * makers of idols.

17 But Israel shall be saved in the LORD with an everlasting salvation: ye shall not be ashamed nor confounded world without end.

18 For thus saith the LORD that created the heavens, God himself that formed the earth and made it, he hath established it, he created it not in vain, he formed it to be u inhabited, I am the LORD, and there is none else.

19 I have not spoken in * secret, in a x dark place of the earth: I said not unto the seed of Jacob, Seek ye me in vain: I the LORD speak righteousness, I declare things that are right.

20 ¶ Assemble your selves and come: draw near together y ye that are escaped of the nations: they have no knowledge that set up the wood of their graven image, and pray unto a God that cannot save.

21 Tell ye, and bring them near, yea, let them take counsel together: who hath declared this from ancient time? who hath told it from that time? have not I the LORD? and there is no God else beside me, a just God and a saviour, there is none beside me.

22 z Look unto me, and be ye saved all the ends of the earth: for I am God, and there is none else.

23 I have sworn by my self, the word is gone out of my mouth in a righteousness, and shall not return, that unto me b every knee shall bowe, every tongue shall swear.

24 ‡Surely, shall one c say, In the LORD have I † righteousness and strength: even to him shall men come, and all that are d incensed against him shall be ashamed.

4 Because I knew that [e] thou art † obstinate, and thy neck is an iron sinew, and thy brow brass;

5 I have even from the beginning declared it to thee; before it came to pass I shewed [f] it thee: lest thou shouldest say; Mine idol hath done them, and my graven image, and my molten image hath commanded them.

6 Thou hast heard, see all this; and will not ye [g] declare it? I have shewed thee new things from this time, even hidden things, and thou didst not know them.

7 They are created now, and not from the beginning, even before the day when thou heardest them not; lest thou shouldest say, Behold, I [h] knew them.

8 Yea thou heardest not, yea thou knewest not, yea from that time that thine ear was not opened: for I knew that thou wouldst deal very treacherously, and wast called a transgressour from the [i] womb.

9 ¶ For my name's sake will I defer mine anger, and for my praise will I refrain for thee, [k] that I cut thee not off.

10 Behold, I have refined thee, [l] but not ‡ with silver; I have [m] chosen thee in the furnace of affliction.

11 For mine own sake, even for mine own sake will I do it; for how should my name be [n] polluted? and *[o] I will not give my glory unto another.

12 ¶ Hearken unto me, O Jacob, and Israel, my called, [p] I am he, I am the first, I also am the last.

13 Mine hand also hath laid the foundation of the earth, ‡ and my right hand hath spanned the heavens: when I call unto them they [q] stand up together.

15 I, even I have spoken, yea I have called him: I have brought him, and he shall make his way prosperous.

16 ¶ Come ye near unto me, hear ye [s] this, I have not spoken in secret from the beginning, from the time that it was, there am I: and now the Lord GOD and his spirit hath [t] sent me.

17 Thus saith the LORD, thy redeemer, the holy One of Israel, I am the LORD thy God which teacheth thee to [u] profit, which leadeth thee by the way that thou shouldest go.

18 O that thou hadst hearkned to my commandments: then had thy peace been as a river, and thy righteousness as the waves of the sea;

19 Thy seed also had been as the sand, and the offsprings of thy bowels like the gravel thereof; [x] his name should not have been cut off, nor destroyed from before me.

LIsten, O Isles, unto me, & hearken ye people from far, The LORD, hath called [a] me from the [b] womb, from the bowels of my mother hath he made mention of my name.

2 And he hath made my mouth like a sharp [c] sword, in the shadow of his hand hath he [d] hid me, and made me a polished shaft, in his quiver hath he hid me,

3 And said unto me, Thou art my servant, O [e] Israel, in whom I will be glorified.

4 Then I said, I have [f] laboured in vain, I have spent my strength for nought, and in vain, yet surely my judgment is with the LORD, and ‡ my work with my God.

5 ¶ And now, saith the LORD that formed me from the womb to be his servant, to bring Jacob again to him, ‡ Though Israel be not gathered, [g] yet shall I be glorious in the eyes of the LORD and my God shall be my strength.

6 And he said, ‡ It is a light thing that thou shouldest be my servant to raise up the tribes of Jacob, and to restore the ‡ preserved of Israel: I will also give [h] thee for a light to the Gentiles, that thou mayest be my salvation unto the end of the earth.

7 Thus saith the LORD the redeemer of Israel, and his holy One, ‡ to him whom man despiseth, to him whom the nation abhorreth, to a [i] servant of rulers, Kings shall see and [k] arise, Princes also shall worship, because of the LORD, that is faithful, and the holy One of Israel, and he shall choose thee.

8 Thus saith the LORD, [l] In an acceptable time have I heard thee, and in a day of salvation have I helped thee: and I will preserve thee, and [m] give thee for a covenant of the people, to ‡ [n] establish the earth, to cause to inherit the desolate heritages;

9 That thou mayest say * to the [o] prisoners, Go forth; to them that are in darkness. Shew your selves: they shall feed in the ways, and their [p] pastures shall be in all high places.

10 They shall not * hunger nor thirst, neither shall the heat nor Sun smite them: for he that hath mercy [q] on them shall lead them, even by the springs of water shall he guid them.

11 And I will make all my mountains a way, and my high-ways shall be exalted.

12 Behold, these shall come from far: and lo, these from the north and from the west, and these from the land of [r] Sinim.

13 ¶ Sing, O [s] heavens, and be joyful, O earth, and break forth into singing, O mountains: for the LORD hath comforted his people, and will have mercy upon his afflicted.

14 But Zion said, The LORD [t] hath forsaken me, and my Lord hath forgotten me.

15 Can a woman forget her sucking child, † that she should not have compassion on the son of her womb? yea, they may forget, yet will I not forget thee.

16 Behold, I have gaven thee upon the palms of my [u] hands, thy [x] walls are continually before me.

17 [y] Thy children shall make haste; thy destroyers, and they that made thee waste shall go forth of thee.

18 ¶ * Lift up thine eyes round about, and behold: all these gather themselves together and come to thee: as I live, saith the LORD, thou shalt surely clothe thee with them all, as with an ornament, and bind them on thee as a bride doth.

19 For thy waste and thy desolate places, and the land of thy destruction shall even now be too narrow by reason of the inhabitants, and they that [z] swallowed thee up shall be far away.

20 The children which thou shalt have, after thou hast lost the other, shall say again in thine ears, The place is too strait for me: give place to me that I may dwell.

21 Then shalt thou say in thine heart, Who hath begotten me these, seeing I have lost my children, and am desolate, a captive, and removing to and fro? and who hath brought up these? Behold, I was left alone, these, where had they been?

22 Thus saith the Lord GOD, Behold, I will lift up mine hand to the [a] Gentiles, and set up my standard to the people: and they shall bring thy sons in their † arms, & thy daughters shall be carried upon their shoulders.

* Gal. 4. 27.

* SIng, O [a] barren, thou that didst not bear; break forth into singing, and cry aloud thou that didst not travail with child: for more are the children of the [b] desolate, then the children of the married wife, saith the LORD.

a After that he hath declared the death of Christ, he speaketh to the Church, because it should feel the fruit of the same, and calleth her barren, because that in the captivity she was a widow without hope to have any children.
b The Church in this her affliction and captivity shall bring forth more children, then when she was at liberty: or, this may be spoken by admiration, considering the great number that should come of her. Her deliverance under Cyrus was as her childhood, and therefore this was accomplished, when she came to her age, which was under the Gospel.

‡ Or, have made him hide.

3 ¶ For your hands are defiled with [a] bloud, and your fingers with iniquity, your lips have spoken lies, your tongue hath muttered perverseness.

a Read Chap. 1. 15.

4 None calleth for justice, nor any [b] pleadeth for truth: they trust in vanity, and speak lies; * they conceive mischief, and [c] bring forth iniquity.

h We are altogether destitute of counsel, and can find no end of our miseries.

11 We roar all like [i] bears, and mourn sore like doves: we look for judgement, but there is none; for salvation, but it is far off from us.

i We express our sorrows by outward sings, some more, some less.

12 For our transgressions are multiplied before thee, and our [k] sins testify against us: for our transgressions are with us, and as for our iniquities, we know them:

1 The glory of the Church in the abundant access of the Gentiles, 15 and the great blessing after a short affliction.

ARise, ‡ shine, for thy [a] light is come, and the glory of the LORD is risen upon thee.

2 For behold, the darkness shall cover the [b] earth, and gross darkness the people: but the LORD shall arise upon thee, and his glory shall be seen upon thee.

b Signifying, that all men are in darkness, till God give them the light of his Spirit, and that this light shineth to none but to those that are in his Church.

3 And the * Gentiles shall come to [c] thy light, and Kings to the brightness of thy rising.

* Revel. 21. 24.

10 And the sons of strangers shall build up thy walls, and their [l] Kings shall minister unto thee: for in my wrath I smote thee, but in my favour have I had mercy on thee.

l Meaning, Cyrus and his successors, but chiefly this is accomplished in them that serve Christ, being converted by his Gospel.

11 Therefore thy gates * shall be open continually, they shall not be shut day nor night, that men may bring unto thee the ‡ forces of the Gentiles, and that their Kings may be brought.

* Revel. 21. 25.

12 For the nation and [m] Kingdom that will not serve thee, shall perish: yea those nations shall be utterly wasted.

m He sheweth that God hath given all power and authority here in earth for the use of his Church, and that they which will not serve and profit the same, shall be destroyed.

13 The [n] glory of Lebanon shall come unto thee, the fir-tree, the pine-tree, and the box together, to beautify the place of my sanctuary, and I will make the place of my [o] feet glorious.

n There is nothing so excellent which shall not serve the necessity of the Church.
o Signifying, that God's Majesty is not included in the Temple, which is but the place for his feet, that we may learn to rise up to the heavens.

14 The sons also of them that afflicted thee, shall come bending unto thee; and all they that despised thee, shall * [p] bowe themselves down at the soles of thy feet; and they shall call thee, The city of the LORD, the Zion of the holy one of Israel.

16 Thou shalt also suck the milk of the Gentiles, and shall suck the [q] breast of Kings, and thou shalt know that I the LORD am thy saviour and thy redeemer, the mighty One of Jacob.

q Both high and low shall be ready to help and succour thee.

17 For brass I will bring gold, and for iron I will bring silver, and for wood brass, and for stones iron: I will also make thy officers [r] peace, and thine exactours righteousness.

r Thy Governours shall love thee and seek thy wealth and prosperity.

18 Violence shall no more be heard in thy land, wasting nor destruction within thy borders; but thou shalt call thy walls [s] salvation, and thy gates praise.

s Meaning, not a temporal felicity, but a spiritual, which is fulfilled in Christ's Kingdom.

19 * The Sun shall be no more thy light by day, neither for brightness shall the [t] Moon give light unto thee: but the LORD shall be unto thee an everlasting light, and thy God thy glory.

* Rev. 21. 23. & 22. 5.
t Signifying, that all worldly means shall cease, and that Christ shall be all in all, as Rev. 21. 22. & 22. 5.

20 Thy Sun shall no more go down, neither shall thy Moon withdraw it self: for the LORD shall be thine everlasting light, and the days of thy mourning shall be ended.

21 Thy people also shall be all righteous: they shall inherit the land for ever, the [u] branch of my planting, the work of my hands, that I may be glorified.

u The children of the Church.

22 A little one shall become [x] a thousand, and a small one a strong nation: I the LORD will hasten it in his time.

x Meaning, that the Church should be miraculously multiplied.

1 The office of Christ. 4 The forwardness, 7 and blessings of the faithful.

THE * Spirit of the Lord GOD is [a] upon me, because the LORD hath anointed me to preach good tidings unto the meek, he hath sent me to bind up the [b] broken-hearted, to proclaim liberty to the [c] captives, and the opening of the prison to them that are bound:

* Luke 4. 18.
a This appertaineth to all the Prophets and Ministers of God, but chiefly to Christ, of whose abundant graces every one receiveth according as it pleaseth him to distribute.
b To them that are lively touched with the feeling of their sins.
c Which are in the bondage of sin.

2 To proclaim the [d] acceptable year of the LORD, and the day of [e] vengeance of our God, to comfort all that mourn:

d The time when it pleased God to shew his good favour to man, which S. Paul calleth the fulness of time, Gal. 4. 4.
e For when God delivereth his Church, he punisheth his enemies.

3 To appoint unto them that mourn in Zion, to give unto them beauty for [f] ashes, the oyl of joy for mourning, the garment of praise for the spirit of heaviness, that they might be called [g] trees of righteousness, the planting of the LORD, that he might be glorified.

f Which was the sign of mourning.
g Trees that bring forth good fruits, as Matth. 3. 8.

4 ¶ And they shall * build the old wasts, they shall raise up the former desolations, and they shall repair the waste cities, the desolation of many [h] generations.

5 And strangers shall [i] stand and feed your flocks, and the sons of the alien shall be your plowmen, and your vine-dressers.

i They shall be ready to serve you in all your necessities.

6 But ye shall be named the [k] Priests of the LORD: men shall call you the ministers of our God: * ye shall eat the [l] riches of the Gentiles, and in their glory shall you boast your selves.

n That is, the Jews.
o To wit, of the Gentiles.
p Whereas the Gentiles had dominion over the Jews in times past, now they shall have double authority over them, and possess twice so much.

8 For I the LORD love judgment, I hate [q] robbery for burnt-offering, and I will direct their work in truth, and I will make an everlasting covenant with them.

q I will not receive their offering, which are extortioners, deceivers, hypocrites, or, that deprive me of my glory.

9 And [r] their seed shall be known among the Gentiles, and their offs-pring among the people: all that see them shall acknowledge them, that they are the seed which the LORD hath blessed.

r That is, of thy Church.

10 [s] I will greatly rejoyce in the LORD, my soul shall be joyful in my God, for he hath clothed me with the garments of salvation, he hath covered me with the robe of righteousness, as a bridegroom † decketh himself with ornaments, and as a bride adorneth her self with her jewels.

s He sheweth what shall be the affection, when they feel this their deliverance.
† Heb. decketh as a Priest.

3 When thou didst terrible things which we looked not for, thou camest down, the mountains flowed down at thy presence.

4 For since the beginning of the world * men have not [c] heard, nor perceived by the ear, neither hath the eye ‡ seen, O God, besides thee, what he hath prepared for him that waiteth for him.

5 ¶ Thou meetest him [d] that rejoyceth, and worketh righteousness, those that remember thee in thy [e] ways: behold, thou art wroth, for we have sinned: in [f] those is continuance, and we [g] shall be saved.

7 And there is none that calleth upon thy name, that stirreth up himself to take hold of thee: for thou hast hid thy face from us, and hast † consumed us, because of our iniquities.

8 But now, O LORD, thou art our father: we are the [i] clay, and thou our potter, and we all are the work of thy hand.

9 ¶ Be not * wroth [k] very sore, O LORD, neither remember iniquity for ever: behold, see we beseech thee, we are all thy people.

10 [l] Thy holy cities are a wilderness, Zion is a wilderness, Jerusalem a desolation.

11 Our holy and our beautiful house, [m] where our fathers praised thee, is burnt up with fire: and all our pleasant things are laid waste.

12 Wilt thou refrain thy self [n] for these things, O LORD? wilt thou hold thy peace, and afflict us very sore?

[e] They considered thy great mercies.
[f] That is, in thy mercies, which he calleth, the ways of the Lord.
[g] Thou wilt have pity upon us.
[h] We are justly punished and brought into captivity, because we have provoked thee to anger, and though we would excuse our selves, yet our righteousness and best virtues are before thee as vile clouts, or, (as same read) like the menstruous clothes of a woman.
* Psal. 90. 5, 6.
† Heb. melted.
[i] Albeit, O Lord, by thy just judgment thou mayest utterly destroy us, as the potter may his pot, yet we appeal to thy mercies, whereby it hath pleased thee to adopt us to be thy children.

CHAP. LXV.

1 The calling of the Gentiles. 2 The Jews for their incredulity, idolatry, and hypocrisy, are rejected. 8 A remnant shall be saved. 11 Judgment on the wicked, and blessings on the godly. 17 The blessed state of the new Jerusalem.

I *Am sought of them that asked not for me: I am found of them that sought me not: I said, Behold me, behold me, unto a nation that was not called by my name.

2 ¶ I have spread [b] out my hands all the day unto a rebellious people, which walketh in a way that was not good, after their own [c] thoughts:

3 A people that provoketh me to anger continually to my face, that sacrificeth in [d] gardens, and burneth incense † upon altars of [e] brick.

4 Which remain among the [f] graves, and lodge in the monuments, which eat [g] swines flesh, and ‡ broth of abominable things is in their vessels:

5 Which say, [h] Stand by thy self, come not near to me, for I am holier then thou: these are a smoke in my ‡ nose, a fire that [i] burneth all the day.

6 Behold, it is [k] written before me, I will not keep silence, but will recompense, even recompense into their bosom,

7 Your iniquities, and the iniquities of your fathers [l] together (saith the LORD) which have burnt incense upon the mountains, and blasphemed me upon the hills: therefore will I measure their former work into their bosom.

8 ¶ Thus saith the LORD, As the new wine is found in the cluster, and one saith, Destroy it not, for a [m] blessing is in it: so will I do for my servants sakes, that I may not destroy them all.

9 And I will bring forth a seed out of Jacob, and out of Judah an inheritour of my mountains: and mine elect shall inherit it, and my servants shall dwell there.

10 And [n] Sharon shall be a fold of flocks, and the valley of Achor a place for the herds to lie down in, for my people that have sought me.

11 ¶ But ye are they that forsake the LORD, that forget my holy mountain, that prepare a table for that ‡ [o] troup, and that furnish the drink-offering unto that ‡ number.

12 Therefore will I [p] number you to the sword, and ye shall all bowe down to the slaughter: * because when I called, ye did not answer; when [q] I spake, ye did not hear, but did evil before mine eyes, and did choose that wherein I delighted not.

13 Therefore thus saith the Lord God, Behold, my servants shall [r] eat, but ye shall be hungry: behold, my servants shall drink, but ye shall be thirsty: behold, my servants shall rejoyce, but ye shall be ashamed:

14 Behold, my servants shall sing for joy of heart, but ye shall cry for sorrow of heart, and shall howl for † vexation of spirit.

15 And ye shall leave your [s] name for a curse unto my chosen: for the Lord GOD shall slay thee, and call his servants by [t] another name:

17 ¶ For behold, I create * [y] new heavens, and a new earth: and the former shall not be remembred, nor † come into mind.

18 But be you glad and rejoyce for ever in that which I create: for behold, I create Jerusalem a rejoycing, and her people a joy.

19 And I will rejoyce in Jerusalem, and joy in my people, and the * voice of weeping shall be no more heard in her, nor the voice of crying.

21 And they shall [b] build houses, and inhabit them; and they shall plant vineyards, and eat the fruit of them.

22 They shall not build, and another inhabit; they shall not plant, and another eat: for as the days of a tree, are the days of my people, and mine elect † shall long enjoy the work of their hands.

23 They shall not labour in vain, nor bring forth for trouble: for they are the seed of the blessed of the LORD, and their offspring with them.

24 And it shall come to pass, that * before they call, I will answer, and whiles they are yet speaking, I will hear.

25 The * wolf and the lamb shall feed together, and the lion shall eat straw like the bullock: and dust shall be the Serpents meat. They shall not hurt nor destroy in all my holy mountain, saith the LORD.

CHAP. LXVI.

1 The glorious God will be served in humble sincerity. 5 He comforteth the humble with the marvellous generation, 10 and with the gracious benefits of the Church. 15 God's severe judgments against the wicked. 19 The Gentiles shall have an holy Church, 24 and see the damnation of the wicked.

THus saith the LORD, * The [a] heaven is my throne, and the earth is my footstool: where is the house that ye build unto me? and where is the place of my rest?

2 For all those things hath mine hand made, [b] and all those things have been, saith the LORD: but to this man will I look, even to him that is poor and of a [c] contrite spirit, and trembleth at my word.

3 He that killeth an ox, is as if he [d] slew a man: he that sacrificeth a ‡ lamb, as if he cut off a dog's neck: he that offereth an oblation, as if he offered swines bloud: he that † burneth incense, as if he blessed an idol: yea, they have chosen their own ways, and their soul delighteth in their abominations.

4 I also will [e] choose their ‡ delusions, and will bring their fears upon them; * because when I called, none did answer; when I spake, they did not hear: but they did evil before mine eyes, and chose that in which I delighted not.

5 ¶ Hear the word of the LORD, ye that [f] tremble at his word, Your brethren that hated you, that cast you out for my names sake, said, * Let the LORD be glorified: but he shall appear to your joy, and they shall be ashamed.

6 [g] A voice of noise from the city, a voice from the Temple, a voice of the LORD that rendreth recompense to his enemies.

8 Who hath heard such a thing? who hath seen such things? shall the earth be made to bring forth in one [i] day, or shall a nation be born at once? for as soon as Zion travailed, she brought forth her children.

9 Shall I bring to the [k] birth, and not ‡ cause to bring forth? saith the LORD: shall I cause to bring forth, and shut the womb, saith thy God?

10 ¶ Rejoyce ye with Jerusalem, and be glad with her, all ye that love her: rejoyce for joy with her, all ye that mourn for her:

11 That ye may [l] suck, and be satisfied with the breasts of her consolations: that ye may milk out, and be delighted with the ‡ abundance of her glory.

12 For thus saith the LORD, Behold, I will extend [m] peace to her like a river, and the glory of the [n] Gentiles like a flowing stream: then shall ye suck, ye shall be *[o] born upon her sides, and be dandled upon her knees.

13 As one whom his mother comforteth, so will I comfort you: and ye shall be comforted in Jerusalem.

14 And when ye see this, your heart shall rejoyce, and your [p] bones shall flourish like an herb: and the hand of the LORD shall be known towards his servants, and his indignation towards his enemies.

15 ¶ For behold, the LORD will come with fire, and with his chariots like a whirlwind, to [q] render his anger with fury, and his rebuke with flames of fire.

16 For by fire, and by his sword, will the LORD plead with all flesh: and the slain of the LORD shall be many.

17 They that sanctify [r] themselves, and purify themselves in the gardens, ‡ behind one tree in the midst, eating [s] swines flesh, and the abomination, and the mous; shall be consumed together, saith the LORD.

THE BOOK of the Prophet JEREMIAH.

THE ARGUMENT.

THe Prophet Jeremiah born in the city of Anathoth in the country of Benjamin was the ſon of Hilkiah, whom ſome think to be he that found out the Book of the Law, & gave it to Joſiah. This Prophet had excellent gifts of God, and moſt evident revelation of prophecy, ſo that by the commandment of the Lord he began very young to propheſy, that is, in the thirteenth year of Joſiah, and continued 18 years under the ſaid King, & three moneths under Jehoahaz, and under Jehojakim eleven years, and three moneths under Jehojachin, and under Zedekiah eleven years, unto the time that they were carried away into Babylon. So that this time amounteth to above fourty years, beſides the time that he propheſied after the captivity. In this Book he declareth with tears and Lamentation, the deſtruction of Jeruſalem, and the captivity of the people for their idolatry, covetouſneſs, ſubtilty, cruelty, exceſs, rebellion and contempt of God's word: and for the conſolation of the Church, revealeth the juſt time of their deliverance. And here chiefly are to be conſidered three things. Firſt, the rebellion of the wicked, which wax more ſtubborn and obſtinate, when the Prophets doe admoniſh them moſt plainly of their deſtruction. Next, how the Prophets and miniſters of God, ought not to be diſcouraged in their vocation, though they be perſecuted and rigorouſly handled of the wicked for God's cauſe. And thirdly, though God ſhew his juſt judgment againſt the wicked, yet will he ever ſhew himſelf a preſerver of his Church, and when all means ſeem to man's judgment to be aboliſhed, then will he declare himſelf victorious in preſerving his.

CHAP. I.

1 The time, 4 and the calling of Jeremiah. 11 His prophetical viſions of an almond-rod, and a ſeething pot. 15 His heavy meſſage againſt Judah. 17 God encourageth him with his promiſe of aſſiſtance.

THe [a] words of Jeremiah the ſon of [b] Hilkiah, of the Prieſts that were in [c] Anathoth in the land of Benjamin:

2 To whom [d] the word of the LORD came in the days of Joſiah the ſon of Amon King of Judah, in the thirteenth year of his reign.

3 It came alſo in the days of Jehojakim the [e] ſon of Joſiah King of Judah, unto the end of the eleventh year of Zedekiah the ſon of Joſiah King of Judah, unto the carrying away of Jeruſalem captive in the [f] fifth moneth.

4 ¶ Then the word of the LORD came unto me, ſaying,

5 Before I * [g] formed thee in the belly, I knew thee; and before thou cameſt forth out of the womb, I * ſanctified thee, and I † ordained thee a Prophet unto the [h] nations.

6 Then ſaid I, [i] Ah, Lord God, behold, I cannot ſpeak, for I am a child.

7 But the LORD ſaid unto me, Say not, I am a child: for thou ſhalt go to all that I ſhall ſend thee, and whatſoever I command thee thou ſhalt ſpeak.

8 * Be not afraid of their faces: for * I am with thee to deliver thee, ſaith the LORD.

d This is ſpoken to confirm his vocation and office; for as much as he did not preſume of himſelf to preach and propheſy, but was called thereunto by God.
e Meaning, the nephew of Joſiah: for Jehoahaz was his father, who reigned but three moneths, and therefore is not mentioned, no more is Joachin that reigned no longer.

9 Then the LORD put forth his hand, and *[k] touched my mouth, and the LORD ſaid unto me, Behold, I have * put my words in thy mouth.

10 See, I have this day ſet thee over the [l] nations, and over the kingdoms, to root out, and to pull down, and to deſtroy, and to throw down, to build and to plant.

11 ¶ Moreover, the word of the LORD came unto me, ſaying, Jeremiah, what ſeeſt thou? and I ſaid, I ſee a rod of an [m] almond-tree.

12 Then ſaid the LORD unto me, thou haſt well ſeen: for I will haſten my word to perform it.

13 And the word of the LORD came unto me the ſecond time, ſaying, What ſeeſt thou? and I ſaid, I ſee a ſeething [n] pot, and the face thereof was † towards the north.

14 Then the LORD ſaid unto me, Out of the *[o] north an evil † ſhall break forth upon all the inhabitants of the land.

15 ¶ For lo, I will * call all the families of the kingdoms of the north, ſaith the LORD, and they ſhall come, and they ſhall ſet every one his throne at the entring of the gates of Jeruſalem, and againſt all the walls thereof round about, and againſt all the cities of Judah.

16 And I will utter my [p] judgments againſt them touching all their wickedneſs, who have forſaken me, and have burnt incenſe unto other Gods, and worſhipped the works of their own hands.

17 ¶ Thou therefore gird up thy loyns, and ariſe, and ſpeak unto them all that I command thee: be not diſmayed at their faces, leſt I ‡ [q] confound thee before them.

18 For behold, I have made thee this day a defenced city, and an *[r] iron pillar, and braſen wall againſt the whole land, againſt the Kings of Judah, againſt the Princes thereof, againſt the Prieſts thereof, [s] and againſt the people of the land.

19 And they ſhall fight againſt thee, but they ſhall not prevail againſt thee: for I am with thee, ſaith the LORD, to deliver thee.

CHAP. II.

1 God having ſhewed his former kindneſs, expoſtulateth with the Jews their cauſeleſs revolt, 9 beyond any example. 14 They are the cauſes of their own calamities, 20 The ſins of Judah. 31 Her confidence is rejected.

MOreover, the word of the LORD came to me, ſaying,

2 Go, and cry in the ears of Jeruſalem, ſaying, Thus ſaith the LORD, I remember, ‡ thee, the [a] kindneſs of thy youth, the love of thine eſpouſals, when thou wenteſt after me in the wilderneſs, [b] in a land that was not ſown.

3 Iſrael was [c] holineſs unto the LORD, and the firſt-fruits of his increaſe: * all [d] that devour him, ſhall offend; evil ſhall come upon them, ſaith the LORD.

4 Hear ye the word of the LORD, O houſe of Jacob, and all the families of the houſe of Iſrael.

5 Thus ſaith the LORD, What iniquity have your fathers found in me, that they are gone [e] far from me, and have walked after vanity, and are become [f] vain?

6 Neither ſaid they, Where is the LORD that * brought us up out of the land of Egypt? that led us through the wilderneſs, through a land of deſerts, and of pits, through a land of drought, and of the [g] ſhadow of death, through a land that no man paſſed through, and where no man dwelt?

7 And I brought you into a plentiful country, to eat the fruit thereof, and the goodneſs thereof; but when ye entred, ye defiled [h] my land, and made mine heritage an abomination.

8 The Prieſts ſaid not, [i] Where is the LORD? and they that handle the [k] Law, knew me not: the [l] paſtours alſo tranſgreſſed againſt me, and the Prophets prophefied by [m] Baal, and walked after things that do not profit.

9 ¶ Wherefore I will yet [n] plead with you, ſaith the LORD, and with your childrens children will I plead.

10 For paſs ‡ over the [o] iſles of Chittim, and ſee; and ſend unto [p] Kedar, and conſider diligently, and ſee if there be ſuch a thing.

11 Hath a nation changed their Gods, which are * yet no Gods? but my people have changed their [q] glory, for that which doth not [r] profit.

12 Be aſtoniſhed, [s] O ye heavens, at this, and be horribly afraid, be ye very deſolate, ſaith the LORD.

13 For my people have committed two evils: they have forſaken me the * fountain of [t] living waters, and hewed them out ciſterns, broken ciſterns that can hold no water.

14 ¶ Is Iſrael a [u] ſervant; is he a home-born ſlave? why is he † ſpoiled?

15 The young [x] lions roared upon him, and † yelled, and they made his land waſte: his cities are burnt without [y] inhabitant.

16 Alſo the children of [z] Noph and Tahapanes ‡ have [a] broken the crown of thy head.

17 Haſt thou not procured this unto thy ſelf, in that thou haſt forſaken the LORD thy God, when he [b] led thee by the way?

18 And now what haſt thou to do in the way of Egypt, to [c] drink the waters of Sihor; or what haſt thou to do in the way of Aſſyria, to drink the waters of the [d] river?

19 Thine own * wickedneſs ſhall * correct thee, and thy backſlidings ſhall reprove thee:

know therefore and see, that it is an evil thing and bitter that thou hast forsaken the LORD thy God, and that my fear is not in thee, saith the Lord GOD of hosts.

20 ¶ For of old time I have broken thy yoke, and burst thy bands, and thou saidst, [f] I will not ‡ transgress: when * upon every high hill, and under every green tree thou wanderest, playing the harlot.

21 Yet I had * planted thee a noble vine wholly a right seed: how then art thou turned into the degenerate plant of a strange vine unto me?

22 For though thou * wash thee with [g] nitre, and take thee much sope, yet thine iniquity is marked before me, saith the Lord GOD.

23 How canst thou say, I am not polluted, I have not gone [h] after Baalim? see thy way in the valley, know what thou hast done: ‡ thou art a swift [i] dromedary traversing her ways.

24 ‡ A wild [k] ass † used to the wilderness, that snuffeth up the wind at † her pleasure, in her occasion who can ‡ turn her away? all they that seek her, will not weary themselves, in her [l] moneth they shall find her.

24 Withhold thy foot from being [m] unshod, and thy throat from thirst: but thou saidst, ‡ There is no hope. No, for I have loved strangers, and after them will I go.

26 As the [n] thief is ashamed when he is found: so is the house of Israel ashamed; they, their Kings, their Princes, and their Priests, and their Prophets.

27 Saying to a stock, Thou art my [o] father, and to a stone, Thou hast ‡ brought me forth: for they have turned † their back unto me, and not their face: but in the time of their * trouble they will say, Arise, and save us.

28 But where are thy Gods that thou hast made thee? let them arise if they * can save thee in the time of thy † trouble: for * according to the [p] number of thy cities, are thy gods, O Judah.

29 Wherefore will ye [q] plead with me? ye all have transgressed against me, saith the LORD.

30 In vain have I * smitten your children, they received no correction: your own [r] sword hath * devoured your Prophets, like a destroying lion.

31 ¶ O generation, see ye the word of the LORD: * have I been [s] a wilderness unto Israel? a land of darkness? wherefore say my people, † We are lords, [t] we will come no more unto thee?

32 Can a maid forget her ornaments, or a bride her attire? yet my people have forgotten me days without number.

33 Why trimmest thou thy way to [u] seek love? therefore hast thou also taught the wicked ones thy ways.

34 Also in thy [x] skirts is found the bloud of the souls of the poor innocents: I have not found it by † secret search, but upon all these.

35 Yet thou sayest, Because I am innocent, surely his anger shall turn from me: behold, I will plead with thee, because thou sayest, I have not sinned.

36 Why gaddest thou about so much to change thy way? thou also shalt be ashamed of Egypt, as thou wast [y] ashamed of Assyria.

37 Yea thou shalt go forth from him, and thine hands [z] upon thine head: for the LORD hath rejected thy confidences, and thou shalt not prosper in them.

y For the Assyrians had taken away the ten tribes out of Israel, and destroyed Judah, even unto Jerusalem: and the Egyptians slew Josiah, and vexed the Jews in sundry sorts. z In sign of lamentation, as 2 Sam. 13. 19.

CHAP. III.

1 God's great mercy in Judah's vile whoredom. 6 Judah is worse then Israel. 12 The promises of the Gospel to the penitent. 20 Israel reproved and called by God, maketh a solemn confession of their sins.

† THey [a] say, If a man put away his wife, and she go from him, and become another man's, shall he return unto her again? shall not that land be greatly [b] polluted? but thou hast played the harlot with many [c] lovers; yet [d] return again to me, saith the LORD.

2 Lift up thine eyes unto the high places, and see where thou hast not been lien with: in the ways hast thou sat for them, as the [e] Arabian in the wilderness, and thou hast polluted the land with thy whoredoms, and with thy wickedness.

3 Therefore the showrs have been withholden, and there hath been no [f] latter rain, and thou hadst a * [g] whore's fore-head, thou refusedst to be ashamed.

4 Wilt thou not from this time [h] cry unto me, My father, thou art the guid of my youth?

5 Will he reserve his anger for ever? will he keep it to the end? Behold, thou hast spoken and done evil things as thou couldest.

6 ¶ The LORD said also unto me in the days of Josiah the King, Hast thou seen that which [i] backsliding Israel hath done? she is * gone up upon every high mountain, and under every green tree, and there hath played the harlot.

7 And I said after she had done all these things, Turn thou unto me; but she returned not: and her treacherous sister Judah saw it.

8 And I saw, when for all the causes whereby back-sliding Israel committed adultery, I had [k] put her away, and given her a bill of divorce; yet her treacherous sister Judah feared not, but went and played the harlot also.

9 And it came to pass through the ‡ [l] lightness of her whoredom, that she defiled the land, and committed adultery with stones and with stocks.

10 And yet for all this, her treacherous sister Judah hath not turned unto me with her [m] whole heart, but † feignedly, saith the LORD.

11 And the LORD said unto me, The backsliding Israel hath [n] justified her self more then treacherous Judah.

‡ Or, Or swift dromedary.
i He compareth the idolaters to these beasts, because they never cease running to and fro: for both valleys and hills are full of their idolatry.

12 ¶ Go, and proclaim these words toward o the north, and say, Return thou backsliding Israel, saith the LORD, and I will not cause mine anger to fall upon you: for I am * merciful, saith the LORD, and I will not keep anger for ever.

13 Onely acknowledge thine iniquity that thou hast transgressed against the LORD thy God, and hast p scattered thy ways to the strangers under every green tree, and ye have not obeyed my voice, saith the LORD.

14 Turn, O backsliding children, saith the LORD, for I am married unto you: and I will take you one of a city, and two of a family, and I will bring you to Zion.

15 And I will give you *Pastours according to mine heart, which shall feed you with knowledge and understanding.

16 And it shall come to pass when ye be multiplied and increased in the land, in those days, saith the LORD, they shall say no more,
The q ark of the covenant of the LORD: neither shall it come to mind, neither shall they remember it, neither shall they visit it, neither shall ‡ that be done any more.

17 At that time they shall call Jerusalem the r throne of the LORD, and all the nations shall be gathered unto it, to the name of the LORD, to Jerusalem: neither shall they walk any more after the ‡ imagination of their evil heart.

18 In those days the house of Judah shall walk ‡ with the house of Israel, and they shall come together out of the land of the s north, to the land that I have ‡ given for an inheritance unto your fathers.

19 But I said, How shall I put thee among the children, and give thee a †pleasant land, †a goodly heritage of the hosts of nations? and I said, Thou shalt call me, My father, and shalt not turn away † from me.

20 ¶ Surely, as a wife treacherously departeth from her t husband: so have you dealt trea-cherously with me, O house of Israel, saith the LORD.

21 u A voice was heard upon the high places, weeping and supplications of the children of Israel: for they have perverted their way, and they have forgotten the LORD their God.

22 *Return ye backsliding children, and I will heal your backslidings: x behold, we come unto thee, for thou art the LORD our God.

23 Truly in vain is salvation hoped for from the hills, and from the multitude of mountains:
truly in the LORD our God is the salvation of Israel.

24 For shame hath devoured the labour of our y fathers from our youth; their flocks and their herds, their sons and their daughters.

25 We lie down in our shame, and our confusion covereth us: z for we have sinned against the LORD our God, we and our fathers from our youth even unto this day, and have not obeyed the voice of the LORD our God.

o Whereas now the Israelites were kept in captivity by the Assyrians, to whom he promiseth mercy, if they will repent.

u Signifying, that God, whom they had forsaken, would bring their enemies upon them, who should lead them captive, and make them to cry and lament.

* Hosea 14. 3.

x This is spoken in the person of Israel to the shame of Judah, which stayed so long to turn unto God.

y For their idolatry God's vengeance hath light upon them and theirs.

z They justify not themselves, or say that they would follow their fathers, but condemn their wicked doings, & desire forgiveness of the same, as Ezra 9. 7. Psal. 106. 6. Isa. 64. 6.

CHAP. IV.

1 God calleth Israel by his promise. 3 He exhorteth Judah to repentance by fearful judgments. 19 A grievous lamentation for the miseries of Judah.

IF thou wilt return, O Israel, saith the LORD, a return unto me: and if thou wilt put away thine abominations out of my sight, then shalt thou not remove.

2 And thou shalt b swear, The LORD liveth, in truth, in judgment, and in righteousness; and the nations shall bless themselves in him, and in him shall they * glory.

3 ¶ For thus saith the LORD to the men of Judah and Jerusalem, Break up your c fallow-ground, and sowe not among thorns.

4 Circumcise your selves to the LORD, and take away the fore-skins of your heart, ye men of Judah, and inhabitans of Jerusalem:
lest my fury come forth like fire, and burn that none can quench it, because of the evil of your doings.

5 d Declare ye in Judah, and publish in Jerusalem, and say, Blow ye the trumpet in the land:
cry, gather together, and say, Assemble your selves, and let us go into the defenced cities.

6 e Set up the standard towards Zion: ‡retire, stay not; for I will bring evil from the * north, and a great † destruction.

7 The f lion is come up from his thicket, and the destroyer of the Gentiles is on his way; he is gone forth from his place to make thy land desolate, and thy cities shall be laid waste, without an inhabitant.

8 For this * gird you with sackcloth, lament and howl: for the fierce anger of the LORD is not turned back from us.

9 And it shall come to pass at that day, saith the LORD, that the heart of the King shall perish, and the heart of the Princes: and the Priests shall be astonished, and the g Prophets shall wonder.

10 Then said I, Ah Lord GOD, surely thou hast greatly h deceived this people, and Jerusalem, saying, Ye shall have peace; whereas the sword reacheth the soul.

11 At that time shall it be said to this people, and to Jerusalem, i A dry wind of the high places in the wilderness toward the daughter of my people, not to k fan, nor to cleanse.

12 Even ‡ a full wind from those places publish against Jerusalem, that watchers come from a far country, and give out their voice against the cities of Judah.

17 As [p] keepers of a field are they against her round about; because she hath been rebellious against me, saith the LORD.

18 *Thy way and thy doings have procured these things unto thee, this is thy wickedness because it is bitter, because it reacheth unto thine heart.

19 ¶ My * bowels, my [q] bowels, I am pained at † my very heart, my heart maketh a noise in me, I cannot hold my peace, because thou hast heard, O my soul, the sound of the trumpet, the alarm of war.

20 Destruction upon destruction is cried, for the whole land is spoiled: suddenly are my [r] tents spoiled, and my curtains in a moment.

21 How long shall I see the standard, and hear the sound of the trumpet?

22 For my people is foolish, they have not known me, they are sottish children, and they have none understanding: [s] they are wise to do evil, but to do good they have no knowledge.

23 I beheld the earth, and lo, it was without form and [t] void: and the heavens, and they had no light.

24 I beheld the mountains, and lo, they trembled, and all the hills moved lightly.

25 I beheld, and lo, there was no man, and all the birds of the heavens were fled.

26 I beheld, and lo, the fruitful place was a wilderness, and all the cities thereof were broken down at the presence of the LORD, and by his fierce anger.

27 For thus hath the LORD said, The whole land shall be desolate; * [u] yet will I not make a full end.

28 For this shall the earth mourn, and the heavens above be black: because I have spoken it, I have purposed it, and will not repent, neither will I turn back from it.

29 The whole city shall flee, for the noise of the horse-men and bow-men, they shall go into thickets, and climb up upon the rocks: every city shall be forsaken, and not a man dwell therein.

30 And when thou art spoiled, what wilt thou do? Though thou clothest thy self with crimson, though thou [x] deckest thee with ornaments of gold, though thou rentest thy † face with painting, in vain shalt thou make thy self fair, thy lovers will despise thee, they will seek thy life.

31 For I have heard a voice as of a woman in travail, and the anguish as of her that bringeth forth her first child, the voice of the daughter of Zion: that bewaileth her self, that spreadeth her hands, saying, [y] Wo is me now, for my soul is wearied because of murderers.

1 The judgments of God upon the Jews, for their perverseness, 7 for their adultery, 10 for their impiety, 19 for their contempt of God, 25 and for their great corruption in the civil state, 30 and ecclesiastical.

RUn ye to and fro through the streets of Jerusalem, and see now and know, and seek in the broad places thereof, if ye can find a man, if there be any that executeth judgment, that seeketh the truth, and I will pardon [a] it.

2 And though they say, The LORD [b] liveth, surely they swear falsely.

3 O LORD, are not thine eyes upon the [c] truth? thou hast * [d] stricken them, but they have not grieved; thou hast consumed them, but they have refused to receive correction: they have made their faces harder then a rock, they have refused to return.

4 Therefore I said, Surely these are poor, they are foolish: for they know not the way of the LORD, nor the judgment of their God.

5 I will get me unto the [e] great men, and will speak unto them; for they have known the way of the LORD, and the judgment of their God: but these have altogether broken the yoke, and burst the bonds.

6 Wherefore [f] a lion out of the forest shall slay them, and a wolf of the ‡ evenings shall spoil them, a leopard shall watch over their cities: every one that goeth out thence shall be torn in pieces: because their transgressions are many, and their backslidings † are increased.

7 ¶ How shall I pardon thee for this? thy children have forsaken me, and sworn by them that are [g] no Gods: when I had fed them to the full, they then committed adultery, and assembled themselves by troups in the harlots houses.

8 *They were as fed horses in the morning: every one neighed after his neighbour's wife.

9 Shall I not visit for these things? saith the LORD: and shall not my soul be avenged on such a nation as this?

10 ¶ [h] Go ye up upon her walls, and destroy, but make not a full end: [i] take away her battlements, for they are not the LORD'S.

11 For the house of Israel, and the house of Judah have dealt very treacherously against me, saith the LORD.

12 They have [k] belied the LORD, and said, It is not he, neither shall evil come upon us, neither shall we see sword nor famine:

13 And the Prophets shall become [l] wind, and the word is not [m] in them: thus shall it be done unto them.

14 Wherefore thus saith the LORD God of hosts, Because ye speak this word, * behold, I will make my words in [n] thy mouth fire, and this people wood, and it shall devour them.

15 Lo, I will bring a * nation upon you from [o] far, O house of Israel, saith the LORD: it is a mighty nation, it is an ancient nation, a nation whose language thou knowest not, neither understandest what they say.

16 Their quiver is as an [p] open sepulchre, they are all mighty men.

a That is, the city.
b Though they pretend religion and holiness, yet all is but hypocrisy, for under this kind of swearing is contained the true Religion.
c Doest not thou love uprightness and faithful dealing?

18 Nevertheless in those days, saith the LORD, I * will not make a [q] full end with you.

19 ¶ And it shall come to pas when ye shall say, * Wherefore doth the LORD our God all these things unto us? then shalt [r] thou answer them, Like as ye have forsaken me, and served strange Gods in your land; so shall ye serve strangers in a land that is not yours.

20 Declare this in the house of Jacob, and publish it in Judah, saying,

21 Hear now this, O * foolish people, and without † understanding, which have eyes and see not; which have ears and hear not:

22 Fear ye not me? saith the LORD: will ye not tremble at my presence, which have placed the sand for the * bound of the sea, by a perpetual decree that it cannot pass it; and though the waves thereof toss themselves, yet can they not prevail; though they roar, yet can they not pass over it?

23 But this people hath a revolting and a rebellious heart: they are revolted and gone.

24 Neither say they in their heart, Let us now fear the LORD our God that giveth rain, both the * former and the latter in his season: he reserveth unto us the appointed weeks of the harvest.

25 ¶ Your [s] iniquities have turned away these things, and your sins have withholden good things from you.

26 For among my people are found wicked men: ‡ they lay wait as he that setteth snares, they set a trap, they catch men.

27 As a ‡ cage is full of birds, so are their houses full of deceit: therefore they are become great, and waxen rich.

28 They are waxen * fat, they shine: yea, they overpass the deeds of the wicked: they judge not * the cause, the cause of the fatherless, yet they [t] prosper: and the right of the needy do they not judge.

29 Shall I not visit for these things? saith the LORD: shall not my soul be avenged on such a nation as this?

30 ¶ ‡ A wonderful and horrible thing is committed in the land.

31 The [u] Prophets prophesy * falsely, and the Priests ‡ bear rule by their means, and my people love to have it so: and what will ye do in the end thereof?

CHAP. VI.

1 The enemies sent against Judah, 4 encourage themselves. 6 God setteth them on work because of their sins. 9 The Prophet lamented the judgments of God because of their sins. 18 He proclaimeth God's wrath. 26 He calleth the people to mourn for the judgment on their sins.

O Ye children of [a] Benjamin, gather your selves to flee out of the midst of Jerusalem, and blow the trumpet in [b] Tekoa: and set up a sign of fire in [c] Beth-haccerem: for evil appeareth out of the north, and great destruction.

2 I have likned the daughter of Zion, to a ‡ comely and [d] delicate woman.

3 The shepherds with their flocks shall come unto [e] her: they shall pitch their tents against her round about: they shall feed every one in his place.

4 ¶ [f] Prepare ye war against her: arise and let us go up at noon: wo unto us, for the day goeth away, for the shadows of the evening are stretched out.

5 Arise, and let us go by night, and let us destroy her palaces.

6 ¶ For thus hath the LORD of hosts said, Hew ye down trees, and ‡ cast a mount against Jerusalem: this is the city to be visited, she is wholly oppression in the midst of her.

7 * As a fountain casteth out her waters, so she casteth out her wickedness: [g] violence and spoil is heard in her, before me continually is grief and wounds.

8 Be thou instructed: [h] O Jerusalem, lest my soul † depart from thee: lest I make thee desolate, a land not inhabited.

9 ¶ Thus saith the LORD of hosts, They shall throughly glean the remnant of Israel as a vine: [i] turn back thine hand as a grape-gatherer into the baskets.

10 To whom shall I speak and give warning, that they may hear? behold, their * ear is [k] uncircumcised, and they cannot hearken: behold, the word of the LORD is unto them a reproach: they have no delight in it.

11 Therefore I am full of the fury of the LORD: I am weary with holding in: [l] I will pour it out upon the [m] children abroad, and upon the assembly of young men together: for even the husband with the wife shall be taken, the aged with him that is full of days.

12 And their houses shall be turned unto others, with their fields, and wives together: for I will stretch out my hand upon the inhabitans of the land, saith the LORD.

13 For from the least of them even unto the greatest of them, every one is given to * covetousness; and from the Prophet even unto the Priest, every one dealeth falsely.

14 They have * healed also the † hurt of the daughter of my people slightly, saying, [n] Peace, peace, when there is no peace.

15 Were they * ashamed when they had committed abomination? nay, they were not at all ashamed, neither could they blush: therefore they shall fall among them that fall: at the time that I visit them, they shall be cast down, saith the LORD.

17 Thus saith the LORD, Stand ye in the ways and see, and ask for the * [o] old paths, where is the good way, and walk therein, and ye shall find * rest for your souls: but they said, we will not walk therein.

THE word that came to Jeremiah from the LORD, ſaying,

2 Stand in the gate of the LORD's houſe, and proclaim there this word, and ſay, Hear the word of the LORD, all ye of Judah, that enter in at theſe gates to worſhip the LORD.

3 Thus ſaith the LORD of hoſts the God of Iſrael, * Amend your ways, and your doings, and I will cauſe you to dwell in this place.

4 Truſt ye not in [a] lying words, ſaying, The temple of the LORD, the temple of the LORD, the temple of the LORD are theſe.

5 For if ye throughly amend your ways, and your doings; if you throughly execute judgment between a man and his neighbour;

6 If ye oppreſs not the ſtranger, the fatherleſs, and the widow, and ſhed not innocent bloud in this place, neither walk after other Gods, to your hurt:

7 Then [b] will I cauſe you to dwell in this place, in the land that I gave to your fathers, for ever and ever.

8 ¶ Behold, ye truſt in lying words, that cannot profit.

9 Will ye ſteal, murder, and commit adultery, and ſwear falſely, and burn incenſe unto Baal, and walk after other Gods whom ye know not;

10 And come and ſtand before me in this houſe, † which is called by my name, and ſay, We are delivered to do all theſe abominations?

11 Is * this houſe, which is called by my name, become a *[c] den of robbers in your eyes? behold, even I have ſeen it, ſaith the LORD.

12 But go ye now unto my place which was in Shiloh, [d] where I ſet my name at the firſt, and ſee * what I did to it, for the wickedneſs of my people Iſrael.

OH † * that my head were [a] waters, and mine eyes a fountain of tears, that I might weep day and night for the slain of the daughter of my people.

2 O that I had in the [b] wilderness a lodging-place of wayfaring men, that I might leave my people, and go from them: for they be all [c] adulterers, an assembly of treacherous men.

3 And they bend their tongues like their bow for [d] lies: but they are not valiant for the truth upon the earth; for they proceed from evil to evil, and they know not me, saith the LORD.

4 *Take ye heed every one of his ‡ neighbour, and [e] trust ye not in any brother: for every brother will utterly supplant, and every neighbour will walk with slanders.

5 And they will ‡ deceive every one his neighbour, and will not speak the truth: they have [f] taught their tongue to speak lies, and weary themselves to commit iniquity.

6 Thine habitation is in the midst of deceit, [g] through deceit they refuse to know me, saith the LORD.

7 Therefore thus saith the LORD of hosts, Behold, I will [h] melt them, and try them; for how shall I do for the daughter of my people?

8 Their tongue is as an arrow shot out, it speaketh * deceit: one speaketh * peaceably to his neighbour with his mouth, but † in heart he layeth ‡ his wait.

9 ¶ *Shall I not visit them for these things? saith the LORD: shall not my soul be avenged on such a nation as this?

10 For the [i] mountains will I take up a weeping and wailing, and for the ‡ habitations of the wilderness a lamentation, because they are ‡ burnt up, so that none can pass through them, neither can men hear the voice of the cattel, † both the fowl of the heavens and the beast are fled, they are gone.

11 And I will make Jerusalem heaps, and *a den of dragons, and I will make the cities of Judah † desolate, without an inhabitant.

12 ¶ Who is the [k] wise man that may understand this, and who is he to whom the mouth of the LORD hath spoken, that he may declare it, for what the land perisheth and is burnt up like a wilderness that none passeth through?

13 And the LORD saith, Because they have forsaken my Law which I set before them, & have not obeyed my voice, neither walked therein;

14 But have walked after the ‡ imagination of their own heart, and after Baalim, which [l] their fathers taught them:

15 Therefore thus saith the LORD of hosts, the God of Israel, Behold, I will feed them, even this people, * with [m] wormwood, and give them water of gall to drink.

16 I will * scatter them also among the heathen, whom neither they nor their fathers have known: and I will send a sword after them, till I have consumed them.

17 ¶ Thus saith the LORD of hosts, Consider ye, and call for the [n] mourning-women, that they may come, and send for cunning women, that they may come.

18 And let them make haste, and take up a wailing for us, that our eyes may run down with tears, and our eye-lids gush out with waters.

19 For a voice of wailing is heard out of Zion, How are we spoiled? we are greatly confounded, because we have forsaken the land, because our dwellings have [o] cast us out.

20 Yet hear the word of the LORD, O ye women, and let your ear receive the word of his mouth, and [p] teach your daughters wailing, and every one her neighbour lamentation.

21 For death is come up into our [q] windows, and is entred into our palaces, to cut off the children from without, and the young men from the streets.

22 Speak, Thus saith the LORD, Even the carcases of men shall fall as dung upon the open field, and as the handfull after the harvest-man, and none shall gather them.

23 ¶ Thus saith the LORD, Let not the [r] wise man glory in his wisdom, neither let the mighty man glory in his might, let not the rich man glory in his riches.

3 For the † [b] cuſtoms of the people are vain: for one cutteth a tree out of the foreſt (the work of the hands of the workman) with the ax.

5 They are upright as the palm-tree, * but ſpeak not: they muſt needs be * born, becauſe they cannot go: be not afraid of them, for * they cannot do evil, neither alſo is it in them to do good.

6 Foraſmuch as there is none * like unto thee, O LORD, thou art great, and thy name is great in might.

7 * Who would not fear thee, O King of nations? [d] for ‡ to thee doth it appertain: foraſmuch as among all the wiſe men of the nations, and in all their kingdoms there is none like unto thee.

CHAP. XI.

1 Jeremiah proclaimeth God's covenant, 8 rebuketh the Jews diſobeying thereof, 11 propheſieth evils to come upon them, 18 and upon the men of Anathoth, for conſpiring to kill Jeremiah.

THe word that came to Jeremiah from the LORD, ſaying,

2 Hear ye the words of this covenant, and ſpeak unto the men of Judah, and to the inhabitants of Jeruſalem,

3 And ſay thou unto them, Thus ſaith the LORD

LORD God of Israel, *[a] Cursed be the man that obeyeth not the words of this covenant, 4 Which I commanded your fathers in the day that I brought them forth out of the land of Egypt, from the iron furnace, saying, *Obey my voice, and do them, according to all which I command you: so shall ye be my people, and I will be your God:
5 That I may perform the * oath which I have sworn unto your fathers, to give them a land flowing with milk and honey, as it is this day. Then answered [b] I, and said, † So be it, O
LORD.
6 Then the LORD said unto me, Proclaim all these words in the cities of Judah, and in the streets of Jerusalem, saying, Hear ye the words of this covenant, and do them.
7 For I earnestly protested unto your fathers, in the day that I brought them up out of the land of Egypt, even unto this day, [c] rising early and protesting, saying, Obey my voice.
8 Yet they obeyed not, nor inclined their ear, but walked every one in the ‡ imagination of their [d] evil heart: therefore I will bring upon them all the [e] words of this covenant, which I commanded them to do, but they did them not.
9 And the LORD said unto me, A [f] conspiracy is found among the men of Judah, and among the inhabitants of Jerusalem.
10 They are turned back to the iniquities of their forefathers, which refused to hear my words; & they went after other Gods to serve them: the house of Israel and the house of Judah have broken my covenant which I made with their fathers.
11 ¶ Therefore thus saith the Lord, Behold,
I will bring evil upon them which they shall not be able † to escape; and * though they shall cry unto me, I will not [g] hearken unto them.
12 Then shall the cities of Judah, and inhabitants of Jerusalem go, and cry unto the Gods unto whom they offer incense; but they shall not save them at all in the time of their † trouble.
13 [h] For according to the number of thy cities were thy Gods, O Judah; and according to the number of the streets of Jerusalem, have ye set up altars to that † shameful thing; even altars to burn incense unto Baal.
14 Therefore [i] pray not thou for this people, neither lift up a cry or prayer for them: for I will not hear them in the time that they cry unto me for their † trouble.
15 *† What hath [k] my beloved to do in mine house, seeing she hath wrought [l] lewdness with many? and the holy flesh is passed from thee:
‡ when thou doest evil, then thou rejoycest.
16 The LORD called thy name, A green olive-tree, fair and of goodly fruit: with the [m] noise of a great tumult he hath kindled fire upon it, and the branches of it are broken.
17 For the LORD of hosts that planted thee, hath pronounced evil against thee, for the evil of the house of Israel, and of the house of Judah, which they have done against themselves to provoke me to anger, in offering incense unto Baal.
18 ¶ And the LORD hath given me knowledge of it, and I know it, then thou shewedst me their [n] doings.
19 But I was like a lamb or an ox that is brought to the slaughter, and I knew not that they had devised devices against me, saying, Let us [o] destroy † the tree with the fruit thereof, and let us cut him off from the land of the living, that his name may be no more remembred.
20 But, O LORD of hosts, that judgest righteously; that * triest the reins and the heart, let me see thy [p] vengeance on them; for unto thee have I revealed my cause.
21 Therefore thus saith the LORD of the men of [q] Anathoth, that seek thy life, saying, [r] Prophesy not in the name of the LORD, that thou die not by our hand:
22 Therefore thus saith the LORD of hosts, Behold: I will † punish them; the young men shall die by the sword; their sons and their daughters shall die by famine.
23 And there shall be no remnant of them, for I will bring evil upon the men of Anathoth, even the year of their visitation.

1 In the type of a linen girdle, hidden at Euphrates, God prefigureth the deſtruction of his people. 12 Under the parable of the bottles filled with wine, he foretelleth their drunkenneſs in miſery. 15 He exhorteth to prevent their future judgments. 22 He ſheweth their abominations are the cauſe thereof.

THus ſaith the LORD unto me, Go and get thee a linen girdle, and put it upon thy loyns, and put it not in water.

2 So I got a girdle, according to the word of the LORD, and put it on my loyns.

3 And the word of the LORD came unto me the ſecond time, ſaying.

4 Take the girdle that thou haſt got, which is upon thy loyns, and ariſe, go to [a] Euphrates, and hide it there in a hole of the rock.

5 So I went and hid it by Euphrates, as the LORD commanded me.

a Becauſe this river of Euphrates was far from Jeruſalem, it is evident, that this was a viſion, whereby was ſignified that the Jews ſhould paſs over Euphrates to be captives in Babylon, and there, for length of time, ſhould ſeem to be rotten, although they were joyned to the Lord before, as a girdle about a man.

6 And it came to paſs after many days, that the LORD ſaid unto me, Ariſe, go to Euphrates, and take the girdle from thence, which I commanded thee to hide there.

7 Then I went to Euphrates and digged, and took the girdle from the place where I had hid it; and behold, the girdle was marred, it was profitable for nothing.

8 Then the word of the LORD came unto me, ſaying,

9 Thus ſaith the LORD, After this manner will I mar the pride of Judah, and the great pride of Jeruſalem.

10 This evil people which refuſe to hear my words, which walk in the ‡ imagination of their heart, and walk after other Gods to ſerve them, and to worſhip them, ſhall even be as this girdle, which is good for nothing.

‡ Or, ſtubbornneſs.

11 For as the girdle cleaveth to the loyns of a man; ſo have I cauſed to cleave unto me the whole houſe of Iſrael, and the whole houſe of Judah, ſaith the LORD; that they might be unto me for a people, and for a name, and for a praiſe, and for a glory: but they would not hear.

12 ¶ Therefore thou ſhalt ſpeak unto them this word, Thus ſaith the LORD God of Iſrael, [b] Every bottle ſhall be filled with wine: & they ſhall ſay unto thee, Do we not certainly know, that every bottle ſhall be filled with wine?

b Every one of you ſhall be filled with ſpiritual drunkenneſs, and be without all knowledge to ſeek how to help your ſelves.

13 Then ſhalt thou ſay unto them, Thus ſaith the LORD, Behold, I will fill all the inhabitants of this land, even the Kings that ſit upon David's throne, and the Prieſts, and the Prophets, and all the inhabitants of Jeruſalem with drunkenneſs.

14 And I [c] will daſh them † one againſt another, even the fathers and the ſons together, ſaith the LORD: I will not pity, nor ſpare, nor have mercy, † but deſtroy them.

THE word of the LORD that came to Jeremiah concerning † the [a] dearth.

2 Judah mourneth, and the [b] gates thereof languish, they are black unto the ground, and the cry of Jerusalem is gone up.

3 And their nobles have sent their little ones to the waters, they came to the pits, and found no water, they returned with their vessels empty: they were ashamed and confounded, and [c] covered their heads.

4 Because the ground is chapt, for there was no rain in the earth, the plowmen were ashamed, they covered their heads.

5 Yea, the hind also calved in the field, and forsook [d] it, because there was no grass.

6 And the wild asses did stand in the high places, they snuffed up the wind like [e] dragons: their eyes did fail because there was no grass.

7 ¶ [f] O LORD, though our iniquities testify against us, do thou it for thy name's sake: for our backslidings are many, we have sinned against thee.

8 O the hope of Israel, the saviour thereof in time of trouble, why shouldest thou be as a [g] stranger in the land, and as a way-faring man, that turneth aside to tarry for a night?

9 Why shouldest thou be as a man astonied, as a [h] mighty man that cannot save? yet thou, O LORD, art in the midst of us, and † we are called by thy name, leave us not.

10 ¶ Thus saith the LORD unto this people, Thus have they loved to wander, they have not refrained their feet, therefore the LORD doth not accept them; he will now remember their iniquity, and visit their sins.

11 Then said the LORD unto me, * [i] Pray not for this people for their good.

12 * When they fast I will not hear their cry, and when they offer burnt-offering and an oblation, I will not accept them: but I will consume them by the sword, and by the famine, and by the pestilence.

13 ¶ Then said I, [k] Ah Lord GOD, behold, the Prophets say unto them, Ye shall not see the sword, neither shall ye have famine, but I will give you † assured peace in this place.

14 Then the LORD said unto me, The Prophets prophesy lies in my name, * I sent them not, neither have I commanded them, neither spake unto them: they prophesy unto you a fals vision and divination, and a thing of nought, and the deceit of their heart.

15 Therefore thus saith the LORD concerning the Prophets that prophesy in my name, and I sent them not, yet they say, Sword and famine shall not be in this land, By sword and famine shall those Prophets be consumed.

16 And the people to whom they prophesy, shall be cast out in the streets of Jerusalem, because of the famine, and the sword, and they shall have none to bury them, them, their wives, not their sons, nor their daughters: for I will pour their wickedness upon them.

17 ¶ Therefore thou shalt say this word unto them, * Let mine eyes run down with [l] tears night and day, and let them not cease: for the virgin daughter of my people is broken with a great breach, with a very grievous blow.

18 If I go forth into the field, then behold the slain with the sword: and if I enter into the city, then behold them that are sick with famine; yea, [m] both the Prophet and the Priest ‡ go about into a land that they know not.

19 Hast thou utterly rejected [n] Judah? hath thy soul loathed Zion? why hast thou smitten us, and there is no healing for us? * we looked for peace, and there is no good; & for the time of healing, and behold trouble.

20 We [o] acknowledge, O LORD, our wickedness, and the iniquity of our fathers: for * we have sinned against thee.

21 Do not abhor us, for thy name's sake, do not disgrace the throne of thy glory: remember, break not thy covenant with us.

22 Are there any among the [p] vanities of the Gentiles that can cause rain? or can the heavens give showrs? art not thou he, O LORD our God? therefore we will wait upon thee: for thou hast made all these things.

10 ¶ And it shall come to pass when thou shalt shew this people all these words, and they shall say unto thee, * Wherefore hath the LORD pronounced all this great evil against us? or what is [e] our iniquity? or what is our sin that we have committed against the LORD our God?

11 Then shalt thou say unto them, Because your fathers have forsaken me, saith the LORD, and have walked after other Gods, and have served them, and have worshipped them, and have forsaken me, and have not kept my law:

12 And ye have done * worse then your fathers, (for behold, ye walk every one after the ‡ imagination of his evil heart, that they may not hearken unto me)

15 But, The LORD liveth that brought up the children of Israel [f] from the land of the north, and from all the lands whither he had driven them: and I will bring them again into their land that I gave unto their fathers.

16 ¶ Behold, I will send for many [g] fishers, saith the LORD, and they shall fish them; and after will I send for many hunters, and they shall hunt them from every mountain, and from every hill, and out of the holes of the rocks.

17 For mine * eyes are upon all their ways: they are not hid from my face, neither is their iniquity hid from mine eyes.

18 And first I will recompense their iniquity, and their sin double because they have defiled my land, they have filled mine inheritance with the [h] carcases of their detestable and abominable things.

19 O LORD, my [i] strength and my fortress, and my refuge in the day of affliction, the Gentiles shall come unto thee from the ends of the earth, and shall say, Surely our fathers have [k] inherited lies, vanity, and things wherein there is no profit.

CHAP. XVII.

1 The captivity of Judah for her sin. 5 Trust in man is cursed, 7 in God is blessed. 9 The deceitful heart cannot deceive God. 12 The salvation of God. 15 The Prophet complaineth of the mockers of his prophecy. 19 He is sent to renew the covenant in hallowing the sabbath.

THE sin of Judah is [a] written with a * pen of iron, and with the † point of a diamond, it is graven upon the [b] table of their heart, and upon the horns of your [c] altars:

2 Whilst their [d] children remember their altars and their * groves by the green trees upon the high hills.

3 [e] O my mountain in the field, * I will give thy substance, and all thy treasures to the spoil, and thy high places for sin, throughout all thy borders.

4 And thou, even † thy self shalt discontinue from thine heritage that I gave thee, and I will cause thee to serve thine enemies in the land which thou knowest not: for ye have kindled a fire in mine anger, which shall burn [f] for ever.

5 ¶ Thus saith the LORD, [g] Cursed be the man that trusteth in man, and maketh flesh his arm, and whose heart departeth from the LORD.

6 For he shall be like the heath in the desert, and shall not see when good cometh, but shall inhabit the parched places in the wilderness, in a salt land and not inhabited.

7 ¶ * Blessed is the man that trusteth in the LORD, and whose hope the LORD is.

8 [h] For he shall be as a tree planted by the waters, and that spreadeth out her roots by the river, and shall not see when heat cometh, but her leaf shall be green, and shall not be careful in the year of ‡ drought, neither shall cease from yeilding fruit.

9 ¶ The heart is deceitful above all things, and desperately wicked, who can know it?

10 [i] I the LORD search the heart, I try the reins, even to give every man according to his ways, and according to the fruit of his doings.

11 As the partridge [k] ‡ sitteth on eggs, and hatcheth them not: so he that getteth riches and not by right, shall leave them in the midst of his day, and at his end shall be a fool.

12 ¶ A glorious [l] high throne from the beginning, is the place of our sanctuary.

13 O LORD, the hope of Israel, * all that forsake thee shall be ashamed, and they that depart from me shall be written in the [m] earth, because they have forsaken the LORD, the * fountain of living waters.

14 Heal me, O LORD, and I shall be healed; [n] save me, and I shall be saved: for thou art my praise.

15 ¶ Behold, [o] they say unto me, * Where is the word of the LORD? let it come now.

16 As for me, * I have [p] not hastned from being a pastour † to follow thee, neither have I desired the woful day, thou knowest: that which came out of my lips, was right before thee.

17 Be not [q] a terrour unto me, thou art my hope in the day of evil.

19 ¶ Thus ſaid the LORD unto me, Go and ſtand in the [f]gate of the children of the people, whereby the Kings of Judah come in, and by the which they go out, and in all the gates of Jeruſalem;

20 And ſay unto them, Hear ye the word of the LORD, ye Kings of Judah, and all Judah, and all the inhabitans of Jeruſalem, that enter in by theſe gates.

21 Thus ſaith the LORD, * Take heed to your ſelves, and bear no burden on the [t]ſabbath-day, nor bring it in by the gates of Jeruſalem.

25 * Then ſhall there enter into the gates of this city, Kings and Princes ſitting upon the throne of David, riding in chariots, and on horſes, they and their Princes, the men of Judah, and the inhabitans of Jeruſalem, and this city ſhall remain for ever.

26 And they ſhall come from the cities of Judah, and from the places about Jeruſalem, and from the land of Benjamin, and from the plain, and from the mountains, and from the ſouth, bringing burnt-offerings, and ſacrifices, and meat-offerings, and incenſe, and bringing ſacrifices of praiſe unto the houſe of the LORD.

CHAP. XVIII.

1 Under the type of a potter, is ſhewed God's abſolute power in diſpoſing of nations. 11 Judgments threatned to Judah for her ſtrange revolt. 18 Jeremiah prayeth againſt his conſpiratours.

THE word which came to Jeremiah from the LORD, ſaying,

2 Ariſe, and go down to the potter's houſe, and there I will cauſe thee to hear my words.

3 Then I went down to the potter's houſe, and behold, he wrought a work on the ‡ wheels.

4 And the veſſel ‡ that he made of [a] clay, was marred in the hand of the potter, ſo he † made it again another veſſel, as ſeemed good to the potter to make it.

5 Then the word of the LORD came to me, ſaying.

6 O houſe of Iſrael, * cannot I do with you as this potter? ſaith the LORD. Behold, as the clay is in the potter's hand, ſo are ye in mine hand, O houſe of Iſrael.

7 At what inſtant I ſhall ſpeak concerning a nation, and concerning a Kingdom to * pluck up, and to pull down, and to deſtroy it:

8 If that nation againſt whom I have pronounced, turn from their evil, * I will [b] repent of the evil that I thought to do unto them.

9 And at what inſtant I ſhall ſpeak concerning a nation, and concerning a Kingdom to build and to plant it:

10 If it do evil in my ſight, that it obey not my voice, then I will repent of the good wherewith I ſaid I would benefit them.

11 ¶ Now therefore go to, ſpeak to the men of Judah, and to the inhabitants of Jeruſalem, ſaying, Thus ſaith the LORD, Behold, I frame evil againſt you, and deviſe a device againſt you: * return ye now every one from his evil way, and make your ways and your doings good.

12 And they [c] ſaid, * There is no hope, but we will walk after our own devices, and we will every one do the imagination of his evil heart.

13 Therefore thus ſaith the LORD, * Ask ye now among the heathen, Who hath heard ſuch things: the virgin of Iſrael hath done a very horrible thing.

14 Will a man leave ‡ the ſnow of Lebanon which cometh from the rock of the field? [d] or ſhall the cold flowing waters that come from another place, be forſaken?

CHAP. XXI.

1 Zedekiah ſendeth to Jeremiah to enquire the event of Nebuchadrezzar's war. 3 Jeremiah fortelleth a hard ſiege and miſerable captivity. 8 He counſelleth the people to fall to the Chaldeans, 11 and upbraideth the King's houſe.

THE word which came unto Jeremiah from the LORD, when King Zedekiah ſent unto him Paſhur the ſon of Melchiah, and Zephaniah the ſon of Maaſejah the Prieſt, ſaying,

2 [a] Enquire, I pray thee, of the LORD for us, (for Nebuchadrezzar King of Babylon maketh war againſt us) if ſo be that the LORD will deal with us according to all his wonderous works, that he may go up from us.

3 ¶ Then ſaid Jeremiah unto them, Thus ſhall ye ſay to Zedekiah,

4 Thus ſaith the LORD God of Iſrael, Behold, I will [b] turn back the weapons of war that are in your hands, wherewith ye fight againſt the King of Babylon, and againſt the Caldeans, which beſiege you without the walls, and I will aſſemble them into the midſt of this city.

5 And I my ſelf will fight againſt you with an * out-ſtretched hand, and with a ſtrong arm, even in anger, and in fury, and in great wrath.

6 And I will ſmite the inhabitants of this city, both man and beaſt: they ſhall die of a great peſtilence.

7 And afterwards, ſaith the LORD, I will deliver Zedekiah King of Judah, and his ſervants, and the people, and ſuch as are left in this city from the peſtilence, from the ſword, and from the famine, into the hand of Nebuchadrezzar King of Babylon, and into the hand of their enemies, and into the hand of thoſe that ſeek their life, and he ſhall ſmite them with the edge of the ſword: he ſhall not ſpare them, neither have pity, nor have mercy.

8 ¶ And unto this people thou ſhalt ſay, Thus ſaith the LORD, Behold, I ſet before you the way of [c] life, and the way of [d] death.

9 He that * abideth in this city, ſhall die by the ſword, and by the famine, and by the peſtilence: but he that goeth out, and falleth to the Caldeans that beſiege you, he ſhall live, and * his life ſhall be unto him for a [e] prey.

10 For I have ſet my face againſt this city for evil, and not for good, ſaith the LORD; it ſhall be given into the hand of the King of Babylon, and he ſhall burn it with fire.

11 ¶ And touching the houſe of the King of Judah, ſay, Hear ye the word of the LORD.

12 O houſe of David, thus ſaith the LORD, * ‡ Execute judgment in the [f] morning, and deliver him that is ſpoiled, out of the hand of the oppreſſour, leſt my fury go out like fire, and burn that none can quench it, becauſe of the evil of your doings, 13 Behold, I am againſt thee, [g] O † inhabitant of the valley, and rock of the plain, ſaith the LORD; which ſay; Who ſhall come down againſt us? or who ſhall enter into our habitations?

14 But I will † puniſh you according to the * fruit of your doings, ſaith the LORD: and I will kindle a fire in the [h] foreſt thereof, and it ſhall devour all things round about it.

CHAP. XXII.

1 He exhorteth to repentance with promiſes and threats. 10 The judgment of Shallum, 13 of Jehojakim, 20 and of Coniah.

THUS ſaith the LORD, Go down to the houſe of the King of Judah, and ſpeak there this word,

2 And ſay, Hear the word of the LORD, O King of Judah, that ſitteſt upon the throne of David, thou, and thy ſervants, and thy people that enter in by theſe gates;

3 Thus ſaith the LORD, * Execute ye judgment and [a] righteouſneſs, and deliver the ſpoiled out of the hand of the oppreſſour: and do no wrong, do no violence to the ſtranger, the the fatherless, nor the widow, neither shed innocent bloud in this place.

4 For if ye do this thing indeed, *Then shall there enter in by the gates of this house, Kings sitting † upon the throne of David, riding in chariots, and on horses, he, and his servants, and his people.

5 But if ye will not hear these words, I [b] swear by my self, saith the LORD, that this house shall become a desolation.

6 For thus saith the LORD unto the King's house of Judah, Thou art [c] Gilead unto me, and the head of Lebanon: yet surely I will make thee a wilderness, and cities which are not inhabited.

7 And I will [d] prepare destroyers against thee, every one with his weapons, and they shall cut down thy choice [e] cedars, and cast them into the fire.

8 [f] And many nations shall pass by this city, and they shall say every man to his neighbour, * Wherefore hath the LORD done thus unto this great city?

9 Then they shall answer, Because they have forsaken the covenant of the LORD their God, and worshipped other Gods, and served them.

10 ¶ Weep ye not for the dead, neither bemoan him, but weep sore for him that [g] goeth away: for he shall return no more, nor see his native country.

11 For thus saith the LORD touching [h] Shallum, the son of Josiah King of Judah, which reigned in stead of Josiah his father, which went forth out of this place, He shall not return thither any more:

12 But he shall die in the place whither they have led him captive, and shall see this land no more.

13 ¶ Wo unto * him that buildeth his house by [i] unrighteousness, and his chambers by wrong; that useth his neighbour's service without wages, and giveth him not for his work:

14 That saith, I will build me a wide house, and † large chambers, and cutteth him out ‡ windows, and it is cieled with cedar, and painted with vermilion.

15 Shalt thou reign because thou closest thy self in cedar? did not thy [k] father eat and drink, and do judgment and justice, and then it was well with him?

16 He judged the cause of the poor and needy, then it was well with him: was not this to know me? saith the LORD.

17 But thine eyes and thine heart are not but for thy covetousness, and for to shed innocent bloud, and for oppression, and for ‡ violence to do it.

18 Therefore thus saith the LORD concerning Johojakim the son of Josiah King of Judah, They shall not [l] lament for him, saying, Ah my brother, or ah sister: they shall not lament for him, saying, Ah lord, or ah his glory.

19 He shall be buried with the [m] burial of an ass, drawn and cast forth beyond the gates of Jerusalem.

20 ¶ Go up to [n] Lebanon, and cry and lift up thy voice in [o] Bashan, and cry from the passages: for all thy lovers are destroyed.

21 I spake unto thee in thy † prosperity, but thou saidst, I will not hear: this hath been thy manner from thy youth, that thou obeyedst not my voice.

22 The wind shall eat up all thy Pastours, and thy [p] lovers shall go into captivity, surely then shalt thou be ashamed and confounded for all thy wickedness.

23 O † inhabitant of Lebanon, that makest thy nest in the [q] cedars, how gracious shalt thou be when pangs come upon thee, the pain as of a woman in travail?

24 As I live, saith the LORD, though [r] Coniah the son of Jehojakim King of Judah were the signet upon my right hand, yet would I pluck thee thence,

25 And I will give thee into the hand of them that seek thy life, and unto the hand of them whose face thou fearest, even into the hand of Nebuchadrezzar King of Babylon, and in the hand of the Chaldeans.

26 And I will cast thee out, and thy mother that bare thee, into another country, where ye were not born, and there shall ye die.

27 But to the land whereunto they † desire to return, thither shall they not return.

28 Is this man Coniah a despised broken idol? is he a vessel wherein is no pleasure? wherefore are they cast out, he and his seed, and are cast into a land which they know not?

29 O [s] earth, earth, earth, hear the word of the LORD.

30 Thus saith the LORD, Write ye this man [t] childless, a man that shall not prosper in his days: for no man of his seed shall prosper, sitting upon the throne of David, and ruling any more in Judah.

1 He propheseth a restauration of the scattered flock. 5 Christ shall rule and save them. 9 Against false Prophets, 33 and mockers of the true Prophets.

WO be unto the [a] Pastours that destroy and scatter the [b] sheep of my pasture, saith the LORD.

2 Therefore thus saith the LORD God of Israel against the Pastours that [c] feed my people, Ye have scattered my flock, and driven them away, and have not visited them; behold, I will visit upon you the evil of your doings, saith the LORD.

3 And I will gather the [d] remnant of my flock, out of all countrys whither I have driven them, and will bring them again to their folds, and they shall be fruitful and increase.

4 And I will set up * shepherds over them which shall feed them, and they shall fear no more, nor be dismayed, neither shall they be lacking, saith the LORD.

6 * In his days Judah ſhall be ſaved, and Iſrael ſhall dwell falſely: and this is his name whereby he ſhall be called, † THE LORD OUR RIGHTEOUSNESS.

7 Therefore behold, the days come, ſaith the LORD, that they ſhall no more ſay, The LORD [f] liveth, which brought up the children of Iſrael out of the land of Egypt:

8 But, The LORD liveth, which brought up, and which led the ſeed of the houſe of Iſrael out of the north-country, and from all countrys whither I had driven them, and they ſhall dwell in their own land.

9 ¶ Mine heart within me is broken, becauſe of the [g] Prophets, all my bones ſhake: I am like a drunken man, and like a man whom wine hath overcome; becauſe of the LORD, and becauſe of the words of his holineſs.

10 For the land is full of adulterers, for becauſe of ‡ ſwearing the land mourneth: the pleaſant places of the wilderneſs are dried up, and their ‡ [h] courſe is evil, and their force is not right.

11 For both Prophet and Prieſt are profane, yea, in my [i] houſe have I found their wickedneſs, ſaith the LORD.

12 Wherefore their way ſhall be unto them as ſlippery ways in the darkneſs: they ſhall be driven on and all fall therein: for I will bring evil upon them, even the year of their viſitation, ſaith the LORD.

13 And I have ſeen ‡† folly in the Prophets of Samaria; they propheſied in Baal, and cauſed my people Iſrael to err.

14 I have ſeen alſo in the [k] Prophets of Jeruſalem ‡ an horrible thing: they commit adultery, and walk in lies: they ſtrengthen alſo the hands of evil doers, that none doth return from his wickedneſs: they are all of them unto [l] me as * Sodom, and the inhabitants thereof as Gomorrah.

15 Therefore thus ſaith the LORD of hoſts concerning the Prophets, Behold, I will feed them with [m] wormwood, and make them drink the water of gall: for from the Prophets of Jeruſalem is ‡ profaneneſs gone forth into all the land.

16 Thus ſaith the LORD of hoſts, Hearken not unto the words of the Prophets that propheſy unto you; they make you vain: they ſpeak a viſion of their [n] own heart, and not out of the mouth of the LORD.

17 They ſay ſtill unto them that deſpiſe me, The LORD hath ſaid, [o] Ye ſhall have peace; and they ſay unto every one that walketh after the ‡ imagination of his own heart, No evil ſhall come upon you.

18 For [p] who hath ſtood in the ‡ counſel of the LORD, and hath perceived and heard his word? who hath marked his word, and heard it?

19 Behold, a * whirlwind of the LORD is gone forth in fury, even a grievous whirlwind, it ſhall fall grievouſly upon the head of the wicked.

20 The * anger of the LORD ſhall not return, until he have executed, and till he have performed the thoughts of his heart: in the latter days ye ſhall [q] conſider it perfectly.

21 * I have not ſent theſe Prophets, yet they ran: I have not ſpoken to them, yet they propheſied.

22 But if they had ſtood in my counſel, and had [r] cauſed my people to hear my words, then they ſhould have turned them from their evil way, and from the evil of their doings.

23 Am I a God at hand, ſaith the LORD, and not a [s] God a far off?

24 Can any * hide himſelf in ſecret places that I ſhall not ſee him? ſaith the LORD: do not I fill heaven and earth? ſaith the LORD.

25 I have heard what the Prophets ſaid, that propheſy lies in my name, ſaying, I have [t] dreamed, I have dreamed.

26 How long ſhall this be in the heart of the Prophets that propheſy lies? yea, they are Prophets of the deceit of their own heart;

27 Which think to cauſe my people to [u] forget my name by their dreams which they tell every man to his neighbour, * as their fathers have forgotten my name, for Baal.

28 The Prophet † that hath a dream, let him [x] tell a dream; and he that hath my word, let him ſpeak my word faithfully: [y] what is the chaff to the wheat? ſaith the LORD.

29 Is not my word like as a fire? ſaith the LORD: and like a hammer that breaketh the rock in pieces?

30 Therefore behold, * I am againſt the Prophets, ſaith the LORD, that [z] ſteal my words every one from his neighbour.

31 Behold, I am againſt the Prophets, ſaith the LORD, ‡ that uſe their tongues, and ſay, [a] He ſaith.

32 Behold, I am againſt them that propheſy falſe dreams, ſaith the LORD, and do tell them, and cauſe my people to err by their lies and by their lightneſs, yet I ſent them not, nor commanded them: therefore they ſhall not profit this people at all, ſaith the LORD.

33 ¶ And when this people, or the Prophet, or a Prieſt ſhall aſk thee, ſaying, What is the [b] burden of the LORD? thou ſhalt then ſay unto them, What burden? I will even forſake you, ſaith the LORD.

4 And the LORD hath sent unto you all his servants the Prophets, * rising early and sending them, but ye have not hearkned, nor inclined your ear to hear.

* Chap. 29. 19.

5 They [d] said, Turn ye again now every one from his evil way, and from the evil of your doings, and dwell in the land, that the LORD hath given unto you and to your fathers, for ever and ever:

d He sheweth that the Prophets wholly with one consent, did labour to pull the people from those vices, which then reigned: to wit, from idolatry, and the vain confidence of men: for under these two all other were contained, 2 Kings 17. 13. Chap. 18. 11. & 35. 15. Jonah 3. 8.

6 And go not after other Gods to serve them, and to worship them, and provoke me not to anger with the works of your hands, and I will do you no hurt.

7 Yet ye have not hearkned unto me, saith the LORD; that ye might provoke me to anger with the works of your hands, to your own hurt.

8 ¶ Therefore thus saith the LORD of hosts, Because ye have not heard my words, 9 Behold, I will send and take all the [e] families of the north, saith the LORD, and Nebuchadrezzar the King of Babylon my [f] servant, and will bring them against this land, and against the inhabitants thereof, and against all these nations [g] round about, and will utterly destroy them, and make them an astonishment, and an hissing, and perpetual desolations.

e The Chaldeans; and all their power.

f So the wicked and Satan himself are God's servants, because he maketh them to serve him by constraint, and turneth that which they do of malice, to his honour and glory.

g As the Philistines, Ammonites, Egyptians, and others.

10 Moreover, † I will take from them the * voice of mirth, and the voice of gladness, the voice of the bridegroom, and the voice of the bride, the sound of the [h] milstones, and the light of the candle.

† Heb. I will cause to perish from them.

* Chap. 7. 34. & 16. 9. Ezek. 26. 13.

h Meaning, that bread and all things that should serve unto their feasts, should be taken away.

Hos. 2. 11.

11 And this whole land shall be a desolation, and an astonishment; and these nations shall serve the King of Babylon seventy years.

12 And it shall come to pass * when [i] seventy years are accomplished, that I will †punish the [k] King of Babylon, and that nation, saith the LORD, for their iniquity, and the land of the Chaldeans, and will make it perpetual desolations.

13 And I will bring upon that land all my words which I have pronounced against it, even all that is written in this Book, which Jeremiah hath prophesied against all the nations.

14 For many nations and great Kings shall *[l] serve themselves of them also: and I will recompense them according to their deeds, and according to the works of their own hands.

15 ¶ For thus saith the LORD God of Israel unto me, [m] Take the wine-cup of this fury at my hand, and cause all the nations, to whom I send thee, to drink it.

16 And they shall drink, and be moved, and be mad, because of the sword that I will send among them.

17 Then took I the cup at the LORD's hand, and made all the nations to drink, unto whom the LORD had sent me:

18 To wit, Jerusalem, and the cities of Judah, and the Kings thereof, and the Princes thereof, to make them a desolation, an astonishment, an hissing, and a curse, ([n] as it is this day)

19 Pharaoh King of Egypt, and his servants, and his Princes, and all his people,

20 And all the mingled people, and all the kings of the land of [o] Uz, and all the Kings of the land of the Philistins, and [p] Ashkelon, and Azzah, and Ekron, and the remnant of Ashdod,

21 *[q] Edom, and *Moab, and the children of *Ammon,

22 And all the Kings of *Tyrus, and all the Kings of Zidon, and the Kings of the ‡[r] isles which are beyond the *sea,

23 *[s] Dedan, and Tema, and Buz, and all †that are in the utmost corners,

24 And all the Kings of Arabia, and all the Kings of the *mingled people that dwell in the [t] desert,

25 And all the Kings of Zimri, and all the Kings of *Elam, and all the Kings of the Medes, 26 And all the Kings of the north, far and near, one with another, and all the kingdoms of the world, which are upon the face of the earth; and the King of [u] Sheshach shall drink after them.

27 Therefore thou shalt say unto them, Thus saith the LORD of hosts the God of Israel, Drink ye and be drunken, and spue and fall, and rise no more, because of the sword which I will send among you.

28 And it shall be, if they refuse to take the cup at thine hand to drink, then shalt thou say unto them, Thus saith the LORD of hosts, Ye shall certainly drink.

29 For lo, I begin to bring evil on the *[x] city †which is called by my name, and should ye be utterly unpunished? ye shall not be unpunished: for I will call for a sword upon all the inhabitants of the earth, saith the LORD of hosts.

30 Therefore prophesy thou against them all these words, and say unto them, The LORD shall * roar from on high, and utter his voice from his holy habitation, he shall mightily roar upon his habitation, he shall give a shout, as they that tread the grapes, against all the inhabitants of the earth.

31 A noise shall come even to the ends of the earth; for the LORD hath a controversy with the nations: he will plead with all flesh, he will give them that are wicked to the sword, saith the LORD.

32 Thus said the LORD of hosts, Behold, evil shall go forth from nation to nation, and a great whirlwind shall be raised up from the coasts of the earth.

33 And the [y] slain of the LORD shall be at that day from one end of the earth even unto the other end of the earth: they shall not be *lamented, neither gathered nor buried, they shall be dung upon the ground.

34 ¶ * Howl ye [z] shepherds and cry, and wallow your selves in the ashes, ye principal of the flock: for † the days of your slaughter, and of your dispersions are accomplished, and ye shall fall like †a [a] pleasant vessel.

35 And †the shepherds shall have no way to flee, [b] nor the principal of the flock to escape.

36 A voice of the cry of the shepherds, and an howling of the principal of the flock shall be heard: for the LORD hath spoiled their pasture.

37 And the peaceable habitations are cut down, because of the fierce anger of the LORD.

38 He hath forsaken his covert, as the lion: for their land is †desolate, because of the fierceness of the oppressour, and because of his fierce anger.

8 ¶ Now it came to paſs, when Jeremiah had made an end of ſpeaking all that the LORD had commanded him to ſpeak unto all the people, that the Prieſts, and the Prophets, and all the people took him, ſaying, Thou ſhalt ſurely die.

9 Why haſt thou propheſied in the name of the LORD, ſaying, [f] This houſe ſhall be like Shiloh, and this city ſhall be deſolate without an inhabitant? and all the people were gathered againſt Jeremiah in the houſe of the LORD.

16 ¶ Then ſaid the Princes, and all the people unto the Prieſts, and to the Prophets, This man is not worthy to die: for he hath ſpoken to us in the name of the LORD our God.

17 Then roſe up certain of the elders of the land, and ſpake to all the aſſembly of the people, ſaying,

18 * Micah the Moraſthite propheſied in the days of Hezekiah King of Judah, and ſpake to all the people of Judah, ſaying, Thus ſaith the LORD of hoſts, * Zion ſhall be plowed like a field, and Jeruſalem ſhall become heaps, and the mountain of the [i] houſe, as the high places of the foreſt.

20 And there was alſo a man that propheſied in the name of the LORD, Urijah the ſon of Shemajah of Kirjath-jearim, who propheſied againſt this city, and againſt this land, according to all the words of Jeremiah.

21 And when Jehojakim the King with all his mighty men, and all the Princes heard his words, the King ſought to put him to death; but when Urijah heard it, he was afraid, and fled, and went into Egypt.

CHAP. XXVII.

1 Under the type of bonds and yokes, he propheſieth the ſubduing of the neighbour Kings unto Nebuchadnezzar. 8 He exhorteth them to yeild, and not to believe the falſe Prophets. 12 The like he doth to Zedekiah. 19 He foretelleth the remnant of the veſſels ſhall be carried to Babylon, and there continue untill the day of viſitation.

IN the beginning of the reign of [a] Jehojakim the ſon of Joſiah King of Judah, came this word unto Jeremiah from the LORD, ſaying,

2 Thus ſaith the LORD to me, Make thee [b] bonds and yokes: and put them upon thy neck,

3 And ſend them to the King of Edom, and to the King of Moab, and to the King of the Ammonites, and to the King of Tyrus, and to the King of Zidon, by the hand of the meſſengers which come to Jeruſalem unto Zedekiah King of Judah;

4 And command them ‡ to ſay unto their maſters, Thus ſaith the LORD of hoſts the God of Iſrael, Thus ſhall ye ſay unto your maſters, a As touching the diſpoſition of the propheſies, they that gathered them into a Book, did not altogether obſerve the order of times, but did ſet ſome afore which ſhould be after; and contrariwiſe, which if the reader mark well, it ſhall avoid many doubts, and make the reading much more eaſy.

b By ſuch ſigns, the Prophets uſed ſometimes to confirm their propheſies, which notwithſtanding they could not do of themſelves, but in as much as they had a revelation for the ſame, Iſa. 20. 2. and therefore the falſe Prophets to get more credit, did uſe alſo ſuch viſible ſigns, but they had no revelation, 1 King. 22. 11.

6 And now have I given all theſe lands into the hand of Nebuchadnezzar the King of Babylon [c] my ſervant, and the beaſts of the field have I given him alſo to ſerve him.

c Read Chap. 25. 9. & 43. 10.

7 And all nations ſhall ſerve him and his [d] ſon and his ſons ſon, until the very time of his land come; and then many nations and great Kings ſhall [e] ſerve themſelves of him.

d Meaning, Evil-merodach, and his ſon Belſhazzar.

e They ſhall bring him and his kingdom in ſubjection, as Chap. 25. 14.

8 ¶ And it ſhall come to paſs, that the nation and kingdom which will not ſerve the ſame Nebuchadnezzar the King of Babylon, and that will not put their neck under the yoke of the King of Babylon, that nation will I puniſh, ſaith the LORD, with the ſword, and with the famine, and with the peſtilence, untill I have conſumed them by his hand.

9 Therefore hearken not ye to your Prophets, nor to your diviners, nor to your † dreamers, nor to your enchanters, nor to your ſorcerers, which ſpeak unto you, ſaying, Ye ſhall not ſerve the King of Babylon:

† Heb. dreams.

11 But the nations that bring their neck under the yoke of the King of Babylon, and ſerve him, thoſe will I let remain ſtill in their own land, ſaith the LORD, and they ſhall till it, and dwell therein.

12 ¶ I ſpake alſo to Zedekiah King of Judah according to all theſe words, ſaying, Bring your necks under the yoke of the King of Babylon, and ſerve him and his people, and live.

13 Why will ye die, thou and thy people, by the ſword, by the famine, and by the peſtilence, as the LORD hath ſpoken againſt the nation that will not ſerve the King of Babylon?

14 Therefore hearken not unto the words of the Prophets that ſpeak unto you, ſaying, Ye ſhall not ſerve the King of Babylon: for they propheſy * a lie unto you.

* Chap. 14. 14. & 23. 21. & 29. 8.

† Heb. in a tie, or lying by.

16 Alſo I ſpake to the Prieſts, and to all this people, ſaying, Thus ſaith the LORD, Hearken not to the words of your Prophets, that propheſy unto you, ſaying, Behold, the veſſels of the LORD's houſe ſhall now ſhortly be [f] brought again from Babylon; for they propheſy a lie unto you.

f Which were taken when Jeconiah was led captive into Babel.

17 Hearken not unto them, ſerve the King of Babylon and live: wherefore ſhould this city be laid waſte?

18 But if they be Prophets, and if the word of the LORD be with them, let them now [g] make interceſſion to the LORD of hoſts, that the veſſels which are left in the houſe of the LORD, and in the houſe of the King of Judah, and at Jeruſalem, go not to Babylon.

g For it was not only the Prophets office to ſhew the word of God, but alſo to pray for the ſins of the people, Gen. 20. 7. which theſe could not do, becauſe they had no expreſs word: for God had pronounced the contrary.

19 ¶ For thus ſaith the LORD of hoſts concerning the pillars, and concerning the ſea, and concerning the baſes, and concerning the reſidue of the veſſels that remain in this city, 20 Which Nebuchadnezzar King of Babylon took not, when he carried away * captive Jeconiah the ſon of Jehojakim King of Judah, from Jeruſalem to Babylon, and all the nobles of Judah and Jeruſalem;

* 2 Kings 24 14, 15.

21 Yea, thus ſaith the LORD of hoſts the God of Iſrael, concerning the veſſels that remain in the houſe of the LORD, and in the houſe of the King of Judah, and of Jeruſalem, 22 They ſhall be * carried to Babylon, and there ſhall they be untill the day that I * viſit [h] them, ſaith the LORD: then will I bring them up, and reſtore them to this place.

CHAP. XXVIII.

1 Hananiah propheſieth falſely the return of the veſſels and of Jeconiah. 5 Jeremiah wiſhing it to be true, ſheweth that the event will declare who are true Prophets. 10 Hananiah breaketh Jeremiah's yoke. 12 Jeremiah telleth of an iron yoke, 15 and fortelleth Hananiah's death.

AND it came to paſs the ſame year, in the beginning of the [a] reign of Zedekiah King of Judah, in the [b] fourth year, and in the fifth moneth, that Hananiah the ſon of Azur the Prophet, which was of [c] Gibeon, ſpake unto me in the houſe of the LORD, in the preſence of the Prieſts, and of all the people, ſaying, a When Jeremiah began to bear theſe bonds and yokes.

b After that the land had reſted, as Levit. 25. 2.

c This was a city in Benjamin belonging to the ſons of Aaron, Joſh. 21. 17.

2 Thus ſpeaketh the LORD of hoſts the God of Iſrael, ſaying, I have broken the yoke of the King of Babylon.

3 Within † two full years will I bring again into this place all the veſſels of the LORD's houſe, that Nebuchadnezzar King of Babylon took away from this place, and carried them to Babylon.

† Heb. two years of days.

4 And I will bring again to this place, Jeconiah the ſon of Jehojakim King of Judah, with all the † captives of Judah, that went into Babylon, ſaith the LORD; for I will break the yoke of the King of Babylon.

† Heb. captivity.

5 ¶ Then the Prophet Jeremiah ſaid unto the [d] Prophet Hananiah in the preſence of the Prieſts, and in the preſence of all the people that ſtood in the houſe of the LORD, d He was ſo eſteemed though he was a falſe Prophet.

6 Even the Prophet Jeremiah ſaid, Amen: the LORD do ſo, the [e] LORD perform thy words which thou haſt propheſied, to bring again the veſſels of the LORD's houſe, and all that is carried away captive, from Babylon into this place.

e That is, I would wiſh the ſame for God's honour and wealth of my people, but he hath appointed the contrary.

7 Nevertheleſs, hear thow now this word that I ſpeak in thine ears, and in the ears of all the people, f Meaning, that the Prophets that did either denounce war or peace, were tried either true, or falſe, by the ſucceſs of their propheſies, albeit God maketh to come to paſs ſometime that which the falſe Prophet ſpeaketh, to trie the faith of his, Deut. 13. 3.

8 The Prophets that have been before me, & before thee of old, [f] propheſied both againſt many countries, and againſt great kingdoms, of war, and of evil, and of peſtilence.

9 The Prophet which propheſieth of peace, when the word of the Prophet ſhall come to paſs, paſs, then ſhall the Prophet be known, that the LORD hath truly ſent him.

10 ¶ Then Hananiah the Prophet took the * yoke from off the Prophet Jeremiah's neck, [b] and brake it.

11 And Hananiah ſpake in the preſence of all the people, ſaying, Thus ſaith the LORD, Even ſo will I break the yoke of Nebuchadnezzar King of Babylon from the neck of all nations within the ſpace of two full years. And the Prophet Jeremiah went his way.

12 ¶ Then the word of the LORD came unto Jeremiah the Prophet (after that Hananiah the Prophet had broken the yoke from off the neck of the Prophet Jeremiah) ſaying, 13 Go, and tell Hananiah, ſaying, Thus ſaith the LORD, Thou haſt broken the yokes of wood, but thou ſhalt make for them yokes of iron.

14 For thus ſaith the LORD of hoſts, the God of Iſrael, I have put a yoke of [h] iron upon the neck of all theſe nations, that they may ſerve Nebuchadnezzar King of Babylon, and they ſhall ſerve him; and I have given him the [i] beaſts of the field alſo.

15 ¶ Then ſaid the Prophet Jeremiah unto Hananiah the Prophet, Hear now, Hananiah, The LORD hath not ſent thee, but thou makeſt this people to truſt in a lie.

16 Therefore thus ſaith the LORD, Behold, I will caſt thee from off the face of the earth: this year thou ſhalt die, becauſe thou haſt taught * † rebellion againſt the LORD.

17 So Hananiah the Prophet [k] died the ſame year, in the ſeventh moneth.

CHAP. XXIX.

1 Jeremiah ſendeth a letter to the captives in Babylon, to be quiet there, 8 and not to believe the dreams of their Prophets, 10 and that they ſhall return with grace after ſeventy years. 15 He foretelleth the deſtruction of the reſt for their diſobedience. 20 He ſheweth the fearful end of Ahab and Zedekiah, two lying Prophets. 24 Shemajah writeth a letter againſt Jeremiah. 30 Jeremiah readeth his doom.

2 (After that * Jeconiah the King, and the [b] Queen, and the ‡ eunuchs, the Princes of Judah and Jeruſalem, and the carpenters, and the ſmiths were departed from Jeruſalem)

3 By the hand of Elaſah the ſon of Shaphan, and Gemariah the ſon of Hilkiah, (whom Zedekiah King of Judah [c] ſent unto Babylon to Nebuchadnezzar King of Babylon) ſaying,

4 Thus ſaith the LORD of hoſts the God of Iſrael unto all that are carried away captives, whom I have [d] cauſed to be carried away from Jeruſalem unto Babylon,

5 Build ye houſes, and dwell in them, and plant gardens, and eat the fruit of them;

6 Take ye wives, and beget ſons and daughters, and take wives for your ſons, and give your daughters to husbands, that they may bear ſons and daughters, that ye may be increaſed there, and not diminiſhed.

7 And ſeek the peace of the city, whither I have cauſed you to be carried away captives, and * pray unto the LORD for it: for in the peace thereof ſhall ye have peace.

8 ¶ For thus ſaith the LORD of hoſts, the God of Iſrael, Let not your Prophets and your deviners that be in the midſt of you, * deceive you, neither hearken to your dreams which ye cauſe to be dreamed.

9 For they prophecy † falſely unto you in my name; I have not ſent them, ſaith the LORD.

10 ¶ For thus ſaith the LORD, that after * ſeventy years be accompliſhed at Babylon, I will viſit you, and perform my good word towards you, in cauſing you to return to this place.

11 For I know the thoughts that I think towards you, ſaith the LORD, thoughts of peace, and not of evil, to give you an † expected end.

AT the [a] same time, saith the LORD, will I be the God of all the families of Israel, and they shall be my people.

2 Thus saith the LORD, The people which were [b] left of the sword, found grace in the wilderness; even Israel, when [c] I went to cause him to rest.

3 The LORD hath appeared † [d] of old unto me, saying, [e] Yea, I have loved thee with an everlasting love: therefore ‡ with loving kindness have I drawn thee.

4 Again I will build thee, and thou shalt be built, O virgin of Israel, thou shalt again [f] be adorned with thy ‡ tabrets, and shalt go forth in the dances of them that make merry.

5 Thou shalt yet plant vines upon the mountains of [g] Samaria, the planters shall plant, and [h] shall † eat them as common things.

6 For there shall be a day, that the [i] watchmen upon the mount Ephraim shall cry, Arise ye, and let us go up to [k] Zion unto the LORD our God.

7 For thus saith the LORD, Sing with gladness for Jacob, and shout among the chief of the [l] nations: publish ye, praise ye and say, O LORD save thy people the remnant of Israel.

8 Behold, I will bring them from the north-country, and gather them from the coasts of the earth, and with them the blind and the lame, the woman with child, and her that travaileth with child together, a great company shall return thither.

9 They shall come with [m] weeping, and with ‡ supplications will I lead them: I will cause them to walk by the [n] rivers of waters, in a straight way wherein they shall not stumble: for I am father to Israel, and Ephraim is my *[o] first-born.

10 ¶ Hear the word of the LORD, O ye nations, and declare it in the isles afar off, and say, He that scattered Israel will gather him, and keep him, as a shepherd doth his flock.

11 For the LORD hath redeemed Jacob, and ransomed him from the hand of [p] him that was stronger then he.

12 Therefore they shall come and sing in the height of Zion, and shall flow together to the goodness of the LORD, for [q] wheat, and for wine, and for oyl, and for the young of the flock and of the herd: and their soul shall be as a watered garden, and they shall not sorrow any more at all.

13 Then shall the virgin rejoyce in the [r] dance, both young men and old together: for I will turn their mourning into joy, and will comfort them, and make them rejoyce from their sorrow.

14 And I will satiate the soul of the Priests with [s] fatness, and my people shall be satisfied with my goodness, saith the LORD.

15 ¶ Thus saith the LORD, *A voice was heard in Ramah, lamentation and bitter weeping: [t] Rahel weeping for her children, refused to be comforted for her children, because they were not.

16 Thus saith the LORD, Refrain thy voice from weeping, and thine eyes from tears; for thy work shall be rewarded, saith the LORD, and they shall come again from the land of the enemy.

17 And there is hope in thine end, saith the LORD, that thy children shall come again to their own border.

18 ¶ I have surely [u] heard Ephraim bemoaning himself thus, Thou hast chastised me, and I was chastised, as a [x] bullock unaccustomed to the yoke: [y] turn thou me, and I shall be turned; for thou art the LORD my God.

20 Is Ephraim [a] my dear son? is he a pleasant child? for since I spake against him, I do earnestly [b] remember him still: therefore my bowels † are troubled for him; I will surely have mercy upon him, saith the LORD.

21 Set thee up [c] way-marks, make thee high heaps: set thine heart toward the high-way, even the way which thou wentest: turn again, O virgin of Israel, turn again to these thy cities.

23 Thus saith the LORD of hosts the God of Israel, As yet they shall use this speech in the land of Judah, and in the cities thereof, when I shall bring again their captivity, The LORD bless thee, O habitation of justice, and mountain of holiness.

24 And there shall dwell in Judah it self, and in all the cities thereof together, husbandmen, and they that go forth with flocks.

27 ¶ Behold, the days come, saith the LORD, that I will sow the house of Israel, and the house of Judah with [f] the seed of man, and with the seed of beast.

28 And it shall come to pass, that like as I have watched over them, to pluck up, and to break down, and to throw down, and to destroy, and to afflict; so will I watch over them, to build and to plant, saith the LORD.

29 In those days they shall say no more, The fathers have eaten [g] a sowr grape, and the childrens teeth are set on edge.

30 But every one shall die for his own iniquity, every man that eateth the sowr grape, his teeth shall be set on edge.

31 ¶ Behold, the * days come, saith the LORD, that I will make [h] a new covenant with the house of Israel, and with the house of Judah:

CHAP. XXXII.

1 Jeremiah being imprisoned by Zedekiah for his prophecy, buyeth Hanameel's field. 13 Baruch must preserve the evidences, as tokens of the people's return. 16 Jeremiah in his prayer complaineth to God. 26 God confirmeth the captivity for their sins, 36 and promiseth a gracious return.

THE word that came to Jeremiah from the LORD in the [a] tenth year of Zedekiah King of Judah, which was the eighteenth year of Nebuchadrezzar.

2 For then the King of Babylon's army besieged Jerusalem: and Jeremiah the Prophet was shut up in the court of the prison, which was in the King of Judah's house.

3 For Zedekiah King of Judah had shut him up, saying, Wherefore dost thou prophesy, and say, thus saith the LORD, * Behold, I will give this city into the hand of the King of Babylon, and he shall take it.

4 And Zedekiah King of Judah shall not escape out of the hand of the Chaldeans, but shall surely * be delivered into the hand of the King of Babylon, and shall speak with him mouth to mouth, and his eyes shall behold his eyes,

5 And he shall lead Zedekiah to Babylon, and there shall he be until [b] I visit him, saith the LORD: though ye fight with the Chaldeans, ye shall not prosper.

7 Behold, Hanameel the son of Shallum thine uncle, shall come unto thee, saying, [c] Buy thee my field that is in Anathoth: for the * right of redemption is thine to [d] buy it.

8 So Hanameel mine uncle's son came to me in the court of the prison, according to the word of the LORD, and said unto me, [e] Buy my field, I pray thee, that is in Anathoth, which is in the country of Benjamin: for the right of inheritance is thine, and the redemption is thine, buy it for thy self: then I knew that this was the word of the LORD.

d Because their deliverance from Babylon was a figure of their deliverance from sin, he sheweth how this should be procured, to wit, by Jesus Christ, whom a woman should conceive, and bear in her womb, which is a strange thing in earth: because he should be born of a virgin without man: or, he meaneth that Jerusalem, which was like a barren woman in her captivity, should be fruitfull as she that is joyned in marriage, and whom God blesseth with children.

weighed him the mony, even ‡ [f] seventeen shekels of silver.

10 And I † subscribed the evidence, and sealed it, and took witnesses, and weighed him the mony in the balances.

11 So I took the evidence of the purchase, both that which was sealed [g] according to the law and custom, and that which was open.

12 And I gave the evidence of the purchase unto Baruch the son of Neriah, the son of Maasejah, in the sight of Hanameel mine uncle's son, and in the presence of the witnesses that subscribed the book of the purchase, before all the Jews that sat in the court of the prison.

13 ¶ And I charged Baruch before them, saying,

14 Thus saith the LORD of hosts the God of Israel, Take these evidences, this evidence of the purchase, both which is sealed, and this evidence which is open: and put them in an earthen [h] vessel, that they may continue many days.

15 For thus saith the LORD of hosts the God of Israel, Houses and fields, and vineyards shall be possessed again in this land.

16 ¶ Now when I had delivered the evidence of the purchase unto Baruch the son of Neriah, I prayed unto the LORD, saying, 17 Ah Lord GOD, behold, thou hast made the heaven and the earth by thy great power and stretched out arm, and there is nothing ‡ too hard for thee.

18 Thou shewest * loving kindness unto thousands, and recompensest the iniquity of the fathers into the bosome of their [i] children after them: the great, the mighty God, the LORD of hosts is his name,

19 Great in counsel, and mighty in † work, (for thine * eyes are open upon all the ways of the sons of men, to give every one according to his ways, and according to the fruit of his doings)

20 Which hast set signs and wonders in the land of Egypt, even unto [k] this day, and in Israel, and amongst other men, and hast made thee a name, as at this day.

21 And hast brought forth thy people Israel * out of the land of Egypt, with signs and with wonders, and with a strong hand, and with a stretched out arm, and with great terrour.

22 And hast given them this land which thou didst swear to their fathers to give them, a land flowing with milk and hony.

23 And they came in and possessed it, but they obeyed not thy voice, neither walked in thy law, they have done nothing of all that thou commandedst them to do: therefore thou hast caused all this evil to come upon them.

24 Behold the ‡ [l] mounts, they are come unto the city to take it, and the city is given into the hand of the Chaldeans that fight against it, because of thy sword, and of the famine, and of the pestilence; and what thou hast spoken is come to pass, and behold, thou seest it.

25 And thou hast said unto me, O Lord GOD, Buy thee the field for mony, and take witnesses: for the city is given into the hand of the Chaldeans.

26 ¶ Then came the word of the LORD unto Jeremiah, saying,

27 Behold, I am the LORD, the * God of all [m] flesh: Is there any thing too hard for me?

28 Therefore thus saith the LORD, Behold, I will give this city into the hand of the Chaldeans, and into the hand of Nebuchadrezzar King of Babylon, and he shall take it.

29 And the Chaldeans that fight against this city, shall come and set fire on this city, and burn it with the houses, * upon whose roofs they have offered incense unto Baal, and poured out drink-offerings unto other Gods, to provoke me to anger.

30 For the children of Israel, and the children of Judah, have onely done evil before me from their [n] youth: for the children of Israel have onely provoked me to anger with the work of their hands, saith the LORD.

31 For this city hath been to me, as † a provocation of mine anger and of my fury, from the day that they built it, even unto this day; that I should remove it from before my face:

32 Because of all the evil of the children of Israel, and of the children of Judah which they have done to provoke me to anger, they, their Kings, their Princes, their Priests, and their Prophets, and the men of Judah, and the inhabitans of Jerusalem.

33 And they have turned unto me the †* back, and not the face; though I taught them ° rising up early, and teaching them, yet they have not hearkned to receive instruction.

34 But they * set their abominations in the house (which is called by my name) to defile it.

35 And they built the [p] high places of Baal, which are in the valley of the son of [q] Hinnom, to * cause their sons and their daughters [r] to pass through the fire unto * Molech, which I commanded them not, neither came it into my mind, that they should do this abomination to cause Judah to sin.

36 ¶ And now [s] therefore thus saith the LORD the God of Israel concerning this city, whereof ye say, It shall be delivered into the hand of the King of Babylon, by the sword and by the famine, and by the pestilence:

37 Behold, I will * gather them out of all countrys, whither I have driven them in mine anger and in my fury and in great wrath; and I will bring them again unto this place, and I will cause them to dwell safely.

38 And they shall be * my people, and I will be their God.

39 And I will * give them [t] one heart, and one way, that they may fear me † for ever for the good of them, and of their children after them.

26 Then will I cast away the seed of Jacob, and David my servant, so that I will not take any of his seed to be rulers over the seed of Abraham, Isaac, and Jacob: for I will cause their captivity to return, and have mercy on them.

CHAP. XXXIV.

1 Jeremiah propheseth the captivity of Zedekiah and the city. 8 The Princes and the people having dismissed their bond-servants, contrary to the covenant of God, reassume them. 12 Jeremiah for their disobedience, giveth them and Zedekiah, into the hands of their enemies.

THE word which came unto Jeremiah from the LORD, (*when Nebuchadnezzar King of Babylon, and all his army, and all the kingdoms of the earth † of his dominion, and all the people fought against Jerusalem, and against all the cities thereof) saying,

2 Thus saith the LORD the God of Israel, Go, and speak to Zedekiah King of Judah, and tell him, Thus saith the LORD, Behold, I will give this city into the hand of the King of Babylon, and he shall burn it with fire.

3 And thou shalt not escape out of his hand, but shalt surely be * taken, and delivered into his hand, and thine eyes shall behold the eyes of the King of Babylon, and † he shall speak with thee mouth to mouth, and thou shalt go to Babylon.

4 Yet hear the word of the LORD, O Zedekiah King of Judah, Thus saith the LORD of thee, Thou shalt not die by the sword:

5 But thou shalt die in [b] peace: and with the burnings of thy fathers the former Kings which were before thee, so shall they burn odours for thee, and they will lament thee, saying, [c] Ah lord: for I have pronounced the word, saith the LORD.

6 Then Jeremiah the Prophet spake all these words unto Zedekiah King of Judah in Jerusalem.

7 When the King of Babylon's army fought against Jerusalem, and against all the cities of Judah that were left, against Lachish, and against Azekah: for these defenced cities remained of the cities of Judah.

8 ¶ This is the word that came unto Jeremiah from the LORD, after that the King Zedekiah had made a covenant with all the people which were at Jerusalem, [d] to proclaim liberty unto them;

9 That every man should let his [e] man-servant, and every man his maid-servant, being an Hebrew or an Hebrewess, go free, that none should serve himself of them, to wit, of a Jew his brother.

10 Now when all the Princes, and all the people which had entred into the covenant, heard that every one should let his man-servant, and every one his maid-servant go free, that none should serve themselves of them any more, that they obeyed and let them go.

11 But afterwards they turned and caused the servants and the hand-maids, whom they had let go free, to return, and brought them into subjection for servants and for hand-maids.

22 ¶ Therefore the word of the LORD came to Jeremiah from the LORD, saying,

13 Thus saith the LORD, the God of Israel, I made a covenant with your fathers in the day that I brought them forth out of the land of Egypt, out of the house of bond-men, saying,

14 At the end of * seven years, let ye go every man his brother an Hebrew, which ‡ hath been sold unto thee: and when he hath served thee six years, thou shalt let him go free from thee: but your fathers hearkned not unto me, neither inclined their ear.

15 And ye were † now turned, and had done right in my sight, in proclaiming liberty every man to his neighbour, and ye had made a covenant before me in the [f] house † which is called by my name.

16 But ye turned and polluted my name, and caused every man his servant, and every man his hand-maid, whom he had set at liberty at their pleasure, to return, and brought them into subjection, to be unto you for servants and for hand-maids.

17 Therefore thus saith the LORD, Ye have not hearkned unto me, in proclaiming liberty, every one to his brother, and every man to his neighbour: behold, I proclaim a liberty for you, saith the LORD, to the [g] sword, to the pestilence, and to the famine, and I will make you † to be * removed into all the kingdoms of the earth.

18 And I will give the men that have transgressed my covenant, which have not performed the words of the covenant which they had made before me, when they * cut the calf in twain, and passed between the parts thereof,

19 The Princes of Judah, and the Princes of Jerusalem, the Eunuchs, and the Priests, and all the people of the land which passed between the parts of the calf;

20 I will even give them into the hand of their enemies, and into the hand of them that seek their life; and their * dead bodies shall be for meat unto the fowls of the heaven, and to the beasts of the earth.

21 And Zedekiah King of Judah, and his Princes will I give into the hand of their enemies, and into the hand of them that seek their life, and into the hand of the King of Babylon's army which are [i] gone up from you.

22 Behold, I will command, saith the LORD, and cause them to return to this city, and they shall fight against it, and take it, and burn it with fire, and I will make the cities of Judah a desolation without an inhabitant.

the ſon of Joſiah, King of Judah, ſaying,
2 Go unto the houſe of the [b] Rechabites, and ſpeak unto them, and bring them into the houſe of the LORD, into one of the chambers, and give them wine to drink.
3 Then I took Jaazaniah the ſon of Jeremiah, the ſon of Habaziniah, and his brethren, and all his ſons, and the whole houſe of the Rechabites.
4 And I brought them into the houſe of the LORD, into the chamber of the ſons of Hanan the ſon of Igdaliah [c] a man of God, which was by the chamber of the Princes, which was above the chamber of Maaſejah the ſon of Shallum, the keeper of the † door.
5 And I ſet before the ſons of the houſe of the Rechabites pots full of wine, and cups, and [d] I ſaid unto them, Drink ye wine.
6 But they ſaid, We will drink no wine: [e] for Jonadab the ſon of Rechab our father commanded us, ſaying, [f] Ye ſhall drink no wine, neither ye, nor your ſons for ever.
7 Neither ſhall ye build houſe, nor ſow ſeed, nor plant vineyard, nor have any: but all your days ye ſhall dwell in tents, that ye may live many days in the land where ye be ſtrangers.
8 Thus have we obeyed the voice of Jonadab the ſon of Rechab our father, in all that he hath charged us, to drink no wine all our days, we, our wives, our ſons nor our daughters;
9 Nor to build houſes for us to dwell in: neither have we vineyard, nor field, nor ſeed.
10 But we have dwelt in tents, and have obeyed, and done according to [g] all that Jonadab our father commanded us.
11 But it came to paſs, when Nebuchadrezzar King of Babylon came up into the land, that we ſaid, Come, and let us go to Jeruſalem for fear of the army of the Chaldeans, and for fear of the army of the Syrians: ſo we [h] dwell at Jeruſalem.
12 ¶ Then came the word of the LORD unto Jeremiah, ſaying, 13 Thus ſaith the LORD of hoſts, the God of Iſrael; Go and tell the men of Judah, and the inhabitants of Jeruſalem, Will [i] ye not receive inſtruction to hearken to my words? ſaith the LORD.
14 The words of Jonadab the ſon of Rechab, that he commanded his ſons not to drink wine, are performed; for unto this day they drink none, but obey their father's commandment: notwithſtanding I have ſpoken unto you, [k] riſing early, and ſpeaking, but ye hearkned not unto me.
15 I have ſent alſo unto you all my ſervants the Prophets, riſing up early and ſending them, ſaying, * Return ye now every man from his evil way, and amend your doings, and go not after other Gods to ſerve them, and ye ſhall dwell in the land, which I have given to you, and to your fathers: but ye have not enclined your ear, nor hearkned unto me.
16 Becauſe the ſons of Jonadab the ſon of Rechab, have performed the commandment of their father, which he commanded them; but this people hath not hearkned unto me:
17 Therefore thus ſaith the LORD God of hoſts, the God of Iſrael, Behold, I will bring upon Judah, and upon all the inhabitants of Jeruſalem, all the evil that I have pronounced againſt them: becauſe I have [l] ſpoken unto them, but they have not heard, and I have called unto them, bnt they have not anſwered.
18 ¶ And Jeremiah ſaid unto the houſe of the Rechabites, Thus ſaith the LORD of hoſts, the God of Iſrael, Becauſe ye have obeyed the commandment of Jonadab your father, and kept all his precepts, and done according unto all that he hath commanded you:
19 Therefore thus ſaith the LORD of hoſts, the God of Iſrael, † Jonadab the ſon of Rechab ſhall [m] not want a man to ſtand before me for ever.

CHAP. XXXVI.

1 Jeremiah cauſeth Baruch to write his prophecy, 5 and publickly to read it. 11 The Princes having intelligence thereof by Michaiah, ſent Jehudi to fetch the roll and read it. 19 They will Baruch to hide himſelf and Jeremiah. 20 The King Jehojakim being certified thereof, heareth part of it, and burneth the roll. 27 Jeremiah denounceth his judgment. 32 Baruch writeth a new copy.

AND it came to paſs in the [a] fourth year of Jehojakim the ſon of Joſiah King of Judah, that this word came unto Jeremiah from the LORD, ſaying,
2 Take thee a roll of a book, and write therein all the words that I have ſpoken unto thee againſt Iſrael, and againſt Judah, and againſt all the nations, from the day I ſpake unto thee, [b] from the days of * Joſiah, even unto this day.
3 It may be that the houſe of Judah will hear all the evil which I purpoſe to do unto them: that they may return every man from his evil way, that I may forgive their iniquity and their ſin.
4 Then Jeremiah called Baruch the ſon of Neriah; and Baruch wrote [c] from the mouth of Jeremiah all the words of the LORD, which he had ſpoken unto him, upon a roll of a book.
5 And Jeremiah commanded Baruch, ſaying, I am [d] ſhut up, I cannot go into the houſe of the LORD:
6 Therefore go thou and read in the roll, which thou haſt written from my mouth, the words of the LORD in the ears of the people in the LORD's houſe upon the [e] faſting-day: and alſo thou ſhalt read them in the ears of all Judah, that come out of their cities.
7 It may be † they will preſent their [f] ſupplication before the LORD, and will return every one from his evil way; for great is the anger and the fury that the LORD hath pronounced againſt this people.

9 And

9 And it came to pass in the fifth [g] year of Jehojakim the son of Josiah King of Judah, in the ninth month, that they proclaimed a fast before the LORD to all the people in Jerusalem, and to all the people that came from the cities of Judah unto Jerusalem.

10 Then read Baruch in the Book, the words of Jeremiah in the house of the LORD, in the chamber of Gemariah, the son of Shaphan the Scribe, in the higher court, at the ‡* entry of the [h] new gate of the LORD's house in the ears of all the people.

11 ¶ When Michajah the son of Gemariah the son of Shaphan, had heard out of the Book all the words of the LORD, 12 Then he went down into the King's house into the Scribe's chamber, and lo, all the Princes sat there, even Elishama the Scribe, & Delajah the son of Shemajah, and Elnathan the son of Achbor, and Gemariah the son of Shaphan, and Zedekiah the son of Hananiah, and all the Princes.

13 Then Michajah declared unto them all the words that he had heard when Baruch read the Book in the ears of the people.

14 Therefore all the Princes sent Jehudi the son of Nethaniah, the son of Shelemiah, the son of Cushi, unto Baruch, saying, Take in thine hand the roll wherein thou hast read in the ears of the people, and come. So Baruch the son of Neriah took the roll in his hand, and came unto them.

15 And they said unto him, Sit down now, and read it in our ears. So Baruch read it in their ears.

16 Now it came to pass when they had heard all the words, they were [i] afraid both one and other, and said unto Baruch, We will surely tell the King of all these words.

17 And they asked Baruch, saying, Tell us now, How didst thou write all these words at his mouth?

18 Then Baruch answered them, He pronounced all these words unto me with his mouth, and I wrote them with ink in the Book.

19 Then said the Princes unto Baruch, Go [k] hide thee, thou and Jeremiah, and let no man know where ye be.

20 ¶ And they went in to the King into the court, but they laid up the roll in the chamber of Elishama the Scribe, and told all the words in the ears of the King.

21 So the King sent Jehudi to fet the roll, and he took it out of Elishama the Scribe's chamber, and Jehudi read it in the ears of the King, and in the ears of all the Princes which stood beside the King.

22 Now the King sat in the winter-house, in the [l] ninth month; and there was a fire on the hearth burning before him.

23 And it came to pass that when Jehudi had read three or four leaves, he cut it with the penknife, and cast it into the fire that was on the hearth, until all the roll was consumed in the fire that was on the hearth.

24 Yet they were not afraid, nor rent [m] their garments, neither the King, nor any of his servants that heard all these words.

25 Nevertheless, Elnathan, and Delajah, and Gemariah had made intercession to the King, that he would not burn the roll, but he would not hear them.

26 But the King commanded Jerameel the son ‡ of Hammelech, and Serajah the son of Azriel, and Shelemiah the son of Abdeel, to take Baruch the Scribe, and Jeremiah the Prophet: but the LORD [n] hid them.

27 ¶ Then the word of the LORD came to Jeremiah (after that the King had burnt the roll, and the words which Baruch wrote at the mouth of Jeremiah) saying, 28 Take thee again [o] another roll, and write in it all the former words that were in the first roll, which Jehojakim the King of Judah hath burnt.

29 And thou shalt say to Jehojakim King of Judah, Thus saith the LORD, thou hast burnt this roll, saying, [p] Why hast thou written therein, saying, The King of Babylon shall certainly come and destroy this land, and shall cause to cease from thence man and beast?

30 Therefore thus saith the LORD, of Jehojakim King of Judah, He shall have [q] none to sit upon the throne of David, and his [r] dead body shall be cast out in the day to the heat, and in the night to the frost.

31 And I will † punish him and his seed, and his servants, for their iniquity, and I will bring upon them, and upon the inhabitants of Jerusalem, and upon the men of Judah all the evil that I have pronounced against them, but they hearkned not.

32 ¶ Then took Jeremiah another roll, and gave it to Baruch the Scribe the son of Neriah, who wrote therein from the mouth of Jeremiah, all the words of the Book which Jehojakim King of Judah had burnt in the fire, and there were added besides unto them many † like words.

1 The Egyptians having raised the siege of the Chaldeans, King Zedekiah sendeth to Jeremiah to pray for the people. 6 Jeremiah prophesieth the Chaldeans certain return and victory. 11 He is taken for a fugitive, beaten, and put in prison. 16 He assureth Zedekiah of the captivity. 18 Intreating for his liberty, he obtaineth some favour.

among the people: for they had not put him into prison.

5 Then Pharaoh's army was [c] come forth out of Egypt: and when the Chaldeans that besieged Jerusalem, heard tidings of them, they departed from Jerusalem.

6 ¶ Then came the word of the LORD unto the Prophet Jeremiah, saying,

7 Thus saith the LORD, the God of Israel, Thus shall ye say to the King of Judah, that sent you unto me to enquire of me, Behold, Pharaoh's army which is come forth to help you, shall return to Egypt into their own land.

8 And the Chaldeans shall come again, and fight against the city, and take it, and burn it with fire.

9 Thus saith the LORD, Deceive not your † selves, saying, The Chaldeans shall surely depart from us: for they shall not depart.

10 For though ye had smitten the whole army of the Chaldeans that fight against you, & there remained but † wounded men among them, yet should they rise up every man in his tent, and burn this city with fire.

11 ¶ And it came to pass that when the army of the Chaldeans was † broken up from Jerusalem for fear of Pharaoh's army, 12 Then Jeremiah went forth out of Jerusalem to go into the [f] land of Benjamin, ‡ to separate himself thence in the midst of the people.

13 And when he was in the [g] gate of Benjamin, a captain of the ward was there, whose name was Irijah, the son of Shelemiah, the son of Hananiah, and he took Jeremiah the Prophet, saying, Thou fallest away to the Chaldeans.

14 Then said Jeremiah, It is † false, I fall not away to the Chaldeans: but he hearkned not to him: so Irijah took Jeremiah and brought him to the Princes.

15 Wherefore the Princes were wroth with Jeremiah, and smote him, and put him in prison in the house of Jonathan the Scribe; for they had made that the [h] prison.

16 ¶ When Jeremiah was entred into the dungeon, and into the ‡ cabins, and Jeremiah had remained there many days:

17 Then Zedekiah the King sent, and took him out; and the King asked him secretly in his house, and said, Is there any word from the LORD? and Jeremiah said, There is: for, said he, thou shalt be delivered into the hand of the King of Babylon.

18 Moreover, Jeremiah said unto King Zedekiah, What have I offended against thee, or against thy servants, or against this people, that ye have put me in prison?

19 Where are now your Prophets which prophesied unto you, saying, The King of Babylon shall not come against you, nor against this land?

20 Therefore hear now, I pray thee, O my Lord the King, † let my supplication, I pray thee, be accepted before thee; that thou cause me not to return to the house of Jonathan the Scribe, lest I die there.

21 Then Zedekiah the King commanded that they should commit Jeremiah into the court of the prison, and that they should give him daily a piece of bread out of the bakers street, untill all [i] the bread in the city were spent. Thus Jeremiah remained in the court of the prison.

CHAP. XXXVIII.

1 Jeremiah by a false suggestion is put into the dungeon of Malchiah. 7 Ebed-melech, by suit, getteth him some enlargement. 14 Upon secret conference he counselleth the King by yeilding to save his life. 24 By the King's instructions, he concealeth the conference from the Princes.

THen Shephatiah the son of Mattan, and Gedaliah the son of Pashur, and Jucal the son of Shelemiah, and Pashur the son of [a] Malchiah, heard the words that Jeremiah had spoken unto all the people, saying,

2 Thus saith the LORD, * He that remaineth in this city shall die by the sword, by the famine, and by the pestilence: but he that goeth forth to the Chaldeans, shall live; for he shall have his life for [b] a prey, and shall live.

3 Thus saith the LORD, This city shall surely be given into the hand of the King of Babylon's army, which shall take it.

4 Therefore the Princes said unto the King, We beseech thee, let this man be put to death: for thus he weakneth the hands of the men of war that [c] remain in this city, and the hands of all the people, in speaking such words unto them: for this man seeketh not the † welfare of this people, but the hurt.

5 Then Zedekiah the King said, Behold, he is in your hand: for the King is not he that can do any thing against you.

6 Then took they Jeremiah, and cast him into the dungeon of Malchiah the son ‡ of Hammelech that was in the court of the prison: and they let down Jeremiah with cords. And in the dungeon there was no water, but mire: so Jeremiah sunk in the mire.

7 ¶ Now when Ebed-melech the Ethiopian, one of the eunuchs which was in the King's house, heard that they had put Jeremiah in the dungeon, (the King then sitting in the [e] gate of Benjamin)

8 Ebed-melech went forth out of the King's house, and spake to the King, saying,

9 My Lord the King, [f] these men have done evil in all that they have done to Jeremiah the Prophet, whom they have cast into the dungeon, and † he is like to die for hunger in the place where he is, for there is no more bread in the city.

10 Then the King commanded Ebed-melech the Ethiopian, saying, Take from hence thirty men † with thee, and take up Jeremiah the Prophet out of the dungeon before he die.

11 So Ebed-melech took the men with him, and went into the house of the King under the treasury, and took thence old cast clouts, and old rotten rags, and let them down by cords into the dungeon to Jeremiah.

CHAP. XL.

1 Jeremiah being ſet free by Nebuzar-adan, goeth to Gedaliah. 7 The diſperſed Jews repair unto him. 13 Johanan revealing Iſhmael's conſpiracy, is not believed.

THE word which came to Jeremiah from the LORD, after that Nebuzar-adan the captain of the guard, had let him go from Ramah, when he had taken him being bound in ‡ chains among all that were carried away captive of Jeruſalem and Judah, which were carried away captive unto Babylon.

‡ Or, manicles.

2 [a] And the captain of the guard took Jeremiah, and ſaid unto him, the LORD thy God hath pronounced this evil upon this place.

3 Now the LORD hath brought it, and done according as he hath ſaid: becauſe ye have [b] ſinned againſt the LORD, and have not obeyed his voice, therefore this thing is come upon you.

4 And now behold, I looſe thee this day from the chains which were upon thine hand: if it ſeem good unto thee to come with me into Babylon, come, and † I will look well unto thee: but if it ſeem ill unto thee to come with me into Babylon, forbear: behold, all the land is before thee: whither it ſeemeth good and convenient for thee to go, thither go.

5 Now while he was not yet gone back, he ſaid, Go back alſo to Gedaliah the ſon of Ahikam the ſon of Shaphan, whom the King of Babylon hath made governour over the cities of Judah, and dwell with him among the people: or go whereſoever it ſeemeth convenient unto thee to go. So the captain of the guard gave him victuals and a reward, and let him go.

6 Then went Jeremiah unto Gedaliah the ſon of Ahikam to [c] Mizpah, and dwelt with him among the people that were left in the land.

7 ¶ Now when all the captains of the forces which [d] were in the fields, even they and their men heard that the King of Babylon had made Gedaliah the ſon of Ahikam governour in the land, and had committed unto him men, and women, and children, and of the poor of the land, of them that were not carried away captive to Babylon;

8 Then they came to Gedaliah to Mizpah, even [e] Iſhmael the ſon of Nethaniah, and Johanan and Jonathan the ſons of Kareah, and Seraiah the ſon of Tanhumeth, and the ſons of Ephai the Netophathite, and Jezaniah the ſon of a Maachathite, they and their men.

9 And Gedaliah the ſon of Ahikam the ſon of Shaphan, ſware unto them and to their men, ſaying, Fear not to ſerve the Chaldeans: dwell in the land and ſerve the King of Babylon, and it ſhall be well with you.

10 As for me, behold, I will dwell at Mizpah † to ſerve the Chaldeans, which will come unto us: but ye, gather ye wine, and ſummer-fruits, and oyl, and put them in your veſſels, and dwell in your cities that ye have taken.

11 Likewiſe when all the Jews that were in [f] Moab, and among the Ammonites, and in Edom, and that were in all the countrys, heard that the King of Babylon had left a remnant of Judah, and that he had ſet over them Gedaliah the ſon of Ahikam the ſon of Shaphan;

12 Even all the Jews returned out of all places whither they were driven, and came to the land of Judah, to Gedaliah unto Mizpah, and gathered wine and ſummer-fruits, very much.

13 ¶ Moreover, Johanan the ſon of Kareah, and all the captains of the forces that were in the fields, came to Gedaliah to Mizpah, 14 And ſaid unto him, Doſt thou certainly know that [g] Baalis the King of the Ammonites hath ſent Iſhmael the ſon of Nethaniah † to ſlay thee? But Gedaliah the ſon of Ahikam believed them not.

15 Then Johanan the ſon of Kareah ſpake to Gedaliah in Mizpah ſecretly, ſaying, Let me go, I pray thee, and I will ſlay Iſhmael the ſon of Nethaniah, and no man ſhall know it: wherefore ſhould he ſlay thee, that all the Jews which are gathered unto thee ſhould be ſcattered, and the remnant of Judah periſh?

16 But Gedaliah the ſon of Ahikam ſaid unto Johanan the ſon of Kareah, [h] Thou ſhalt not do this thing, for thou ſpeakeſt falſely of Iſhmael.

CHAP. XLI.

1 Iſhmael, treacherouſly killing Gedaliah and others, purpoſeth with the reſidue to flee unto the Ammonites. 11 Johanan recovereth the captives, and mindeth to flee into Egypt.

NOw it came to paſs in the [a] ſeventh month, that Iſhmael the ſon of Nethaniah the ſon of Eliſhamah of the ſeed royal, and the Princes of the [b] King, even ten men with him, came unto Gedaliah the ſon of Ahikam to Mizpah, and there they did [c] eat bread together in Mizpah.

a The city was deſtroyed in the fourth month, and in the ſeventh month, which contained part of September, and part of October, was the governour Gedaliah ſlain.

b Meaning, Zedekiah.

c They eat together as familiar friends.

2 Then

2 Then aroſe Iſhmael the ſon of Nethaniah, and the ten men that were with him, and ſmote Gedaliah the ſon of Ahikam the ſon of Shaphan with the ſword, and ſlew him, whom the King of Babylon had made Governour over the land.

3 Iſhmael alſo ſlew all the Jews that were with him, even with Gedaliah at Mizpah, and the Chaldeans that were found there, and the men of war.

4 And it came to paſs the ſecond day after he had ſlain Gedaliah, and no man knew it,

5 That there came certain from Shechem, from Shiloh, and from Samaria, even fourſcore men having their beards ſhaven, and their clothes rent, and having cut themſelves, with [d] offerings and incenſe in their hand, to bring them to the houſe of the LORD.

6 And Iſhmael the ſon of Nethaniah went forth from Mizpah to meet them, † weeping all along as he went: and it came to paſs as he met them, he ſaid unto them, Come to [e] Gedaliah the ſon of Ahikam.

7 And it was ſo when they came into the midſt of the city, that Iſhmael the ſon of Nethaniah ſlew them, and caſt them into the midſt of the pit, he, and the men that were with him.

8 But ten men were found among them that ſaid unto Iſhmael, Slay us not: for we have treaſures in the field, of wheat, and of barley, and of oyl, and of honey. So he forbare, and ſlew them not among their brethren.

9 Now the pit wherein Iſhmael had caſt all the dead bodies of the men (whom he had ſlain ‡ † becauſe of Gedaliah) was it, which Aſa the King had [f] made for fear of Baaſha King of Iſrael; and Iſhmael the ſon of Nethaniah filled it with them that were ſlain.

10 Then Iſhmael carried away captive all the reſidue of the people, that were in Mizpah, even the King's daughters, and all the people that remained in Mizpah, whom Nebuzaradan the Captain of the guard had committed to Gedaliah the ſon of Ahikam, and Iſhmael the ſon of Nethaniah carried them away captive, and departed to go over to the Ammonites.

11 ¶ But when Johanan the ſon of Kareah, and all the [g] captains of the forces that were with him, heard of all the evil that Iſhmael the ſon of Nethaniah had done, 12 Then they took all the men, and went to fight with Iſhmael the ſon of Nethaniah, and found him by the great waters that are in Gibeon.

13 Now it came to paſs, that when all the people which were with Iſhmael ſaw Johanan the ſon of Kareah, and all the captains of the forces that were with him, then they were glad.

14 So all the people that Iſhmael had carried away captive from Mizpah, caſt about and returned, and went unto Johanan the ſon of Kareah.

15 But Iſhmael the ſon of Nethaniah eſcaped from Johanan with eight men, and went to the [h] Ammonites.

16 Then took Johanan the ſon of Kareah, and all the captains of the forces that were with him, all the remnant of the people whom he had recovered from Iſhmael the ſon of Nethaniah, from Mizpah (after that he had ſlain Gedaliah the ſon of Ahikam) even mighty men of war, and the women and the children, and the eunuchs whom he had brought again from Gibeon.

17 And they departed and dwelt in the habitation of [i] Chimham, which is by Bethlehem, to go to enter into Egypt, 18 Becauſe of the Chaldeans: for they were afraid of them, becauſe Iſhmael the ſon of Nethaniah had ſlain Gedaliah the ſon of Ahikam, whom the King of Babylon made governour in the land.

CHAP. XLII.

1 Johanan deſireth Jeremiah to enquire of God, promiſing obedience to his will. 7 Jeremiah aſſureth him of ſafety in Judea, 13 and deſtruction in Egypt. 19 He reproveth their hypocriſy in requiring of the Lord that which they meant not.

THen all the captains of the forces, and Johanan the ſon of Kareah, and Jezaniah the ſon of Hoſhajah, and all the people from the leaſt even unto the greateſt, came near,

2 And ſaid unto Jeremiah the Prophet, ‡ Let, we beſeech thee, our ſupplication be accepted before thee, and pray for us unto the LORD thy God, even for all this remnant, (for we are left but a few of many, as thine eyes do behold us)

3 That the LORD thy God may ſhew us the way wherein we may walk, and the thing that we may [a] do.

4 Then Jeremiah the Prophet ſaid unto them, I have heard you; behold, I will pray unto the LORD your God according to your words, and it ſhall come to paſs, that whatſoever thing the LORD ſhall anſwer you, I will declare it unto you: I will keep nothing back from you.

5 Then they ſaid to Jeremiah, [b] The LORD be a true and faithful witneſs between us, if we do not even according to all things for the which the LORD thy God ſhall ſend thee to us.

6 Whether it be good, or whether it be evil, we will obey the voice of the LORD our God, to whom we ſend thee; that it may be well with us, when we obey the voice of the LORD our God.

7 ¶ [c] And it came to paſs after ten days, that the word of the LORD came unto Jeremiah.

8 Then called he Johanan the ſon of Kareah, and all the captains of the forces which were with him, and all the people from the leaſt even to the greateſt,

9 And ſaid unto them, Thus ſaith the LORD the God of Iſrael, unto whom ye ſent me to preſent your ſupplication before him, b There are none more ready to abuſe the name of God, and take it in vain, then the hypocrites, which to colour their falſehood, uſe it without all reverence, and make it a means for them to deceive the ſimple and the godly.

c Here is declared the viſion and the occaſion thereof, whereof mention was made, Chap. 40. 1.

11 Be not afraid of the King of Babylon, of whom ye are afraid: be not afraid of him, ſaith the LORD: for I am with you to ſave you, and to deliver you [e] from his hand.

e Becauſe all Kings hearts and ways are in his hands, he can turn them and diſpoſe them as it pleaſeth him, and therefore they need not to fear man, but onely obey God, Prov. 21. 1.

12 And I will ſhew mercies unto you, that he may have mercy upon you, and cauſe you to return to your own land.

13 ¶ But if ye ſay, We will not dwell in this land, neither obey the voice of the LORD your God, 16 Then it ſhall come to paſs, that the ſword which ye feared, [f] ſhall overtake you there in the land of Egypt, and the famine whereof ye were afraid, † ſhall follow cloſe after you there in Egypt, and there ye ſhall die.

† Heb. ſhall cleave after you.

† Heb. ſo ſhall all the men be.

‡ Or, you have uſed deceit againſt your ſouls.
h For ye were fully minded to go into Egypt, whatſoever God ſpake to the contrary.

21 And now I have this day declared it to you, but ye have not obeyed the voice of the LORD your God, nor any thing for the which he hath ſent me unto you.

22 Now therefore know certainly, that ye ſhall die by the ſword, by the famine, and by the peſtilence, [i] in the place whither ye deſire to go, and to ſojourn.
i To wit, in Egypt.

CHAP. XLIII.

1 Johanan diſcrediting Jeremiah's prophecy, carrieth Jeremiah and others into Egypt. 8 Jeremiah propheſieth by a type the conqueſt of Egypt by the Babylonians.

AND it came to paſs, that when Jeremiah had made an end of ſpeaking unto all the people, all the words of the LORD their God, for which the LORD their God had ſent him to them, even all theſe words,

2 Then ſpake [a] Azariah the ſon of Hoſhajah, and Johanan the ſon of Kareah, and all the [b] proud men, ſaying unto Jeremiah, [c] Thou ſpeakeſt falſely: the LORD our God [d] hath not ſent thee to ſay, Go not into Egypt to ſojourn there.
a Who was alſo called Jezaniah, Chap. 42. 1.
b This declareth, that pride is the cauſe of rebellion, and contempt of God's miniſters.
c When the hypocriſy of the wicked is diſcovered, they burſt forth into open rage: for they can abide nothing but flatteries, Read Iſa. 30. verſ. 10.
d He ſheweth what is the nature of the hypocrites: to wit, to feign that they would obey God and imbrace his word, if they were aſſured that his meſſengers ſpake the truth: though indeed they be moſt far from all obedience.

3 But Baruch the ſon of Neriah [e] ſetteth thee on againſt us, for to deliver us into the hand of the Chaldeans, that they might put us to death, and carry us away captives into Babylon.
e Thus the wicked do not onely contemn and hurt the meſſengers of God, but ſlander and ſpeak wickedly of all them that ſupport or favour the godly.

4 So Johanan the ſon of Kareah, and all the captains of the forces, and all the people, obeyed not the voice of the LORD, to dwell in the land of Judah.

5 But Johanan the ſon of Kareah, and all the captains of the forces, took all the remnant of Judah, that were returned from all [f] nations whither they had been driven, to dwell in the land of Judah, f As from the Moabites, Ammonites, and Edomites, Chap. 40. 11.

6 Even men and women, and children, and the King's daughters, and every perſon that Nebuzar-adan the captain of the guard had left with Gedaliah the ſon of Ahikam the ſon of Shaphan, and Jeremiah the [g] Prophet, and Baruch the ſon of Neriah.
g Whom theſe wicked led away by force.

7 So they came into the land of Egypt: for they obeyed not the voice of the LORD; thus came they, even to [h] Tahpanhes.
h A city in Egypt near to Nilus.

8 ¶ Then came the word of the LORD unto Jeremiah in Tahpanhes, ſaying,

9 Take great ſtones in thine hand, and [i] hide them in the clay in the brick-kiln, which is at the entry of Pharaoh's houſe in Tahpanhes, in the ſight of the men of Judah:
i Which ſignified that Nebuchadnezzar ſhould come even to the gates of Pharaoh, where were his brick-kilns for his buildings.

10 And ſay unto them, Thus ſaith the LORD of hoſts the God of Iſrael, Behold, I will ſend and take Nebuchadrezzar the King of Babylon [k] my ſervant, and will ſet his throne upon theſe ſtones that I have hid, and he ſhall ſpread his royal pavilion over them.
k Read Chap. 25. 9.

11 And when he cometh he ſhall ſmite the land of Egypt, and deliver * [l] ſuch as are for death, to death; and ſuch as are for captivity, to captivity; and ſuch as are for the ſword, to the ſword.
* Chap. 15. 2. Zech. 11. 9.
l Every one ſhall be ſlain by that means that God hath appointed.

12 And I will kindle a fire in the houſes of the Gods of Egypt, and he ſhall burn them, and carry them away captives, and he ſhall aray himſelf with the land of Egypt, as [m] a ſhepherd putteth on his garment, and he ſhall go forth from thence in peace.
m Meaning, moſt eaſily, and ſuddenly ſhall he carry the Egyptians away.

13 He ſhall break alſo the † images of ‡ Beth-ſhemeſh, that is in the land of Egypt; and the houſes of the Gods of the Egyptians ſhall he burn with fire.

CHAP. XLIV.

1 Jeremiah expreſſeth the deſolation of Judah for their idolatry. 11 He propheſieth their deſtruction, who commit idolatry in Egypt. 15 The obſtinacy of the Jews. 20 Jeremiah threatneth them for the ſame, 29 and for a ſign, propheſieth the deſtruction of Egypt.

THE word that came to Jeremiah concerning all the Jews which dwell in the land of of Egypt, which dwell at Migdol, and at [a] Tahpanhes, and at Noph, and in the country of Pathros, ſaying,

2 Thus ſaith the LORD of hoſts, the God of Iſrael, Ye have ſeen all the evil that I have brought upon Jeruſalem, and upon all the cities of Judah; and behold, this day they are a deſolation, and no man dwelleth therein.

3 Becauſe of their wickedneſs which they have committed to provoke me to anger, in that they went to burn incenſe, and to ſerve other Gods whom they knew not, neither they, you, nor your fathers.

4 Howbeit I ſent unto you all my ſervants the Prophets, [b] riſing early and ſending them, ſaying, Oh do not this abominable thing that I hate.

5 But they hearkned not, nor inclined their ear to turn from their wickedneſs, to burn no incenſe unto other Gods.

6 Wherefore [c] my fury and mine anger was poured forth, and was kindled in the cities of Judah, and in the ſtreets of Jeruſalem, and they are waſted and deſolate, as at this day.

7 Therefore now thus ſaith the LORD, the God of hoſts, the God of Iſrael, Wherefore commit ye this great evil againſt your ſouls, to cut off from you man and woman, child and ſuckling † out of Judah, to leave you none to remain;

8 In that ye provoke me unto wrath with the works of your hands, burning incenſe unto other Gods in the land of Egypt, whither ye be gone to dwell, that ye might cut your ſelves off, and that ye might be a curſe, and a reproach among all the nations of the earth?

9 Have ye forgotten the † wickedneſs of your fathers, and the wickedneſs of the [d] Kings of Judah, and the wickedneſs of their wives, and your own wickedneſs, and the wickedneſs of your wives, which they have committed in the land of Judah, and in the ſtreets of Jeruſalem?

10 They are not † humbled even unto this day, neither have they feared nor walked in my law, nor in my ſtatutes that I ſet before you, and before your fathers.

11 ¶ Therefore thus ſaith the LORD of hoſts, the God of Iſrael, Behold, * I will ſet my face againſt you for evil, and to cut off all Judah.

12 And I will take the remnant of Judah, that [e] have ſet their faces to go into the land of Egypt to ſojourn there, and they ſhall all be conſumed, and fall in the land of Egypt: they ſhall even be conſumed by the ſword, and by the famine: they ſhall die, from the leaſt even unto the greateſt, by the ſword, and by the famine: and they ſhall be an execration, and an aſtoniſhment, and [f] a curſe, and a reproach.

13 For I will puniſh them that dwell in the land of Egypt, as I have puniſhed Jeruſalem, by the ſword, by the famine, & by the peſtilence:

14 So that none of the remnant of Judah, which are gone into the land of Egypt to ſojourn there, ſhall eſcape or remain, that they ſhould return into the land of Judah, to the which they † have a deſire to return to dwell there: for none ſhall return but [g] ſuch as ſhall eſcape.

15 ¶ Then all the men which knew that their wives had burnt incenſe unto other Gods, and all the women that ſtood by, a great multitude, even all the people that dwelt in the land of Egypt, in Pathros, anſwered Jeremiah, ſaying, 16 As for the word that thou haſt ſpoken unto us in the name of the LORD, we will [h] not hearken unto thee.

17 But we will certainly do whatſoever thing goeth forth out of our own mouth, to burn incenſe unto the ‡ Queen of heaven, and to pour out drink-offerings unto her: as we have done, we and our fathers, our Kings and our Princes, in the cities of Judah, and in the ſtreets of Jeruſalem: for then had we [i] plenty of † victuals, and were well, and ſaw no evil.

18 But ſince we left off to burn incenſe to the Queen of heaven, and to pour out drink-offerings unto her, we have wanted all things, and have been conſumed by the ſword, and by the famine.

19 * And when we burnt incenſe to the Queen of heaven, and poured out drink-offerings unto her, did we make her cakes to worſhip her, and pour out drink-offerings unto her without our ‡ [l] men?

20 ¶ Then Jeremiah ſaid unto all the people, to the men and to the women, and to all the people which had given him that anſwer, ſaying,

21 The incenſe that ye burnt in the cities of Judah, and in the ſtreets of Jeruſalem, ye and your fathers, your Kings and your Princes, and the people of the land, did not the LORD remember them, and came it not into his mind?

22 So that the LORD could no longer bear, becauſe of the evil of your doings, and becauſe of the abominations which ye have committed: therefore is your land a deſolation, and an aſtoniſhment, and a curſe without an inhabitant, as at this day.

23 Becauſe ye have burnt incenſe, and becauſe ye have ſinned againſt the LORD, and have not obeyed the voice of the LORD, nor walked in his law, nor in his ſtatutes, nor in his teſtimonies: therefore this evil is happened unto you, as at this day.

24 Moreover, Jeremiah ſaid unto all the people, and to all the women, Hear the word of the LORD, all Judah that are in the land of Egypt.

25 Thus ſaith the LORD of hoſts the God of Iſrael, ſaying, Ye and your wives have both ſpoken with your mouths, and fulfilled with your [m] hand, ſaying, We will ſurely perform our vows that we have vowed, to burn incenſe to the Queen of heaven, and to pour out drink-offerings unto her: ye will ſurely accompliſh your vows, and ſurely perform your vows.

[a] These were all famous & ſtrong cities in Egypt, where the Jews that were fled, dwelt for their ſafety: but the Prophet declareth that there is no hold ſo ſtrong that can preſerve them from God's vengeance.

26 Therefore hear ye the word of the LORD, all Judah that dwell in the land of Egypt, Behold, I have ſworn by my great name, ſaith the LORD, that my name [n] ſhall no more be named in the mouth of any man of Judah, in all the land of Egypt, ſaying, The Lord GOD liveth.

27 Behold, I will watch over them for evil, and not for good, and all the men of Judah that are in the land of Egypt ſhall be conſumed by the ſword, and by the famine, until there be an end of them.

28 Yet a ſmall number that eſcape the ſword, [o] ſhall return out of the land of Egypt into the land of Judah; and all the remnant of Judah that are gone into the land of Egypt to ſojourn there, ſhall know whoſe words ſhall ſtand, †mine or theirs.

29 ¶ And this ſhall be a ſign unto you, ſaith the LORD, that I will puniſh you in this place, that ye may know that my words ſhall ſurely ſtand againſt you for evil.

30 Thus ſaith the LORD, Behold, I will [p] give Pharao-hophra King of Egypt into the hand of his enemies, and into the hand of them that ſeek his life, as I gave Zedekiah King of Judah into the hand of Nebuchadrezzar King of Babylon his enemy, and that ſought his life.

n This declareth an horrible plague toward idolaters, ſeeing that God will not vouchſafe to have his name mentioned by ſuch as have polluted it.

o We ſee therefore, that God hath a perpetual care over his, whereſoever they are ſcattered: for though they be but two or three, yet he will deliver them when he deſtroyeth his enemies.

7 Who is this that cometh up as [f] a floud, whoſe waters are moved as the rivers?

8 Egypt riſeth up like a floud, & his waters are moved like the rivers, and he ſaith, I will go up, and will cover the earth, I will deſtroy the city, and the inhabitants thereof.

9 Come up ye horſes, and rage ye chariots, and let the mighty men come forth, † [g] the Ethiopians, and † the Libyans that handle the ſhield, and the Lydians that handle and bend the bow.

10 For this is the day of the Lord GOD of hoſts, a day of vengeance, that he may avenge him of his adverſaries: and the ſword ſhall devour, and it ſhall be ſatiate, and made drunk with their bloud: for the Lord GOD of hoſts hath [h] a ſacrifice in the north-country by the [i] river Euphrates.

20 Egypt is like a [q] very fair heifer, but destruction cometh: it cometh out of the north.

21 Also her hired men [r] are in the midst of her, like † fatted bullocks, for they also are turned back, and are fled away together; they did not stand, because the day of their calamity was come upon them, and the time of their visitation.

22 The voice thereof shall go like [s] a serpent, for they shall march with an army, and come against [t] her with axes, as hewers of wood.

23 They shall cut down her [u] forest, saith the LORD, though it cannot be searched, because they are more then the [x] grashoppers, and are innumerable.

24 The daughter of Egypt shall be confounded, she shall be delivered into the hand of the people of the north.

25 The LORD of hosts, the God of Israel saith, Behold, I will punish the ‡ †[y] multitude of No, and Pharaoh, and Egypt, with their Gods, and their Kings, even Pharaoh, and all them that trust in him.

26 And I will deliver them into the hand of those that seek their lives, and into the hand of Nebuchadrezzar King of Babylon, and into the hand of his servants: and afterwards it shall be inhabited, as in the days of [z] old, saith the LORD.

27 ¶ [*a] But fear not thou, O my servant Jacob, and be not dismayed, O Israel; for behold, I will save thee from afar off, and thy seed from the land of their captivity, and Jacob shall return, and be in rest and at ease, and none shall make him afraid.

28 Fear thou not, O Jacob my servant, saith the LORD, for I am with thee, for I will make a full end of all the nations whither I have driven thee, but I will not make a full end of thee, [b] but correct thee in measure, yet will I ‡ not leave thee wholly unpunished.

CHAP. XLVII.

The destruction of the Philistines.

THE word of the LORD that came to Jeremiah the Prophet against the Philistines, before that Pharaoh smote † [a] Gaza.

2 Thus saith the LORD, Behold, waters rise up out of the [b] north, and shall be an overflowing floud, and shall overflow the land, and † all that is therein, the city, and them that dwell therein: then the men shall cry, and all the habitants of the land shall howl.

3 At the noise of the stamping of the hoofs of his strong horses, at the rushing of his chariots, and at the rumbling of his wheels, the fathers shall [c] not look back to their children for feebleness of [d] hands:

4 Because of the day that cometh to spoil all the Philistines, and to cut off from Tyrus and Zidon every helper that remaineth: for the LORD will spoil the Philistines, the remnant of † the country of [e] Caphtor.

5 [f] Baldness is come upon Gaza, Ashkelon is cut off with the remnant of their valley: [g] how long wilt thou cut thy self?

6 O thou sword of the LORD, how long will it be ere thou be quiet? † put up thy self into thy scabbard, rest and be still.

7 † How can it be quiet, seeing the LORD hath given it a charge against Ashkelon, and against the [h] sea-shore? there hath he appointed it.

CHAP. XLVIII.

1 The judgment of Moab, 7 for their pride, 11 for their security, 14 for their carnal confidence, 26 and for their contempt of God, and his people. 47 The restauration of Moab.

AGainst Moab thus saith the LORD of hosts, the God of Israel, Wo unto [a] Nebo, for it is spoiled: Kirjathaim is confounded and taken, ‡ Misgab is confounded and dismayed.

2 There shall be no more praise of Moab: in Heshbon they have devised evil against it; [b] come and let us cut it off from being a nation; also thou shalt ‡ be cut down, O [c] Madmen, the sword shall † pursue thee.

3 A voice of crying shall be from Horonaim, spoiling and great destruction.

4 Moab is destroyed, her little ones have caused a cry to be heard.

5 For in the going up of [d] Luhith, † continual weeping shall go up; for in the going down of Horonaim the enemies have heard a cry of destruction.

6 Flee, save your lives, and be like ‡ the [e] heath in the wilderness.

7 ¶ For because thou hast trusted in thy [f] works and in thy treasures, thou shalt also be taken, & [g] Chemosh shall go forth into captivity with his * Priests & his Princes together.

8 And the spoilers shall come upon every city, and no city shall escape: the valley also shall perish, and the plain shall be destroyed, as the LORD hath spoken.

9 Give wings unto Moab, that it may flee and get away: for the cities thereof shall be desolate, without any to dwell therein.

10 [h] Cursed be he that doth the work of the LORD ‡ deceitfully, and cursed be he that keepeth back his sword from bloud.

11 ¶ Moab hath been at ease from his youth, and he hath settled on his lees, and hath not been [i] emptied from vessel to vessel, neither hath he gone into captivity: therefore his taste † remained in him, and his sent is not changed.

12 Therefore behold, the days come, saith the LORD, that I will send unto him wanderers that shall cause him to wander, and shall empty his vessels, and break their bottles.

13 And Moab shall be ashamed of Chemosh, as the house of Israel was ashamed of * [k] Beth-el their confidence.

14 ¶ How say ye, We are mighty and strong men for the war?

15 ¶ Moab is spoiled, and gone up out of her cities, and † his chosen young men are gone down to the slaughter, saith the King, whose name is the LORD of hosts.

16 The calamity of Moab is near to come, and his affliction hasteth fast.

* Isa. 16. 7.

20 [m] Moab is confounded: for it is broken down: * howl and cry, tell ye it in Arnon, that Moab is spoiled.

21 And judgment is come upon the plain country; upon Holon, and upon Jahazah, and upon Mephaath,

22 And upon Dibon, and upon Nebo, and upon Beth-diblathaim,

23 And upon Kirjathaim, and upon Beth-gamul, and upon Beth-meon, 24 And upon Kerioth, and upon Bozrah, and upon all the cities of the land of Moab, far or near.

n That is, His power & strength.

25 [n] The horn of Moab is cut off, and his arm is broken, saith the LORD.

o He willed the Chaldeans to lay afflictions enough upon them, till they be like drunken men, that fall down to their shame and are derided of all.

26 ¶ Make ye him [o] drunken: for he magnified himself against the LORD: Moab also shall wallow in his vomit, and he also shall be in derision.

‡ Or, movedst thy self.
p Thou rejoycest to hear of his misery.

27 For was not Israel a derision unto thee? was he found among thieves? for since thou spakest of him, thou ‡ [p] skippedst for joy.

28 O ye that dwell in Moab, leave the cities and dwell in the rock, and be like the dove that maketh her nest in the sides of the holes mouth.

* Isa. 16. 6. &c.

29 We have heard the * pride of Moab (he is exceeding proud) his loftiness and his arrogancy, and his pride, and the haughtiness of his heart.

3 Howl, O Heshbon, for Ai is spoiled: cry ye daughters of Rabbah, gird ye with sackcloth: lament and run to and fro by the hedges, for ‡ their King shall go into captivity, and his * Priests and his Princes together.

e In thy plentiful country.

4 Wherefore glorieſt thou in the [e] valleys, ‡ thy

‡ Or, the valley floweth away.

‡ thy flowing valley, O backsliding daughter? that trusted in her treasures, saying, Who shall come unto me?

5 Behold, I will bring [f] a fear upon thee, saith the Lord GOD of hosts, from all those that be about thee, and ye shall be driven out every man [g] right forth, and none shall gather up him that wandreth.

6 And [h] afterward I will bring again the captivity of the children of Ammon, saith the LORD.

7 ¶ Concerning Edom, thus saith the LORD of hosts, * Is wisdom no more in [i] Teman? is counsel perished from the prudent? is their wisdom vanished?

8 Flee ye, ‡ [k] turn back, dwell deep, O inhabitants of Dedan, for I will bring the calamity of Esau upon him, the time that I will visit him.

9 If * [l] grape-gatherers come to thee, would they not leave some gleaning-grapes? if thieves by night, they will destroy † till they have enough.

10 But I have made Esau bare, I have uncovered his secret places, and he shall not be able to hide himself: his seed is spoiled, and his brethren and his neighbours, and he is not.

11 Leave thy [m] fatherless children, I will preserve them alive, and let thy widows trust in me.

12 For thus saith the LORD, [n] behold, they whose judgment was not to drink of the cup, have assuredly drunken, and art thou he that shalt altogether go unpunished? thou shalt not go unpunished, but thou shalt surely drink of it.

13 For I have sworn by myself, saith the LORD, that [o] Bozrah shall become a desolation, a reproach, a waste, and a curse, and all the cities thereof shall be perpetual wastes.

14 I have heard a * rumour from the LORD, and an ambassadour is sent unto the heathen, saying, Gather ye together and come against [p] her, and rise up to the battel.

15 For lo, I will make thee small among the heathen, and despised among men.

16 Thy terribleness hath deceived thee, and the pride of thine heart, O thou that dwellest in the clefts of the rock, that holdest the height of the hill: though thou shouldest make thy * nest as high as the eagle, I will bring thee down from thence, saith the LORD.

17 Also Edom shall be a desolation: * every one that goeth by it, shall be astonished, and shall hiss at all the plagues thereof.

18 * As in the overthrow of Sodom and Gomorrha and the neighbour cities thereof saith the LORD: no man shall abide there, neither shall a son of man dwell in it.

19 Behold, [q] he shall come up like a lion from the swelling of Jordan against the habitation of the strong: but I will suddenly make [r] him run away from her, and who is a chosen man that I may appoint over her? for who is like me? and who will ‡ * appoint me the time? and who is that [s] shepherd that will stand before me.

20 Therefore hear the counsel of the LORD, that he hath taken against Edom; and his purposes that he hath purposed against the inhabitants of Teman: surely the least of the [t] flock shall draw them out; surely [u] he shall make their habitations desolate with them.

21 The earth is moved at the noise of their fall: at the cry, the noise thereof was heard in the † Red sea.

22 Behold, he shall come up and fly as the eagle, and [x] spread his wings over Bozrah, and at that day shall the heart of the mighty men of Edom be as the heart of a woman in her pangs.

23 ¶ Concerning [y] Damascus. Hamath is confounded, and Arpad: for they have heard evil tydings, they are † faint-hearted, there is sorrow ‡ on the sea, it cannot be quiet.

24 Damascus is waxed feeble, and turneth herself to flee, and [z] fear hath seised on her: anguish and sorrows have taken her as a woman in travail.

25 [a] How is the city of praise not left, the city of my joy?

26 Therefore her young men shall fall in her streets, and all the men of war shall be cut off in that day, saith the LORD of hosts.

27 And I will kindle a * fire in the wall of Damascus, and it shall consume the palaces of [b] Benhadad.

28 ¶ Concerning [c] Kedar, and concerning the kingdoms of Hazor, which Nebuchadnezzar King of Babylon shall smite, thus saith the LORD, Arise ye, go up to Kedar, and spoil the men of the east.

29 Their tents and their flocks shall they take away, they shall take to themselves their [d] curtains and all their vessels, and their camels, and they shall cry unto them, Fear is on every side.

30 ¶ * Flee, † [e] get you far off, dwell deep, O ye inhabitants of Hazor, saith the LORD; for Nebuchadrezzar King of Babylon hath taken counsel against you, and hath conceived a purpose against you.

31 [f] Arise, get you up unto the ‡ wealthy nation that dwelleth without care, saith the LORD, which have neither gates nor bars, which dwell alone.

32 And their camels shall be a booty, and the multitude of their cattel a spoil, and I will scatter into all winds them that are † in the utmost corners, and I will bring their calamity from all sides thereof, saith the LORD.

33 And Hazor shall be a dwelling for dragons, and a desolation for ever; there shall no man abide there, nor any son of man dwell in it.

36 And upom Elam will I bring the four winds from the four quarters of heaven, and will scatter them towards all those winds, and there shall be no nation whither the outcasts of Elam shall not come.

37 For I will cause Elam to be dismayed before their enemies, and before them that seek their life: and I will bring evil upon them, even my fierce anger, saith the LORD, and I will send the sword after them, till I have consumed them.

38 And I will set my [i] throne in Elam, and will destroy from thence the King and the Princes, saith the LORD.

39 ¶ But it shall come to pass in the [k] latter days, that * I will bring again the captivity of Elam, saith the LORD.

h Because the Persians were good archers, he sheweth that the thing wherein they put their trust, should not profit them.

i I will place Nebuchadnezzar there: and in these prophesies Jeremiah speaketh of those countries, which should be subdued under the first of those four Monarchies, whereof Daniel maketh mention.

k This may be referred to the empire of the Persians and Medes after the Chaldeans, or unto the time of Christ.

CHAP. L.

1, 9, 21, 35. The judgment of Babylon. 4, 17, 33. The redemption of Israel.

THE word that the LORD spake against Babylon, and against the land of the Chaldeans † by Jeremiah the Prophet.

† Heb. by the hand of Jeremiah.

2 Declare ye among the nations, and publish, and † set up a standard, publish and conceal not: say, [a] Babylon is taken, Bel is confounded, [b] Merodach is broken in pieces, her idols are confounded, her images are broken in pieces.

† Heb. lift up.

a After that God hath used the Babylonians service to punish other nations, he sheweth that their turn shall come to be punished.

b These were two of their chief idols.

3 For out of the north there [c] cometh up a nation against her, which shall make her land desolate, and none shall dwell therein: they shall remove, they shall depart both man and beast.

c To wit, The Medes, and the Persians.

4 ¶ In those days, and in that time, saith the LORD, the children of Israel shall [d] come, they and the children of Judah together, going and [e] weeping: they shall go, and seek the LORD their God.

d When Cyrus shall take Babel.

e Chap. 31. 9.

5 They shall ask the way to Zion with their faces thitherward, saying, Come, and let us joyn our selves to the LORD, in a perpetual covenant that shall not be forgotten.

6 My people hath been lost sheep: their [f] shepherds have caused them to go astray, they have turned them away on the [g] mountains: they have gone from mountain to hill, they have forgotten their † resting-place.

f Their governors and ministers by their examples, have provoked them to idolatry.

g They have committed idolatry in every place.

† Heb. place to ly down in.

7 All that found them have devoured them, and their adversaires said, We offend not, because they have sinned against the LORD, the [h] habitation of justice, even the LORD, the hope of their fathers.

h For the Lord dwelt among them in his Temple, and would have maintained them by his justice against their enemies.

8 [i] * Remove out of the midst of Babylon, and go forth out of the land of the Chaldeans, and be as the he-goats [k] before the flocks.

i When God shall deliver you by Cyrus.

* Isa. 48. 20. Chap. 51. 6. Rev. 18. 4.

k That is, Most forward and without fear.

9 ¶ For lo, I will raise and cause to come up against Babylon, an assembly of great nations from the north-country, and they shall set themselves in aray against her, from thence she shall be taken: their arrows shall be as of a mighty ‡ expert men: none shall return in vain.

‡ Or, destroyer.

10 And Chaldea shall be a spoil: all that spoil her [l] shall be satisfied, saith the LORD.

l Shall be made rich thereby.

11 Because ye were glad, because ye rejoyced, O ye destroyers of mine heritage, because ye are grown † fat, as the heifer at grass, and [m] bellow as bulls.

† Heb. big, or, corpulent.

m For joy of the victory, that ye had against my people.

12 Your mother shall be sore confounded, she that bare you shall be ashamed: behold, the hindermost of the nations shall be a wilderness, a dry land and a desert.

13 Because of the wrath of the LORD, it shall not be inhabited, but it shall be wholly desolate: * every one that goeth by Babylon shall be astonished, and [n] hiss at all her plagues.

* Chap. 49. 17.

n In sign of contempt & disdain.

14 [o] Put your selves in aray against Babylon round about: all ye that bend the bow, shoot at her, spare no arrows: for she hath [p] sinned against the LORD.

o He speaketh to the enemies, the Medes and Persians.

p Though the Lord calleth the Babylonians his servants, and their work his work in punishing his people, yet because they did it not to glorify God, but for their own malice, and to profit themselves, it is here called sin.

15 Shout against her round about: she hath given her hand: her foundations are fallen, her walls are thrown down: for it is the vengeance of the LORD: take vengeance upon her; as she hath done, do unto her.

16 Cut off the [q] sower from Babylon, and him that handleth the ‡ sickle in the time of harvest: for fear of the oppressing sword, they shall turn every one to his people, and they shall flee every one to his own land.

q Destroy her so that none be left to labour the ground, or to take the fruit thereof.

‡ Or, sithe.

17 ¶ Israel is a scattered sheep, the lions have driven him away: first the King of [r] Assyria hath devoured him, and last this Nebuchadrezzar King of Babylon hath broken his [s] bones.

r Meaning, Tiglathpilezar who carried away the ten tribes.

s He carried away the rest, to wit, Judah and Benjamin.

18 Therefore thus saith the LORD of hosts the God of Israel, Behold, I will punish the King of Babylon, & his land, as I have punished the King of Assyria.

19 And I will bring Israel again to his habitation, and he shall feed on Carmel & Bashan and his soul shall be satisfied upon mount Ephraim and Gilead.

20 In those days, and in that time, saith the LORD, the iniquity of Israel shall be sought for, and there shall be none; and the sins of Judah, and they shall not be found: for I will pardon them whom I reserve.

21 ¶ Go up against the land ‡ [t] of Merathaim, even against it, and against the inhabitants of ‡ Pekod: waste and utterly destroy after them, saith the LORD, and do according to all that I have commanded thee.

‡ Or, of the rebels.

t That is, Babylon: thus the Lord raiseth up Cyrus.

‡ Or, visitation.

22 A sound of battel is in the land, and of great destruction.

23 How is the [u] hammer of the whole earth cut asunder and broken? how is Babylon become a desolation among the nations?

u Nebuchadnezzar, who had smitten down all the Princes and people of the world.

24 I have laid a snare for thee, and thou art also taken, O Babylon, and thou wast not aware: thou art found and also caught, because thou hast striven against the LORD.

25 The LORD hath opened his armoury, and hath brought forth the weapons of his indignation; for this is the work of the Lord GOD of hosts, in the land of the Chaldeans.

26 Come against her † from the utmost border, open her store-houses: ‡ cast her up as heaps, heaps, and destroy her utterly: let nothing of her be left.

† Heb. from the end.

x Her Princes and mighty men.

27 Slay all her x bullocks: let them go down to the slaughter: wo unto them, for their day is come, the time of their visitation.

y Of the Jews which should be delivered by Cyrus.

28 The voice of them that y flee and escape out of the land of Babylon to declare in Zion the vengeance of the LORD our God, the vengeance of his Temple.

29 Call together the archers against Babylon: all ye that bend the bow, camp against it round about; let none thereof escape: recompense her according to her work; according to all that she hath done, do unto her: for she hath been proud against the LORD, against the holy One of Israel.

30 Therefore shall her young men fall in the streets, and all her men of war shall be cut off in that day, saith the LORD.

† Heb. pride.

31 Behold, I am against thee, O thou † most proud, saith the Lord GOD of hosts: for thy day is come, the time that I will visit thee.

† Heb. pride.

32 And † the most proud shall stumble and fall, and none shall raise him up: and I will kindle a fire in his cities, and it shall devour all round about him.

33 ¶ Thus saith the LORD of hosts, The children of Israel and the children of Judah were oppressed together, and all that took them captives held them fast, they refused to let them go.

34 Their redeemer is strong, the LORD of hosts is his name, he shall throughly plead their cause, that he may give rest to the land, and z disquiet the inhabitants of Babylon.

z He sheweth that when God executeth his judgments against his enemies, that his Church shall then have rest.

35 ¶ A sword is upon the Chaldeans, saith the LORD, and upon the inhabitants of Babylon, and upon her Princes, and upon her wise men.

‡ Or, chief slayers. † Heb. liers.

36 A sword is upon the ‡ † liers, and they shall dote: a sword is upon her mighty men, and they shall be dismayed.

37 A sword is upon their horses, and upon their chariots, and upon all the mingled people that are in the midst of her, and they shall become as women: a sword is upon her treasures, and they shall be robbed.

a For Cyrus did cut the river Euphrates, and divided the course thereof into many streams, so that it might be passed over, as though there had been no water: which thing he did by the counsel of two of Belshazzar's captains, who conspired against their King, because he had gelded the one of them in despight, and slain the son of the other.

38 a A drought is upon her waters, and they shall be dried up: for it is the land of graven images, and they are mad upon their idols.

b Isa. 13. 21. * Gen. 19. 25. Chap. 49. 18.

39 Therefore the b wild beasts of the desert, with the wild beasts of the islands shall dwell there, and the owls shall dwell therein: and it shall be no more inhabited for ever: neither shall it be dwelt in from generation to generation.

40 * As God overthrew Sodom and Gomorrah, and the neighbour cities thereof, saith the LORD: so shall no man abide there, neither shall any son of man dwell therein.

c Meaning, That the Persians should gather their army of many nations.

41 Behold, a people shall come from the north, and a great nation, & many Kings shall be raised up from the c coasts of the earth.

42 They shall hold the bow and the lance: they are cruel and will not shew mercy: their voice shall roar like the sea, and they shall ride upon horses, every one put in aray like a man to the battel, against thee, O daughter of Babylon.

43 The King of Babylon hath heard the report of them, and his hands d waxed feeble: anguish took hold of him, and pangs as of a woman in travail.

d Which is meant of Belshazzar, Dan. 5. 6.

44 Behold, he shall come up * like a lion from the swelling of Jordan, unto the habitation of the strong: but I will make them suddenly run away from her: and who is a chosen man that I may appoint over her? for who is like me, and * who will ‡ appoint me the time? and who is that e shepherd that will stand before me?

* Chap. 49. 19.

* Job 41. 10. ‡ Or, convent me to plead. e Chap. 49. 19.

45 Therefore hear ye the counsel of the LORD, that he hath taken against Babylon, and his purposes that he hath purposed against the land of the Chaldeans: surely the least of the flock shall draw them out: surely he shall make their habitation desolate with them.

46 At the noise of the taking of Babylon the earth is moved, and the cry is heard among the nations.

CHAP. LI.

1 The severe judgment of God against Babylon, in revenge of Israel. 59 Jeremiah delivered the Book of this prophecy to Serajah, to be cast into Euphrates, in token of the perpetual sinking of Babylon.

THus saith the LORD, Behold, I will raise up against Babylon, and against them that dwell in the † midst of them that rise up against me, a destroying a wind;

† Heb. heart.

a The Medes and Persians that shall destroy them as the wind doth the chaff.

2 And will send unto Babylon fanners, that shall fan her, and shall empty her land: for in the day of trouble they shall be against her round about.

3 Against him that bendeth let the archer bend his bow, and against him that lifteth himself up in his brigandine; and spare ye not her young men, destroy ye utterly all her host.

4 Thus the slain shall fall in the land of the Chaldeans, and they that are thrust through in her streets.

5 For Israel hath not been b forsaken, nor Judah of his God, of the LORD of hosts; though their land was filled with sin against the holy One of Israel.

b Though they were forsaken for a time, yet they were not utterly cast off, as though their husband were dead.

6 * c Flee out of the midst of Babylon, and deliver every man his soul; be not cut off in her iniquity: for this is the time of the LORD'S vengeance: he will render unto her a recompence.

* Chap. 50. 8. Rev. 18. 4.

c He sheweth that there remaineth nothing for them that abide in Babylon, but destruction, Chap. 17. 6. & 48. 6.

7 Babylon hath been a golden cup in the d LORD'S hand, that made all the earth drunken: the nations have drunken of her wine, therefore the nations are e mad.

d By whom the Lord poured out the drink of his vengeance, to whom it pleased him.

e For the great afflictions that they have felt by the Babylonians.

8 Babylon is suddenly * fallen and destroyed: howl for her, take balm for her pain, if so be she may be healed.

* Isa. 21. 9. Rev. 14. 8. & 18. 2.

9 We would have healed Babylon, but she is not healed: forsake her, and let us f go every one into his own country: for her judgment reacheth unto heaven, and is lifted up even to the skies.

f Thus the people of God exhort one another to go to Zion and praise God.

q By theſe three nations, he meaneth Armenia the higher, and Armenia the lower, and Scythia: for Cyrus had gathered an army of divers nations.

28 Prepare againſt her the nations with the Kings of the Medes, the captains thereof, and all the rulers thereof, and all the land of his dominion.

29 And the land ſhall tremble and ſorrow: for every purpoſe of the LORD ſhall be performed againſt Babylon, to make the land of Babylon a deſolation without an inhabitant.

30 The mighty men of Babylon have forborn to fight, they have remained in their holds, their might hath failed, they became as women: they have burnt her dwelling-places, her bars are broken.

31 One poſt ſhall run to meet another, and one meſſenger to meet another, to ſhew the r By turning the courſe of the river, one ſide was made open, and the reeds that did grow in the water, were deſtroyed, which Cyrus did by the counſel of Gobria and Gabatha, Belſhazzar's captains.

32 And that the paſſages are ſtopped, and the reeds they have burnt with fire, and the men of war are affrighted.

33 For thus ſaith the LORD of hoſts, the God of Iſrael, The daughter of Babylon is like yet a little while, and the time of her harveſt

‡ Or, is the time that he threſheth her.
ſ When ſhe ſhall be cut up and threſhed.

34 Nebuchadrezzar the King of Babylon hath t devoured me, he hath cruſhed me, he hath made me an empty veſſel, he hath ſwallowed me up like a dragon, he hath filled his belly with my delicates, he hath caſt me out.

t This is ſpoken in the perſon of the Jews, bewailing their ſtate and the cruelty of the Babylonians.

35 † The violence done to me and to my

36 Therefore thus ſaith the LORD, Behold,
I will plead thy u cauſe, and take vengeance for thee, and I will dry up her ſea, and make her ſprings dry.

u Thus the Lord eſteemeth the injury done to his Church, as done to himſelf, becauſe their cauſe is his.

37 And Babylon ſhall become heaps, a dwelling-place for dragons, an aſtoniſhment and an hiſſing without an inhabitant.

38 They ſhall roar together like lions:
they ſhall ‡ yell as lions whelps.

‡ Or, ſhake themſelves.

39 In their x heat I will make their feaſts, and I will make them drunken, that they may rejoyce, and ſleep a perpetual ſleep, and not x When they are inflamed with ſurfetting and drinking, I will feaſt with them, alluding to Belſhazzar's banquet, Dan. 5. 1.

40 I will bring them down like lambs to 41 How is y Sheſhach taken? and how is the praiſe of the whole earth ſurpriſed? how is Babylon become an aſtoniſhment among the nations?

y Meaning Babel, as Chap. 25. 26.

42 The z ſea is come upon Babylon: ſhe is covered with the multitude of the waves thereof.

z The great army of the Medes and Perſians.

43 Her

43 Her cities are a desolation, a dry land and a wilderness, a land wherein no man dwelleth, neither doth any son of man pass thereby.

44 And I will punish Bel in Babylon, and I will bring forth out of his mouth that which [a] he hath swallowed up, and the nations shall not flow together any more unto him, yea the wall of Babylon shall fall.

45 My people, go ye out of the midst of her, and deliver ye every man his soul from the fierce anger of the LORD.

46 And lest your heart faint, and ye fear for the rumour that shall be heard in the land: a rumour shall both come one year, and after that in another [b] year shall come a rumour, and violence in the land, ruler against ruler.

47 Therefore behold, the days come, that I will † do judgment upon the graven images of Babylon, and her whole land shall be confounded, and all her slain shall fall in the midst of her.

48 Then the heaven, [c] and the earth, and all that is therein, shall sing for Babylon: for the spoilers shall come unto her from the north, saith the LORD.

49 ‡ As Babylon hath caused the [d] slain of Israel to fall: so at Babylon shall fall the slain of all ‡ the earth.

50 [e] Ye that have escaped the sword, go away, stand not still: remember the LORD afar off, and let Jerusalem come into your mind.

51 We are [f] confounded, because we have heard reproach, shame hath covered our faces: for strangers are come into the sanctuaries of the LORD's house.

52 Wherefore behold, the days come, saith the LORD, that I will do judgment upon her graven images, and through all her land the wounded shall grone.

53 Though Babylon should mount up to [g] heaven, and though she should fortify the height of her strength, yet from me shall spoilers come unto her, saith the LORD.

54 A sound of a cry cometh from Babylon, and great destruction from the land of the Chaldeans.

55 Because the LORD hath spoiled Babylon, and destroyed out of her the great voice when her waves do roar like great waters, a noise of their voice is uttered.

56 Because the spoiler is come upon her, even upon Babylon, and her mighty men are taken, every one of their bows is broken, for the LORD God of recompences shall surely requite.

57 And I will make [h] drunk her Princes, and her wise men, her captains and her rulers, and her mighty men: and they shall sleep a perpetual sleep, and not wake, saith the King, whose name is the LORD of hosts.

58 Thus saith the LORD of hosts, ‡ The [i] broad walls of Babylon shall be utterly ‡ broken, and her high gates shall be burnt with fire, and the people shall labour in vain, and the folk in the fire, and they shall be weary.

59 ¶ The word which Jeremiah the Prophet commanded Serajah the son of Neriah, the son of Maasejah, when he went ‡ with Zedekiah the King of Judah into Babylon, in the [k] fourth year of his reign; and this Serajah was a ‡ quiet Prince.

60 So Jeremiah wrote in a Book all the evil that should come upon Babylon, even all these words that are written against Babylon.

61 And Jeremiah said to Serajah, When thou comest to Babylon, and shalt see, and shalt read all these words, 62 Then shalt thou say, O LORD, thou hast spoken against this place, to cut it off, that none shall remain in it, neither man nor beast, but that it shall be † desolate for ever.

63 And it shall be when thou hast made an end of reading this Book, that thou shalt bind [l] a stone to it, and cast it into the midst of Euphrates.

64 And thou shalt say, Thus shall Babylon sink, and shall not rise from the evil that I will bring upon her: and they shall be [m] weary. [n] Thus far are the words of Jeremiah.

CHAP. LII.

1 Zedekiah rebelleth. 4 Jerusalem is besieged and taken. 8 Zedekiah's sons killed, and his own eyes put out. 12 Nebuzar-adan burneth and spoileth the city. 24 He carried away the captives. 31 Evil-merodach advanceth Jehojachin.

ZEdekiah was * one and twenty years old when he † began to reign, and he reigned eleven years in Jerusalem; and his mother's name was Hamutal the daughter of Jeremiah of Libnah.

2 And he did that which was evil in the eyes of the LORD, according to all that Jehojakim had done.

3 For [a] through the anger of the LORD it came to pass in Jerusalem and Judah, till he had cast them out from his presence, that Zedekiah rebelled against the King of Babylon.

4 ¶ And it came to pass in the * ninth year of his reign, in the tenth month, in the tenth day of the month, that Nebuchadrezzar King of Babylon came, he and all his army against Jerusalem, and pitched against it, and built forts against it round about.

5 So the city was besieged unto the eleventh year of King Zedekiah.

6 And in the fourth month, in the ninth day of the month, the famine was sore in the city, so that there was no bread for the people of the land.

7 Then the city was broken up, and all the men of war fled, and went forth out of the city by night by the way of the [b] gate between the two walls, which was by the King's garden, (now the Chaldeans were by the city round about) and they went by the way of the plain.

8 ¶ But the army of the Chaldeans pursued after the King, and overtook Zedekiah in the plains of Jericho, and all his army was scattered from him.

9 Then they took the King, and carried him up unto the King of Babylon to Riblah in the land land of Hamath, [c] where he gave judgment upon him.

10 And the King of Babylon ſlew the ſons of Zedekiah before his eyes: he ſlew alſo all the Princes of Judah in Riblah.

11 Then he † put out the eyes of Zedekiah, & the King of Babylon bound him in ‡ chains, and carried him to Babylon, and put him in † priſon till the day of his death.

12 ¶ Now in the fifth month, in the [d] tenth day of the month (which was the nineteenth year of Nebuchadrezzar King of Babylon) came Nebuzar-adan ‡† captain of the guard, which † ſerved the King of Babylon, into Jeruſalem, 13 And burnt the houſe of the LORD, and the King's houſe; and all the houſes of Jeruſalem, and all the houſes of the great men burnt he with fire.

14 And all the army of the Chaldeans that were with the captain of the guard, brake down all the walls of Jeruſalem round about.

15 Then Nebuzar-adan the captain of the guard carried away captive certain of the poor of the people, and the reſidue of the people that remained in the city, and thoſe that fell away, that fell to the King of Babylon, and the reſt of the multitude.

16 But Nebuzar-adan the captain of the guard, left certain of the poor of the land for vine-dreſſers, and for husbandmen.

17 Alſo the *[f] pillars of braſs that were in the houſe of the LORD, and the baſes, and the braſen ſea that was in the houſe of the LORD, the Chaldeans brake, and carried all the braſs of them to Babylon.

18 The caldrons alſo, and the ‡[g] ſhovels, and the ſnuffers, and the ‡ bowls, and the ſpoons, and all the veſſels of braſs wherewith they miniſtred, took they away.

19 And the baſons, and the ‡ firepans, and the bowls, and the caldrons, and the candleſticks, and the ſpoons, and the cups; that which was of gold in gold, and that which was of ſilver in ſilver, took the captain of the guard away.

20 The two pillars, one ſea, and twelve braſen bulls that were under the baſes, which King Solomon had made in the houſe of the LORD: † the braſs of all theſe veſſels was without [h] weight.

21 And concerning the * pillars, the height of one pillar was eighteen cubits, and a † fillet of twelve cubits did compaſs it, and the thickneſs thereof was four fingers: it was hollow.

22 And a chapiter of braſs was upon it, and the height of one chapiter was five cubits, with net-work and pomegranates upon the chapiters round about, all of braſs: the ſecond pillar alſo and the pomegranates were like unto theſe.

23 And there were ninety and ſix pomegranates on a ſide, and all the pomegranates upon the net-work, were [i] an hundred round about.

24 ¶ And the captain of the guard took Serajah the chief Prieſt, and Zephaniah the [k] ſecond Prieſt, and the three keepers of the † door.

25 He took alſo out of the city an eunuch, which had the charge of the men of war, and [l] ſeven men of them that † were near the King's perſon which were found in the city, and the ‡ principal ſcribe of the hoſts, who muſtered the people of the land, and threeſcore men of the people of the land that were found in the midſt of the city.

26 So Nebuzar-adan the captain of the guard took them, and brought them to the King of Babylon to Riblah.

27 And the King of Babylon ſmote them, and put them to death in Riblah, in the land of Hamath. Thus Judah was carried away captive out of his own land.

28 This is the people whom Nebuchadrezzar carried away captive; in the [m] ſeventh year, three thouſand Jews and three and twenty:

29 In the [n] eighteenth year of Nebuchadrezzar he carried away captive from Jeruſalem eight hundred thirty and two † perſons:

30 In the three and twentieth year of Nebuchadrezzar, Nebuzar-adan the captain of the guard carried away captive of the Jews ſeven hundred fourty and five perſons: all the perſons were four thouſand and ſix hundred.

31 ¶ And it came to paſs in the ſeven and thirtieth year of the captivity of Jehojachin King of Judah, in the twelfth month in the five and twentieth day of the month, that Evil-merodach King of Babylon, in the firſt year of his reign, [o] lifted up the head of Jehojachin King of Judah, and brought him forth out of priſon, 32 And ſpake † kindly unto him, and ſet his throne above the throne of the Kings that were with him in Babylon, 33 And changed his [p] priſon-garments: and he did continually eat bread before him all the days of his life.

34 And for his diet, there was a [q] continual diet given him of the King of Babylon, † every day a portion until the day of his death, all the days of his life.

¶THE LAMENTATIONS OF JEREMIAH.

CHAP. I.

1 The miserable estate of Jerusalem by reason of her sin. 12 She complaineth of her grief, 18 and confesseth God's judgments to be righteous.

a The Prophet wondreth at the great judgment of God, seeing Jerusalem, which was so strong and so full of people, to be now destroyed and desolate.
b Which had chief rule over many provinces and countries.

HOw doth a the city sit solitary, that was full of people? how is she become as a widow? she that was great among the nations, and b princess among the provinces, how is she become tributary?

2 She * weepeth sore in the * c night, and her tears are on her cheeks: among all her d lovers she hath none to comfort her, all her friends have dealt treacherously with her, they are become her enemies.

* Jer. 13. 17.
* Jud 7. 3.
c So that she taketh no rest.
d Meaning, The Egyptians and Assyrians, which promised help.

3 Judah is gone into captivity, because of e affliction, and † because of great servitude: she dwelleth among the heathen, she findeth no rest: all her persecutours overtook her between the straits.

e For her cruelty toward the poor and oppression of servants, Jer. 34. 11.
† Heb. for the greatness of servitude.

4 The ways of Zion do mourn, because f none come to the solemn feasts: all her gates are desolate: her Priests sigh, her virgins are afflicted, and she is in bitterness.

f As they used to come up with mirth and joy, Psal. 42. 4.

5 Her adversaries * g are the chief, her enemies prosper: for the LORD hath afflicted her; for the multitude of her transgressions, her * children are gone into captivity before the enemy.

* Deut. 28. 13, 14.
g That is, Have rule over her, Deut. 28. 44.
* Jer. 52. 28.

6 And from the daughter of Zion all her beauty is departed: her Princes are become h like harts that find no pasture, and they are gone without strength before the pursuer.

h As men pined away with sorrow, and that have no courage.

7 Jerusalem remembred in the days of her affliction, and of her miseries, all her ‡ pleasant things that she had in the days of old, when her people i fell into the hand of the enemy, and none did help her, the adversaries saw her, and did mock at her k Sabbaths.

‡ Or, desireable.
i In her misery she considered the great benefits and commodities that she had lost.
k At her religion and serving of God, which was the greatest grief to the godly.

8 Jerusalem hath grievously sinned: therefore she † is removed: all that honoured her, despise her, because they have seen her nakedness: yea, she sigheth, and turneth backward.

† Heb. is become a removing, or, wandering.

9 l Her filthiness is in her skirts, she remembreth not her last end, therefore she came down wonderfully: she had no comforter: O LORD, behold my affliction: for the enemy hath magnified himself.

l She is not ashamed of her sin, although it be manifest.

10 The adversary hath spread out his hand upon all her ‡ pleasant things: for she hath seen that the heathen entred into her sanctuary, m whom thou didst command that they should not enter into thy congregation.

‡ Or, desireable.
m God forbiddeth that the Ammonites and Moabites should enter into the congregation of the Lord, and under them he comprehendeth all enemies, Deut. 3. 32. & 23. 3.

11 All her people sigh, they seek bread, they have given their pleasant things for meat ‡ to relieve the soul: see, O LORD, and consider, for I am become vile.

‡ Or, to make the soul to come again.

12 ¶ ‡ Is it nothing to you, all ye that † pass by? behold and see, if there be any n sorrow like unto my sorrow, which is done unto me, wherewith the LORD hath afflicted me, in the day of his fierce anger.

‡ Or, It is nothing.
† Heb. pass by the way.
n Thus Jerusalem lamenteth, moving others to pity her, and to learn by her example.

13 From o above hath he sent fire into my bones, and it prevaileth against them: he hath spread a net for my feet, he hath turned me back: he hath made me desolate, and faint all the day.

o This declareth that we should acknowledge God to be the author of all our afflictions, to the intent that we might seek unto him for remedy.

14 p The yoke of my transgressions is bound by his hand: they are wreathed, and come up upon my neck: he hath made my strength to fall, the Lord hath delivered me into their hands, from whom I am not able to rise up.

p Mine heavy sins are continually before his eyes, as he that tieth a thing to his hand for a remembrance.

15 The Lord hath troden under foot all my mighty men in the midst of me: he hath called an assembly against me, to crush my young men: the Lord hath troden ‡ the virgin, the daughter of Judah, as in q a wine-press.

‡ Or, the wine-press of the virgin, &c.
q He hath troden them under foot as they that tread grapes in the wine-press.

16 For these things I weep, * mine eye, mine eye runneth down with water, because the comforter that should † relieve my soul, is far from me: my children are desolate, because the enemy prevailed.

* Jer. 13. 17. & 14. 17. Chap 2. 18.
† Heb. bring back.

17 Zion spreadeth forth her hands, and there is none to comfort her: the LORD hath commanded concerning Jacob, that his adversaries should be round about him: Jerusalem is as r a menstruous woman among them.

r Which, because of her pollution, was separate from her husband, Levit. 15. 19. and was abhorred for the time.

18 ¶ The LORD is * righteous, for I have rebelled against his † commandment: hear, I pray you, all people, and behold my sorrow: my virgins and my young men are gone into captivity.

* Dan. 9. 7.
† Heb. mouth.

19 I called for my lovers, but they deceived me; my Priests and mine elders gave up the ghost in the city, while they s sought their meat to relieve their souls.

s That is, They died for hunger.

20 Behold, O LORD, for I am in distress; my * bowels are troubled; mine heart is turned within me, for I have grievously rebelled: abroad the sword bereaveth, at home there is as death.

* Isa. 16. 11. Jer. 48. 36.

21 They have heard that I sigh, there is none to comfort me: all mine enemies have heard of my trouble, they are glad that thou hast done it: thou wilt bring the day that thou hast ‡ called, and they shall be like unto me.

‡ Or, proclaimed.

22 t Let all their wickedness come before thee: and do unto them, as thou hast done unto me for all my transgressions: for my sighs are many, and my heart is faint.

t Of desiring vengeance against the enemy. Read Jer. 11. 20. & 18. 21.

CHAP. II.

1 Jeremiah lamenteth the misery of Jerusalem. 20 He complaineth thereof to God.

HOw hath the Lord [a] covered the daughter of Zion with a cloud in his anger, and cast down from [b] heaven unto the earth the beauty of Israel, and remembred not his [c] footstool in the day of his anger?

2 The Lord hath swallowed up all the habitations of Jacob, and hath not pitied: he hath thrown down in his wrath the strong holds of the daughter of Judah: he hath † brought them down to the ground: he hath polluted the kingdom and the Princes thereof.

3 He hath cut off in his fierce anger all the [d] horn of Israel: he hath drawn back his [e] right hand from before the enemy, and he burned against Jacob like a flaming fire which devoureth round about.

4 He [f] hath bent his bow like an enemy: he stood with his right hand as an adversary, and slew † all that were pleasant to the eye, in the tabernacle of the daughter of Zion: he poured out his fury like fire.

5 The Lord was as an enemy: he hath swallowed up Israel, he hath swallowed up all her palaces: he hath destroyed his strong holds, and hath increased in the daughter of Judah mourning and lamentation.

6 And he hath violently * taken away his ‡ tabernacle, as if it were of a garden, he hath destroyed his places of the assembly: the LORD hath caused the solemn feasts and Sabbaths to be forgotten in Zion, and hath despised in the indignation of his anger the King & the Priest.

7 The Lord hath cast off his altar: he hath abhorred his sanctuary: he hath † given up into the hand of the enemy the walls of her palaces; they have made [g] a noise in the house of the LORD, as in the day of a solemn feast.

8 The LORD hath purposed to destroy the wall of the daughter of Zion; he hath stretched out a line, he hath not withdrawn his hand from † destroying: therefore he made the rampart and [h] the wall to lament; they languished together.

9 Her gates are sunk into the ground; he hath destroyed and broken her bars; her King and her Princes are among the Gentiles; the Law is no more, her * Prophets also find no vision from the LORD.

10 The elders of the daughter of Zion sit upon the ground and keep silence: they have cast up dust upon their heads; they have girded themselves with sackcloth; the virgins of Jerusalem hang down their heads to the ground.

11 Mine eyes do fail with tears; my bowels are troubled; my liver is poured upon the earth, for the destruction of the daughter of my people, because the children and the sucklings ‡ swoon in the streets of the city.

12 They say to their mothers, Where is corn and wine? when they swooned as the wounded in the streets of the city, when their soul was poured out into their mother's bosom.

13 [i] What thing shall I take to witness for thee? what thing shall I liken to thee, O daughter of Jerusalem? what shall I equal to thee, that I may comfort thee, O virgin daughter of Zion? for thy breach is great like the sea; who can heal thee?

14 Thy * Prophets [k] have seen vain and foolish things for thee, and they have not discovered thine iniquity, to turn away thy captivity; but have seen for thee false burdens, and causes of banishment.

15 All that pass † by, clap their hands at thee; they hiss and wag their head at the daughter of Jerusalem, saying: Is this the city that men call * the perfection of beauty, the joy of the whole earth?

16 All thine enemies have opened their mouth against thee: they hiss and gnash the teeth: they say, We have swallowed her up: certainly this is the day that we looked for: we have found, we have seen it.

17 The LORD hath done that which he had * devised: he hath fulfilled his word that he had commanded in the days of old: he hath thrown down, and hath not pitied: and he hath caused thine enemy to rejoyce over thee, he hath set up the horn of thine adversaries.

18 Their heart cried unto the Lord, O wall of the daughter of Zion, * let tears run down like a river day and night: give thy self no rest, let not the apple of thine eyes cease.

19 Arise, cry out in the night: in the beginning of the watches pour out thine heart like water before the face of the Lord: lift up thy hands towards him, for the life of thy young children, that faint for hunger in the top of every street.

20 ¶ Behold, O LORD, and consider to whom thou hast done this: shall the women eat their fruit, and children ‡ of a span long? shall the Priest and the Prophet be slain in the sanctuary of the LORD?

21 The young and the old lie on the ground in the streets, my virgins and my young men are fallen by the sword: thou hast slain them in the day of thy anger, thou hast killed and not pitied.

22 Thou hast called as in a solemn day my terrours round about, so that in the day of the LORD's anger none escaped nor remained: those that I have swadled and brought up, hath mine enemy consumed.

CHAP. III.

the sanctuary are poured out in the top of every street.

2 The precious sons of Zion, comparable to fine gold, how are they esteemed as earthen [b] pitchers, the work of the hands of the potter!

3 Even the ‡ [c] seamonsters draw out the breast, they give suck to their young ones: the daughter of my people is become cruel, like the [d] ostriches in the wilderness.

4 The tongue of the sucking child cleaveth to the roof of his mouth for thirst: the young children ask bread, and no man breaketh it unto them.

5 They that did feed delicately, are desolate in the streets: they that were brought up in scarlet, embrace dunghills.

6 For the ‡ punishment of the iniquity of the daughter of my people, is greater then the punishment of the sin of Sodom, that was * overthrown as in a moment, and no hands stayed on her.

7 Her Nazarites were purer then snow, they were whiter then milk, they were more ruddy in body then rubies, their polishing was of sapphir.

11 The LORD hath accomplished his fury, he hath poured out his fierce anger, and hath kindled a fire in Zion, and it hath devoured the foundations thereof.

12 The Kings of the earth, and all the inhabitants of the world would not have believed, that the adversary and the enemy should have entred in the gates of Jerusalem.

13 ¶ * For the sins of her Prophets, and the iniquities of her Priests, that have shed the bloud of the just in the midst of [g] her;

14 They have wandred as blind men in the [h] streets, they have polluted themselves with bloud, ‡ so that [i] men could not touch their garments.

15 They cried unto them, Depart ye, ‡ it is unclean, depart, depart, touch not, when they fled away and wandred: they said among the heathen, They shall no more sojourn there.

16 The ‡ anger of the LORD hath divided them, he will no more regard them: [k] they respected not the persons of the Priests, they favoured not the elders.

17 As for us, our eyes as yet failed for our vain help: in our watching we have watched for [l] a nation that could not save us.

18 They hunt our steps that we cannot go in our streets: our end is near, our days are fulfilled, for our end is come.

19 Our persecutours are swifter then the eagles of the heaven: they pursued us upon the mountains, they laid wait for us in the wilderness.

20 The * [m] breath of our nostrils, the anointed of the LORD was taken in their pits, of whom we said, Under his shadow we shall live among the heathen.

21 Rejoyce and be glad, [n] O daughter of Edom, that dwellest in the land of Uz; the cup also shall pass through unto thee: thou shalt be drunken, and shalt make thy self naked.

CHAP. V.

A pityful complaint of Zion, in prayer unto God.

REmember, O LORD, what is come upon us: [a] consider and behold our reproach.

2 Our inheritance is turned to strangers, our houses to aliens.

3 We are orphans and fatherless, our mothers are as widows.

4 We have drunken our [b] water for mony, our wood † is sold unto us.

5 † Our necks are under persecution: we labour and have no rest.

6 We have given the [c] hand to the Egyptians, and to the Assyrians, to be satisfied with bread.

7 * Our fathers have sinned and are not, and we have born their [d] iniquities.

8 Servants have ruled over us: there is none that doth deliver us out of their hand.

9 We gat our bread with the peril of our lives, because of the sword of the [e] wilderness.

10 Our * skin was black like an oven, because of the ‡ terrible famine.

11 They ravished the women in Zion, and the maids in the cities of Judah.

12 Princes are hanged up by [f] their hand: the faces of elders were not honoured.

13 They took the young men to grind, and the children fell [g] under the wood.

14 The elders have ceased from the [h] gate, the young men from their musick.

15 The joy of our heart is ceased, our dance is turned into mourning.

16 † The crown is fallen from our head: wo unto us that we have sinned.

17 For this our heart is faint, for these things our [i] eyes are dim.

¶ THE

THE BOOK OF THE PROPHET EZEKIEL.

THE ARGUMENT.

AFter that Jehojachin, by the counſel of Jeremiah and Ezekiel, had yeilded himſelf to Nebuchadnezzar, and ſo went into captivity with his mother, & divers of his Princes, and of the people, certain began to repent and murmur that they had obeyed the Prophets counſel, as though the thing which they had propheſied ſhould not come to paſs, and therefore their eſtate ſhould be ſtill miſerable under the Chaldeans; by reaſon whereof he confirmeth his former prophecies, declaring by new viſions and revelations ſhewed unto him, that the city ſhould moſt certainly be deſtroyed, and the people grievouſly tormented by God's plagues, inſomuch that they that remained, ſhould be brought into cruel bondage. And leſt the godly ſhould deſpair in theſe great troubles, he aſſureth them that God will deliver his Church at his time appointed, and alſo deſtroy their enemies, which either afflicted them, or rejoyced in their miſeries: the effect of the one and the other ſhould chiefly be performed under Chriſt, of whom in this Book are many notable promiſes, and in whom the glory of the new Temple ſhould perfectly be reſtored. He propheſied theſe things in Chaldea, at the ſame time that Jeremiah propheſied in Judah, and there began in the firſt year of Jehojachin's captivity.

CHAP. I.

1 The time of Ezekiel's prophecy at Chebar. 4 His viſion of four Cherubims, 15 of the four wheels, 26 and of the glory of GOD.

NOw it came to paſs in the [a] thirtieth year, in the fourth month, in the fifth day of the month, (as I was among the † captives by the river of [b] Chebar) that the heavens were opened, and I ſaw viſions of [c] God.

a After that the book of the law was found, which was the eighteenth year of the reign of Joſiah, ſo that five and twenty years after this book was found, Jeconiah was led away captive with Ezekiel (& many of the people) who the firſt year after ſaw theſe viſions.

b Which was a part of Euphrates ſo called.

c That is, Notable and excellent viſions, ſo that it might be known, it was no natural dream, but came of God,

2 In the fifth day of the month, (which was the fifth year of King Jehojachin's captivity)

3 The word of the LORD came expreſly unto †Ezekiel the Prieſt, the ſon of Buzi, in the land of the Chaldeans, by the river Chebar, & the [d] hand of the LORD was there upon him.

† Heb. Jehezkel.

d That is, The ſpirit of prophecy, as Chap. 3. 22. & 37. 1.

4 ¶ And I looked, and behold, [e] a whirlwind came out of the north, a great cloud, and a fire †infolding it ſelf, and a brightneſs was about it, and out of the midſt thereof as the colour of amber, out of the midſt of the fire.

e By this diverſity of words, he ſignifieth the fearful judgment of God, and the great afflictions that ſhould come upon Jeruſalem.

† Heb. catching it ſelf.

5 Alſo out of the midſt thereof came the likeneſs of four living [f] creatures. And this was their appearance, They had the likeneſs of a man.

f Which were the four Cherubims that repreſented the glory of God, as Chap. 3. 23.

6 And every one had four faces, and every one had four wings.

† Heb. a ſtraight foot.

7 And their feet were † ſtraight feet, and the ſole of their feet was like the ſole of a calve's foot, and they ſparkled like the colour of burniſhed braſs.

8 And they had the hands of a man under their wings on their four ſides, and they four had their faces and their wings.

g The wing of the one touched the wing of the other.

9 Their wings were [g] joyned one to another; they turned not when they went, they went every one ſtraight forward.

10 As for the likeneſs of their faces, they four had the [h] face of a man, and the face of a lion on the right ſide, and they four had the face of an ox on the left ſide: they four alſo had the face of an eagle.

h Every Cherubim had four faces, the face of a man, and of a lion on the right ſide; and the face of a bullock, and of an eagle on the left ſide.

11 Thus were their faces: and their wings were ‡ ſtretched upward, two wings of every one were joyned one to another, and two covered their bodies.

12 And they went every one ſtraight forward: whither the ſpirit was to go, they went: and they turned not when they went.

13 As for the likeneſs of the living creatures, their appearance was like burning coals of fire, and like the appearance of lamps: it went up and down among the living creatures, and the fire was bright, and out of the fire went forth lightning.

14 And the living creatures ran, and [i] returned as the appearance of a flaſh of lightning.

i That is, when they had executed God's will: ſo rafore they returned not, till God had changed the ſtate of things.

15 ¶ Now as I beheld the living creatures, behold, one wheel upon the earth by the living creatures, with his four faces.

16 The appearance of the wheels, and their work was like unto the colour of a [k] beryl: and they four had one likeneſs, and their appearance and their work was as it were a wheel in the midle of a wheel.

k The Hebrew word, is Tarſhiſh: Meaning, That the colour was like the Cicilian Sea, or a precious ſtone ſo called.

17 When they went, they went upon their four ſides: and they returned not when they went.

18 As for their rings, they were ſo high that they were dreadful, and their ‡ rings were full of eyes round about them four.

‡ Or, ſtraber.

19 And when the living creatures went, the wheels went by them: and when the living creatures were lift up from the earth, the wheels were lift up.

20 Whitherſoever the ſpirit was to go, they went, thither was their ſpirit to go, and the wheels were lifted up over againſt them: for the ſpirit ‡ of the living creature was in the wheels.

616

21 When thoſe went, theſe went; and when thoſe ſtood, theſe ſtood; and when thoſe were lifted up from the earth, the wheels were lifted up over againſt them: for the ſpirit ‡ of the living creature was in the wheels.

‡ Or, of life.

22 And the likeneſs of the firmament upon the heads of the living creature, was as the colour of the terrible cryſtal, ſtretched forth over their heads above.

23 And under the firmament were their wings ſtraight, the one toward the other; every one had two, which covered on this ſide, and every one had two, which covered on that ſide, their bodies.

24 And when they went, I heard the noiſe of their [l] wings, like the noiſe of great waters, as the voice of the Almighty, the voice of ſpeech as the noiſe of an hoſt: when they ſtood, they [m] let down their wings.

l Which declared the ſwiftneſs, and the fearfulneſs of God's judgments.

m Which ſignified, that they had no power of themſelves, but onely waited to execute God's commandment.

25 And there was a voice from the firmament, that was over their heads, when they ſtood, and had let down their wings.

26 ¶ And above the firmament that was over their heads, was the likeneſs of a throne, as the appearance of a ſapphire-ſtone, and upon the likeneſs of the throne was the likeneſs as the appearance of a man above upon it.

27 And I ſaw as the colour of amber, as the appearance of fire [n] round about within it: from the appearance of his loyns even upward, and from the appearance of his loyns even downward, I ſaw as it were the appearance of fire, and it had brightneſs round about.

n Whereby was ſignified a terrible judgment toward the earth.

28 As the appearance of the bow that is in the cloud in the day of rain, ſo was the appearance of the brightneſs round about. This was the appearance of the likeneſs of the glory of the LORD: and when I ſaw it, I [o] fell upon my face, and I heard a voice of one that ſpake.

o Conſidering the majeſty of God, and the weakneſs of fleſh.

CHAP. II.

1 Ezekiel's commiſſion. 6 His inſtruction. 9 The roll of his heavy prophecy.

AND [a] he ſaid unto me, [b] Son of man, ſtand upon thy feet, and I will ſpeak unto thee.

a That is, The Lord.
b Meaning, Man which is but earth and aſhes, which was to humble him, and cauſe him to conſider his own ſtate, and God's grace.

2 [c] And the ſpirit entred into me, when he ſpake unto me, and ſet me upon my feet, that I heard him that ſpake unto me.

c So that he could not abide God's preſence till God's ſpirit did enter into him.

3 And he ſaid unto me, Son of man, I ſend thee to the children of Iſrael, to a rebellious † nation that hath rebelled againſt me; they and their fathers have tranſgreſſed againſt me, even unto this very day.

† Heb. nations.

4 For they are † impudent children and ſtiff-hearted: I do ſend thee unto them, and thou ſhalt ſay unto them, Thus ſaith the Lord GOD.

† Heb. hard of face.

5 And they, whether they will hear, or whether they will forbear, (that they are a rebellious houſe) yet ſhall know that [d] there hath been a Prophet among them.

d This declareth on the one part, God's great affection toward his people, that notwithſtanding their rebellion, yet he will ſend his Prophets among them, and admoniſhed his Miniſters on the other part, that they ceaſe not to do their duty, though the people be never ſo obſtinate: for the word of God ſhall be either to their ſalvation, or greater condemnation.

6 ¶ And thou, ſon of man, be not [e] afraid of them, neither be afraid of their words, though ‡ briers and thorns be with thee, and thou doſt dwell among ſcorpions: be not afraid of their words, nor be diſmayed at their looks, though they be a rebellious houſe.

e Jer. 1. 17. He ſheweth, That for none afflictions they ſhould ceaſe to do their duties.

‡ Or, rebels.

7 And thou ſhalt ſpeak my words unto them, whether they will hear, or whether they will forbear, for they are † moſt rebellious.

† Heb. rebellion.

8 But thou, ſon of man, hear what I ſay unto thee, Be not thou rebellious like that rebellious houſe: open thy mouth, and * [f] eat that I give thee.

* Rev. 10. 9.
f He doth not onely exhort him to his duty, but alſo giveth him the mean, wherewith he may be able to execute it.

9 ¶ And when I looked, behold, an hand was ſent unto me, and lo, a roll of a book was therein.

10 And he ſpread it before me, and it was written within and without, and there was written therein [g] lamentations, and mourning, and wo.

g He ſheweth, what were the contents of this book, to wit, God's judgments againſt the wicked.

CHAP. III.

1 Ezekiel eateth the roll. 4 God encourageth him. 15 God ſheweth him the rule of prophecy. 22 God ſhutteth and openeth the Prophet's mouth.

MOreover he ſaid unto me, Son of man, eat that thou findeſt; [a] eat this roll, and go ſpeak unto the houſe of Iſrael.

a Whereby is meant, that none is meet to be God's meſſenger before he have received the word of God in his heart, as ver. 10. and have a zeal thereto, and delight therein, as Jer. 15. 16. Rev. 10. 10.

2 So I opened my mouth, and he cauſed me to eat that roll.

3 And he ſaid unto me, Son of man, cauſe thy belly to eat, and fill thy bowels with this roll that I give thee. Then did I * eat it, and it was in my mouth as hony for ſweetneſs.

* Rev. 10. 9.

4 ¶ And he ſaid unto me, Son of man, go, get thee unto the houſe of Iſrael, & ſpeak with my words unto them.

5 For thou art not ſent to a people † of a ſtrange ſpeach, and of an hard language, but to the houſe of Iſrael:

† Heb. deep of lip, & heavy of tongue, as ver. 6.

6 Not to many people † of a ſtrange ſpeach, and of an hard language, whoſe words thou canſt not underſtand: ‡ ſurely, had I ſent thee to them, they would have hearkned unto thee.

† Heb. deep of lip, and heavy of languages.
‡ Or, if I had ſent thee, &c. would they not have hearkned unto me?

7 But the houſe of Iſrael will not hearken unto thee; for they will not hearken unto me: for all the houſe of Iſrael are † impudent and hard-hearted.

† Heb. ſtiff of forehead, and hard of heart.

8 Behold, I have made thy face [b] ſtrong againſt their faces, and thy forehead ſtrong againſt their foreheads.

b God promiſeth his aſſiſtance to his Miniſters, and that he will give them boldneſs & conſtancy in their vocation, Iſa. 50. 7. Jer. 1. 18. Acts. 5. 8.

9 As an adamant harder then flint have I made thy forehead: * fear them not, neither be diſmayed at their looks, though they be a rebellious houſe.

* Jer. 1. 8.

10 Moreover, he ſaid unto me, Son of man, all my words that I ſhall ſpeak unto thee, [c] receive in thine heart, and hear with thine ears.

c He ſheweth what is meant by the eating of the book, which is, That the Miniſters of God may ſpeak nothing as of themſelves, but that onely which they have received of the Lord.

11 And go, get thee to them of the captivity, unto the children of thy people, and ſpeak unto them and tell them, Thus ſaith the Lord GOD, whether they will hear, or whether they will forbear.

12 Then the ſpirit took me up, and I heard behind me a voice of a great ruſhing, ſaying, [d] Bleſſed be the glory of the LORD from his place.

d Whereby he ſignifieth, That God's glory ſhould not be diminiſhed although he departed out of his Temple; for this declared, that the city and Temple ſhould be deſtroyed.

13 I heard

13 I heard also the noise of the wings of the living creatures that † touched one another, and the noise of the wheels over against them, and a noise of a great rushing.

† Heb. kissed.

14 So the spirit lifted me up, and took me away, and [e] I went † in bitterness, in the † heat of my spirit, but the hand of the LORD was strong upon me.

e This sheweth, That there is ever an infirmity of the flesh which can never be ready to render full obedience to God, & also God's grace, who ever assisteth his, and overcometh their rebellious affections.
† Heb. hot anger.

15 ¶ Then I came to them of the captivity at [f] Tel-abib, that dwelt by the river of Chebar, and I sat where they sat, and remained there astonished among them [g] seven days.

f Which was a place by Euphrates, where the Jews were prisoners.
g Declaring hereby, That God's Ministers must with advisement and deliberation utter his judgments.

16 And it came to pass at the end of seven days, that the word of the LORD came unto me, saying,

17 * Son of man, I have made thee a [h] watchman unto the house of Israel: therefore hear the word at my mouth, and give them warning from me.

* Chap. 33. 7.
h That is, A Prophet, as Isa. 52. 8. & 57. 2. Jer. 6. 17. Chap. 33. 2.

18 When I say unto the wicked, Thou shalt surely die; and thou givest him not warning, nor speakest to warn the wicked from his wicked way to save his life: the same wicked man shall die in his iniquity; but his bloud will I require at thine hand.

19 Yet if thou warn the wicked, and he turn not from his wickedness, nor from his wicked way, he shall die in his iniquity; but thou hast delivered thy soul.

20 Again, when a *[i] righteous man doth turn from his † righteousness, and commit iniquity, and I lay [k] a stumbling-block before him, he shall die: because thou hast not given him warning, he shall die in his sins, and his [l] righteousness which he hath done shall not be remembered; but his bloud will I require at thine hand.

* Chap. 18. 24.
i If he that hath been instructed in the right way turn back.
† Heb. righteousnesses.
k I will give him up unto a reprobate mind, Rom. 1. 28.
l That is, His righteous deeds, which seemed to have been done in faith, and were not.

21 Nevertheless, if thou warn the righteous man, that the righteous sin not, and he doth not sin; he shall surely live, because he is warned: also thou hast delivered thy soul.

22 ¶ And the [m] hand of the LORD was there upon me, and he said unto me, Arise, go forth into the plain, and I will there talk with thee.

m That is, The spirit of prophecy.

23 Then I arose, and went forth into the plain, and behold, the [n] glory of the LORD stood there, as the glory which I * saw by the river of Chebar; and I fell on my face.

n Meaning, The visions of the Cherubims, and the wheels.
* Chap. 1.
o Chap. 2. 2.

24 Then the spirit entred into me, and [o] set me upon my feet, and spake with me, and said unto me, Go, [p] shut thy self within thine house.

p Signifying, That not only he should not profit, but they should grievously trouble and afflict him.

25 But thou, O son of man, behold, they shall put bands upon thee, and shall bind thee with them, and thou shalt not go out among them.

26 And I will make thy tongue [q] cleave to the roof of thy mouth, that thou shalt be dumb, and shalt not be to them † a reprover; for they are a rebellious house.

q Which declareth the terrible plague of the Lord, when God stoppeth the mouths of his Ministers, and that all such are the rods of his vengeance that do it.
† Heb. a man reproving.

27 But when I speak with thee, I will open thy mouth, and thou shalt say unto them. Thus saith the Lord GOD, He that heareth, let him hear; and he that forbeareth, let him forbear: for they are a rebellious house.

CHAP. IV. 617

1 Under the type of a siege, is shewed the time from the defection of Jeroboam to the captivity. 9 By the provision of the siege is shewed the hardness of the famine.

THou also son of man, take thee a tile, and lay it before thee, and pourtray upon it the city, even Jerusalem;

2 And lay siege against it, and build a fort against it, and cast a mount against it: set the camp also against it, and set ‡ battering rams against it round about.

‡ Or, chief leaders.

3 Moreover, take thou unto thee ‡ an [a] iron pan, and set it for a wall of iron between thee and the city, and set thy face against it, and it shall be besieged, and thou shalt lay siege against it: this shall be a sign to the house of Israel.

‡ Or, a flat plate, or, slice.
a Which signified the stubbornes and hardnes of their heart.

4 Lie thou also upon thy left side, and lay the iniquity of the [b] house of Israel upon it: according to the number of the days that thou shalt lie upon it, thou shalt bear their iniquity.

b Hereby he represented the idolatry and sin of the ten tribes: for Samaria was on his left hand from Babylon; and how they had remained therein three hundred and ninety days.

5 For I have laid upon thee the years of their iniquity, according to the number of the days, three hundred and ninety days: * so shalt thou bear the iniquity of the house of Israel.

* Num. 14. 34.

6 And when thou hast accomplished them, lie again on thy [c] right side, and thou shalt bear the iniquity of the house of Judah fourty days: I have appointed thee † each day for a year.

c Which declared Judah, who had now from the time of Josiah slept in their sins fourty years.

7 Therefore thou shalt set thy face toward the siege of Jerusalem, and thine [d] arm shall be uncovered, and thou shalt prophesy against it.

d In token of a speedy vengeance.

8 And behold, I will lay [e] bands upon thee, and thou shalt not turn thee † from one side to another, till thou hast ended the days of thy siege.

e The people should so straitly be besieged, that they should not be able to turn them.
† Heb. from thy side to thy side.

9 ¶ Take thou also unto thee, wheat, and barley, and beans, and lentiles, and millet, and ‡ [f] fitches, and put them in one vessel, and make thee bread thereof, according to the number of the days that thou shalt lie upon thy side; [g] three hundred and ninety days shalt thou eat thereof.

‡ Or spelt.
f Meaning, That the famine should be so great, that they should be glad to eat whatsoever they could get.
g Which were fourteen months that the city was besieged, and this was as many days as Israel sinned years.

10 And thy meat which thou shalt eat, shall be by weight [h] twenty shekels a day: from time to time shalt thou eat it.

h Which make a pound.

11 Thou shalt drink also water by measure, the sixth part of an [i] hin: from time to time shalt thou drink.

i Exod. 29. 40.

12 And thou shalt eat it as barley-cakes, and thou shalt bake it with [k] dung that cometh out of man, in their sight.

k Signifying hereby, The great scarcity of fuel, and matter to burn.

13 And the LORD said, Even thus shall the children of Israel eat their defiled bread among the Gentiles, whither I will drive them.

14 Then said I, [l] Ah Lord GOD, behold, my soul hath not been polluted: for from my youth up even till now, have I not eaten of that which dieth of it self, or is torn in pieces, neither came there abominable flesh into my mouth.

l The Prophet desires that he might be excused, least for the unclean Jews he should be constrained to eat unclean meat: for man's dung and excrements were impure by the law, Deut. 23. 9. &c.

15 Then he said unto me, Lo, I have given thee [m] cow's dung for man's dung, and thou shalt prepare thy bread therewith.

m To be as fire to bake thy bread with.

16 Moreover, he ſaid unto me, Son of man, behold, I will [n] break the * ſtaff of bread in Jeruſalem, and they ſhall eat bread by weight, and with care, and they ſhall drink water by meaſure, and with aſtoniſhment.

1 Under the type of hair, 5 is ſhewed the judgment of Jeruſalem for their rebellion, 12 by famine, ſword, and diſperſion.

AND thou ſon of man, take thee a ſharp knife, take thee a barbour's raſour, and cauſe it [a] to paſs upon thine head, and upon thy beard; then take the balances to weigh and divide their hair.

a To ſhave thine head and thy beard.

2 Thou ſhalt burn with fire a third part in the midſt of the [b] city, when the days of the ſiege are fulfilled; and thou ſhalt take a third part, and ſmite about it with a knife; and a third part thou ſhalt ſcatter in the wind, and I will draw out a ſword after them.

b To wit, Of that city which he had pourtrayed upon the brick, Chap. 4. 1. By the fire and peſtilence he meaneth, The famine, wherewith one part periſhed during the ſiege of Nebuchadnezzar. By the ſword, Thoſe that were ſlain when Zedekiah fled, and thoſe that were carried away captive. And by the ſcattering into the wind, Thoſe that fled into Egypt and into other parts after the city was taken.

3 Thou ſhalt alſo take thereof a few in number, and bind them in thy † [c] ſkirts.

† Heb. wings.
c Meaning, That a very few ſhould be left, which the Lord would preſerve among all theſe ſtorms, but not without troubles and trial.

4 Then take of them again, and caſt them into the midſt of the fire, and burn them in the fire; [d] for thereof ſhall a fire come forth into all the houſe of Iſrael.

d Out of that fire which thou kindleſt, ſhall a fire come, which ſhall ſignify the deſtruction of Iſrael.

5 ¶ Thus ſaith the Lord GOD, This is Jeruſalem: I have ſet it in the midſt of the nations and countrys that are round about her.

6 And ſhe hath changed my [e] judgments into wickedneſs more then the nations, and my ſtatutes more then the countrys that are round about her: for they have refuſed my judgments, and my ſtatutes, they have not walked in them.

e My word and law into idolatry and ſuperſtitions.

7 Therefore thus ſaith the Lord GOD, Becauſe ye [f] multiplied more then the nations that are round about you, and have not walked in my ſtatutes, neither have kept my judgments, neither have done according to the judgments of the nations that are round about you:

f Becauſe your idols are in greater number, and your ſuperſtitions more then among the profeſſed idolaters, Iſa. 65. 11. or he condemneth their ingratitude in reſpect of his benefits.

8 Therefore thus ſaith the Lord GOD, Behold, I, even I am againſt thee, and will execute judgments in the midſt of thee, in the ſight of the nations.

9 And I will do in thee that which I have not done, and whereunto I will not do any more the like, becauſe of all thine abominations.

10 Therefore the fathers * ſhall eat the ſons in the midſt of thee, and the ſons ſhall eat their fathers; and I will execute judgments in thee, and the whole remnant of thee will I ſcatter into all the winds.

* Lev 26. 29. Deut. 28 53. 2 King. 6. 29. Lam 4 10.

11 Wherefore, as I live, ſaith the Lord GOD, Surely becauſe thou haſt defiled my ſanctuary with all thy deteſtable things and with all thine abominations, therefore will I alſo diminiſh thee, * neither ſhall mine eye ſpare, neither will I have any pity.

* Chap. 7. 4, 9.

22 ¶ A third part of thee ſhall die with the peſtilence, and with famine ſhall they be conſumed in the midſt of thee; and a third part ſhall fall by the ſword round about thee; and I will ſcatter a third part into all the winds, and I will draw out a ſword after them.

13 Thus ſhall mine anger be accompliſhed, and I will cauſe my fury to reſt upon them, and I will be [g] comforted: and they ſhall know that I the LORD have ſpoken it in my zeal, when I have accompliſhed my fury in them.

g That is, I will not be pacified till I be revenged, Iſa. 1. 24.

14 Moreover, I will make thee waſte, and a reproach among the nations that are round about thee, in the ſight of all that paſs by.

15 So it ſhall be a * reproach and a taunt, an inſtruction and an aſtoniſhment unto the nations that are round about thee, when I ſhall execute judgments in thee in anger and in fury, and in furious rebukes: I the LORD have ſpoken it.

* Deut. 28. 37.

16 When I ſhall ſend upon them the evil [h] arrows of famine, which ſhall be for their deſtruction, and which I will ſend to deſtroy you: and I will increaſe the famine upon you, and will break your * ſtaff of bread.

h Which were the graſhoppers, mildew, and whatſoever were occaſions of famine.
* Lev. 26. 26. Chap. 4. 16. & 14. 13.

CHAP. VI.

1 The judgment of Iſrael for their idolatry. 9 A remnant ſhall be bleſſed. 11 The faithful are exhorted to lament their calamities.

AND the word of the LORD came unto me, ſaying,

2 Son of man, ſet thy face towards the * mountains of Iſrael, and propheſy againſt them,

* Chap. 36. 1.

3 And ſay, Ye mountains of Iſrael, hear the word of the Lord GOD, Thus ſaith the Lord GOD to the [a] mountains and to the hills, to the rivers and to the valleys, Behold, I, even I will bring a ſword upon you, and I will deſtroy your high places.

a He ſpeaketh to all the places where the Iſraelites accuſtomed to commit their idolatry, threatning their deſtruction.

4 And your altars ſhall be deſolate, and your ‡ [b] images ſhall be broken: and I will caſt down your ſlain men before your idols.

‡ Or, Sun-images, and ſo ver. 6.
b 2 King. 23. 11.

5 And I will † lay the dead carcaſes of the children of Iſrael before their [c] idols, and I will ſcatter your bones round about your altars.

† Heb. give.
c In contempt of their power and force, which ſhall neither be able to deliver you, nor themſelves, 2 King. 23. 20.

6 In all your dwelling-places the cities ſhall be laid waſte, and the high places ſhall be deſolate; that your altars may be laid waſte and made deſolate, and your idols may be broken and ceaſe, and your images may be cut down, and your works may be aboliſhed.

7 And the ſlain ſhall fall in the midſt of you, and ye ſhall know that I am the LORD.

8 ¶ Yet will I leave [d] a remnant, that ye may have ſome that ſhall eſcape the ſword among the nations, when ye ſhall be ſcattered through the countrys.

d He ſheweth that in all dangers God will preſerve a few, which ſhall be as the ſeed of his Church, & call upon his name.

9 And they that eſcape of you ſhall remember me among the nations, whither they ſhall be carried captives, becauſe I am broken with their their whoriſh heart which hath departed from me, and with their eyes which go a whoring after their idols: and they ſhall [e] loath themſelves for the evils which they have committed in all their abominations.

e They ſhall be aſhamed to ſee that their hope in idols was but vain, and ſo ſhall repent.

10 And they ſhall know that I am the LORD, and that I have not ſaid in vain that I would do this evil unto them.

11 ¶ Thus ſaith the Lord GOD, [f] Smite * with thine hand, and ſtamp with thy foot, and ſay, Alas, for all the evil abominations of the houſe of Iſrael: for they ſhall fall by the ſword, by the famine, and by the peſtilence.

f By theſe ſigns he would that the Prophet ſhould ſignify the great deſtruction to come.
* Chap. 21. 17.

12 He that is far off ſhall die of the peſtilence, and he that is near ſhall fall by the ſword, and he that remaineth and is beſieged ſhall die by the famine: thus will I accompliſh my fury upon them.

13 Then ſhall [g] ye know that I am the LORD, when their ſlain men ſhall be among their idols round about their altars, upon every high hill in all the tops of the mountains, and under every green tree, and under every thick oak, the place where they did offer ſweet ſavour to all their idols.

g That is, All nations, when you ſhall ſee my judgments.

14 So will I ſtretch out my hand upon them, and make the land deſolate; yea, ‡ more deſolate then the wilderneſs [h] towards Diblath, in all their habitations, and they ſhall know that I am the LORD.

‡ Or, deſolate from the wilderneſs.
h Some read, More deſolate then the wilderneſs of Diblath, which was in Syria, and bordred upon Iſrael, or: from the wilderneſs, which was ſouth unto Diblath, which was north, Meaning, The whole country.

CHAP. VII.

1 The final deſolation of Iſrael 16 The mournful repentance of them that eſcape. 20 The enemies defile the ſanctuary becauſe of the Iſraelites abominations. 23 Under the type of a chain, is ſhewed their miſerable captivity.

MOreover the word of the LORD came unto me, ſaying,

2 Alſo thou ſon of man, thus ſaith the Lord GOD unto the land of Iſrael, An end, the end is come upon the four corners of the land.

† Heb. give.
a I will puniſh thee as thou haſt deſerved for thine idolatry.

4 And mine eye ſhall not ſpare thee, neither will I have pity: but I will recompenſe thy ways upon thee, and thine abominations ſhall be in the midſt of thee, and ye ſhall know that I am the LORD.

6 An end is come, the end is come, it † [b] watcheth for thee, behold, it is come.

† Heb. awaketh againſt thee.

1 Ezekiel in a vision of God at Jerusalem, 5 is shewed the image of jealousie, 7 the chambers of imagery, 13 the mourners for Tammuz, 15 the worshippers towards the Sun. 18 God's wrath for their idolatry.

AND it came to pass in the [a] sixth year, in the [b] sixth month, in the fifth day of the month, as I sat in mine house, and the elders of Judah sat before me, that the hand of the Lord GOD fell there upon me.

a Of the captivity of Jeconiah.
b Which contained part of August, and part of September.

2 Then I beheld, and lo, a likeness as the appearance of fire: from the [c] appearance of his loyns even downward, fire: and from his loyns even upward, as the appearance of brightness, as the colour of amber.

c As Chap. 1. 27.

3 And he * put forth the form of an hand, and took me by a lock of mine head, and the spirit lift me up between the earth and the heaven, and brought me in the [d] visions of God to Jerusalem, to the door of the inner [e] gate, that looketh toward the north, where was the seat of the image of [f] jealousy, which provoketh to jealousy.

* Dan. 5. 5.

d Meaning, That he was thus carried in Spirit, and not in body.
e Which was the porch or the court, where the people assembled.
f So called, Because it provoked God's indignation, which was the idol of Baal.

4 And behold, the glory of the God of Israel was there, according to the vision that I * saw in the [g] plain.

* Chap. 1. 23.
g Chap. 3. 22.

5 ¶ Then said he unto me, Son of man, lift up thine eyes now the way towards the north: so I lift up mine eyes the way toward the north, and behold, north-ward at the gate of the [h] Altar, this image of jealousy in the entry.

h That is, In the court where the people had made an Altar to Baal.

6 He said furthermore unto me, Son of man, seest thou what they do? even the great abominations that the house of Israel committeth here, that I should go far off from my [i] sanctuary? but turn thee yet again, and thou shalt see greater abominations.

i For God will not be where idols are.

7 ¶ And he brought me to the door of the court; and when I looked, behold, a hole in the wall.

8 Then said he unto me, Son of man, dig now in the wall: and when I had digged in the wall, behold a door.

9 And he said unto me, Go in, and behold the wicked abominations that they do here.

10 So I went in and saw, and behold, every form of creeping things, and [k] abominable beasts, and all the idols of the house of Israel pourtrayed upon the wall round about.

k Which were forbidden in the Law, Levit. 11. 4.

11 And there stood before them seventy [l] men of the ancients of the house of Israel and in the midst of them stood Jaazaniah the son of Shaphan, with every man his censer in his hand, and a thick [m] cloud of incense went up.

l Thus they that should have kept all the rest in the fear and true service of God, were the ring-leaders to all abomination, and by their example pulled others from God.
m It was in such abundance.; a 12 Then said he unto me, Son of man, hast thou seen what the ancients of the house of Israel [n] do in the dark, every man in the chambers of his imagery? for they say, * The LORD seeth us not, the LORD hath forsaken the earth.

n For besides their common idolatry, they had particular service, which they had in secret chambers.
* Chap. 9. 9.

13 ¶ He said also unto me, Turn thee yet again, and thou shalt see greater abominations that they do.

14 Then he brought me to the door of the gate of the LORD's house, which was towards the north, and behold, there sat women weeping for [o] Tammuz.

o The Jews write that this was a Prophet of the idols, who after his death was once a year mourned for in the night.

15 ¶ Then said he unto me, Hast thou seen this, O son of man? turn thee yet again, and thou shalt see greater abominations then these.

16 And he brought me into the inner court of the LORD's house, and behold, at the door of the Temple of the LORD, between the porch and the altar, were about five and twenty men, with their backs toward the Temple of the LORD, and their faces toward the east, and they worshipped the Son toward the east.

17 Then he said unto me, Hast thou seen this, O son of man? ‡ Is it a light thing to the house of Judah, that they commit the abominations, which they commit here? for they have filled the land with violence, and have returned to provoke me to anger; and lo, they put the [p] branch to their nose.

‡ Or, Is there any thing lighter then to commit.

p Some take it for fruitful boughs, offering such things as it were at first fruits to the Sun and their idols.

18 ¶ Therefore will I also deal in fury: mine * eye shall not spare, neither will I have pity: and though they * cry in mine ears with a loud voice, yet will I not hear them.

HE cried also in mine ears with a loud voice, saying, Cause them that have charge over the [a] city, to draw near, even every man with his destroying weapon in his hand.

2 And behold, [b] six men came from the way of the higher gate, † which lieth toward the [c] north, and every man † a slaughter-weapon in his hand: and one man among them was clothed with linen, with a writer's [d] inkhorn † by his side, and they went in and stood beside the brasen altar.

8 ¶ And it came to pass while they were slaying them, and I was left, that I fell upon my face, and cried, and said, [i] Ah, Lord GOD, wilt thou destroy all the residue of Israel, in thy pouring out of thy fury upon Jerusalem?

9 Then said he unto me, The iniquity of the house of Israel and Judah is exceeding great, and the land is † [k] full of blood, and the city full of ‡ perverseness: for they say, *The LORD hath forsaken the earth, and the LORD seeth not.

10 And as for me also, mine *eye shall not spare, neither will I have pity, but I will recompense their way upon their head.

CHAP. X.

1 The vision of the coals of fire, to be scattered over the city. 8 The vision of the Cherubims.

THen I looked, and behold, in the * firmament that was above the head of the [a] Cherubims, there appeared over them, as it were a sapphire-stone, as the appearance of the likeness of a throne.

2 And he spake unto the man clothed with linen, And said, Go in between the wheels, even under the Cherub, and fill † thine hand with coals of fire from between the Cherubims, and scatter them over the [b] city. And he went in in my sight.

3 Now the Cherubims stood on the right-side of the house, when the man went in, and the cloud filled the inner court.

4 Then the glory of the LORD † [c] went up from the Cherub, and stood over the threshold of the house, and the house was filled with the cloud, and the court was full of the brightness of the LORD's glory.

5 And the [d] sound of the Cherubims wings was heard even to the utter court, as the voice of the almighty God when he speaketh.

6 And it came to pass, that when he had commanded the man clothed with linen, saying, Take fire from between the wheels, from between the Cherubims; then he went in, and stood beside the wheels.

7 And one Cherub † stretched forth his hand from between the Cherubims unto the fire that was between the Cherubims, & took thereof, and put it into the hands of him that was clothed with linen: who took it, and went out.

8 ¶ And there appeared in the Cherubims, the form of a man's hand under their wings.

9 And when I looked, behold, the four wheels by the Cherubims, one wheel by one Cherub, and another wheel by another Cherub: and the appearance of the wheels was as the colour of a [e] beryl-stone.

10 And as for their appearances, they four had one likeness, as if a wheel had been in the midst of a wheel.

11 When they went, they went upon their four sides; they turned not as they went, but to the place whither the head looked, they followed it; they [f] turned not as they went.

12 And their whole † body, and their backs, and their hands, and their wings, and the wheels were full of eyes round about, even the wheels that they four had.

13 As for the wheels, ‡ it was cried unto them in my hearing, O wheel.

14 And every one had four faces: the first face was the face of a Cherub, and the second face was the face of a man, and the third the face of a lion, and the fourth the face of an eagle.

15 And the Cherubims were lifted up: this is the living creature that I saw by the river of Chebar.

16 And when the Cherubims went, the wheels went by them: and when the Cherubims lift up their wings, to mount up from the earth, the same wheels also turned not from beside them.

17 When they stood, these stood, and when they were lifted up, these lift up themselves also: for the [g] spirit ‡ of the living creature was in them.

18 [h] Then the glory of the LORD departed from off the threshold of the house, and stood over the Cherubims.

19 And the Cherubims lift up their wings: and mounted up from the earth in my sight, when they went out, the wheels also were beside them, and every one stood at the door of the east-gate of the LORD's house, & the glory of the God of Israel was over them above.

20 This is the [i] living creature that I saw under the God of Israel, by the river of Chebar, and I knew that they were the Cherubims.

21 Every one had four faces a piece, and every one four wings, and the likeness of the hands of a man was under their wings.

22 And the likeness of their faces was the same faces which I saw by the river of Chebar, their appearances and themselves: they went every one straight forward.

CHAP. XI.

1 The presumption of the Princes. 4 Their sin and judgment. 13 Ezekiel complaining, God sheweth him his purpose in saving a remnant, and punishing the wicked. 22 The glory of God leaveth the city. 24 Ezekiel is returned to the captivity.

MOreover, the spirit lift me up, and brought me unto the east-gate of the LORD's house, which looketh east-ward: and behold, at the door of the gate five and twenty men; among whom I saw Jaazaniah the son of Azur, and Pelatiah the son of Benajah, Princes of the people.

2 Then said he unto me, Son of man, these these are the men that deviſe miſchief, and give wicked counſel in this city.

‡ Or, It is not for us to build houſes near.

3 Which ſay, ‡ It is not *[a] near, let us build houſes: this city is the [b] caldron, and we be the fleſh.

* 2 Pet. 3. 4.

a Thus the wicked derided the Prophets, as though they preached but errours and therefore gave themſelves ſtill to their pleaſures.

b We ſhall not be pulled out of Jeruſalem, till the hour of our death come, as the fleſh is not taken out of the caldron till it be ſod.

4 ¶ Therefore propheſie againſt them, propheſie, O ſon of man.

5 And the ſpirit of the LORD fell upon me, and ſaid unto me, Speak, Thus ſaith the LORD, Thus have ye ſaid, O houſe of Iſrael: for I know the things that come into your mind, every one of them.

6 Ye have multiplied your ſlain in this city, and ye have filled the ſtreets thereof with the ſlain.

7 Therefore thus ſaith the Lord GOD, Your ſlain whom ye have laid in the midſt of it, they are the [c] fleſh, and this city is the caldron: but I will bring you forth out of the midſt of it.

c Contrary to their vain confidence, he ſheweth in what ſenſe this city is the caldron: that is becauſe of the dead bodies that have been murdered therein, and ſo lie as fleſh in the caldron.

8 Ye have feared the ſword, and I will bring a ſword upon you, ſaith the Lord GOD.

9 And I will bring you out of the midſt thereof, and deliver you into the [d] hands of ſtrangers, and will execute judgments among you.

d That is, Of the Chaldeans.

10 Ye ſhall fall by the ſword, I will judge you in the border of [e] Iſrael, and ye ſhall know that I am the LORD.

e That is, In Riblah, 2 King. 25. 6.

11 This city ſhall not be your caldron, neither ſhall ye be the fleſh in the midſt thereof; but I will judge you in the border of Iſrael.

12 And ye ſhall know that I am the LORD: ‡ for ye have not walked in my ſtatutes, neither executed my judgments, but have done after the manners of the heathen that are round about you.

‡ Or, which have not walked.

13 ¶ And it came to paſs when I propheſied, that [f] Pelatiah the ſon of Benajah died: then fell I down upon my face, and cried with a loud voice, and ſaid, Ah Lord GOD, wilt thou make a full end of the remnant of Iſrael?

f It ſeemeth that this noble man died of ſome terrible death, and therefore the Prophet feared ſome ſtrange judgment of God toward the reſt of the people.

14 Again the word of the LORD came unto me, ſaying,

15 Son of man, thy [g] brethren, even thy brethren, the men of thy kindred, and all the houſe of Iſrael wholly are they, unto whom the inhabitants of Jeruſalem have ſaid, Get ye far from the LORD: unto us is this land given in poſſeſſion.

g They that remained ſtill at Jeruſalem, thus reproached them that were gone into captivity, as though they were caſt off and forſaken of God.

16 Therefore ſay, Thus ſaid the Lord GOD, Although I have caſt them far off among the heathen, and although I have ſcattered them among the countrys, yet will I be to them as a little [h] ſanctuary in the countrys where they ſhall come.

h They ſhall be yet a little Church, ſhewing that the Lord will ever have ſome to call upon his name, whom he will preſerve and reſtore, though they be for a time afflicted.

17 Therefore ſay, Thus ſaith the Lord GOD, I will even gather you from the people, and aſſemble you out of the countrys where ye have been ſcattered, and I will give you the land of Iſrael.

18 And they ſhall come thither, and they ſhall take away all the deteſtable things thereof, and all the abominations thereof from thence.

* Jer. 32. 39. Ezek. 36. 26.

19 And * I will give them one heart, and I will put a new ſpirit within you; and I will take the [i] ſtony heart out of their fleſh, and will give them an heart of fleſh:

i Meaning, The heart whereunto nothing can enter, and regenerate them a new, ſo that their heart may be ſoft, and ready to receive my graces.

20 That they may walk in my ſtatutes, and keep mine ordinances, and do them: and they ſhall be my people, and I will be their God.

21 But as for them whoſe heart walketh after the heart of their deteſtable things, and their abominations, I will recompenſe their way upon their own heads, ſaith the Lord GOD.

22 ¶ Then did the Cherubims lift up their wings, and the wheels beſides them; and the glory of the God of Iſrael was over them above.

23 And the glory of the LORD went up from the midſt of the city, and ſtood upon the mountain, which is on the eaſt-ſide of the city.

24 ¶ Afterwards the Spirit took me up, and brought me in viſion by the Spirit of God into Chaldea, to them of the captivity: ſo the viſion that I had ſeen went up from me.

25 Then I ſpake unto them of the [k] captivity, all the things that the LORD had ſhewed me.

k When Jeconiah was led away captive.

CHAP. XII.

1 The type of Ezekiel's removing. 8 It ſheweth the captivity of Zedekiah. 17 Ezekiel's trembling ſheweth the Jews deſolation. 21 The Jews preſumptuous proverb is reproved. 26 The ſpeedineſs of the viſion.

THE word of the LORD alſo came unto me, ſaying,

2 Son of man, thou dwelleſt in the midſt of a rebellious houſe, which have eyes to ſee, and [a] ſee not; they have ears to hear, and hear not: for they are a rebellious houſe.

a That is, They receive not the fruit of that which they ſee and hear.

3 Therefore thou ſon of man, prepare thee ‡ ſtuff for removing, and remove by day in their ſight, and thou ſhalt remove from thy place to another place in their ſight; it may be they will conſider, though they be a rebellious houſe.

‡ Or, inſtruments.

4 Then ſhalt thou bring forth thy ſtuff by day in their ſight, as ſtuff for removing: and thou ſhalt go forth at even in their ſight, † as they that go forth into captivity.

† Heb. as the goings forth of captivity.

5 † Dig thou through the wall in their ſight, and carry out thereby.

† Heb. dig for thee.

6 In their ſight ſhalt thou bear it upon thy ſhoulders, and carry it forth in the twilight: thou ſhalt cover thy face that thou ſee not the ground: for I have ſet thee for a [b] ſign unto the houſe of Iſrael.

b That as thou doſt, ſo ſhall they do, and therefore in thee they ſhall ſee their own plague and puniſhment.

7 And I did ſo as I was commanded: I brought forth my ſtuff by day, as ſtuff for captivity, and in the even I † digged through the wall with mine hand, I brought it forth in the twilight, and I bare it upon my ſhoulder in their ſight.

† Heb. digged for me.

8 ¶ And in the morning came the word of the LORD unto me, ſaying, 9 Son of man, hath not the houſe of Iſrael the rebellious houſe, ſaid unto thee, [c] What doſt thou?

c Do not they deride thy doings.

10 Say thou unto them, Thus ſaith the Lord GOD, This burden concerneth the Prince Prince in Jerusalem, and all the house of Israel that are among them.

11 Say, I am your sign: like as I have done, so shall it be done unto them: † they shall remove and go into captivity.

† Heb. by removing go into captivity.

12 And the Prince that is among them shall bear upon his shoulder in the twilight, and shall go forth: they shall dig through the wall to carry out thereby: he shall cover his face that he see not the ground with his eyes.

13 My net also will I spread [d] upon him, and he shall be taken in my snare; and I will bring him to Babylon to the land of the Chaldeans, yet shall he not see it, though he shall die there.

d When the King shall think to escape by fleeing, I will take him in my net, as Chap. 17. 20. & 32. 3.

14 And I will scatter toward every wind all that are about him to help him, and all his bands, and I will draw out the sword after them.

15 And they shall know that I am the LORD, when I shall scatter them among the nations, and disperse them in the countrys.

16 But I will leave † [e] a few men of them from the sword, from the famine, and from the pestilence, that they may declare all their abominations among the heathen whither they come, and they shall know that I am the LORD.

† Heb. men of number.
e Which should bear his name, and should be his Church, Read Chap. 11. 16.

17 ¶ Moreover, the word of the LORD came to me, saying,

18 Son of man, eat thy bread with quaking, and drink thy water with trembring and with carefulness,

19 And say unto the people of the land, Thus saith the Lord GOD, of the inhabitants of Jerusalem, and of the land of Israel, They shall eat their bread with carefulness, and drink their water with astonishment, that her land may be desolate from † all that is therein, because of the violence of all them that dwell therein.

† Heb. the fulness thereof.

20 And the cities that are inhabited, shall be laid waste, and the land shall be desolate, and ye shall know that I am the LORD.

21 ¶ And the word of the LORD came unto me, saying,

22 Son of man, what is that proverb, that ye have in the land of Israel, saying, The days [f] are prolonged, and every vision faileth?

f Because they did not immediatly see the prophesies accomplished, they contemned them, as though they should never be fulfilled.

23 Tell them therefore, Thus saith the Lord GOD, I will make this proverb to cease, and they shall no more use it as a proverb in Israel: but say unto them, The days are at hand, and the effect of every vision.

24 For there shall be no more any vain vision, nor flattering divination within the house of Israel.

25 For I am the LORD: I will speak, and the word that I shall speak shall come to pass: it shall be no more prolonged: for in your days, O rebellious house, will I say the word, and will perform it, saith the Lord GOD.

26 ¶ Again the word of the LORD came to me, saying, 27 Son of man, behold, they of the house of Israel say, The vision that he seeth is * for [g] many days to come, and he prophesieth of the times that are far off.

* 2 Pet. 3. 4.
g That is, it shall not come to pass in our days, and therefore we are not for it: Thus the wicked ever abuse God's patience and benignity.

28 Therefore say unto them, Thus saith the Lord GOD, there shall none of my words be prolonged any more, but the word which I have spoken shall be done, saith the Lord GOD.

CHAP. XIII.

1 The reproof of lying Prophets, 10 and their untempered morter. 17 Of Prophetesses and their pillows.

AND the word of the LORD came unto me, saying,

2 Son of man, prophesie against the Prophets of Israel that prophesie, and say thou unto † them that prophesie out of their own * hearts, Hear ye the word of the LORD, † Heb. them that are Prophets out of their own hearts.

* Jer. 23. 16.

3 Thus saith the Lord GOD, Wo unto the foolish Prophets, that † follow [a] their own spirit, ‡ and have seen nothing.

† Heb. walk after.
a After their own fantasy, and not as having the revelation of the Lord.
‡ Or, and things which they have not seen.

4 O Israel, thy Prophets are like the foxes in the [b] deserts.

b Watching to destroy the vineyard.

5 [c] Ye have not gone up into the ‡ gaps, neither † made up the hedge for the house of Israel, to stand in the battel in the day of the LORD.

c He speaketh to the governors and true ministers that should have resisted them.
‡ Or, breaches.
† Heb. hedged the hedge.

6 They have seen vanity, and lying divination, saying, The LORD saith; and the LORD hath not sent them: and they have made others to hope that they would confirm the word.

7 Have ye not seen a vain vision, and have ye not spoken a lying divination, whereas [d] ye say, The LORD saith it, albeit I have not spoken?

d Ye promised peace to this people, and now ye see their destruction, so that it is manifest, that ye are false Prophets.

8 Therefore thus saith the Lord GOD, Because ye have spoken vanity, and seen lies, therefore behold, I am against you, saith the Lord GOD.

9 And mine hand shall be upon the Prophets that see vanity, and that divine lies: they shall not be in the ‡ assembly of my people, neither shall they be written in the [e] writing of the house of Israel, neither shall they enter into the land of Israel, and ye shall know that I am the Lord GOD.

‡ Or, secret, or, counsel.
e That is, In the Book of life, wherein the true Israelites are written.

10 ¶ Because, even because they have seduced my people, saying, [f] Peace, & there was no peace; and one built up ‡ [g] a wall, and lo, others daubed it with untempered morter:

f Jer. 6. 14.
‡ Or, a slight wall.
g Whereas the true Prophets prophesied the destruction of the city, to bring the people to repentance, the false Prophets spake the contrary, and flattered them in their vanities, so that what one false Prophet said, (which is here called the building of the wall) another false Prophet would affirm, though he had neither occasion nor good ground to bear him.

11 Say unto them which daub it with untempered morter, that it shall fall: there shall be an overflowing shower, and ye, O great hailstones, shall fall, and a stormy wind shall rent it.

12 Lo, when the wall is fallen, shall it not be said unto you, Where is the daubing wherewith ye have daubed it?

13 Therefore thus saith the Lord GOD, I will even rent it with a stormy wind in my fury: and there shall be an overflowing shower in mine anger, and great hailstones in my fury to consume it.

fall, and ye ſhall be conſumed in the midſt thereof: and ye ſhall know that I am the LORD.

15 Thus will I accompliſh my wrath upon the wall, and upon them that have daubed it with [h] untempered morter, and will ſay unto you, The wall is no more, neither they that daubed it;

16 To wit, the Prophets of Iſrael which propheſie concerning Jeruſalem, and which ſee viſions of peace for her, and there is no peace, ſaith the Lord GOD.

17 ¶ Likewiſe thou ſon of man, ſet thy face againſt the daughters of thy people, which propheſie out of their own heart; and propheſie thou againſt them,

18 And ſay, Thus ſaith the Lord GOD, Wo to the women that ſew [i] pillows to all ‡ armholes, and make kerchiefs upon the head of every ſtature to hunt ſouls: Will ye hunt the ſouls of my people, and will ye ſave the ſouls alive that come unto you?

19 And will ye pollute me among my people for handfulls of [k] barley, and for pieces of bread, to ſlay the ſouls that ſhould not die, and to [l] ſave the ſouls alive that ſhould not live, by your lying to my people that hear your lies?

20 Wherefore thus ſaith the Lord GOD, Behold, I am againſt your pillows, wherewith ye there [m] hunt the ſouls, ‡ to make them fly, and I will tear them from your arms, and will let the ſouls go, even the ſouls that ye hunt to make them fly.

21 Your kerchiefs alſo will I tear, and deliver my people out of your hand, and they ſhall be no more in your hand to be hunted, and ye ſhall know that I am the LORD.

22 Becauſe with lies ye have made the heart of the [n] righteous ſad, whom I have not made ſad; and ſtrengthned the hands of the wicked, that he ſhould not return from his wicked way, ‡† by promiſing him life:

23 Therefore ye ſhall ſee no more vanity, nor divine divinations, for I will deliver my people out of your hand, and ye ſhall know that I am the LORD.

h Whereby is meant, whatſoever man of himſelf ſetteth forth under the authority of God's word.

i Theſe ſuperſtitious women for lucre would propheſie, and tell every man his fortune, giving them pillows to lean upon, and kerchiefs to cover their heads, to the intent they might the more allure them and bewitch them.
‡ Or, elbows.
k Will ye make my word to ſerve your bellies?
l Theſe ſorcerers made the people believe that they could preſerve life, or deſtroy it, and that it ſhould come to every one according as they propheſied.
m That is, To cauſe them to periſh, and that they ſhould depart from the body.
‡ Or, into gardens.

n By threatning them that were godly, and upholding the wicked.
‡ Or, that I ſhould ſave his life.
† Heb. by quickning him.

CHAP. XIV.

1 God anſwereth idolaters according to their own heart. 6 They are exhorted to repent, for fear of judgments, by means of ſeduced Prophets. 12 God's irrevocable ſentence of famine, 15 of noiſom beaſts, 17 of the ſword, 19 and of peſtilence. 22 A remnant ſhall be reſerved for example of others.

THen came certain of the elders of Iſrael unto me, and [a] ſat before me.

2 And the word of the LORD came unto me, ſaying,

3 Son of man, theſe men have ſet up their idols in their [b] heart, and put the ſtumbling-block of their iniquity before their face: ſhould I be enquired of at all by them?

4 Therefore ſpeak unto them, and ſay unto them, Thus ſaith the Lord GOD, Every man of the houſe of Iſrael that ſetteth up his idols in his heart, and putteth the ſtumbling-block of his iniquity before his face, and cometh to the [c] Prophet, I the LORD will anſwer him that cometh, according to the multitude [d] of his idols,

5 That I may [e] take the houſe of Iſrael in their own heart, becauſe they are all eſtranged from me through their idols.

6 ¶ Therefore ſay unto the houſe of Iſrael, Thus ſaith the Lord GOD, Repent and turn ‡ your ſelves from your idols, and turn away your faces from all your abominations.

7 For every one of the houſe of Iſrael, or of the ſtranger that ſojourneth in Iſrael, which ſeparateth himſelf from me, and ſetteth up his idols in his heart, and putteth the ſtumbling-block of his iniquity before his face, and cometh to a Prophet to enquire of him concerning me; I the LORD will anſwer him by my ſelf.

8 And I will ſet my face againſt that man, and will make him * a ſign and a proverb, and I will cut him off from the midſt of my people, and ye ſhall know that I am the LORD.

9 And if the Prophet be [f] deceived when he hath ſpoken a thing, I the LORD have deceived that Prophet, and I will ſtretch out my hand upon him, and will deſtroy him from the midſt of my people Iſrael.

10 And they ſhall bear the puniſhment of their iniquity: the puniſhment of the Prophet ſhall be even as the puniſhment of him that ſeeketh unto him:

11 That the houſe of Iſrael [g] may go no more aſtray from me, neither be polluted any more with all their tranſgreſſions: but that they may be my people, and I may be their God, ſaith the Lord GOD.

12 ¶ The word of the LORD came again to me, ſaying,

13 Son of man, when the land ſinneth againſt me by treſpaſſing grievouſly, then will I ſtretch out mine hand upon it, and will break the * [h] ſtaff of the bread thereof, and will ſend famine upon it, and will cut off man and beaſt from it.

14 * Though theſe three men, [i] Noah, Daniel, and Job were in it, they ſhould deliver but their own ſouls by their [k] righteouſneſs, ſaith the Lord GOD.

15 ¶ If I cauſe noiſom beaſts to paſs through the land, and they ‡ ſpoil it, ſo that it be deſolate, that no man may paſs through becauſe of the beaſts:

16 Though theſe three men were † in it, as I live, ſaith the Lord GOD, they ſhall deliver neither ſons nor daughters; they onely ſhall be delivered, but the land ſhall be deſolate.

17 ¶ Or if I bring a ſword upon that land, and ſay, Sword, go through the land; ſo that I cut off man and beaſt from it:

18 Though theſe three men were in it, as I live, ſaith the Lord GOD, they ſhall deliver neither ſons nor daughters, but they onely ſhall be delivered themſelves.

19 ¶ Or if I ſend a peſtilence into that land, a He ſheweth the hypocriſy of the idolaters, who will diſſemble to hear the Prophets of God, though in their heart they follow nothing leſſe then their admonitions, and alſo how by one means or other, God doth diſcover them.

b They are not onely idolaters in heart, but alſo worſhip their filthy idols openly, which lead them in blindneſs, and cauſe them to ſtumble, and caſt them out of God's favour, ſo that he will not hear them when they call unto him, Read Jer. 10. 15.

c To enquire of things which the Lord hath appointed to come to paſs.
d As his abomination hath deſerved, That is, He ſhall be led with lies, according as he delighted therein, 2 Theſ. 2. 10.
e That is, Convince them by their own conſcience.
‡ Or, others.

* Deut. 28. 37. Chap. 5. 15.

f The Prophet declareth, That God, for man's ingratitude, raiſeth up falſe Prophets to ſeduce them that delight in lies, rather then in the truth of God, and thus he puniſheth ſin by ſin, 1 King. 22. 20, 22, 23, and deſtroyeth as well thoſe Prophets as that people.

g Thus God's judgments againſt the wicked, are admonitions to the godly, to cleave unto the Lord, and not to defile themſelves with like abominations.

* Lev. 26. 26. h Chap. 4. 16. & 5. 16. Iſa. 3. 1.

* Jer. 15. 1.
i Though Noah and Job were now alive, which in their time were moſt godly men (for at this time Daniel was in captivity with Ezekiel) and ſo theſe three together ſhould pray for this wicked people, yet would I not hear them.
k Meaning, That a very few (which he calleth the remnant, verſ. 22.) ſhould eſcape theſe plagues, whom God hath ſanctified and made righteous, ſo that this righteouſneſs is a ſign that they are the Church of God, whom he would preſerve for his own ſake.
‡ Or, bereave.
† Heb. in the midſt of it.

land, and pour out my fury upon it in bloud, to cut off from it man and beast:

20 Though Noah, Daniel, and Job were in it, as I live, saith the Lord GOD, they shall deliver neither son nor daughter; they shall but deliver their own souls by their righteousness.

‡ Or, also when.

21 For thus saith the Lord GOD, ‡ How much more when I send my four sore judgments upon Jerusalem, the sword, and the famine, and the noisom beast, and the pestilence, to cut off from it man and beast?

1 Chap. 5. 3.

22 ¶ Yet behold, therein shall be left a [1] remnant that shall be brought forth, both sons and daughters: behold, they shall come forth unto you, and ye shall see their way, and their doings: and ye shall be comforted concerning the evil that I have brought upon Jerusalem, even concerning all that I have brought upon it.

23 And they shall comfort you when ye see their ways and their doings: and ye shall know that I have not done without cause, all that I have done in it, saith the Lord GOD.

CHAP. XV.

3 By the unfitness of the vine-branch for any work, 6 is shewed the rejection of Jerusalem.

AND the word of the LORD came unto me, saying,

2 Son of man, What is the vine-tree more then any tree, or then a branch which is among the [a] trees of the forest?

a Which bringeth forth no fruit, no more then the other trees of the forest do: Meaning, That if Jerusalem, which bare the name of his Church, did not bring forth fruit, it should be utterly destroyed.

3 Shall wood be taken thereof to do any work? or will men take a pin of it to hang any vessel thereon?

4 Behold, it is cast into the fire for fuel; the fire devoureth both the ends of it, and the midst of it is burnt: † is it meet for any work?

† Heb. will it prosper.

5 Behold, when it was whole it was † meet for no work: how much less shall it be meet yet for any work when the fire hath devoured it, and it is burned?

† Heb. made fit.

6 ¶ Therefore thus saith the Lord GOD, As the vine-tree among the trees of the forest, which I have given to the fire for fuel, so will I give the inhabitants of Jerusalem.

7 And I will set my face against them, they shall go out from one fire, and another [b] fire shall devour them: and ye shall know that I am the LORD, when I set my face against them.

b Though they escape one danger, yet another shall take them.

8 And I will make the land desolate, because they have † committed a trespass, saith the Lord GOD.

† Heb. trespassed a trespass.

CHAP. XVI.

1 Under the similitude of a wretched infant, is shewed the natural state of Jerusalem. 6 God's extraordinary love towards her. 15 Her monstrous whoredom. 35 Her grievous judgment. 44 Her sin, matching her mother, and exceeding her sisters Sodom and Samaria, calleth for judgments. 60 Mercy is promised her in the end.

AGAIN the word of the LORD came unto me, saying,

2 Son of man, cause Jerusalem to know her abominations,

3 And say, Thus saith the Lord GOD unto Jerusalem, Thy † birth, and thy nativity is of the land of [a] Canaan, thy father was an Amorite, and thy mother an Hittite.

† Heb. cutting out, or, habitation.

4 And as for thy nativity in the day thou wast [b] born, thy navel was not cut, neither wast thou washed in water ‡ to supple thee: thou wast not salted at all, nor swadled at all.

5 None eye pitied thee, to do any of these unto thee, to have compassion upon thee; but thou wast cast out in the open field, to the lothing of my person, in the day that thou wast born.

6 ¶ And when I passed by thee, and saw thee ‡ polluted in thine [c] own bloud, I said unto thee when thou wast in thy bloud, Live: yea, I said unto thee when thou wast in thy bloud, Live.

7 I have † caused thee to multiply as the bud of the field, and thou hast increased and waxen great, and thou art come to † excellent ornaments: thy breasts are fashioned, and thine hair is grown, whereas thou wast naked and bare.

8 Now when I passed by thee, and looked upon thee, behold, thy time was the time of love, and I spread my skirt over thee, and covered thy [d] nakedness: yea, I sware unto thee, and entred into a covenant with [e] thee, saith the Lord GOD, and thou becamest mine.

9 Then washed I thee with [f] water: yea, I throughly washed away thy † bloud from thee, and I [g] anointed thee with oyl.

10 I clothed thee also with broidered work, and shod thee with badgers skin, and I girded thee about with fine linen, and I covered thee with silk.

11 I decked thee also with ornaments, and put bracelets upon thine hands, and a chain on thy neck.

12 And I put a jewel on thy forehead, and ear-rings in thine ears, and a beautiful [h] crown upon thine head.

13 Thus wast thou decked with gold and silver, and thy raiment was of fine linen, and silk, and broidered work; thou didst eat fine flour, and hony, and oyl: and thou wast exceeding beautiful, and thou didst prosper into a kingdom.

14 And thy renown went forth among the heathen for thy beauty: for it was perfect through my [i] comeliness which I had put upon thee, saith the Lord GOD.

15 ¶ But thou didst [k] trust in thine own beauty, and playedst the harlot because of thy renown, and pouredst out thy [l] fornications on every one that passed by; his it was.

16 And of thy garments thou didst take, and deckedst thy high places with divers colours, and [m] playedst the harlot thereupon: the like things shall not come, neither shall it be so.

17 Thou hast also taken thy fair jewels of my gold and of my silver, which I had given thee, and [n] madest to thy self images † of men, and didst commit whordom with them.

18 And tookest thy broidred garments, and coveredst them: and thou hast set mine oyl and mine incense before them.

a Thou boastest to be of the seed of Abraham, but thou art degenerate and followest the abominations of the wicked Canaanites, as children do the manners of their fathers, Isa. 1. 4. & 57. 3.

23 And it came to paſs after all thy wickedneſs (wo, wo unto thee, ſaith the Lord GOD)

24 That thou haſt alſo built unto thee an ‡ eminent place, and haſt made thee an high place in every ſtreet.

‡ Or, brothel-houſe.

25 Thou haſt built thy high place at every head of the way, and haſt made thy beauty to be abhorred, and haſt opened thy feet to every one that paſſed by, and multiplied thy whordoms.

26 Thou haſt alſo committed fornication with the [p] Egyptians thy neighbours, great of fleſh, and haſt increaſed thy whordoms, to provoke me to anger.

p He noteth the great impiety of this people, who firſt falling from God to ſeek help at ſtrange nations, did alſo ad length imbrace their idolatry, thinking thereby to make their amity more ſtrong.

27 Behold therefore, I have ſtretched out my hand over thee, and have diminiſhed thine ordinary food, and delivered thee unto the will of them that hate thee, the ‡ daughters of the Philiſtines, which are aſhamed of thy lewd way.

‡ Or, cities.

29 Thou haſt moreover multiplied thy fornication in the land of Canaan unto Chaldea, and yet thou waſt not ſatisfied herewith.

30 How weak is thine heart, ſaith the Lord GOD, ſeeing thou doſt all theſe things, the work of an imperious whoriſh woman?

34 And the contrary is in thee from other women in thy whordoms, whereas none followeth thee to commit whordoms: and in that thou giveſt a reward, and no reward is given unto thee; therefore thou art contrary.

35 ¶ Wherefore, O harlot, hear the word of the LORD.

36 Thus ſaith the Lord GOD, Becauſe thy filthineſs was poured out, and thy nakedneſs diſcovered through thy whordoms with thy lovers, and with all the idols of thy abominations, and by the bloud of thy children, which thou didſt give unto them;

37 Behold therefore, I will gather all thy [r] lovers, with whom thou haſt taken pleaſure, and all them that thou haſt loved, with all them that thou haſt hated: I will even gather them round about againſt thee, and will diſcover thy nakedneſs unto them, that they may ſee all thy nakedneſs.

43 Becauſe thou haſt not remembred the days of thy youth, but haſt fretted me in all theſe things; behold therefore, I alſoo will [u] recompenſe thy way upon thine head, ſaith the Lord GOD, and thou ſhalt not commit this lewdneſs, above all thine abominations.

u I have puniſhed thy faults, but thou wouldeſt not repent.

44 ¶ Behold, every one that uſeth proverbs, ſhall uſe this proverb againſt thee, ſaying, As is the mother, [x] ſo is her daughter.

x As were the Canaanites, and the Hittites, & others your predeceſſors, ſo are you their ſucceſſors.

45 Thou art thy mother's [y] daughter, that lotheth her huſband and her children, and thou art the ſiſter of thy [z] ſiſters, which lothed their huſbands, and their children: your mother was an Hittite, and your father an Amorite.

y That is, Of Samaria and Sodom.

† Heb. leſſer than thou.

47 Yet haſt thou [a] not walked after their ways, nor done after their abominations; but ‡ as if that were a very little thing, thou waſt corrupted more then they in all thy ways.

a But done far worſe.
‡ Or, that was loathed as a ſmall thing.

48 As I live, ſaith the Lord GOD, Sodom thy ſiſter hath not done, ſhe nor her daughters, as thou hath done, thy and thy daughters.

49 Behold, this was the iniquity of thy ſiſter Sodom, [b] Pride, fulneſs of bread, and abundance of idleneſs was in her and in her daughters, neither, did ſhe ſtrengthen the hand of the poor and needy.

b He alleadgeth theſe four vices, pride, exceſs, idleneſs, and contempt of the poor, as four principal cauſes of ſuch abomination, wherefore they were ſo horribly puniſhed, Gen. 19. 24.

50 And they were haughty, and committed abomi-abomination before me: therefore * I took them away as I ſaw good.

51 Neither hath [c] Samaria committed half of thy ſins; but thou haſt multiplied thine abominations more then they, and haſt [d] juſtified thy ſiſters in all thine abominations which thou haſt done.

52 Thou alſo which haſt judged thy ſiſters, bear thine own ſhame for thy ſins that thou haſt committed more abominable then they: they are more righteous then thou: yea, be thou confounded alſo, and bear thy ſhame, in that thou haſt juſtified thy ſiſters.

53 When I ſhall bring again their [e] captivity, the captivity of Sodom and her daughters, and the captivity of Samaria and her daughters, then will I bring again the captivity of thy captives in the midſt of them:

54 That thou mayeſt bear thine own ſhame, and mayſt be confounded in all that thou haſt done, in that thou art a [f] comfort unto them.

55 When thy ſiſters, Sodom and her daughters, ſhall return to their former eſtate, and Samaria and her daughters, ſhall return to their former eſtate, [g] then thou and thy daughters ſhall return to your former eſtate.

56 For thy ſiſter Sodom was not † mentioned by [h] thy mouth in the day of thy † pride:

57 Before thy wickedneſs was [i] diſcovered, as at the time of thy reproach of the daughters of † Syria, and all that are round about [k] her, the daughters of the Philiſtines which ‡ deſpiſe thee round about.

58 Thou haſt † born thy lewdneſs, and thine abominations, ſaith the LORD.

59 For thus ſaith the Lord GOD, I will even deal with thee as thou haſt done, which haſt deſpiſed the [l] oath in breaking the covenant.

60 ¶ Nevertheleſs, I will [m] remember my covenant with thee in the days of thy youth, and I will eſtabliſh unto thee an everlaſting covenant.

61 Then thou ſhalt remember thy ways, and be aſhamed, when thou ſhalt receive thy [n] ſiſters, thine elder and thy younger: and I will give them unto thee for * daughters, [o] but not by the covenant.

62 And I will eſtabliſh my covenant with thee, and thou ſhalt know that I am the LORD:

63 That thou mayeſt remember and be [p] confounded, and never open thy mouth any more becauſe of thy ſhame, when I am pacified toward thee, for all that thou haſt done, ſaith the Lord GOD.

CHAP. XVII.

1 Under the parable of two eagles and a vine, 11 is ſhewed God's judgment upon Jeruſalem for revolting from Babylon to Egypt. 22 God promiſeth to plant the cedar of the Goſpel.

AND the word of the LORD came unto me, ſaying,

2 Son of man, put forth a riddle, and ſpeak a parable unto the houſe of Iſrael;

3 And ſay, Thus ſaith the Lord God, A great [a] eagle with great wings, long-winged, full of feathers, which had † divers colours, came unto Lebanon, and took the higheſt branch of the cedar:

4 He cropt off the top of his young twigs, and carried it into a land of [b] traffik; he ſet it in a city of merchants.

5 He took alſo of the [c] ſeed of the land, and † planted it in a fruitful field, he placed it by great waters, and ſet it as a willow-tree.

6 And it grew, and became [d] a ſpreading vine of [e] low ſtature, whoſe branches turned toward him, and the roots thereof were under him: ſo it became vine, and brought forth branches, and ſhot forth ſprigs.

7 There was alſo another [f] great eagle with great wings and many feathers; and behold, this vine did bend her roots towards him, and ſhot forth her branches toward him, that he might water it by the furrows of her plantation.

8 It was planted in a good † ſoil by great [g] waters, that it might bring forth branches, and that it might bear fruit, that it might be a goodly vine.

9 Say thou, Thus ſaith the Lord GOD, Shall it proſper? ſhall [h] he not pull up the roots thereof, and cut off the fruit thereof, that it wither? it ſhall wither in all the leaves of her ſpring, even without great power, or many people to pluck it up by the roots thereof.

10 Yea, behold, being planted, ſhall it proſper? ſhall it not utterly wither, [i] when the eaſt-wind toucheth it? it ſhall wither in the furrows where it grew.

11 ¶ Moreover, the word of the LORD came unto me, ſaying,

12 Say now to the rebellious houſe, Know ye not what theſe things mean? tell them, Behold, the King of Babylon is come to Jeruſalem, and hath [k] taken the King thereof, and the Princes thereof, and led them with him to Babylon;

13 And hath taken of the King's ſeed, and made a covenant with him, and hath † taken an [l] oath of him: he hath alſo taken the mighty of the land:

14 That the kingdom might be baſe, that it might not lift it ſelf up, † but that by keeping of his covenant it might ſtand.

15 But he rebelled againſt him in ſending his ambaſſadours into Egypt, that they might give him horſes and much people: ſhall he proſper? ſhall he eſcape that doth ſuch things? or ſhall he break the covenant, and be delivered?

16 As I live, ſaith the Lord GOD, ſurely in the place where the King dwelleth that made him King, whoſe oath he deſpiſed, and whoſe covenant he brake, even with him, in the midſt of Babylon he ſhall die.

CHAP. XVIII.

1 God reproveth the injust parable of sour grapes.
5 He sheweth how he dealeth with a just father, 10 with a wicked son of a just father, 14 with a just son of a wicked father, 19 with a wicked man repenting, 24 with a just man revolting.
25 He defendeth his justice, 31 and exhorteth to repentance.

THE word of the LORD came unto me again, saying,

2 What mean ye, that ye use this proverb concerning the land of Israel, saying, [a] The fathers have eaten sour grapes, and the children's teeth are set on edge?

3 As I live, saith the Lord GOD, ye shall not have occasion any more to use this proverb in Israel.

4 Behold, all souls are mine, as the soul of the father, so also the soul of the son is mine: the soul that sinneth, it shall die.

5 ¶ But if a man be just, and do † that which is lawful and right.

11 And that doth not any of those duties, but even hath eaten upon the mountains, and defiled his neighbour's wife,

12 Hath oppressed the poor and needy, hath spoiled by violence, hath not restored the pledge, and hath lift up his eyes to the idols, hath committed abomination,

13 Hath given forth upon usury, and hath taken increase: shall he then live? he shall not live: he hath done all these abominations, [c] he shall surely die, his † blood shall be upon him.

14 ¶ Now lo, if he beget a son that seeth all his father's sins which he hath done, and considereth, and doth not such like,

15 That hath not eaten upon the mountains, neither hath lift up his eyes to the idols of the house of Israel, hath not defiled his neighbour's wife,

17 That hath taken off his hand from the poor, that hath not received usury nor increase, hath executed my judgments, hath walked in my statutes; he shall not die for the iniquity of his father, he shall surely live.

18 As for his father, because he cruelly oppressed, spoiled his brother by violence, and did that which is not good among his people, lo, even he shall die in his iniquity.

19 ¶ Yet say ye, Why? doth not the son bear the iniquity of the father? when the son hath done that which is lawful and right, and hath kept all my statutes, and hath done them, he shall surely live.

20 The soul that sinneth, it shall die: * the son shall not bear the iniquity of the father, neither shall the father bear the iniquity of the son; the righteousness of the righteous shall be upon him, and the wickedness of the wicked shall be upon him.

1 A lamentation for the Princes of Iſrael, under the parable of lions whelps taken in a pit; 10 and for Jeruſalem, under the parable of a waſted vine.

MOreover, take thou up a lamentation for the [a] Princes of Iſrael,

2 And ſay, What is thy [b] mother? a lioneſs: ſhe lay down among lions, ſhe nouriſhed her whelps among young lions.

3 And ſhe brought up one of her welps: it became a young lion, and it learned to catch the prey, it devoured men.

4 The [c] nations alſo heard of him, he was taken in their pit, and they brought him with chains unto the land of Egypt.

5 Now when ſhe ſaw that ſhe had waited and her hope was loſt, then ſhe took another of her [d] whelps, and made him a young lion.

6 And he went up and down among the lions, he became a young lion and learned to catch the prey, and devoured [e] men.

7 And he knew ‡ their deſolate places, and he laid waſte their cities, and the land was deſolate, and the fulneſs thereof by the noiſe of his roaring.

8 Then the [f] nations ſet againſt him on every ſide from the provinces, and ſpread their net over him: he was taken in their pit.

9 And they put him in ward ‡ in chains, and brought him to the King of Babylon; they brought him into holds, that his voice ſhould no more be heard upon the mountains of Iſrael.

10 ¶ Thy [g] mother is like a vine ‡ in thy bloud, planted by the waters, ſhe was fruitful & full of branches by reaſon of many waters.

11 And ſhe had ſtrong rods for the ſceptres of them that bear rule, and her ſtature was exalted among the thick branches, and ſhe appeared in her height with the multitude of her branches.

12 But ſhe was plucked up in fury, ſhe was caſt down to the ground, and the *[h] eaſt-wind dried up her fruit: her ſtrong rods were broken and withered, the fire conſumed them.

13 And now ſhe is planted in the wilderneſs, in a dry and thirſty ground.

14 And fire is gone out of [i] a rod of her branches, which hath devoured her fruit, ſo that ſhe hath no ſtrong rod to be a ſceptre to rule: This is a lamentation, and ſhall be for a lamentation.

CHAP. XX.

1 God refuſeth to be conſulted by the elders of Iſrael. 5 He ſheweth the ſtory of their rebellions in Egypt; 10 in the wilderneſs, 27 and in the land. 33 He promiſeth to gather them by the goſpel. 45 Under the name of a foreſt he ſheweth the deſtruction of Jeruſalem.

cast away the abominations of [e] their eyes, neither did they forsake the idols of Egypt: then I said, I will pour out my fury upon them, to accomplish my anger against them in the midst of the land of Egypt.

9 But I wrought for my [f] name's sake, that it should not be polluted before the heathen, among whom they were, in whose sight I made my self known unto them, in bringing them forth out of the land of Egypt.

10 ¶ Wherefore I * caused them to go forth out of the land of Egypt, and brought them into the wilderness.

11 And I gave them my statutes, & † shewed them my judgments, * which if a man do, he shall even live in them.

12 Moreover also, I gave them my * sabbaths, to be a sign between me and them, that they might know that I am the LORD that sanctify them.

13 But the house of Israel rebelled against me in the wilderness: they walked not in my statutes, and they despised my judgments, which if a man do, he shall even live in them; and my sabbaths they greatly * polluted: then I said I would pour out my fury upon them in the * wilderness to consume them.

14 But I wrought for my name's sake, that it should not be polluted before the [g] heathen, in whose sight I brought them out.

15 Yet also I lifted up my hand unto them in the wilderness, that I would not bring them into the land which I had given them, flowing with milk and hony, which is the glory of all lands:

16 Because they despised my judgments, and walked not in my statutes, but polluted my [h] sabbaths: for their heart went after their idols.

17 Nevertheless, mine eye spared them from destroying them, neither did I make an end of them in the wilderness.

18 But I said unto their children in the wilderness, Walk ye not in the statutes of your [i] fathers, neither observe their judgments, nor defile your selves with their idols.

19 I am the LORD your God; walk in my statutes, and keep my judgments and do them:

20 And hallow my sabbaths; and they shall be a sign between me and you, that ye may know that I am the LORD your God.

21 Notwithstanding the children rebelled against me: they walked not in my statutes, neither kept my judgments to do them, which if a man do, he shall even live in them; they polluted my sabbaths: then I said I would pour out my fury upon them, to accomplish my anger against them in the wilderness.

22 Nevertheless I withdrew mine hand, and wrought for my name's sake, that it should not be polluted in the sight of the heathen, in whose sight I brought them forth.

23 I lifted up mine hand unto them also in the wilderness, that I would scatter them among the heathen, and disperse them through the countrys;

24 Because they had not executed my judgments, but had despised my statutes, and had polluted my sabbaths, and their eyes were after [k] their fathers idols.

25 Wherefore [l] I gave them also statutes that were not good, and judgments whereby they should not live.

26 And I polluted them in their own [m] gifts, in that they caused to pass * through the fire all that openeth the womb, that I might make them desolate, to the end, that they might know that I am the LORD.

27 ¶ Therefore son of man, speak unto the house of Israel, and say unto them, Thus saith the Lord GOD, Yet in this your fathers have blasphemed me, in that they have † committed a trespass against me.

28 [n] For when I had brought them into the land, for the which I lifted up mine hand to give it to them, then they saw every high hill, and all the thick trees, and they offered there their sacrifices, and there they presented the provocation of their offering: there also they made their sweet savour, and poured out there their drink-offerings.

29 Then ‡ I said unto them, What is the high place whereunto ye go? and the name thereof is called [o] Bamah unto this day.

30 Wherefore say unto the house of Israel, Thus saith the Lord GOD, Are ye polluted after the manner of your fathers? and commit ye whoredom after their abominations?

31 For when ye offer your gifts, when ye make your sons to pass through the fire, ye pollute your selves with all your idols even unto this day: and shall I be enquired of by you, O house of Israel? As I live, saith the Lord GOD, [p] I will not be enquired of by you.

32 And that which cometh into your mind, shall not be at all, that ye say, We will be as the heathen, as the families of the countrys, to serve wood and [q] stone.

33 ¶ As I live, saith the Lord GOD, surely with a mighty hand, and with a stretched out arm, and with fury poured out, will I rule over you.

34 And I will bring you out from the people, and will gather you out of the countrys wherein ye are scattered, with a mighty hand, and with a stretched out arm, and with fury poured out.

35 And I will bring you into the [r] wilderness of the people, and there will I plead with you face to face.

36 Like as I pleaded with your fathers in the wilderness of the land of Egypt, so will I plead with you, saith the Lord GOD.

37 And I will cause you to pass under the rod, and I will bring you into ‡ the bond of the covenant.

38 And I will [s] purge out from among you the rebels, and them that transgress against me: I will bring them forth out of the country where

CHAP. XXI.

1 Ezekiel propheſieth againſt Jeruſalem with a ſign of ſighing. 8 The ſharp and bright ſword. 18 againſt Jeruſalem, 25 againſt the kingdom, 28 and againſt the Ammonites.

AND the word of the LORD came unto me, ſaying,

2 Son of man, ſet thy face toward Jeruſalem, and [a] drop thy word toward the holy places, and propheſie againſt the land of Iſrael,

3 And ſay to the land of Iſrael, Thus ſaith the LORD, Behold, I am againſt thee, and will draw forth my ſword out of his ſheath, & will cut off from thee [b] the righteous & the wicked.

4 Seeing then that I will cut off from thee the righteous and the wicked, therefore ſhall my ſword go forth out of his ſheath againſt all fleſh from the ſouth to the [c] north:

5 That all fleſh may know that I the LORD have drawn forth my ſword out of his ſheath: it ſhall not return any more.

6 [d] Sigh therefore, thou ſon of man, with the breaking of thy loyns; and with bitterneſs ſigh before their eyes.

7 And it ſhall be, when they ſay unto thee, Wherefore ſigheſt thou? that thou ſhalt anſwer, For the [e] tidings, becauſe it cometh: and every heart ſhall melt, and all hands ſhall be feeble, and every ſpirit ſhall faint, and all knees † ſhall be weak as water: behold, it cometh, and ſhall be brought to paſs, ſaith the Lord GOD.

8 ¶ Again, the word of the LORD came unto me, ſaying,

9 Son of man, propheſie and ſay, Thus ſaith the LORD, Say, A ſword, a ſword is ſharpned, and alſo furbiſhed.

11 And he hath given it to be furbiſhed, that it may be handled: the ſword is ſharpned, and it is furbiſhed to give it into the hand of the [i] ſlayer.

13 ‡ Becauſe it is a trial, [l] and what if the ſword contemn even the rod? it ſhall be no more, ſaith the Lord God.

14 Thou therefore, ſon of man, propheſie, and [m] ſmite thine † hands together, and let the ſword be doubled the third time, the ſword of the ſlain, it is the ſword of the great men that are ſlain, which entreth into their privy chambers.

17 I will alſo ſmite mine hands together, and I will cauſe my fury to reſt: I the LORD have ſaid it.

18 ¶ The word of the LORD came unto me again, ſaying,

19 Alſo thou ſon of man, appoint thee [o] two ways, that the ſword of the King of Babylon may come: both twain ſhall come forth out of one land, and chooſe thou a place, chooſe it at the head of the way to the city.

23 ¶ And the word of the LORD came unto me, saying,

24 Son of man, say unto her, Thou art the land that is not cleansed, nor [m] rained upon in the day of indignation.

25 There is a [n] conspiracy of her Prophets in the midst thereof like a roaring lion ravening the prey: they * have devoured souls: they have taken the treasure and precious things: they have made her many widows in the midst thereof.

27 Her * Princes in the midst thereof are like wolves ravening the prey, to shed blood, and to destroy souls, to get dishonest gain.

29 And her [p] Prophets have daubed them with untempered morter, seeing vanity, & divining lies unto them, saying, Thus saith the Lord GOD, when the LORD hath not spoken.

29 The people of the land have used † oppression, and exercised robbery, and have vexed the poor and needy: yea, they have oppressed the stranger † wrongfully.

30 And I sought for a man among them, that should make up the [q] hedge, and stand in the gap before me for the land that I should not destroy it: but I found none.

31 Therefore have I poured out mine indignation upon them, I have consumed them with the fire of my wrath: their own way have I recompensed upon their heads, saith the Lord GOD.

CHAP. XXIII.

3 The whordoms of Aholah and Aholibah. 22 Aholibah is to be plagued by her lovers. 36 The Prophet reproveth the adulteries of them both, 45 and sheweth their judgments.

THE word of the LORD came again unto me, saying,

2 Son of man, there were two women the daughters of one [a] mother.

3 And they committed whordoms in [b] Egypt, they committed whordoms in their youth: there were their breasts pressed, and there they bruised the teats of their virginity.

4 And the names of [c] them were, Aholah the elder, and Aholibah her sister: and they were mine, and they bare sons and daughters: thus were their names, Samaria is Aholah: and Jerusalem Aholibah.

5 And Aholah played the harlot when [d] she was mine, and she doted on her lovers, on the Assyrians her neighbours,

6 Which were clothed with blue, captains and rulers, all of them desireable young men, hors-men riding upon horses.

7 Thus she † committed her whordoms with them, with all them that were † the chosen men of Assyria, and with all on whom she doted, with all their idols she defiled her self.

8 Neither left she her whordoms brought from Egypt: for in her youth they [e] lay with her, and they bruised the breasts of her virginity, and poured their whordom upon her.

9 Wherefore I have delivered her into the hand of her lovers, into the hand of the * Assyrians, upon whom she doted.

10 These discovered her nakedness, they took her sons and her daughters, and slew her with the sword: and she became † famous among women, for [f] they had executed judgment upon her.

11 And when her sister Aholibah saw this, † she was more corrupt in her inordinate love then she, and in her whordoms † more then her sister in her whordoms.

12 She doted upon the * Assyrians her neighbours, captains and rulers clothed most gorgeously, hors-men riding upon horses, all of them desireable young men.

13 Then I saw that she was defiled, that they took both one way,

14 And that she increased her whordoms: for when she saw men [g] pourtrayed upon the wall, the images of the Chaldeans pourtrayed with vermilion,

15 Girded with girdles upon their loyns, exceeding in dyed attire upon their heads, all of them Princes to look to, after the manner of the Babylonians of Chaldea, the land of their nativity:

16 And † assoon as she saw them with her eyes, she doted upon them, and sent messengers unto them into Chaldea.

17 And the † Babylonians came to her into the bed of love, and they defiled her with their whordom, and she was polluted with them, and her mind was † alienated from them.

18 So she discovered her whordoms, and discovered her nakedness: then my mind was alienated from her, like as my mind was alienated from her sister.

19 Yet she multiplied her whordoms, in calling to remembrance the days of her youth, wherein she had played the harlot in the land of Egypt.

20 For she doted upon their paramours, whose flesh is as the flesh of asses, and whose issue is like the issue of horses.

21 Thus thou calledst to remembrance the lewdness of thy youth, in bruising thy teats by the Egyptians, for the paps of thy youth.

22 ¶ Therefore, O Aholibah, thus saith the Lord GOD, Behold, I will raise up thy lovers against thee, from whom thy mind is alienated, and I will bring them against thee on every side;

24 And they shall come against thee with chariots, wagons, and wheels, and with an assembly of people which shall set against thee buckler, and shield, and helmet round about: and I will set judgment before them, and they shall judge thee according to their judgments.

25 And I will set my jealousy against thee, and they shall deal furiously with thee: they [i] shall take away thy nose, and thine ears, and thy remnant shall fall by the sword: they shall take thy sons and thy daughters, and thy residue shall be devoured by the fire.

26 They shall also strip thee out of thy clothes, and take away thy † fair jewels.

27 Thus will I make thy lewdness to cease from thee, and thy whordom brought from the land of Egypt: so that thou shalt not lift up thine eyes unto them, nor remember Egypt any more.

28 For thus saith the Lord GOD, Behold, I will deliver thee into the hand of them whom thou hatest, into the hand of them from whom thy mind is alienated.

29 And they shall deal with thee hatefully, and shall take away all thy [k] labour, and shall leave thee naked and bare, and the nakedness of thy whordoms shall be [l] discovered, both thy lewdness and thy whordoms.

30 I will do these things unto thee, because thou hast gone a whoring after the heathen, and because thou art polluted with their idols.

31 Thou hast walked in the way of thy sister, therefore will I give her [m] cup into thine hand.

32 Thus saith the Lord GOD, Thou shalt drink of thy sister's cup deep and large: thou shalt be laughed to scorn and had in derision; it containeth much.

33 Thou shalt be filled with [n] drunkenness and sorrow, with the cup of astonishment and desolation, with the cup of thy sister Samaria.

34 Thou shalt even drink it and suck it out, and thou shalt break the sherds thereof, and pluck off thine own breasts: for I have spoken it, saith the Lord GOD.

35 Therefore thus saith the Lord GOD, Because thou hast forgotten me, and cast me behind thy back, therefore bear thou also thy lewdness, and thy whordoms.

36 ¶ The LORD said moreover unto me, Son of man, wilt thou * ‡ judge Aholah and Abolibah? yea, declare unto them their abominations;

37 That they have committed adultery, and blood is in their hands, and with their idols have they committed adultery, and have also caused their sons whom they bare unto me, to [o] pass for them through the fire to devour them.

38 Moreover, this they have done unto me: they have defiled my sanctuary in the same day, and have profaned my Sabbaths.

39 For when they had slain their children to their idols, then they came the same day into my sanctuary to profane it; and lo, * thus have they done in the midst of mine house.

40 And furthermore, that ye have sent for men † to come from [p] far, unto whom a messenger was sent, and lo, they came, for whom thou didst wash thy self, paintedst thy eyes, and deckedst thy self with ornaments,

41 And satest upon a † stately bed, and a [q] table prepared before it, * whereupon thou hast set mine incense and mine oyl.

42 And a voice of a multitude being at ease was with her, and with the men † of the common sort were brought ‡ [r] Sabeans from the wilderness, which put bracelets upon their hands, and beautiful crowns upon their heads.

43 Then said I unto her that was old in adulteries, Will they now commit † whordoms with her, and she with them?

44 Yet they went in unto her, as they go in unto a woman that playeth the harlot: so went they in unto Aholah and unto Aholibah the lewd women.

45 ¶ And the righteous men, they shall * judge them after the manner of [s] adulteresses, and after the manner of women that shed blood; because they are adulteresses, and blood is in their hands.

46 For thus saith the Lord GOD, I will bring up a company upon them, and will give them † to be removed and spoiled.

47 And the company shall stone them with stones, and ‡ dispatch them with their swords; they shall slay their sons and their daughters, and burn up their houses with fire.

48 Thus will I cause lewdness to cease out of the land, that all [t] women may be taught not to do after your lewdness.

49 And they shall recompense your lewdness upon you, and ye shall bear the sins of your idols: and ye shall know that I am the Lord GOD.

7 For her bloud is in the midst of her; she set it upon the top of a [i] rock, she poured it not upon the ground to cover it with dust:

8 That it might cause fury to come up to take vengeance: I have set her bloud upon the top of a rock, that it should not be covered.

9 Therefore thus saith the Lord GOD, * Wo to the bloudy city, I will even make the pile for fire great.

10 Heap on wood, [k] kindle the fire, consume the flesh, and spice it well, and let the bones be burnt.

11 Then set it empty upon the coals thereof, that the brass of it may be hot, and may burn, and that the filthiness of it may be molten in it, that the scum of it may be consumed.

12 [l] She hath wearied her self with lies, and her great scum went not forth out of her: her scum shall be in the fire.

13 In thy filthiness is lewdness: because I [m] have purged thee, and thou wast not purged, thou shalt not be purged from thy filthiness any more, till I have caused my fury to rest upon thee.

14 I the LORD have spoken it, it shall come to pass, and I will do it, I will not go back, neither will I spare, neither will I repent; according to thy ways, and according to thy doings shall they [n] judge thee, saith the Lord GOD.

15 ¶ Also the word of the LORD came unto me, saying,

16 Son of man, behold, I take away from thee the [o] desire of thine eyes with a stroke: yet neither shalt thou mourn nor weep, neither shall thy tears † run down.

17 † Forbear to cry, make no mourning for the dead, bind the tire of thine head upon thee, and [p] put on thy shoes upon thy feet, and cover not thy † lips, and [q] eat not the bread of men.

19 ¶ And the people said unto me, Wilt thou not tell us what these things are to us, that thou doest so?

20 Then I answered them, The word of the LORD came unto me, saying, 21 Speak unto the house of Israel, Thus saith the Lord GOD, Behold, I will [s] profane my sanctuary, the [t] excellency of your strength, the desire of your eyes, and † that which your soul pitieth; and your sons and your daughters whom ye have left shall fall by the sword.

22 And ye shall do as I have done: ye shall not cover your lips, nor eat the bread of men.

23 And your tires shall be upon your heads, and your shoes upon your feet: ye shall not mourn nor weep; but ye shall pine away for your iniquities, and mourn one towards another.

24 Thus Ezekiel is unto you a sign: according to all that he hath done shall ye do: and when this cometh, ye shall know that I am the Lord GOD.

25 Also thou son of man, shall it not be in the day when I take from them their strength, the joy of their glory, the desire of their eyes, and † that whereupon they set their minds, their sons and their daughters;

CHAP. XXV.

1 God's vengeance for their insolency against the Jews, upon the Ammonites, 8 upon Moab, and Seir, 12 upon Edom, 15 and upon the Philistines.

CHAP. XXVI.

1 Tyrus for inſulting againſt Jeruſalem, is threatned.
7 The power of Nebuchadrezzar againſt her.
15 The mourning and aſtoniſhment of the Sea, at her fall.

AND it came to paſs in the [a] eleventh year, in the firſt day of the month, that the word of the LORD came unto me, ſaying, a Either of the captivity of Jeconiah, or of the reign of Zedekiah.

2 Son of man, becauſe that Tyrus hath ſaid againſt Jeruſalem, Aha, ſhe is broken that was the [b] gates of the people: ſhe is turned unto me, I ſhall be [c] repleniſhed, now ſhe is laid waſte:

b That is, The famous city Jeruſalem, whereunto all people reſorted.

c My riches and fame ſhall increaſe: thus the wicked rejoyce at their fall by whom they may have any profit or advantage.

3 Therefore thus ſaith the Lord GOD, Behold, I am againſt thee, O Tyrus, and will cauſe many nations to come up againſt thee, as the ſea cauſeth his waves to come up.

4 And they ſhall deſtroy the walls of Tyrus, and break down her towers: I will alſo ſcrape her duſt from her, and make her like the top of a rock.

5 It ſhall be a place for the ſpreading of nets in the midſt of the Sea: for I have ſpoken it, ſaith the Lord GOD, and it ſhall become a ſpoil to the nations.

6 And her [d] daughters which are in the field ſhall be ſlain by the ſword, and they ſhall know that I am the LORD.

d The towns that belonged unto her.

7 ¶ For thus ſaith the Lord GOD, Behold, I will bring upon Tyrus Nebuchadrezzar King of Babylon, a King of Kings, from the north, with horſes, and with chariots, and with hors-men, and companies, and much people.

8 He ſhall ſlay with the ſword thy daughters in the field, and he ſhall make a fort againſt thee, and ‡ caſt a mount againſt thee, and lift up the buckler againſt thee.

‡ Or, pour out the engine of ſhot.

9 And he ſhall ſet engines of war againſt thy walls, and with his axes he ſhall break down thy towers.

10 By reaſon of the abundance of his horſes, their duſt ſhall cover thee, thy walls ſhall ſhake at the noiſe of the hors-men, and of the wheels, and of the chariots, when he ſhall enter into thy gates, † as men enter into a city wherein is made a breach.

† Heb. according to the entrings of a city broken up.

11 With the hoofs of his horſes ſhall he tread down all thy ſtreets; he ſhall ſlay thy people by the ſword, and thy ſtrong [e] garriſons ſhall go down to the ground.

e For Tyrus was much built by art, and by labour of men was won out of the Sea, ſome refer this unto the images of the noble men which they had eretted up for their glory and renown.

12 And they ſhall make a ſpoil of thy riches, and make a prey of thy merchandiſe, and they ſhall break down thy walls, and deſtroy † thy pleaſant houſes, and they ſhall lay thy ſtones, and thy timber, and thy duſt in the midſt of the water.

14 And I will make thee like the top of a rock: thou ſhalt be a place to ſpread nets upon: [f] thou ſhalt be built no more: for I the LORD have ſpoken it, ſaith the Lord GOD.

f I will make thee ſo bare, that thou ſhalt have nothing to cover thee.

15 ¶ Thus ſaith the Lord GOD to Tyrus, Shall not the iſles ſhake at the ſound of thy fall, when the wounded cry, when the ſlaughter is made in the midſt of thee?

16 Then all the Princes of the [g] Sea ſhall come down from their thrones, and lay away their robes, and put off their broidered garments: they ſhall clothe themſelves with † trembling, they ſhall ſit upon the ground, and ſhall tremble at every moment, and be aſtoniſhed at thee.

† Heb. tremblings.

17 And they ſhall take up a * lamentation for thee, and ſay to thee, How art thou deſtroyed that waſt inhabited † [h] of ſea-faring men, the renowned city which waſt ſtrong in the Sea, ſhe and her inhabitants, which cauſe their terrour to be on all that haunt it?

* Rev. 18. 9.

† Heb. of the Seas.

h Meaning, Merchants, which by their traffick did enrich her wonderfully, and increaſe her power.

18 Now ſhall the iſles tremble in the day of thy fall; yea, the iſles that are in the Sea ſhall be troubled at thy departure.

19 For thus ſaith the Lord GOD, When I ſhall

ſhall make thee a deſolate city, like the cities that are not inhabited, when I ſhall bring up the deep upon thee, and great waters ſhall cover thee;

20 When I ſhall bring thee down, with them that deſcend into the pit, with the people of old time, and ſhall ſet thee in the low parts of the earth, in places deſolate of [i] old, with them that go down to the pit, that thou be not inhabited, and I ſhall ſet glory in the land of the [k] living.

21 I will make thee † a terrour, and thou ſhalt be no more: though thou be ſought for, yet ſhalt thou never be found again, ſaith the Lord GOD.

CHAP. XXVII.

1 The rich ſupply of Tyrus. 26 The great and unrecoverable fall thereof.

THE word of the LORD came again unto me, ſaying,

2 Now thou ſon of man, take up a lamentation for Tyrus;

3 And ſay unto Tyrus, O thou that art ſituate at the entry of the ſea, which art [a] a merchant of the people for many iſles, Thus ſaith the Lord GOD, O Tyrus, thou haſt ſaid, I am † of perfect beauty.

4 Thy borders are in the † midſt of the ſeas, thy builders have perfected thy beauty.

5 They have † made all thy ſhip-boards of fir-trees of [b] Senir: they have taken cedars from Lebanon, to make maſts for thee.

6 Of the oaks of Baſhan have they made thine oars: ‡ † the company of the Aſhurites have made thy benches of ivory, brought out of the iſles of [c] Chittim.

7 Fine linen with broidered work from Egypt, was that which thou ſpreadeſt forth to be thy ſail; ‡ blue and purple from the iſles of Eliſhah, was that which covered thee.

8 The inhabitants of Zidon and Arvad were thy mariners: thy wiſe men, O Tyrus, that were in thee, were thy pilots.

9 The ancients of Gebal, and the wiſe men thereof were in thee thy ‡ † [d] calkers, all the ſhips of the ſea with their mariners were in thee to occupy thy merchandiſe.

10 They of Perſia, and of Lud, and of Phut were in thine army, thy men of war: they hanged the ſhield and helmet in thee, they ſet forth thy comelineſs.

11 The men of Arvad with thine army were upon thy walls round about, and the [e] Gammadins were in thy towers; they hanged their ſhields upon thy walls round about: they have made thy beauty perfect.

13 Tarſhiſh was thy merchant by reaſon of the multitude of all kind of riches; with ſilver, iron, tin, and lead they traded in thy fairs.

13 [f] Javan, Tubal, and Meſhech, they were thy merchants: they traded the [g] perſons of mens, and veſſels of braſs in thy ‡ market.

14 They of the houſe of [h] Togarmah traded in thy fairs with horſes, and horſ-men, and mules.

15 The men of Dedan were thy merchants; many iſles were the merchandiſe of thine hand: they brought thee for a preſent, horns of [i] ivory and ebony.

16 Syria was thy merchant by reaſon of the multitude of † the wares of thy making: they occupied in thy fairs with emeralds, purple, and broidered work, and fine linen, and coral, and ‡ agate.

17 Judah and the land of Iſrael they were thy merchants: they traded in thy market wheat of [k] Minnith, and Pannag, and hony, and oyl, and ‡ balm.

18 Damaſcus was thy merchant in the multitude of the wares of thy making, for the multitude of all riches: in the wine of Helbon, and white wooll.

19 Dan alſo and Javan ‡ going to and fro, occupied in thy fairs: bright iron, caſſia and calamus were in thy market.

20 Dedan was thy merchant in † precious clothes for chariots.

21 Arabia, and all the Princes of Kedar, † they occupied with thee in lambs, and rams, and goats: in theſe were they thy merchants.

22 The merchants of Sheba and Raamah, they were thy merchans: they occupied in thy fairs with chief of all ſpices, and with all precious ſtones, and gold.

23 Haran, and Canneh, and Eden, the merchants of Sheba, Aſſhur, and Chilmad were thy merchants.

24 Theſe were thy merchants in ‡ all ſorts of things, in blue † clothes, and broidered work, & in cheſts of rich apparel, bound with cords, and made of cedar among thy merchandiſe.

25 The ſhips of Tarſhiſh did ſing of thee in thy market, and thou waſt repleniſhed, and made very glorious in the midſt of the ſeas.

26 ¶ Thy rowers have brought thee into great waters: the [l] eaſt-wind hath broken thee in the † midſt of the ſea.

27 * Thy riches and thy fairs, thy merchandiſes, thy mariners, and thy pilots, thy calkers, and occupiers of thy merchandiſe, and all thy men of war that are in thee, ‡ and in all thy company, which is in the midſt of thee, ſhall fall into the † midſt of the ſeas, in the day of thy ruine.

28 The ‡ [m] ſuburbs ſhall ſhake at the ſound of the cry of thy pilots.

29 And all that handle the oar, the mariners, and all the pilots of the ſea, ſhall come down from their ſhips, they ſhall ſtand upon the land;

30 And ſhall cauſe their voice to be heard againſt thee, and ſhall cry bitterly, and ſhall caſt up duſt upon their heads, they ſhall wallow themſelves in the aſhes.

31 And they ſhall make themſelves utterly bald for thee, and gird them with ſackcloth, and they ſhall weep for thee with bitterneſs of heart, and bitter wailing.

CHAP. XXVIII.

1 God's judgment upon the Prince of Tyrus, for his ſacrilegious pride. 11 A lamentation of his great glory corrupted by ſin. 20 The judgment of Zidon. 24 The reſtauration of Iſrael.

THE word of the LORD came again unto me, ſaying,

2 Son of man, ſay unto the Prince of Tyrus, Thus ſaith the Lord GOD, Becauſe thine heart is lifted up, and thou haſt ſaid, [a] I am a God, I ſit in the ſeat of God, in the † midſt of the ſeas; * yet thou art a man and not God, though thou ſet thine heart as the heart of God:

a I am ſure that none can come to hurt me, as God is in the heaven.
† Heb. heart.
* Iſa. 31. 3.

3 Behold, thou art wiſer then [b] Daniel; there is no ſecret that they can hide from thee:

b Thus he ſpeaketh by deriſion: for Daniel had declared notable ſigns of his wiſdom in Babylon, when Ezekiel wrote this.

4 With thy wiſdom, and with thine underſtanding thou haſt gotten thee riches, and haſt gotten gold and ſilver into thy treaſures:

† Heb. by the greatneſs of thy wiſdom.

5 † By thy great wiſdom, and by thy traffick haſt thou increaſed thy riches, and thine heart is lifted up becauſe of thy riches:

6 Therefore thus ſaith the Lord GOD, Becauſe thou haſt ſet thine heart as the heart of God;

7 Behold therefore, I will bring ſtrangers upon thee, the terrible of the nations: and they ſhall draw their ſwords againſt the beauty of thy wiſdom, and they ſhall defile thy brightneſs.

8 They ſhall bring thee down to the pit, and thou ſhalt die the deaths of them that are ſlain in the midſt of the ſeas.

9 Wilt thou yet ſay before him that ſlayeth thee, I am God? but thou ſhalt be a man and no God in the hand of him that ‡ ſlayeth thee.

‡ Or, woundeth.

10 Thou ſhalt die the deaths of the [c] uncircumciſed, by the hand of ſtrangers: for I have ſpoken it, ſaith the Lord GOD.

c Like the reſt of the heathen and infidels, which are God's enemies.

11 ¶ Moreover, the word of the LORD came unto me, ſaying, 12 Son of man, take up a lamentation upon the King of Tyrus, and ſay unto him, Thus ſaith the Lord GOD, Thou ſealeſt up the ſum full of [d] wiſdom and perfect in beauty.

d He derideth the vain opinion and confidence that the Tyrians had in their riches, ſtrength and pleaſures.

13 Thou haſt been in Eden the garden of God; every precious ſtone was thy covering, the ‡ ſardius, topaz, and the diamond, the ‡ beryl, the onyx, and the jaſper, the ſapphire, the ‡ emerald, and the carbuncle, and gold: the workmanſhip of thy tabrets and of thy pipes was prepared in thee, in the day that thou waſt created.

‡ Or, ruby.
‡ Or, chryſolite.
‡ Or, chryſopraſus.

13 Thou art the [e] anointed Cherub that covereth: and I have ſet thee ſo; thou waſt upon the holy [f] mountain of God; thou haſt walked up and down in the midſt of the [g] ſtones of fire.

e He meaneth, The royal ſtate of Tyrus, which for the excellency and glory thereof he compareth to the Cherubims which covered the Ark: and by this word, anointed, He ſignifieth the ſame.
f I did thee this honour to make thee one of the builders of my Temple, which was when Hiram ſent unto Salomon things neceſſary for the work.
g To wit, Among my people Iſrael which ſhined as precious ſtones.

15 Thou was perfect in thy ways from the day that thou waſt [h] created, till iniquity was found in thee.

h Which was when I firſt called thee to this dignity.

16 By the multitude of thy merchandiſe they have filled the midſt of thee with violence, and thou haſt ſinned: therefore I will caſt thee as profane out of the [i] mountains of God: and I will deſtroy thee, O covering Cherub, from the midſt of the ſtones of fire.

i Thou ſhalt have no part among my people.

17 Thine heart was lifted up becauſe of thy beauty, thou haſt corrupted thy wiſdom by reaſon of thy brightneſs: I will caſt thee to the ground, I will lay thee before Kings, that they may behold thee.

18 Thou haſt defiled thy [k] ſanctuaries by the multitude of thine iniquities, by the iniquity of thy traffick; therefore will I bring forth a fire from the midſt of thee, it ſhall devour thee, and I will bring thee to aſhes upon the earth, in the ſight of all them that behold thee.

k That is, The honour whereunto I called them.

19 All they that know thee among the people, ſhall be aſtoniſhed at thee: thou ſhalt be † terrour, and never ſhalt thou be any more.

† Heb. terrours.

20 ¶ Again the word of the LORD came unto me, ſaying,

21 Son of man, ſet thy face againſt Zidon, and propheſy againſt it,

22 And ſay, Thus ſaith the Lord GOD, Behold, I am againſt thee, O Zidon, and I will be [l] glorified in the midſt of thee: and they ſhall know that I am the LORD, when I ſhall have executed judgment in her, and ſhall be ſanctified in her.

l By executing my judgments againſt thy wickedneſs.

23 For I will ſend into her, peſtilence, and [m] bloud into her ſtreets, and the wounded ſhall be judged in the midſt of her by the ſword upon her on every ſide; and they ſhall know that I am the LORD.

m That is, Cruel ſlaughters by the Babylonian army.

24 ¶ And there ſhall be no more a pricking brier unto the houſe of Iſrael, nor any grieving thorn of all that are round about them that deſpiſed them, and they ſhall know that I am the Lord GOD.

25 Thus ſaith the Lord GOD, When I ſhall have gathered the houſe of Iſrael from the people among whom they are ſcattered, and ſhall be [n] ſanctified in them in the ſight of the heathen, then ſhall they dwell in their land, that I have given to my ſervant Jacob.

n He ſheweth, For what cauſe God will aſſemble his Church, and preſerve it ſtill, though he deſtroy his enemies, to wit, That they ſhould praiſe him, and give thanks for his great mercies.

26 And they ſhall dwell ‡ ſafely therein and

and shall build houses, and plant vineyeards: yea, they shall dwell with confidence when I have executed judgments upon all those that ‡ despise them round about them, and they shall know that I am the Lord their GOD.

‡ Or, spoil.

CHAP. XXIX.

1 The judgment of Pharaoh, for his treachery to Israel. 8 The desolation of Egypt. 13 The restauration thereof after fourty years. 17 Egypt the reward of Nebuchadnezzar. 21 Israel shall be restored.

a 75 wit, Of the captivity of Jeconiah, or of the reign of Zedekiah. Of the order of these prophesies, and how the former sometimes standeth after the latter, Read Jer. 27. 1.

IN the [a] tenth year, in the tenth month, in the twelfth day of the month, the word of the LORD came unto me, saying,

2 Son of man, set thy face against Pharaoh King of Egypt, and prophesy against him, and against all Egypt.

3 Speak and say, Thus saith the Lord GOD, Behold, I am against thee, Pharaoh King of Egypt, the great * [b] dragon that lieth in the midst of his rivers, which hath said, My river is mine own, and I have made it for my self.

b Psal. 74. 13, 14. Isa. 27. 1. & 51. 9.
b He compareth Pharaoh to a dragon, which hideth himself in the river Nilus, as Isa. 51. 9.

4 But I will put [c] hooks in thy chaws, and I will cause the fish of thy rivers to stick unto thy scales, and I will bring thee up out of the midst of thy rivers, and all the fish of thy rivers shall stick unto thy scales.

c I will send enemies against thee, which shall pluck thee and thy people, which trust in thee, out of thy sure places.

5 And I will leave thee thrown into the wilderness, thee and all the fish of thy rivers: thou shalt fall upon the † open fields, thou shalt not be brought together, nor gathered: I have given thee for meat to the beasts of the field, and to the fowls of the heaven.

† Heb. face of the fild.

6 And all the inhabitants of Egypt shall know that I am the LORD, because they have been a [d] staff of reed to the house of Israel.

d 2 King. 18. 21. Isa. 36. 6.

7 When they took hold of thee by thy hand, thou didst break, and rent all their shoulder: and when they leaned upon thee, thou brakest, and madest all their loyns to be at a [e] stand.

e When they felt their hurt, they would stay no more upon thee, but stood upon their feet, and put their trust in others.

8 ¶ Therefore thus saith the Lord GOD, Behold, I will bring a sword upon thee, and cut off man and beast out of thee.

9 And the land of Egypt shall be desolate and waste, and they shall know that I am the LORD; because he hath said, The [f] river is mine, and I have made it.

f Thus God cannot suffer that man should arrogate any thing to himself, or put his trust in any thing save in him alone.

10 Behold therefore, I am against thee, and against thy rivers, and I will make the land of Egypt † utterly waste and desolate from the tower of † Syene even unto the the border of Ethiopia.

† Heb. wastes of waste.

11 No foot of man shall pass through it, nor foot of beast shall pass through it, neither shall it be inhabited fourty years.

12 And I will make the land of Egypt desolate in the midst of the countrys that are desolate, and her cities among the cities that are laid waste, shall be desolate fourty years: and I will scatter the Egyptians among the nations, and will disperse them through the countrys.

13 ¶ Yet thus saith the Lord GOD, At the * end of fourty years will I gather the Egyptians from the people whither they were scattered.

* Isa. 19. 23. Jer. 46. 26.

14 And I will bring again the captivity of Egypt, and will cause them to return into the land of Pathros, into the land of ther ‡ habitation, and they shall be there a † [g] base kingdom.

‡ Or, birth.
† Heb. low.
g Meaning, That they should not have full dominion, but be under the Persians, Grecians and Romans, and the cause is, That the Israelites should no more put their trust in them, but learn to depend on God.

15 It shall be the basest of the kingdoms, neither shall it exalt it self any more above the nations: for I will diminish them, that they shall no more rule over the nations.

16 And it shall be no more the confidence of the house of Israel, which bringeth their [h] iniquity to remembrance, when they shall look after them: but they shall know that I am the Lord GOD.

h Lest I should by this means punish their sins.

17 ¶ And it came to pass in the [i] seven and twentieth year, in the first month, in the first day of the month, the word of the LORD came unto me, saying,

i Counting from the captivity of Jeconiah.

18 Son of man, Nebuchadrezzar King of Babylon caused his army to [k] serve a great service against Tyrus: every head was made bald, and every shoulder was peeled: yet had he no [l] wages, nor his army for Tyrus, for the service that he had served against it.

k He took great pains at the siege of Tyrus, and his army was sore handled.
l Signifying, That Nebuchadrezzar had more pains then profit by the taking of Tyrus.

19 Therefore thus saith the Lord GOD, Behold, I will give the land of Egypt unto Nebuchadrezzar King of Babylon, and he shall take her multitude, and † take her spoil, and take her prey, and it shall be the wages for his army.

† Heb. spoil her spoil, and prey her prey.

20 I have given him the land of Egypt ‡ for his labour wherewith he served against it, because they wrought for me, saith the Lord GOD.

‡ Or, for his hire.

21 ¶ In that day will I cause the horn of the house of Israel to bud forth, and I will give thee the opening of the mouth in the midst of them, and they shall know that I am the LORD.

CHAP. XXX.

1 The desolation of Egypt, and her helpers. 20 The arm of Babylon shall be strengthned to break the arm of Egypt.

THE word of the LORD came again unto me, saying,

2 Son of man, prophesy and say, Thus saith the Lord GOD, Howl ye, wo worth the day.

3 For the day is near, even the day of the LORD is near, a cloudy day, it shall be the time of the heathen.

4 And the sword shall come upon Egypt, and great ‡ pain shall be in Ethiopia, when the slain shall fall in Egypt, and they shall take away her multitude, and her foundations shall be broken down.

‡ Or, fear.

5 Ethiopia, and ‡ † Lybia, and Lydia, and all the mingled people, and Chub, and the † men of the land that is in league, shall fall with them by the sword.

‡ Or, Africa.
† Heb. Phut.
† Heb. children.

6 Thus saith the LORD, They also that uphold Egypt shall fall, and the pride of her power shall come down: from the tower of b Which was a strong city of Egypt, Chap. 29. 10.

b Syene shall they fall in it by the sword, saith the Lord GOD.

7 And they shall be desolate in the midst of the countrys that are desolate, and her cities shall be in the midst of the cities that are wasted.

8 And they shall know that I am the LORD, when I have set a fire in Egypt, and when all her helpers shall be † destroyed.

† Heb. broken.

9 In that day shall messengers go forth from me in ships, to make the careless Ethiopians afraid, and great pain shall come upon them, as in the day of Egypt: for lo, it cometh.

10 Thus saith the Lord GOD, I will also make the multitude of Egypt to cease by the hand of Nebuchadnezzar King of Babylon.

11 He and his people with him, the terrible of the nations shall be brought to destroy the land: and they shall draw their swords against Egypt, and fill the land with the slain.

† Heb. drought.

12 And I will make the rivers † dry, and sell the land into the hand of the wicked, and † Heb. the fulness thereof.

I will make the lank waste, and † all that is therein, by the hand of strangers: I the LORD have spoken it.

13 Thus saith the Lord GOD, I will also

* Zech. 13. 2.

* destroy the idols, and I will cause their images to cease out of Noph: and there shall be no more a Prince of the land of Egypt, and I will put a fear in the land of Egypt.

14 And I will make Pathros desolate, and will set fire in ‡ Zoan, and will execute judgments in No.

‡ Or, Pelusium.

15 And I will pour my fury upon ‡ Sin, the strength of Egypt, and I will cut off the multitude of No.

16 And I will set fire in Egypt, Sin shall have great pain, and No shall be rent asunder, and Noph shall have distress daily.

‡ Or, Heliopolis.
‡ Or, Pubastum.

17 The young men of ‡ Aven and of ‡ Phibeseth, shall fall by the sword: and these cities shall go into captivity.

18 At Tehaphnehes also the day shall be

c Meaning, That there shall be great sorrow and affliction.
d That is, The strength and force.

‡ [c] darkned, when I shall break there the [d] yokes of Egypt: and the pomp of her strength shall cease in her: as for her, a cloud shall cover her, and her daughters shall go into captivity.

19 Thus will I execute judgments in Egypt: and they shall know that I am the LORD.

e Of the captivity of Jeconiah, or of Zedekiah's reign.

20 ¶ And it came to pass in the [e] eleventh year, in the first month, in the seventh day of the month, that the word of the LORD came unto me, saying, f For Nebuchadnezzar destroyed Pharaoh-necho at Carchemish, Jer. 46. 26.

21 Son of man, I have [f] broken the arm of Pharaoh King of Egypt; and lo, it shall not be bound up to be healed, to put a roller to bind it, to make it strong to hold the sword.

22 Therefore thus saith the Lord GOD, Behold, I am against Pharaoh King of Egypt, g His force, and power.

and will break his [g] arms, the strong, and that which was broken; and I will cause the sword to fall out of his hand.

23 And I will scatter the Egyptians among the nations, and will disperse them through the countrys.

24 And I will strengthen the arms of the King of Babylon, and put my sword in his hand: but I will break Pharaoh's arms, and he shall grone before him with the gronings of a deadly wounded man.

25 But I will strengthen the arms of the King of Babylon, and the arms of Pharaoh shall fall down; and they shall know that I am the LORD, [h] when I shall put my sword into the hand of the King of Babylon, and he shall stretch it out upon the land of Egypt.

h Whereby we see that tyrants have no power of themselves, neither can do any more harm then God appointeth, and when he will they must cease.

26 And I will scatter the Egyptians among the nations, and disperse them among the countrys, and they shall know that I am the LORD.

CHAP. XXXI.

1 A relation unto Pharaoh, 3 of the glory of Assyria. 10 and the fall thereof for pride. 18 The like destruction of Egypt.

AND it came to pass in the [a] eleventh year, in the third month, in the first day of the month, that the word of the LORD came unto me, saying, a Of Zedekiah's reign, or of Jeconiah's captivity.

2 Son of man, speak unto Pharaoh King of Egypt, and to his multitude, [b] Whom art thou like in thy greatness?

b Meaning, That he was not like in strength to the King of the Assyrians whom the Babylonians overcame.

3 ¶ Behold, the Assyrian was a cedar in Lebanon † with fair branches, and with a shadowing shroud, and of an high stature, and his top was among the thick boughs.

† Heb. fair of branches.

4 The waters ‡ made him great, the deep ‡ set him up on high with her rivers running round about his places, and sent out her ‡ [c] little rivers unto all trees of the field.

‡ Or, nourished.
‡ Or, brought him up.
‡ Or, conduits.
c Many other nations were under their dominion.

5 Therefore his height was exalted above all the trees of the field, and his boughs were multiplied, and his branches became long because of the multitude of waters, ‡ when he shot forth.

‡ Or, when it sent them forth.

6 All the * fowls of heaven made their nests in his boughs, and under his branches did all the beasts of the field bring forth their young, and under his shadow dwelt all great nations.

* Dan. 4.

7 Thus was he fair in his greatness, in the length of his branches: for his root was by great waters.

8 The cedars in the * garden [d] of God could not hide him: the fir-trees were not like his boughs, and the chesnut-trees were not like his branches; not any tree in the garden of God was like unto him in his beauty.

* Gen. 2. d Signifying, That there was no greater power in the world then his was.

9 I have made him fair by the multitude of his branches: so that all the trees of Eden, that were in the garden of God, envied him.

10 ¶ Therefore thus saith the Lord GOD, Because thou hast lifted up thy self in height, and he hath shot up his top among the thick boughs, and his heart is lifted up in his height;

11 I have

11 I have therefore delivered him into the hand of the [e] mighty one of the heathen: † he ſhall ſurely deal with him, I have driven him out for his wickedneſs.

12 And ſtrangers, the terrible of the nations, have cut him off, and have left him: upon the mountains and in all the valleys his branches are fallen, and his boughs are [f] broken by all the rivers of the land, and all the people of the earth are gone down from his ſhadow, and have left him.

13 Upon his ruine ſhall all the fowls of the heaven remain, and all the beaſts of the field ſhall be upon his branches:

14 To the end that none of all the trees by the waters exalt themſelves for their height, neither ſhoot up their top among the thick boughs, neither their trees ‡ ſtand up in their height, all that drink water: for they are all delivered unto death to the nether parts of the earth in the midſt of the children of men with them that go down to the pit.

15 Thus ſaith the Lord GOD, In the day when he went down to the grave, I cauſed a mourning, I [g] covered the deep for him, and I reſtrained the flouds thereof, and the great waters were ſtayed; and I cauſed Lebanon † to mourn for him, and all the trees of the field fainted for him.

16 I made the nations to ſhake at the ſound of his fall, when I caſt him down to hell with them that deſcend into the pit: and all the trees of Eden, the choice and beſt of Lebanon, all that drink water, ſhall be [h] comforted in the nether parts of the earth.

17 They alſo went down into hell with him unto them that be ſlain with the ſword, and they that were his arm that dwelt under his ſhadow in the midſt of the heathen.

CHAP. XXXII.

1 A lamentation for the fearful fall of Egypt. 11 The ſword of Babylon ſhall deſtroy it. 17 It ſhall be brought down to hell among all the uncircumciſed nations.

AND it came to paſs in the [a] twelfth year, in the twelfth month, in the firſt day of the month, that the word of the LORD came unto me, ſaying,

2 Son of man, take up a lamentation for Pharaoh King of Egypt, & ſay unto him, Thou art like a young [b] lion of the nations, and thou art as a ‡ whale in the ſeas: and thou cameſt forth with thy rivers, and [c] troubledſt the waters with thy feet, and fouledſt their rivers.

3 Thus ſaith the Lord GOD, I will therefore * ſpread out my net over thee, with a company of many people, and they ſhall bring thee up in my net.

4 Then will I leave thee upon the land, I will caſt thee forth upon the open field, and will cauſe all the fowls of the heaven to remain upon thee, and I will fill the beaſts of the whole earth with thee.

5 And I will lay thy fleſh upon the mountains, and [d] fill the valleys with thy hight.

6 I will alſo water with thy bloud ‡ the land wherein thou [e] ſwimmeſt, even to the mountains; and the rivers ſhall be full of thee.

7 And when I ſhall ‡ [f] put thee out, * I will cover the heaven, and make the ſtars thereof dark: I will cover the Sun with a cloud, and the Moon ſhall not give her light.

8 All the † bright lights of heaven will I make † dark over thee, and ſet [g] darkneſs upon thy land, ſaith the Lord GOD.

9 I will alſo † vex the hearts of many people, when I ſhall bring thy deſtruction among the nations, into the countrys which thou haſt not known.

10 Yea, I will make many people amazed at thee, and their Kings ſhall be horribly afraid for thee, when I ſhall brandiſh my ſword before them, and they ſhall tremble at every moment, every man for his own life, in the day of thy fall.

11 ¶ For thus ſaith the Lord GOD, The ſword of the King of Babylon ſhall come upon thee.

12 By the ſwords of the mighty will I cauſe thy multitude to fall, the terrible of the nations all of them; and they ſhall ſpoil the [h] pomp of Egypt, and all the multitude thereof ſhall be deſtroyed.

13 I will deſtroy alſo all the beaſts thereof from beſides the great waters, neither ſhall the foot of man trouble them any more, nor the hoofs of beaſts trouble them.

14 Then will I make their [i] waters deep, and cauſe their rivers to run like oyl, ſaith the Lord GOD.

15 When I ſhall make the land of Egypt deſolate, and the countrys ſhall be † deſtitute of that whereof it was full, when I ſhall ſmite all them that dwell therein, then ſhall they know that I am the LORD.

16 This is the lamentation wherewith they ſhall lament her: the daughters of the nations ſhall lament her: they ſhall lament for her, even for Egypt and for all her multitude, ſaith the Lord GOD.

17 ¶ It came to paſs alſo in the twelfth year, in the fifteenth day of the month, that the word of the LORD came unto me, ſaying, 18 Son of man, wail for the multitude of Egypt, and [k] caſt them down, even her, and the daughters of the famous nations, unto the nether parts of the earth, with them that go down into the pit.

19 Whom doſt thou paſs in [l] beauty? go down, and be thou laid with the uncircumciſed.

CHAP. XXXIII.

1 According to the duty of a watchman, in warning the people, 7 Ezekiel is admonished of the duty, 10 God sheweth the justice of his ways towards the penitent, and toward revolters. 7 He maintaineth his justice. 21 Upon the news of the taking of Jerusalem, he propheseth the desolation of the land. 30 God's judgment upon the mockers of the Prophets.

AGain the word of the LORD came unto me, saying,

2 Son of man, speak to the children of thy people, and say unto them, † When I bring the sword upon a land, if the people of the land take a man of their coasts, and set him for their [a] watchman:

3 If when he seeth the sword come upon the land, he blow the trompet, and warn the people;

4 Then † whosoever heareth the sound of the trumpet, and taketh not warning; if the sword come, and take him away, his bloud shall be upon his own head.

5 He heard the sound of the trumpet, and took not warning, his bloud shall be upon him: but he that taketh warning, shall deliver his soul.

6 But if the watchman see the sword come, and blow not the trumpet, and the people be not warned: if the sword come and take any person from among them, he is taken away in his [b] iniquity, but his bloud will I require at the watchman's hand.

7 ¶ * So thou, O son of man, I have set thee a watchman unto the house of Israel: therefore thou shalt hear the word at my [c] mouth, and warn then from me.

8 When I say unto the wicked, O wicked man, thou shalt surely die; if thou dost not speak to warn the wicked from his way, that wicked man shall die in his iniquity, but his bloud will I [d] require at thine hand.

9 Nevertheless, if thou warn the wicked of his way to turn from it: if he do not turn from his way, he shall die in his iniquity, but thou hast delivered thy soul.

10 ¶ Therefore, O thou son of man, speak unto the house of Israel, Thus ye speak, saying, If our transgressions and our sins be upon us, and we pine away in them, [e] how should we then live?

11 Say unto them, As I live, saith the Lord GOD, * I have no [f] pleasure in the death of the wicked, buth that the wicked turn from his ways and live: turn ye, turn ye from your evil ways; for * why will ye die, O house of Israel?

12 Therefore, thou son of man, say unto the children of thy people, * [g] The righteousness of the righteous shall not deliver them in the day of his transgression: as for the wickedness of the wicked, he shall not fall thereby in the day that he turneth from his wickedness; neither shall the righteous be able to live for his righteousness in the day that he sinneth.

13 When I shall say to the righteous, that he shall surely live: if he trust to his own righte-righteousness, and commit iniquity; all his righteousness shall not be remembred, but for his iniquity that he hath committed he shall die for it.

14 Again, when I say unto the wicked, Thou shalt surely die: if he turn from his sin, and do † that which is lawful and [h] right;

15 If the wicked restore the pledge, give again that he had robbed, walk in the statutes of life without committing iniquity; he shall surely live, he shall not die.

16 None of his sins that he hath committed, shall be mentioned unto him: he hath done that which is lawful and right; he shall surely live.

17 ¶ Yet the children of thy people say, The way of the Lord is not equal: but as for them, their way is not equal.

18 When the righteous turneth from his righteousness, and committeth iniquity, he shall even die thereby.

19 But if the wicked turn from his wickedness, and do that which is lawful and right, he shall live thereby.

20 Yet ye say, * The way of the Lord is not equal: O ye house of Israel, I will judge you every one after his ways.

21 ¶ And it came to pass in the twelfth year of [i] our captivity, in the tenth month, in the fifth day of the month, that one that had escaped out of Jerusalem, came unto me, saying, * The city is smitten.

22 Now the [k] hand of the LORD was upon me in the evening, afore he that was escaped came; and had opened my mouth until he came to me in the morning, and my [l] mouth was opened, and I was no more dumb.

23 Then the word of the LORD came unto me, saying,

24 Son of man, they that inhabit those wastes of the land of Israel, speak, saying, [m] Abraham was one, and he inherited the land: but we are many, the land is given us for inheritance.

25 Wherefore say unto them, Thus saith the Lord GOD, Ye [n] eat with the bloud, and lift up your eyes toward your idols, and shed bloud; and shall ye possess the land?

26 Ye [o] stand upon your sword, ye work abomination, and ye defile every one his neighbour's wife; and shall ye possess the land?

27 Say thou thus unto them, Thus saith the Lord GOD, As I live, surely they that are in the wastes shall fall by the sword, and him that is in the open field will I give to the beasts † to be devoured: and they that be in the forts and in the caves, shall die of the pestilence.

28 For I will lay the land † most desolate, and the * pomp of her strength shall cease: and the mountains of Israel shall be desolate, that none shall pass through.

29 Then shall they know that I am the LORD, when I have laid the land most desolate, because of all their abominations which they have committed.

30 ¶ Also thou son of man, the children of thy people still are [p] talking against thee by the walls, and in the doors of the house, and speak one to another, every one to his brother, saying, Come, I pray you, and hear what is the word that cometh from the LORD.

31 And they come unto thee † as the people cometh, and ‡ they sit before thee as my people, and they hear thy words, but they will not do them: for with their mouth † [q] they shew much love, but their heart goeth after their covetousness.

32 And lo, thou art unto them as † a very lovely song of one that hath a pleasant voice, and can play well on an instrument: for they hear thy words, but they do them not.

33 And when this cometh to pass (lo it will come) then shall they know that a Prophet hath been among them.

CHAP. XXXIV.

1 A reproof of the shepherds. 7 God's judgment against them. 11 His providence for his flock. 20 The kingdom of Christ.

AND the word of the LORD came unto me, saying,

2 Son of man, prophesy against the * shepherds of Israel, prophesy and say unto them, Thus saith the Lord GOD unto the [a] shepherds, Wo be to the shepherds of Israel that do feed themselves: should not the shepherds feed the flocks?

3 Ye eat the [b] fat, and ye clothe you with the wool, ye kill them that are fed: but ye feed not the flock.

4 The [c] diseased have ye not strengthned, neither have ye healed that which was sick, neither have ye bound up that which was broken, neither have ye brought again that which was driven away, neither have ye sought that which was lost; but with * force and with cruelty have ye ruled them.

5 And they were [d] scattered ‡ because there is no shepherd: and they became meat to all the beasts of the field, when they were scattered.

6 My sheep wandred through all the mountains, and upon every high hill: yea, my flock was scattered upon all the face of the earth, and none did search or seek after them.

7 ¶ Therefore ye shepherds, hear the word of the LORD;

8 As I live, saith the Lord GOD, surely because my flock became a prey, and my flock became meat to every beast of the field, because there was no shepherd, neither did my shepherds search for my flock, but the shepherds fed themselves, and fed not my flock:

9 Therefore O ye shepherds, hear the word of the LORD; deliver my flock from their [c] mouth, that they may not be meat for them.

11 ¶ For thus saith the Lord GOD, Behold, I, even I will both search my sheep, and seek them out.

12 † As a shepherd seeketh out his flock in the day that he is among his sheep that are scattered; so will I seek out my sheep, and will deliver them out of all places, where they have been scattered in the [f] cloudy and dark day.

13 And I will bring them out from the people, and gather them from the countrys, and will bring them to their own land, and feed them upon the mountains of Israel by the rivers, and in all the inhabited places of the country.

14 I will feed them in a good pasture, and upon the high mountains of Israel shall their fold be: there shall they lie in a good fold, and in a fat pasture shall they feed upon the mountains of Israel.

15 I will feed my flock, and I will cause them to lie down, saith the Lord GOD.

16 I will seek that which was lost, and bring again that which was driven away, and will bind up that which was broken, and will strengthen that which was sick: but I will destroy the fat and the [g] strong, I will feed them with [h] judgment.

17 And as for you, O my flock, thus saith the Lord GOD, Behold, I judge between † cattel and cattel, between the rams and the † he-goats.

18 Seemeth it a small thing unto you, to have eaten up the good pasture, but ye must tread down with your feet the residue of your [i] pastures? and to have drunk of the deep waters, but ye must foul the residue with your feet?

19 And as for my flock, they eat that which ye have troden with your feet: and they drink that which ye have fouled with your feet.

20 ¶ Therefore thus saith the Lord GOD unto them, Behold, I, even I will judge between the fat cattel, and between the lean cattel.

21 Because ye have thrust with side and with shoulder, and pusht all the diseased with your horns, till ye have scattered them abroad:

22 Therefore will I save my flock, and they shall no more be a prey, and I will judge between cattel and cattel.

26 And I will make them and the places round about my hill, a blessing; and I will cause the shower to come down in his season: there shall be showrs of blessing.

27 And the [m] tree of the field shall yield her fruit, and the earth shall yeild her increase, and they shall be safe in their land, and shall know that I am the LORD, when I have broken the bands of their yoke, and delivered them out of the hand of those that served themselves of them.

28 And they shall no more be a prey to the heathen, neither shall the beasts of the land devour them; but they shall dwell safely, and none shall make them afraid.

29 And I will raise up for them a [n] plant ‡ of renown, and they shall be no more † consumed with hunger in the land, neither bear the shame of the heathen any more.

2 Thus saith the Lord GOD, Because the [a] enemy had said against you, Aha, even the ancient [b] high places are ours in possession:

3 Therefore prophesy and say, Thus saith the Lord GOD, † Because they have made you desolate, and swallowed you up on every side, that ye might be a possession unto the residue of the heathen, and ‡ ye are taken up in the lips of [c] talkers, and are an infamy of the people:

4 Therefore ye mountains of Israel, hear the word of the Lord GOD, Thus saith the Lord GOD to the mountains and to the hills, to the ‡ rivers and to the valleys, to the desolate wastes, and to the cities that are forsaken, which became a prey and derision to the residue of the heathen that are round about:

5 Therefore thus saith the Lord GOD, Surely in the fire of my jealousy have I spoken against the residue of the heathen, and against all Idumea, which have [d] appointed my land into their possession, with the joy of all their heart, with despiteful minds to cast it out for a prey.

6 Prophesy therefore concerning the land of Israel, and say unto the mountains and to the hills, to the rivers and to the valleys, Thus saith the Lord GOD, Behold, I have spoken in my jealousy and in my fury, because ye have born the [e] shame of the heathen.

7 Therefore thus saith the Lord GOD, I have [f] lifted up mine hand, Surely the heathen that are about you, they shall bear their shame.

8 ¶ But ye, O mountains of Israel, ye shall [g] shoot forth your branches, and yeild your fruit to my people of Israel, for they are at hand to come.

9 For behold, I am for you, and I will turn unto you, and ye shall be tilled and sown.

10 And I will multiply men upon you, all the house of Israel, even all of it, and the cities shall be inhabited, and the wastes shall be builded.

11 And I will multiply upon you man and beast, and they shall increase and bring fruit, and I will settle you after your old estates, and will do better unto you then at your [h] beginnings, and ye shall know that I am the LORD.

12 Yea, I will cause men to walk upon [i] you, even my people Israel, and they shall possess thee, and thou shalt be their inheritance, and thou shalt no more henceforth bereave them of men.

13 Thus saith the Lord GOD, Because they say unto you, [k] Thou land devourest up men, and hast bereaved thy nations;

14 Therefore thou shalt devour men no more, neither ‡ bereave thy nations any more, saith the Lord GOD.

15 Neither will I cause men to hear in thee the shame of the heathen any more, neither shalt thou bear the reproach of the people any more, neither shalt thou cause thy nations to fall any more, saith the Lord GOD.

16 ¶ Moreover, the word of the LORD came unto me, saying,

17 Son of man, when the house of Israel dwelt in their own land, they defiled it by their own way, and by their doings: their way was before me as the uncleanness of a removed woman.

18 Wherefore I poured my fury upon them for the bloud that they had shed upon the land, and for their idols wherewith they had polluted it.

19 And I scattered them among the heathen, and they were dispersed through the countrys: according to their way and according to their doings I judged them.

20 And when they entred unto the heathen whither they went, they * profaned my holy name, when they said to them, These are the people of the LORD, and are gone forth out of his land.

21 ¶ But I had pity for mine holy [l] name, which the house of Israel had profaned among the heathen whither they went.

22 Therefore say unto the house of Israel, Thus saith the Lord GOD, I do not this for your sakes, O house of Israel, but for [m] mine holy name's sake, which ye have profaned among the heathen, whither ye went.

23 And I will sanctify my great name which was profaned among the heathen, which ye have profaned in the midst of them, and the heathen shall know that I am the LORD, saith the Lord GOD, when I shall be sanctified in you, before ‡ their eyes.

24 For I will take you from among the heathen, and gather you out of all countrys, and will bring you into your own land.

a He sheweth, By a greater miracle, that God hath power, and also will deliver his people from their captivity, in as much as he is able to give life unto the dead bones, and bodies, and raise them up again.

‡ Or, champain.

THE hand of the LORD was upon me, and carried me out in the spirit of the LORD, and set me down in the midst of the valley which was full of [a] bones,

2 And caused me to pass by them round about, and behold, there were very many in the open ‡ valley, and lo, they were very dry.

3 And he said unto me, Son of man, can these bones live? and I answered, O Lord GOD, thou knowest.

4 Again he said unto me, Prophesie upon these bones, and say unto them, O ye dry bones, hear the word of the LORD.

5 Thus saith the Lord GOD unto these bones, Behold, I will cause breath to enter into you, and ye shall live.

6 And I will lay sinews upon you, and will bring up flesh upon you, and cover you with skin, and put breath in you; and ye shall live, and ye shall know that I am the LORD.

7 So I prophesied as I was commanded: and as I prophesied there was a noise, and behold a shaking, and the bones came together bone to his bone.

8 And when I beheld, lo, the sinews and the flesh came up upon them, and the skin covered them above; but there was no breath in them.

9 Then said he unto me, Prophesy unto the ‡ wind, prophesy, son of man, and say to the wind, Thus saith the Lord GOD, Come from the four [b] winds, O breath, and breathe upon these slain, that they may live.

‡ Or, breath.

b Signifying, All parts, whereas the Israelites were scattered: that is, The faithfull shall be brought to the same unity of spirit, and doctrine, wheresoever they are scattered through the world.

10 So I prophesied as he commanded me, and the breath came into them, and they lived and stood up upon their feet, an exceeding great army.

11 ¶ Then he said unto me, Son of man, these bones are the whole house of Israel: behold, they say, Our bones are dried, and our hope is lost, we are cut off for our parts.

12 Therefore prophesy and say unto them, Thus saith the Lord GOD, Behold, O my people, I will open your graves, and cause you to come up out of your graves, and bring you into the land of Israel.

13 And ye shall know that I am the LORD, [c] when I have opened your graves, O my people, and brought you up out of your graves, c That is, when I have brought you out of those places and towns where you are captives.

14 And shall put my spirit in you, and ye shall live, and I shall place you in your own land: then shall ye know that I the LORD have spoken it, and performed it, saith the LORD.

15 ¶ The word of the LORD came again unto me, saying,

16 Moreover, thou son of man, take thee one stick and write upon it, For Judah, and for the children of Israel his companions: then take [d] another stick, and write upon it, For Joseph the stick of Ephraim, and for all the house of Israel his companions.

d Which signifieth, The joyning together of the two houses of Israel and Judah.

17 And joyn them one to another into one stick, and they shall become one in thine hand.

18 ¶ And when the children of thy people shall speak unto thee, saying, Wilt thou not shew us what thou meanest by these?

19 Say unto them, Thus saith the Lord GOD, Behold, I will take the stick of [e] Joseph which is in the hand of Ephraim, and the tribes of Israel his fellows, and will put them with him, even with the stick of Judah, and e That is, The house of Israel.

and make them one stick, and they shall be one in mine hand.

20 ¶ And the sticks whereon thou writest, shall be in thine hand before their eyes.

21 And say unto them, Thus saith the Lord GOD, Behold, I will take the children of Israel from among the heathen whither they be gone, and will gather them on every side, and bring them into their own land.

22 And I will make them one nation in the land upon the mountains of Israel, and * one King shall be King to them all: and they shall be no more two nations, neither shall they be divided into two kingdoms any more at all:

23 Neither shall they defile themselves any more with their idols, nor with their detestable things, nor with any of their transgressions: but I will save them out of all their dwelling-places, wherein they have sinned, and will cleanse them: so shall they be my people, and I will be their God.

24 And * David my servant shall be King over them: and they all shall have one shepherd: they shall also walk in my judgments, and observe my statutes, and do them.

25 And they shall dwell in the [f] land that I have given unto Jacob my servant, wherein your fathers have dwelt, and they shall dwell therein, even they and their children, and their childrens children for ever, and my servant David shall be their Prince for ever.

26 Moreover, I will make a * covenant of peace with them, it shall be an everlasting covenant with them, and I will place them, and multiply them, and will set my * sanctuary in the midst of them for evermore.

27 My tabernacle also shall be with them: yea, I will be * their God, and they shall be my people.

28 And the heathen shall know that I the LORD do sanctify Israel, when my sanctuary shall be in the midst of them for evermore.

CHAP. XXXVIII.

1 The army, 8 and malice of Gog. 14 God's judgment against him.

AND the word of the LORD came unto me, saying,

2 Son of man, set thy face against * [a] Gog, the land of Magog, ‡ the chief Prince of Meshech and Tubal, and prophesy against him,

3 And say, Thus saith the Lord GOD, Behold, I am against thee, O Gog, the chief Prince of Meshech and Tubal.

4 And * I will turn thee back and put hooks into thy chaws, and I will bring thee forth, and all thine army, horses and horsmen all of them clothed with all sorts of armour, even a great company with [b] bucklers and shields, all of them handling swords.

7 Be thou prepared, and [e] prepare for thy self, thou and all thy company that are assembled unto thee, and be thou a guard unto them.

8 ¶ After many days thou shalt be visited: in the latter years thou shall come into the land that is brought back from the sword, and is gathered out of many people against the mountains of Israel, which have been always waste: but it is brought forth out of the nations, and they shall dwell safely all of them.

9 Thou shalt ascend and come like a storm, thou shalt be like a cloud to cover the land, thou and all thy bands, and many people with thee.

10 Thus saith the Lord GOD, it shall also come to pass, that at the same time shall things come into thy mind, and thou shalt ‡ think an [f] evil thought.

11 And thou shalt say, I will go up to the land of unwalled villages, I will go to [g] them that are at rest, that dwell ‡ safely, all of them dwelling without walls, and having neither bars nor gates.

14 ¶ Therefore, son of man, prophesie and say unto Gog, Thus saith the Lord GOD, In that day when my people of Israel [i] dwelleth safely, shall thou not know it?

15 And thou shalt come from thy place out of the north-parts, thou and many people with thee, all of them riding upon horses, a great company, and a mighty army.

16 And thou shalt come up against my people of Israel, as a cloud to cover the land, it shall be in the [k] latter days, and I will bring thee against my land, that the heathen may know me, when I shall be [l] sanctified in thee, O Gog, before their eyes.

17 Thus saith the Lord GOD, Art thou he of whom I have spoken in old time † [m] by my servants the Prophets of Israel, which prophesied in those days many years, that I would bring thee against them?

18 And it shall come to pass at the same time, when God shall come against the land of Israel, saith the Lord GOD, that my fury shall come up in my face.

19 For in my jealousy, and in the fire of my wrath have I spoken: surely in that day there shall be a great shaking in the land of Israel:

21 And I will set my glory among the heathen, and all the heathen shall see my judgment that I have executed, and my hand that I have laid upon them.

22 So the house of Israel shall know that I am the LORD their God from that day and forward.

23 ¶ And the heathen shall know that the house of Israel went into captivity for their iniquity: because they [l] trespassed against me, therefore hid I my face from them: and gave them into the hand of their enemies; so fell they all by the sword.

CHAP. XL.

1 The time, manner, and end of the vision. 6 The description of the east-gate, 20 of the north-gate, 24 of the south-gate, 32 of the east-gate, 35 and of the north gate. 39 Eight tables. 44 The chambers, 48 The porch of the house.

IN the five and twentieth year of our captivity, in the [a] beginning of the year, in the tenth day of the month, in the fourteenth year after that the city was smitten, in the self-same day the hand of the LORD was upon me, and brought me thither.

2 In the visions of God brought he me into the land of Israel, and set me upon a very high mountain, ‡ by which was as the frame of a city on the south.

3 And he brought me thither, and behold, there was a [b] man, whose appearance was like the appearance of brass, with a line of flax in his hand, and a measuring-reed; and he stood in the gate.

4 And the man said unto me, Son of man, behold with thine eyes, and hear with thine ears, and set thine heart upon all that I shall shew thee; for to the intent that I might shew them unto thee, art thou brought hither: declare all that thou seest, to the house of Israel.

5 And behold, a wall on the outside of the house round about, and in the man's hand a measuring-reed of six cubits long, by the cubit, and an hand-breadth: so he measured the breadth of the building, one reed, and the height one reed.

6 ¶ Then came he unto the gate † which looketh toward the east, and went up the stairs thereof, and measured the threshold of the gate, which was one reed broad, and the other threshold of the gate, which was one reed broad.

7 And every little chamber was one reed long, and one reed broad, and between the little chambers were five cubits, and the threshold of the gate, by the porch of the gate within was one reed.

8 He measured also the porch of the gate within, one reed.

9 Then measured he the porch of the gate, eight cubits, and the posts thereof two cubits, and the porch of the gate was inward.

10 And the little chambers of the gate eastward, were three on this side, and three on that side, they three were of one measure, and the posts had one measure on this side and on that side.

11 And he measured the breadth of the entry of the gate ten cubits, and the length of the gate thirteen cubits.

12 The † space also before the little chambers was one cubit on this side, and the space was one cubit on that side, and the little chambers were six cubits on this side, and six cubits on that side.

13 He measured then the gate from the roof of one little chamber to the roof of another: the breadth was five and twenty cubits, door against door.

14 He made also posts, of threescore cubits, even unto the post of the court round about the gate.

15 And from the face of the gate of the entrance, unto the face of the porch of the inner gate, were fifty cubits.

16 And there were † narrow windows to the little chambers, and to their posts within the gate round about, and likewise to the ‡ arches: and windows were round about ‡ inward: and upon each post were palm-trees.

18 And the pavement by the side of the gates over against the length of the gates, was the lower pavement.

19 Then he measured the breadth from the forefront of the lower gate, unto the forefront of the inner court ‡ without, an hundred cubits east-ward and north-ward.

20 ¶ And the gate of the outward court † that looked toward the north, he measured the length thereof, and the breadth thereof.

21 And the little chambers thereof were three on this side, and three on that side, and the posts thereof, and the ‡ arches thereof were after the measure of the first gate: the length thereof was fifty cubits, and the breadth five and twenty cubits.

22 And their windows, and their arches, and their palm-trees, were after the measure of the gate that looketh towards the east, and they went up unto it by seven steps; and the arches thereof were before them.

23 And the gate of the inner court was over against the gate toward the north, and toward the east, and he measured from gate to gate an hundred cubits.

24 ¶ After that he brought me toward the south, and behold a gate toward the south, and he measured the posts thereof, and the arches thereof according to these measures.

23 And there were windows in it, and in the arches thereof round about, like those windows; the length was fifty cubits, and the breadth five and twenty cubits.

24 And there were seven steps to go up to it, and the arches thereof were before them, and it had palm-trees, one on this side, and another on that side upon the posts thereof.

27 And there was a gate in the inner court toward the south, and he measured from gate

37 And the poſts thereof were toward the uttercourt, and palm-trees were upon the poſts thereof on this ſide, and on that ſide, and the going up to it had eight ſteps.

d He ſpeaketh of ſix chambers, which were in the porch of the inner court on the north-ſide.

38 And the d chambers, and the entries thereof were by the poſts of the gates, where they waſhed the burnt-offering.

39 ¶ And in the porch of the gate were two tables on this ſide, and two tables on that ſide, to ſlay thereon the burnt-offering, and the ſin-offering, and the treſpaſs-offering.

40 So he meaſured the court, an hundred cubits long, and an hundred cubits broad, four-ſquare, and the altar that was before the houſe.

48 ¶ And he brought me to the porch of the houſe, and meaſured each e poſt of the porch, five cubits on this ſide, and five cubits on that ſide: and the breadth of the gate was three cubits on this ſide, and three cubits on that ſide.

e By the poſt of the porch, he meaneth the wall which was five cubits thick on either ſide of the alley or porch.

49 The length of the porch was twenty cubits, and the breadth eleven cubits, and he brought me by the ſteps whereby they went up to it: and there were pillars by the poſts, one on this ſide, add another on that ſide.

CHAP. XLI.

The meaſures, parts, chambers, and ornaments of the Temple.

AFterward he brought me to the Temple, and meaſured the poſts, ſix cubits broad on the one ſide, and ſix cubits broad on the other ſide, which was the breadth of the tabernacle.

‡ Or, entrance.

2 And the breadth of the ‡ door was ten cubits, and the ſides of the door were five cubits on the one ſide, and five cubits on the other ſide: and he meaſured the length thereof forty cubits, and the breadth twenty cubits.

a The Angel went into the moſt holy place.

3 Then went a he inward: and meaſured the poſts of the door two cubits, and the door ſix cubits, and the breadth of the door ſeven cubits.

3 So he meaſured the length thereof, twenty cubits, and the breadth twenty cubits before the Temple; and he ſaid unto me, This is the moſt holy place.

5 After he meaſured the wall of the houſe ſix cubits, and the breadth of every ſide-chamber four cubits round about the houſe on every ſide.

† Heb ſide-chamber over ſide-chamber.

‡ Or, three and thirty times, or, foot.

6 And the ſide-chambers were three, † one over another, and † thirty in order, and they entred into the wall which was of the houſe for the ſide-chambers round about: that they might † have hold, but they had not hold in the wall of the houſe.

† Heb. be holden.

† Heb. it was made broader and went round.

7 And † there was an enlarging and a winding about ſtill upward to the ſide-chambers, for the winding about of the houſe went ſtill upward round about the houſe: therefore the breadth of the houſe was ſtill upward, and ſo increaſed from the loweſt chamber to the higheſt by the midſt.

8 I ſaw

8 I ſaw alſo the height of the houſe round about: the foundations of the ſide-chambers were a full reed of ſix great cubits.

9 The thickneſs of the wall which was for the ſide-chamber without, was five cubits, and that which was left, was the place of the ſide-chambers that were within.

10 And between the chambers was the wideneſs of twenty cubits round about the houſe on every ſide.

11 And the doors of the ſide-chambers were toward the place that was left, one door toward the north, and another door toward the ſouth, and the breadth of the place that was left, was five cubits round about.

12 Now the building that was before the ſeparate place, at the end toward the weſt, was ſeventy cubits broad, and the wall of the building was five cubits thick round about, and the length thereof ninety cubits.

13 So he meaſured the houſe, an hundred cubits long, and the ſeparate place, and the building, with the walls thereof, an hundred cubits long.

14 Alſo the breadth of the face of the houſe, and of the ſeparate place toward the eaſt, an hundred cubits.

15 And he meaſured the length of the building over againſt the ſeparate place which was behind it, and the ‡ galleries thereof on the one ſide, and on the other ſide an hundred cubits with the inner Temple, and the porches of the court.

‡ Or, ſeverall walks, or walks with pillars.

16 The door-poſts, and the narrow windows, and the galleries round about on their [d] three ſtories, over againſt the door, † cieled with wood round about, ‡ and from the ground up to the windows, and the windows were covered.

18 And it was made with cherubims and palm-trees, ſo that a palm-tree was between a cherub and a cherub, and every cherub had two faces.

19 So that the face of a man was toward the palm-tree on the one ſide, and the face of a young lion toward the palm-tree on the other ſide: it was made through all the houſe round about.

20 From the ground unto above the door were cherubims and palm-trees made, and on the wall of the Temple.

† Heb. poſt.

21 The † poſts of the Temple were ſquared and the face of the ſanctuary: the appearance of the one as the appearance of the other.

22 The altar of wood was three cubits high, and the length thereof two cubits; and the corners thereof, and the length thereof, and the walls thereof were of wood: and he ſaid unto me, This is the table that is before the LORD.

23 And the Temple and the ſanctuary had two doors.

24 And the doors had two leaves a piece, two turning leaves; two leaves for the one door, and two leaves for the other door.

25 And there were made on them, on the doors of the Temple, cherubims and palm-trees, like as were made upon the walls; and there were thick planks upon the face of the porch without.

26 And there were narrow windows and palm-trees on the one ſide and on the other ſide, on the ſides of the porch, and upon the ſide-chambers of the houſe, and thick planks.

CHAP. XLII.

1 The chambers for the Prieſts. 13 The uſe thereof. 19 The meaſures of the outward court.

THen he brought me forth into the utter court, the way toward the north, and he brought me into the chamber that was over againſt the ſeparate place and which was before the building toward the north.

2 Before the length of an hundred cubits was the north-door, and the breadth was fifty cubits.

3 Over againſt the twenty cubits, which were for the inner court, and over againſt the pavement which was for the utter court, was gallery againſt gallery in the ſtories.

4 And before the chambers was a walk of ten cubits breadth inward, a way of one cubit, and their doors toward the north.

5 Now the upper [a] chambers were ſhorter: for the galleries ‡ were higher than theſe, ‡ than the lower and than the middlemoſt of the building.

[a] Theſe chambers were contrary faſhioned to them of the Temple.

‡ Or, and the building conſiſted of the lower and the middlemoſt.

6 For they were in three ſtories, but had not pillars as the pillars of the courts; therefore the building was ſtraitned more than the loweſt, and the middlemoſt from the ground.

7 And the wall that was without over againſt the chambers, towards the utter court on the forepart of the chambers, the length thereof was fifty cubits.

8 For the length of the chambers that were in the utter court was [b] fifty cubits: and lo, before the Temple were an hundred cubits.

[b] So that the wall for the chambers of the outward court and the wall of the inner, was either fifty cubits, and the whole court an hundred.

9 And ‡ from under theſe chambers was ‡ the [c] entry on the eaſt-ſide, ‡ as one goeth into them from the utter court.

‡ Or, from the place.

‡ Or, he that brought me.

c Under theſe chambers were entries, or doors to paſs from one place to another.

10 The chambers were in the thickneſs of the wall of the court toward the eaſt, over againſt the ſeparate place, and over againſt the building.

11 And the way before them was like the appearance of the chambers, which were toward the north, as long as they and as broad as they and all their goings out were both according to their faſhions, and according to their doors.

‡ Or, as he came.

12 And according to the doors of the chambers that were toward the ſouth, was a door in the head of the way, even the way directly before the wall toward the eaſt, as one entred into them.

13 ¶ Then ſaid he unto me, The north-chambers and the ſouth-chambers, which are 650 before the ſeparate place, they be holy chambers, where the Prieſts that approach unto the LORD ſhall eat the moſt holy things: there ſhall they lay the moſt holy things, and the meat-offering, and the ſin-offering, and the treſpaſs-offering, for the place is holy.

14 When the Prieſts enter therein, then ſhall they not go out of the holy place into the utter court, but there they ſhall lay their garments, wherein they miniſter: for they are holy, and ſhall put on other garments, and ſhall approach to thoſe things which are for the people.

15 Now when he had made an end of meaſuring the inner houſe, he brought me forth toward the gate, whoſe proſpect is toward the eaſt, and meaſured it round about.

† Heb. wind. 16 He meaſured the eaſt † ſide with the meaſuring-reed, five hundred reeds, with the meaſuring-reed round about.

17 He meaſured the north-ſide five hundred reeds, with a meaſuring-reed round about.

18 He meaſured the ſouth-ſide five hundred reeds, with the meaſuring-reed.

19 ¶ He turned about to the weſt-ſide, and meaſured five hundred reeds, with the meaſuring reed.

20 He meaſured it by the four ſides it had a wall round about, five hundred reeds long, and five hundred broad, to make a ſeparation between the ſanctuary and the profane place.

b Which was departed afore, Chap. 10. 4. & 11. 22.

5 So the ſpirit took me up, and brought me into the inner court, and behold, the glory of the LORD filled the houſe.

6 And I heard him ſpeaking unto me out of the houſe, and the man ſtood by me.

7. ¶ And he ſaid unto me, Son of man, the place of my throne, and the place of the ſoles of my feet, where I will dwell in the midſt of the children of Iſrael for ever, and my holy name ſhall the houſe of Iſrael no more defile, neither they, nor their Kings, [c] by their whoredom, nor by the carcaſes of [d] their Kings in their high places.

c By their idolatries.

d He alludeth to Ammon and Manaſſeh, who were buried in their gardens near the Temple, and there had erected up monuments to their idols.

8 In their ſetting of their threſhold by my threſholds, and their poſt by my poſt, ‡ and the wall between me and them, they have even defiled my holy name by their abominations that they have committed: wherefore I have conſumed them in mine anger.

‡ Or, for there was but a wall between me and them.

9 Now let them put away their whoredom, and the carcaſes of their Kings far from me, and I will dwell in the midſt of them for ever.

10 ¶ Thou ſon of man, ſhew the houſe to the houſe of Iſrael, that they may be aſhamed of their iniquities, and let them meaſure the ‡ pattern.

‡ Or, ſumme, or, number.

11 And if they be aſhamed of all that they have done, ſhew them the form of the houſe, and the faſhion thereof, and the goings out thereof, and the comings in thereof, and all the forms thereof, and all the ordinances thereof, and all the forms thereof, and all the laws thereof: and write it in their ſight, that they may keep the whole form thereof, and all the ordinances thereof, and do them.

12 This is the law of the houſe; upon the top of the mountain, the whole limit thereof: round about ſhall be moſt holy: behold, this is the law of the houſe.

13 ¶ And theſe are the meaſures of the altar after the cubits; the cubit is a cubit and an hand-breadth, even the † bottom ſhall be a cubit, and the breadth a cubit, and the border thereof by the † edge thereof round about ſhall be a ſpan, and this ſhall be the higher place of the altar.

† Heb. boſom.

† Heb. lip.

14 And from the bottom upon the ground, even to the lower ſettle, ſhall be two cubits, and the breadth one cubit; and from the leſſer ſettle even to the greater ſettle ſhall be four cubits, and the breadth one cubit.

25 So † the altar ſhall be four cubits, and from † the altar and upward ſhall be four horns.

† Heb. Harel, that is, the mountain of God.

18 ¶ And he ſaid unto me, Son of man thus ſaith the Lord GOD, Theſe are the ordinances of the altar, in the day when they ſhall make it, to offer burnt-offerings thereon, and to ſprinckle blood thereon.

19 And thou ſhall give to the Prieſts the Levites that be of the ſeed of Zadok which approach unto me, to miniſter unto me, ſaith the Lord GOD, a young bullock for a ſin-offering.

20 And thou ſhalt take of the blood thereof, and put it on the four horns of it, and on the four corners of the ſettle, and upon the border round about: thus ſhalt thou cleanſe and purge it.

21 Thou ſhalt take the bullock alſo of the ſin-offering, and he ſhall burn it in the appointed appointed place of the houſe without the ſanctuary.

22 And on the ſecond day thou ſhalt offer a kid of the goats without blemiſh for a ſin-offering, and they ſhall cleanſe the altar, as they did cleanſe it with the bullock.

23 When thou haſt made an end of cleanſing it, thou ſhalt offer a young bullock without blemiſh, and a ram out of the flock, without blemiſh.

24 And thou ſhalt offer them before the LORD, and the Prieſts ſhall caſt ſalt upon them, and they ſhall offer them up for a burnt-offering unto the LORD.

25 Seven days ſhalt thou prepare every day a goat for a ſin-offering: they ſhall alſo prepare a young bullock, and a ram out of the flock without blemiſh.

26 Seven days ſhall they purge the altar and purify it, and they ſhall † conſecrate themſelves.

† Heb. fill their hand.

27 And when theſe days are expired, it ſhall be that upon the eight day and ſo forward; the Prieſts ſhall make your burnt-offerings upon the altar, and your ‡ peace-offerings; and I will accept you, ſaith the Lord GOD.

‡ Or, thankofferings.

1 The eaſt-gate aſſigned onely to the Prince. 4 The Prieſts reproved for polluting of the ſanctuary. 9 Idolaters uncapable of the Prieſts office. 15 The ſons of Zadok are accepted thereto. 17 Ordinances for the Prieſts.

THEN he brought me back the way of the gate of the outward ſanctuary which looketh toward the eaſt; and it was ſhut.

2 Then ſaid the LORD unto me, This gate ſhall be [a] ſhut, it ſhall not be opened, and no man ſhall enter in by it; becauſe the LORD the God of Iſrael hath entred in by it, therefore it ſhall be ſhut.

a Meaning, From the common people, but not from the Prieſts, nor the Prince, Chap. 46.8, 9.

3 It is for the Prince; the Prince, he ſhall ſit in it to eat bread before the LORD: he ſhall enter by the way of the porch of that gate, and ſhall go out by the way of the ſame.

4 ¶ Then brought he me the way of the north-gate before the houſe; and I looked, and behold, the glory of the LORD filled the houſe of the LORD; and I fell upon my face.

5 And the LORD ſaid unto me, Son of man, † mark well, and behold with thine eyes, and hear with thine ears all that I ſay unto thee concerning all the ordinances of the houſe of the LORD, and all the laws thereof, and mark well the entring in of the houſe, with every going forth of the ſanctuary.

6 And thou ſhalt ſay to the rebellious, even to the houſe of Iſrael, Thus ſaith the Lord God, O ye houſe of Iſrael, let it ſuffice you of all your abominations.

7 In that ye have brought into my ſanctuary † [b] ſtrangers uncircumciſed in heart, and uncircumciſed in fleſh, to be in my ſanctuary to pollute it, even my houſe, when ye offer my bread, the fat and the bloud, and they have broken my covenant, becauſe of all your abominations.

c Ye have not offered unto me according to my laws.
† Or, ward, or, ordinance: and ſo verſ. 14, & 16.

9 ¶ Thus ſaith the Lord God, No ſtranger uncircumciſed in heart, no uncircumciſed in fleſh ſhall enter into my ſanctuary, of any ſtranger that is among the children of Iſrael.

10 And the [d] Levites that are gone away far from me, when Iſrael went aſtray, which went aſtray away from me after their idols, they ſhall even bear their iniquity.

d The Levites which had committed idolatry, were put from their dignity, and could not be received into the Prieſts office; although they had been of the houſe of Aaron, but muſt ſerve in the inferiour offices, as to watch and to keep the doors, 2 Kings 23. 9.

11 Yet they ſhall be miniſters in my ſanctuary, having charge at the gates of the houſe, and miniſtring to the houſe: they ſhall ſlay the burnt-offering, and the ſacrifice for the people, and they ſhall ſtand before them to miniſter unto them:

12 Becauſe they miniſtred unto them before their idols, and † cauſed the houſe of Iſrael to fall into iniquity; therefore have I lift up mine hand againſt them, ſaith the Lord GOD, and they ſhall bear their iniquity.

† Heb. were for a ſtumbling-block of iniquity unto, &c.

13 And they ſhall not come near unto me to do the office of a Prieſt unto me, nor to come near to any of my holy things, in the moſt holy place: but they ſhall bear their ſhame, and their abominations which they have committed.

14 But I will make them keepers of the charge of the houſe for all the ſervice thereof, and for all that ſhall be done therein.

15 ¶ But the Prieſts the Levites, the ſons of Zadok, that [e] kept the charge of my ſanctuary, when the children of Iſrael went aſtray from me, they ſhall come near to me to miniſter unto me, and they ſhall ſtand before me to offer unto me the fat and the bloud, ſaith the Lord GOD.

e Which obſerved the law of God, and fell not to idolatry.

16 They ſhall enter into my ſanctuary, and they ſhall come near to my table to miniſter unto me, and they ſhall keep my charge.

17 ¶ And it ſhall come to paſs, that when they enter in at the gates of the inner court, they ſhall be clothed with the linen garments, and no wooll ſhall come upon them, whiles they miniſter in the gates of the inner court, and within.

18 They ſhall have linen bonnets upon their heads, and ſhall have linen breeches upon their loyns: they ſhall not gird themſelves ‡ † with any thing that cauſeth ſweat.

‡ Or, in ſweating places.
† Heb. in, or, with ſweat.

19 And when they go forth into the utter court, even into the utter court to the people, they ſhall put off their garments wherein they miniſtred, and lay them in the holy chambers, and they ſhall put on other garments, and they ſhall not ſanctify the people with their garments.

20 Neither ſhall they [f] ſhave their heads, nor ſuffer their locks to grow long, they ſhall onely poll their heads.

f As did the infidels and heathen.

21 Neither ſhall any Prieſt drink wine, when they enter into the inner court.

† Heb. from a Priest.

23 And they shall teach my people the difference between the holy and profane, and cause them to discern between the unclean and the clean.

24 And in controversy they shall stand in judgment, and they shall judg it according to my judgments: and they shall keep my laws and my statutes in all mine assemblies, and they shall hallow my sabbaths.

* Lev. 21. 1, 11.

25 And they shall come at no * dead person to defile themselves: but for father or for mother, or for son or for daughter, for brother, or for sister that hath had no husband, they may ‖ defile themselves.

‖ They may be at their burial, which was a defiling.

26 And after he is cleansed, they shall reckon unto him seven days.

27 And in the day that he goeth into the sanctuary, into the inner court to minister in the sanctuary, he shall offer his sin-offering, saith the Lord GOD.

28 And it shall be unto them for an inheritance: I * am their inheritance: and ye shall give them no possession in Israel; I am their possession.

* Num. 18. 20. Deut. 10. 9. & 18. 1, 2. Josh. 13. 14. 33.

29 They shall eat the meat-offering, and the sin-offering, and the trespass-offering; and every ‡ dedicate thing in Israel shall be theirs.

‡ Or, devoted.

30 And the ‡ * first of all the first-fruits of all things, and every oblation of all of every sort of your oblations shall be the Priests: ye shall also give unto the Priest the first of your dough, that he may cause the blessing to rest in thine house.

‡ Or, chief.
* Exod. 13. 2. & 22. 29, 30. Num. 3. 13. & 18. 12.

31 The Priest shall not eat of any thing that is * dead of it self or torn, whether it be fowl or beast.

* Exod. 22. 31. Lev. 22. 8.

CHAP. XLV.

1 The portion of land for the sanctuary, 6 for the city, 7 and for the Prince. 9 Ordinances for the Prince.

† Heb. when ye cause the land to fall.

MOreover. † when ye shall divide by lot the land for inheritance, ye shall offer an oblation unto the LORD, † an ‖ holy portion of the land: the length shall be the length of five and twenty thousand reeds, and the breadth shall be ten thousand: this shall be holy in all the borders thereof round about.

† Heb. holiness
‖ Of all the land of Israel the Lord only requireth this portion for the Temple, and for the Priests, for the city, and for the Prince.

2 Of this there shall be for the sanctuary five hundred in length, with five hundred in breadth, square round about; and fifty cubits round about, for the ‡ suburbs thereof.

‡ Or, void places.

3 And of this measure shalt thou measure the length of five and twenty thousand, and the breadth of ten thousand: and in it shall be the sanctuary, and the most holy place.

4 The holy portion of the land shall be for the Priests the ministers of the sanctuary, which shall come near to minister unto the LORD, and it shall be a place for their houses, and an holy place for the sanctuary.

5 And the five & twenty thousand of length, & the ten thousand of breadth shall also the Levites the ministers of the house have for themselves, for a possession for twenty chambers.

6 ¶ And ye shall appoint the possession of the city five thousand bread, and five and twenty thousand long over against the oblation of the holy portion: it shall be for the whole house of Israel.

7 ¶ And a portion shall be for the Prince on the one side and on the other side of the oblation of the holy portion, and of the possession of the city, before the oblation of the holy portion, and before the possession of the city, from the west-side west-ward and from the east-side east-ward; and the length shall be over against one of the portions, from the west-border unto the east-border.

8 In the land shall be his possession in Israel, and my Princes shall no more oppress my people, and the rest of the land shall they give to the house of Israel according to their tribes.

9 ¶ Thus saith the Lord GOD, Let it [b] suffice you, O Princes of Israel: remove violence and spoil, and execute judgment and justice, take away your † exactions from my people, saith the Lord God.

b The Prophet sheweth, that the heads must be first reformed, before any good order can be established among the people.
† Heb. expulsions.

10 Ye shall have just * balances, and a just [c] ephah, and a just bath.

* Lev. 19. 35, 36.
c Ephah and Bath were both of one quantity, save that Ephah contained in dry things, that which Bath did in liquor, Lev. 5. 11. 1 King. 5. 11.

11 The ephah and the bath shall be of one measure; that the bath may contain the tenth part of an homer, and the ephah the tenth part of an homer: the measure thereof shall be after the homer.

12 And the * shekel shall be twenty gerahs: twenty shekels, [d] five and twenty shekels, fifteen shekels shall be your maneh.

* Exod. 30. 13. Lev. 27. 25. Num. 3. 47.
d That is, Three-score shekels make a weight called Mina: for he joyneth these three parts to a mina.

13 This is the oblation that ye shall offer; the sixth part of an ephah of an homer of wheat, and ye shall give the sixth part of an epha of an homer of barley.

14 Concerning the ordinance of oyl, the bath of oyl, ye shall offer the tenth part of a bath out of the cor, which is an homer of ten baths; for ten baths are an homer:

15 And one ‡ lamb out of the flock, out of two hundred, out of the fat pastures of Israel for a meat-offering, and for a burnt-offering, and for ‡ peace-offerings, to make reconciliation for them, saith the Lord GOD.

‡ Or, kid.
‡ Or, thank-offerings.

16 All the people of the land † shall give this oblation ‡ for the Prince in Israel.

† Heb. shall be for ‡ Or, with.

17 And it shall be the Prince's part to give burnt-offerings, and meat-offerings, and drink-offerings, in the feasts, and in the new-moons, and in the sabbaths, in all solemnities of the house of Israel: he shall prepare the sin-offering, and the meat-offering, and the burnt-offering, and the ‡ peace-offerings, to make reconciliation for the house of Israel.

‡ Or, thank-offerings.

18 Thus saith the Lord GOD, In the first month in the first day of the [e] month, thou shalt take a young bullock without blemish, and cleanse the sanctuary.

e Which was Nisan, containing part of March, and part of April.

19 And the Priest shall take of the bloud of the sin-offering, and put it upon the posts of the house, and upon the four corners of the settle of the altar, and upon the posts of the gate of the inner court.

20 And

20 And ſo thou ſhalt do the ſeventh day of the month, for every one that erreth, and for him that is ſimple: ſo ſhall ye reconcile the houſe.

21 In the firſt month, in the fourteenth day of the month, ye ſhall have the paſſ-over, a feaſt of ſeven days, unleavened bread ſhall be eaten.

22 And upon that day ſhall the Prince prepare for himſelf, and for all the people of the land, a bullock for a ſin-offering.

23 And ſeven days of the feaſt he ſhall prepare a burnt-offering to the LORD, ſeven bullocks, and ſeven rams without blemiſh, daily the ſeven days, and a kid of the goats daily for a ſin-offering.

24 And he ſhall prepare a meat-offering of an ephah for a bullock, and an ephah for a ram, and an [f] hin of oyl for an ephah.

[f] Lev. 23. 40.

25 In the ſeventh month, in the fifteenth day of the month ſhall he do the like in the [g] * feaſt of the ſeven days, according to the ſin-offering, according to the burnt-offering, and according to the meat-offering, and according to the oyl.

[g] Num. 29. 12.

CHAP. XLVI.

1 Ordinances for the Prince in his worſhip, 9 and for the people. 16 An order for the Prince's inheritance. 19 The courts for boiling and baking.

THus ſaith the Lord GOD, The gate of the inner court that looketh toward the eaſt, ſhall be ſhut the ſix working-days: but on the Sabbath it ſhall be opened, and in the day of the new-moon it ſhall be opened.

2 And the Prince ſhall enter by the way of the porch of that gate without, and ſhall ſtand by the poſt of the gate, and the Prieſts ſhall prepare his burnt-offering, & his peace-offerings, and he ſhall worſhip at the threſhold of the gate: then he ſhall go forth, but the gate ſhall not be ſhut until the evening.

3 Likewiſe the people of the land ſhall worſhip at the door of this gate before the LORD, in the Sabbaths, and in the new-moons.

4 And the burnt-offering that the Prince ſhall offer unto the LORD in the Sabbath-day, ſhall be ſix lambs without blemiſh, and a ram without blemiſh.

5 And the meat-offering ſhall be an ephah for a ram, and the meat-offering for the lambs † [a] as he ſhall be able to give, and an hin of oyl to an ephah.

† Heb. the gift of his hand.
[a] That is, As much as he will.

6 And in the day of the new-moon it ſhall be a young bullock without blemiſh, and ſix lambs, and a ram: they ſhall be without blemiſh.

7 And he ſhall prepare a meat-offering, an ephah for a bullock, and an ephah for a ram: and for the lambs [b] according as his hand ſhall attain unto, and an hin of oyl to an ephah.

[b] Meaning, As he ſhall think good.

8 And when the Prince ſhall enter, he ſhall go in by the way of the porch of that gate, and he ſhall go forth by the way thereof.

9 ¶ But when the people of the land ſhall come before the LORD, in the ſolemn feaſts, he that entreth in by the way of the north-gate to worſhip, ſhall go out by the way of the ſouth-gate: and he that entreth by the way of the ſouth-gate, ſhall go forth by the way of the north-gate: he ſhall not return by the way of the gate whereby he came in, but ſhall go forth over againſt it.

10 And the Prince in the midſt of them, when they go in, ſhall go in; and when they go forth, ſhall go forth.

11 And in the feaſts, and in the ſolemnities, the meat-offering ſhall be an epaph to a bullock, and an ephah to a ram, and to the lambs as he is able to give, and an hin of oyl to an ephah.

12 Now when the Prince ſhall prepare a voluntary burnt-offering or peace-offerings, voluntarily unto the LORD, one ſhall then open him the gate that looketh toward the eaſt, and he ſhall prepare his burnt-offering, and his peace-offerings, as he did on the ſabbath-day: then he ſhall go forth, and after his going forth, one ſhall ſhut the gate.

13 Thou ſhalt daily prepare a burnt-offering unto the LORD, of a lamb † of the firſt year without blemiſh; thou ſhalt prepare it † every morning.

† Heb. a ſon of his year.
† Heb. morning by morning.

14 And thou ſhalt prepare a meat-offering for it every morning, the ſixth part of an ephah, and the third part of an hin of oyl, to temper with the fine flour; a meat-offering continually, by a perpetual ordinance unto the LORD.

15 Thus ſhall they prepare the lamb, and the meat-offering, and the oyl, every morning, for a continual burnt-offering.

16 ¶ Thus ſaith the Lord GOD, If the Prince give a gift unto any of his ſons, the inheritance thereof ſhall be his ſons, it ſhall be their poſſeſſion by inheritance.

17 But if he give a gift of his inheritance to one of his ſervants, then it ſhall be his to the [c] year of liberty; after, it ſhall return to the Prince: but his inheritance ſhall be his ſons for them.

[c] Which was at the Jubile, Lev. 25. 9.

18 Moreover, the Prince ſhall [d] not take of the people's inheritance, by oppreſſion to thruſt them out of their poſſeſſion; but he ſhall give his ſons inheritance out of his own poſſeſſion: that my people be not ſcattered every man from his poſſeſſion.

[d] But be content with that portion that God hath aſſigned him, as Chap. 45. 8.

19 ¶ After, he brought me through the entry, which was at the ſide of the gate, into the holy chambers of the Prieſts, which looked toward the north: and behold, there was a place on the two ſides weſt-ward.

20 Then ſaid he unto me, This is the place where the Prieſts ſhall boil the treſpaſs-offering and the ſin-offering, where they ſhall bake the meat-offering: that they bear them not out into the utter court, [e] to ſanctify the people.

[e] That the people ſhould not have to do with thoſe things which appertain to the Lord, and think it lawful for them to eat them.

21 Then he brought me forth into the utter court, and cauſed me to paſs by the four corners of the court, and behold, † in every corner of the court there was a court.

† Heb. a court in a corner of a court, and a court in a corner of a court.

‡ Or, made with chimnies
† Heb. cornered.

22 In the four corners of the court there were courts ‡ joyned of fourty cubits long, and thirty broad; these four † corners were of one measure.

23 And there was a row of building round about in them, round about them four, and it was made with boiling-places under the rows round about.

24 Then said he unto me, These are the places of them that boil, where the ministers of the house shall boil the sacrifice of the people.

CHAP. XLVII.

1 The vision of the holy waters. 6 The virtue of them. 13 The borders of the land. 22 The division of it by lot.

AFterward he brought me again unto the door of the house, and behold, waters issued out from under the threshold of the house east-ward: for the forefront of the house stood toward the east, and the [a] waters came down from under from the right side of the house, at the south-side of the altar.

a Whereby are meant the spiritual graces that should be given to the Church under the kingdom of Christ.

2 Then brought he me out of the way of the gate north-ward, and led me about the way without unto the utter gate by the way that looketh east-ward, and behold, there ran out waters on the right side.

3 And when the man that had the line in his hand, went forth east-ward, he measured a thousand cubits, and he brought me through the waters: the † waters were to the ankles.

† Heb. waters of the ankles.

4 Again he measured a thousand, and brought me through the waters; the waters were to the knees: again he measured a thousand, and brought me through; the waters were to the loyns

5 Afterward he measured a thousand, and it was [b] a river that I could not pass over: for the waters were risen, † waters to swim in, a river that could not be passed over.

b Signifying, That the graces of God should never decrease, but ever abound in his Church.
† Heb. waters of swimming.

6 ¶ And he said unto me, Son of man, hast thou seen this? then he brought me and caused me to return to the brink of the river.

7 Now when I had returned, behold, at the † bank of the river were very many * [c] trees on the one side and on the other.

† Heb. lip.
* Revel. 22. 2.
c Meaning, The multitude of them that should be refreshed by the spiritual waters.

8 Then said he unto me, These waters issue out toward the east-country, and go down into the ‡ desert, and go into the [d] sea: which being brought forth into the sea, the [e] waters shall be healed.

‡ Or, plain.
d Shewing, That the abundance of these graces should be so great, that all the world should be full thereof, which is here meant by the Persian sea, or Genezareth, and the Sea called Mediterraneum, Zeph. 14. 1.
e The waters, which of nature are salt and unwholsom, shall be made sweet and comfortable.

9 And it shall come to pass, that every thing that liveth, which moveth, whithersoever the † rivers shall come, shall live: and there shall be a very great multitude of fish, because these waters shall come thither: for they shall be healed, and every thing shall live whither the river cometh.

† Heb. two rivers.

10 And it shall come to pass, that the [f] fishers shall stand upon it, from En-gedi even unto [g] En-eglaim; they shall be a place to spread forth nets, their fish shall be according to their kinds as the fish of the [h] great sea, exceeding many.

f Signifying, That when God bestoweth his mercies in such abundance, the Ministers shall by their preaching win many.
g Which were cities at the corners of the salt or dead sea.

11 But the [i] miry places thereof, and the marishes thereof, ‡ shall not be healed, they shall be given to salt.

h They shall be here of all sorts, and in as great abundance as in the great Ocean, whereby they are bred.
i That is, the wicked and reprobate.
‡ Or, and that which shall not be healed.

12 And by the river upon the bank thereof on this side and on that side, † shall grow all trees for meat, whose leaf shall not fade, neither shall the fruit thereof be consumed: it shall bring forth ‡ new fruit according to his months, because their waters they issued out of the sanctuary, and the fruit thereof shall be for meat, and the leaf thereof ‡ for * medicine:

† Heb. shall come up.
‡ Or, principal.
‡ Or, for bruises and sores.
* Revel. 22. 2.

13 ¶ Thus saith the Lord GOD, This shall be the border, whereby ye shall inherit the land according to the twelve tribes of Israel: Joseph shall have two portions.

14 And ye shall inherit it, one as well as another: concerning the which I ‡ * lifted up mine hand to give it unto your fathers, and this land shall fall unto you for inheritance.

‡ Or, sware.
* Gen. 27. 7. & 17. 8. & 26. 3. & 28. 13.

15 And this shall be the border of the [k] land toward the north-side, from the great sea, the way of Hethlon, as men go to Zedad:

k By the land of promise he signifieth the spiritual land, whereof this was a figure.

16 Hamath, Berothah, Sibraim, which is between the border of Damascus, and the border of Hamath; ‡ Hazar-hatticon, which is by the coast of Hauran.

‡ Or, the middle village.

17 And the border from the sea, shall be Hazar-enan, the border of Damascus, and the north north-ward, and the border of Hamath: and this is the north-side.

18 And the east-side ye shall measure † from Hauran, and from Damascus, and from Gilead, and from the land of Israel by Jordan, from the border unto the east-sea: & this is the east-side.

† Heb. from between.

19 And the south-side south-ward from Tamar, even to the waters of ‡ strife in Kadesh, the ‡ river to the great sea: and this is the south-side ‡ south-ward.

‡ Or, Meribah.
‡ Or, valley.
‡ Or, toward Teman.

20 The west-side also shall be the great sea from the border, till a man come over against Hamath: this is the west-side.

21 So shall ye divide this land unto you, according to the tribes of Israel.

22 ¶ And it shall come to pass, that ye shall divide it by lot for an inheritance unto you, and to the strangers that sojourn among you, which shall beget children among you: and they shall be unto you as born in the country among the children of Israel, [l] they shall have inheritance with you among the tribes of Israel.

l Meaning, That in this spiritual kingdom, there should be no difference between Jew nor Gentile, but that all should be partakers of this inheritance in their head Christ.

23 And it shall come to pass, that in what tribe the stranger sojourneth, there shall ye give him his inheritance, saith the Lord GOD.

CHAP. XLVIII.

1, 23 The portions of the twelve tribes, 8 of the sanctuary, 15 of the city and suburbs, and of the Prince. 30 The dimensions and gates of the city.

NOw these are the names of the [a] tribes, from the north-end to the coast of the way of Hethlon, as one goeth to Hamath, Hazar-enan, the border of Damascus northward, to the coast of Hamath (for these are his sides east and west) † a portion for Dan.

a The tribes, after that they entred into the land under Joshua, divided the land somewhat otherwise then is here set forth by this vision.
† Heb. one portion.

2 And by the border of Dan, from the east-side unto the west-side, a portion for Asher.

3 And

3 And by the border of Aſher, from the eaſt-ſide even unto the weſt-ſide, a portion for Naphtali.

4 And by the border of Naphtali, from the eaſt-ſide unto the weſt-ſide, a portion for Manaſſeh.

5 And by the border of Manaſſeh, from the eaſt-ſide unto the weſt-ſide, a portion for Ephraim.

6 And by the border of Ephraim, from the eaſt-ſide even unto the weſt-ſide, a portion for Reuben.

7 And by the border of Reuben, from the eaſt-ſide unto the weſt-ſide, a portion for Judah.

8 ¶ And by the border of Judah, from the eaſt-ſide unto the weſt-ſide, [b] ſhall be the offering which they ſhall offer of five and twenty thouſand reeds in breadth, and in length, as one of the other parts, from the eaſt-ſide unto the weſt-ſide, and the ſanctuary ſhall be in the midſt of it.

[b] That is, the portion of the ground, which they ſhall ſeparate and appoint to the Lord which ſhall be divided into three parts: for the Prieſts, for the Prince, and for the Citie.

9 The oblation that ye ſhall offer unto the Lord, ſhall be of five and twenty thouſand in length, and of ten thouſand in breadth.

10 And for them, even for the Prieſts ſhall be this holy oblation, toward the north, five and twenty thouſand in length, and toward the weſt ten thouſand in breadth, and toward the eaſt ten thouſand in breadth, and toward the ſouth five and twenty thouſand in length, and the ſanctuary of the Lord ſhall be in the midſt thereof.

11 ‡ It ſhall be for the Prieſts that are ſanctified, of the ſons of Zadok, which have kept my ‡ charge, which went not aſtray, when the children of Iſrael went aſtray, as the Levites went aſtray.

‡ Or, the ſanctified portion ſhall be for the Prieſts.

‡ Or, ward, or, obſerved.

12 And this oblation of the land that is offered, ſhall be unto them a thing moſt holy by the border of the Levites.

13 And over againſt the border of the Prieſts, the Levites ſhall have five and twenty thouſand in length, and ten thouſand in breadth: all the length ſhall be five and twenty thouſand, and the breadth ten thouſand.

14 And they ſhall not ſell of it, neither exchange, nor alienate the firſt-fruits of the land: for it is holy unto the Lord.

15 ¶ And the five thouſand that are left in the breadth over againſt the five and twenty thouſand, ſhall be a profane place for the city, for dwelling and for ſuburbs, and the city ſhall be in the midſt thereof.

16 And theſe ſhall be the meſures thereof, the north-ſide four thouſand and [c] five hundred, and the ſouth-ſide four thouſand and five hundred, and on the eaſt-ſide four thouſand and five hundred, and the weſt-ſide four thouſand and five hundred.

[c] Meaning, that it ſhould be ſquare.

17 And the ſuburbs of the city ſhall be toward the north two hundred and fiftie, and toward the ſouth two hundred and fiftie, and toward the eaſt two hundred and fiftie, and toward the weſt two hundred and fiftie.

18 And the reſidue in length over againſt the oblation of the holy portion ſhall be ten thouſand eaſt-ward, and ten thouſand weſt-ward: and it ſhall be over againſt the oblation of the holy portion, and the increaſe thereof ſhall be for food unto them that ſerve the city.

19 And they that ſerve the city, ſhall ſerve it out of all the tribes of Iſrael.

20 All the oblation ſhall be five and twenty thouſand, by [d] five and twenty thouſand: ye ſhall offer the holy oblation four-ſquare, with the poſſeſſion of the city.

[d] Every way it ſhall be five and twenty thouſand.

21 ¶ And the reſidue ſhall be for the Prince on the one ſide and on the other of the holy oblation, and of the poſſeſſion of the city over againſt the five and twenty thouſand, of the oblation toward the eaſt-border, and weſt-ward over againſt the five and twenty thouſand toward the weſt-border, over againſt the portions for the Prince, and it ſhall be the holy oblation, and the ſanctuary of the houſe ſhall be in the midſt thereof.

22 Moreover, from the poſſeſſion of the Levites, and from the poſſeſſion of the city, being in the midſt of that which is the Prince's, between the border [e] of Judah and the border of Benjamin, ſhall be for the Prince.

[e] So that Judah was on the north ſide of the Prince's and Levites portions, and Benjamin on the ſouth ſide.

23 As for the reſt of the tribes, from the eaſt-ſide unto the weſt-ſide, Benjamin ſhall have † a portion.

29 This is the land which ye ſhall divide by lot unto the tribes of Iſrael for inheritance, and theſe are their portions, ſaith the Lord GOD.

30 ¶ And theſe are the goings out of the city on the north-ſide, four thouſand and five hundred meſures.

31 And the gates of the citie ſhall be after the names of the tribes of Iſrael, three gates north-ward; one gate of Reuben; one gate of Judah, one gate of Levi.

32 And at the eaſt-ſide four thouſand and five hundred: and three gates; and one gate of Joſeph; one gate of Benjamin, one gate of Dan.

33 And at the ſouth-ſide four thouſand and five hundred meſures: and three gates; one gate of Simeon; one gate of Iſſachar, one gate of Zebulum.

34 At the weſt-ſide four thouſand and five hundred, with their three gates; one gate of Gad, one gate of Aſher, one gate of Naphtali.

35 It was round about eighteen thouſand meſures: and the name of the city from that day ſhall be, † The LORD is there.

THE

THE BOOK OF DANIEL.

THE ARGUMENT.

THe great providence of God, and his ſingular mercie toward his Church are moſt lively here ſet forth, who never leaveth his deſtitute, but now in their greateſt miſeries and afflictions giveth them Prophets, as Ezekiel, and Daniel, whom he adorned with ſuch graces of his holy Spirit, that Daniel above all other had moſt ſpecial revelations of ſuch things as ſhould come to the Church, even from the time that they were in captivity, to the laſt end of the world, and to the general reſurrection, as of the four Monarchies and Empires of the world, to wit, of the Babylonians, Perſians, Grecians, and Romans. Alſo, of the certain number of the times even unto Chriſt, when all ceremonies and ſacrifices ſhould be the accompliſhment thereof: moreover ſheweth Chriſt's office and the cauſe of his death, which was by his ſacrifice to take away ſins, and to bring everlaſting life. And as from the beginning, God ever exerciſed his people under the croſs, ſo he teacheth here, that after that Chriſt is offered, he will ſtill leave this exerciſe to his Church untill the dead riſe again, and Chriſt gather his into his kingdom in the heavens.

2 And the Lord gave Jehojakim King of Judah into his hand, with part of the veſſels of the houſe of God, which he carried into the land of [b] Shinar to the houſe of his God, and he brought the veſſels into the treaſure-houſe of his God.

b Which was a plain by Babylon, where was the Temple of their great God, and is here taken for Babylon.

3 ¶ And the King ſpake unto [c] Aſhpenaz the maſter of his [d] evnuchs, that he ſhould bring certain of the children of Iſrael, and of the [e] King's ſeed, and of the Princes;

c Who was as maſter of the wards.

d He calleth them evnuchs whom the King nouriſhed and brought up to be rulers of other countries afterward.

e His purpoſe was to keep them as hoſtages, and that he might ſhew himſelf victorious, and alſo by their good intreaty and learning of his Religion, they might favour rather him than the Jews, and ſo to be able to ſerve him as governours in their land: moreover, by this means the Jews might be better kept in ſubjection, fearing otherwiſe to procure hurt to theſe noble men.

4 Children in whom was no blemiſh, but [f] well-favoured, and skilfull in all wiſdom, and cunning in knowledg, and underſtanding ſcience, and ſuch as had ability in them to ſtand in the King's palace, and whom they might teach the [g] learning and the tongue of the Chaldeans.

f The King required three things, that they ſhould be of noble birth, that they ſhould be wity and learned, and that they ſhould be of a ſtrong and comly nature, that they might do him better ſervice: this did he for his own commodity, therefore it is not to praiſe his liberality: yet in this he is worthy praiſe, that he eſteemed learning, and knew that is was a neceſſarie meant to govern by. g That they might forget their own Religion and country faſhions, to ſerve him the better to his purpoſe: yet it is not to be thought that Daniel did learn any knowledg that was not godly: in all points he refuſed the abuſe of things and ſuperſtition, inſomuch that he would not eat the meat that the King appointed him, but was content to learn the knowledg of natural things. h That by their good entertainment they might learn to forget the mediocritie of their own people. † Heb. the wine of his drink. i To the intent that in this time they might both learn the manners of the Chaldeans, and alſo their tongue. k As well to ſerve at the table, as in other offices.

5 And the King appointed them a daily [h] proviſion of the King's meat, and of † the wine which he drank: ſo nouriſhing them [i] three years, that at the end thereof they might [k] ſtand before the King.

6 Now among theſe were of the children of Judah, Daniel, Hananiah, Miſhael, and Azariah:

7 Unto whom the Prince of the evnuchs gave names: for he [l] gave unto Daniel the name of Belteſhazzar; and to Hananiah, of Shadrach; and to Miſhael, and Meſhach; and to Azariah, of Abednego.

l That they might altogether forget their Religion: for the Jews gave their children names, which might ever put them in remembrance of ſome point of Religion: therefore this was a great temptation, and a ſign of ſervitude which they were not able to refuſe.

8 ¶ But Daniel purpoſed in his heart, that he would not [m] defile himſelf with the portion of the King's meat, nor with the wine which he drank: therefore he requeſted of the Prince of the evnuchs, that he might not defile himſelf.

m Not that he thought any Religion to be in the meat or drink (for afterward he did eat) but becauſe the King ſhould not entiſe him by this ſweet poiſon to forget his Religion and accuſtomed ſobrietie, and that in his meat & drink he might daily remember of what people he was: and Daniel bringeth this in, to ſhew how God from the beginning aſſiſted him with his Spirit, and at length called him to be a Prophet.

9 Now God had brought Daniel into favour and tender love with the Prince of the evnuchs.

10 And the Prince of the evnuchs ſaid unto Daniel, [n] I fear my Lord the King, who hath appointed your meat and your drink: for why ſhould he ſee your faces † worſe liking than the children which are your ‡ ſort? then ſhall ye make me endanger my head to the King.

n He ſuppoſed they did this for their Religion which was contrary to the Babylonians, and therefore herein he repreſented them, which are of no Religion; for neither he would condemn theirs, nor maintain his own.

† Heb. ſadder.

16 Thus Melzar took away the portion of their meat, and the wine that they ſhould drink: and gave them puls.

17 ¶ As for theſe four children, God gave them knowledge and skill in all learning and [r] wiſdom, and ‡ Daniel had underſtanding in all [f] viſions and dreams.

18 Now at the [t] end of the days that the King had ſaid he ſhould bring them in, then the Prince of the eunuchs brought them in before Nebuchadnezzar.

19 And the King communed with them, and among them all was found none like Daniel, Hananiah, Miſhael, and Azariah: therefore ſtood they before the King.

20 And in all matters of † wiſdom and underſtanding that the King enquired of them he found them ten times better than all the magicians and aſtrologers that were in all his realm.

1 Nebuchadnezzar forgetting his dream, requireth it of the Chaldeans, by promiſes and threatnings. 10 They acknowledging their inability, are judged to die. 14 Daniel obtaining ſome reſpit, findeth the dream. 19 He bleſſeth God. 24 He ſtaying the decree, is brought to the King. 31 The dream. 36 The interpretation. 40 Daniel's advancement.

AND in the ſecond [a] year of the reign of Nebuchadnezzar, Nebuchadnezzar dreamed [b] dreams, wherewith his ſpirit was [c] troubled, and his [d] ſleep brake from him.

2 Then the King commanded to call the magicians, and the aſtrologers, and the ſorcerers, and the [e] Chaldeans, for to ſhew the King his dreams: ſo they came and ſtood before the King.

3 And the King ſaid unto them, I have dreamed a dream, and my ſpirit was troubled to know the dream.

4 Then ſpake the [f] Chaldeans to the King in Syriack, * O King, live for ever: tell thy ſervants the dream, & we will ſhew the interpretation.

5 The King anſwered and ſaid to the Chaldeans, The thing is gon from me: if ye will not make known unto me the dream, with the interpretation thereof, ye [g] ſhall be * † cut in pieces, and your houſes ſhall be made a dunghill.

6 But if ye ſhew the dream, and the interpretation thereof, ye ſhall receive of me gifts and ‡ rewards, and great honour: therefore ſhew me the dream, and the interpretation thereof.

7 They anſwered again and ſaid, Let the King tell [h] his ſervants the dream, and we will ſhew the interpretation of it.

8 The King anſwered and ſaid, I know of certainty that ye would † gain the time, becauſe ye ſee the thing is gon from me.

9 But if ye will not make known unto me the dream, there is but one decree for you: for ye have prepared lying and corrupt words to ſpeak before me, till the time be changed: therefore tell me the dream, and I ſhall know that ye can ſhew me the interpretation thereof.

10 ¶ The Chaldeans anſwered before the King, and ſaid, There is not a man upon the earth that can ſhew the King's matter: therefore there is no King, Lord, nor Ruler, that asked ſuch things at any magician, or aſtrologer, or Chaldean.

11 And it is a rare thing that the King requireth, and there is none other that can ſhew it before the King, except the Gods, whoſe dwelling is not with fleſh.

12 For this cauſe the King was angry and very furious, and commanded to deſtroy all the wiſe men of Babylon.

13 And the decree went forth that the wiſe men ſhould be ſlain; and they [i] ſought Daniel and his fellows to be ſlain.

14 ¶ Then Daniel † anſwered with counſel and wiſdom to Arioch the ‡ † captain of the King's guard, which was gon forth to ſlay the wiſe men of Babylon:

15 He anſwered and ſaid to Arioch the King's captain, Why is the decree ſo haſtie from the King? then Arioch made the thing known to Daniel.

16 Then Daniel went in, and deſired of the King that he would give him time, and that he would ſhew the King the interpretation.

17 Then Daniel went to his houſe, and made the thing known to Hananiah, Miſhael, and Azariah his companions:

18 That they would deſire mercies † of the God of heaven concerning this ſecret: ‡ that Daniel and his fellows ſhould not periſh with the reſt of the wiſe men of Babylon.

19 ¶ Then was the ſecret revealed unto Daniel in a night-viſion: then Daniel bleſſed the God of heaven.

20 Daniel anſwered and ſaid, * Bleſſed be the name of God for ever and ever: for wiſdom and might are his.

21 And he changeth the times and the ſeaſons: he removeth Kings, & ſetteth up Kings: he giveth wiſdom unto the wiſe, and knowledg to them that know underſtanding.

22 He revealeth the deep and ſecret things: he knoweth what is in the darkneſs, and the [k] light dwelleth with him.

23 I thank thee, and praiſe thee, O thou God of my [l] fathers, who haſt given me wiſdom and [m] might, and haſt made known unto me now what we deſired of thee: for thou haſt now made known unto us the King's matter.

24 ¶ Therefore Daniel went in unto Arioch, whom the King had ordained to deſtroy the wiſe men of Babylon; he went and ſaid thus unto him, Deſtroy not the [n] wiſe men of Babylon: bring me in before the King, and I will ſhew unto the King the interpretation.

25 Then Arioch brought in Daniel before the King in haſte, and ſaid thus unto him, † I have have found a man of the † captives of Judah, that will make known unto the King the interpretation.

† Chal children of the captivity of Judah.

26 The King answered and said to Daniel, whose name was Belteshazzar, Art thou able to make known unto me the dream which I have seen, and the interpretation thereof?

27 Daniel answered in the presence of the King, and said, The secret which the King hath demanded, cannot the wise men, the astrologians, the magicians, the soothsayers shew unto the King;

28 But there is a God in ° heaven that revealeth secrets, and † maketh known to the King Nebuchadnezzar, what shall be in the latter days, Thy dream, and the visions of thy head upon thy bed, are these;

o He affirmeth that man by reason and art is not able to attain to the cause of God's secrets, but the understanding only thereof must come of God: whereby he smiteth the King with a certain fear and reverence of God, that he might be the more apt to receive the high mysteries, that should be revealed.

† Chald hath made known.

29 As for thee, O King, thy thoughts † came into thy mind, upon thy bed, what should come to pass hereafter: and he that revealeth secrets maketh known unto thee what shall come to pass.

† Chald came up.

30 But as p for me, this secret is not revealed to me, for any wisdom that I have more than any living, but for their sakes that shall make known the interpretation to the King, and that thou mightest know the thoughts of thy heart.

p Because he had said, that God only must reveal the signification of this dream, the King might have asked why Daniel did enterprise to interpret it, and therefore he sheweth that he was but God's minister, and had no gifts, but such as God had given him to set forth his glory.

31 ¶ Thou, O King, † sawest, and behold, a great image: this great image whose brightness was excellent, stood before thee, and the form thereof was terrible.

† Chald. wast seeing.

32 This image's head was of fine q gold, his breast and his arms of silver, his belly and his ‡ thighs of brass.

q By gold, silver, brass, and iron, are meant the Chaldean, Persian, Macedonian, and Roman kingdoms, which should successively rule all the world, till Christ (which is here called the stone) come himself, and destroy the last: and this was to assure the Jews, that their afflictions should not end with the empire of the Chaldeans, but that they should patiently abide the coming of Messiah, which should be at the end of this fourth Monarchie.

‡ Or, side.

33 His legs of iron, his feet part of iron and part of clay.

34 Thou sawest till that a stone was cut out ‡ without hands, which smote the image upon his feet that were of iron and clay, and brake them to pieces.

‡ Or, which was not in hands, as verſ. 45.

35 Then was the iron, the clay, the brass, the silver and the gold broken to pieces together, and became like the chaft of the summer threshing-floors, and the wind carried them away, that no place was found for them: and the stone that smote the image became a great mountain, and filled the whole earth.

36 ¶ This is the dream; and we will tell the interpretation thereof before the King.

37 Thou, O King, art a King of Kings: for the God of heaven hath given thee a kingdom, power, and strength, and glory.

38 And wheresoever the children of men dwell, the beasts of the field and the fowls of the heaven hath he given into thine hand, and hath made thee ruler over them all: thou art this r head of gold.

r Daniel leaveth out the kingdom of the Assyrians, which was before the Babylonians, both because it was not a Monarchie and generall Empire, and also because he would declare the things that were to come, to the coming of Christ, for the comfort of the elect among these wonderful alterations: and he calleth the Babylonian kingdom the golden head, because in respect of the other three, it was the best, and yet was of it self wicked and cruel.

39 And after thee shall arise another kingdom ſ inferiour to thee, and another t third kingdom of brass, which shall bear rule over all the earth.

ſ Meaning, the Persians, which were not inferior in dignity, power and riches; but were wors touching ambition, cruelty, and all kind of vice, shewing, that the world should grow wors and wors, till it was restored by Christ.

t That is, of the Macedonians shall be of brass, not alluding to the hardness thereof, but to the vileness, in respect of silver.

40 And the fourth kingdom shall be strong as iron: forasmuch as iron breaketh in pieces, & subdueth all things: and as iron that breaketh all these, shall it break in u pieces, & bruise.

u That is, The Roman Empire shall subdue all these other aforenamed, which after Alexander were divided into the Macedonians, Grecians, Syrians and Egyptians.

41 And whereas thou sawest the feet and toes, part of potter's clay, and part of iron: the kingdom shall be x divided, but there shall be in it of the strength of the iron, forasmuch as thou sawest the iron mixed with miry clay.

x They shall have civil wars and continual discords among themselves.

42 And as the toes of the feet were part of iron, and part of clay: so the kingdom shall be partly strong, and partly ‡ broken.

‡ Or, brittle.

43 And whereas thou sawest iron mixt with miry clay, they shall mingle themselves with y the seed of men: but they shall not cleave † one to another, even as iron is not mixed with clay.

y They shall by marriages and affinities think to make themselves strong: yet shall they never be joyned in hearts.

† Chald. this with this.

44 And in † the days of these Kings shall the God of heaven set up a kingdom, * which z shall never be destroyed: and the † kingdom shall not be left to other people, but it shall break in pieces, and consume all these kingdoms, and it shall stand for ever.

‡ Chald. their days.

* Chap. 4. 3, 34. & 6. 26. & 7. 14, 27. Mich. 4. 7. Luke 1. 33.

45 Forasmuch as thou sawest that the a stone was cut out of the mountain ‡ without hands, and that it brake in pieces the iron, the brass, the clay, the silver, and the gold; the great God hath made known to the King what shall come to pass † hereafter: and the dream is certain, and the interpretation thereof sure.

z His purpose is to shew that all the kingdoms of the world are transitory, and that the kingdom of Christ shall only remain for ever.

† Chald. kingdom thereof.

a Meaning Christ, who was sent of God, and not set up by man, whose kingdom at the beginning should be small, and without beauty to man's judgment, but should at length grow and fill the whole earth, which he calleth a great mountain, as verſ. 35. And this kingdom, which is not only referred to the person of Christ, but also to the whole body of his Church, and to every member thereof, shall be eternal: for the spirit that is in them is life eternal, Rom. 8. 10.

46 ¶ Then the King Nebuchadnezzar fell upon his face, and b worshipped Daniel, and commanded that they should offer an oblation, and sweet odours unto him.

‡ Or, Which was not in hand.

† Chald. after this.

47 The King answered unto Daniel, and said, Of a truth it is, that your c God is a God of Gods, and a Lord of Kings, & a revealer of secrets, seeing thou couldest reveal this secret.

b Though this humbling of the King seemed to deserve commendation, yet because he joyned God's honour with the Prophet's, it is to be reproved, and Daniel herein erred if he suffered it: but it is credible that Daniel admonished him of his fault, and did not suffer it. c This confession was but a sudden motion, as it was also in Pharaoh, Exod. 9. 27, 28. but his heart was not touched as appeared soon afterward.

48 Then the King made Daniel a great man, and gave him many great d gifts, and made him ruler over the whole Province of Babylon, and chief of the Governours over all the wise men of Babylon.

d Not that the Prophet was desirous of gifts or honour, but because by this means he might relieve his poor brethren which were grievously oppressed in this their captivitie, & also he received them, lest he should offend this cruel King, which willingly gave them. Chap. 4. 9.

49 Then Daniel e requested of the King, and he set Shadrach, Meshach, and Abed-nego over the affairs of the Province of Babylon: but Daniel sat in the f gate of the King.

e He did not this for their private profit, but that the whole Church, which was then there in affliction, might have some relief and ease by this benefit. f Meaning, that either he was a Judg or that he had the whole authority, so that none could be admitted to the King's presence, but by him.

Chap. III.

1 Nebuchadnezzar dedicateth a golden image in Dura. 8 Shadrach, Meshach, and Abed-nego are accused for not worshipping the Image. 13 They being threatned, make a good confession. 19 God delivered them out of the furnace. 26 Nebuchadnezzar seeing the miracle, blesseth God.

NEbuchadnezzar the King made a an Image of gold, whose height was threescore a Under pretence of Religion, and holiness, in making an Image to his Idol Bel, he sought his own ambition and vain glory: and this declareth that he was not touched with the true fear of God before, but that he confessed him on a sudden motion, as the wicked when they are overcom with the greatness of his works. The Greek Interpreters write: That this was don eighteen years after the dream, and as may appear the King feared lest the Jews by their religion should have altered the state of his common wealth, and therefore he meant to bring all to one kind of religion, and so rather sought his own quietness, than God's glory.

cubits,

cubits, and the breadth thereof six cubits: he set it up in the plain of Dura, in the province of Babylon.

2 Then Nebuchadnezzar the King sent to gather together the Princes, the governours, and the captains, the judges, the treasurers, the counsellers, the sheriffs, and all the rulers of the provinces, to come to the [b] dedication of the Image which Nebuchadnezzar the [c] King had set up.

3 Then the Princes, the governours, and captains, the judges, the treasurers, the counsellers, the sheriffs, and all the rulers of the provinces were gathered together unto the dedication of the Image that Nebuchadnezzar the King had set up; and they stood before the Image that Nebuchadnezzar had set up.

4 Then an herald cried † aloud, To you † it is commanded, O people, [d] nations, and languages,

5 That at what time ye hear the sound of the cornet, flute, harp, sackbut, psaltery, ‡ † dulcimer, and all kinds of musick, ye fall down, and worship the golden Image that Nebuchadnezzar the King hath set up.

6 And whoso falleth not down and worshippeth, shall the same hour be cast into the midst of a burning fiery furnace.

7 Therefore at that time, when all the people heard the sound of the cornet, flute, harp, sackbut, psaltery, and all kinds of musick, all the people, the nations, and the languages fell down and worshipped the golden Image, that Nebuchadnezzar the King had set up.

8 ¶ Wherefore at that time certain Caldeans came near and accused the Jews.

2 They spake and said to the King Nebuchadnezzar, O King, live for ever.

10 Thou, O King, hast made a decree, that every man that shall hear the sound of the cornet, flute, harp, sackbut, psaltery, and dulcimer, and all kinds of musick, shall fall down and worship the golden Image:

11 And whoso falleth not down and worshippeth, that he should be cast into the midst of a burning fiery furnace.

12 There are certain Jews whom thou hast set over the affairs of the province of Babylon, [e] Shadrach, Meshach, & Abed-nego: these men, O King, † have not regarded thee, they serve not thy Gods, nor worship the golden Image which thou hast set up.

13 ¶ Then Nebuchadnezzar in his rage and fury commanded to bring Shadrach, Meshach, and Abed-nego: then they brought these men before the King.

14 Nebuchadnezzar spake and said unto them, Is it ‡ true, O Shadrach, Meshach, and Abed-nego? do not ye serve my Gods, nor worship the golden Image which I have set up?

15 [f] Now if ye be ready, that at what time ye hear the sound of the cornet, flute, harp, sackbut, psaltery, and dulcimer, and all kinds of musick, ye fall down and worship the Image which I have made, well: but if ye worship not, ye shall be cast the same hour into the midst of a fiery furnace, and who is that God that shall deliver you out my hands?

16 Shadrach, Meshach, and Abed-nego answered and said to the King, O Nebuchadnezzar, we [g] are not careful to answer thee in this matter.

17 If it be so, our God whom we serve, is [h] able to deliver us from the burning fiery furnace, and he will deliver us out of thine hand, O King.

18 But if not, be it known unto thee, O King, that we will not serve thy Gods, nor worship the golden Image, which thou hast set up.

19 ¶ Then was Nebuchadnezzar † full of fury, and the form of his visage was changed against Shadrach, Meshach, and Abed-nego: therefore he spake and commanded, that they should heat the furnace one seven [i] times more than it was wont to be heat.

20 And he commanded the † most mighty men that were in his army, to bind Shadrach, Meshach, and Abed-nego and to cast them into the burning fiery furnace.

21 Then these men were bound in their ‡ coats, their hosen, and their ‡ hats, and their other garments, and were cast into the midst of the burning fiery furnace.

22 Therefore because the King's † commandment was urgent, and the furnace exceeding hot, the ‡ flame of the fire slew those men that took up Shadrach, Meshach, and Abed-nego.

23 And these three men, Shadrach, Meshach, and Abed-nego, fell down bound into the midst of the burning fiery furnace.

24 Then Nebuchadnezzar the King was astonied, and rose up in haste, and spake and said unto his ‡ counsellers, Did not we cast three men bound into the midst of the fire? They answered and said unto the King, True, O King.

25 He answered and said, Lo, I see four men loose, walking in the midst of the fire, and † they have no hurt, and the form of the fourth is like the [k] son of God.

26 ¶ Then Nebuchadnezzar came near to the † mouth of the burning fiery furnace, and spake and said, Shadrach, Meshach, and Abed-nego, ye servants of the most high God, come forth, and come hither. Then Shadrach, Meshach, and Abed-nego, [l] came forth of the midst of the fire.

27 And the Princes, governours and captains, and the king's counsellers being gathered together, saw these men, upon whose bodies the fire had no power, nor was an hair of their head singed, neither were their coats changed, nor the smell of fire had passed on them.

28 Then Nebuchadnezzar spake, and said, [m] Blessed be the God of Shadrach, Meshach, and Abed-nego, who hath sent his Angel, and delivered his servants that trusted in him, and have changed the King's word, and yielded their bodies, that they might not serve nor worship any God, except their own God.

b Shewing, that the idol is not known for an idol so long as he is with the workman: but when the ceremonies and customs are received and used, and the consent of the people is there, then of a block they think they have made a God.

c This was sufficient with the wicked at all times to approve their Religion, if the King's authority were alledged for the establishing thereof, not considering in the mean season what God's word did permit.

d These are the two dangerous weapons wherewith Satan useth to fight against the children of God, the consent of the multitude, and the cruelty of the punishment: for though some feared God, yet the multitude, which consented to the wickedness, astonied them: and here the King required not an inward consent, but an outward gesture, that the Jews might by little and little learn to forget their true Religion.

i This declareth that the more that tyrants rage, and the more witty they shew themselves in inventing strange and cruel punishments, the more is God glorified by his servants, to whom he giveth patience and constancy to abide the cruelty of their punishment, for either he delivereth them from death, or else for this life giveth them a better.

1 Nebuchadnezzar confeſſeth God's kingdom, 4 maketh relation of his dream, which the Magicians could not interpret. 8 Daniel heareth the dream. 19 He interprets it. 28 The ſtory of the event.

NEbuchadnezzar the King, unto all people, nations, and languages that dwell in all the [p] earth, Peace be multiplied unto you.

p Meaning, ſo far as his dominion extended.

2 † I thought it good to ſhew the ſigns and wonders that the high God hath wrought toward me.

† Cald. it was ſeemly before me.

3 How great are his ſigns! and how mighty are his wonders! his kingdom is * an everlaſting kingdom, and his dominion is from generation to generation.

* Chap. 2. 44.

4 ¶ I Nebuchadnezzar was at [a] reſt in mine houſe, and flouriſhing in my palace:

a There was no trouble that might cauſe me to dream, and therefore it came onely of God.

5 I ſaw a [b] dream which made me afraid, and the thoughts upon my bed, and the viſions of my head troubled me.

b This was another dream, beſides that which he ſaw of the four Empires, for Daniel both declared what that dream was, and what it meant: and here he onely expoundeth the dream.

6 Therefore made I a decree, to bring in all the wiſe men of Babylon before me, that they might make known unto me the interpretation of the dream.

7 Then came in the Magicians, the Aſtrologers, the Caldeans, and the Soothſayers, and I told the dream before them; but [c] they did not make known unto me the interpretation thereof.

c In that that he ſent abroad the others, whoſe ignorance in times paſt he had experimented, and left Daniel, which was ever ready at hand: it declareth the nature of the ungodly, which never ſeek to the ſervants of God, but for very neceſſity, and then they ſpare no flatterings.

8 ¶ But at the laſt Daniel came in before me (whoſe name was [d] Belteſhazzar, according to the name of my God, and in whom is the ſpirit of the holy Gods) and before him I told the dream, ſaying, d This no doubt, was a great grief to Daniel, not onely to have his name changed, but to be called by the name of a vile idol, which thing Nebuchadnezzar did to make him forget the true Religion of God.

9 O Belteſhazzar, * [e] maſter of the Magicians, becauſe I know that the ſpirit of the holy Gods is in thee, and no ſecret troubleth thee, tell me the viſions of my dream that I have ſeen, and the interpretation thereof.

* Chap. 2. 48

e Which alſo was a great grief to the Prophet, to be numbred among the ſorcerers, and men whoſe practiſes were wicked, and contrary to God's word.

10 Thus were the viſions of mine head in my bed, † I ſaw, and behold, [f] a tree in the midſt of the earth, and the height thereof was great.

f By the tree is ſignified the dignity of a King, whom God ordaineth to be a defence for all kind of men, and whoſe ſtate is profitable for mankind.

11 The tree grew, and was ſtrong, and the height thereof reached unto heaven, and the ſight thereof to the end of all the earth.

12 The leavs thereof were fair, and the fruit thereof much, and in it was meat for all: the beaſts of the field had ſhadow under it, and the fowl of the heaven dwelt in the boughs thereof, and all fleſh was fed of it.

13 I ſaw in the viſions of my head upon my bed, and behold, [g] a watcher, and an holy one came down from heaven.

g Meaning, the Angel of God, which neither eateth nor ſleepeth, but is ever ready to do God's will and is not infected with man's corruption, but is ever holy: and in that that he commandeth to cut down this tree, he knew that ſhould not be cut down by man, but by God.

14 He cried † aloud, and ſaid thus, Hew down the tree, and cut off his branches; ſhake off his leavs, and ſcatter his fruit; let the beaſts get away from under it, and the fowls from his branches.

† Cal. with might

15 Nevertheleſs, leave the ſtump of his roots in the earth, even with a band of iron and braſs, in the tender graſs of the field, and let it be wet with the dew of heaven, and let his portion be with the beaſts in the graſs of the earth.

16 [h] Let his heart be changed from man's, and let a beaſt's heart be given unto him, and let ſeven times paſs over him.

h Hereby he meaneth that Nebuchadnezzar ſhould not onely for a time loſe his kingdom, but be like a beaſt.

17 [i] This matter is by the decree of the watchers, and the demand by the word of the holy ones: to the intent that the living may know, that the moſt high ruleth in the kingdom of men, and giveth it to whomſoever he will, and ſetteth up over it the baſeſt of men.

i God hath decreed this judgement, and the whole army of heaven have, as it were, ſubſcribed unto it, like as alſo they deſire the execution of his decree againſt all them that lift up themſelvs againſt God.

18 This dream I King Nebuchadnezzar have ſeen: now thou, O Belteſhazzar, declare the interpretation thereof, foraſmuch as all the wiſe men of my kingdom are not able to make known unto me the interpretation: but thou art able, for the ſpirit of the holy gods is in thee.

19 ¶ Then Daniel (whoſe name was Belteſhazzar) was [k] aſtonied for one hour, and his thoughts troubled him; the King ſpake, and ſaid, Belteſhazzar, let not the dream, or the interpretation thereof trouble thee. Belteſhazzar anſwered, and ſaid, My lord, the dream be to them that hate thee, and the interpretation thereof to thine enemies.

k He was troubled for the great judgement of God, which he ſaw ordained againſt the King: and ſo the Prophets uſed on the one part, to denounce God's judgements for the zeal they bare to his glory: and on the other part to have compaſſion upon man, and alſo to conſider that they ſhould be ſubject to God's judgements, if they did not regard them with pity.

20 The tree that thou ſaweſt, which grew, and was ſtrong, whoſe height reached unto the heaven, and the ſight thereof to all the earth:

21 Whoſe leavs were fair, and the fruit thereof much, and in it was meat for all, under which the beaſts of the field dwelt, and upon whoſe branches the fowls of the heaven had their habitation:

22 It is thou, O King, that art grown and become ſtrong: for thy greatneſs is grown, and reacheth unto heaven, and thy dominion to the end of the earth.

23 And whereas the King ſaw a watcher, and an holy one coming down from heaven, and ſaying, Hew the tree down, and deſtroy it, yet leav the ſtump of the roots thereof in the earth, even with a band of iron and braſs in the tender graſs of the field, and let it be wet with the dew of heaven, and let his portion be with the beaſts of the field, [l] till ſeven times paſs over him:

l Whereby he meaneth a long ſpace, as ſeven years. Some interpret ſeven moneths, and others ſeven weeks, but it ſeemeth he meant of years.

24 This is the interpretation, O King, and this is the decree of the moſt high, which is come upon my lord the King:

25 That they ſhall * drive thee from men, and thy dwelling ſhall be with the beaſts of the field, and they ſhall make thee to eat graſs [m] as oxen, and they ſhall wet thee with the dew of heaven, and ſeven times ſhall paſs over thee, till thou know that the [n] moſt high ruleth in the kingdom of men, and giveth it to whomſoever he will.

* Chap. 5. 21, &c.

m Not that his ſhape or form was changed into a beaſt, but that he was either ſtriken mad, and ſo avoided man's company, or was caſt out for his tyranny, and ſo wandred among the beaſts, and ate herbs and graſs.

n Daniel ſheweth the cauſe why God thus puniſhed him.

26 And whereas they commanded to leave the the ſtump of the tree-roots, thy kingdom ſhall be ſure unto thee, after that thou ſhalt have known that the heavens do rule.

27 Wherefore, O King, let my counſel be acceptable unto thee, and [o] break off thy ſins by righteouſneſs, and thine iniquities by ſhewing mercy to the poor; if it may be ‡ [p] a lengthening of thy tranquillity.

28 ¶ All this came upon the King Nebuchadnezzar.

29 At the end of twelve [q] moneths he walked ‡ in the palace of the kingdom of Babylon.

30 The King ſpake, and ſaid, Is not this great Babylon that I have built for the houſe of the kingdom, by the might of my power, and for the honour of my Majeſty?

31 While the word was in the King's mouth, there fell a voice from heaven, ſaying, O King Nebuchadnezzar, to thee it is ſpoken, The kingdom is departed from thee.

32 And they ſhall drive thee from men, and thy dwelling ſhall be with the beaſts of the field; they ſhall make thee to eat graſs as oxen, and ſeven times ſhall paſs over thee, untill thou know that the moſt high ruleth in the kingdom of men, and giveth it to whomſoever he will.

33 The ſame hour was the thing fulfilled upon Nebuchadnezzar, and he was driven from men, and did eat graſs as oxen, and his body was wet with the dew of heaven, till his hairs were grown like eagle's feathers, and his nails like birds claws.

34 And at the end of the [r] days, I Nebuchadnezzar lift up mine eyes unto heaven, and mine underſtanding returned unto me, and I bleſſed the moſt high, and I praiſed and honoured him that liveth for ever, whoſe dominion is * an everlaſting dominion, and his kingdom is from generation to generation.

35 And all the inhabitants of the earth are reputed as nothing: and he doth [s] according to his will in the army of heaven, and among the inhabitants of the earth: and none can ſtay his hand, or ſay unto him, * What doeſt thou?

36 At the ſame time my reaſon returned unto me, and for the glory of my kingdom, mine honour and brightneſs returned unto me, & my [t] counſellers and my Lords ſought unto me: and I was eſtabliſhed in my kingdom, and excellent majeſty was added unto me.

37 Now I Nebuchadnezzar [u] praiſe, and extol and honour the King of heaven, all whoſe works are truth, and his ways judgement, and thoſe that walk in pride he is able to abaſe.

Chap. V.

1 Belſhazzar's impious feaſt. 5 A hand-writing, unknown to the Magicians, troubleth the King. 10 At the commendation of the Queen, Daniel is brought, 17 He reproving the King of pride and idolatry, 25 readeth and interpreteth the writing. 30 The Monarchy is tranſlated to the Medes.

BElſhazzar the [a] King made a great feaſt to a thouſand of his Lords, and drank wine [b] before the thouſand.

2 Belſhazzar, whiles he taſted the wine, commanded to bring the golden and ſilver veſſels, which his [c] father Nebuchadnezzar had † taken out of the temple which was in Jeruſalem, that the King and his Princes, his wives and his concubines might drink therein.

3 Then they brought the golden veſſels that were taken out of the Temple of the houſe of God, which was at Jeruſalem; and the King & his Princes, his wives and his concubines drank in them.

4 They drunk wine, and praiſed the [d] Gods of gold, and of ſilver, of braſs, of iron, of wood, and of ſtone.

5 ¶ In the ſame hour came forth fingers of a man's hand, and wrote over [e] againſt the candleſtick upon the plaiſter of the wall of the King's palace; and the King ſaw the part of the hand that wrote.

6 Then the King's † countenance † was changed, and his thoughts troubled him, ſo that the ‡ † joynts of his loins were looſed, and his [f] knees ſmote one againſt another.

7 The King cried † aloud to bring in [g] the Aſtrologers, the Caldeans, & the Soothſayers: and the King ſpake and ſaid to the wiſe-men of Babylon, Whoſoever ſhall read this writing, and ſhew me the interpretation thereof, ſhall be clothed with ‡ ſcarlet, and have a chain of gold about his neck, and ſhall be the third ruler in the kingdom.

8 Then came in all the King's wiſe-men, but they could not read the writing, nor make known to the King the interpretation thereof.

9 Then was King Belſhazzar greatly troubled, and his † countenance was changed in him, and his Lords were aſtonied.

10 ¶ Now the [h] Queen, by reaſon of the words of the King and his Lords, came into the banquet-houſe; and the Queen ſpake and ſaid, O King, live for ever: let not thy thoughts trouble thee, nor let thy countenance be changed.

11 * There is a man in thy kingdom, in whom is the ſpirit of the holy Gods, and in the days of thy ‡ father, light and underſtanding and wiſdom, like the wiſdom of the Gods, was found in him; whom the King Nebuchadnezzar thy ‡ father, the King, I ſay, thy father made * maſter of the [i] Magicians, Aſtrologers, Caldeans, and Soothſayers.

a Daniel receiteth this hiſtory of King Belſhazzar Evilmerodach's ſon, to ſhew God's judgements againſt the wicked for the deliverance of his Church, and how the prophecy of Jeremiah was true, that they ſhould be delivered after ſeventy years.

b The Kings of the eaſt parts then uſed to ſit alone commonly, and diſdained that any ſhould ſit in their company: and now to ſhew his power and how little he ſet by his enemy, which then beſieged Babylon, he made a ſolemn banquet, and uſed exceſs in their company, which is meant here by drinking wine; thus the wicked are moſt diſſolute and negligent, when their deſtruction is at hand.

IT pleaſed Darius to ſet over the kingdom [a] an hundred and twenty Princes, which ſhould be over the whole kingdom.

a Read Eſter, Chap. 1. 1.

2 And over theſe, three Preſidents (of whom Daniel was firſt) that the Princes might give accounts unto them, and the King ſhould have no damage.

3 Then this Daniel [b] was preferred above the Preſidents and Princes, becauſe an excellent Spirit was in him: and the King thought to ſet him over the whole realm.

b This heathen King preferred Daniel a ſtranger to all his nobles and familiars, becauſe the graces of God were more excellent in him than in others.

4 ¶ Then the Preſidents and Princes [c] ſought to find occaſion againſt Daniel concerning the kingdom, but they could find none occaſion nor fault: foraſmuch as he was faithful, neither was there any errour or fault found in him.

c Thus the wicked cannot abide the graces of God in others, but ſeek by all occaſions to deface them: therefore againſt ſuch aſſaults there is no better remedy than to walk uprightly in the fear of God, and to have a good conſcience.

5 Then ſaid theſe men, We ſhall not find any occaſion againſt this Daniel, except we find it againſt him concerning the Law of his God.

6 Then theſe Preſidents and Princes ‡ aſſembled together to the King, and ſaid thus unto him, King Darius, live for ever.

‡ Or, came tumultuouſly.

7 All the Preſidents of the kingdom, the Governours, and the Princes, the Counſellers and the Captains have conſulted together to eſtabliſh a royal ſtatute, and to make a firm ‡ decree, that whoſoever ſhall ask a petition of any God or man for thirty days, ſave of thee, O King, he ſhall be caſt into the den of lions.

d Herein is condemned the wickedneſs of the King, who would be ſet up as a God, and paſſed not what wicked Laws he approved for the maintenance of the ſame.

9 Wherefore King Darius [d] ſigned the writing and the decree.

10 ¶ Now when Daniel knew that the writing was ſigned, he went into his houſe; and his [e] windows being open in his chamber * toward Jeruſalem, he kneeled upon his knees * three times a day, and prayed, and gave thanks before his God, as he did afore-time.

e Becauſe he would not by his ſilence ſhew that he conſented to this wicked decree, he ſet open his windows toward Jeruſalem when he prayed: both to ſtir up himſelf with the remembrance of God's promiſes to his people when they ſhould pray toward that Temple, and alſo that others might ſee that he would neither conſent in heart nor deed for theſe few days, to any thing that was contrary to God's glory.
* 1 King. 8. 48.
* Pſal. 55. 17.

11 Then theſe men aſſembled, and found Daniel praying, and making ſupplication before his God.

12 Then they came near, and ſpake before the King concerning the King's decree, Haſt thou not ſigned a decree, that every man that ſhall shall ask a petition of any God or man, within thirty days, save of thee, O King, shall be cast into the den of lions? The King answered, and said, The thing is true, according to the law of the Medes and Persians, which altereth not.

13 Then answered they and said before the King, That Daniel which is of the children of the captivity of Judah, regardeth not thee, O King; nor the decree that thou hast signed, but maketh his petition three times a day.

14 Then the King when he heard these words, was sore displeased with himself, and set his heart on Daniel to deliver him: and he laboured till the going down of the Sun, to deliver him.

15 Then these men assembled unto the King, and said unto the King, Know, O King, that the law of the Medes and Persians is, that no decree nor statute which the King establisheth, may be [f] changed.

16 Then the King commanded, and they brought Daniel, and cast him into the den of lions: now the King spake and said unto Daniel, Thy God, whom thou servest continually, he will deliver thee.

17 And a stone was brought, and laid upon the mouth of the den, and the King sealed it with his own signet, and with the signet of his lords; that the purpose might not be changed concerning Daniel.

18 ¶ Then the King went to his palace, and passed the night fasting: neither were [‡] instruments of musick brought before him, and his sleep went from him.

19 Then the King arose very early in the morning, and went in haste unto the den of lions.

20 And when he came to the den, he cried with a lamentable voice unto Daniel, and the King spake and said to Daniel, O Daniel, servant of the living God, is thy God whom thou servest continually, [g] able to deliver thee from the lions?

21 Then said Daniel unto the King, O King, live for ever.

22 My God hath sent his Angel, and hath shut the lions mouth that they have not hurt me: forasmuch as before him [h] innocency was found in me; and also before thee, O King, have I done [i] no hurt.

23 Then was the King exceeding glad for him, and commanded that they should take Daniel up out of the den: so Daniel was taken up out of the den, and no manner of hurt was found upon him, because he [k] believed in his God.

24 ¶ And the King commanded, and they brought those men which had accused Daniel, and they [l] cast them into the den of lions, them, their children, and their wives; and the lions had the mastery of them, and brake all their bones in pieces or ever they came at the bottom of the den.

25 ¶ Then King Darius wrote unto all people, nations, and languages that dwell in all the earth, Peace be multiplied unto you.

26 I make a decree, that in every dominion of my kingdom, men tremble and fear [m] before the God of Daniel: for he is the [n] living God, and stedfast for ever, and his kingdom that which shall not be * destroyed, and his dominion shall be unto the end.

27 He delivereth and rescueth, and he worketh signs and wonders in heaven and in earth, who hath delivered Daniel from the † power of the lions.

28 So this Daniel prospered in the reign of Darius, and in the reign of * Cyrus the Persian.

CHAP. VII.

1 Daniel's visions of four Beasts. 9 of God's kingdom. 15 The interpretation thereof.

IN the first year of Belshazzar King of Babylon, Daniel † had a dream and visions of his head upon his bed: [a] then he wrote the dream, and told the sum of the ‡ matters.

2 Daniel spake and said, I saw in my vision by night, and behold, the four winds of the heaven strove upon [b] the great Sea.

3 And four great Beasts came up from the Sea, diverse one from another.

4 The first was like a [c] lion, and had eagle's wings: and I beheld till the wings thereof were pluckt, ‡ and it was lifted up from the earth, and made stand upon the feet as a man, and a man's heart was given to it.

5 And behold, another Beast, a second like to a [d] bear, and † it raised up it self on [e] one side, and it had three ribs in the [f] mouth of it between the teeth of it: [g] and they said thus unto it, Arise, devour much flesh.

6 After this I beheld, and lo, another like a [h] leopard, which had upon the back of it [i] four wings of a fowl, the Beast had also four heads; and [k] dominion was given to it.

7 After this I saw in the night visions, and behold, a [l] fourth Beast, dreadful and terrible, and strong exceedingly; and it had [m] great iron teeth: it devoured and brake in pieces, and stamped [n] the residue with the feet of it, and it was diverse from all the Beasts that were before it, and it had [o] ten horns.

8 I considered the horns, and behold, there came up among them another little [p] horn, before whom there were [q] three of the first f Thus the wicked maintain evil laws by constancy and authority, which is oftimes either lightness, or stubbornes, when as the innocents thereby perish: and therefore Governours neither ought to fear, nor be ashamed to break.

‡ Or, table.

g This declareth that Darius was not touched with the true knowledge of God, because he doubted of his power.

h My just cause and uprightness in this thing wherein I was charged, is approved of God.

i For he did disobey the King's wicked commandment to obey God, and so did no injury to the King, who ought to command nothing whereby God should be dishonoured.

k Because he committed himself wholly unto God, whose cause he did defend, he was assured, that nothing but good could come unto him; wherein we see the power of faith, as Heb. 11. verse 33.

l This is a terrible example against all the wicked, which do, against their conscience, make cruel laws to destroy the children of God, and also admonisheth Princes how to punish such, when their wickedness is come to light: though not in every point, or with such like circumstances, yet to execute true justice upon them.

m This proveth not that Darius did worship God aright: or else was converted: for then he would have destroyed all superstition and idolatry, and not onely given God the chief place, but also have set him up, and caused him to be honoured according to his word: but this was a certain confession of God's power, whereunto he was compelled by this wondefull miracle.

n Which hath not onely life in himself, but is the onely fountain of life, and quickneth all things, so that without him there is no life.

a Whereas the people of Israel looked for a continual quietness after these seventy years, as Jeremiah had declared, he sheweth that this rest shall not be a deliverance from all troubles, but a beginning, and therefore encouraged them to look for a continual affliction, till the Messiah be uttered and revealed, by whom they should have a spiritual deliverance, and all the promises fulfilled: whereof they should have a certain token in the destruction of the Babylonical kingdom.

‡ Or, words.

b Which signified that there should be horrible troubles and afflictions in all the corners of the world, and at sundry times.

c Meaning, the Assyrian and Caldean empire, which was most strong and fierce in power; and must soon come to their authority, as though they had had wings to flie, yet their wings were pulled by the Persians, and they went on their feet, and were made like other men, which is here meant by man's heart.

d Meaning, the Persians, which are barbarous and cruel. † Or, it raised up one dominion. e They were small in the beginning, and were shut up in the mountain, and had no bruit. f That is, destroyed many kingdoms, and was insatiable. g To wit, the Angels by God's commandment, who by this means punished the ingratitude of the world. h Meaning, Alexander the King of Macedonia. i That is, his four chief captains, which had the empire among them after his death. Seleucus had Asia the great, Antigonus the less, Cassander, and after him, Antipater was King of Macedonia, and Ptolomeus had Egypt. k It was not of himself, nor of his own power, that he got all these countreys: for his armies contained but thirty thousand men, and he overcame in one battel Darius, which had ten hundred thousand, when he was so heavy with sleep, that his eyes were scarce open, as the stories report: therefore this power was given him of God. l That is, the Roman Empire, which was a monster, and could not be compared to any Beast, because the nature of none was able to express it. m Signifying, the tyranny and greedines of the Romans. n That which the Romans could not quietly enjoy in other countreys, they would give it to other Kings, and Rulers, that at all times, when they would, they might take it again: which liberality is here called, the stamping of the rest under the feet. o That is, sundry and divers Provinces which were governed by the Deputies and Proconsuls, whereof every one may be compared to a King. p Which is meant of Julius Cesar, Augustus, Tiberius, Caligula, Claudius, and Nero, &c. who were as Kings in effect, but because they could not rule but by the consent of the Senate, their power is compared to a little horn. For Mahomet came not of the Roman Empire, and the Pope hath no vocation of government; therefore this cannot be applied unto them: and also in this prophesy the Prophet's purpose is chiefly to comfort the Jews unto the revelation of Christ. Some take it for the whole body of Antichrist. q Meaning, a certain portion of the ten horns: that is, a part from the whole estate was pluckt away, for Augustus took from the Senate the liberty of chusing the Deputies to send into the Provinces, and took the government of certain countries to himself.

horns pluckt up by the roots: and behold, in his horn were [r] eyes like the eyes of man, and a mouth speaking great things.

9 ¶ I beheld till the [s] thrones were cast down, and the [t] ancient of days did sit, whose garment was white as snow, and the hair of his head like the pure wool; his throne was like the fiery flame, and his wheels as burning fire.

10 A fiery stream issued, and came forth from before him: * thousand thousands ministred unto him, and ten [u] thousand times ten thousand stood before him: the judgement was set, and the * [x] books were opened.

11 I beheld then, [y] because of the voice of the great words which the horn spake; I beheld even till the Beast was slain, and his body destroyed, and given to the burning flame.

12 As [z] concerning the rest of the Beasts, they had their dominion taken away: yet † their lives were prolonged for a season and time.

13 ¶ I saw in the night visions, and behold, [a] one like the son of man came with the clouds of heaven, and [b] came to the ancient of days, and they brought him near before him.

14 And there was given him [c] dominion and glory, and a kingdom, that all people, nations and languages should serve him: his dominion is * an everlasting dominion, which shall not pass away, and his kingdom that which shall not be destroyed.

15 ¶ I Daniel was [d] grieved in my spirit in the midst of my † body, and the visions of my head troubled me.

16 I came near unto [e] one of them that stood by, and asked him the truth of all this: so he told me, and made me know the interpretation of the things.

17 These great Beasts, which are four, are four Kings, which shall arise out of the earth.

18 But the saints of the † [f] most high shall take the [g] kingdom, and possess the kingdom for ever, even for ever and ever.

19 Then I would know the truth of the fourth Beast, which was [h] diverse † from all the others, exceeding dreadful, whose teeth were of iron, and his nails of brass, which devoured, brake in pieces, and stamped the [i] residue with his feet, 20 And of the ten horns that were in his head, and of the other which came up, and before whom three fell, even of that horn that had eyes, and a mouth that spake very great things, whose [k] look was more stout than his fellows.

21 I beheld, and the same [l] horn made war with the saints, and prevailed against them;

22 Untill [m] the ancient of days came, and judgement was given to the saints of the most high: and the time came that the saints possessed the Kingdom.

23 Thus he said, The fourth Beast shall be the fourth kingdom upon earth, which shall be diverse from all kingdoms, and shall devour the whole earth, and shall tread it down, and break it in pieces.

24 And the ten horns out of this kingdom are ten Kings that shall arise: and another shall rise after them, and he shall be diverse from the first, and he shall subdue [n] three Kings.

25 And he shall speak great words against [o] the most high, and shall wear out the saints of the most high, and think to [p] change time and laws: and they shall be given into his hand, until a [q] time and times and the dividing of time.

26 But the [r] judgement shall sit, and they shall take away his dominion, to consume, and to destroy it unto the end.

27 And the * [s] kingdom and dominion, and the greatness of the kingdom under the whole heaven, shall be given to the people of the saints of the most high, whose kingdom is an everlasting kingdom, and all ‡ [t] dominions shall serve and obey him.

28 Hitherto is the end of the matter, As for me Daniel, my [u] cogitations much troubled me, and my countenance changed in me: but I kept the matter in my heart.

r These Roman Emperours at the first used a certain humanity and gentleness, and were content that others, as the Consuls and Senate, should bear the name of dignity, so that they might have the profit, and therefore in elections and counsels would behave themselvs according as did other Senatours: yet against their enemies, and those that would resist them, they were fierce and cruel, which is here meant by the proud mouth.

s Meaning, the places where God and his Angels should come to judge these Monarchies, which judgement should begin at the first coming of Christ.

y Meaning, that he was astonied, when he saw these Emperours in such dignity and pride, and so suddenly destroyed at the coming of Christ, when this fourth Monarchy was subject to men of other nations.

o That is, shall make wicked decrees and proclamations against God's word, and send throughout all their dominion, to destroy all that did profess it.

p These Emperours shall not consider that they have their power of God, but think it is in their own power to change God's laws and man's, and as it were the order of nature, as appeareth by Octavius, Tiberius, Caligula, Nero, Domitianus, &c.

q God shall suffer them thus to rage against his Saints for a long time, which is meant by the time & times, but at length he will asswage these troubles, and shorten the times for his elects sake, Matth. 24. 22. which is here meant by the dividing of time. r God by his power shall restore things that were out of order, and so destroy this little horn, that it shall never rise up again. * Luk. 1. 33. s He sheweth wherefore the Beast should be destroyed, to wit, that his Church might have rest and quietness, which though they do not fully enjoy here, yet they have it in hope, and by the preaching of the Gospel enjoy the beginning thereof, which is meant, by the words, under the heaven: and therefore he here speaketh of the beginning of Christ's kingdom in this world, which kingdom the faithful have by the participation that they have with Christ their head. ‡ Or, rulers. t That is, some of every sort that bear rule. u Though he had many motions in his heart, which moved him to and fro to seek out this matter curiously: yet he was content with that which God revealed, and kept it in memory, and wrote it for the use of the Church.

CHAP. VIII.

1 Daniel's vision of the ram, and he-goat. 13 The two thousand three hundred days of sacrifice. 15 Gabriel comforteth Daniel, and interpreted the vision.

IN the third year of the reign of King Belshazzar a vision appeared unto me, even unto me Daniel [a] after that which appeared unto me at the first.

2 And I saw in a vision (and it came to pass when I saw, that I was at Shushan in the palace, which is in the province [b] of Elam) and I saw in a vision, and I was by the river of Ulai.

3 Then I lifted up mine eyes, and saw, and behold, there stood before the river a [c] ram which had two horns, and the two horns were high: but one was [d] higher than † the other, and the higher came up last.

4 I saw the ram pushing west-ward, and north-ward, and south-ward: so that no [e] Beasts might stand before him, neither was there any that could deliver out of his hand, but he did according to his will, and became great.

5 And as I was considering, behold, an [f] he-goat came from the west on the face of the whole earth, and ‡ touched not the ground: and a After the general vision, he cometh to certain particular visions: as touching the destruction of the Persians and Macedonians: for the ruin of the Babylonians was at hand, and also he had sufficiently spoken thereof.

b That is, of Persia.

c Which representeth the kingdom of the Persians and Medes, which were joyned together.

d Meaning, Cyrus, which after grew greater in power than Darius his uncle and father in law.

† Heb. the second.

e That is, no Kings or nations.

f Meaning, Alexander that came from Grecia, with great speed and expedition.

‡ Or, none touched him in the earth.

and the goat had † a notable [g] horn between his eyes.

6 And he came to the ram that had two horns, which I had seen standing before the river, and ran unto him in the fury of his power.

7 And I saw him come close unto the ram and he was moved with choler against him, and [h] smote the ram, and brake his two horns, and there was no power in the ram to stand before him, but he cast him down to the ground, and stamped upon him: and there was none that could deliver the ram out of his hand.

8 Therefore the he-goat waxed very great, and when he was strong, the great [i] horn was broken: and for it came up four notable ones, * [k] toward the four winds of heaven.

9 And out of one of them came forth [l] a little horn, which waxed exceeding great, toward the [m] south, and toward the [n] east, and toward the * [o] pleasant land.

10 And it waxed great, even ‡ to the [p] host of heaven, and it cast down some of the host, and of the stars to the ground, and stamped upon them.

11 Yea, he magnified himself even ‡ to the [q] Prince of the host, and ‡ by him the [r] daily sacrifice was taken away, and the place of his sanctuary was cast down.

12 And ‡ [s] an host was given him against the daily sacrifice by reason of transgression, and it [t] cast down the truth to the ground, and it practised, and prospered.

13 ¶ Then I heard one [u] saint speaking and another saint said unto ‡ † that certain saint which spake, How long shall be the vision concerning the daily sacrifice, and the transgression † of [x] desolation, to give both the sanctuary and the [y] host to be troden under foot?

14 And [z] he said unto me, Unto two thousand and three hundred † [a] days; then shall the sanctuary be † cleansed.

15 ¶ And it came to pass, when I, even I Daniel had seen the vision, and sought for the meaning, then behold, there stood before me [b] as the appearance of a man.

16 And I heard a man's voice between the banks of Ulai, which called, and said, * Gabriel, [c] make this man to understand the vision.

17 So he came near where I stood: and when he came, I was afraid, and fell upon my face: but he said unto me, Understand, O son of man; for [d] at the time of the end shall be the vision.

18 Now as he was speaking with me, I was in a deep sleep on my face toward the ground: but he touched me, and † set me upright.

19 And he said, behold, I will make thee know what shall be in the last [e] end of the indignation: for at the time appointed the end shall be.

20 The ram which thou sawest having two horns, are the Kings of Media, and Persia.

21 And the rough goat is the King of Grecia, and the great horn that is between his eyes is the first King.

22 Now that being broken, whereas four stood up for it, four kingdoms shall stand up out [f] of the nation, but not [g] in his power.

23 And in the latter time of their kingdom, when the transgressours † are come to the full, a King of [h] fierce countenance, and understanding dark sentences, shall stand up.

24 And his power shall be mighty, but not [i] by his own power: and he shall destroy wonderfully, and shall prosper, and practise, and shall destroy the [k] mighty, and the † holy people.

25 And through his [l] policy also he shall cause craft to prosper in his hand, and he shall magnifie himself in his heart, and by ‡ [m] peace shall destroy many: he shall also stand up against the [n] Prince of Princes, but he shall be * broken [o] without hand.

26 And the vision of the [p] evening and the morning which was told, is true: wherefore shut thou up the vision, for it shall be for many days.

27 And I Daniel fainted and was sick [q] certain days; afterward I rose up and did the king's business, and I was astonished at the vision, but none understood it.

IN the first year of Darius the son of [a] Ahasuerus, of the seed of the Medes, ‡ which was made King over the [b] realm of the Caldeans;

2 In the first year of his reign, I Daniel understood by [c] books the number of the years, whereof the word of the LORD came to * Jeremiah the Prophet, that he would accomplish seventy years in the desolations of Jerusalem.

3 ¶ And I set my face unto the Lord GOD to [d] seek by prayer and supplications, with fasting, and sackcloth, and ashes.

4 And I prayed unto the LORD my God, and made my confession, and said, O * Lord, the [e] great and dreadful God, keeping the covenant, and mercy to them that love him, and to them that keep his commandments:

5 * We have sinned and have committed iniquity, and have done wickedly, and have rebelled, even by departing from thy precepts, and from thy judgements.

7 O Lord, [f] righteouſneſs ‡ belongeth unto thee, but unto us confuſion of faces, as at this day: to the men of Judah, and to the inhabitants of Jeruſalem, and unto all Iſrael that are near, and that are far off, through all the countreys whither thou haſt driven them, becauſe of their treſpaſs that they have treſpaſſed againſt thee.

8 O Lord,* to us belongeth confuſion of face, to our [g] Kings, to our Princes, and to our fathers, becauſe we have ſinned againſt thee.

9 To the Lord our God belong mercies and forgiveneſſes, though we have rebelled againſt him.

10 Neither have we obeyed the [h] voice of the LORD our God, to walk in his Laws which he ſet before us, by his ſervants the Prophets.

11 Yea, all Iſrael have tranſgreſſed thy Law, even by departing that they might not obey thy voice, therefore the [i] curſe is poured upon us, and the oath that is written in the * Law of Moſes the ſervant of God, becauſe we have ſinned againſt him.

12 And he hath confirmed his words which he ſpake againſt us, and againſt our Judges that judged us, by bringing upon us a great evil: for under the whole heaven hath not been done, as hath been done upon Jeruſalem.

13 As * it is written in the Law of Moſes, all this evil is come upon us: yet † made we not our prayer before the LORD our God, that we might turn from our iniquities, and underſtand thy truth.

14 Therefore hath the LORD watched upon the evil, and brought it upon us: for the LORD our God is righteous in all his works which he doth: for we obeyed not his voice.

15 And now O Lord our God, that haſt brought thy people forth out of the land of Egypt with a mighty hand, and haſt † gotten thee * renown as at this day: we have ſinned, we have done wickedly.

16 ¶ O Lord, according to all thy [k] righteouſneſs, I beſeech thee, let thine anger, and thy fury be turned away from thy city Jeruſalem, thy holy mountain: becauſe for our ſins, and for the iniquities of our fathers, Jeruſalem and thy people are become a reproach to all that are about us.

17 Now therefore, O our God, hear the prayer of thy ſervant, and his ſupplications, and cauſe thy face to [l] ſhine upon thy ſanctuary that is deſolate, for the [m] Lord's ſake.

18 O my God, encline thine ear and hear; open thine eyes, and behold our deſolations, and the city, † which is called by thy name: for we do not † preſent our ſupplications before thee for our [n] righteouſneſs, but for thy great mercies.

19 O Lord hear, O Lord forgive, O Lord [o] hearken and do, deferr not, for thine own ſake, O my God: for thy city, and thy people are called by thy name.

20 ¶ And whiles I was ſpeaking, and praying, and confeſſing my ſin, and the ſin of my people Iſrael, and preſenting my ſupplication before the LORD my God, for the holy mountain of my God:

1 Daniel having humbled himſelf, ſeeth a viſion.
10 Being troubled with fear, he is comforted by the Angel.

IN the [a] third year of Cyrus King of Perſia, a thing was revealed unto Daniel, (whoſe name was called Belteſhazzar) and the thing was true, but the time appointed was † [b] long, and he underſtood the thing, and had underſtanding of the viſion.

2 In thoſe days I Daniel was mourning three † full weeks.

a He noteth this third year, becauſe at this time the building of the Temple began to be hindered by Cambyſes, Cyrus ſon, when the father made war in Aſia minor againſt the Scythians, which was a diſcouraging to the godly, and a great fear to

Daniel. † Heb. great. b Which is to declare that the godly ſhould not haſten too much; but patiently to abide the iſſue of God's promiſe. † Heb. week of days.

3 I ate no † pleasant bread, neither came flesh, nor wine in my mouth, neither did I anoint my self at all, till three whole weeks were fulfilled.

4 And in the four and twentieth day of the [c] first moneth, as [d] I was by the side of the great river, which is * Hiddekel:

5 Then I lifted up mine eyes and looked, and behold, † a certain man [e] clothed in linnen, whose loins were * girded with fine gold of Uphaz.

6 His body also was like the beryl, and his face as the appearance of lightning, and his eyes as lamps of fire, and his arms and his feet like in colour to polished brass, and the voice of his words like the voice of a multitude.

7 And I Daniel alone saw the vision, for the men that were with me saw not the vision: but a great quaking fell upon them, so that they fled to hide themselvs.

8 Therefore I was left alone, and saw this great vision, and there remained no strength in me: for [f] my ‡ * comelines was turned in me into corruption, and I retained no strength.

9 Yet heard I the voice of his word: and when I heard the voice of his words, then was I in a deep sleep on my face, and my face toward the ground.

10 ¶ And behold, an [g] hand touched me, which † set me upon my knees, and upon the palms of my hands.

11 And he said unto me, O Daniel, † a man greatly beloved, understand the words that I speak unto thee, and † stand upright: for unto thee am I now sent; and when he had spoken this word unto me, I stood trembling.

12 Then said he unto me, Fear not, Daniel: for from the first day that thou didst set thine heart to understand, and to chasten thy self before thy God, thy words were heard, and I am come for thy words.

13 But the [h] Prince of the kingdom of Persia withstood me one and twenty days: but lo, [i] Michael ‡ one of the chief Princes came to help me, and I remained there with the Kings of Persia.

14 Now I am come to make thee understand what shall befall thy people in the latter days: for yet the [k] vision is for many days.

15 And when he had spoken such words unto me, I set my face toward the ground, and I became dumb.

16 And behold [l] one like the similitude of the sons of men touched my lips: then I opened my mouth, and spake, and said unto him that stood before me, O my lord, [m] by the vision my sorrows are turned upon me, and I have retained no strength.

17 For how can ‡ the servant of this my lord, talk with this my lord? for as for me, straightway there remained no strength in me, neither is there breath left in me.

18 Then there came again and touched me one like the appearance of a man, and he strengthened me;

19. And said, O man greatly beloved, fear not, [n] peace be unto thee, be strong, yea, be strong: and when he had spoken unto me, I [o] was strenghtened, and said, Let my lord speak, for thou hast strengthened me.

20 Then said he, Knowest thou wherefore I come unto thee? and now will I return to fight with the Prince of Persia: and when I am gone forth, lo, the [p] Prince of Grecia shall come.

21 But I will shew thee that which is noted in the scripture of truth, [q] and there is none that † holdeth with me in these things, but Michael your Prince.

ALso I, in the first year of Darius the Mede, even I [a] stood to confirm and to strengthen him.

3 And a [d] mighty King shall stand up, that shall rule with great dominion, and do according to his will.

h Meaning, Cambyses, who reigned in his father's absence, and did not onely for this space hinder the building of the Temple, but would have further raged, if God had not sent me to resist him, and therefore have I stayed for the profit of the Church.

i Though God could by one Angel destroy all the world, yet to assure his children of his love, he sendeth forth double power, even Michael, that is, Christ Jesus, the head of Angels.

‡ Or, the first.

k For though the Prophet Daniel should end and cease, yet his doctrin should continue till the coming of Christ, for the comfort of his Church.

l This was the same Angel that spake with him before in the similitude of a man.

m I was overcome with fear and sorrow, when I saw the vision.

‡ Or, this servant of my lord.

n He declareth hereby, that God would be merciful unto the people of Israel.

o Which declareth, that when God smiteth down his children, he doth not immediately lift them up at once (for now the Angel had touched him twice) but by little and little.

p Meaning, that he would not onely himself bridle the rage of Cambyses, but also the other Kings of Persia, by Alexander the King of Macedonia.

q For this Angel was appointed for the defence of the Church under Christ, who is the head thereof.

† Heb. strengthened himself.

a The Angel assureth Daniel, that God hath given him power to perform these things, seeing he appointed him to assist Darius, when he overcame the Caldeans.

b Whereof Cambyses, that now reigned, was the first, the second Smerdes, the third Darius the son of Hystaspes, and the fourth Xerxes, which all were enemies to the people of God, and stood against them.

c For he raised up all the east countreys for to fight against the Grecians: and albeit he had in his army nine hundred thousand men, yet in four battels he was discomfited and fled away with shame.

d That is, Alexander the great.

e For when his estate was most flourishing, he overcame himself with drink, and so fell into a disease, or as some write, was poisoned by Cassander.

f For his twelve chief Princes first divided his kingdom among themselvs.

g After this, his monarchy was divided into four: for Seleucus had Syria, Antigonus Asia minor, Cassander the kingdom of Macedonia, and Ptolomeus Egypt.

h Thus God revenged Alexander's ambition and cruelty, in causing his posterity to be murthered, partly of the father's chief friends, partly of one another.

i None of these four shall be able to be compared to the power of Alexander.

k That is, His posterity having not part thereof.

8 And shall also carry captivs into Egypt, their God with their Princes, and with † their precious vessels of silver of and gold, and he shall continue [y] more years then the King of the north.

9 So the King of the south shall come into his kingdom, and shall return into his own land.

10 But his [x] sons ‡ shall be stirred up, and shall assemble a multitude of great forces: and one [y] shall certainly come and overflow, and pass through: then shall he [z] return, and be stirred up even to his fortress.

11 And the King of the south shall be moved with choler, and shall come forth and fight with him, even with the King of the north: and he shall set forth a great [a] multitude, but the multitude shall be given into his hand.

12 And when he hath taken away the multitude, his heart shall be lifted up, and he shall cast down many ten thousands; but he shall not be strengthened by it.

13 For the King of the north [b] shall return, and shall set forth a multitude greater than the former, and shall certainly come († after certain years) with a great army, and with much riches.

14 And in those times there shall [c] many stand up against the King of the south; also † the robbers of thy [d] people shall exalt themselvs to establish the vision; but they shall fall.

15 So the King of the north shall come, and cast up a mount, and take † the most fenced cities, and the arms of the south shall [e] not withstand, neither † his chosen people, neither shall there be any strength to withstand.

16 But he that cometh against him, shall do according to his own will, and none shall stand before him: and he shall stand in the ‡ † [f] glorious land, which by his hand shall be consumed.

17 He shall also [g] set his face to enter with the strength of his whole kingdom, and ‡ upright ones with him: thus shall he do, and he shall give him the [h] daughter of women † corrupting [i] her: but [k] she shall not stand on his side, neither be for him.

18 After this shall he turn his face unto the [l] isles, and shall take many: but a Prince [m] † for his own behalf shall cause † the reproach offered by him, to cease; without his own reproach he shall cause it to turn upon [n] him.

19 Then he shall turn his face towards the fort of [o] his own land: but he shall stumble and fall, and not be [p] found.

20 [q] Then shall stand up in his estate † a raiser of taxes in the glory of the kingdom; but within few days he shall be destroyed, neither in † [r] anger, nor in battel.

21 And in his estate shall stand up a [s] vile person, to whom they shall not give the honour of the kingdom: but he shall come in peaceably, and obtain the kingdom by flatteries.

22 And with the [t] arms of a floud shall they be overflown from before him, and shall be broken: yea, also the Prince of the [u] covenant.

22 And after [x] the league made with him, he shall work deceitfully; for he shall come up, and shall become strong with a [y] small people.

24 He shall enter ‡ peaceably even upon the fattest places of the province, and he shall do that which his [z] fathers have not done, nor his fathers fathers, he shall scatter among them the prey and spoil, and riches: yea, and he shall † forecast his devices against the strong holds, even for a [a] time.

25 And he shall stir up his power and his courage against the King of the south with a great army: and the King of the south shall be stirred up to battel with a very great and mighty army; but he shall not [b] stand: for they shall forecast devices against him.

26 Yea, they that feed of the portion of [c] his meat, shall destroy him, and his army [d] shall overflow: and many shall fall down slain.

27 And both these Kings † hearts shall be to do [e] mischief, and they shall speak lies at one table; but it shall not prosper: for [f] yet the end shall be at the time appointed.

28 Then shall he return into his land with great [g] riches, and his heart shall be against the holy covenant: and he shall do exploits, and return to his own land.

29 At the time appointed he shall return, and come toward the south, but it shall not be as the former, or as the latter.

30 ¶ For the ships [h] of Chittim shall come against him: therefore he shall be grieved and return, and have indignation against the holy covenant: so shall he do, he shall even return [i] and have intelligence with them that forsake the holy covenant.

31 And arms [k] shall stand on his part, and they shall pollute the sanctuary [l] of strength, and shall take away the dayly sacrifice, & they shall place the abomination that ‡ maketh desolate.

a Although in their hearts they had no Religion, yet they did acknowledge the Gods, and worshipped them in their Temples, least they should have been despised as Atheists: but this was to increase their fame and riches: and when they got any country, they so made others the rulers thereof, that the profit ever came to the Romans. † Heb. fortresses of munitions. † Heb. a price.

CHAP. XII.

1 Michael shall deliver Israel from their troubles. 5 Daniel is informed of the times.

AND at that [a] time shall Michael stand up, the great Prince which standeth for the children of thy people, & there shall be a time of trouble, such as never was since there was a nation, even to that same time: and at that time thy people shall be delivered, every one that shall be found written in the book.

2 And many [b] of them that sleep in the dust of the earth shall awake, * some to everlasting life, and some to shame and everlasting contempt.

3 And they that be ‡ [c] wise shall * shine as the brightness of the firmament; and they that [d] turn many to righteousness, as the stars for ever and ever.

4 But thou, O Daniel, [e] shut up the words, and seal the book even to the [f] time of the end: many shall run to and fro, and knowledge shall be increased.

5 ¶ Then I Daniel looked, and behold, there stood other two, the one on this side of the † bank of the [g] river, and the other on that side of the bank of the river.

6 And one said to the man clothed in * linen, which was ‡ upon the waters of the river, How long shall be to the end of these wonders?

7 And I heard the man clothed in linen, which was upon the waters of the river, when he * held up his [h] right hand, and his left hand unto heaven, and sware by him that liveth for ever, that it shall be for a [i] time, times, and ‡ an half: and when he shall have accomplished [k] to scatter the power of the holy people, all these things shall be finished.

8 And I heard, but I understood not: then said I, O my Lord, what shall be the end of these things?

9 And he said, Go thy way, Daniel: for the words are closed up and sealed till the time of the end.

10 Many shall be purified and made white and tried: but the wicked shall do wickedly: and none of the wicked shall understand; but the wise shall understand.

11 And from the time that the [l] daily sacrifice shall be taken away, and † the abomination that ‡ maketh desolate set up, there [m] shall be a thousand two hundred and ninety days.

12 Blessed is he that waiteth, and cometh to the thousand three hundred and [n] five and thirty days.

13 But go [o] thou thy way till the end be: ‡ for thou shalt rest, and stand in thy lot at the end of the days.

a The Angel here noteth two things: first, that the Church shall be in great affliction and trouble at Christ's coming, and next, that God will send his Angel to deliver it, whom here he calleth Michael, meaning Christ, which is published by the preaching of the Gospel.

b Meaning, all shall rise at the general resurrection, which thing he here nameth, because the faithful should have ever their respect to that: for in the earth there shall be no sure comfort.

e Though the most part despise this prophesy, yet keep thou it sure, and esteem it as a treasure

m Signifying, that the time shall be long of Christ's second coming, and yet the children of God ought not to be discouraged though it be deferred.

n In this number he addeth a moneth and a half to the former number, signifying, that it is not in man to appoint the time of Christ's coming, but that they are blessed that patiently abide his appearing.

o The Angel warneth the Prophet patiently to abide, till the time appointed come, signifying that he should depart this life, and rise again with the elect, when God had sufficiently humbled and purged his Church. ‡ Or, and thou, &c.

HOSEA.

THE ARGUMENT.

After that the ten Tribes had fallen away from God by the wicked and subtile counsel of Jeroboam the son of Nebat, and in stead of his true service commanded by his word, worshipped him according to their own fantasies and traditions of men, giving themselvs to most vile idolatry and superstition, the Lord from time to time sent them Prophets to call them to repentance: but they grew ever worse and worse, and still abused God's benefits. Therefore now when their prosperity was at the highest under Jeroboam the son of Joash, God sent Hosea and Amos to the Israelites (as he did at the same time Isaiah and Micah to them of Judah) to condemn them of their ingratitude, and whereas they thought themselvs to be greatly in the favour of God, and to be his people, the Prophet calleth them bastards, and children born in adultery: and therefore sheweth them that God would take away their kingdom, and give them to the Assyrians to be led away captivs. Thus Hosea faithfully executed his office for the space of seventy years, though they remained still in their vices and wickedness, and derided the Prophets, and contemned Gods judgements. And because they should neither be discouraged with threatnings onely, nor yet flatter themselvs by the sweetness of God's promises, he setteth before them the two principal parts of the Law, which are the promise of salvation, and the doctrin of life: for the first part he directeth the faithful to Messiah, by whom onely they should have true deliverance: and for the second, he useth threatnings and menaces to bring them from their wicked manners and vices, and this is the chief scope of all the Prophets, either by God's promises to allure them to be godly, or else by threatnings of his judgements to fear them from vice. and albeit that the whole Law contain these two points, yet the Prophets moreover note peculiarly both the time of God's judgements, and the manner.

CHAP. I.

1 Hosea, to shew God's judgement for spiritual whoredom, taketh Gomer, 4 and hath by her Jezreel, 6 Loruhamah, 8 and Lo-ammi. 10 The restauration of Judah and Israel.

THE word of the LORD that came unto Hosea, the son of Beeri, in the days of [a] Uzziah, Jotham, Ahaz, and Hezekiah [b] Kings of Judah, and in the days of Jeroboam the son of Joash King of Israel.

a Called also Azaria, who being a leper was deposed from his kingdom.
b So that it may be gathered by the reign of these 4 Kings, that he preached above 60 years.

2 The beginning of the word of the LORD by Hosea: and the LORD said to Hosea, Go, take unto thee a wife [c] of whoredoms and children of whoredoms: for the land hath committed great whoredom, departing from the LORD.

c That is, one that of long time hath accustomed to play the harlot: not that the Prophet did this thing in effect, but he saw this in a vision, or else was commanded by God, to set forth under this parable, or figure, the idolatry of the synagogue, and of the people her children.

3 So he went and took [d] Gomer the daughter of Diblaim, which conceived and bare him a son.

d Gomer signifieth a consumption or corruption, and Diblaim a cluster of figs, declaring that they were all corrupt, like rotten figs.

4 And the LORD said unto him, Call his name [e] Jezreel; for yet a little while and I will † avenge the bloud of Jezreel upon the [f] house of Jehu, and will cause to cease the kingdom of the house of Israel.

e Meaning, that they should be no more called Israelites, of the which name they boasted, because Israel did prevail with God: but that they were as bastards, and therefore should be called Jezreelites, that is, scatterd people, alluding to Jezreel, which was the chief city of ten tribes under Ahab, where Jehu shed so much bloud, 2 King. 10 8, 11. † Heb. visit. f I will be revenged upon Jehu for the bloud that he shed in Jezreel: for albeit God stirred him up to execute his judgements, yet he did them for his own ambition, and not for the glory of God, as the end declared: for he built up that idolatry, which he had destroyed.

5 And it shall come to pass at that [g] day that I will break the bow of Israel in the valley of Jezreel.

6 ¶ And she conceived again, and bare a daughter; and God said unto him, Call her name [h] Lo-ruhamah: for † I will no more have mercy upon the house of Israel, ‡ but I will utterly [i] take them away.

g When the measure of their iniquity is full, and I shall take vengeance and destroy all their policy and force. h That is, not obtaining mercy, whereby he signifieth that God's favour was departed from them. † Heb. I will not add any more to. ‡ Or, that I should altogether pardon them. i For the Israelites never returned after they were taken captivs by the Assyrians.

7 But I will have mercy upon the house of Judah, & will [k] save them by the LORD their God, and will not save them by bow, nor by sword, nor by battel, by horses, nor by horsemen.

k For after their captivity he restored them miraculously by the means of Cyrus, Ezra 1. 1.

8 ¶ Now when she had weaned Lo-ruhamah, she conceived and bare a son.

9 Then said God, Call his name [l] Lo-ammi: for ye are not my people, and I will not be your God.

l That is, not my people.

10 ¶ Yet the number of the [m] children of Israel shall be as the sand of the sea, which cannot be measured nor numbred; and it shall come to pass, that ‡ in the place where it was said unto them, Ye are not my people, there it shall be said unto them, Ye are the sons of the living God.

m Because they thought that God could not have been true in his promise, except he had preserved them, he declareth that though they were destroyed, yet the true Israelites, which are the sons of the promise, should be without number, which stand both of the Jews and the Gentiles, Rom. 9. 26.

11 * Then shall the children of Judah and the children of Israel be [n] gathered together, and appoint themselvs one head, and they shall come up out of the land for great shall be the [o] day of Jezreel.

‡ Or, in stead of that.
* Jerem. 3 18. Ezek. 34. 23.

n To wit, after the captivity of Babylon, when the Jews were restored, but chiefly this is referred to the time of Christ, who should be the head both of the Jews and Gentiles. o The calamity and destruction of Israel shall be so great, that to restore them shall be as a miracle.

CHAP. II.

1 The idolatry of the people. 6 God's judgements against them. 14 His promises of reconciliation with them.

SAy ye unto your [a] brethren, ‡ Ammi, and to your sisters, ‡ Ruhamah.

a Seeing, that I have promised you deliverance, it remaineth that you encourage one another to embrace the same, considering, that ye are my people, on whom I will have mercy.
‡ That is, my people.
‡ That is, having obtained mercy.

2 Plead with your [b] mother, plead: for she is not my wife, neither am I her husband: let her therefore put away her whoredoms out of her sight, and her adulteries [c] from between her breasts:

3 [d] Least I strip her naked, and set her as in b God sheweth, that the fault was not in him, but in their synagogue, and their idolatries, that he forlook them, Isa. 50. 1. c Meaning, that their idolatry was so great, that they were not ashamed, but boasted of it, Ezek. 16. 25. d For though this people were as an harlot for their idolatries, yet he had left them with their apparel and dowry, and certain signs of his favour, but if they continued still, he would utterly destroy them.

the day that she was [e] born; and make her as a wilderness, and set her like a drie land, and slay her with the thirst.

4 And I will not have mercy upon her children; for they be the [f] children of whoredoms.

5 For their mother hath plaid the harlot: she that conceived them hath done shamefully: for she said, I will go after my [g] lovers, that give me my bread and my water, my wooll and my flax, mine oyl, and my † drink.

6 ¶ Therefore behold, I will [h] hedge up the way with thorns, and † make a wall, that she shall not find her paths.

7 And she shall follow after her lovers, but she shall not overtake them, and she shall seek them, but shall not find them: then shall she say, [i] I will go and return to my first husband, for then was it better with me than now.

8 For she did not know that I gave her [k] corn, and † wine, and oyl, and multiplied her silver and gold ‡ which they prepared for Baal.

9 Therefore will I return, and take away my [l] corn in the time thereof, and my wine in the season thereof, and will ‡ recover my wooll and my flax given to cover her nakedness.

10 And now will I discover [m] her † lewdness in the sight of her lovers, and none shall deliver her out of mine hand.

11 I will also cause all her mirth to cease, her feast days, her new moons, and her sabbaths, and all her solemn feasts.

12 And I will † destroy her vines and her fig-trees, whereof she hath said, These are my rewards that my lovers have given me: and I will make them a forrest, and the beasts of the field shall eat them.

13 And I will visit upon her the days of [n] Baalim, wherein she burnt incense to them, and she decked her self with her [o] ear-rings and her jewels, and she went after her lovers, and forgat me, saith the LORD.

14 ¶ Therefore behold, I will [p] allure her, and bring her into the wilderness, and speak ‡† comfortably unto her.

15 And I will give her her vineyards from thence, and the valley of [q] Achor for a door of hope, and she shall [r] sing there as in the days of her youth, and as in the day when she came up out of the land of Egypt.

16 And it shall be at that day, saith the LORD, that thou shalt call me [s] Ishi; and shalt call me no more [t] Baali.

17 For I will take away the names of Baalim out of her mouth, and they shall no more be remembred by their [u] name.

18 And in that day will I make a * covenant for them with the [x] beasts of the field, and with the fowls of heaven, and with the creeping things of the ground: and I will break the bow and the sword, and the battel out of the earth, and will make them to lie down safely.

19 And I will betroth thee unto me for ever, yea I will betroth thee unto me in righteousness, and in judgement, and in loving kindness, and in mercies.

20 I will even betroth thee unto me in [y] faithfulness, and thou shalt know the LORD.

21 And it shall come to pass in that day, I will hear, saith the LORD, I will hear [z] the heavens, and they shall hear the earth, 22 And the earth shall hear the corn and the wine and the oyl, and they shall hear Jezreel.

23 And I will sow her unto me in the earth, and I will have mercy upon her that had not obtained mercy, & I * will say to them which were not my people, Thou art my people; and they shall say, Thou art my God.

CHAP. III.

1 By the expiation of an adultress, 4 is shewed the desolation of Israel before their restauration.

THen said the LORD unto me, [a] Go yet, love a woman (beloved of her friend, yet an adultress) according to the love of the LORD toward the children of Israel, who look to other Gods, and [b] love flagons † of wine.

2 So [c] I bought her to me for fifteen pieces of silver, and for an homer of barley, and an † half-homer of barley.

3 And I said unto her, Thou shalt * abide for [d] me many days, thou shalt not play the harlot, and thou shalt not be for another man, so will I also be for thee.

4 For the children of Israel [e] shall abide many days without a King, and without a [f] Prince, and without a sacrifice, and without † an image, and without an ephod, and without teraphim.

5 Afterward shall the children of Israel return, and seek the LORD their God, and * [g] David their King, and shall fear the LORD, and his goodness is in the * latter days.

CHAP. IV.

1 God's judgements against the sins of the people, 6 and of the Priests, 12 and against their idolatry. 15 Judah is exhorted to take warning by Israel's calamity.

HEar the word of the LORD, ye children of Israel: for the LORD [a] hath a controversy with the inhabitants of the land, because there is no truth, no mercy nor knowledge of God in the land.

2 By swearing, and lying, and killing, and stealing, and committing adultery, they break out, and ‡ [b] bloud toucheth bloud.

3 Therefore shall the land mourn, and every one that dwelleth therein shall languish with the beasts of the field, and with the fowls of heaven, yea the fishes of the sea also shall be taken away.

4 Yet [c] let no man strive, nor reprove another; for thy people are as they that strive with the Priest.

CHAP. V.

1 God's judgements against the Priests, the people, and the Princes of Israel for their manifold sins, 15 untill they repent.

HEar ye this, O Priests, and hearken, ye house of Israel, and give ye ear, O house of the King; for judgement is toward you, because ye have been a [a] snare on Mizpah, and a net spread upon Tabor.

2 And the revolters are profound to make [b] slaughter, ‡ though I have been † a [c] rebuker of them all.

3 I know [d] Ephraim, and Israel is not hid from me: for now, O Ephraim, thou committest whoredom, and Israel is defiled.

4 † ‡ They will not frame their doings to turn unto their God: for the spirit of whoredoms is in the midst of them, and they have not known the LORD.

5 And the [e] pride of Israel doth testify to his face: therefore shall Israel and Ephraim fall in their iniquity; Judah also shall fall with them.

6 They shall go with their flocks, and with their herds to seek the LORD: but they shall not find him, he hath withdrawn himself from them.

7 They have dealt treacherously against the LORD: for they have begotten [f] strange children, now shall [g] a moneth devour them with their portions.

8 Blow ye the cornet in Gibeah, and the trumpet in Ramah: cry aloud at Beth-aven: after thee, O [h] Benjamin.

9 Ephraim shall be desolate in the day of rebuke: among the tribes of Israel have I made [i] known that which shall surely be.

10 The Princes of Judah were like them that [k] remove the bound: therefore I will pour out my wrath upon them like water.

g Their destruction is not far off.
h That is, all Israel comprehended under this part signifying, that the Lord's plagues should persue them from place to place, till they were destroyed.
i By the success they shall know that I have surely determined this.
k They have turned upside down all political order, and all manner of religion.
l To wit, after King Jeroboam's commandment, and did not rather follow God.
‡ Or, a worm.
m In stead of seeking for remedy at God's hand.
‡ Or, to the King of Jareb: or to the King that should plead.
n Who was King of the Assyrians.
† Heb. till they be guilty.

CHAP. VI.

1 An exhortation to repentance. 4 A complaint of their untowardness and iniquity.

COme and let us [a] return unto the LORD: for he hath torn, and he will heal us; he hath smitten, and he will bind us up.

2 * After two days will [b] he revive us, in the third day he will raise up, and we shall live in his sight.

3 Then shall we know, if we follow on to know the LORD: his going forth is prepared as the morning; and he shall come unto us as the rain; as the latter and former rain unto the earth.

a He sheweth the people how they ought to turn to the Lord, that he might call back his plagues.
* 1 Cor. 15. 4.
b Though he correct us from time to time, yet his help will not be far off, if we return to him.

4 ¶ O Ephraim, what shall I do unto thee? O Judah, what shall I do unto thee? for [c] your ‡goodness is as a morning cloud, and as the early dew it goeth away.

5 Therefore have I [d] hewed them by the Prophets: I have slain them by the words of my mouth, ‡and thy [e] judgements are as the light that goeth forth.

6 For I desired * [f] mercy, and not sacrifice; and the knowledge of God, more than burnt-offerings.

7 But they [g] ‡ like men have transgressed the covenant: there have they dealt treacherously against me.

8 [h] Gilead is a city of them that work iniquity; and is ‡ polluted with bloud.

9 And as troups of robbers wait for a man, so the company of Priests murder in the way †by consent: for they commit ‡ lewdness.

10 I have seen an horrible thing in the house of Israel: there is the whoredom of Ephraim, Israel is defiled.

11 Also, O Judah, he hath set an [i] harvest for thee, when I returned the captivity of my people.

c You seem to have a certain holiness and repentance, but it is upon the sudden, and as a morning cloud.
‡ Or, mercy, or, kindness.
d I have still laboured by my Prophets, and, as it were, framed you to bring you to amendment, but all was in vain; for my word was not meat to feed them, but a sword to slay them.
‡ Or, that thy judgements might be, &c.
e My doctrin, which I taught thee, was most evident.
* 1 Sam. 15. 22. Eccles. 5. 1. Matth. 9. 13. & 12. 7.
f He sheweth to what scope his doctrin tended, that they should joyn the obedience of God, and the love of their neighbour with outward sacrifice.
g That is, like light and weak persons.
‡ Or, like Adam.
h Which was the place where the Priests dwelt, and which should have been best instructed in my word. ‡ Or, coming for blond. † Heb. with one shoulder, or to Shechem. ‡ Or, enormity. i That is, doth imitate thine idolatry, and hath taken graffs of thy trees.

CHAP. VII.

1 A reproof of manifold sins. 11 God's wrath against them for their hypocrisie.

WHen I would have healed Israel, then the iniquity of Ephraim was discovered, and the † wickedness of Samaria: for they commit falshood: and [a] the thief cometh in, and the troup of robbers † spoileth without.

2 And they † consider not in their hearts, that I remember all their wickedness: now their own doings have beset them about, they are before my face.

3 They make the [b] King glad with their wickedness, and the Princes with their lies.

4 They are all adulterers, as an [c] oven heated by the baker, ‡ who ceaseth ‡ from raising after he hath kneaded the dough, untill it be leavened.

5 In the [d] day of our King, the Princes have made him sick ‡ with bottles of wine, he stretched out his hand with scorners.

6 For they have ‡ made ready their heart like an oven, whiles they lie in wait: their baker sleepeth all the night, in the morning it burneth as a flaming fire.

7 They are all hot as an oven, and have [e] devoured their judges; all their Kings are fallen, there is none among them that calleth unto me.

8 Ephraim, he hath [f] mixed himself among the people, Ephraim is a cake not turned.

9 Strangers have devoured his strength, and he knoweth it not: yea, [g] gray hairs are † here and there upon him, yet he knoweth not.

a Meaning, that there was not one kind of vice among them, but that they were subject to all wickedness, both secret and open.
† Heb. strippeth.
† Heb. say not to.
b They esteem their wicked King Jeroboam above God, and seek but how to flatter and please him.
c He compareth the rage of the people to a burning oven which the baker heateth still, till his dough be leavened and raised.
‡ Or, the raiser will cease.
‡ Or, from waking.
d They used all riot and excess in their feasts and solemnities, whereby their King was overcome with surfet, and brought into diseases, and delighted in flatteries.
‡ Or, with heat through wine.
‡ Or, applied.
e By their occasion God hath deprived them of all good Rulers.
f That is, he counterfeiteth the Religion of the Gentiles, yet is but as a cake baked on the one side, and raw on the other, that is, neither through hot nor through cold, but partly a Jew, and partly a Gentile. g Which is a token of his manifold afflictions.
† Heb. sprinkled.

10 And the * pride of Israel testifieth to his face, and they do not return to the LORD their God, nor seek him for all this.

11 ¶ Ephraim also is like a silly dove without [h] heart; they call to Egypt, they go to Assyria.

12 When they shall go, I will spread my net upon them, I will bring them down as the fowls of the heaven, I will chastise them as their [i] congregation hath heard.

13 Wo unto them, for they have fled from me: †destruction unto them, because they have transgressed against me: though I have [k] redeemed them, yet they have spoken lies against me.

14 And they have not cried unto me with their heart, [l] when they houled upon their beds: [m] they assemble themselvs for corn and wine, and they rebell against me.

15 Though I ‡ have bound, and strengthened their arms, yet do they imagin mischief against me.

16 They return, but not to the most high: they are like a deceitful bow: their Princes shall fall by the sword for the * rage [n] of their tongue: this shall be their derision in the land of Egypt.

* Chap. 5. 5.
h That is, without all judgement, as they that cannot tell whether it is better to cleave onely to God, or to seek the help of man.
i According to my curses made to the whole congregation of Israel.
† Heb. spoil.
k That is, divers times redeemed them, & delivered them from death.
l When they were in affliction, and cried out for pain, they sought not unto me for help.
m They onely seek their commodity & wealth, and pass not for me their God.
‡ Or, chastened.
* Psalm 73. 9.
n Because they boast of their own strength, and pass not what they speak against me and my servants. Psalm 73. 9.

CHAP. VIII.

1, 12 Destruction is threatned for their iniquity, 5 and idolatry.

SEt the trumpet to † thy [a] mouth, he shall come as an eagle against the house of the LORD, because they have transgressed my covenant, and trespassed against my Law.

2 Israel shall [b] cry unto me, My God, we know thee.

3 Israel hath cast off the thing that is good: the enemy shall pursue him.

4 They have set up [c] Kings, but not by me: they have made Princes, and I knew it not: of their silver and their gold have they made them idols, that they may be cut off.

5 ¶ Thy calf, O Samaria, hath cast thee off; mine anger is kindled against them: how long will it be ere they attain to [d] innocency?

6 [e] For from Israel was it also, the workmen made it, therefore it is not God: but the calf of Samaria shall be broken in pieces.

7 For they have [f] sown the wind, and they shall reap the whirlwind: it hath no ‡ stalk; the bud shall yield no meal: if so be it yield, the strangers shall swallow it up.

8 Israel is swallowed up, now shall they be among the Gentiles, as a vessel wherein is no pleasure.

9 For they are gone up to Assyria, a [g] wild ass alone by himself: Ephraim hath hired † lovers.

10 Yea, though they have hired among the nations, now will I gather them, and they shall ‡ sorrow a little for the [h] burden of the King of Princes.

11 Because Ephraim hath made many altars to sin, altars shall be unto him to sin.

12 I have written to him the great things

† Heb. the roof of thy mouth.
a God encourageth the Prophet to signifie the speedy coming of the enemy against Israel, which was once the people of God.
b They shall cry like hypocrites, but not from the heart, as their deeds declare.
c That is, Jeroboam, by whom they sought their own liberty, and not to obey my will.
d That is, upright judgement, and godly.
e Meaning, the calf was invented by themselvs, and of their fathers in the wildernes.
f Shewing, that their Religion hath but a shew, and in it self is but vanity.
‡ Or, standing corn.
g They never cease, but run to and fro to seek help.
† Heb. lovers.
‡ Or, begin.
h That is, for the tribute which the King and the Princes shall lay upon them: which means the Lord useth to bring them to repentance.

674 of my law, but they were counted as a [i] strange thing.

i Thus the idolaters count the word of God as strange in respect of their own inventions.

13 ‡ They sacrifice flesh for the sacrifices of mine offerings, and eat it; but the [k] LORD accepteth them not: now will he remember their iniquity, and visit their sins: they shall return to Egypt.

‡ Or, in the sacrifices of mine offerings they, &c.

k Saying, that they offer it to the Lord, but he accepteth no service which he himself hath not appointed.

14 For Israel hath forgotten his maker, and buildeth temples; and Judah hath multiplied fenced cities: but I will send a fire upon his cities, and it shall devour the palaces thereof.

CHAP. IX.

1 The distress and captivity of Israel for their sins and idolatry.

a For though all other people should escape, yet thou shalt be punished

b Thou hast committed idolatry in hope of reward, and to have thy barns filled, Jer. 44. 17. as an harlot that had rather live by playing the whore, than to be entertained of her own husband.

‡ Gr. in, &c.

c Their outward things that thou seekest shall be taken from thee.

‡ Or, wine-fat.

d All these doings both touching policy and religion shall be rejected as things polluted.

e The meat offering, which they offered for themselves.

f When the Lord shall take away all the occasions of serving him, which shall be the most grievous point of your captivity, when ye shall see yourselves cut off from God.

† Heb. spoil.

g Though they think to escape by fleeing the destruction that is at hand; yet shall they be destroyed in the place whither they flee for succour.

‡ Or, their silver shall be desired, the nettle, &c

† Heb. the desire.

h Then they shall know that they were deluded by them who challenged to themselves to be their Prophets and spiritual men.

† Heb. man of the spirit.

i The Prophet's duty is to bring men to God, and not to be a snare to pull them from God.

† Or, against.

k This people is so rooted in their wickedness, that Gibeah, which was like to Sodom, was never more corrupt, Jer. 19. 22.

* Jud. 19. 18.

l Meaning, that he so esteemed them and delighted in them.

* Num. 25. 3.

R Ejoyce not, O Israel, for joy, [a] as other people: for thou hast gone a whoring from thy God, thou hast loved [b] a reward ‡ upon every corn-floor.

2 [c] The floor and the ‡ wine-press shall not feed them, and the new wine shall fail in her.

3 They shall not dwell in the LORD's land; but Ephraim shall return to Egypt, and they shall eat unclean things in Assyria.

4 They shall not offer [d] wine-offerings to the Lord, neither shall they be pleasing unto him: their sacrifices shall be unto them as the bread of mourners: all that eat thereof shall be polluted: for their bread [e] for their soul shall not come into the house of the LORD.

5 What will ye do [f] in the solemn day, and in the day of the feast of the LORD?

6 For lo, they are gon, because of † [g] destruction: Egypt shall gather them up, Memphis shall bury them: ‡† the pleasant places for their silver, nettles shall possess them: thorns shall be in their tabernacles.

7 The days of visitations are come, the days of recompence are come, Israel shall know it: [h] the Prophet is a fool, the † spiritual man is mad, for the multitude of thine iniquity, and the great hatred.

8 The watchman of Ephraim [i] was with my God: but the Prophet is a snare of a fowler in all his ways, and hatred † in the house of his God.

9 They [k] have deeply corrupted themselves, as in the days of * Gibeah: therefore he will remember their iniquity, he will visit their sins.

10 I found Israel like [l] grapes in the wilderness: I saw your fathers as the first-ripe in the fig-tree at her first-time: but they went to * Baal-peor, and separated themselves unto that shame; and their abominations were according as [m] they loved.

11 As for Ephraim, their glory shall flie away like a bird; from the birth, [n] and from the womb, and from the conception.

12 Though they bring up their children, yet will I bereave them that there shall not be a man left: yea, wo also to them when I depart from them.

13 Ephraim, as I saw ° Tyrus, is planted in a pleasant place: but Ephraim shall bring forth his children to the murderer.

14 Give them, O LORD, what wilt thou give? give them a † [p] miscarrying womb, and dry breasts.

† Heb. that casteth the fruit.

p The Prophet seeing the great plagues of God toward Ephraim, prayeth to God to make them barren, rather than that this great slaughter should come upon their children.

15 All their wickedness * is in Gilgal: for there I hated them: for the wickedness of their doings I will drive them out of mine house, I will love them no more: all their Princes are revolters.

* Chap. 12. 11.

16 Ephraim is smitten, their root is dried up, they shall bear no fruit; yea, though they bring forth, yet will I slay even † the beloved fruit of their womb.

q The chief cause of their destruction is, that they commit idolatry, and corrupt my Religion in Gilgal.

† Heb. the desires.

17 My God will cast them away, because they did not hearken unto him: and they shall be wanderers among the nations.

CHAP. X.

1 Israel is reproved and threatned for their impiety and idolatry.

‡ Or, a vine emptying the fruit which it giveth.

a Whereof though the grapes were gathered, yet ever as it gathered new strength it increased new wickedness, so that the correction, which should have brought them to obedience, did but utter their stubbornes.

b As they were rich, and had abundance.

† Heb. statues, or standing images.

‡ Or, he hath divided their heart.

c To wit, from God

d The day shall come, that God shall take away their King, & then they shall feel the fruit of their sins, and how they trusted in him in vain, 2 Kings 17. vers. 6, 7.

e In promising to be faithful toward God.

f Thus their integrity and fidelity which they pretended, was nothing but bitterness and grief.

g When the calf shall be carried away.

‡ Or, Chemarim.

h Chemarims were certain idolatrous Priests, which did wear black apparel in their sacrifices, and cried with a loud voice, which superstition Elijah derided, 1 King 18. vers. 27. read 2 Kings 23. 5.

* Chap. 5. 13.

† Heb. the face of the water.

i Thus he speaketh in contempt of Beth-el, read Chap. 4. 15.

* Isa. 2. 19. Luke 23. 30. Revel. 6 16. & 9. 6.

k In those days thou wast as wicked as the Gibeonites, as God there partly declared: for thy zeal could not be good in executing God's judgements, seeing thine own deeds were as wicked as theirs. l To wit, to fight, or the Israelites remained in that stubbornness from that time. m The Israelites were not moved by their example to cease from their sins. n Because they are so desperate, I will delight to destroy them. ‡ Or, when I shall bind them for their two transgressions, or, in their two habitations. o That is, when they have gathered all their strength together.

2 ‡ Their heart is [c] divided; now shall they be found faulty: he shall † break down their altars: he shall spoil their images.

3 For now they shall say, We have no [d] King, because we feared not the LORD; what then should a King do to us?

4 They have spoken words, swearing falsly in making a * covenant: thus [f] judgement springeth up as hemlock in the furrows of the field.

5 The inhabitants of Samaria shall [g] fear, because of the calvs of Beth-aven: for the people thereof shall mourn over it, and ‡ the [h] Priests thereof that rejoyced on it, for the glory thereof, because it is departed from it.

6 It shall be also carried unto Assyria for a present to * King Jareb: Ephraim shall receive shame, and Israel shall be ashamed of his own counsel.

7 As for Samaria, her King is cut off as the fome upon † the water.

8 The high places also of [i] Aven, the sin of Israel shall be destroyed: the horn and the thistle shall come up on their altars; * and they shall say to the mountains, Cover us; and to the hills, Fall on us.

9 O Israel, thou hast [k] sinned from the days of Gibeah: there they [l] stood: the battel in Gibeah against the children of iniquity [m] did not overtake them.

10 It is in my desire [n] that I should chastise them: and the people shall be gathered against them, ‡ when they shall bind themselves in their two ° furrows.

11 And Ephraim is as an heifer that is taught,

taught, and loveth [p] to tread on the corn, but I passed over upon † her [q] fair neck: I will make Ephraim to ride: Judah shall plow, and Jacob shall break his clods.

12 Sow to your selvs in righteousness, reap in mercy: [r] break up your fallow ground: for it is time to seek the LORD, till he come and rain righteousness upon you.

13 Ye have plowed wickedness, ye have reaped iniquity, ye have eaten the fruit of lies: because thou didst trust in thy way, in the multitude of thy mighty men.

14 Therefore shall a tumult arise among thy people, and all thy fortresses shall be spoiled, as [f] Shalman spoiled * Beth-arbel in the day of battel: the mother was dashed in pieces upon her children.

15 So shall Beth-el do unto you, because of † your great wickedness: in a morning shall the King of Israel utterly be cut off.

CHAP. XI.

1 The ingratitude of Israel unto God for his benefits. 5 His judgement. 8 God's mercy toward them.

WHen Israel [a] was a child, then I loved him, and * called my son out of Egypt.

2 As they called them, so they [b] went from them: they sacrificed unto Baalim, and burnt incense to graven images.

3 I taught Ephraim also to go, taking them by their arms: but they knew not that I healed them.

4 I drew them with cords [c] of a man, with bands of love, and I was to them as they that † take off the yoke on their laws, and I laid meat unto them.

5 ¶ He shall not return into the land of Egypt, but the Assyrian shall be his [d] King, because they refused to return.

6 And the sword shall abide on his cities and shall consume his branches, and devour them, because of their own counsels.

7 And my people are bent to back-sliding from me: though [e] they called them to the most high, † none at all would exalt him.

8 [f] How shall I give thee up, Ephraim? how shall I deliver thee, Israel? how shall I make thee as [g] * Admah? how shall I set thee as Zeboim? mine heart is turned within me, [h] my repentings are kindled together.

9 I will not execute the fierceness of mine anger, I will not return to destroy Ephraim; for I am God, and not man, the holy one in the midst of thee, and I will not [i] enter into the city.

10 They shall walk after the LORD: he shall roar like a lion: when he shall roar, then the children shall tremble from the west.

11 [k] They shall tremble as a bird out of Egypt, and as a dove out of the land of Assyria: and I will place them in their houses, saith the LORD.

12 Ephraim compasseth me about with lies, & the house of Israel with deceit: but Judah yet ruleth [l] with God, & is faithful † with the saints.

p Wherein is pleasure, as in ploughing is labour and pain.
† Heb. the beauty of her neck.
q I will lay my yoke upon her fat neck.
r Read Jer. 4. 3.

f That is, Shalmanazzar in the destruction of that city, spared neither kind nor age.

a Whiles the Israelites were in Egypt, and did not provoke my wrath by their malice and ingratitude.
* Matth. 2. 15.
b They rebelled, and went a contrary way when the Prophets called them to repentance.

c That is, friendly: and not as beasts or slaves.
† Heb. lift up.

d Seeing they contemned this kindness, they shall be led captive into Assyria.

e To wit, the Prophets.
† Heb. together they exalted not.
f God considereth with himself, and that with a certain grief how to punish them.
g Which were two of the cities that were destroyed with Sodom, Deut. 29. 23.
* Gen. 19. 24.
Amos 4. 11.
h Meaning, that his love wherewith he first loved them, made him betweendoubt and assurance what to do: and herein appeareth his fatherly affection, that his mercy toward his shall overcome his judgements, as he declareth in the next verse.
i To consume thee, but will cause thee to yield, and so receive thee to mercy: and this is meant of the small number who shall walk after the Lord.
k The Egyptians and Assyrians shall be afraid when the Lord maintaineth his people.

CHAP. XII.

1 A reproof of Ephraim, Judah, and Jacob. 3 By former favours he exhorteth to repentance. 7 Ephraim's sins provoke God.

EPhraim feedeth [a] on wind, and followeth after the east-wind: he daily increaseth lies and desolation, and they do make a covenant with the Assyrians, and [b] oyl is carried into Egypt.

2 The LORD hath also a controversie with [c] Judah, and will † punish Jacob according to his ways; according to his doings will he recompense him.

3 ¶ He took his brother * by the heel in the womb, and by his strength he † * had [d] power with God:

4 Yea, he had [e] power over the Angel and prevailed: he wept and made supplication unto him: [f] he found him in * Beth-el, and there he spake with us.

5 Even the LORD God of hosts, the LORD is his * memorial.

6 Therefore turn thou to thy God: keep mercy and judgement, and wait on thy God continually.

7 ¶ He is ‡ [g] a merchant, the balances of deceit are in his hand: he loveth to ‡ oppress.

8 And Ephraim said, Yet I am become rich, I have found me out substance: ‡ in all my labours they shall find none iniquity in me, † [h] that were sin.

9 And I that am the LORD thy God from the land of Egypt, will yet make thee to dwell in tabernacles, as in [i] the days of the solemn feast.

10 I have also spoken by the Prophets, and I have multiplied visions, and used similitudes, † by the ministery of the Prophets.

11 Is there [k] iniquity in Gilead? surely they are vanity, they sacrifice bulloks in * Gilgal; yea, their altars are as heaps in the furrows of the fields.

12 [l] And Jacob * fled into the countrey of Syria, and Israel * served for a wife, and for a wife he kept sheep.

13 * And by a [m] Prophet the LORD brought Israel out of Egypt, and by a Prophet was he preserved.

14 Ephraim provoked him to anger † most bitterly: therefore shall he leave his † bloud upon him: and his reproach shall his Lord return unto him.

a That is, flattereth himself with vain confidence.

b Meaning, presents to get friendship.

c Which in these points was like to Ephraim, but not in idolatries.
† Heb. visit upon.

* Gen. 25. 26.
† Heb. was a Prince, or behaved himself princely.
* Gen. 32. 24. &c d Seeing that God did thus praise Jacob their father, Judah's ingratitude was the more to be abhorred.
e Read Gen. 32. 31.
f God found Jacob as he lay sleeping in Beth-el. Gen. 28. 12. and so spake with him there, that the fruit of that speech appertained to the whole body of the people, whereof we are.
* Gen. 35. 9, &c.
* Exod. 3. 15.
‡ Or, Canaan.
g As for Ephraim he is more like the wicked Canaanites than godly Abraham or Jacob.
‡ Or, deceive.
‡ Or, all my labours suffice me not: he shall have punishment of iniquity, in whom is sin.
† Heb. which.
h Thus the wicked measure God's favour, by outward prosperity, and like hypocrites cannot abide that any should reprove their doings.
i Seeing thou wilt not acknowledge my benefits, I will bring thee again to dwell in tents, as in the feast of the Tabernacles, which thou dost now contemn.
† Heb. by the hand.
k The people thought that no man durst have spoken against Gilead, that holy place, and yet the Prophet saith that all their Religion was but vanity.
* Chap. 4. 15. & 9. 15.

CHAP. XIII.

1 Ephraim's glory, by reason of idolatry, vanisheth. 5 God's anger for their unkindness. 9 A promise of God's mercy. 15 A judgement for rebellion.

WHen Ephraim spake, [a] trembling, he [b] exalted himself in Israel; but when he offended in Baal, he [c] died.

a He sheweth the excellency and authority that this time had above all the rest.

b He made a King of his tribe. c The Ephraimites are not far from destruction, and have lost their authority.

† Heb. they add to sin.

2 And now † they sin more and more, and have made them molten images of their silver, and idols according to their own understanding, all of it the work of the craftsmen: they say of them, Let ‡ the men [d] that sacrifice, kiss the calvs.

‡ Or, the sacrificers of men.
d That false Prophets perswaded the idolaters to offer their children after the example of Abraham, and he sheweth how they would exhort one another to the same, and to kiss and worship these calvs which were their idols.

3 Therefore they shall be as the morning cloud, and as the early dew it passeth away, as the chaff that is driven with a whirlwind out of the floor, and as the smoke out of the chimney.

4 Yet * I am the LORD thy God [e] from the land of Egypt, and thou shalt know no God but me: for there is no Saviour beside me.

* 1 Sam. 8. 5, &c. & 15. 23. & 16 1.

12 The iniquity of Ephraim is bound up: his sin is hid.

h It is surely laid up to be punished, as Jer. 17. 1.

13 The sorrows of a travailing woman shall come upon him, he is an unwise son, for he should not stay † long in the place of the [i] breaking forth of children.

† Heb. a time.
i But should come out of the womb, that is, out of this danger wherein he is and not tarry to be stifled.

14 I will ransom them from † the power of the grave: I will redeem them from death: * O [k] death, I will be thy plagues; O grave, I will be thy destruction; [l] repentance shall be hid from mine eyes.

† Heb. the hand.
* 1 Cor. 15. 54, 55.
k Meaning, that no power shall resist God, when he will deliver his, but even in death will he give them life.
l Because they will not turn to me, I will not change my purpose.

15 ¶ Though he be fruitful among his brethren, * an east-wind shall come, the wind of the LORD shall come up from the wilderness, and his spring shall become dry, and his fountain shall be dried up: he shall spoil the treasure of all † pleasant vessels.

* Ezek. 19. 12.

† Heb. vessels of desire.

16 Samaria shall become desolate, for she hath rebelled against her God: they shall fall by the sword; their infants shall be dashed in pieces, and their women with child shall be ript up.

CHAP. XIV.

1 An exhortation to repentance. 4 A promise of God's blessing.

O Israel [a] return unto the LORD thy God, for thou hast fallen by thine iniquity.

a He exhorteth them to repentance, to avoid all these plagues, willing them to declare by words their obedience and repentance.

2 Take with you words, and turn to the LORD, say unto him, [b] Take away all iniquity, and ‡ receive us graciously: so will we render the * calvs of our [c] lips.

b He sheweth them how they ought to confess their sins.
‡ Or, give good.
* Heb. 13. 15.

3 Asshur shall [d] not save us, we will not ride upon horses, neither will we say any more to the work of our hands, Ye are our Gods: for in thee the fatherless findeth mercy.

d We will leave off all vain confidence and pride.

4 ¶ I will heal their back-sliding, I will love them freely: for mine anger is turned away from him.

e He declareth how ready God is to receive them that do repent.

5 I will be as the dew unto Israel: he shall ‡ grow as the lilly, and † cast forth his roots as Lebanon.

‡ Or, blossom.
† Heb. strike.

6 His branches † shall spread, and his beauty shall be as the olive-tree, and his smell as Lebanon.

† Heb. shall go.

7 They that dwell under his [f] shadow shall return, they shall revive as the corn, and ‡ grow as the vine: the ‡ sent thereof shall be as the wine of Lebanon.

f Whosoever joyn themselvs to this people, shall be blessed.
‡ Or, blossom.
‡‡ Or, memorial.

8 Ephraim shall say, What have I to do any more with idols? I [g] have heard him, and observed him: I am like a green fir-tree, from me is thy fruit found.

g God sheweth how prompt he is to hear his, when they repent and to offer himself as a protection, and savegard unto them as a most sufficient fruit and profit.

9 Who is [h] wise, and he shall understand these things? prudent, and he shall know them? for the ways of the LORD are right, and the just shall walk in them: but the transgressours shall fall thereof.

h Signifying, that the true wisdom and knowledge consisteth in this, even to rest upon God.

JOEL.

THE ARGUMENT.

THe Prophet Joel first rebuketh them of Judah, that being now punished with a great plague of famin, remain still obstinate. Secondly, he threatneth greater plagues, because they grew daily to a more hardnes of heart, and rebellion against God, notwithstanding his punishments. Thirdly, he exhorteth them to repentance, shewing that it must be earnest, and proceed from the heart, because they had grievously offended God. And so doing, he promiseth that God will be merciful, and not forget his covenant that he made with their fathers: but will send his Christ, who shall gather the scattered sheep, and restore them to life and liberty, though they seemed to be dead.

CHAP. I.

1 Joel declaring sundry judgements of God, exhorteth to observe them, 8 and to mourn. 14 He prescribeth a fast for complaint.

THE word of the LORD that came to Joel the son of Pethuel.

2 Hear this, ye [a] old men, and give ear, all ye inhabitants of the land: hath [b] this been in your days, or even in the days of your fathers?

3 Tell ye your children of it, and let your children tell their children, and their children another generation.

4 † That which the palmer-worm hath left, hath the locust eaten; and that which the locust hath left, hath the canker-worm eaten; and that which the canker-worm hath left, hath the caterpiller eaten.

5 Awake ye [c] drunkards, and weep, and howl all ye drinkers of wine, because of the new wine: for it is cut off from your mouth.

6 For [d] a nation is come up upon my land, strong, and without number, whose teeth are the teeth of a lion, and he hath the cheek-teeth of a great lion.

7 He hath laid my vine waste, and † barked my fig-tree: he hath made it clean bare, and cast it away, the branches thereof are made white.

8 ¶ Lament like a virgin girded with sackcloth for the [e] husband of her youth.

9 The meat-offering, and the drink-offering is [f] cut off from the house of the LORD; the Priests the LORD's ministers mourn.

10 The field is wasted, the land mourneth; for the corn is wasted: [g] the new wine is ‡ dried up, the oyl languisheth.

11 Be ye ashamed, O ye husbandmen: howl, O ye vine-dressers, for the wheat and for the barley: because the harvest of the field is perished.

12 The vine is dried up, and the fig-tree languisheth, the pomegranate-tree, the palm-tree also, and the apple-tree, even all the trees of the field are withered: because joy is withered away from the sons of men.

13 [h] Gird your selvs, and lament, ye Priests: howl, ye ministers of the altar: come, lie all night in sackcloth, ye ministers of my God: for the meat-offering and the drink-offering is withholden from the house of your God.

14 ¶ * Sanctifie ye a fast, call a ‡ solemn assembly, gather the elders, and all the inhabitants of the land into the house of the LORD your God, and cry unto the LORD:

15 Alas for the day: for * the [i] day of the LORD is at hand, and as a destruction from the Almighty shall it come.

16 Is not the meat cut off before our eyes, yea, joy and gladness from the house of our God?

17 The † seed is rotten under their clods, the garners are laid desolate, the barns are broken down; for the corn is withered.

18 How do the beasts groan? the herds of cattel are perplexed, because they have no pasture; yea, the flocks of sheep are made desolate.

19 O LORD, to thee will I cry: for the fire hath devoured the ‡ pastures of the wilderness, and the flame hath burnt all the trees of the field.

20 The beasts of the field cry also unto thee: for the rivers of waters are dried up, and the [k] fire hath devoured the pastures of the wilderness.

CHAP. II.

1 He sheweth unto Zion the terribleness of God's judgement. 12 He exhorteth to repentance, 15 prescribeth a fast, 18 promiseth a blessing thereon. 21 He comforteth Zion with present 28 and future blessings.

BLow [a] ye the ‡ trumpet in Zion, and sound an alarm in my holy mountain: let all the inhabitants of the land tremble: for the day of the LORD cometh, for it is nigh at hand;

2 A [b] day of darkness and of gloominess, a day of clouds and of thick darkness, as the morning spread upon the mountains: a [c] great people and a strong, there hath not been ever the like, neither shall be any more after it, even to the years † of many generations.

3 A fire devoureth before them, and behind them a flame burneth: the land is as the garden of [d] Edem before them, and behind them a desolate wilderness, yea; and nothing shall escape them.

3 And they have caſt lots for my people, and have given a boy [e] for an harlot, and ſold a girl for wine, that they may drink.

4 Yea, and [d] what have ye to do with me, O Tyre and Zidon, and all the coaſts of Paleſtine? will ye render me [*] a recompence? and if ye recompence me, ſwiftly and ſpeedily will I return your recompence upon your own head.

13 Put ye in the [h] ſickle, for the harveſt is ripe; come, get you down, for the preſs is full, the fats overflow, for their wickedneſs is great.

14 Multitudes, multitudes in the valley of ‡ deciſion: for the day of the LORD is near in the valley of deciſion.

15 The * Sun and the Moon ſhall be darkned, and the ſtars ſhall withdraw their ſhining.

16 The LORD alſo ſhall * roar out of Zion, and utter his voice from Jeruſalem, and the heavens and the earth ſhall ſhake; but the LORD will be the † hope [i] of his people, and the ſtrength of the children of Iſrael.

17 So ſhall ye know that I am the LORD your God dwelling in Zion, my holy mountain: then ſhall Jeruſalem be † holy, and there ſhall no * ſtrangers paſs [k] through her any more.

18 ¶ And it ſhall come to paſs in that day, that the mountains ſhall [l] drop down new wine, and the hills ſhall flow with milk, and all the rivers of Judah ſhall † flow with waters, and a fountain ſhall come forth of the houſe of the LORD, and ſhall water the valley of Shittim.

AMOS.

THE ARGUMENT.

AMong many other Prophets that God raiſed up to admoniſh the Iſraelites of his plagues, for their wickedneſs and idolatry, he ſtirred up Amos, who was an herd-man or ſhepherd of a poor town, and gave him both knowledge and conſtancy to reprove all eſtates and degrees, and to denounce God's horrible judgements againſt them, except they did in time repent: ſhewing them, that if God ſpare not the other nations about them, who had lived, as it were, in ignorance of God in reſpect of them, but for their ſins will puniſh them, that they could look for nothing, but an horrible deſtruction, except they turned to the Lord by unfained repentance. And finally, he comforteth the godly with hope of the coming of the Meſſiah, by whom they ſhould have perfect deliverance and ſalvation.

2 But I will ſend a fire upon Moab; and it ſhall devour the palaces of Kirioth, and Moab ſhall die with tumult, with ſhouting, and with the ſound of the trumpet.

3 And I will cut off the judge from the midſt thereof, and will ſlay all the Princes thereof with him, ſaith the LORD.

4 ¶ Thus ſaith the LORD, for three tranſgreſſions of Judah, and for four I will not [b] turn away the puniſhment thereof: becauſe they have deſpiſed the Law of the LORD, and have not kept his commandments, and their lies cauſed them to err, after the which their fathers have walked.

5 But I will ſend a fire upon Judah, and it ſhall devour the palaces of Jeruſalem.

6 ¶ Thus ſaith the LORD, for three tranſgreſſions of [c] Iſrael, and for four I will not turn away the puniſhment thereof: becauſe * they ſold the righteous for ſilver, and the poor [d] for a pair of ſhoes.

7 That pant after the [e] duſt of the earth on the head of the poor, and turn aſide the way of the meek: and a man and his father will go in unto the ſame ‡ maid, to profane my holy name.

8 And they lay themſelvs down upon clothes laid to pledge, [f] by every altar, and they [g] drink the wine of †the condemned in the houſe of their God.

9 ¶ Yet deſtroyed I the * [h] Amorite before them, whoſe height was like the height of the cedars, and he was ſtrong as the oaks, yet I deſtroyed his fruit from above, and his roots from beneath.

10 Alſo * I brought you up from the land of Egypt, and led you forty years through the wilderneſs, to poſſeſs the land of the Amorite.

11 And I raiſed up of your ſons for Prophets, and of your [i] young men for Nazarites, Is it not even thus, O ye children of Iſrael? ſaith the LORD.

12 But ye gave the Nazarites wine to drink, and commanded the Prophets, * ſaying, Propheſy not.

13 Behold, ‡ I am [k] preſſed under you, as a cart is preſſed that is full of ſheavs.

14 Therefore the flight ſhall periſh from the [l] ſwift, and the ſtrong ſhall not ſtrengthen his force, neither ſhall the mighty deliver †himſelf.

15 Neither ſhall he ſtand that handleth the bow, and he that is ſwift of foot ſhall not deliver himſelf, neither ſhall he that rideth the horſe deliver himſelf.

16 And he that is † couragious among the mighty, ſhall flee away naked in that day, ſaith the LORD.

CHAP. IV.

1 He reproveth Iſrael for oppreſſion, 4 for idolatry, 6 and for their incorrigibleneſs.

HEar this word, ye [a] kine of Baſhan, that are in the mountain of Samaria, which oppreſs the poor, which cruſh the needy, which ſay to their maſters, [b] Bring, and let us drink.

2 The Lord GOD hath ſworn by his holineſs, that lo the days ſhall come upon you, that he will take you away with [c] hooks, and your poſterity with fiſh-hooks.

3 And ye ſhall go out at the breaches, every cow at that which is before her, and ‡ ye ſhall caſt them into the palace, ſaith the LORD.

4 ¶ Come to [d] Beth-el and tranſgreſs, at Gilgal multiply tranſgreſſion; and bring your ſacrifices every morning, and your tithes after † three [e] years.

5 And † offer a ſacrifice of thankſgiving [f] with leaven, and proclaim and publiſh the free-offerings; for † this [g] liketh you, O ye children of Iſrael, ſaith the Lord GOD.

6 ¶ And I alſo have given you [h] cleanneſs of teeth in all your cities, and want of bread in all your places: yet have ye not returned unto me, ſaith the LORD.

7 And alſo I have withholden the rain from you, when there were yet three [i] moneths to the harveſt, and I cauſed it to rain upon one city, and cauſed it not to rain upon another city: one piece was rained upon, and the piece whereupon it rained not, withered.

8 So two or three cities wandered unto one city, to drink water; but they were [k] not ſatisfied: yet have ye not returned unto me, ſaith the LORD.

9 I have ſmitten you with blaſting and mildew; ‡ when your gardens and your vineyards, and your fig-trees, and your olive-trees increaſed, the palmerworm devoured them: yet have ye not returned unto me, ſaith the LORD.

10 I have ſent among you the peſtilence, ‡ after the manner of [l] Egypt: your young men have I ſlain with the ſword, and † have taken away your horſes, and I have made the ſtink of your camps to come up unto your noſtrils: yet have ye not returned unto me, ſaith the LORD.

12 Therefore thus will I do unto thee, O Iſrael: and becauſe I will do this unto thee, prepare to [n] meet thy God, O Iſrael.

13 For lo, he that formeth the mountains, and createth the ‡ wind, and declareth unto man what is his thought, that maketh the morning darkneſs, and treadeth upon the high places of the earth, the LORD, the God of hoſts is his name.

2 The [a] virgin of Iſrael is fallen, ſhe ſhall no more riſe: ſhe is forſaken upon her land, there is none to raiſe her up.

3 For thus ſaith the Lord GOD, The city that went out by a thouſand, ſhall leave an [b] hundred, and that which went forth by an hundred, ſhall leave ten to the houſe of Iſrael.

4 ¶ For thus ſaith the LORD unto the houſe of Iſrael, Seek ye me, and ye ſhall live.

5 But ſeek not * Beth-el, nor enter into Gilgal, and paſs not to Beer-ſheba: for [c] Gilgal ſhall ſurely go into captivity, and Beth-el ſhall come to nought.

11 Forasmuch therefore as your treading is upon the poor, and [g] ye take from him burdens of wheat, * ye have built houses of hewen stone, but ye shall not dwell in them: ye have planted † pleasant vineyards, but ye shall not drink wine of them.

12 For I know your manifold transgressions, and your mighty sins: they afflict the just, they take ‡ a bribe, and they turn aside the poor in the gate from their right.

13 Therefore [h] the prudent shall keep silence in that time, for it is an evil time.

14 Seek good and not evil, that ye may live: and so the LORD the God of hosts shall be with you, as ye have spoken.

15 * Hate the evil, and love the good and establish judgement in the gate: it may be that the LORD God of hosts will be gracious unto the remnant of Joseph.

16 Therefore the LORD the God of hosts, the Lord saith thus, Wailing shall be in all streets, and they shall say in all the high-ways, Alas, alas: and they shall call the [i] husbandman to mourning, and such as are skilful of lamentation, to wailing.

17 And in all vineyards shall be wailing: for I will pass through thee, saith the LORD.

18 * Wo unto you that [k] desire the day of the LORD: to what end is it for you? the day of the LORD is darkness and not light.

19 As if a man did flee from a lion, and a bear met him; or went into the house, and leaned his hand on the wall, and a Serpent bit him.

20 Shall not the day of the LORD be darkness, and not light? even very dark, and no brightness in it?

21 ¶ * I hate, I despise your feast-days, and I will not ‡ smell in your solemn assemblies.

22 Though ye offer me burnt-offerings, and your meat-offerings, [l] I will not accept them: neither will I regard the ‡ peace-offerings of your fat beasts.

23 Take thou away from me the noise of thy songs, for I will not hear the melody of thy viols.

24 But let judgement † run down as [m] waters, and righteousness as a mighty stream.

25 * Have ye offered unto me sacrifices and offerings in the wilderness forty years, O house of Israel?

26 But ye have born ‡ the tabernacle of your [n] Moloch and Chiun your images, the star of your God, which ye made to your selves.

27 Therefore will I cause you to go into captivity beyond Damascus, saith the LORD, whose name is the God of hosts.

1 The wantonness of Israel 7 shall be plagued with desolation, 12 and their incorrigibleness.

* WO to [a] them that ‡ are at ease in Zion, and trust in the mountain of Samaria, [b] which are named * ‡ chief of the nations, to whom the house of Israel came.

3 Ye that * put far away the * [d] evil day, and cause the ‡ seat of violence to come near:

4 That lie upon beds of ivory, and ‡ stretch themselves upon their couches, and eat the lambs out of the flock, and the calves out of the midst of the stall:

5 That ‡ chant to the sound of the viol, and invent to themselves instruments of musick, like [e] David.

6 That drink ‡ wine in bowls, and anoint themselves with the chief ointments: but they are not [f] grieved for the † affliction of Joseph.

7 ¶ Therefore now shall they go captive with the first that go captive, and [g] the banquet of them that stretched themselves, shall be removed.

8 [h] The Lord GOD hath sworn by himself, saith the LORD the God of hosts, I abhor [i] the excellency of Jacob, and hate his palaces: therefore will I deliver up the city, with † all that is therein.

9 And it shall come to pass, if there remain ten men in one house, that they shall die.

10 And a man's uncle [k] shall take him up, and he that burneth him, to bring out the bones out of the house, and shall say unto him that is by the [l] sides of the house, Is there yet any with thee? and he shall say, No: then shall he say, * [m] Hold thy tongue; for ‡ we may not make mention of the name of the LORD.

11 For behold, the LORD commandeth and he will smite the great house with ‡ breaches, and the little house with clefts.

12 ¶ Shall horses [n] run upon the rock? will one plow there with oxen? for ye have turned judgement into gall, and the fruit of righteousness into [o] hemlock.

13 Ye which rejoyce in a thing of nought, which say, Have we not taken to us [p] horns by our own strength?

14 But behold, I will raise up against you a nation, O house of Israel, saith the LORD the God of hosts, and they shall afflict you from the entring in of [q] Hamath, unto the ‡ river of the wilderness.

CHAP. VII.

1 The judgement of the grashoppers, and of the fire, is diverted by the prayer of Amos. 7 By the wall of a plumb-line is signified the rejection of Israel. 10 Amaziah complaineth of Amos. 14 Amos sheweth his calling, 16 and Amaziah's judgement.

THus hath the Lord GOD shewed unto me, and behold, he formed ‡[a] grashoppers in the beginning of the shooting up of the latter growth, and lo, it was the latter growth, [b] after the King's mowings.

‡ Or, grass worms.
a To devour the land: and he alludeth to the invading of the enemy.
b After the publick commandment for mowing was given: or as some read, when the King's sheep were shorn.

2 And it came to pass, that when they had made an end of eating the grass of the land, then I said, O Lord GOD, forgive, I beseech thee, ‡ by whom shall Jacob arise? for he is small.

‡ Or, who of (or, for) Jacob shall stand?

3 The LORD [c] repented for this: It shall not be, saith the LORD.

c That is, stayed this plague at my prayer.

4 ¶ Thus hath the Lord GOD shewed unto me, and behold, the Lord GOD called to contend by fire, [d] and it devoured the great deep, and did eat up a part.

d Meaning, that God's indignation was inflamed against the stubbornes of this people.

5 Then said I, O Lord GOD, cease, I beseech thee; by whom shall Jacob arise? for he is small.

6 The LORD repented for this: This also shall not be, saith the Lord GOD.

7 ¶ Thus he shewed me, and behold, the Lord stood upon a wall, made by a plumb-line, [e] with a plumb-line in his hand.

e Signifying, that this should be the last measuring of the people, and that he would defer his judgement no longer.

8 And the LORD said unto me, Amos, what seest thou? and I said, A plumb-line. Then said the Lord, Behold, I will set a plumb-line in the midst of my people Israel, I will not again pass by them any more.

9 And the high places of Isaac shall be desolate, and the sanctuaries of Israel shall be laid waste; and I will rise against the house of Jeroboam with the sword.

10 ¶ [f] Then Amaziah the Priest of Beth-el sent to Jeroboam King of Israel, saying, Amos hath conspired against thee in the midst of the house of Israel: the land is not able to bear all his words.

f That is, when Amos had prophesied that the King should be destroyed: for this wicked Priest, more for hatred he bare to the Prophet, than for love toward the King, thought this accusation sufficient to condemn him, whereas none other could take place.

11 For thus Amos saith, Jeroboam shall die by the sword, and Israel shall surely be led away captive, out of their own land.

12 Also [g] Amaziah said unto Amos, O thou seer, go, flee thee away into the land of Judah, and there eat bread, and prophesy there.

g When this instrument of Satan was not able to compass his purpose by the King, he assayed by another practise: that was, to fear the Prophet, that he might depart, and not reprove their idolatry there openly, and so hinder his profit.

13 But prophesy not again any more at Beth-el: for it is the King's ‡ chappel and it is the † King's court.

‡ Or, sanctuary.
† Heb. house of the kingdom.

14 ¶ Then answered Amos, and said to Amaziah, I was no [h] Prophet, neither was I a Prophet's son, but I was an herdman, and a gatherer of ‡ sycomore-fruit.

h Thus he sheweth by his extraordinary vocation that God had given him a charge which he must needs execute.

‡ Or, wilde figs.

15 And the LORD took me † as I followed the flock, and the LORD said unto me, Go, prophesy unto my people Israel.

† Heb. from behind.

16 ¶ Now therefore hear thou the word of the LORD: thou sayest, Prophesy not against Israel, and * drop not thy word against the house of Isaac.

* Ezek. 21. 2.

17 Therefore thus saith the LORD, [i] Thy wife shall be an harlot in the city, and thy sons and thy daughters shall fall by the sword, and thy land shall be divided by line: and thou shalt die in a polluted land, and Israel shall surely go into captivity forth of his land.

i Thus God useth to approve the authority of his Prophets, by his plagues and judgements, against them which were malicious enemies Jer. 28. 12. & 29. 21, 25. as this day he doth against them that persecute the ministers of his Gospel.

CHAP. VIII.

1 By a basket of sommer-fruit, is shewed the propinquity of Israel's end. 4 Oppression is reproved. 11 A famin of the word threatned.

THus hath the Lord GOD shewed unto me, and behold, a basket of sommer-fruit.

2 And he said, Amos, what seest thou? and I said, A basket of summer-[a] fruit. Then said the LORD unto me, The end is come upon my people of Israel, I will not again pass by them any more.

a Which signified the ripeness of their sins, and the readiness of God's judgements.

b There shall be none left to mourn for them.

4 ¶ Hear this, O ye that [c] swallow up the needy, even to make the poor of the land to fail:

c By staying the sale of food and necessary things which you have gotten into your own hands, and so cause the poor to spend quickly that little that they have, and at length for necessity to become your slaves.

8 Shall not the land tremble for this, and every one mourn that dwelleth therein? and it shall rise up wholly as a floud; & it shall be cast out and [f] drowned, as by the floud of Egypt.

f That is, the inhabitants of the land shall be drowned, as Nilus drowneth many when it overfloweth.

9 And it shall come to pass in that day, saith the Lord GOD, that I will cause the [g] Sun to go down at noon, and I will darken the earth in the clear day.

g In the midst of their prosperity will send great afflictions.

10 And I will turn your feasts into mourning, and all your songs into lamentation, and I will bring up sackcloth upon all loins, and baldness upon every head: and I will make it as the mourning of an onely son, and the end thereof as a bitter day.

11 ¶ Behold, the days come, saith the Lord GOD, that I will send a famin in the land, not a famin of bread, nor a thirst for water, but of hearing the words of the LORD.

h Whereby he shewed that they shall not onely perish in body, but also in soul, for lack of God's word, which is the food thereof.

12 And they shall wander from Sea to Sea and from the north even to the east, they shall run to and fro to seek the [h] word of the LORD, and shall not find it.

13 In that day shall the fair virgins and young men faint for thirst.

14 They that swear by the sin [i] of Samaria, and say, Thy God, O Dan, liveth, and the [k] manner of Beer-sheba liveth; even they shall fall, and never rise up again.

i For the idolaters did use to swear by their idols, which here he calleth their sin, as the Papists yet do by theirs.

I Saw the Lord standing upon the [a] altar, and he said, Smite the ‡ lintel of the door, that the posts may shake: and ‡ cut them in the [b] head all of them; and I will slay the last of them with the sword: he that fleeth of them shall not flee away; and he that escapeth of them shall not be delivered.

OBA-

OBADIAH.

THE ARGUMENT.

THe Idumeans which came to Esau, were mortal enemies always to the Israelites, which came of Jacob, and therefore did not onely vex them continually with sundry kinds of cruelty, but also stirred up others to fight against them. Therefore when they were now in their greatest prosperity, and did most triumph against Israel, which was in great affliction and misery, God raised up his Prophet to comfort the Israelites, forasmuch as God had now determined to destroy their adversaries, which did so sore vex them, and to send them such as should deliver them, and set up the kingdom of Messiah, which he had promised.

1 The destruction of Edom, 3 for their pride, 10 and for their wrong unto Jacob. 17 The salvation and victory of Jacob.

THe vision of Obadiah. Thus saith the Lord GOD, concerning Edom, [a] We have heard a rumour from the LORD, and an ambassadour is sent among the heathen, Arise ye, & [b] let us rise up against her in battel.

2 Behold, I have made thee small among the heathen: thou art greatly despised.

3 ¶ The [c] pride of thine heart hath deceived thee: thou that dwellest in the clifts of the rock, whose habitation is high, that saith in his heart, Who shall bring me down to the ground?

4 * Though thou exalt thy self as the eagle, and though thou set thy nest among the stars, thence will I bring thee down, saith the LORD.

5 If [d] thievs came to thee, If robbers by night, (how art thou cut off!) would they not have stolen till they had enough? if the grape gatherers came to thee, would they not leave ‡ some grapes.

6 How are the things of Esau searched out? how are his hid things sought up?

7 All the men of thy confederacy [e] have brought thee even to the border: † the men that were at peace with thee have deceived thee, and prevailed against thee: † they that eat thy [f] bread, have laid a wound under thee: there is none understanding ‡ in him.

8 * Shall I not in that day, saith the LORD, even destroy the wise men out of Edom, and understanding out of the mount of Esau?

9 And thy mighty men, O Teman, shall be dismayed, to the end that every one of the mount of Esau may be cut off by slaughter.

10 ¶ For thy * violence against thy [g] brother Jacob, shame shall cover thee, and thou shalt be cut off for ever.

11 In the day that thou stoodst [h] on the other side, in the day that the strangers ‡ carried away captive his forces, and forreiners entred into his gates, and cast lots upon Jerusalem, even thou wast as one of them.

12 But ‡ thou shouldest not have looked on the day of thy brother, in the day that he became [i] a stranger, neither shouldest thou have rejoyced over the children of Judah in the day of their destruction: neither shouldest thou have † spoken proudly in the day of distress.

13 Thou shouldest not have entred into the gate of my people in the day of their calamity; yea, thou shouldest not have looked on their affliction in the day of their calamity, nor have laid hands on their ‡ substance, in the day of their calamity.

14 Neither shouldest thou have stood in the cross-way, to cut off those of his that did escape, neither shouldest thou have ‡ delivered up those of his that did remain in the day of distress.

15 For the day [k] of the LORD is near upon all the heathen: * as thou hast done, it shall be done unto thee, thy reward shall return upon thine own head.

16 For as ye have [l] drunk upon my holy mountain, so shall all the heathen drink continually, yea, they shall drink, and they shall ‡ swallow down, and they shall be [m] as though they had not been.

17 ¶ But upon mount Zion shall be ‡ deliverance, and ‡ there shall be holiness, and the house of Jacob shall possess their possessions.

18 And the house of Jacob shall be [n] a fire, and the house of Joseph a flame, and the house of Esau for stubble, and they shall kindle in them, and devour them, and there shall not be any remaining of the house of Esau; for the LORD hath spoken it.

19 And they of the south shall possess the [o] mount of Esau, and they of the plain, the Philistins: and they shall possess the fields of Ephraim, and the fields of Samaria, and Benjamin shall possess Gilead.

20 And the captivity of this host of the children of Israel shall possess that of the [p] Canaanites, even unto Zarephath, and the captivity of Jerusalem ‡ which is in Sepharad, shall possess the cities of the south.

21 And *[q] saviours shall come up on mount Zion to judge the mount of Esau, and the * kingdom shall be the LORD'S.

a God hath certainly revealed to his Prophets, that he will raise up the heathen to destroy the Edomites, whereof the rumour is now published, Jer. 49. 14.

b Thus the heathen encourage themselves to rise against Edom.

JONAH.

THE ARGUMENT.

WHen Jonah had long propheſied in Iſrael, and had little profited, God gave him expreſs charge to go and denounce his judgements againſt Nineveh the chief city of the Aſſyrians, becauſe he had appointed, that they which were of the heathen, ſhould convert by the mighty power of his word, and that within three days preaching, that Iſrael might ſee how horribly they had provoked God's wrath, which for the ſpace of ſo many years, had not converted to the Lord for ſo many Prophets, and ſo diligent preaching. He propheſied under Joaſh, and Jeroboam, as 2 King 14. 25.

CHAP. I.

1 Jonah ſent to Nineveh fleeth to Tarſhiſh. 4 He is bewrayed by a tempeſt, 11 is thrown into the Sea, 17 and ſwallowed by a fiſh.

NOw the word of the LORD came [a] unto ‡ Jonah the ſon of Amittai, ſaying,

2 Ariſe, go to [b] Nineveh that * [c] great city, and cry againſt it; for their wickedneſs is come up before me.

3 But Jonah roſe up to [d] flee unto Tarſhiſh from the preſence of the LORD, and went down to [e] Joppa; and he found a ſhip going to Tarſhiſh: ſo he paid the fare thereof, and went down into it to go with them unto Tarſhiſh, from the [f] preſence of the LORD.

4 ¶ But the LORD † ſent out a great wind into the ſea, and there was a mighty tempeſt in the ſea, ſo that the ſhip † was like to be broken.

5 Then the mariners were afraid, and cried every man unto his God, and caſt forth the wares that were in the ſhip, into the ſea, to lighten it of them: but Jonah was gone down [g] into the ſides of the ſhip, and he lay, and was faſt aſleep.

6 So the ſhip-maſter came to him, and ſaid unto him, What meaneſt thou, O ſleeper? ariſe, call upon thy [h] God, if ſo be that God will think upon us, that we periſh not.

7 And they ſaid every one to his fellow, Come, and let us caſt [i] lots, that we may know for whoſe cauſe this evil is upon us. So they caſt lots, and the lot fell upon Jonah.

8 Then ſaid they unto him, Tell us, we pray thee, for whoſe cauſe this evil is upon us; what is thine occupation? and whence comeſt thou? what is thy countrey? and of what people art thou?

9 And he ſaid unto them, I am an Hebrew, and I fear the LORD the God of heaven, which hath made the ſea and the dry land.

10 Then were the men † exceedingly afraid, and ſaid unto him, Why haſt thou done this? (for the men knew that he fled from the preſence of the LORD, becauſe he had told them)

11 ¶ Then ſaid they unto him, What ſhall we do unto thee, that the ſea † may be calm unto us? (for the ſea ‡ † wrought and was tempeſtuous)

12 And he ſaid unto them, Take me up, and caſt me forth into the ſea; ſo ſhall the ſea be calm unto you: for I know that for my ſake this great tempeſt is upon you.

13 Nevertheleſs the men † rowed hard to bring it to the land, but they could not; for the ſea wrought, and was tempeſtuous againſt them.

14 Wherefore they cried unto the LORD, and ſaid, [k] We beſeech thee, O LORD, we beſeech thee, let us not periſh for this man's life, and lay not upon us innocent bloud: for thou, O LORD, haſt done as it pleaſed thee.

15 So they took up Jonah, and caſt him forth into the ſea, and the ſea † ceaſed from her raging.

16 Then the men [l] feared the LORD exceedingly, and † offered a ſacrifice unto the LORD, and made vows.

17 ¶ Now the LORD had prepared a great fiſh to ſwallow up Jonah, and * Jonah was in the † [m] belly of the fiſh three days and three nights.

a After that he had preached a long time in Iſrael: and ſo Ezekiel, after that for a time he had propheſied in Judah, he had viſions in Babylon, Ezek. 1. 1.

‡ Called Matt. 12. verſ. 39 Jonas.

b For ſeeing the great obſtination of the Iſraelites, he ſent his Prophet to the Gentiles, that they might provoke them to repentance, or at leſt make them inexcuſable: for Nineveh was the chief city of the Aſſyrians.

† Heb. with great fear. † Heb. may be ſilent from us? ‡ Or, grew more and more tempeſtuous. † Heb. went.

1 Jonah ſent again, preacheth to the Ninevites. 5 Upon their repentance, 10 God repenteth.

AND the word of the LORD came unto Jonah the ſecond time, ſaying,

2 Ariſe, go unto Nineveh that great city, and preach unto it the preaching that I bid thee.

3 So Jonah aroſe and went unto Nineveh, according to the word of the LORD: (now Nineveh was an † exceeding [b] great city of three days journey)

4 And Jonah began to enter into the city a days [c] journey, and he cried, and ſaid, Yet forty days and Nineveh ſhall be overthrown.

5 ¶ So the people of Nineveh * [d] believed God, and proclaimed a faſt, and put on ſackcloth from the greateſt of them even to the leſt of them.

6 For word came unto the King of Nineveh, and he aroſe from his throne, and he laid his robe from him, and covered him with ſackcloth, and ſat in aſhes.

7 And he cauſed it to be proclaimed, and †publiſhed through Nineveh (by the decree of the King and his † nobles) ſaying, Let neither man nor [e] beaſt, herd nor flock taſte any thing: let them not feed, nor drink water.

8 But let man and beaſt be covered with ſackcloth, and [f] cry mightily unto God: yea, let them turn every one from his evil way, and from the violence that is in their hands.

9 * [g] Who can tell if God will turn and repent, and turn away from his fierce anger, that we periſh not?

10 ¶ And God ſaw their [h] works, that they turned from their evil way, and [i] God repented of the evil that he had ſaid that he would do unto them, and he did it not.

CHAP. IV.

1 Jonah repining at God's mercy, 4 is reproved by the type of a gourd.

BUT it diſpleaſed [a] Jonah exceedingly, and he was very angry.

2 And he prayed unto the LORD, and ſaid I pray thee, O LORD, was not this my ſaying, when I was yet in my country? Therefore I fled before unto [b] Tarſhiſh: for I knew that thou art a * gracious God and merciful, ſlow to anger and of great kindneſs, and repenteſt thee of the evil.

3 Therefore now, O LORD, take, I beſeech thee, my life [c] from me; for it is better for me to die than to live.

4 ¶ Then ſaid the Lord, ‡ Doeſt thou well to be [d] angry?

5 So Jonah went out of the city, and ſat on the eaſt-ſide of the city, and there made him a booth, and ſat under it in the ſhadow, [e] till he might ſee what would become of the city.

6 And the LORD God prepared a ‡ [f] † gourd, and made it to come up over Jonah, that it might be a ſhadow over his head, to deliver him from his grief. So Jonah † was exceeding glad of the gourd.

7 But God prepared a worm when the morning roſe the next day, and it ſmote the gourd that it withered.

8 And it came to paſs when the Sun did ariſe, that God prepared a ‡ vehement eaſt-wind; and the Sun beat upon the head of Jonah, that he fainted, and wiſhed in himſelf to die, and ſaid, It is better for me to die than to live.

9 And God ſaid to Jonah, ‡ Doeſt thou well to be angry for the gourd? and he ſaid, ‡ I do well to be [g] angry even unto death.

10 Then ſaid the LORD, Thou haſt ‡ had pity on the gourd, for the which thou haſt not laboured, neither madeſt it grow, which † came up in a night, and periſhed in a night:

MICAH.

THE ARGUMENT.

MIcah the Prophet, of the tribe of Judah, served in the work of the Lord concerning Judah and Israel at the lest thirty years: at what time Isaiah propheſied. He declareth the deſtruction, firſt of the one Kingdom, and then of the other, becauſe of their manifold wickedneſs, but chiefly for their idolatry. And to this end he noteth the wickedneſs of the people, the cruelty of the Princes and Governours, and the permiſſion of the falſe Prophets, and the delighting in them. Then he ſetteth forth the coming of Chriſt, his kingdom, and the felicity thereof. This Prophet was not that Micah, which reſiſted Ahab and all his falſe Prophets, as 1 King 22. 8. but another of the ſame name.

CHAP. I.

2 Micah ſheweth the wrath of God againſt Jacob, for idolatry. 10 He exhorteth to mourning.

THE word of the LORD that came to Micah the [a] Moraſthite in the days of Jotham, Ahuz, and Hezekiah, Kings of Judah, which he ſaw concerning Samaria & Jeruſalem.

2 † Hear, [b] all ye people * hearken, O earth, and † all that therein in is, and the Lord GOD be witneſs againſt you, the Lord from his holy temple.

3 For behold, * the LORD cometh forth out of his * place, and will come [c] down, and tread upon the * high places of the earth.

4 And * the mountains ſhall be molten under him, and the valleys ſhall be cleft: as wax before the fire, and as the waters that are poured down † a ſteep place.

5 For the tranſgreſſion of Jacob is all this, and for the ſins of the houſe of Iſrael. What is the tranſgreſſion of Jacob? is it not [d] Samaria? and what are the * high places of Judah? are they not Jeruſalem?

6 Therefore I will make Samaria as a heap of the field, and as plantings of a vineyard; and I will pour down the ſtones thereof into the valley, and I will diſcover the foundations thereof.

7 And all the graven images thereof ſhall be beaten to pieces, and all the [f] hires thereof ſhall be burnt with the fire, and all the idols thereof will I lay deſolate; for ſhe gathered it of the hire of an harlot, and they ſhall return [g] to the hire of an harlot.

8 Therefore I will wail and howl, I will go ſtript and naked: I will make a wailing like the dragons, and mourning as the † owls.

9 For ‡ her wound is incurable, for it is come unto Judah: he is come unto the gate of my people, even to Jeruſalem.

10 ¶ * Declare ye it not at [h] Gath, weep ye not all: in the houſe of [i] Aphrah * roll thy ſelf in the duſt.

11 Paſs ye away, ‡ thou † inhabitant of [k] Saphir, having thy * ſhame naked; the inhabitant of ‡ Zaanan came not forth in the mourning of ‡ Beth-ezel, he ſhall [l] receive of you his ſtanding.

12 For the inhabitant of Maroth ‡ waited carefully for good; but evil came down from the LORD unto the [m] gate of Jeruſalem.

13 O thou inhabitant of Lachiſh, bind the chariot to the ſwift [n] beaſt: ſhe is [o] the beginning of the ſin of the daughter of Zion: for the tranſgreſſions of Iſrael were found in thee.

14 Therefore ſhalt thou give preſents ‡ to Moreſheth-[p] gath: the houſes of ‡ Achzib ſhall be a lie to the Kings of Iſrael.

14 Yet will I bring an [q] heir unto thee, O inhabitant of Mareſhah: ‡ he ſhall come unto Adullam [r] the glory of Iſrael.

16 Make thee * bald, and poll thee for thy delicate children, enlarge thy baldneſs as the eagle, for they are gone into captivity from thee.

b Becauſe of the malice and obſtinacy of the people whom he had ſo oft exhorted to repentance, he ſommoneth them to God's judgements, taking all creatures and God himſelf to witneſs, that the preaching of his Prophets, which they have abuſed, ſhall be revenged.

CHAP. II.

1 Againſt oppreſſion. 4 A lamentation. 7 A reproof of injuſtice and idolatry. 12 A promiſe of reſtoring Jacob.

WO to them that deviſe iniquity, and work evil upon their beds: [a] when the morning is ligh, they practiſe it, becauſe it is in the power of their hand.

2 And they covet * fields, and take them by violence: and houſes, and take them away: ſo they ‡ oppreſs a man and his houſe, even a man and his heritage.

3 Therefore thus ſaith the LORD, Behold, againſt this family do I deviſe an evil, from which ye ſhall not remove your necks, neither ſhall ye go haughtily: for this time is evil.

4 ¶ In that day ſhall one take up a parable againſt you, and lament † with a doleful lamentation, and ſay, [b] We be utterly ſpoiled: he hath changed the portion of my people: how hath he removed it from me! ‡ turning away he hath divided our fields.

5 Therefore thou ſhalt have none that ſhall * caſt a cord by lot in [c] the congregation of the LORD.

6 ‡ † * [d] Propheſy ye not, ſay they to them that propheſy: [e] they ſhall not propheſy to them, that they ſhall not take ſhame.

* Iſa. 30. 10.
d Thus the people warn the Prophets that they ſpeak to them no more, for they cannot abide their threatnings.
e God ſaith that they ſhall not propheſy, nor receive any more of their rebukes or taunts.

7 ¶ O thou that art named the house of Jacob, is the spirit of the LORD ‡ straitned? are these his doings? do not my words do good to him [g] that walketh † uprightly?

8 Even † [h] of late my people is risen up as an enemy: ye pull off the [i] robe † with the garment, from them that pass by securely, as men averse from war.

9 The ‡ women of my people have ye cast out from their pleasant houses, from their children have ye taken away [k] my glory for ever.

10 Arise ye and depart, for this is not your [l] rest: because it is polluted, it shall destroy you even with a sore destruction.

11 If a man ‡ [m] walking in the spirit and falshood, do lie, saying, [n] I will prophesie unto thee of wine and of strong drink; he shall even be the Prophet of this people.

12 ¶ I will surely [o] assemble, O Jacob, all of thee: I will surely gather the remnant of Israel, I will put them together as the sheep of Bozrah, as the flock in the midst of their fold: they shall make great noise by reason of the multitude of men.

13 The [p] breaker is come up before them; they have broken up, and have passed through the gate, and are gone out by it, and their King shall pass before them, and the LORD [q] on the head of them.

CHAP. III.

1 The cruelty of the Princes. 5 The falshood of the Prophets. 8 The security of them both.

AND I said, Hear, I pray you, O heads of Jacob, and ye Princes of the house of Israel: is it nor for you to know [a] judgement?

2 Who hate the good, and love the evil, who pluck off their skin from off them, and their flesh from off their bones.

3 Who also eat the [b] flesh of my people, and flay their skin from off them, and they break their bones and chop them in pieces, as for the pot, and as flesh within the cauldron.

4 Then [c] shall they cry unto the LORD, but he will not hear them: he will even hide his face from them at that time, as they have behaved themselvs ill in their doings.

5 ¶ Thus saith the LORD concerning the Prophets that make my people err, that * [d] bite with their teeth, and cry, Peace: and he that putteth not into their mouths, they even prepare war against him.

6 Therefore [e] night shall be unto you † that ye shall not have a vision, and it shall be dark unto you, † that ye shall not divine, and the Sun shall go down over the Prophets, and the day shall be dark over them.

7 Then shall the seers be ashamed, and the diviners confounded: yea, they shall all [f] cover their † lips, for there is no answer of God.

8 ¶ But truely I am full [g] of power by the Spirit of the LORD, and of judgement and of might, to declare unto Jacob his transgression, and to Israel his sin.

9 Hear this, I pray you, ye heads of the house of Jacob, and Princes of the house of Israel, that abhor judgement, and pervert all equity.

10 They build up Zion with * † [h] bloud, and Jerusalem with iniquity.

11 The heads thereof judge for reward, and the Priests thereof, teach for hire, and the Prophets thereof divine for money: yet will they [i] lean upon the LORD, † and say, Is not the LORD among us? none evil can come upon us.

12 Therefore shall Zion for your sake be [k] plowed as a field, and Jerusalem shall become heaps, and the mountain of the house, as the high places of the forrest.

CHAP. IV.

1 The glory, 3 peace, 8 kingdom, 11 and victory of the Church.

BUt * in the [a] last days it shall come to pass, that the mountain of the house of the LORD shall be established in the top of the mountains, and it shall be exalted above the [b] hills, and people shall flow unto it.

2 And many nations shall come and say, Come and let us go up to the mountain of the LORD, and to the house of the God of Jacob, and he will [c] teach us of his ways, and we will walk in his paths: for the Law shall go forth of Zion, and the word of the LORD from Jerusalem.

3 ¶ And he shall judge among many people, and [d] rebuke strong nations afar off, and they shall beat their swords into * plowshares, and their spears into ‡ [e] pruning-hooks; nation shall not lift up a sword against nation, neither shall they [f] learn war any more.

4 But they shall sit every man under his vine, and under his fig-tree: and none shall make them afraid: for the mouth of the LORD of hosts hath spoken it.

5 For all people will walk [g] every one in the name of his God, and we will walk in the name of the LORD our God for ever and ever.

6 In that day, saith the LORD, will I assemble her that halteth, and I will gather her that is driven out, and her that I have afflicted.

7 And I will make her that * halted [h] a remnant, and her that was cast far off, a strong nation; and the LORD * shall reign over them in mount Zion, from henceforth even for ever.

8 ¶ And thou, O [i] tower of the flock, the strong hold of the daughter of Zion, unto thee shall it come, even [k] the first dominion, the kingdom shall come to the daughter of Jerusalem.

9 Now why dost thou cry out aloud? is [l] there no King in thee? is thy counseller perished? for pangs have taken thee as a woman in travail.

10 Be in pain, and labour to bring forth, O daughter of Zion, like a woman in travail: for

1 The birth of Christ. 4 His kingdom. 8 His conquest.

NOw gather thy self in troups, O daughter of [a] troups: he hath laid siege against us: they shall smite the judge of Israel with a rod upon the cheek.

a He forewarneth them of the dangers that shall come before they enjoy these comforts, shewing that forasmuch as Jerusalem was accustomed with her garrisons to trouble others, the Lord would now cause other garrisons to vex her, & that her rulers should be smitten on the face most contemptuously.

2 But thou Beth-lehem Ephratah, though thou be [b] little among the thousands of Judah, yet out of thee shall he come forth unto me, that is to be Ruler in Israel: whose [c] goings forth have been from of old, from † everlasting.

b For so the Jews divided their country, that for every thousand there was a chief captain, and because Beth-lehem was not able to make a thousand, he calleth it little, but yet God will raise up his captain and gouvernour therein: and thus it is not the left by reason of this benefit, as Matth. 2. 6. Joh. 7. 42.

c He sheweth that the coming of Christ and all his ways were appointed of God from all eternity. † Heb. the days of eternity.

3 Therefore will he give them up until the time that [d] she which travaileth hath brought forth: then the remnant of his brethren shall return unto the children of Israel.

4 ¶ And he shall [e] stand and ‡ feed in the strength of the LORD, in the majesty of the name of the LORD his God, and they shall abide: for now shall he be great unto the ends of the earth.

NAHUM.

THE ARGUMENT.

AS they of Nineveh shewed themselves prompt and ready to receive the word of God at Jonah's preaching, and so turned to the Lord by repentance: so after a certain time, rather giving themselves to worldly means to increase their dominion, than seeking to continue in the fear of God, and trade wherein they had begun, they cast off the care of Religion, and so returned to their vomit, and provoked God's just judgement against them, in afflicting his people. Therefore their city Nineveh was destroyed, and Meroch-baladan King of Babel (or as some think Nebuchad-nezzar) enjoyed the Empire of the Assyrians; But because God hath continual care of his Church, he stirreth up his Prophet to comfort the godly, shewing that the destruction of their enemies should be for their consolation. And as it seemeth, he propheſied about the time of Hezekiah, and not in the time of Manasseh his son, as the Jews write.

HABAK-

HABAKKUK.

THE ARGUMENT.

THe Prophet complaineth unto God, considering the great felicity of the wicked, and the miserable oppression of the godly, which endure all kind of affliction and cruelty, and yet can see none end. Therefore he had this revelation shewed him of God, that the Caldeans should come and take them away captives, so that they could look for none end of their troubles as yet, because of their stubbornness and rebellion against the Lord. And least the godly should despair, seeing this horrible confusion, he comforteth them by this, that God will punish the Caldeans their enemies, when their pride and cruelty shall be at height: wherefore he exhorteth the faithfull to patience by his own example, and sheweth them a form of prayer, wherewith they should comfort themselvs.

CHAP. I.

1 Unto Habakkuk, complaining of the iniquity of the land, 5 is shewed the fearful vengeance by the Caldeans. 12 He complaineth that vengeance should be executed by them who are far worse.

THe burden which Habakkuk the Prophet did see.

2 O LORD, how long shall I crie, and thou wilt not hear! even cry out unto thee [a] of violence, and thou wilt not save!

3 Why dost thou shew me iniquity, and cause me to behold grievance? for spoiling and violence are before me: and there are that raise up strife and contention.

4 Therefore the Law is slacked, and judgement doth never go forth: for the * wicked doth [b] compass about the righteous: therefore ‡ [c] wrong judgement proceedeth.

5 ¶ * Behold ye among the heathen, and regard, and wonder marvellously: for I will work a work in your days, which [d] ye will not believe, though it be told you.

6 For lo, I raise up the Caldeans, that bitter and hasty nation, which shall march through the † breadth of the land, to possess the dwelling places that are not theirs.

7 They are terrible and dreaful: ‡ [e] their judgement and their dignity shall proceed of themselvs.

8 Their horses also are swifter than the leopards, and are more † fierce than the * evening wolves: and their horsmen shall spread themselvs, and their horsmen shall come from far, they shall flie as the eagle that hasteth to eat.

9 They shall come all for violence: ‡ † their faces shall sup up as the [f] east wind, and they shall gather the captivity [g] as the sand.

10 And they shall scoff at the Kings, and the Princes shall be a scorn unto them: they shall deride every strong hold, for they shall heap [h] dust and take it.

11 Then shall his [i] mind change, and he shall pass over, and offend, imputing this his power unto his God.

12 ¶ Art thou not from everlasting, O LORD my God, mine holy one? we shall [k] not die: O LORD, thou hast ordained them for judgement, and O † mighty God, thou hast † established them for correction.

13 Thou art of purer eyes than to behold evil, and canst not look on ‡ iniquity: wherefore lookest thou upon them that deal treacherously, and holdest thy tongue when the wicked devoureth the man that is more righteous than he?

14 And makest men as the [l] fishes of the sea, as the ‡ creeping things that have no ruler over them.

15 They take up all of them with the angle: they catch them in their net, and gather them in their ‡ drag; therefore they rejoyce and are glad.

16 Therefore they sacrifice unto their [m] net, and burn incense unto their drag: because by them their portion is fat, and their meat ‡ † plenteous.

17 Shall they therefore empty their net, and not [n] spare continually to slay the nations?

CHAP. II.

1 Unto Habakkuk, waiting for an answer, is shewed that he must wait by faith. 5 The judgement upon the Caldean for unsatiableness, 9 for covetousness, 12 for cruelty, 15 for drunkenness, 18 and for idolatry.

I Will * stand upon my [a] watch, and set me upon the † tower, and will watch to see what he will say ‡ unto me, and what I shall answer ‡ † when I am reproved,

2 And the LORD answered me, and said, Write the vision, and make it plain upon tables, that he may run [b] that readeth it.

3 For the vision is yet for an appointed time, but at the [c] end it shall speak, and not lie: though it tarry, wait for it; because it will * surely come, it will not tarry.

4 Behold, [d] his soul which is lifted up, is not upright in him: but the * just shall live by his faith.

6 Shall not all these take up a parable against him, and a taunting proverb against him, and say, ‡ Wo to him that increaseth that which is not his: [f] how long? and to him that ladeth himself with thick clay.

7 Shall [g] they not rise up suddenly that shall bite thee, and awake that shall vex thee, and thou shalt be for booties unto them?

8 Because thou hast spoiled many nations, all the remnant of the people shall spoil thee: because of men's † bloud, and for the violence of the land, of the city, and of all that dwell therein.

10 Thou [h] hast consulted shame to thy house, by cutting off many people, and hast sinned against thy soul.

11 For the [i] stone shall cry out of the wall, and the ‡ beam out of the timber shall ‡ answer it.

12 ¶ Wo to him that buildeth a town with * † bloud, and stablisheth a city by iniquity.

13 Behold, is it not of the [k] LORD of hosts, that the people shall labour in the very fire, and the people shall weary themselves ‡ for very vanity?

14 For the earth shall [l] be filled ‡ with the * knowledge of the glory of the LORD, as the waters cover the sea.

15 ¶ Wo unto him that giveth his neighbour [m] drink: that puttest thy bottle to him, and makest him drunken also, that thou mayest look on their nakedness.

16 Thou art filled ‡ with shame [n] for glory: * drink thou also, and let thy foreskin be uncovered: the cup of the LORD's right hand shall be turned unto thee, and shameful spewing shall be on thy glory.

17 For the [o] violence of Lebanon shall cover thee: and the spoil of beasts, which made them afraid because of men's bloud, and for the violence of the land, of the city, and of all that dwell therein.

18 ¶ What profiteth the graven [p] image, that the maker thereof hath graven it; the molten image, and a * teacher of lies, that † the maker of his work trusteth therein, to make him dumb idols?

19 Wo unto him that saith to the wood, Awake; to the dumb stone, Arise, it shall teach: [q] behold, it is laid over with gold and silver, and there is no breath at all in the midst of it:

20 But * the LORD is in his holy temple: † let all the earth keep silence before him.

17 The confidence of his faith.

A Prayer of Habakkuk the Prophet ‡ upon [a] Sigionoth.

2 [b] O LORD, I have heard † thy speech and was afraid: O LORD, ‡ revive the [c] work in the midst of the years, in the midst of the years make known; in wrath remember mercie.

3 God came from ‡ [d] Teman, and the holy one from mount Paran. Selah. His glory covered the heavens, and the earth was full of his praise.

4 And his brightness was as the light, [e] he had ‡ horns coming out of his hand, and there was the hiding of his power.

5 Before him went the pestilence, and ‡ burning coals went forth at his feet.

6 He stood and measured the earth: he beheld, and drove asunder the nations, and the everlasting mountains were scattered, the perpetual hills did bow: his [f] ways are everlasting.

7 I saw the tents of ‡ Cushan ‡ [g] in affliction: and the curtains of the land of Midian did tremble.

8 Was the LORD displeased against the [h] rivers? was thine anger against the rivers? was thy wrath against the sea, that thou didst ride [i] upon thine horses, and ‡ thy chariots of salvation?

9 Thy [k] bowe was made quite naked, according to the [l] oaths of the tribes, even they word. Selah. ‡ Thou [m] didst cleave the earth with rivers.

10 The mountains saw thee, and they trembled, the everflowing of the water [n] passed by: the deep uttered his voice, and lift up his hands on high.

11 The [o] Sun and Moon stood still in their habitation: ‡ [p] at the light of thine * arrows they went, and at the shining of thy glittering spear.

12 Thou didst march through the land in indignation, thou didst thresh the heathen in anger:

13 Thou wentest forth for the salvation of thy people, even for salvation with thine [q] anointed, thou woundedst the head out of the house of the wicked, by † discovering the foundation unto the [r] neck. Selah.

14 Thou didst [s] strike through with his staves the head of his villages: they † came out as a whirlwind to scatter me: their rejoycing was as to devour the poor secretly.

THE ARGUMENT.

SEeing the great rebellion of the people, and that there was now no hope of amendment, he denounceth the great judgement of God, which was at hand, ſhewing that their countrey ſhould be utterly deſtroyed, and they carried away captivs by the Babylonians. Yet for the comfort of the faithful, he propheſied of God's vengeance againſt their enemies, as the Philiſtins, Moabites, Aſſyrians, and others, to aſſure them that God had a continual care over them. And as the wicked ſhould be puniſhed for their ſins and tranſgreſſions, ſo he exhorteth the godly to patience, and to truſt to find mercy by reaſon of the free promiſe of God made unto Abraham: therefore quietly to abide till God ſhew them the effect of that grace, whereby in the end they ſhould be gathered unto him, and counted as his people and children.

a Not that God was angry with theſe dumb creatures, but becauſe man was ſo wicked, for whoſe cauſe they were created, God maketh them to take part of the puniſhment with him.

3 I will conſume man and beaſt: I will conſume the [a] fowls of the heaven, and the fiſhes of the ſea, and the ‡ ſtumbling-blocks with the wicked, and I will cut off man from off the land, ſaith the LORD.

[a] That is, Jerusalem.

[b] That is, which have lived uprightly and godly, according as he prescribeth by his word.

4 ¶ For [c] Gaza shall be forsaken, and Ashkelon a desolation: they shall drive out Ashdod at the noon day, and Ekron shall be rooted up.

c He comforteth the faithful in that, that God would change his punishments from them unto the Philistins their enemies and other nations.

5 Wo unto the inhabitants of the sea-[d] coast, the nation of the Cherethites: the word of the Lord is against you: O Canaan, the land of the Philistins, I will even destroy thee, that there shall be no inhabitant.

[d] That is, Galilee: by these nations he meaneth the people that dwelt next to the Jews, and in stead of friendship were their enemies: therefore he calleth them Canaanites, whom the Lord appointed to be slain.

6 And the sea-coast shall be dwellings and cottages for shepherds, and folds for flocks.

7 And the coast shall be for the * remnant of the house of Judah, they shall feed thereupon, in the houses of Ashkelon shall they lie down in the evening: ‡ for the LORD their God shall visit them, and turn away their captivity.

‡ Or, when, &c.

8 ¶ I have heard the reproach of Moab, and the revilings of the children of Ammon, whereby they have reproached my people, and [f] magnified themselvs against their border.

f Their nations purposed to take from the Jews that countrey, which the Lord had given them.

9 Therefore as I live, saith the LORD of hosts the God of Israel, Surely Moab shall be as Sodom, and the children of Ammon as Gomorrah, even the breeding of nettles, and saltpits, and a perpetual desolation, the residue of my people shall spoil them, and the remnant of my people shall possess them.

10 Thus shall they have for their pride, because they have reproached and magnified themselvs against the people of the LORD of hosts.

HAGGAI.

THE ARGUMENT.

WHen the time of the ſeventy years captivity propheſied by Jeremiah, was expired, God raiſed up Haggai, Zechariah, and Malachi to comfort the Jews, and to exhort them to the building of the Temple, which was a figure of the ſpiritual Temple & Church of God, whoſe perfection and excellency ſtood in Chriſt. And becauſe that all were given to their own pleaſures & commodities, he declareth that that plague of famin, which God then ſent among them, was a juſt reward of their ingratitude, in that they contemned God's honour, who had delivered them. Yet he comforteth them, if they will return to the Lord, with the promiſe of greater felicity, foraſmuch as the Lord will finiſh the work that he hath begun, and ſend Chriſt whom he had promiſed, and by whom they ſhould attain to perfect joy and glory.

CHAP. I.

1 Haggai reproveth the people for neglecting the building of the houſe. 7 He inciteth them to the building. 12 He promiſeth God's aſſiſtance to them being forward.

a Who was the ſon of Hyſtaſpis, and the third King of the Perſians, as ſome think.

IN the ſecond year of [a] Darius the King, in the ſixth moneth, in the firſt day of the moneth, came the word of the LORD † by Haggai the Prophet unto [b] Zerubbabel the ſon of Shealtiel, ‡ Governour of Judah, and to Joſhua the ſon of Joſedech the high Prieſt, ſaying, † Heb. by the hand of Haggai.

b Becauſe the building of the Temple began to ceaſe, by reaſon that the people were diſcouraged by their enemies, and if theſe two notable men had need to be ſtirred up, and admoniſhed of their duties, what ſhall we think of other Governours, whoſe doings are either againſt God, or very cold in his cauſe.
‡ Or, Captain.

2 Thus ſpeaketh the LORD of hoſts, ſaying, This people ſay, The time is not come, the time that [c] the LORD's houſe ſhould be built.

3 Then came the word of the LORD by Haggai the Prophet, ſaying,

4 Is it time for you, O ye, to dwell in your [d] cieled houſes, and this houſe lie waſte?

5 Now therefore, thus ſaith the LORD of hoſts, † Conſider your ways.

15 In the four and twentieth day of the ſixth moneth, in the ſecond year of Darius the King.

CHAP. II.

1 He encourageth the people to the work, by promiſe of greater glory to the ſecond Temple, than was in the firſt. 10 In the type of holy things and unclean, he ſheweth their ſins hindred the work. 20 God's promiſe to Zerubbabel.

IN the ſeventh moneth, in the one and twentieth day of the moneth, came the word of the LORD † by the Prophet Haggai, ſaying, † Heb. by the hand of.

2 Speak now to Zerubbabel the ſon of Shealtiel Governour of Judah, and to Joſhua the ſon of Joſedech the high Prieſt, and to the reſidue of the people, ſaying,

3 Who is left among you that ſaw this [a] houſe in her firſt glory? and how do ye ſee it now? is it not in your eyes in compariſon of it, as nothing?

a For the people, according as Ezr. 3. 11. and Ezek. 41. 1. had propheſied, thought this Temple ſhould have been more excellent than Solomon's Temple, which was deſtroyed by the Babylonians, but the Prophets meant the ſpiritual Temple, the Church of Chriſt.

4 Yet now be ſtrong, O Zerubbabel, ſaith the LORD, and be ſtrong, O Joſhua, ſon of Joſedech the high Prieſt, and be ſtrong all ye people of the land, ſaith the LORD, and [b] work: for I am with you, ſaith the LORD of hoſts.

b That is, go forward in building the Temple.

5 According to the word that I covenanted with you when ye came out of Egypt, ſo my Spirit remaineth among you: fear ye not.

c Hag. 12. 26. d He exhorteth them to patience, though they ſee not as yet this Temple ſo glorious as the Prophets had declared: for this ſhould be accompliſhed in Chriſt, by whom all things ſhould be renewed.

6 For thus ſaith the LORD of hoſts, * [c] Yet once, it is a little while, and I will ſhake the heavens, and the Earth, and the Sea, and the dry land:

7 And I will ſhake all nations, and [d] the deſire of all nations ſhall come, and I will fill this houſe with glory, ſaith the LORD of hoſts.

d Meaning, Chriſt, whom all ought to look for and deſire; or by deſire, he may ſignify all precious things, as riches and ſuch like.

8 The [e] ſilver is mine, and the gold is mine, ſaith the LORD of hoſts.

e Therefore when his time cometh, he can make all the treaſures of the world to ſerve his purpoſe: but the glory of this ſecond Temple doth not ſtand in material things, neither can be built.

9 The glory of this latter houſe ſhall be greater than of the former, ſaith the LORD of hoſts: and in this place will I give [f] peace, ſaith the LORD of hoſts.

f Meaning, all ſpiritual bleſſings and felicity purchaſed by Chriſt, Phil. 4. 7.

10 ¶ In the four and twentieth day of the ninth moneth, in the ſecond year of Darius, came the word of the LORD by Haggai the Prophet, ſaying,

11 Thus ſaith the LORD of hoſts, Ask now the Prieſts concerning the Law, ſaying, 12 If one bear [g] holy fleſh in the skirt of his garment, and with his skirt do touch bread, or pottage, or wine, or oyl, or any meat, ſhall it be holy? and the Prieſts anſwered and ſaid, No.

g That is, the fleſh of the ſacrifices, whereby he ſignifieth that that thing which of it ſelf is good, cannot make another thing ſo, and therefore they ought not to juſtify themſelves by their ſacrifices and ceremonies: but contrary, he that is unclean, and not pure of heart, doth corrupt thoſe things, and make them deteſtable unto God, which elſe are good and godly.

13 Then ſaid Haggai, If one that is unclean by a dead body, touch any of theſe, ſhall it be unclean? and the Prieſts anſwered and ſaid, It ſhall be unclean.

14 Then anſwered Haggai, and ſaid, So is this people, and ſo is this nation before me, ſaith the LORD, and ſo is every work of their hands, and that which they offer there is unclean.

15 And now, I pray you, conſider from this [h] day and upward, from before a ſtone was laid upon a ſtone in the Temple of the LORD.

h Conſider how God did plague you with famin afore you began to build the Temple.

16 [i] Since thoſe days were, when one came to an heap of twenty meaſures, there were but ten: when one came to the preſs-fat for to draw out fifty veſſels out of the preſs, there were but twenty.

i That is, before the building was begun.

17 ¶ I ſmote you * with blaſting, and with mildew, & with hail, in all the labours of your hands, yet ye turned not to me, ſaith the LORD.

* Amos 4. 9.

18 Conſider now from [k] this day, and upward from the four and twentieth day of the ninth moneth, even from the day that the foundation of the LORD's Temple was laid, conſider it.

k From the time they began to build the Temple, he promiſed that God would bleſs them: and albeit as yet the fruit was not come forth, yet in the gathering they ſhould have plenty.

19 Is the [l] ſeed yet in the barn? yea, as yet the vine, and the fig-tree, and the pomegranate, and the olive-tree hath not brought forth: from this day will I bleſs you.

l He exhorteth them to patience, and to abide till the harveſt came, and then they ſhould ſee God's bleſſings.

20 ¶ And again the word of the LORD came unto Haggai in the four and twentieth day of the moneth, ſaying, 21 Speak to Zerubbabel Governour of Judah, ſaying, I [m] will ſhake the heavens and the earth:

m I will make a change and renew all things in Chriſt, of whom Zerubbabel here is a figure.

22 And I will overthrow the throne of kingdoms, and I will deſtroy the ſtrength of the [n] kingdoms of the heathen, and I will overthrow the chariots, and thoſe that ride in them, and the horſes and their riders ſhall come down, every one by the ſword of his brother.

n Hereby he ſheweth that there ſhall be no let or hinderance when God will make this wonderful reſtitution of his Church.

23 In that day, ſaith the LORD of hoſts, will I take thee, O Zerubbabel my ſervant, the ſon of Shealtiel, ſaith the LORD, and will make thee as a [o] ſignet: for I have choſen thee, ſaith the LORD of hoſts.

o Signifying, that his dignity ſhould be moſt excellent, which thing was accompliſhed in Chriſt.

ZECHARIAH.

THE ARGUMENT.

TWo moneths after that Haggai had begun to propheſy, Zechariah was alſo ſent of the Lord to help him in the labour, and to confirm the ſame doctrin. Firſt therefore he putteth them in remembrance, for what cauſe God had ſo ſore puniſhed their fathers: and yet comforteth them, if they will repent unfainedly, and not abuſe this great benefit of God in their deliverance: which was a figure of that true deliverance, that all the faithful ſhould have from death and ſin by Chriſt. But becauſe they ſtill remained in their wickedneſs, and coldneſs to ſet forth God's glory, and were not yet made better by their long baniſhment, he rebuketh them moſt ſharply: yet for the comfort of the repentant, he ever mixeth the promiſe of grace, that they might by this means be prepared to receive Chriſt, in whom all ſhould be ſanctified to the Lord.

CHAP. I.

1 Zechariah exhorteth to repentance. 7 The viſion of the horſes. 12 At the Prayer of the Angel comfortable promiſes are made to Jeruſalem. 18 The viſion of the four horns, and the four carpenters.

IN the eighth moneth, in the ſecond year of [a] Darius, came the word of the LORD unto [b] Zechariah, the ſon of Barachiah, the ſon of Iddo the Prophet, ſaying,

2 The LORD hath been † [c] ſore diſpleaſed with your fathers.

3 Therefore ſay thou unto them, Thus ſaith the LORD of hoſts, * [d] Turn ye unto me, ſaith the LORD of hoſts, and I will turn unto you, ſaith the LORD of hoſts.

4 Be ye not as your fathers, unto whom the former Prophets have cried, ſaying, Thus ſaith the LORD of hoſts, * Turn ye now from your evil ways, and from your evil doings: but they did not hear, nor hearken unto me, ſaith the LORD.

5 Your fathers, where [e] are they? and the Prophets, do they live for ever?

6 But my word and my ſtatutes, which I commanded my ſervants the Prophets, did they not ‡ take hold of [f] your fathers? and [g] they returned and ſaid, * Like as the LORD of hoſts thought to do unto us, according to our ways, and according to our doings, ſo hath he dealt with us.

7 ¶ Upon the four and twentieth day of the eleventh moneth, which is the moneth [h] Sebat, in the ſecond year of Darius, came the word of the LORD unto Zechariah, the ſon of Barachiah, the ſon of Iddo the Prophet, ſaying,

8 I [i] ſaw by night, and behold, [k] a man riding upon a red horſe, and he ſtood among the myrtle-trees that were in the bottom, and behind him were there [l] red horſes, ‡ ſpeckled and white.

9 Then ſaid I, O my Lord, what are theſe? And the Angel that talked with me, ſaid unto me, I will ſhew thee what theſe be.

10 And the man, that ſtood among the myrtle-trees, anſwered and ſaid, Theſe are they whom the LORD hath ſent to walk to and fro through the earth.

11 And they anſwered the Angel of the LORD that ſtood among the myrtle-trees, and ſaid, We have walked to and fro through the earth, and behold, all the earth ſitteth ſtill, and is at reſt.

12 ¶ Then the [m] Angel of the LORD anſwered and ſaid, O LORD of hoſts, how long wilt thou not have mercy on Jeruſalem, and on the cities of Judah, againſt which thou haſt had indignation theſe threeſcore and ten years?

13 And the LORD anſwered the Angel that talked with me, with good words, and comfortable words.

14 So the Angel that communed with me ſaid unto me, Crie thou, ſaying, Thus ſaith the LORD of hoſts, I am * [n] jealous for Jeruſalem, and for Zion with a great jealouſy.

15 And I am very ſore diſpleaſed with the heathen that are at eaſe: for I was but a [o] little diſpleaſed, and they helped forward the affliction.

16 Therefore thus ſaith the LORD, I am returned to Jeruſalem with mercies: my houſe ſhall be built in it, ſaith the LORD of hoſts, and a line [p] ſhall be ſtretched forth upon Jeruſalem.

17 Crie yet, ſaying, Thus ſaith the LORD of hoſts, My cities through † proſperity ſhall yet [q] be ſpread abroad, and the LORD ſhall yet comfort Zion, and ſhall yet chooſe Jeruſalem.

18 ¶ Then lift I up mine eyes, and ſaw, and behold [r] four horns.

19 And I ſaid unto the Angel that talked with me, What be theſe? and he anſwered me, Theſe are the horns which have ſcattered Judah, Iſrael, and Jeruſalem.

f These carpenters or smiths are God's instruments, which with their mallets and hammers break these hard and strong horns, which would overthrow the Church, and declare that no enemie's horn is so strong, but God hath an hammer to break it in pieces.

AND he shewed me Joshua the high Priest, [a] standing before the Angel of the LORD, and ‡ [b] Satan standing at his right hand † to resist him.

a He prayed to Christ the Mediator for the state of the Church.

2 And the [c] LORD said unto Satan, * The LORD rebuke thee, O Satan, even the LORD that hath chosen Jerusalem, rebuke thee: is not this a [d] brand pluckt out of the fire?

3 Now Joshua was clothed with filthy garments, and stood before the Angel.

4 And he answered, and spake unto those that stood before him, saying, Take away the [e] filthy garments from him. And unto him he said, Behold, I have [f] caused thine iniquity to pass from thee, and I will clothe thee with change of raiment.

5 And I said, Let them [g] set a fair mitre upon his head: so they set a fair mitre upon his head, and clothed him with garments, and the Angel of the LORD stood by.

6 And the Angel of the LORD protested unto Joshua, saying,

7 Thus saith the LORD of hosts, If thou wilt walk in my ways, and if thou wilt keep my ‡ charge, then thou shalt also [h] judge my house, and shalt also keep my [i] courts, and I will give thee † places to walk among [k] these that stand by.

8 Hear now, O Joshua the high Priest, thou and thy fellows that sit before thee: for they are † [l] men wondred at: for behold, I will bring forth [m] my servant the BRANCH.

9 For behold, the [n] stone that I have laid before Joshua; upon one stone shall be seven eyes, behold, I will [o] engrave the graving thereof, saith the LORD of hosts, and I will [p] remove the iniquity of that land in one day.

f He sheweth of what apparel he speaketh, which is when our filthy sins are taken away and we are clad with God's mercies, which is meant of the spiritual restitution.

g The Prophet prayeth that besides the raiment, the Priest might also have tire for his head accordingly, That is, that the dignity of the Priesthood might be perfect: and this was fulfilled in Christ, who was both Priest and King: and here all such are condemned that can content themselves with any mean reformation in Religion, seeing the Prophet desireth the perfection, and obtaineth it. ‡ Or, ordinance, h That is, have rule and government in my Church, as thy predecessors have had. i Whereby he meaneth to have the whole charge and ministery of the Church. † Heb. walks. k That is, the Angels who represented the whole number of the faithful: signifying, that all the godly should willingly receive him. † Heb. men of wonder: l Because they follow my word, they are contemned in the world, and esteemed as monsters Isa. 8. 18. m That is, Christ, who did so humble himself, that not onely he became the servant of God, but also the servant of men: and therefore in him they should have comfort, although in the world they were contemned, Isa. 11. vers. 1. Jerem. 23. 5. & 33. 14. 15. Chap. 6. 11. Luk. 1. 78. n He sheweth that the ministers cannot build, before God lay the first stone, which is Christ, who is full of eyes, both because he giveth light unto all others, and that all ought to seek light at him, Chap. 4 10. o That is, I will make it perfect in all points, as a thing wrought by the hand of God. p Though I have punished this land for a time, yet I will, even now be pacified, and visit their sins no more. q Ye shall then live in peace and quietness, that is, in the kingdom of Christ, Isa. 2. 2. Mich. 4. 4. Hag. 2. 10.

1 By the golden candlestick is foreshewed the good success of Zerubbabel's foundation: 11 By the two olive-trees, the two anointed ones.

AND the Angel that talked with me, came again and waked me, as a man that is wakened out of his sleep,

2 And said unto me, What seest thou? and I said, I have looked, and behold, a [a] candlestick all of gold, † with a bowl upon the top of it, and his seven lamps thereon, and ‡ seven [b] pipes to the seven lamps, which were upon the top thereof:

a Which was even in the mids of the Temple, signifying that the graces of God's Spirit should shine there in most abundance, and in all perfection.

† Heb with her bowl, ‡ Or, seven several pipes to the Lamps, &c. b Which conveyed the oil that dropped from the trees into the lamps, so that the light never failed, and this vision was to confirm the faithful; that God hath sufficient power in himself to continue his graces, and to bring his promise to pass, though he had no help of man.

3 And

3 And two olive-trees by it, one upon the right side of the bowl, and the other upon the left side thereof.

4 So I answered and spake to the Angel that talked with me, saying, What are these, my Lord?

5 Then the Angel that talked with me, answered, and said unto me, Knowest thou not what these be? and I said, No, my Lord.

6 Then he answered and spake unto me, saying, This is the word of the LORD unto [c] Zerubbabel, saying, Not by ‡ might, nor by [d] power, but by my spirit, saith the LORD of hosts.

7 Who art thou, O [e] great mountain? before Zerubbabel thou shalt become a plain, and [f] he shall bring forth the head-stone thereof with shoutings, crying, Grace, grace unto it.

8 Moreover, the word of the LORD came unto me, saying,

9 The hands of Zerubbabel have laid the foundation of this house, his hands shall also finish it; and [g] thou shalt know that the LORD of hosts hath sent me unto you.

10 For who hath despised the day of [h] small things? ‡ for they shall rejoyce, and shall see the † [i] plummet in the hand of Zerubbabel with [k] those seven, they are the eyes of the LORD, which run to and fro through the whole earth.

11 ¶ Then answered I and said unto him, What are these two olive-trees upon the right side of the candlestick, and upon the left side thereof?

12 And I answered again, and said unto him, What be these two olive-branches, which † through the two golden pipes ‡ empty † the golden oyl out of themselvs?

d He sheweth that God's power onely is sufficient to preserve his Church, though he use not man's help thereunto.
e He compareth the power of the adversaries to a great mountain, who thought the Jews nothing in respect of them, and would have hindred Zerubbabel, who represented Christ, whom the enemies daily labour to let in the building of his spiritual Temple, but all in vain.
f Though the enemies think to stay this building, yet Zerubbabel shall lay the highest stone thereof, and bring it to perfection, so that all the godly shall rejoyce, and pray unto God that he would continue his grace and favour toward the Temple.
g Meaning, the Prophet, that I am Christ sent of my Father for the building and preservation of my spiritual Temple.
h Signifying, that all were discouraged at the small and poor beginning of the Temple.

CHAP. V.

1 By the flying roll, is shewed the curse of thievs and swearers. 5 By a woman pressed in an ephah, the final damnation of Babylon.

THen I turned, and lift up mine eyes, and looked, and behold, a flying roll.

2 And he said unto me, What seest thou? and I answered, I see a flying [a] roll, the length thereof is twenty cubits, and the breadth thereof ten cubits.

3 Then said he unto me, This is the curse that goeth forth over the face of the whole earth: for ‡ every one that [b] stealeth, shall be cut off as on this [c] side, according to it: and every one that [d] sweareth, shall be cut off as on that side, according to it.

4 I will bring it forth, saith the LORD of hosts, and it shall enter into the house of the thief, and into the house of him that sweareth falsly by my name: and it shall remain in the midst of his house, and shall consume it, with the timber thereof, and the stones thereof.

5 ¶ Then the Angel that talked with me went forth, and said unto me, Lift up now thine eyes, and see what is this that goeth forth.

6 And I said, What is it? and he said, This is an [e] ephah that goeth forth. He said moreover, This is their [f] resemblance through all the earth.

7 And behold, there was lift up a ‡ [g] talent of lead: and this is a [h] woman that sitteth in the midst of the ephah.

8 And he said, This is [i] wickedness; and he cast it into the midst of the ephah, and he cast the weight of lead upon the mouth thereof.

9 Then lift I up mine eyes and looked, and behold, there came out two [k] women, and the wind was in their wings, (for they had wings like the wings of a stork) and they lift up the ephah between the earth and the heaven.

10 Then said I to the Angel that talked with me, Whither do these bear the ephah?

11 And he said unto me, [l] To build it an house in the land of Shinar, and it shall be established, and set there upon her own base.

a Because the Jews had provoked God's plagues by contemning his words, and casting off all judgements and equity, he sheweth that God's curses written in this Book had justly light both on them, and their fathers: but now if they would repent, God would send the same among the Chaldeans their former enemies. ‡ Or, every one of this people that stealeth, holdeth himself guiltless, as it doth: b That is, useth any injury toward his neighbour. c Meaning, whersoever he be in the world.
d He that transgresseth the first table, and serveth not God aright, but abuseth God's name.
e Which was a measure, in dry things containing about ten pottels.
f That is, all the wickedness of the ungodly is in God's sight, which he keepeth in a measure, and can shut it or open it at his pleasure.
‡ Or, weighty piece.
g To cover the measure.
h Which representeth iniquity, as in the next verse.
i Signifying, that Satan should not have such power against the Jews to tempt them, as he had in time past, but that God would shut up iniquity in a measure, as in a prison.
k Which declareth, that God would execute his judgements by the means of weak and infirm means.
l To remove the iniquity and afflictions that came for the same from Judah, to place it for ever in Babylon.

CHAP. VI.

1 The vision of the four chariots. 9 By the crowns of Joshua, is shewed the Temple and kingdom of Christ the Branch.

AND I turned, and lift up mine eyes, and looked, and behold, there came four [a] chariots out from between two [b] mountains, and the mountains were mountains of brass.

2 In the first chariot were [c] red horses, and in the second chariot [d] black horses,

3 And in the third chariot [e] white horses, and in the fourth chariot grisled and ‡ [f] bay horses.

4 Then I answered, and said unto the Angel that talked with me, What are these, my Lord?

5 And the Angel answered and said unto me, These are the [g] four ‡ spirits of the heavens, which go forth from standing before the Lord of all the earth.

6 The black horses which are therein, go forth into the north countrey, and the white go forth after them; and the grisled go forth toward the [h] south countrey.

7 And the [i] bay went forth, and sought to go, that they might walk to and fro through the earth; and he said, Get ye hence, walk to and fro through the earth. So they walked to and fro through the earth.

8 Then cried he upon me, and spake unto me, saying, Behold, these that go toward the north a By chariots here, as by horses afore, he meaneth the swift messengers of God, to execute and declare his will.

b By the brasen mountains he meaneth the eternal counsel and providence of God, whereby he hath from before all eternity decreed what shall come to pass, and that which neither Satan nor all the world can alter.
c Which signified the great cruelty and persecutions that the Church had endured under divers enemies.
d Signifying, that they had endured great afflictions under the Babylonians.
e These represented their state under the Persians, which restored them to liberty.
‡ Or, strong.
f Which signified that God would sometime give his Church rest, and pour his plagues upon their enemies, as he did in destroying Nineveh and Babylon, and others their enemies. g Meaning, all the actions, and motions of God's Spirit, which according to his unchangeable counsel he causeth to appear through all the world. ‡ Or, winds. h That is, toward Egypt, and other countreys there about. i That is, they of divers colours, which ask leave, to signifie that Satan hath no power to hurt or afflict till God give it him, Job 1. 12.

9 ¶ And the word of the LORD came unto me, ſaying,

10 Take of them of the captivity, even of Heldai, of Tobijah, and of Jedajah, which are come from Babylon, and come thou the ſame day, and go into the houſe [l] of Joſiah the ſon of Zephaniah:

11 Then take ſilver and gold, and make crowns, and ſet them upon the [m] head of Joſhua, the ſon of Joſedech the high Prieſt.

13 Even he ſhall build the Temple of the LORD, and he ſhall bear the [q] glory, and ſhall ſit and rule upon his throne, and he ſhall be a Prieſt upon his throne, and the counſel of peace ſhall be between them [r] both.

14 And the crowns ſhall be to [s] Helem, and to Tobijah, and to Jedajah, and to [t] Hen the ſon of Zephaniah for a [u] memorial in the Temple of the LORD.

15 And they that are [x] far off ſhall come and build in the Temple of the LORD, and ye ſhall know that the LORD of hoſts hath ſent me unto you. And this ſhall come to paſs, if ye will diligently [y] obey the voice of the LORD your God.

k By punishing the Caldeans, mine anger ceased, and you were delivered.

l To receive of him and the other three, money to make the two crowns: which were men of great authority among the Jews, and doubted of the restitution of the kingdom, and of the Priesthood, & hurt others by their example.

m Because this could not be attributed to any one according to the law, therefore it followeth that Jehoshua must represent the Messiah, who was both Priest and King.

n Chap. 3. 8.

o Meaning Christ, of whom Jehoshua was the figure: for in Greek they were both called Jesus.

p Or, branch up from under him.

q That is, of him self without the help of man.

u That they may acknowledge their infirmity, which looked that all things should have been restored incontinently: and of their their infidelity these two crowns shall remain as tokens, Acts 1. 6.

x That is, the Gentiles by the preaching of the Gospel shall help toward the building of this spiritual Temple.

y If ye will believe and remain in the obedience of faith.

CHAP. VII.

1 The captivs enquire of faſting. 4 Zechariah reproveth their faſting. 8 Sin the cauſe of their captivity.

AND it came to paſs in the fourth year of King Darius, that the word of the LORD came unto Zechariah in the fourth day of the nineth moneth, even in [a] Chiſleu.

2 When [b] they had ſent unto the houſe of God, Sherezer, and Regem-melech, and their men † to pray before the LORD.

3 And to ſpeak unto the Prieſts which were in the houſe of the LORD of hoſts, and to the Prophets, ſaying, Should I [c] weep in the fifth moneth, [d] ſeparating my ſelf, as I have done theſe ſo many [e] years?

4 ¶ Then came the word of the LORD of hoſts unto me, ſaying,

5 Speak unto all the people of the land, and to the [f] Prieſts, ſaying, When ye * faſted and mourned in the fifth and ſeventh moneth, even thoſe ſeventy years, did ye at all faſt unto me, [g] even to me?

6 And when ye did eat, and when ye did drink, ‡ did not ye eat [h] for your ſelvs, and drink for your ſelvs?

7 ‡ Should ye not hear the words which the LORD [i] hath cried † by the former Prophets, when Jeruſalem was inhabited and in proſperity, and the cities thereof round about her, when men inhabited the ſouth of the plain?

8 ¶ And the word of the LORD came unto Zechariah, ſaying,

9 Thus ſpeaketh the LORD of hoſts, ſaying, † [k] Execute true judgement, and ſhew mercy and compaſſions every man to his brother.

10 And * oppreſs not the widow, nor the fatherleſs, the ſtranger, nor the poor, and let none of you imagin evil againſt his brother in yout heart.

11 But they refuſed to hearken, and † [l] pulled away the ſhoulder, and † ſtopped their ears, that they ſhould not hear.

12 Yea, they made their hearts as an adamant-ſtone, leaſt they ſhould hear the law, and the words which the LORD of hoſts hath ſent in his [m] ſpirit † by the former Prophets: therefore came a great wrath from the LORD of hoſts.

13 Therefore it is come to paſs, that as he cried, and they would not hear; ſo * they cried, and I would not hear, ſaith the LORD of hoſts.

14 But I ſcattered them with a whirlwind among all the nations whom they knew not: thus the land was deſolate [n] after them, that no man paſſed through nor returned; for they laid the † pleaſant land [o] deſolate.

a Which contained part of November, and part of December.

b That is, the reſt of the people that remained yet in Caldea, ſend to the Church at Jeruſalem, for the reſolution of theſe queſtions, becauſe theſe faſts were conſented upon by the agreement of the whole Church, the one in the moneth that the Temple was deſtroyed, and the other when Gedaliah was ſlain, Jer. 41. 42.

e Which was now ſince the time the Temple was deſtroyed.

f For there were both of the people and of the Prieſts, which doubted as touching this controverſy, beſides them that yet remained in Caldea, and reaſoned of it, as one of the chief points of their Religion. * Iſa. 58. 5.

g For they thought they had deſerved toward God, becauſe of this faſt, which they invented of themſelvs: and though faſting of it ſelf be good, yet becauſe they thought it a ſervice toward God, and truſted therein, it is here reproved.

‡ Or, be not ye they that, &c.

h Did ye not eat and drink for your own commodity and neceſſity? and ſo likewiſe ye did abſtain according to your own fantaſies, and not after the preſcript of my law.

‡ Or, are not theſe the words.

CHAP. VIII.

1 The reſtauration of Jeruſalem. 9 They are encouraged to the building by God's favour to them. 16 Good works are required of them. 18 Joy and enlargement are promiſed.

AGAIN the word of the LORD of hoſts came to me, ſaying,

2 Thus ſaith the LORD of hoſts, *I was [a] jealous of Zion, with great jealouſy, and I was jealous for her with great fury.

3 Thus ſaith the LORD, I am returned unto Zion, and will dwell in the midſt of Jeruſalem, and Jeruſalem ſhall be called a city of [b] truth; and the mountain of the LORD of hoſts, the holy mountain.

4 Thus ſaith the LORD of hoſts, There ſhall yet old [c] men and old women dwell in the ſtreets of Jeruſalem, and every man with his ſtaff in his hand † for very age.

5 And the ſtreets of the city ſhall be full of boys and girls playing in the ſtreets thereof.

a I loved my city with a ſingular love, ſo that I could not abide that any ſhould do her any injury.

8 And I will bring them, and they shall [e] dwell in the midst of Jerusalem, and they shall be my people, and I will be their God in truth and in righteousness.

e So that their return shall not be in vain: for God will accomplish his promise, and their prosperity shall be sure and stable.

9 ¶ Thus saith the LORD of hosts, Let your [f] hands be strong, ye that hear in these days these words by the mouth of the Prophets, which were in the day that the foundation of the house of the LORD of hosts was laid, that the Temple might be built.

f Let neither respect of your private commodities, neither counsel of others, nor fear of enemies discourage you in the going forward with the building of the Temple, but be constant, and obey the Prophets which encourage you thereunto.

10 For before these days ‡ there was no * hire [g] for man, nor any hire for beast, neither was there any peace to him that went out, or came in, because of the affliction: for I set all men, every one against his neighbour.

‡ Or, the hire of man became nothing, &c.

* Hag. 1. 6.

g For God cursed your work so, that neither man nor beast had profit of their labours.

11 But now I will not be unto the residue of this people, as in the former days, saith the LORD of hosts.

12 For the seed shall be † prosperous, the vine shall give her fruit, and the ground shall give her increase, and the heavens shall give their dew, and I will cause the remnant of this people to possess all these things.

† Heb. of peace.

13 And it shall come to pass, that as ye were a curse among the heathen, O house of Judah, and house of Israel; so will I save you, and ye shall be a blessing: fear not, but let your hands be strong.

14 For thus saith the LORD of hosts, As I thought to punish [h] you, when your fathers provoked me to wrath, saith the LORD of hosts, and I repented not:

h Read Ezek. 18. vers. 20.

15 So again have I thought in these days [i] to do well unto Jerusalem, and to the house of Judah: fear ye not.

i Which declareth that man cannot turn to God till he change man's heart by his Spirit, and so begin to do well, which is to pardon his sins, and to give him his graces.

16 ¶ These are the things that ye shall do, * Speak ye every man the truth to his neighbour; † execute the judgement of truth and peace in your gates.

* Ephes. 4. 25.

† Heb. judge truth, and the judgement of peace.

17 And let none of you imagin evil in your heart against his neighbour, and love no false oath: for all these are things that I hate, saith the LORD.

18 ¶ And the word of the LORD of hosts came unto me, saying,

19 Thus saith the LORD of hosts, The fast of the fourth moneth, and the fast of the fifth, and the fast of the seventh, and the fast of the [k] tenth shall be to the house of Judah joy and gladness, and cheerful † feasts, therefore love the truth and peace.

k Which fast was appointed when the city was besieged, and was the first fast of these four: and here the Prophet sheweth, that if the Jews will repent, and turn wholy to God, they shall have no more occasion to fast, or to shew signs of heaviness: for God will send them joy and gladness.

† Heb solemn or set times.

20 Thus saith the LORD of hosts, It shall yet come to pass, that there shall come [l] people, and the inhabitant of many cities.

l He declareth the great zeal that God should give the Gentiles, to come to his Church, and to joyn with the Jews in his true Religion, which should be in the kingdom of Christ.

21 And the inhabitants of ony city shall go to another, saying, * Let us go ‡ † speedily † to pray before the LORD, and to seek the LORD of hosts: I will go also.

* Isa. 2. 3. Mich. 4. 1, 2.

‡ Or, continually.

† Heb. going.

22 Yea, many people and strong nations shall come to seek the LORD of hosts in Jerusalem, and to pray before the LORD.

† Heb. to intreat the face of the LORD.

23 Thus saith the LORD of hosts, In those days it shall come to pass, that ten men shall take hold out of all languages of the nations, even shall take hold of the skirt of him that is a Jew, saying, We will go with you; for we have heard that God is with you.

CHAP. IX.

1 God defendeth his Church. 9 Zion is exhorted to rejoyce for the coming of Christ, and his peaceable kingdom. God's promises of victory and defence.

THE burden of the word of the LORD in the land of [a] Hadrach, and Damascus shall be the [b] rest thereof: when the [c] eyes of man, as of all the tribes of Israel shall be toward the LORD.

a Whereby he meaneth Syria.

b God's anger shall abide upon their chief city, and not spare so much as that.

c When the Jews shall convert and repent, then God will destroy their enemies.

2 And Hamach also shall border [d] thereby; Tyrus and Zidon, though it be [e] very * wise.

d That is, by Damascus, meaning, that Hamath or Antiochia should be under the same rod and plague.

e He secretly sheweth the cause of their destruction, because they deceived all others by their craft and subtility, which they cloked with this name of wisdom.

* Ezek. 28. 3, &c.

3 And Tyrus did build her self a strong hold, and heaped up silver as the dust, and fine gold as the mire of the streets.

4 Behold, the Lord will cast her out, and he will smite her [f] power in the sea, and she shall be devoured with fire.

f Though they of Tyrus think themselvs invincible by reason of the Sea, that compasseth them round about, yet they shall not escape God's judgements.

5 Ashkelon shall see it, and fear; Gaza also shall see it, and be very sorrowful, and Ekron: for her expectation shall be ashamed, and the King shall perish from Gaza, and Ashkelon shall not be inhabited.

6 And a [g] bastard shall dwell in Ashdod, and I will cut off the pride of the Philistins.

g Meaning, that all should be destroyed save a very few that should remain as strangers.

7 And I will take away his † bloud out of his mouth, and his abominations from between his [h] teeth: but he that remaineth, even he shall be for our God, and he shall be as governour in Judah, and [i] Ekron as a Jebusite.

h He promiseth to deliver the Jews when he shall take vengeance on their enemies for their cruelty, and wrongs done to them.

i As the Jebusites had been destroyed, so should Ekron and all the Philistins.

8 And I will encamp about [k] mine house because of the army, because of him that passeth by, and because of him that returneth; and no oppressour shall pass through them any more: for now [l] have I seen with mine eyes.

k He sheweth that God's power onely shall be sufficient to defend his Church against all adversaries, be they never so cruel, or assemble their power never so often.

l That is, God hath now seen the great injuries and afflictions wherewith they have been afflicted by their enemies.

9 ¶ * Rejoyce greatly, O daughter of Zion; shout, O daughter of Jerusalem: behold, thy King cometh unto thee: [m] he is just, & ‡ having salvation, lowly, and riding upon an [n] ass, and upon a colt the foal an ass.

* Isa. 62. 11. Matt. 21. 5. Joh. 12. 15.

m That is, he hath righteousness and salvation in himself for the use and commodities of his Church.

‡ Or, saving himself.

10 And I will cut off the chariot from Ephraim, and the horse from Jerusalem, and the [o] battel-bow shall be cut off; and he shall speak peace unto the heathen: and his dominion shall be * from [p] sea even to sea, and from the [q] river even to the ends of the earth.

n Which declareth that they should not look for such a King as should be glorious in the eyes of man, but should be poor, and yet in himself have all power to deliver his: and this is meant of Christ, as Matt. 21. 5.

o No power of man or creature shall be able to let this kingdom of Christ, and he shall peaceably govern them by his word.

* Psal. 72. vers. 8.

11 [r] As for thee also, ‡ by the bloud of thy covenant, I have sent forth thy * [s] prisoners out of the pit, wherein is no water.

q That is, from Euphrates.

r Meaning, Jerusalem, or the Church which is saved by the bloud of Christ, whereof the bloud of the sacrifice was a figure, and is here called the covenant of the Church, because God made it with his Church, and left it with them for the love that he bare unto them.

‡ Or, whose covenant is by bloud.

t That is, into the holy land where the city and the Temple are, where God will defend you.

u Meaning, the faithful, which seemed to be in danger of their enemies on every side, and yet lived in hope that God would restore them to liberty.

x That is, double benefits, and prosperity in respect of that which your fathers enjoyed from David's time to the captivity.

14 And the LORD ſhall be ſeen over them, and his arrow ſhall go forth as the lightning: and the Lord GOD ſhall blow the trumpet, and ſhall go with whirlwinds of the ſouth.

15 The LORD of hoſts ſhall defend them, and they ſhall devour, [z] and ‡ ſubdue with ſling-ſtones, and they ſhall drink, and make a noiſe as through wine, and they ‡ ſhall be filled like bowls, and as the corners of the altar.

16 And the LORD their God ſhall ſave them in that day as the flock of his people, for they ſhall be as the [a] ſtones of a crown, lifted up as an enſign upon his land.

17 For how great is his goodneſs, and how great is his beauty! corn ſhall make the young men ‡ cheerful, and new wine the maids.

z He promiſeth that the Jews ſhall deſtroy their enemies, and have abundance and exceſs of all things, as there is abundance on the altar when the ſacrifice is offered: which things are not to move them to intemperancy, but to ſobriety, and a thankful remembrance of God's great liberality.
‡ Or, ſubdue the ſtones of the ſling.
‡ Or, ſhall fill like the bowls, &c. a The faithful ſhall be preſerved, and reverenced of all, that the very enemies ſhall be compelled to eſteem them: for God's glory ſhall ſhine in them, as Joſephus declareth of Alexander the great, when he met Jadi the high Prieſt. ‡ Or, grow, or ſpeak.

CHAP. X.

1 God is to be ſought unto, and not idols. 5 As he viſited his flock for ſin, ſo he will ſave and reſtore them.

ASk ye of the [a] LORD rain in the time of the latter rain, ſo the LORD ſhall make ‡ bright clouds, and give them ſhowrs of rain, to every one graſs in the field.

2 For [b] the *† idols have ſpoken vanity, and the diviners have ſeen a lie, and have told falſe dreams; they comfort in vain: therefore they [c] went their way as a flock, they ‡ were troubled, becauſe there was no ſhepherd.

3 Mine anger was kindled againſt the ſhepherds, and I † puniſhed the [d] goats: for the LORD of hoſts hath viſited his flock the houſe of Judah, and hath made them as [e] his goodly horſe in the battel.

4 Out [f] of him came forth the corner, out of him the nail, out of him the battel-bow, out of him every [g] oppreſſour together.

5 ¶ And they ſhall be as mighty men, which tread down their enemies in the mire of the ſtreets in the battel, and they ſhall fight, becauſe the LORD is with them, and ‡ the riders on horſes ſhall be confounded.

6 And I will ſtrengthen the houſe of Judah, and I will ſave the houſe [h] of Joſeph, and I will bring them again to place them; for I have mercy upon them: and they ſhall be as though I had not caſt them off: for I am the LORD their God, and will hear them.

7 And they of Ephraim ſhall be like a mighty man, and their heart ſhall rejoyce, as through wine: yea, their children ſhall ſee it, and be glad, their heart ſhall rejoyce in the LORD.

8 I will [i] hiſs for them, and gather them, for I have redeemed them: and they ſhall increaſe as they have increaſed.

a The Prophet reproveth the Jews, becauſe by their own infidelity they put back God's graces promiſed, and ſo ſmin came by God's juſt judgement: therefore to avoid this plague he willeth them to turn to God, and to pray in faith to him, and ſo he will give them abundance.

CHAP. XII.

1 Jerusalem a cup of trembling to her self, 3 and a burdensom stone to her adversaries. 6 The victorious restoring of Judah. 9 The repentance of Jerusalem.

THE burden of the word of the LORD for ᵃ Israel, saith the LORD, which stretcheth forth the heavens, and layeth the foundation of the earth, and formeth the spirit of man within him.

ᵃ That is, the ten tribes, which neglected God's benefits in delivering their brethren, and had rather remain in captivity, than to return home, when God called them.

2 Behold, I will make Jerusalem a ᵇ cup of ‡ trembling unto all the people round about, ‡ when they shall be in the siege both against Judah, and against Jerusalem.

ᵇ Jerusalem shall be defended against all her enemies: so shall God defend all Judah, and shall destroy the enemies.

‡ Or. slumber, or poison.

‡ Or, and also against Judah shall he be which shall be in siege against Jerusalem.

3 ¶ And in that day will I make Jerusalem a burdensom stone for all people; all that burden themselvs with it, shall be cut in pieces, though all the people of the earth be gathered together against it.

4 In that day, saith the LORD, I will smite every horse with astonishment, and his rider with madness, and I will open mine eyes upon the house of Judah, and will smite every horse of the people with blindness.

‡ Or, there is strength to me and to the inhabitants, &c.

5 And the Governours of Judah shall say in their heart, ‡ The ᶜ inhabitants of Jerusalem shall be my strength in the LORD of hosts their God.

ᶜ Every captain that had many under him afore, shall now think that the small power of Jerusalem shall be sufficient to defend hem against all enemies, because the Lord is among them.

6 ¶ In that day will I make the Governours of Judah like a hearth of fire among the wood, & like a torch of fire in a sheaf; and they shall devour all the people round about on the right hand and on the left: and Jerusalem shall be inhabited again, in her own place, even in Jerusalem.

7 The LORD also shall save the ᵈ tents of Judah first, that the glory of the house of David, and the glory of the inhabitants of Jerusalem, do not magnify themselvs against Judah.

ᵈ The people, which are now as it were dispersed by the fields, and lie open to their enemies, shall be no less preserved by my power than if they were under their Kings, (which is meant by the house of David) or in their defenced cities.

8 In that day shall the LORD defend the inhabitants of Jerusalem, and he that is ‡ † feeble among them at that day shall be as David; and the house of David shall be as God, as the Angel of the LORD before them.

1 The foundation of purgation for Jerusalem, 2 from idolatry, and false prophesy. 7 The death of Christ, and the trial of a third part.

IN that day there ᵃ shall be a fountain opened to the house of David, and to the inhabitants of Jerusalem, for sin, and for † uncleanness.

ᵇ He promiseth that God will also purge them from all superstition, and that their Religion shall be pure

3 And it shall come to pass, that when any shall yet ᵈ prophesy, then his father and his mother, that begat him, shall say unto him, Thou shalt not live; for thou speakest lies in the name of the LORD: and his father and his mother, that begat him, ᵉ shall thrust him through when he prophesieth.

7 ¶ Awake, O sword, against my [i] shepherd, and against the man that is my fellow, saith the LORD of hosts: smite the shepherd, and the sheep shall be scattered: and I will turn mine hand upon the little ones.

8 And it shall come to pass, that in all the land, saith the LORD, [k] two parts therein shall be cut off, and die, but the third shall be left therein.

9 And I will bring the third part through the fire, and will * refine them as silver is refined, and will try them as gold is tried: they shall call on my name, and I will hear them: I will say, It is my people: and they shall say, The LORD is my God.

h Hereby he sheweth, that though their parents and friends dealt more gently with them, and put them not to death, yet they would so punish their children that became false Prophets, that the marks and signs should remain for ever.

i The Prophet warneth the Jews, that before this great comfort should come under Christ, there should be an horrible dissipation among the people: for their poisonours and traitours should be destroyed, and the people should be so scattered they: and the Evangelist applieth this to Christ, because he was the head of all pastours, Matth. 26. 31. Mark 14. 27.

k The greatest part shall have no portion of these blessings, and yet they that shall enjoy them, shall be tried with great afflictions, so that it shall be known that onely God's power and mercy do preserve them. * 1 Pet. 1. 6, 7.

CHAP. XIV.

1 The destroyers of Jerusalem destroyed. 4 The coming of Christ, and the graces of his kingdom. 12 The plague of Jerusalem's enemies. 16 The remnant shall turn to the Lord, 20 and their spoils shall be holy.

BEhold, the day of the LORD cometh, & thy spoil shall be [a] divided in the midst of thee.

2 For I will gather all nations against Jerusalem to battel, and the city shall be taken, and the houses rifled, and the women ravished, and half of the city shall go forth into captivity, and the residue of the people shall not be cut off from the city.

3 Then shall the LORD go forth, and fight against those nations, as when he [b] fought in the day of battel.

4 ¶ And his feet shall stand in that day upon the [c] mount of Olives, which is before Jerusalem on the east, and the mount of Olives shall cleave in the midst thereof toward the east, and toward the west, and there shall be a very great [d] valley, and half of the mountain shall remove toward the north, and half of it toward the south.

5 And ye shall flee to the [e] valley of ‡ the mountains: ‡ for the valley of the mountains shall reach unto Azal: yea, ye shall flee like as ye fled from before the [f] earthquake in the days of Uzziah King of Judah: and the LORD [g] my God shall come, & all the saints with thee.

6 And it shall come to pass in that day, that the light shall not be † clear, nor † dark.

7 But ‡ it shall be * one day which shall be known to the LORD, [h] not day, nor night: but it shall come to pass that at * evening-time it shall be light.

a He armeth the godly against the great temptations that should come before they enjoyed this prosperous estate, promised under Christ, that when these dangers should come, they might know that they were warned of them before.

b As your fathers and you have had experience, both at the red Sea, and at all other times.

c By this manner of speech the Prophet sheweth God's power and care over his Church, and how he will, as it were by miracle, save it.

d So that out of all the parts of the world, they shall see Jerusalem, which was before hid with this mountain; and this he meaneth of the spiritual Jerusalem, the Church.

8 And it shall be in that day, that [i] living * waters shall go out from Jerusalem: half of them toward the ‡ former Sea, and half of them toward the hinder Sea: in summer and in winter shall it be.

9 And the LORD shall be King over all the earth: in that day shall there be one [k] LORD, and his name one.

10 All the land shall be ‡ turned [l] as a plain from Geba to Rimmon, south of Jerusalem: & it shall be lifted up & ‡ inhabited in her place: from Benjamin's gate unto the place of the first gate, unto the corner-gate, and from the tower of Hananiel unto the King's wine-presses.

11 And men shall dwell in it, and there shall be no more utter destruction, but Jerusalem ‡ shall be safely inhabited.

12 ¶ And this shall be the plague wherewith the LORD will smite all the people, that have fought against Jerusalem: their flesh shall consume away while they stand upon their feet, and their eyes shall consume away in their holes, and their tongue shall consume away in their mouth.

13 And it shall come to pass in that day, that [m] a great tumult from the LORD shall be among them, and they shall lay hold every one on [n] the hand of his neighbour, and his hand shall rise up against the hand of his neighbour.

14 And ‡ Judah also shall fight ‡ at Jerusalem; and the wealth of all the heathen round about shall be gathered together, * gold, and silver, and apparel in great abundance.

15 And so shall be the plague of the horse, of the mule, of the camel, and of the ass, and of all the beasts that shall be in these tents, as this [p] plague.

16 ¶ And it shall come to pass, that every one that is left of all the nations which came against Jerusalem, shall even go up from year to year to worship the King, the LORD of hosts, and to keep the feast of tabernacles.

17 And it shall be, that whoso will not come up of all the families of the earth unto Jerusalem, to worship the King, the LORD of hosts, even upon them shall be no rain.

MALACHI.

THE ARGUMENT.

THis Prophet was one of the three, which God raised up for the comfort of his Church after the captivity, and after him there was no more untill John Baptist was sent, which was either a token of God's wrath, or an admonition that they should with more fervent desires look for the coming of Messiah. He confirmeth the same doctrin, that the two former do; but chiefly he reproveth the Priests for their covetousness, and for that they served God after their own fantasies, and not according to the prescript of his word. He also noteth certain peculiar sins, which were then among them, as marrying of idolatrous and many wives, murmurings against God, impatiency, and such like. Notwithstanding for the comfort of the godly, he declareth that God would not forget hit promise made unto their fathers, but would send Christ his messenger, in whom the covenant should be accomplished, whose coming should be terrible to the wicked, and bring all consolation and joy unto the godly.

CHAP. I.

1 Malachi complaineth of Israel's unkindness, 6 of their irreligiousness, 12 and profaneness.

a Read Isa. 13. 1.
† Heb. by the hand of Malachi.

THe [a] burden of the word of the LORD to Israel † by Malachi.

2 I have loved you, saith the LORD: yet ye say, [b] Wherein hast thou loved us? was not Esau Jacob's brother? saith the LORD: yet I * loved Jacob, b Which declareth their great ingratitude that did not acknowledge this love, which was so evident, in that he chose Abraham from out of all the world, and next, chose Jacob the younger brother, of whom they came, and left Esau the elder.

* Rom. 9. 13.

3 And I [c] hated Esau, and laid his mountains, and his heritage waste, for the dragons of the wilderness.

c For besides that the signs of my hatred appeared even when he was made servant unto his younger brother, being yet in his mother's belly, and also afterward in that he was put from his birthright, yet even now before your eyes the signs hereof are evident, in that his country lyeth waste, and he shall never return to inhabit it, whereas ye my people, whom the enemy hated more than them, are by my grace and love toward you delivered, read Rom. 9. 13.

4 Whereas Edom saith, We are impoverished, but we will return and build the desolate places: thus saith the LORD of hosts, They shall build, but I will throw down; and they shall call them, The border of the wickedness, and the people against whom the LORD hath indignation for ever.

5 And your eyes shall see, and ye shall say, The LORD will be magnified ‡ † from the border of Israel.

‡ Or, upon.
† Heb. from upon.

6 ¶ A son honoureth his father, and a servant his master: if then I be a father, where is mine honour? and if I be a master, where is my fear? saith the LORD of hosts unto you, [d] O Priests, that despise my name: and ye say, [e] Wherein have we despised thy name?

d Besides the rest of the people, he condemneth the Priests chiefly, because they should have reproved others for their hypocrisy, and obstinacy against God, and not have hardened them by their example to greater evils. e He noteth their gross hypocrisy, which would not see their faults, but most impudently covered them, and so were blind guids.

7 ‡ Ye offer [f] polluted bread upon mine Altar; and ye say, Wherein have we polluted thee? In that ye say, The table of the LORD is [g] contemptible.

‡ Or, bring unto &c. f Ye receive all manner of offerings for your own greediness, & do not examin whether they be according to my Law or no. g Not that they said thus, but by their doings they declared no less.

8 And if ye offer the blind † for sacrifice, is it not [h] evil? and if ye offer the lame & sick, is it not evil? offer it now unto thy Governour, will he be pleased with thee, or accept thy person? saith the LORD of hosts.

† Heb. to sacrifice.
h You make it no fault: whereby he condemneth them that think it sufficient to serve God, partly, as he hath commanded, and partly, after man's fantasy, and so come not to that pureness of Religion, which he requireth, and therefore in reproach he sheweth them that a mortal man would not be content to be so served.

9 And now I pray you, [i] beseech † God that he will be gracious unto us: this hath been † by your means: will he regard your [k] persons? saith the LORD of hosts.

i He decideth the Priests, who bare the people in hand that they prayed for them, and sheweth that they were the occasions that these evils came upon the people.
† Heb. the face of God.
† Heb. from your hand.
k Will God consider your office and state, seeing you are so covetous, and wicked?

10 Who is there even among you [l] that would shut the doors for nought? neither do ye kindle fire on mine altar for nought, I have no pleasure in you, saith the LORD of hosts, neither will I accept an * offering at your hand.

l Because the Levites, who kept the doors, did not try whether the sacrifices that came in, were according to the Law, God wisheth that they would rather shut the doors, than to receive such as were not perfect.
* Isa. 1. 11. Jer. 6. 20. Amos 5. 21.

11 For from the rising of the Sun even unto the going down of the same, my name shall be [m] great among the Gentiles, and in every place incense shall be offered unto my name, and a pure offering: for my name shall be great among the heathen, saith the LORD of hosts.

m God sheweth that their ingratitude, and neglect of his true service shall be the cause of the calling of the Gentiles: and here the Prophet that was under the Law, framed his words to the capacity of the people, and by the altar and sacrifice he meaneth the spiritual service of God which should be under the Gospel, when an end should be made to all these legal ceremonies by Christ's onely sacrifice.

12 ¶ But ye have profaned it, in that ye say; The table of the LORD is [n] polluted, and the fruit thereof, even his meat is contemptible.

n Both the Priests and the people were infected with this errour, that they passed not what they offered: for they thought that God was well content with the lean as with the fat: but in the mean season they shewed not that obedience to God, which he required, and so committed both impiety, and also shewed their contempt of God, and covetousness.

13 Ye said also, Behold, what a [o] weariness is it, and ‡ ye have snuffed at it, saith the LORD of hosts, and ye brought that which was torn, and the lame, and the sick: thus ye brought an offering: should I accept this of your hands? saith the LORD.

o The Priests and people were both weary with serving God, and passed not what manner of sacrifice and service they gave to God, for that which was left profitable, was thought good enough for the Lord.
‡ Or, whereas you might have blown away.

14 But cursed be the deceiver, ‡ which hath in his flock [p] a male, and voweth and sacrificeth unto the Lord a corrupt thing: for I am a great King, saith the LORD of hosts, and my name is dreadful among the heathen.

‡ Or, in whose flock is.
p That is, hath ability to serve the Lord according to his word, and yet will serve him according to his covetous mind.

CHAP. II.

1 He sharply reproveth the Priests for neglecting their covenant, 11 and the people for idolatry, 14 for adultery, 17 and for infidelity.

ANd now, O ye [a] Priests, this commandment is for you.

a He speaketh unto them chiefly, but under them he containeth the people also.

2 If

2 * If ye will not hear, and if ye will not lay it to heart, to give glory [b] unto my name, saith the LORD of hosts, I will even send a curse upon you, and I will curse your [c] blessings; yea, I have cursed them already, because ye do not lay it to heart.

3 Behold, I will ‡ corrupt [d] your seed, and †spread dung upon your faces, even the [e] dung of your solemn feasts, and ‡ one shall take you away with it.

4 And ye shall know that I have [f] sent this commandment unto you, that my covenant might be with Levi, saith the LORD of hosts.

5 [g] My covenant was with him of life and peace, and I [h] gave them to him, for the fear wherewith he feared me, and was afraid before [i] my name.

6 The Law of [k] truth was in his mouth, and iniquity was not found in his lips: he walked with me in peace and equity, and did turn many away from iniquity.

7 For the Priest's [l] lips should keep knowledge, and they should seek the Law at his mouth: for he is the [m] messenger of the LORD of hosts.

8 But ye are departed out of the way: ye have caused many to ‡ stumble at the Law: ye have corrupted the covenant of Levi, saith the LORD of hosts.

9 Therefore have I also made you contemptible and base before all the people, according as ye have not kept my ways, but ‡† have been partial in the Law.

10 * Have we not all one [n] father? hath not one God created us? why do we deal treacherously every man against his brother, by profaning the covenant of [o] our fathers?

11 ¶ Judah hath dealt treacherously, and an abomination is committed in Israel and in Jerusalem: for Judah hath profaned the holiness of the LORD which he ‡ loved, and hath married the [p] daughter of a strange God.

12 The LORD will cut off the man that doth this: ‡ the master and the scholar out of the tabernacles of Jacob, and him that [q] offereth an offering unto the LORD of hosts.

13 And this have ye done again, [r] covering the altar of the LORD with tears, with weeping, and with crying out, insomuch that he regardeth not the offering any more, or receiveth it with good will at your hand.

14 ¶ Yet ye say, [s] Wherefore? Because the LORD hath been witness between thee and the wife of thy youth, against whom thou hast dealt treacherously: yet is she thy [t] companion, and the wife of thy [u] covenant.

15 And did not [x] he make one? yet had he the ‡ [y] residue of the spirit: and wherefore one? that he might seek † a godly [z] seed: therefore take heed to your [a] spirit, and let none deal ‡ treacherously against the wife of his youth.

16 For the LORD the God of Israel saith, ‡ that he [b] hateth † putting away: for one covereth [c] violence with his garment, saith the LORD of hosts: therefore take heed to your spirit, that you deal not treacherously.

17 ¶ Ye have [d] wearied the LORD with your words: yet ye say, Wherein have we wearied him? when ye say, Every one that [e] doth evil, is good in the sight of the LORD, and he delighteth in them; or [f] where is the God of judgement?

CHAP. III.

1 Of the messenger, Majesty, and grace of Christ. 7 of the rebellion, 8 sacrilege, 13 and infidelity of the people. 16 The promise of blessing to them that fear God.

BEhold * I will send my [a] messenger, and he shall prepare the way before me: and [b] the LORD whom ye seek, shall suddenly come to his Temple: even the [c] messenger of the covenant, whom ye delight in: behold, he shall come, saith the LORD of hosts.

2 But who [d] may abide the day of his coming, and who shall stand when he appeareth? for he is like a refiner's fire, and like fuller's sope.

3 And he shall sit as a refiner and purifier of silver: and he shall purify the sons [e] of Levi, and purge them as gold and silver, that they may offer unto the LORD an offering in righteousness.

4 Then shall the offerings of Judah and Jerusalem be pleasant unto the LORD as in the days of old, and as in ‡ former years.

5 And I will come near to you to judgement, and I will be a swift witness against the sorcerers, and against the adulterers, & against false swearers, and against those that ‡ oppress the hireling in his wages, the widow, and the fatherless, and that turn aside the stranger from his right, and fear not me, saith the LORD of hosts.

6 For I am the LORD, I change not: therefore ye sons of Jacob [f] are not consumed.

7 ¶ Even from the days of your fathers ye are gone away from mine ordinances, and have not kept them: [g] return unto me, and I will return unto you, saith the LORD of hosts: but ye said, Wherein shall we return?

8 ¶ Will a [h] man rob God? yet ye have robbed me: but ye say, Wherein have we robbed thee? [i] In tithes and offerings.

9 Ye are cursed with a curse: for ye have robbed me, even, this whole nation.

10 Bring ye all the tithes into the storehouse, that there may be meat in mine house, and prove me now herewith, saith the LORD of hosts, if I will not open you the * windows of heaven, and † pour you out a blessing, that f The Priests objected against the Prophet that he could not reprove them, but he must speak against the priesthood, and the office established of God by promise, but he sheweth that the office is nothing slandered when those villains and thing are called by their own names.

g He sheweth what were the two conditions of the covenant made with the tribe of Levi: on God's part, that he would give them long life and felicity, and on their part, that they should faithfully serve him according to his word.

i He served me and set forth my glory with all humility and submission.

s This is another fault, whereof he accuseth them, that is, that they brake the Laws of marriage. t As the one half of thy self. u She that was joyned to thee by a solemn covenant, and by the invocation of God's name. x Did not God make man and woman as one flesh and not many? ‡ Or, excellency. y By his power and vertue he could have made many women for one man. † Heb. a seed of God: z Such as should be born in lawful and moderate marriage, wherein is no excess of lusts.

1 God's judgement on the wicked, 2 and his blessing on the good. 4 He exhorteth to the study of the Law, and telleth of Elijah's coming and office.

FOr behold, the day cometh that shall [z] burn as an oven, and all the proud, yea, and all that do wickedly shall be stubble, and the day that cometh shall burn them up, saith the LORD of hosts, that it shall leave them neither root nor branch.

2 ¶ But unto you that fear my name, shall the * [b] Sun of righteousness arise with healing in his wings; and ye shall [c] go forth and grow up as calvs of the stall.

3 And ye shall tread down the wicked; for they shall be ashes under the soles of your feet, in the day that I will do this, saith the LORD of hosts.

4 ¶ [d] Remember ye the * Law of Moses my servant, which I commanded unto him in Horeb for all Israel, with the statutes and judgements.

5 ¶ Behold, I will send you * [e] Elijah the Prophet, before the coming of the great and [f] dreadful day of the LORD.

6 And he shall [g] turn the heart of the fathers to the children, and the heart of the children to their fathers, least I come [h] and smite the earth with a curse.

z He prophesieth of God's judgements against the wicked, who would not receive Christ, when as God should send him for the restauration of his Church.
* Luk. 1. 78.
b Meaning, Christ, who with his wings, or beams of his grace should lighten and comfort his Church, Ephes. 5. 14. and he is called the Sun of righteousness; because in himself he hath all perfection, and also the justice of the Father dwelleth in him, whereby he regenerateth us into righteousness cleanseth us from the filth of this world, and reformeth us to the image of God.
c Ye shall be set at liberty and increase in the joy of the Spirit, 2 Cor. 3. 17.
d Because the time was come that the Jews should be destitute of Prophets untill the time of Christ, because they should with more fervent minds desire his coming, the Prophet exhorteth them to exercise themselvs diligently in studying the Law of Moses in mean season, whereby they might continue in the true Religion, and also be armed against all temptations.
* Exod. 20. 3. e Mark. 9. vers. 11. Luk 1. 17. e This Christ expoundeth of John Baptist, Matt. 11. 13, 14. who both for his zeal, and restoring of Religion, is aptly compared to Elijah. f Which as it is true for the wicked, so doth it waken the godly, and call them to repentance. g He sheweth wherein John's office should stand: in the turning of men to God, and joyning of the fathers and children in one unity of faith: so that the father shall turn to the Religion of his son, which is converted unto Christ, and the son shall embrace the faith of the true fathers, Abraham, Isaac and Jacob. h The second point of his office was, to denounce God's judgements against them that would not receive Christ.

The end of the Prophets.

I. ESDRAS.

CHAP. I.

1 Josias his charge to the priests and Levites. 7 A great passover is kept. 32 His death is much lamented. 34 His successours. 53 The temple, citie, and people are destroyed. 56 The rest are carried unto Babylon.

1 Kings 23. 21. 2 Chron. 35. 1.

AND Josias held the * feast of the passover in Jerusalem unto his Lord, and offered the passover the fourteenth day of the first moneth,

2 Having set the priests according to their daily courses, being arayed in long garments, in the temple of the Lord.

3 And he spake unto the Levites the holy ministers of Israel, that they should hallow themselvs unto the Lord, to set the holy ark of the Lord in the house that king Solomon the son of David had built:

4 And said, Ye shall no more bear the ark upon your shoulders: now therefore serve the Lord your God, and minister unto his people Israel, and prepare you after your families and kindreds,

5 According as David the king of Israel prescribed, and according to the magnificence of Solomon his son: and standing in the temple according to the several dignitie of the families of you the Levites, who minister in the presence of your brethren the children of Israel,

6 Offer the passover in order, and make ready the sacrifices for your brethren, and keep the passeover according to the commandment of the Lord, which was given unto Moses.

7 And unto the people that was found there, Josias gave thirty thousand lambs, and kids, and three thousand calvs: these things were given of the kings allowance, according as he promised to the people, to the priests, and to the Levites.

‖ Or, Jeiel.

8 And Helkias, Zacharias, and ‖ Sielus, the governours of the temple, gave to the priests for the passover, two thousand and six hundred sheep, and three hundred calvs.

9 And Jeconias, and Samaias, and Nathanael his brother, and Assabias, and Ochiel, and Joram; captains over thousands, gave to the Levites for the passeover, five thousand sheep, and ‖ seven hundred calvs.

‖ Or, five hundred calvs, 2 Chron. 35. 9.

10 And when these things were done, the priests and Levites having the unleavened bread, stood in very comely order according to the kindreds, 11 And according to the several dignities of the fathers before the people, to offer to the Lord, as it is written in the book of Moses: † and thus did they in the morning.

† 2 Chron. 35. 12. and so of the bullocks.

12 And they rosted the passeover with fire, as appertaineth: as for the sacrifices, they sod them in brasse pots, and pans ‖ with a good savour,

‖ Or, with good speed, or, willingly, 2 Chron. 35. 13.

13 And set them before all the people, and afterward they prepared for themselvs, and for the priests their brethren the sons of Aaron.

14 For the priests offered the fat until night: and the Levites prepared for themselvs, and the priests their brethren the sons of Aaron.

15 The holy singers also, the sons of Asaph, were in their order, according to the appointment * of David, to wit, Asaph, Zacharias, and Jeduthun, who was * of the kings retinue.

* 2 Chron. 35. 15. of David and Asaph.

16 Moreover the porters were at every gate, it was not lawful for any to go from his ordinary service: for their brethren the Levites prepared for them.

* 2 Chron. 35. 15. the kings sonne.

17 Thus were the things that belonged to the sacrifices of the Lord accomplished in that day, that they might hold the passover,

18 And offer sacrifices upon the altar of the LORD, according to the commandment of king Josias.

19 So the children of Israel which were present, held the passover at that time, and the feast of sweet bread seven days.

20 And such a passover was not kept in Israel since the time of the prophet Samuel.

21 Yea, all the kings of Israel held not such a passover as Josias, and the priests, and the Levites, and the Jews held with all Israel that were found dwelling at Jerusalem.

22 In the eighteenth year of the reign of Josias was this passover kept.

23 And the works of Josias were upright before his Lord, with an heart full of godlines.

24 As for the things that came to pass in his time, they were written in former times, concerning those that sinned, and ‖ did wickedly against the Lord above all people and kingdoms, and how they grieved him ‖ exceedingly, so that the words of the Lord rose up against Israel.

‖ Or, were ungodly. ‖ Or, sensibly.

25 * Now after all these acts of Josias, it came to pass that Pharaoh the king of Egypt came to raise war at Carchamis upon Euphrates: and Josias went out against him.

* 2 Chron. 35. 20.

26 But the king of Egypt sent to him, saying, What have I to do with thee, O king of Judea?

27 I am not sent out from the Lord God against thee: for my war is upon Euphrates, and now the Lord is with me, yea the Lord is with me hasting me forwards depart from me, and be not against the Lord.

28 Howbeit Josias did not turn back his chariot from him, but undertook to fight with him, not regarding the words of the prophet Jeremie, spoken by the mouth of the Lord:

29 But joyned battel with him in the plain of Megiddo, and the princes came against king Josias.

30 Then said the king unto his servants, Carry me away out of the battel; for I am very weak: and immediately his servants took him away out of the battel.
